Commission plans expansion at Fairhope Satellite Courthouse

By GUY BUSBY
guy@gulfcoastmedia.com

BAY MINETTE — Baldwin County commissioners are working to move forward with plans to complete more than 10,000 square feet of office space at the Fairhope Satellite Courthouse in areas that were built almost a decade ago.

The commission will vote Tuesday on a proposal to reject five bids and go out for new proposals to complete the interior of the second floor of the courthouse.

“We received five,” Wanda Gautney, county purchasing director told commissioners at the work session last Tuesday. “Four were wrong. One was correct, and we didn’t feel like we had a good competitive price with just one bidder.”

County Commissioner Joe

Davis, whose district includes Fairhope, said the project will allow more space for offices for the County Commission, Legislative Delegation and Baldwin County Economic Development Alliance.

The commission began work in 2010 to expand satellite courthouses in Fairhope and Foley. The Fairhope facility had more than 22,000 square feet added to the first floor for immediate use. A second floor was also added as an incomplete shell with plans to complete the facility when the space was needed.

“Some have called it a renovation, but it’s not a renovation, it’s a completion after eight and a half years,” Davis said. “It’s been there all that time, but when they originally added it, they didn’t see a need to complete it at that time.”

Under the bid proposal, contractors will complete 13,500 square feet of space on the second floor above the west wing of the courthouse. The budgeted price of the work is $1.2 million, according to county reports.

Plans call for the addition of partitions and modifications to heating and air-condition-

Bayside teacher among scientists finding giant squid in Gulf

DAPHNE — When scientists on a research vessel in the Gulf of Mexico discovered the only giant squid ever seen in the Western Hemisphere, and only the second on Earth,

Dr. Megan McCall was one of the first to realize something amazing was happening.

McCall, Science, Technology, Engineering, Art and Math, or STEAM, coordinator at Bayside Academy, was one of the expedition members in June. The research vessel Point Sur was about 100 miles southeast of New Orleans on June 19 when technicians noticed something on a video from a remotely operated vehicle, a robot submarine.

“I was sitting in the lab, just off to the side when they called Dr. Nathan Robinson,” she said. “I could see him go get Dr. (Edie) Widder. I didn’t even have to see his face, I could feel the energy and realized something amazing was going on.”

Officials investigating fatal crash in Orange Beach

STAFF REPORTS

ALEA State Troopers are investigating a fatal crash that occurred overnight and involved two municipal police vehicles.

At approximately 11:16 p.m. on Tuesday, July 9, two Orange Beach police units were engaged in a traffic stop on AL 182 (Perdido Beach Boulevard) east of Perdido Pass. The vehicle they pulled over had stopped in the center lane.

Behind them, Garrett Macguire Slaughter, 21, of Elberta, was traveling east in a 1995 GMC Sierra when he crashed into one of the unoccupied patrol vehicles causing it to strike the other. Slaughter, who was not using a seat belt, was pronounced dead at the scene.

No further information is available as troopers continue to investigate.

technicians caught a glimpse of a tentacle. They kept watching. On the third set, the giant squid swam into view. A live giant squid had only been seen once anywhere on the planet. That was off Japan in 2012. Now one had been recorded in the Gulf south of Mobile Bay.

"We watched it over and over. It was thrilling. I thought to myself that this is epic," she said. "This is absolutely epic. It was so amazing that it was just there."

The video was taken at a depth of 759 meters, almost a half mile down. The recording was done by the Medusa, an ROV operated from the ship. The Medusa was lowered from the ship with a bait device designed to attract marine life at extreme depths.

The Medusa was designed by Dr. Edie Widder. In her office at Bayside, McCall showed off a much smaller device, about 18 inches square, made of plastic tubing and electronics.

"We made this here," she said. "Medusa is much more complex, but it shows how this technology that the students study is used in the real world."

She also pointed out a foam cup about the size of a thimble. That was a standard-sized eight-ounce coffee cup before it was attached to the Medusa and lowered into the depths. The extreme pressure forced the air out of the foam, leaving a shrunken remnant.

Researchers also used two other devices to recover and observe marine life. The Tucker trawl scooped up creatures in the deep and returned them to the ship for study. The Global Explorer ROV could also be sent down to study marine life.

In addition to the squid, the expedition found a wide variety of strange fish, shrimp and other creatures.

"Even before we saw the squid, this was all so exciting," she said. "This is what I want to show the students, what there is out there that they can learn and discover one day."

She showed photos of shrimp that were bright red in the light of the labs. In the ocean, however, red light is the first color absorbed by the water, so red can be a camouflage.

Another species of fish was a deep black. It was the darkest black known on an animal. "This fish is, you might say, the blackest black there is, that we know of," she said.

McCall was one of only 12 researchers on Point Sur that took part in the 15-day trip. One of her main jobs on the expedition was to coordinate postings on the progress of the voyage and research.

She said the trip did not get off to a great start. "Right after we left Gulfport, we got hit by a storm that stayed with us two days," she said. "It like being in a washing machine for two days."

Later, a water spout passed close to the ship. "Even with everything that happened, thought, it was phenomenal," she said.

The expedition, Journey into Midnight: Light and Life Below the Twilight Zone, was funded by the National Oceanic and Atmospheric Administration's Office of Ocean Exploration and Research.

Researchers explored the water column in some of the deepest parts of the Gulf of Mexico to study how deep-sea animals function without light.

McCall, who has been STEAM coordinator at Bayside for three years, has taken part in two previous expeditions, one to the Arctic and one to the Antarctic.

OUTDOOR CONDITIONS: Kings, reds and specks. These are perhaps the three most popular (and commonly caught) fish in our Baldwin County waters in mid-July. King mackerel have been showing up in flurries off the Gulf State Pier and over the artificial reefs that dot the Gulf of Mexico within 5-10 miles of the coast. Meanwhile, redfish and speckled trout can be found in virtually any of the bays, canals and inland waterways of Baldwin County. That makes access to these two species of gamefish a little easier as they are nearly always found close to home, in shallow water.

It's hard for reds and specks to resist a live shrimp, and cigar minnows are the bait of choice for kings. With so many inshore areas to explore, you may find it difficult to find a good spot. The best advice is to check in with the knowledgeable folks at any of our local tackle or bait shops. They are constantly hearing from anglers coming through, relaying stories of success and they know what lures or bait have been most effective. If you're heading out there good luck and be safe!

Wilson recognized for strategy to address overcrowded schools

Submitted

The Association of School Business Officials will recognize John Wilson, Baldwin County School System chief financial officer, with its Pinnacle Award for his strategy to address overcrowded schools.

Many school systems must raise taxes and pledge those proceeds toward a 20- or 30-year capital bond to pay for construction projects. The Baldwin County School System — one of the fastest-growing school districts in the state — didn't have the luxury of either of those two options for addressing significant overcrowding concerns.

The solution was a four-year $60 million "Pay As You Go" construction financing plan utilizing local banks, low interest rates, and an aggressive draw down funding schedule, Wilson said.

The first step involved going through the budget line by line, cutting expenses and creating savings that wouldn't affect the classroom. Through the coordination of the superintendent, board and staff, $15 million was identified for annual capital construction needs. "This helped to address wings and additions, but new schools were the only true solution for addressing our growth," Wilson said.

