Virtual School program grows in numbers and strength as a model for the state

In eighth grade, Anne Louis Bullington and her family left their Baldwin County home for an extended visit to Europe. She was able to continue her studies through a new online school that was based in Decatur. The next year, her family returned to Alabama, but for the teen who grew up exploring the globe, her high school adventure didn't hold as much draw. "It wasn't the same," she said. "I really enjoyed the freedom of scheduling and managing my own time." The family began exploring options. Could they live in Europe and continue to school in Alabama? They discovered the newly opened Baldwin County Virtual School and the answer quickly became, yes. Through the Virtual School's budding program, Bullington was able to complete assignments, work one-on-one with teachers when she had questions and even complete testing requirements with trained proctors — all online from her tempo-

Caring for poinsettias all year

ALABAMA AGRICULTURAL EXTENSION OFFICE

Poinsettias are an iconic indoor winter plant. The vibrant red, white and green colors, make this plant a popular choice around the holidays. However, with proper care, poinsettias can add beauty and color to homes for more than just the holiday season.

Allyson Shabel, an Alabama Extension urban home grounds, gardens and home pests regional agent, offers the following tips on caring for poinsettias.

During the Holidays

- These care tips can keep poinsettias healthy during the holidays.
- Place the plant in an area with plenty of natural light, away from vents and drafts that can dry out the pot.
- Water the plant only when dry. If the pot is covered in a holiday foil or decorative wrap, allow excess water to drain. Poinsettias are susceptible to stem and root diseases, so draining the excess water is important.
- Utilize an all-purpose fertilizer (20-20-20) at one-a-month intervals.

After the Holidays

The cost to keep a poinsettia growing for next year is marginal compared to purchasing a new plant every year.

- Remove decorative wraps from the planter after the holiday season and place a saucer underneath it. This allows for better air circulation for the roots during the rest of the growing season.
- Keep water and fertilizer at regular intervals.
- Move the plant to a larger container, with new potting mix, as the plant grows.
- Cut back to 5 to 6 inches if the plant becomes long and leggy. Periodically, cut the tips of the branches to encourage more side branching and to maintain a fuller appearance.

Care Throughout the Year

In the summer, growers should move the plant outside in an area with indirect sunlight. Summer is also the time to increase fertilizer to at least twice the frequency.

In mid-summer, trim the plant as needed to keep a manageable size and fullness and move to a location with full sunlight.

"After Labor Day, bring the plant inside to a location that gets a minimum of six hours of sunlight, preferably more," Shabel said. "This will start preparing the plant for their flowers and their colorful foliage. Growers should also start reducing the frequency of fertilizer."

Long periods of darkness are vital to the iconic colors of the poinsettia. Toward the end of September, they must have at least 13 hours of uninterrupted darkness and 11 hours of bright light each day. Placing the plant in a closet, basement, or under a box can give it the required hours of darkness. During the periods of bright light, make sure to rotate the pot to ensure the plant receives even light from all sides.

Just before Thanksgiving, stop the dark period treatments, reduce the amount of water and fertilizer and place the plant in a sunny area that receives at least six hours of direct light.

More Information

These tips are sure to keep your poinsettias healthy and happy during and after the holidays. For more information about home gardening, visit www.aces.edu or contact your county Extension office.

Outdoor Conditions: January along the Gulf Coast. It can bring some rather pleasant, sunny, light wind days our way. It can also bring us the coldest, worst weather that winter has to offer our part of the country. We certainly had more than a taste of that starting off the new year. That is why it's especially important to pick and choose your weather window before heading out on the water. Even when the weather looks fine, fog can quickly move in leaving you with no visible connection to landmarks or waterway markers.

The type of fog we typically see around Mobile Bay and the Baldwin County coastline in January is known as coastal advection fog. That's when a humid air mass flows over (advects) the much cooler waters close to the coast and in the bay. When that air is chilled to the dew point, it condenses, forming a cloud near the ground we see as fog. It's the same process as leaving an ice cold drink out on a warm, humid day. Those beads of water on the outside of the glass form by condensation as water vapor in the air comes in contact with the chilly surface of the glass. So, watch out for that fog and if you're heading out there, good luck and be safe!

rary home in Eastern France.

Now as a senior at the Virtual School she has not only been able to travel extensively, but she has studied theatre and voice in London, New York, and other far flung locations — all without missing a single day of school in Baldwin County.

“We expected all the doors to close when we began our search but no doors closed,” Bullington said.

Last month the Baldwin County Virtual School flung its doors wide open for one of the most anticipated ribbon cuttings in the county. The sleek, modern-design of the school’s Daphne location on U.S. 98 matches what feels like a futuristic scenario in which technology allows students to attend school how, when and where they want.

Here, students come in and work at the sleek rows of tables with nothing more than their county-issued laptop, and only, if they want to. Virtual school students are required to make appearance on test days only — most of which they determine based on their own schedule. Homework is done at their own pace. Some complete their assignments on a typical pace, others work ahead, completing weeks’ worth of work at one time.

One student has already completed all of her assignments for the current school year.

The Baldwin County Virtual School was created in 2013 when the Baldwin County Board of Education applied for a waiver to create the virtual program which allowed students’ attendance to be counted by logging in rather than sitting in a desk. That first year only sophomores and juniors were invited to participate and 19 students from around the county did.

