

Local nonprofits seeking donations on "Give to the Max day"

The Arrowhead Economic Opportunity Agency (www.aeo.org) is one of many nonprofit organizations throughout the state that will once again ask Minnesotans to display their record-breaking generosity by donating to their favorite charities online at www.GiveMN.org during the third annual "Give to the Max Day" on Nov. 16.

Max Day' not only provided additional funds to help those in great need, but also brought about greater awareness of needs in our communities not being met by traditional funding sources," said Harlan Tardy, Executive Director. "The dollars raised help many families take the next step towards self sufficiency and we look forward to helping many more this year."

AEOA Foundation Fund will directly benefit its mission of meeting unique needs through community investment not otherwise met through other funding sources. "We set single-day records for philanthropic giving in both 2009 and 2010 and want to keep that streak going in 2011," said Dana Nelson, executive director of GiveMN.org, which debuted in fall 2009 as the first-of-its-kind giving website and sponsors Give to the Max Day. "This is a day for us to come together as Minnesotans and show our support for the nonprofit organizations that work tirelessly to improve our communities." During last year's Give to the Max Day, more than 42,000 donors logged on to GiveMN.org. The result: more than $10 million raised for more than 3,400 Minnesota nonprofits. GiveMN is a collaborative venture to transform philanthropy in Minnesota by growing overall giving and moving more of it online. For

DNR working to deter deer poaching

The Minnesota Department of Natural Resources (DNR) is using its team of conservation officer pilots to identify shiners and other lawbreakers.

Lt. Thomas Buker, a DNR conservation officer pilot since 2004. "You'd be surprised at how easy it is to spot an offender from the air."

headlights or other artificial lights to locate wild animals from two hours after sunset until sunrise, year around. A person possessing a firearm, bow or other implement that could be used to take wild animals is prohibited from shining at any time.

shining, poaching or someone committing another natural resource violation should call the Minnesota Turn In Poachers (TIP) hotline at 800-652-9093. All calls are confidential and the caller may be eligible for a reward of up to $1,000 if an arrest is made.

percent of the deer that hunters registered from the opening weekend were bucks. By comparison, just 53 percent of deer registered so far this year have been bucks.

Colder temperatures and a little snow would also help," he said.

forecast for the weekend calls for partly cloudy skies and temperatures in the low-to-mid 40s. Colder weather, and slight chances of snow are expected later next week just ahead of the final weekend of the hunt.