Wilson

The second step required the district to partner with the Baldwin County Commission so the district could retain the commission's backing of the capital plan and the existing sales tax could be extended to stabilize funding for this program.

Finally, the district created a financing structure which required no additional taxes and outlined a four-year timeframe to borrow and repay all outstanding debt.

"As a result of our innovative financing structure, we are currently building four new schools. These will be paid off completely in a four-year period, without any long-term bonds or additional taxes," Wilson said.

The Pinnacle Awards showcase replicable projects and practices that allow district business leaders to exchange and implement new ideas to better support their schools and communities. The awards are sponsored by Virco, Inc.

Wilson will be presented the crystal Pinnacle of Achievement Award at ASBO International's 2019 Annual Conference & Expo in National Harbor, Maryland, in October.

USA Health University Hospital earns Get With The Guidelines-Heart Failure Gold Plus Target Honor Roll Quality Achievement Award

Submitted

USA Health University Hospital has earned the American Heart Association's Get With The Guidelines-Heart Failure Gold Plus Quality Achievement Award and is recognized on the AHA's Target: Heart Failure Honor Roll. University Hospital has received the Gold Plus Quality Achievement for two consecutive years and is the first hospital in Alabama to achieve the Heart Failure Gold Plus with Target: Honor Roll Award recognition level.

The Gold Plus Award is an advanced level of recognition that acknowledges hospitals for their compliance with the quality measures within the Get With The Guidelines Heart Failure program. The award recognizes our hospital's commitment to ensuring heart failure patients receive the most appropriate treatment according to the latest nationally-recognized, evidence-based guidelines.

Hospital achieved the award by meeting specific quality achievement measures for the diagnosis and treatment of heart failure patients at a set level for at least 24 consecutive months. These measures include evaluation of the proper use of guideline-directed medications and aggressive risk-reduction therapies. Before discharge, patients receive in-depth education on managing their heart failure and overall health, have a close follow-up visit scheduled, as well as other care transition interventions.

"Since established, the Get With The Guidelines-Heart Failure Program at USA Health University Hospital has offered individualized, patient-centered, continued care from our multidisciplinary team, and the optimization of medical therapies for our heart failure patients in both inpatient and outpatient settings" said Dr. Barbara Burckhardt, USA Health cardiologist and heart failure team co-chair.

"This has ultimately resulted in significant reductions in morbidity and mortality for our patients, as well as improvements in their quality of life and functional status."

USA Health University Hospital is also recognized on the AHA's Target: Heart Failure Honor Roll. Hospitals who earn this award have demonstrated specific criteria of improving medication adherence, providing early follow-up care coordination, and enhancing patient education.

"We are extremely proud to have earned the Gold Plus Target Honor Roll Quality Achievement Award. This award reflects our team's hard work and commitment to deliver evidence-based care and in doing so improve outcomes for our heart failure patients," said Burckhardt, who also serves as associate professor of internal medicine at the USA College of Medicine.

The goal of the Honor Roll is to reduce hospital readmissions and help patients to improve their quality of life in managing this chronic condition.

"We are pleased to recognize USA Health University Hospital for their commitment to heart failure care," said Lee H. Schwamm, M.D., national chairperson of the Quality Oversight Committee and Executive Vice Chair of Acute Stroke Services, Massachusetts General Hospital, Boston, Massachusetts. "Research has shown that hospitals adhering to clinical measures through the Get With The Guidelines quality improvement initiative can often see fewer readmissions and lower mortality rates."

According to the American Heart Association, 6.5 million Americans are living with heart failure. An additional 670,000 new cases are diagnosed annually. With the aging of the population, the problem is poised to reach epidemic proportions in coming years, taking a tremendous toll in quality of life as well as longevity. At USA Health University Hospital, we strive to provide our patients with the best possible resources to manage any of their chronic health conditions. We are extremely proud to receive this award and are working hard to continue improving the quality of life for our heart failure patient population.

Jones, Collins bill to prevent con artists from stealing tax refunds signed into law

Submitted

Bipartisan legislation authored by U.S. Senators Doug Jones (D-Ala.) and Susan Collins (R-Maine) to thwart identity theft tax refund fraud and prevent American taxpayers and seniors from falling victim has been signed into law by President Donald Trump. Senators Jones and Collins' legislation was included as a provision in the Taxpayer First Act.

The Taxpayer Identity Protection Act will require the IRS to expand its Identity Protection

PIN (IP PIN) pilot program nationwide over the next five years. An IP PIN is a six-digit number assigned to eligible taxpayers that allows their tax returns and refunds to be processed without delay and helps prevent the misuse of their SSNs on fraudulent income tax returns. Under this act, taxpayers will be allowed to opt-in to the IP PIN pilot program if they desire an extra layer of identity protection.

"This new law will save over a billion dollars in taxpayer money and help protect against identity theft," Senator Jones said. "I'm glad the President has signed our bipartisan legislation and that these additional protections will be available to all taxpayers."

In addition to the Taxpayer Identity Protection Act, the Taxpayer First Act contains a number of other provisions designed to modernize the IRS in areas such as customer service, taxpayer rights during the enforcement process, information technology, and electronic systems.

North Baldwin Chamber Junior Ambassadors participate in Economic and Community Development Scholars program at Huntingdon College

North Baldwin Chamber Junior Ambassadors — Landon Jones, Olivia Lamb, Mary-Stuart Lewis and Tanner Smith of Bay Minette — were four of the 32 rising high school seniors from across the state of Alabama who participated in the third annual Huntingdon College Economic and Community Development Scholars Program June 25-27.

Planned in partnership with and sponsored by the Chamber of Commerce Association of Alabama, the Economic Development Association of Alabama, and the Alabama Department of Commerce, ECDS introduced young citizens who are poised to begin their professional journeys to the importance of economic and community development.

The students met with professionals seasoned in the processes of economic and community development and participated in a two-day economic development simulation. Participants “graduated” from the program wearing hard hats for ground-breaking and ribbon-cutting simulations. In true industry recruitment form, students participated in groups as competing cities vying for potential industry. Jones, Lamb, Lewis and Smith were members of the city economic development team that ‘won’ the project.

“We are very proud to partner with Huntingdon College to send our students each year,” said Ashley Jones Davis, executive director for the North Baldwin Chamber. “The three-day program is a remarkable opportunity that allows our students to see everything they have learned through the Junior Ambassador program come together through a simulation of business recruitment.”

“We had an incredibly impressive collection of high school students from across the State of Alabama on our campus last week,” said Huntingdon Senior Vice President Anthony Leigh, an architect of the program. “These students are difference makers in their schools and their communities. I am confident they have returned to their communities enlightened about what economic and community developers do, and we hope that knowledge has given them an appreciation for the work of growing and bettering their community and our state.”

Grounded in the Judeo-Christian tradition of the United Methodist Church, Huntingdon College is committed to nurturing growth in faith, wisdom, and service and to graduating individuals prepared to succeed in a rapidly changing world. Founded in 1854, Huntingdon is a coeducational liberal arts college recognized among “The Fastest Growing Colleges in America” by The Chronicle of Higher Education; among the top 6 best regional values and a top 11 regional college in the South by U.S. News and World Report; among a list of Colleges that Change Lives, by Washington Monthly; among the Best Colleges Region by Region (South) by the Princeton Review. The Huntingdon campus, a Tree Campus USA, is listed on the National Register of Historic Places.