The school continued to grow organically and added freshmen and seniors to the mix the next year and began holding classes at the Coastal Alabama campus in Fairhope. As the school gained traction so did the idea of virtual schooling.

In 2016 a new state law took effect requiring every public school system to adopt a policy to provide a virtual school option for eligible students in grades nine through twelve, a law inspired partially by the success in Baldwin County, said Virtual School Principal Holly Resmondo. Now nearly 5,400 public school students attend a virtual school within Alabama.

“Baldwin County is truly a leader in virtual school for the state,” Resmondo said. “It stems from the fact that we have students with all kinds of needs such as medical concerns and outside activities and we start seeing that we are losing those students to other programs and other schools because they need that flexibility.”

“That’s one of the main reasons we started this,” Resmondo said. “The world is growing and changing so dramatically and we want to be able to keep up with that and allow our kids to move forward with their academic careers.”

In 2017, the Baldwin County Virtual School met state benchmarks to become a standalone school as well. The school had more than 250 students enrolled and was now eligible to hire an administrative staff and begin searching for a permanent home. Virtual School Assistant Principal Jacque Helms said the slow climb to that goal was intentional.

“We wanted to grow small so we could still keep individual contact with our students,” she said.

- 2014-15: 59 students
- 2015-16: 80 students

Last year, enrollment number jumped to 346 students from every corner of Baldwin County in grades seventh through twelfth. Coastal Alabama hosts virtual students on its campuses in Fairhope, Bay Minette and Gulf Shores and the schools’ nine teachers rotate between the locations throughout the week.

As the school grows, the individual attention remains. While other virtual schools in Alabama accept students from any county, the Baldwin County Virtual School only accepts students who live within Baldwin County.

“We want to have that personal relationship,” Helms said. “Other virtual schools tend to be open to everybody so you are truly virtual. We are more hybrid or blended because we do a lot of face to face, emailing and texting. Our teachers personally know them and when falling behind they are their coach, their mentor and the person they can go to and say, ‘I’m kind of stressing, what can I do,’” she said.

She added that the low student population gives instructors more one-on-one time with students.

“They can help them create a plan and think through their activities,” she said. “Most schools have one counselor for 300 kids. Here we have a coach for every 30 kids so that’s a total different concept.”

While students return to their assigned schools to compete in athletics or band, the Virtual School hosts a number of clubs, its own prom and its own graduation ceremony each spring.

Every graduate who crosses that stage knows every teacher standing and applauding them.

“When Anne was accepted early to Boston University she came in and told us and it was so exciting. We all started crying,” Resmondo said. “To have that relationship with your kids and have them want to come in and tell you the great things happening in their lives, it’s amazing. It’s wonderful.”

Helms added, “We watch these kids make it into the schools they want or into the careers they want and they tell us it’s because of virtual school. It’s exciting to be a part of watching these kids make their dreams come true.”

Letitia and Levenia Sim

Sisters Letitia and Levenia Sim, of Spanish Fort, a junior and an eighth grader respectively, head to their online classes between the two to three hours they spend in the pool nearly each day. The pair is preparing for the Olympic trials in Omaha in June.

“This is the best experience ever,” Letitia said. “Swimming is a big priority in my life, especially this year with the Olympic trials and the recruiting process for college, it required me to miss a lot of school. Being in virtual school allows me to be less stressed.” Her sister agreed. “When I was in middle school it was really hard to come home from practice and only have an hour to do all my homework. Now in virtual school I can do it before swim practice. I get to rest too.”

WIN STATE SWIMMING AND PIANO COMPETITIONS

Eli and Owen Poole

Eli, a junior, and Owen, eighth grade, of Daphne, are year-round competitive swimmers. The boys homeschooled previously and their mom, Holly Poole, said she “reluctantly” enrolled them in virtual school to help accommodate the six day a week swim schedule and allow Eli to swim for Daphne High School.

“It’s phenomenal,” Holly said of the school. “Eli enjoys driving to campus for the testing and being able to check in on his own. It gives him a really good feel for what’s it’s going to be like for him in college — more independence and the ability to set his own schedule. I think there are so many misconceptions and I think people are finally starting to understand that it’s a credible program and it’s kind of cutting edge. The curriculum is challenging and rigorous but when they are done with their work they are done. They don’t have to stay seven or eight hours a day. Instead they are able to knock it out and move on with their other passions,” she said.

Recently Eli captured a bronze in the 500 free and as part of the Daphne High School, 4 by 100 freestyle relay team, set a new state record in this event with a time of 3:09:01.

In addition to swimming, Owen is a two-time state winner in piano and played at the 2018 Virtual School Graduation Ceremony.

MANAGE THEIR OWN BAKERY

Brooklyn Kyzar

When Brooklyn Kyzar, of Silverhill, was five she fell in love with baking.

Now at age 13, she owns her own home-based bakery called Whipped Up and has already made her debut on the national stage as a contestant on the Food Network’s Kid Baking Championship in season six.

Kyzar will quickly assure you that she has progressed since that episode that saw her booted in just the second round. She has crafted six-tier wedding cakes, teaches cupcake decorating classes and made the cake served at the Virtual School’s ribbon cutting ceremony.

Being a Virtual School student helps her build her business.

“With a traditional school schedule I wouldn’t be able to accommodate the orders I take. Here I can work ahead and finish and complete my orders too,” she said. “I love it.”

