had to keep pushing. We didn't want this to be our seniors' last game and we had to play for the seniors. We don't want them to go out, they all deserve better than that."

Cy-Ridge made things difficult for Seven Lakes to do that though, and the Rams regained the lead in the 48th minute. But Seven Lakes answered back almost immediately, as Koc blasted a goal in from 25-yards out to tie the game just a minute later to swing the momentum back in the Spartans' favor.

"He's a special player," Krueger said. "He may be a freshman, but he doesn't play like a freshman. There's nothing about that kid that would make you think he's a freshman. He gets stuck in, he's nasty when he needs to be and he'll do anything that he's asked. We moved him into the middle because we needed a little bit of grit and he brought it. He can play anywhere on that field, he has a really bright future ahead of him as long as he stays hungry and

Seven Lakes' defense has had moving parts in the past few games as the Spartans have dealt with injuries, and it was no exception on Tuesday. While the entire team struggled to contain Cy-Ridge's counter attack at times, the back line stepped up in the second half to shut things down when needed. Aidan Morrison, an attacking midfielder for the Spartans, had to step in to help the back line and earned man of the match for his efforts.

"He was just so calm and composed and really helped anchor the back line tonight and the whole group," Krueger said. "They're able to play big when it's needed the most and they showed it again today."

Seven Lakes finally came all the way back when in the 65th minute Noa Stasic found space and converted the Spartans' third goal to give them the lead for good.

Seven Lakes held off Cy-Ridge for the rest of the match on the way to secure the win and move on to the regional quarterfinals.

"We knew we had the momentum after the second goal and we knew we had this game and that we could win it when we played our best," Koc said. "It was amazing and meant a lot to all of us. Especially with all the fans in the crowd and how much it meant to them too."

It will be a battle of familiar foes in the regional quarterfinals, as two Katy ISD schools face off in Seven Lakes and Taylor. It will be the teams' third game against each other this season.

"We just have to play our game," Kreuger said. "They are a big physical team. They dominate on set pieces, they have that monster throw. We just have to mentally be ready to go in the trenches and battle in those moments. Taylor is a very dangerous team, in any other district they are not a fourth seed. They have the ability to be dangerous but the most important thing for us is to play our game and no one else's."