Ron grew up and went to school in Gurnee, Illinois, a village near Chicago. He graduated from Illinois Wesleyan University and later earned an MBA degree from the University of Chicago.

He was blessed with his loving wife, Rose Mary, for 51 years, and they had the pleasure of raising three talented children.

His business career was with four major companies: U.S. Steel, Transunion, Vulcan and Waste Management, which took him from Chicago to Ohio, Florida, Alabama and Washington, D.C. His career provided him with management opportunities in accounting, computer systems and environmental marketing.

He retired early to Fairhope in 1990 to enjoy its attractive climate as well as fishing and boating with new friends.

There he designed and built a lovely home where they lived for 25 years.

He was active with the Eastern Shore Art Center, Baldwin County and Alabama Master Gardeners, Eastern Shore Institute of Lifelong Learning, Environmental Advisory Boards of both Baldwin County and Fairhope, and with St. James Episcopal Church where as Junior Warden he had a major role in landscaping the then new church in 1993.

He and Rose Mary also enjoyed travel and visited many foreign countries as well as most of the United States.

Ron was preceded in death by his father and mother, Glenn and Nellie Dean Heveran; by his daughter, Elizabeth; and his son, Gary; and brother, Ed of Florida.

He is survived by his wife, Rose Mary; and their son, Glenn and his wife Kris of Racine, Wisconsin; brother, Jim of Fairhope; and sister, Judy of Michigan; and by two grandsons, Peter and Karson.

He donated his body to the University of Alabama in Birmingham.

A funeral service will be held at St. James Episcopal Church in Fairhope at 1 p.m. on July 18, followed by a reception in Green Hall.

In lieu of flowers, please send contributions to St. James Church.

Girl Scouts have a blast at Space Camp

SUBMITTED PHOTOS

Girl Scouts from Troop 8017 in Fairhope spent a day at the U.S. Space and Rocket Center in Huntsville. There they learned how to construct and launch rockets, and explored the history of the Mercury, Gemini and Apollo space programs. The girls also learned what life was like aboard a space station and tried their hand at several stomach-turning rides to simulate space travel.

ing duct work needed for the extra space. Fire suppression and electrical systems and other work are also included in the bid proposal. The plan does not require any exterior work at the courthouse or work on areas now in use.

Contractors will have until Aug. 5 to submit proposals if the plan is approved by the commission.

In 2009, county officials began work to added more than 19,000 square feet of space to the Foley Satellite Courthouse. That work was completed and no unfinished areas were left to be added later, according to reports.

Theatre 98 bringing laughs this summer with Dead Accounts

By SYDNEY MCDONALD
Gulf Coast Media Correspondent

Want to go?

WHAT: Dead Accounts

WHERE: Theatre 98, Fairhope

WHEN: July 12 – 28

PURCHASE TICKETS: Visit www.theatre98.org

If the summer heat has been slowing things down for you, Fairhope Theatre 98 is ready to splash some cool laughs your way with “Dead Accounts,” written by Theresa Rebeck.

The ironic and satirical take on small town family life, interrupted by money and other big city problems, will have you laughing and wondering along with the characters. The show is directed by Robin Ann Page and will run from July 12-28.

The show opens as Jack, played by Michael Lee, unexpectedly returns to his hometown of Cincinnati after a decade working and living in New York City. Why he has appeared suddenly in the middle of the night is the driving force of the show’s narrative, told through the questions asked by his surprised family.

Lee’s charismatic portrayal of the genius mind behind Jack’s character is charming to say the least. He often says, “Everything I say is the truth,” and Lee makes it surprisingly easy to believe.

However, the story would never unfold without Lorna, the inquisitive, and maybe a little too bored, sister portrayed by Ashley Campbell. Determined to find out the reason behind her brother’s sudden arrival, she brings trouble to the mix when she calls Jack’s mysterious wife, played by Reagan McDowell.

After the bickering and the quibbling between the family members is over, and the last line is read, you may still be left wondering. That is the point, Page said.

“Theresa Rebeck left it up to the audience to take away what you will from it,” she said.

The cast is rounded out by Teri Odell, Jack’s mother, and Jeff Lovin-good, who plays Jack’s childhood friend.

Page said she hopes that her audiences will enjoy the comedy of everyday life triumphs and tribulations that entail in the show.

While the author leaves the big picture open to your imagination, the little details of a family that loves and struggles with each other, just like we all do, will make you feel at home in this story.

Mobile hosts 2019 “Love Never Fails” Global Convention of Jehovah’s Witnesses

Submitted

One of the largest global conventions in 2019, spanning six continents and over 200 countries and presented in over 400 languages, will be coming to Mobile July 12-14, and July 19-21.

Beginning in May 2019, Jehovah’s Witnesses will host a global series of three-day conventions featuring the theme “Love Never Fails.” It is anticipated that there will be an attendance of 13,000 at 3 conventions to be held at the USA

Mitchell Center.

Baldwin County residents Sam and Delores Brown plan on attending.

“We look forward to attending our conventions. It’s like waiting for a well-planned vacation and a family reunion, where you can relax, take in good spiritual food, good association, and be refreshed upbuilt in the company of our brothers and sisters, in the presence of Jehovah. You can really feel Jehovah’s love and affection.”

Walt and Debra Rose, also of Baldwin County, are eagerly looking forward to it: “What a treat. Time again for the yearly Regional Convention! I really look forward to seeing so many spiritually minded friends gathered together for the purpose of learning from Jehovah. The timely bible based information helps me to be a better Christian and it truly strengthens my love for God and my neighbor. All this in a setting of real unity and love.”

The convention program will examine how Bible principles help people in practical ways. The Friday program will address how love can help people surmount obstacles such as a troubled upbringing, chronic illness, or poverty.

Saturday’s program will consider how Bible principles help husbands, wives, and children to show love for one another. Sunday’s program will include a public Bible discourse entitled “True Love in a Hate-Filled World — Where?” that will

Overview of traffic incidents in Alabama over July 4 holiday weekend

Staff REPORTS

The following is a round-up of the traffic incidents overseen by Alabama Law Enforcement Agency during the Independence Day weekend.

• Between 12:01 a.m. Wednesday, July 3, and midnight Sunday, July 7, Alabama Law Enforcement Agency (ALEA) Troopers investigated 10 traffic fatalities on Alabama roadways.*

• The deadly crashes during this year’s Fourth of July holiday travel period occurred in the following counties: Blount, Butler, Chambers, Cullman, Lawrence and Talladega.

• Of the 10 individuals killed, there were seven drivers and three passengers – including a 3-year-old who was not restrained (or using a seat belt). The other nine individuals also were traveling in vehicles equipped with seat belts, but six of the nine were not using seat belts. It is unknown at this time whether a seventh individual was using a seat belt.

• Saturday, July 6, was the only Zero-Fatality Day of the five-day extended holiday.

• During the same period in 2018, Troopers investigated eight traffic deaths.

• As of Sunday, July 7, Troopers have investigated 22 fewer traffic fatalities since Jan. 1, 2019, as the same time period for 2018. Still, one traffic fatality — no matter what time of year — is one too many.