Kyzar is working towards her goal of becoming a pastry chef and hopes one day to have her own show.

PERFORM ON INTERNATIONAL STAGES

Anne Louis Bullington

Anne Louis Bullington is a world traveling performer. The Virtual School senior has studied theatre and voice at Rutgers Summer Acting Conservatory, Carnegie Mellon and the Royal Academy of Dramatic Art in London. She has been performing with Eastern Shore Repertory Theatre since third grade. Next fall she will study at Boston University’s School of Theatre.

PLAY COMPETITIVE HOCKEY

Luc Haggitt

Luc Haggitt, of Spanish Fort, excels in a sport that’s tough to play in the south: hockey.

As a Baldwin County Virtual School student, he is able to keep up with classes while living in Atlanta, New Hampshire and Minnesota where he plays competitively on year-round teams.

“This gives me the ability to go far away to chase after a dream,” said Haggitt, a senior, who also hopes to play on the college ice. “If I was in school all day I wouldn’t be able to play at this level.”

He said he doesn’t miss any of the typical high school experiences since the Virtual School hosts its own prom and graduation ceremony. And he has met more friends than he expected.

“At first I thought I would be alone all the time but when you go in for tests or are on campus for something you talk to people you learn why they’re in virtual school too. It’s pretty cool.”

ROBERTSDALE — With a school system the size of Baldwin County, good communications is the key to providing accurate and up-to-date information for students, faculty, parents, media and the public.

A few years ago, officials in Baldwin County converted an unused space that had been locker room and coaches offices for the old Robertsdale schools, which originally encompassed the former Robertsdale High School.

space was utilized by Robertsdale Elementary School, but had been used for storage since that new school was built in 2005.

Some of its original purpose is still evident. Shower heads remain on the walls where Baldwin County's elite athletes are featured in a space utilized as a conference room and to host local media to exchange information for the public.

Also some of the original lockers are still utilized as storage space.

Some have been modified slightly to serve a new purpose. An area used to house towels and refreshment has been converted into a coffee bar utilized by both day-to-day employees and visitors who come to the center.

The technology of the space has obviously been greatly updated, from giant screens that line the walls where employees can monitor all websites and social media outlets for the county's 48 member schools to a complete television studio located on the other side of the space which continues to be utilized as a gym.

BENTLEY

William Carey Bentley Jr., a veteran of World War II, died peacefully, with members of his family at his side, on Dec. 24, 2019, six weeks after his 100th birthday.

Known to all as Carey, he was born on Nov. 15, 1919 in Birmingham, Alabama.

He studied mechanical engineering at Auburn University, where he participated in the ROTC program.

On graduation, he was commissioned as a second lieutenant in the U.S. Army. Originally assigned to the Corps of Engineers, he was soon transferred to the Ordnance Department in support of the war in Europe.

After several training assignments, he was deployed to England, arriving the day after the D-Day invasion. A month later he was assigned to Gen. Patton's army and his unit raced from Normandy to catch up with Patton's march across France.

He also served in Belgium and Holland and supported troops at the Battle of the Bulge.

He returned to the U.S. in January 1946. After discharge from the Army, he joined the U.S. Army Reserve, eventually retiring at the rank of major.

He began his civilian career as a foundry engineer, working first in Birmingham and then in Chattanooga, where he rose to assistant plant manager of the U.S. Pipe and Foundry Company's high-pressure valve plant.

In Chattanooga, he and his wife, Billie, the former Ina Mae Harrell of Birmingham, reared three sons, living in the East Brainerd area.

Carey was a member of the Brainerd Baptist Church, an assistant scoutmaster with the Boy Scouts of America and a master gardener.

After retirement, Carey and Billie moved to Magnolia Springs, Alabama, where Carey kept his professional engineering credentials current for several years as he participated in volunteer activities with Habitat for Humanity and the Weeks Bay Foundation. In late 2016, the couple moved back to Chattanooga.

Carey is survived by his wife of 71 years and two sons, Murry (Linda Clark) of Baltimore and Larry (Caroline Caulkins Bentley) of Lookout Mountain.

His first son, Jerry (Carol Mon Lee of Honolulu) died in 2012. His only sibling, Elizabeth Bentley Howard of Birmingham, died at age 94, also on Dec. 24, 2019.

Other surviving relatives include two nieces and a nephew and numerous grand- and great-grandnieces and -nephews.

Interment with military honors will take place at the Chattanooga National Cemetery after a private family ceremony.

In lieu of flowers, the family suggests donations to the "Carey and Billie Bentley Magnolia River Conservation Fund" at the Weeks Bay Foundation (online: www.weeksbay.org/donate or by mail: Weeks Bay Foundation, 11401 U.S. Hwy 98, Fairhope, AL, 36532).

Peggy Wallace Kennedy leads readers down “The Broken Road” of reconciliation

By ALLISON MARLOW
allisonm@gulfcoastmedia.com

Peggy Wallace Kennedy says she was left a difficult legacy.

As a young girl she had a front row seat to history, behind the man who touted segregation now, tomorrow and forever. As the daughter of former Alabama governor and presidential candidate George Wallace, she loved her father though she disagreed with his politics.

Now in a new book titled “The Broken Road,” Wallace tells her side of the story, both about the love she had for her father and the disdain she had for his beliefs.

She wrote it, she said, for her two sons.

“I’ve learned to leave a legacy for my two boys that is different than the legacy that was left for me,” she said during a recent phone interview.

“When we stand together and believe in each other and help each other overcome our past, it’s so important that we see people with our hearts rather than our minds. If do that you will learn many, many lessons of unconditional love,” she said.

Kennedy said that as she travels for her book she meets many young people who have no idea who her father was, only that their grandparents loved George Wallace. Those types of memories warm her heart.

“My father was a good man and he loved people and he did do a lot of good things for this state, so he’s loved for many reasons,” Kennedy said.

Much of her book centers on that love between father and daughter as well as Kennedy’s personal reconciliation with the damage her father caused.

“This is a story that’s never been told before, it’s the truth the way I saw it, the truth the way I lived it,” she said.

“I just think to share my personal side makes people understand the love between us more. I think one of the threads that runs through the book is the love we did have for each other no matter whether I agreed with his politics or not. I felt our love was so strong and we were horrified by the events that happened,” she said.

Coming to terms with the climate he created in Alabama and the “horrific things he did to harm people,” she said, are also a central focus in the book.

“I had to come to terms with that and accept that,” she said.

“I didn’t accept that until I became an adult and that’s part of the reason I wrote the book, to let people know they can accept their past, not to forget it, but to move on and move forward.

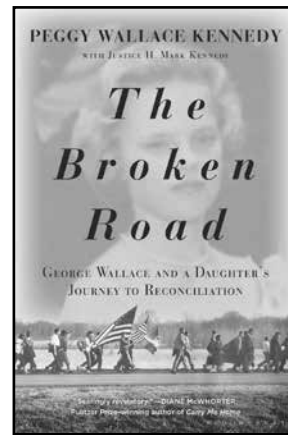

“Leaving a painful past behind is not always easy but it is always right,” Kennedy said.

Kennedy said her father did in the last year of his life come to regret his actions.

“I think my father had a lot of time to reflect on the politics of the past, and lay around and think about own mortality. He became very regretful of his race and segregation stance,” she said.

She said she hopes readers will learn that the book ultimately is not about George Wallace, but rather about learning to grow and thrive.

“It’s not who you are, it’s about who you can become,” she said. “You can find your voice later in life and you can speak up and speak out for what you’re passionate about. You can live a life of inspiration. You can inspire others, you can believe in yourself like I did later in my life.

Gulf State Park Road open to traffic after upgrades

Submitted

Newly renamed State Park Road was reopened to all traffic in December, following the completion of several upgrades to make the road – formerly known as County Road 135 – safer for passenger vehicles, recreational vehicles, walkers and bikers.

This 2-mile road runs from Gulf State Park Headquarters to The Lodge at Gulf State Park, a Hilton Hotel. It begins at the intersection of Alabama’s Coastal Connection/E. Fort Morgan Road and runs through the park to East Beach Boulevard/Alabama Highway 182.

“We are ecstatic the State Park Road improvements are complete, and our visitors will have a much safer experience on the road leading into our beautiful Gulf State Park,” said Chris Blankenship, Commissioner of the Alabama Department of Conservation and Natural Resources. “We are sorry for the inconvenience it caused this fall, but it was necessary and we’re confident that everyone will be pleased with the results.

“The contractors did a great job meeting the agreed upon deadline and we’re happy with their work.”

Upgrades to the road included a shift of the center line, the installation of a highway rated railing system, and replacement of the bridge decking. New barriers were installed along Lakeview Trail to provide better protection to bikers and walkers.

“We appreciate the patience shown by our visitors during this period of disruption,” said Gary Ellis, Director of Community Relations and Administration for Gulf State Park. “Everyone will enjoy the fruits of the labor of our contractors, who did a great job making these improvements and in meeting the deadline. The work has achieved our goal of making State Park Road much safer for our visitors who spend a lot of time hiking and biking in our park.”

Besides the renaming of State Road 135 to State Park Road, Park Road

STEVE JONES

2 will now be known as Refuge Road. Previously unnamed roads to the Eagle Cottages and the Gulf State Park cabins will now be known as Bald Eagle Lane and Acorn Lane, respectively.

“I believe that our park guests will be very pleased with the new look along the road,” said Gulf State Park Naturalist Kelly Reetz. “The new railing system still looks rustic but does a great job at separating the bike path from vehicular traffic. The trail is more defined, and in some areas, it travels deeper into the forest giving the guests a more nature-based experience.”

While the road was closed, Gulf State Park maintenance staff were able to complete a prescribed burn with the aid of the Alabama Forestry Commission to reduce the amount of fuel — shrubs, grasses, pine straw — throughout the marsh and around the bald eagles’ nest.

“Now, as hikers and bicyclists use the trail along State Park Road, they will have a better opportunity to see wildlife,” Reetz said, “especially the eagles that are nesting in that area.”

Improvements at the Park’s Woodside Restaurant include a newly added outdoor porch with fire pits and games such as table tennis, cornhole and giant Jenga.

Alabama in top 20 for seasonal employment

Submitted

A new study found that Alabama has the No. 18 highest increase in jobs during the Christmas shopping season, with employment growing 2.9% in November and December. The national average is an increase of 2.6%.

The 2019 holiday shopping season is projected to be busier than last year, with an increase of 4.2% expected, and many companies will expand their employer rolls to keep up with the rise in business.