• ALEA urges motorists to drive safely — and defensively — throughout the summer, make sure everyone is buckled up no matter how short the trip, obey the law, drive without distraction, select a designated driver prior to drinking alcoholic beverages at the lake, the beach or other warm-weather destinations.

Local law enforcement partners may have worked other deadly crashes, but statewide stats are not available at this time.

Houses on the tour are:

This beautiful Italianate House was designed in 1907 for wealthy cotton factor Colonel David R. Burgess. It is the first time the home will be on a public tour.

The Ben May Library opened in 1928. This Greek Revival Style building was locally funded by committee after the city turned down an offer from Andrew Carnegie at the urging of local unions, and it still stands as a beautiful testament to Mobile's vibrant past and bright future.

Government Street Methodist Church, 901 Government Street

Known by many locals and the churches parishioners as "the Beehive", this church was remodeled from its original Gothic styled construction to the Spanish Colonial Style Masterpiece we all recognize today by George Rogers in 1904.

Brown House, 1668 Government Street

Attorney Leo Brown hired George Rogers to design his home in 1937, making this the most "modern" building on the tour.

The tour will be held Saturday, October 5, 2019 from 8:45 to 11:15 a.m. Lunch will be served

How much do I need to retire?

By JAKE WALLACE

As far as financial questions go, this one might be the most common. Whether you are a doctor, lawyer, plumber or grocery store clerk, we all want to know the "magic number." How much do you need to be comfortable in retirement? The shortest answer is also the least satisfying: It depends.

Each of us has a different view of retirement. Will you be playing golf every day at the country club? Are you going to take vacations regularly? Do you have a spouse or other family member that needs care? Are you finally going to buy that boat?

It can feel like you need to answer a million questions before you can even bust out the calculator. For many people it's just too daunting of a task to undertake, and causes too much stress, so we just ignore it. This is obvious when you learn 33% of the Baby Boomers have less than $25,000 saved for retirement. If you take a look at all adults in the U.S., the picture doesn't look any better: 46% of adults haven't taken any steps to prepare for the likelihood they'll outlive their savings. That is shocking.

How did this happen? What can we do?

As American companies went away from defined benefit plans (pensions) and towards defined contribution plans (401(k)s), the job of securing a solid retirement left the shoulders of companies and came to rest on the shoulders of individual workers.

Unfortunately, education surrounding these plans is still lacking, decades after the transition started. This dearth of knowledge is the reason many Americans don't know how much they should be saving for retirement, which accounts to use, or what the rules are. Our piecemeal approach to retirement clearly is not cutting it.

Nodding your head in agreement? If you, too, do not know how you will ever retire, you could probably use a financial plan.

What is a financial plan?

Would you ever leave on a road trip, to go somewhere new and not have a map (or cellphone) with you? Of course not! But if you're like many Americans, you are working your way towards retirement with no plan in place, no "roadmap" to make sure that you are on track, or that you even know where you're headed.

Having a road map can tell you where you are, where you are going, and how long it'll take to get there. It can also help you along the way if things change, so that you can still get to your destination (think of it like an updated route from your GPS app). Without one,

The house, which is now a struggling bed and breakfast, is owned and operated by Jason Lovette, a good ole boy that rubs Caroline the wrong way. As Gran Tee reconnects with the home she once loved her past comes alive on stage. She watched as Terrell, her younger self, meets and falls for a farm boy, Judd, while trying to appease her parents and the man she is expected to marry, Nathan Quinn.

you may be blindly driving around in circles hoping you find your way.

Except, when we're talking retirement, the destination is the most important goal of all: achieving the financial future you envision. So you need a map — a financial plan.

The first step is sitting down with a financial professional to discover your short- and long-term goals. (Make sure you and your significant other are on the same page!) Paint a picture of what you want your life to look like; what and who is important in it.

Then it's time to create the plan. You start with budgeting, and taking stock of all income, assets, and liabilities. A good financial advisor will help ensure you're efficiently using all of the assets at your disposal. Next it's time to implement the plan, using different solutions to fuel your goal. Lastly, and this is the most important part, track your progress. The entire point of a financial plan is to make tracking your progress easier, so you can make adjustments along the way, which will help you to retire on your own terms.

What should your financial plan include?

While every one of us is different, with a variety of competing priorities, here is a short list of what to consider:

- Your investments, assets, and liabilities
- Your current portfolio allocation
- Your risk profile, time horizon, and financial goals
- Assets you've earmarked for specific goals such as retirement, vacation house, or your grandchildren's education
- Your current income and savings, as well as anticipated future spending and income

The numbers don't lie. Many Americans are going to have a tough time when it comes to retirement. Many of our friends and neighbors won't have the leisurely days filled with family and friends that we all picture. The good news is each one of us can do something about our own situation. We can start planning for the future. As the great Yogi Berra once said: "If you don't know where you're going, you'll end up someplace else."

If you are tired of taking a piecemeal approach to your retirement and you are ready for some professional help, please reach out to Jake Wallace, Financial Advisor at Morgan Stanley, at 251-990-2946 or email at jake.wallace@morganstanley.com

YOLANDA JOHNSON
Know Yo! Business

As the Baldwin County economy reaches peak this month, start planning for the off-season lull with the abundance of cash on hand today. Does this sound familiar, "Our records show our business is growing and making money, but we are barely covering our monthly expenses." What "records" are you looking at when you make this statement? For example, if it is the balance sheet, which is basically a statement of the business' assets (items owned) and its liabilities (items you owe) and the Assets are higher than the liabilities. This is "good thing" but it does not mean the business is in "good" financial shape. The fact the business is running out of cash each month suggest it is low on liquid assets. Remember liquid assets are cash and other assets that can readily be converted to cash. Physical assets such as inventory, buildings and equipment are not considered liquid. Therefore, your comparison of your balance sheet and bank statement are not relative in that way. One suggestion may be to establish a line of credit to mitigate the highs and lows of season business. Do you need assistance establishing a line of credit? Consider registering for assistance from the Alabama SBDC at www.asbdc.org

For most businesses (because most are small and medium size enterprises) cybersecurity seems like a waste of money and time. Do you hear yourself saying, I'm a small fish in a big pond, no one would want to hack into my company.?" More than half of the cyber attacks nationwide target companies just like yours. Do all of the devices, yes all, have up to date antivirus software and antispyware? Does your internet connection have a firewall or encryption? Does your router access on your Wi-fi network have a password? No, take action today!

Baldwin Realtors selected as Inman Innovator finalist

Recognized as first Realtor Association to offer group insurance for members

Baldwin Realtors was recently selected as a finalist for the 2019 Inman Innovator Awards in the Most Innovative MLS, Association or Industry Organization category. Inman Innovator finalists are highlighted as the real estate industry's most forward-thinking and groundbreaking members as indicated by their progress and accomplishments.

Baldwin Realtors was selected largely based on the major milestone it reached in 2018, when it became the first Realtor Association in the nation to offer group health, dental and vision insurance plans to treat its 2,300 members.

"Being able to offer health, dental, and vision insurance to our membership is one of the most defying accomplishments of my career," said Sheila Dodson, CEO of Baldwin Realtors. "Knowing that independent contractors are not able to provide for their families or themselves in this vital way has always been a difficult problem for the REALTOR® industry. It is great to partner with Blue Cross Blue Shield to offer premium coverage for our members, affiliates, and their staffs."