Security.org today released its study, 'Tis the Season for Jobs, which uses the latest data from the U.S. Bureau of Labor Statistics on wages, businesses and employment in the retail trade sector, including a comparison of each state's annual figures with their fourth-quarter numbers to see where Christmas shopping makes the biggest impact.

Here are key findings in Alabama:

- No. 18 in the nation with a 2.9% increase in retail employment during November and December compared to the annual average.

- No. 15 with a 0.5% increase in retail employment during the fourth quarter compared to the annual average.
- No. 3 for the availability of retail jobs in the economy, 144.5, per 1,000 jobs.

Here are key national findings:

- The top 10 states for November-December retail jobs are: Arizona, Nevada, Utah, California, District of Columbia, Connecticut, Rhode Island, Florida, Texas and New York.

- The bottom 10 states for November-December retail jobs are: Alaska, Wyoming, Montana, South Dakota, North Dakota, West Virginia, Iowa, Vermont, Kansas and Arkansas.
- Utah has the highest retail wage — $1,131 per week.
- New Hampshire and Utah have the highest percentage of fourth-quarter wages as a share of annual wages, both about 27%.

Former Toro Hunter Stokes ready to lead the South Alabama Jaguars baseball team in senior year

Fall semester for universities is for football season while spring is for the baseball season. The South Alabama Jaguars are preparing for a huge season coming in ranked 23rd in the preseason poll. Former Spanish Fort Toro and current senior starting Jaguars' infielder Hunter Stokes is helping to potentially lead the Jaguars to their 16th Sun Belt conference championship and 13th Sun Belt conference tournament championship. As a sophomore, Stokes led the Toros to a 5A state title in 2014 when he accounted for a .385 batting average, 25 RBIs, and a .414 on-base percentage. His senior season, 2016, Stokes was named as the 6A first-team all-state designated hitter as he accounted for a .404 batting average and 14 stolen bases. His freshman season at South Alabama in 2017, Stokes transitioned well to the college ranks appearing in 48 games and started 37 games and accounted for a .302 batting average, 19 RBIs, and scored 31 runs. In 2018, Stokes appeared in 53 games and started 46 games and accounted for 29 RBIs and scored 29 runs. Early in the fall drills for the Jaguars, Stokes lead the South Alabama Jaguars in RBIs with six. The Jaguars are now preparing for the 2020 college baseball season where they are the favorites to win the Sun Belt Conference. The Jaguars finished last season with a 30-26 overall record (16-14 in Sun Belt Conference play). Stokes will be one of the most reliable hitters for the Jaguars this season as well as efficient defenders. The Jaguars will start their season with a three-game series at home in Stanky Field versus the Campbell Camels from Feb. 14-16. The Jaguars will then travel to Nashville, Tennessee, for a two-game series against the defending Collegiate World Series Champs the Vanderbilt Commodores Feb. 18 and 19. The Jaguars will start Sun Belt Conference play with a three-game in Atlanta against the Georgia State Panthers March 13-15.

Opinion

Baldwin County Virtual School a model for state

This year more than 5,000 public school students in Alabama will attend class online. But we're willing to bet not many of them receive the same attention or dedication that students at the Baldwin County Virtual School receive.

The Baldwin County Virtual School quietly opened its doors nearly five years ago and built its student body and curriculum with patience and care. Now, that school is a model for Alabama and surrounding states. While the state requires that all public schools offer a virtual path for students, not all virtual schools are created equal.

In Baldwin County the Virtual School follows more of a hybrid model of teaching. Students complete their work online and, as long as they maintain standards, are not required to attend classes in the school's new Daphne facility.

But the teachers are anything but ghosts in a machine. They are available to students both online and in person. They travel the county from Bay Minette to Gulf Shores and locales in between to help students who need tutoring.

They know their students personally. They monitor their progress, daily, and reach out when a student seems to be facing issues. Students at the Virtual School number just 30 to one in matters of counseling and academic advising. At other Baldwin County schools that ratio can be as high as 300 to one, an enormous difference that means at the Virtual School it's hard to remain hidden behind a computer screen.

We are proud that Baldwin County is home to cutting edge educational opportunities and to students and families willing to take the leap and make the Baldwin County Virtual School a model for other communities. We are Baldwin Proud.

New Year Begins. It's a Presidential Year.

As the new year begins, so does a Presidential election year.

For several decades, in fact for most of the twentieth century, Alabamians were more interested in state and local politics than presidential politics. In fact, from 1901 through the 1950's there were more people voting in a Democratic Primary for Governor than in a presidential General Election.

STEVE FLOWERS
Inside the Statehouse

The interest in national politics is a fairly new occurrence for Alabamians, and it seems to have been in correlation to the party change in the state. Donald Trump carried Alabama by over 63 percent in 2016. You can pretty much bet the family farm that he will do the same to whomever the national Democrats offer up in the coming year.

The country is divided like never before in our history. You either live in a red Republican state or a blue Democratic state like California. You might say, "the hay is in the barn," in all but about 10 battleground swing states. There are 40 states that it really does not matter who the Republican or Democratic nominee is, that party's candidate is going to win that state and get all of that states electoral votes.

As I always say, if Mickey Mouse was the Republican nominee for President, he would carry Alabama and by the same token, if Donald Duck was the Democratic nominee, he would carry California.