To be named a finalist in the Inman Innovator Awards requires a company or person who consistently tries new things, adopts new technology, creates a new culture or approach to real estate or has achieved an unmatched level of success. Over 60 finalists are then grouped into six categories.

"It is a tremendous honor for Baldwin Realtors to be included as a finalist for the Inman Innovator Award. We are sincerely humbled to be nominated among so many other prestigious associations from around the country," said Troy Wilson, 2018 president of Baldwin Realtors. "Our leadership team is very proud to have been able to provide an affordable group healthcare option to our members. Without this plan many within our association would have no affordable alternative for healthcare. It's very gratifying to know we have been an instrumental part of an initiative that provides such a positive impact to so many."

"The Inman Innovators represent the bold-est minds in real estate working to change how the industry does business," according to publisher Brad Inman in a recent article on Inman.com.

The 2019 Inman Innovator Award winners will be announced at Brooklyn Bowl Las Vegas on July 25. For more information or to see the full list of finalists, visit <https://bit.ly/2IBAQUV>.

The South Baldwin Chamber of Commerce welcomes Creekside Mini Golf to Foley

On Thursday, June 13, the South Baldwin Chamber of Commerce welcomed another new and fun attraction to Foley, Alabama: Creekside Mini Golf. The ribbon cutting celebration was attended by the chamber staff, Diplomats, and members, along with the Creekside Mini Golf owners, Kyle Temple and Jim Brown, their family and friends. Everyone enjoyed meeting the owners, touring the new property, and the delicious food catered by Down South BBQ. Creekside Mini Golf began construction in November 2018, and now that it's complete, offers interesting and beautiful courses with water features and different levels throughout, an arcade area, and celebration rooms for any occasion.

Located in Foley at 20868 Mifflin Road, between Highway 59 and the Beach Express near OWA, Creekside Mini Golf has two challenging 18 hole courses to choose from. Venture up the mountain into a cave of wonders on the Seaside course or be one with nature on the Creekside course.

The courses are ADA (Handicapped) accessible. "Beautiful scenery, raging waters, and flowing waterfalls are sure to bring out the "awe" in awesome!"

The arcade is a refreshing activity when the golf courses heat up in the summertime. Parents can relax and refresh with Blue Bunny ice cream and cold Coke products while the kids stay busy testing their gaming skills on the 31 new and classic arcade games. If you're looking for somewhere to hold a birthday party or event, Creekside Mini Golf has two celebration rooms where you can bring your own food and decorations for the occasion.

At the ribbon cutting celebration, co-owner Jim Brown spoke, "I appreciate the community giving us the opportunity to build a course like this in this town (Foley). We hope it's an asset and thank you for coming out. We hope you will support us like we will be supporting the community."

Kyle Temple, co-owner, added, "Thank you South Baldwin Chamber of Commerce, and thank you to my good friend, the man with the idea, Jim Brown. I want to thank the individuals in the public and pri-ivate sector for the work you've done to help make this idea a reality, and we'd certainly like to thank our staff."

Creekside Mini Golf hours of operation are currently 10 a.m. to 10 p.m., seven days a week.

Seasonal hours may vary. For more information call 251-451-GOLF (4653), visit their website at creeksideminigolf.net, or find them on Facebook [facebook.com/creeksideminigolffoleyal].

Emma Sims was a top performer for the U.S. Coast Guard Academy women's outdoor track and field team. The Fairhope resident received all-New England Division III Championship recognition for finishing seventh among 14 in the 10,000-meter run. The sophomore earned two points for the team in her lone event.

Sims placed fifth in the 10,000 at the New England Women's and Men's Athletic Conference Championships.

MORE WOMEN'S OUTDOOR TRACK AND FIELD

University of South Alabama's Olivia Swan won the 400-meter hurdles at the Sun Belt Conference Championship. The senior, who competed for Spanish Fort High, finished in 59.67 seconds, then a season-best in the conference, and was named first-team all-conference. She finished sixth in the high jump to earn points in that event as well.

Air Force Academy freshman Michelle Roca placed third in the 400 hurdles at the UNC Invite. She is from McGill-Toolen Catholic.

St. Michael Catholic High School held their summer football camp featuring NFL quarterback Philip Rivers. The event for 10-12 year-old and a 13-15 year-old groups was held on campus over two days. Born in Decatur, the San Diego Chargers' veteran is an eight-time Pro-Bowler.

USA Jags continue rebuild/replace efforts as Campbell's second season begins Rebuilding a team is a hard procedure to follow through especially with losing so many starters. Completely rebuilding a program is an even harder process to follow through. That was evident last year when the South Alabama Jaguars went 3-9 (2-6 in Sun Belt Conference play) with Steve Campbell in his first year as head coach of the football program.

This 2019 College Football season will be an even bigger test for coach Campbell as he must take the remaining team he has from last season and try to make a great season while coming out of the honeymoon phase with the program. It will not be easy for the Jaguars as they must replace six of the eleven starters on offense and seven of the eleven on defense this season.

MICHAEL HANICH
Sports Analysis

There is some good news for the Jaguars in terms of the talent they are returning. Senior running back Tra Minter returns as one of the most explosive and versatile players in the nation. Last season, Minter rushed for 801 yards and six touchdowns on 183 carries.

He also accounted for 23 receptions for 201 yards and was a dangerous return specialist as he 710 yards on 29 kickoff returns. Overall, he accounted for 1,801 yards and seven touchdowns on 241 touches. He ranked eighth nationally in all-purpose yards per game (150.2). Minter was named as the second-team preseason all-purpose player by Sporting News.

Even with Minter making dynamic plays, the Jaguars were 100th in the nation in points per game (24.2) and 106th in total yards per game (255.3). South Alabama will be trusting their offense in a young, untested quarterback in sophomore Cephus Johnson. Last year, he was stuck behind two senior quarterbacks battling throughout the season for more playing time. Johnson only accounted for seven completions (out of 19 attempts) for 120 yards and three touchdowns. He did excel in the Jaguars Spring Scrimmage Red-Blue game by accounting for 10 completions (out of 19 attempts) for 180 yards and a touchdown. The offensive line looks to rebuild with only two starters returning. The receiver corps is also looking to reload but they do return their number receiver from last year in Kawaan Baker. Last season, he accounted for 494 yards and four touchdowns on 33 receptions.

The biggest reload for the Jaguars will be on defense as they must replace seven starters on a unit that was ranked 123rd in points allowed per game (38.8). The biggest obstacle will be for the Jaguars to replace their entire linebacker corps except for sophomore Nick Mobley, who accounted for 56 total tackles last season (third most on the team). Senior safety Jalen Thompson will have the most important season of his stellar Jaguars career as he will be the leader of a potential young and inexperienced defense. He will be the passing defense leader as he accounted for eight pass deflections and three interceptions.

Senior defensive end Tyree Turner will be the pass rush specialist as last season he accounted for 50 total tackles, nine tackles for loss, and four sacks. Last season, the Jaguars defense was tied for 106th in the nation in total sacks accounted for (only 20 sacks). If the Jaguars want to improve their defensive efficiency, they will need more productive pass rushers. Finding a hybrid position player who can play defensive end and outside linebacker can be a huge boost in productivity.

You always know fun things to do!

Need for Baldwin bridges not in doubt

Over the July 4th week, the busiest week of our tourist season, all roads leading to our beaches, including I-10 in Mobile which inched towards the tunnel, were jammed. If there is any doubt that additional bridge construction is a top priority for Baldwin, last week should alleviate the wonder.

Beach bound traffic on Hwy. 59 and the Beach Express was backed up for miles, stopping and going through traffic lights and toll booths at a snail's pace.

Questions surround the construction and funding and even the necessity for several planned bridges leading north and south to and from our beaches. Two new proposed bridges, one traversing the Canal about a mile west of the Orange Beach toll bridge and another, the proposed Wolf Bay Bridge which would connect Orange Beach to the Josephine area, are in the planning stages. Even more questions are swirling about the planned Mobile Bay Bridge and its associated tolls that may top $2,000 per year for Baldwin residents who regularly commute.

But this past week's traffic jams starkly show the immense need for more and better bridges, funding questions aside.

Surveyed tourists who have returned from their Alabama beach vacations cite traffic congestion as the number one complaint. Tourism dollars in Baldwin fund projects throughout Alabama and that is reason enough for state funding to flow to these bridge projects.

But there are safety issues to consider as well. In the event of an approaching hurricane, can you imagine last week's traffic jams in reverse, heading north from the tourist and resident packed Pleasure Island? We must have these bridges and soon.

The past weekend traffic shows there is no doubt about the necessity for more bridges into Baldwin and then over the canal. The remaining issue is the funding.

We urge our elected officials to resolve funding questions quickly, and keep in mind the interests of local residents when it comes to toll expense. Officials need to get on with the job of building these bridges before the economic and safety interests of Baldwin residents are negatively impacted.

2020 races around the corner

Folks, don't look now, but the 2020 Presidential Election is upon us. Indeed, as many as 21 Democratic aspirants are already announced and campaigning.

They are quite a liberal group as you might expect. Leading the pack of Democrats trying to take Donald Trump out of the White House is an avowed, true socialist, Bernie Sanders. Behind ole Bernie are a host of ultra-liberal U.S. Senators who are socialists wannabes. They hail from either the left coasts of California or New England. Included in the pack of CNN/MSNBC/Stephen Colbert watchers are Elizabeth "Pocahontas" Warren of Massachusetts. She makes Teddy Kennedy look like a conservative. You also have Kamala Harris of California, Senator Cory Booker of New Jersey and losing Texas Senate candidate, Beto O'Rourke, in the race.

Our own anomaly Democratic Senator Doug Jones really should run for president next year. He would have a much better chance of winning the Democratic nomination for President than winning a seat in the U.S. Senate from the Heart of Dixie.

He has been a liberal Democrat in Alabama his entire adult political life. He has been the soul of the liberal Alabama Democratic Party for decades. He has campaigned and voted for George McGovern, Walter Mondale, Teddy Kennedy, Jesse Jackson, Barack Obama, Bill Clinton and Hillary Clinton.

Since he has been in Washington for the past year, he has organized with and voted with Chuck Schumer and Nancy Pelosi. Therefore, he is just as liberal with a much lengthier liberal pedigree than all of the aforementioned liberal Democratic Senators in the race; plus he has a proven Civil Rights record.

The scenario that occurred in last year's special election to fill Jeff Sessions's seat was a perfect storm that will never occur again. First of all, it was the only show in the country and the first opportunity for liberals all over the country to show their distaste for Donald Trump and the Republican Party. Having Judge Roy Moore as an additional lightning rod just added fuel to the fire. It attracted over $20 million of liberal, left-wing money to Doug Jones. He was able to out spend Moore 21 to 3. That is almost impossible to overcome, plus, with it being a Special Election it became a referendum on Doug Jones versus Roy Moore and the Republican vs Democratic delin- eation became obscured.

During this race, Doug Jones built a national liberal fund-raising base

STEVE FLOWERS
Inside the Statehouse

from left-wing America, much like Beto O'Rourke did in Texas. They both have become national stars as Democrats in Red States. Although O'Rourke probably has an edge on Jones in looks and youth. However, recently, Jones appeared on the left leaning Democratic Stephen Colbert Show.

Jones may very well be eyeing national politics.

Doug Jones, as a lifelong stalwart Democrat, has worked diligently for the State and National Democratic party for most of his adult life. In recent months, he has tried to wrestle some control away from longtime Democratic dictator Joe Reed. It is practically impossible to understand what is going on in the State Democratic Party. Eventually, there may be a new vote on the party chairmanship. The National Democratic Party has mandated a new election due to the clandestine way that Nancy Worley was elected. The state hierarchy has ignored the National Party.

There is no doubt that Joe Reed is still in control of the Alabama Democratic Party. You can bet your bottom dollar that he calls all the shots. My guess is that he has his horse picked out of the 21 Democratic presidential candidates. He asked California Senator, Kamala Harris, to be the keynote speaker at his Alabama Democratic Conference June annual event. Therefore, Senator Harris might be a good horse to bet on to win next year's March third Alabama Democratic Presidential Primary.

The Democratic Party in Alabama continues to be a big mess. The bottom line is that on the state level the Party is essentially irrelevant. The odds of a Democratic candidate for President carrying Alabama or a Democratic nominee winning any statewide race in the Heart of Dixie is slim to none.

See you next week.

Steve Flowers is Alabama's leading political columnist. His weekly column appears in over 60 Alabama newspapers. He served 16 years in the state legislature. Steve may be reached at www.stevewflowers.us.

The high cost of zoning

The state legislature gave Alabama's public school teachers a 4 percent raise this year. Relaxing zoning and land use laws in America's most productive cities could give us all a similar raise. Zoning illustrates the costs of a permission-based economy.

How do land use regulations in New York or San Francisco affect America? Businesses with new products or new technology can create value for our economy but need to hire workers. While virtual offices are now a possibility, workers still generally need to be on the premises.

A growing economy needs people to move to new jobs. The auto industry's growth in the 20th Century illustrates this. Thousands of families moved to Michigan from states as far away as Alabama and Mississippi. The good paying jobs lifted these families into the middle class, and the workers helped the industry reach its full potential.

The families that moved to the jobs were better off, while affordable cars improved life for Americans. The migration also benefitted those who stayed behind. The departure of some workers to Michigan increased wages for the people remaining in Alabama or Kentucky.

Yet people can move to jobs only if housing is available where industry is thriving. Michigan built homes and apartments to accommodate new workers. Over the past forty years, zoning and land use regulations have largely choked off building in East and West coast cities with thriving industries like finance and high tech. As Harvard University economist Edward Glaeser puts it, the "most productive parts of America [have] stopped adding population" due to regulatory barriers.

Productive industries will pay high salaries to attract people to their jobs. Economic theory tells us that with residential construction limited, house prices and rents will rise to offset high salaries. People choose not to move to the high paying jobs because of high housing costs. Thriving businesses cannot hire all the needed workers, making our economy poorer.

How much poorer? Economists Chang-Tai Hsieh and Enrico Moretti offer an estimate. To do so they use estimates of available land and the stringency of regulatory barriers on construction in 220 U.S. metro areas.