The election is won or lost in the swing states of Florida, Ohio, Michigan, Pennsylvania and Wisconsin. The candidates will not even campaign in these safe 40 states. We will not see the presidential candidates, but neither will California or New York. Although, the Democratic candidates will go to California and New York to raise money. In fact, that is where our anomaly, short-lived Democratic Senator Doug Jones is getting his campaign money. He raises his funds in the most liberal zip codes in America, especially the left coast of California.

Our national politics, especially Congress, has become nothing more than an extreme partisan show. The theater is acted out in childlike petty gamesmanship. The Democratic charade of the impeachment inquiry is a perfect example. They are having a childlike food fight.

Swing voters are really turned off by this partisan circus. It is an obvious political vendetta. The votes are exactly along party lines. That in itself tells independent voters that it is a tribal squabble that is obsessing the tribally aligned politicians instead of important economic issues that affect them and their families.

The Democratic CNN/MSNBC/Stephen Colbert watchers gleefully boast of a coup that will never occur. An impeachment vote by only Democrats in the House of Representatives will never be approved or given any credence in the United States Senate, which has a Republican majority. It would need a 2/3 vote in the House of Lords and the U.S. Senate has a Republican majority. It appears that all measures, movements, and votes in Washington are cast along party lines.

All of the Republicans watch Fox news and consider the whole theater as an illegitimate political sham. My guess is that the fair minded, independent voter sees this show as a political act to appease their partisan zealots and they are making a mockery of a time-honored institution.

The Democrats will be the losers in this scenario. Voters reacted unfavorably to Republicans when they impeached Bill Clinton. Although they seemed to pay more attention and enjoyed that show more because the proposed misdeed was a lot more salacious.

As we begin the New Year, let's not forget that we have some governing to do in the Heart of Dixie and not just politicking. The 2020 Legislative Session begins on February 4. The paramount issue to be addressed is our prison overcrowding problem and prison reform. Gov. Kay Ivey will come forward and offer to the Legislature a comprehensive plan to address this dilemma which has been building up for over a decade.

The Governor deserves a tip of the hat for working with the Justice Department on this issue. In turn the Justice Department and our U.S. Attorneys deserve accolades for their due diligence in working harmoniously with the Governor's office and guiding them in the directions necessary to avoid federal interference.

This discourse and harmony is quite a contrast to the political rhubarb and catastrophe illustrated and orchestrated by the George Wallace vs Frank Johnson scenario of the 1970's.

See you next week.

HOROSCOPES

WEEK OF JANUARY 6, 2019
ARIES (March 21 to April 19) Events could inspire adventurous Lambs looking to make a major career or personal move. But as always, get all the facts before rushing into any sort of deal or commitment.
TAURUS (April 20 to May 20) What seems to be a great opportunity could cause even usually practical Taureans to ignore their inner caution cues. Best to move carefully to avoid falling into unseen traps.
GEMINI (May 21 to June 20) Need a holiday now that the seasonal festivities are behind you? Good idea. Plan to go somewhere wonderful. You'll return refreshed and more than ready for a new challenge.
CANCER (June 21 to July 22) Progress continues to be made on that pesky workplace problem. Meanwhile, don't assume a personal situation will work itself out. Best to get more involved earlier than later.
LEO (July 23 to August 22)

Catnaps are definitely recommended for Leos and Leonas who had been going at a hectic pace over the holidays. Adding relaxation time to your schedule helps restore your overdrawn energy reserves.
VIRGO (August 23 to September 22) Sure, some of the new friends you made over the holidays might move out of your life at some point. But at least one might show significant "staying power" with some encouragement.
LIBRA (September 23 to October 22) Encourage family members to join you in supporting a relative who could be facing a difficult emotional challenge in the New Year. Showing your love and concern helps keep his or her hopes up.
SCORPIO (October 23 to November 21) While a long-deferred decision suddenly might take on some urgency after news on a related matter, you still need to weigh all factors carefully before deciding one way or the other.
SAGITTARIUS (November 22 to December 21) This is a good time to reassess the earlier plan you made for the New Year. Some elements you felt you could depend on to make it work might no longer carry that assurance.

CAPRICORN (December 22 to January 19) Forming a renewed connection with a former associate is only the first step toward working out your new plans. Be prepared for problems, and deal with them as soon as they arise.
AQUARIUS (January 20 to February 18) A romantic situation that was going smoothly not too long ago might take a new turn. Be honest about your feelings before you decide whether to follow it or take another path.
PISCES (February 19 to March 20) The wise Pisces (that's you, of course) will make sure everyone knows your plan to keep your options open and listen to all sides of the situation before making any decisions.

“Movie: The Sound of Silence”

Michael Tyburski made his feature film directing debut with this 2019 drama about a “house tuner,” who calibrates the sounds in clients’ homes to adjust their moods, but can’t seem to help one problematic customer. “Movie: Depraved”

Indie horror filmmaker Larry Fessenden (“Wendigo”) put forth his take on the “Frankenstein” story with this 2019 yarn about a disillusioned field surgeon who builds a man from spare parts and brings him to life in his Brooklyn loft. David Call, Joshua Leonard, Alex Breaux and Ana Kayne head the cast.