They particularly focus on New York, San Francisco, and San Jose. Between 1964 and 2009, productivity increased dramatically in these cities, indicating the potential to add high paying jobs, and salaries rose. Employment, however, did not increase relative to the economy, and housing prices spiked. Hsieh and Moretti estimate that restrictions on building reduced growth nationally by 36 percent between 1964 and 2009, leading GDP to be 4 percent lower today than otherwise.

News reports put a human face on the housing shortage. Since 1990, California's average household size has increased while declining nationally. High rents - median rent is $2,500 a month in Los Angeles - force people to share space. Adults rent rooms, sleep in bunk beds, and use dividing walls or curtains to break up rooms. One fortunate company, RoomDividersNow, is riding the crest of this "boom."

Unfortunately, many Californians now want government rent control. Legally limiting the maximum rent landlords can charge does nothing to increase the supply of apartments, but that is a topic for another day.

The effects of restricting housing in America's cities are enormous. Thousands of young people have not moved to highly productive cities, arguably reducing opportunities for upward mobility. The inability of people to move to the coasts has depressed salaries in Southern cities like Atlanta, Dallas, and Houston which have built housing to accommodate new residents. The young professionals priced out of New York or San Francisco must compete for jobs in these cities.

How did America arrive at this situation? It is a complicated tale involving largely unintended consequences. Zoning regulates land uses that might cause conflict and nuisance but effectively requires permission from current residents for new construction. Further details will have to wait until next time.

HOROSCOPES

WEEK OF JULY 15, 2019

ARIES (March 21 to April 19) Your Aries leadership qualities can help bring order out of all that confusion, whether it's on the job or in the home. But be careful to guide, not goad, others into following you.
TAURUS (April 20 to May 20) Applying a more personal view to a job-linked issue could help provide better insight into those persistent problems. Use your keen Taurean logic to cut through the double-talk.
GEMINI (May 21 to June 20) Taking some time off could be the best way to get through that seemingly endless round of demands. You'll return refreshed and ready to tackle things from a new perspective.
CANCER (June 21 to July 22) Restoring a sagging professional relationship takes a lot of effort. By all means, state your position. But also make sure you pay close attention to the other person's point of view.

LEO (July 23 to August 22) A hot prospect intrigues the Big Cat, who is always on the prowl for a promising investment. But be careful that this "promise" has a chance of being kept. Check it out more carefully.
VIRGO (August 23 to September 22) A friend could use some of your compassion and concern. If he or she doesn't ask for help, be sure you step up and make the first move. Also, check out a new career possibility.
LIBRA (September 23 to October 22) You might have difficulty getting your opinions heard because of all the noise being made by the other side. But hang in there. Others should line up with you once they learn the facts.
SCORPIO (October 23 to November 21) Offering to help a colleague is commendable. But before you commit your time and effort, check to see if that person's situation is all that he or she has led you to believe it is.
SAGITTARIUS (November

22 to December 21) You soon should be seeing positive results from your recent efforts on behalf of a family member. On another matter, check that you have all the facts regarding a job assignment.
CAPRICORN (December 22 to January 19) Your aspects favor closer family relationships this week. Take time for visits, whether in person, by phone, by mail or in cyberspace. Let them know how important they are to you.
AQUARIUS (January 20 to February 18) A missed opportunity isn't always a negative. Maybe your instincts are telling you not to rush into something you "thought" was worthwhile. Make time for family this weekend.
PISCES (February 19 to March 20) Your sense of humor helps you get through a tricky situation. But some stick-in-the-muds might not be so willing to make the changes that you and others agree are necessary.

Anne Heche, Tom Everett Scott and Philip Baker Hall are also in the talented cast.

"MythBusters Jr."

Original Mythbuster Adam Savage returned to television late last year with this Science Channel series that sees him leading a cast of six of the brightest minds ages 12-15 as they show off their ingenuity in designing, building and fabricating, and testing out theories such as whether it's possible to make things like a jet pack from a fire extinguisher or functioning car tires from duct tape. Yes, there will be plenty of duct tape.

universe of stories. Set in 1927, this 2018 fantasy finds Newt pressed into service with Albus Dumbledore (Jude Law) to track down fugitive wizard Gellert Grindelwald (Johnny Depp), who escaped while being transported to stand trial for multiple misdeeds. The returning Chris Harris gets two new co-hosts in U.K. cricket star Freddie Flintoff and stand-up comic Paddy McGuinness as this venerable series cranks the ignition on its 27th season.

Their first episode together starts with the guys going out and buying budget-friendly replicas of the first cars they owned. To drive-test their purchases, they head to the searing heat of Ethiopia, widely regarded as the birthplace of humankind. Later, back at the track, Chris puts the Ferrari 488 Pista and McLaren 600LT through their paces.

7:30 a.m. on PBS-42
Molly of Denali Premiere

This groundbreaking new animated program marks the first time a Native American character has headlined a national U.S. series for children. The show, a U.S.-Canadian co-production, revolves around Molly Mabray (voice of Sovereign Bill), a 10-year-old Alaska resident whose natural curiosity leads her and her friends to explore the wonders of her state ranging from moose to volcanoes and beyond. She lives with her family at Denali Trading Post, which her family operates. Lorne Cardinal and Ron Harris also are heard.

7 p.m. on NBC-15
American Ninja Warrior

In the new "Los Angeles City Finals," the show returns to California's entertainment capital to kick off the City Finals phase of competition. The contenders will confront up to 10 daunting obstacles, including the new Leaps of Faith. In a twist this season to the City Finals rounds, the two fastest finishers then tackle the new Power Tower for a chance to win a safety pass, which will give the lucky ninja in question a second chance on the course in the event of a fall in the National Finals.

8 p.m. on HBO
Years and Years

In episode 4, Viv Rook (Emma Thompson) becomes prime minister after the coalition government collapses. After Celeste (T'Nia Miller) confronts him about his affair, Stephen (Rory Kinnear) leaves the family home and moves in with Elaine (Rachel Logan). Daniel and Viktor (Russell Tovey, Maxim Baldry) resort to increasingly desperate measures to bring the latter back to the U.K. Meanwhile, Rosie (Ruth Madeley) begins a mobile catering business. Jessica Hynes also stars.

9 p.m. on NGeo
Great Shark Chow Down

At present, climate change and other concerns are causing the global shark population to crash alarmingly, but this new one-hour special features scientists and cinematographers recalling thrilling — not to mention scary — encounters with sharks feeding en masse. Highlights — at least, if you're viewing from the safety of your living room — include a voracious gathering of hundreds of grey reef sharks and other species feeding on thousands of bait fish and, later, more than 200 blue sharks feeding on a whale carcass.

9 p.m. on TLC
Kate Plus Date

The time has come for a nervous Kate Gosselin to pick her second dates in the Season 1 finale, somewhat optimistically titled "We Are the Champions." Matchmakers Rachel and Adam, as always, are there to offer moral support in the run-up, trying to help their client get psyched up and confident, but one date ends with a shocking surprise.

The Lion King: Can You Feel the Love Tonight With Robin Roberts

"The Lion King" has been a beloved 1994 Walt Disney animated classic in that studio's traditional style, a still-running Tony Award-winning Broadway musical and, now, a new computer-animated remake. What has given this story about a lion cub's coming of age such universal and enduring appeal? Host Robin Roberts examines that question in this new one-hour ABC News special, which includes interviews with cast members involved in various "Lion King" incarnations. The hour also includes a previously unreleased scene from the new movie.