“Younger”

Season 6 of this TV Land dramedy finds Liza (series star Sutton Foster) mulling whether to reveal her true age while her secret affair with Charles (Peter Hermann) becomes public knowledge. 7 p.m. on ABC-3
The Bachelor

Airline pilot Peter Weber got his heart broken when Hannah Brown ended their relationship in Season 15 of "The Bachelorette," but he's hoping for better fortune in Season 24 of this companion series, which puts the Westlake Village, Calif., native in the position of power. Weber brings the temperament of a true romantic to his role as this season's Bachelor: His parents have been together since meeting while working the same flight more than 30 years ago, and Weber is hoping for a similar love match. Chris Harrison returns as host.

7 p.m. on CBS-5
The Neighborhood

Deborah Miller Jr., who plays enthusiastic but dense Denise Miller in the IFC cult comedy "Stan Against Evil," guest stars in the new episode "Welcome to the Freeloaders," playing Gemma's (Beth Behrs) sister, Brittany, who shows up without warning and clearly plans to stay with the Johnsons indefinitely. Her reluctance to share in household duties or expenses quickly wears thin with Dave (Max Greenfield), however. Similarly, Malcolm (Sheaun McKinney) now has a job, but shows no interest in leaving home. Cedric the Entertainer and Tichina Arnold also star.

8 p.m. on FOOD
Kids Baking Championship

To kick off another season on a truly groovy note, returning hosts and judges Valerie Bertinelli and Duff Goldman go back to the 1970s for a premiere called "Beyond the Fringe." After welcoming their new group of 12 young bakers, Bertinelli and Goldman challenge them to make shag cakes. To succeed, each baker must make a cake in the flavor of their choice, then use special frosting tips to create a fuzzy appearance similar to a shag carpet.

9 p.m. on CBS-5
Bull

During his screening process, Bull (Michael Weatherly) looks to select jurors who are inclined to empathize with an individual's need and right to personal privacy in a new episode called "Look Back in Anger." It's part of a case involving Marissa's (Geneva Carr) friend, Stephen (guest star Aaron Dean Eisenberg), who is suing a prominent philanthropic businessman for abusing him as a child. Richard Gallagher and Kevin Kilner also guest star.

Peter Weber

9:01 p.m. on NBC-15
Manifest

NBC's head-spinning sci-fi series about a plane load of passengers and crew who somehow experienced an uncanny time jump five years into the future during a flight from Jamaica to New York returns with a premiere called "Fasten Your Seatbelts," which picks up the action more or less immediately after the events of the Season 1 cliffhanger finale. Viewers will learn who, if anyone, was shot during a gunfight between Jared (J.R. Ramirez) and Zeke (Matt Long) and who is the father of Grace's (Athena Karkanis) baby.

Jeopardy! The Greatest of All Time

The three highest money winners in the history of "Jeopardy!" — Ken Jennings, Brad Rutter and James Holzhauer — face off in a multi-night event, with the first player to win three matches earning a $1 million grand prize. The two runners up receive $250,000 each. Alex Trebek hosts this rivalry, which continues on consecutive weeknights until a winner prevails.

7 p.m. on TLC
My Big Fat Fabulous Life

Whitney Thore continues her struggle with polycystic ovarian syndrome as she returns for another season, which also involves more demands from her dance career and the frequent psychological toll taken by body shamers. On a brighter note, she's happy with her new life and business in Charlotte, N.C., which includes a new romance, but her longtime friends back home in Greensboro are starting to feel neglected. Meanwhile, she continues her fitness goals.

Get started on your weight-loss resolutions with Food Network

OK, you've gotten through the holidays in one piece, albeit with a lighter bank account and a heavier, well, body.

Yes, all that eating, drinking and being merry has taken its toll on your waistline and now you're in ready to do your penance. But where to start?

Try dialing up Food Network the morning of Sunday, Jan. 5, for its "Healthy Weekend" block of programming, in which their hosts/personalities offer up ideas for meals and snacks for those looking to take a healthier path in 2020 — or at least get those holiday pounds off.

Valerie Bertinelli has a few suggestions on a new episode of "Valerie's Home Cooking" in late morning, in which she is joined by food blogger Jo Stougaard to rework some familiar recipes to fit a low-carb diet.

Immediately preceding that is "Girl Meets Farm," which finds host Molly Yeh fixing low-cal treats such as homemade granola bars, juicy falafel-spiced turkey burgers and a grilled corn salad with creamy avocado ranch dressing, all washed down with carrot apple juice, for a play date with her sister-in-law and her baby son.

Earlier that morning, Ina Garten is hard at work on "Barefoot Contessa" creating "Salads for Four Seasons," which are a crispy mustard chicken and frisee salad for spring, tarragon shrimp salad for summer, farro tabbouleh with feta for autumn, and for winter a tricolore salad with orange. A lot to digest in a 30-minute show.

Also in the early A.M. is "Brunch at Bobby's," in which host/chef Bobby Flay prepares a "Guilt-Free Brunch" consisting of a blueberry-pomegranate power bowl with crispy quinoa crumbles, creamy avocado toast, a bloody mary made with homemade veggie juice and a Black Forest Iced Tea for dessert. So tasty and satisfying you'd never know it was healthful.

Guy Fieri is also on a health kick on "Guy's Ranch Kitchen" as he welcomes in Rocco DiSpirito, to prepare a lean cheeseburger with low-carb mashed potatoes and shrimp Gazpacho; Antonia Lofaso, to make a roasted whole branzino with salsa verde and whipped sweet potatoes, followed by paleo pancakes with bananas and berries; and Aaron May, to do seared scallops with vanilla citrus confit and a roasted tomato and eggplant gratin, washed down with a paloma flaca cocktail.

OF 'LINCOLN RHYME: HUNT FOR THE BONE COLLECTOR' ON NBC

You've said that you immediately knew your character of NYPD Officer Amelia Sachs. How so?

I think some of the reasons I knew and I think some of the other things are things that I'm still discovering now that are surprising me but then also kind of make sense once I discover them on set.

And I think for me, the personal journey with her was having been through traumatic things in my life and finding a way to use them to power through and to kind of admit to myself that I may not be strong but I do things anyway. And then to the outside world, that seems like you're being very strong but sometimes that person, they don't feel strong at all. And I think those are the moments where you actually find your power, and I felt like I knew that in my own life journey and so I could really bring that to Amelia in her journey.

How has it been working out scenes with your co-star Russell Hornsby?

It's been great. ... I'm a huge fan of "The Hate You Give," which was a movie he was in, so I was really looking forward to working with him. ...

You know, Russell has a very difficult role. He's the leader of the team and his movement is limited to his head and his mouth, so I watch him deliver these four-, five-, six-page scenes where he can't move from the bed or his wheelchair and it's a tough role. And so I think he's doing a great job of balancing the limited movement and finding that power within to be a leader.

That has to be quite the acting exercise, no?

Exactly, exactly, because it's very intimate. You know, literally everything is with your eyes and your mouth.

OF 'THE L WORD: GENERATION Q' ON SHOWTIME

What's your take on coming back to the role of Shane, after so many years, in "The L Word: Generation Q"?

We meet Shane when she's coming back to L.A. She's been gone for a while, and she's coming back from a past that you are not supposed to know about just yet. And I think within that past, you are going to see a character that has grown in that span of time, but also, you are who you are at the end of the day. Her demons still hold her back from things that, of course, she would like to accomplish ... and I think that's just basic human nature.

Jennifer Beals and Leisha Hailey also have returned from the cast of the original "The L Word," and the three of you are executive producers of the sequel series as well. What were your conversations like in determining how to move the franchise forward?

I think that is the challenging thing for the three of us, trying to understand where (the returning characters) have been for these ten years, and how are they different? And that has required a lot of thought and a lot of discussion and a lot of introspection. On one hand, you have matured and on the other hand, you still are who you are. I think it will be exciting to see where each one of us is now landing so many years later.

Once you actually went back before the cameras in your former role, how was it?

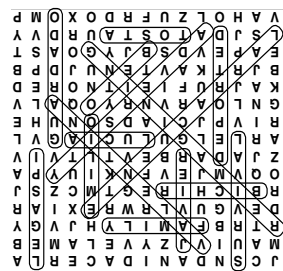

It was like putting on an old pair of shoes. I think we all — the three of us — fell into a rhythm instantly that we hadn't been around in quite some time.

BY JAY BOBBIN

Alex Michel (2002) With Peter Weber about to do the choosing as ABC's "The Bachelor" begins its 24th season Monday, Jan. 6, comes an opportunity to choose some of his most memorable forerunners ... starting with the first "Bachelor," a businessman who had to be compelling enough for viewers to take an interest in him and who he selected to make the franchise an ongoing concern. (Michel passed on runner-up Trista Rehn, who would have her own moment and beyond as the first "Bachelorette.")
Andrew Firestone (2003) The great-grandson of the founder of the Firestone tire company used his "Bachelor" stint to launch a reality-show career that continued afterward.
Jesse Palmer (2004) The NFL veteran parlayed his "Bachelor" time into a college-football-analyst job and roles on Food Network, "Good Morning America" and "DailyMail TV."
Charlie O'Connell (2005) The fellow-actor brother of Jerry O'Connell didn't tender a proposal at the end of his "Bachelor" run ... which was just as well, since he and his choice later broke up, reunited, then called off their relationship permanently.

Travis Lane Stork (2006) Now one of "The Doctors" on weekday television, Stork also hesitated to propose, and his "Bachelor"-fueled romance ended a week after his season's finale aired.
Brad Womack (2007, 2011) After not choosing anyone in his first turn, Womack controversially got another shot ... still the only "Bachelor" to get to be in the driver's seat a second time.
Jason Mesnick (2009) Though he proposed to Melissa Rycroft, Resnick took that back and reunited with runner-up Molly Malaney, whom he wed ... and with whom he has a daughter.
Sean Lowe (2013) Lowe also has one of the few lasting relationships "The Bachelor" has yielded, and he and the wife he chose on the show - Catherine Giudici - have two children.

Juan Pablo Galavis (2014) Declining to use the word "love" in relation to the contestant he chose got Galavis in trouble with many viewers. Going on the show "Couples Therapy" didn't help the duo, and they ultimately called things off.
Nick Viall (2017) Being on two seasons of "The Bachelorette" plus "Bachelor in Paradise" didn't help Viall's chances of ensuring his "Bachelor" success, since his engagement ended several months after his run on the original show did.
Arie Luyendyk Jr. (2018) Between filming his last episode and the "After the Final Rose" special, the auto-race driver broke his engagement to the woman he chose and started dating (and eventually married) the runner-up.
Colton Underwood (2019) Fearing he'd made a mistake by letting the second runner-up go, former NFL player Underwood asked for - and got - another chance with her after saying goodbye to the other two finalists.