Where's the beef? Courtney Rada knows on Food Network's 'Carnivorous'

Courtney Rada is a meat lover of the first order. Growing up in Southern New Jersey, she made mental notes as her professionally trained father prepared sumptuous beef dishes for his family. Decades later, the actress, comedian and presenter puts that knowledge and passion to use in the new Food Network series "Carnivorous."

Premiering Sunday, July 14, the afternoon series finds Rada traveling the country to places such as New York, San Francisco, Nashville and Birmingham, Ala., to find the most delicious and surprising meat dishes, along the way meeting the ranchers, farmers, butchers and chefs behind them.

Some viewers may recognize the half-hour foodie series from its online version of the same title, which currently runs on Food Network's online platform Genius Kitchen, albeit in a shorter form.

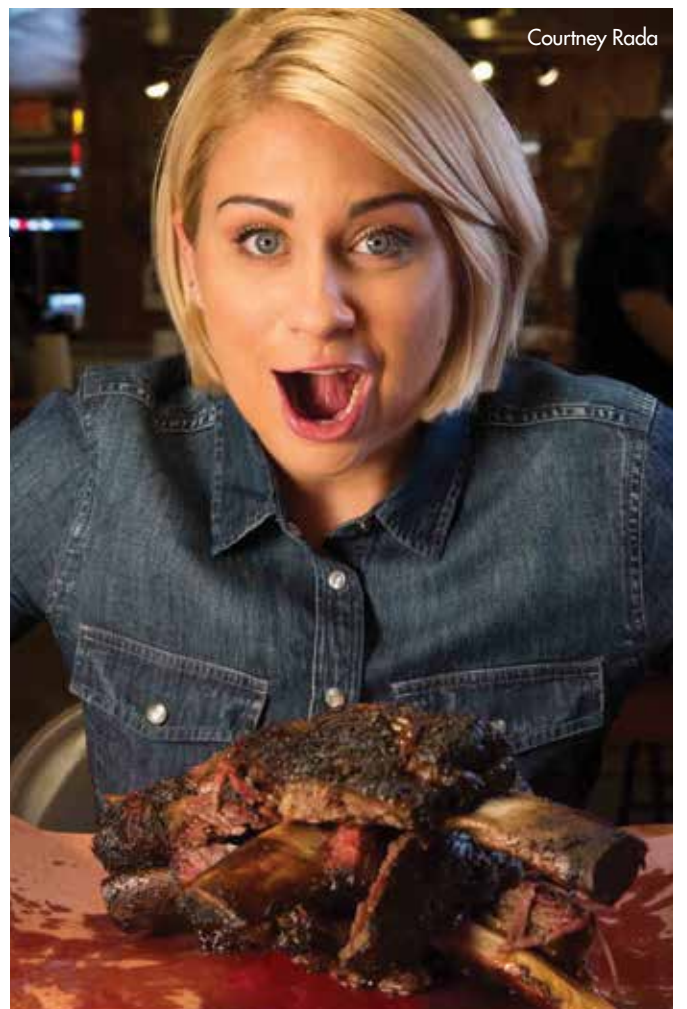

"The cool thing about doing the segments for Food Network," she explains, "is that we're able to get a lot of heavy hitter chefs on who have been willing to kind of throw down and teach me about some of their favorite dishes. So I really enjoyed San Francisco. I worked with Tyler Florence and he showed me his famous fried chicken, which is another thing that I continually think about. Some

New York chefs, Josh Capon, Angie Mar. Maneet Chauhan in Nashville, which was kind of dope because we got to see a different side of Nashville and the Indian cuisine element that was completely unexpected."

"When I was younger, lamb used to not be my go-to choice because of the gaminess," she says. "But man, I wish that I had Maneet's lamb chops when I first was introduced to lamb because it would be my favorite dish."

Another city that surprised Rada was Birmingham. "I think what impressed me was their creativity," she says, "and their willingness to sort of make a statement and push boundaries with their super-fresh ingredients. They're just kind of pushing boundaries in a way that I haven't seen in any other food city. And I think they don't really have a singular cuisine that they're kind of known for so everyone has their own staple and their own way of throwing down and bringing it to the table. So I think I just enjoyed that one little city can have so many different varieties of cuisine, just like anywhere really but you really saw them pushing the envelope there."

7 p.m. on FREE grown-ish

A frustrated Zoey, Ana and Nomi (Yara Shahidi, Francia Raisa, Emily Arlook) have the shared epiphany that they've been far too kind and tolerant to their significant others, even when that has come at a stiff cost to themselves, in a new episode called "Nice for What." Each of them plucks up the courage to take a stand for her own happiness, although that resolve leads to some changes in their relationships.

8 p.m. on ABC-3 Card Sharks

Host Joel McHale welcomes a fresh slate of contestants to this hit game show where the turn of a single playing card holds the power to turn a player into either a winner or a loser. Those playing tonight include Miki Mootsey of St. Petersburg, Fla.; Chantelle Winchester of New Orleans; and Sherice Smith and Gary Hogans, both of Los Angeles.

8 p.m. on CW-55 Jane The Virgin

Jane's (Gina Rodriguez) editor suggests a decidedly dark twist for her book, prompting Jane to wonder whether the idea might be based on one of the other woman's actual experiences in the new episode "Chapter Ninety-Seven." While Rogelio (Jaime Camil) is helping River (guest star Brooke Shields) bond with her daughter, River makes things difficult for him yet again.

8 p.m. on USA Suits

This long-running legal dramedy opens its ninth and final season, which finds Harvey and Donna (Gabriel Macht, Sarah Rafferty) trying to balance their new relationship with efforts to salvage their law firm, which took a hit last season when Robert Zane (Wendell Pierce) sacrificed himself to the bar association to save Harvey. Rick Hoffman, Dulé Hill, Katherine Heigl and Amanda Schull also return to their familiar series roles; original cast member Patrick

J. Adams, who sat out Season 8, returns as Mike Ross in a midseason guest appearance.

9 p.m. on ABC-3 Match Game

Host Alec Baldwin welcomes a new slate of celebrities to join in the fill-in-the-blanks fun, including actor and comic Mario Cantone ("Sex and the City"), Raven-Symoné ("Raven's House"), Hasan Minhaj ("Patriot Act With Hasan Minhaj"), actress and comic Caroline Rhea, Las Vegas entertainer Wayne Newton and actress Sandra Bernhard ("Pose").

Tom Brittney

OF 'GRANTCHESTER ON MASTERPIECE' ON PBS

In joining "Grantchester on Masterpiece" as Reverend Will Davenport for Season 4, your episodes already have aired in England. What did you find the response to you to be there?

The feedback was excellent. I know that people say, "Stay away from Twitter," and all that kind of stuff ... but I did have a look. This is my biggest job. I wanted to see what people thought. And you know what? Luckily, I had nothing but good feedback.

I was so desperate for people to like Will, like he wants people to like him. It's the same. It's life replicating art. And luckily, so far, it's been really, really lovely. And I only have the writers to thank for making that transition so organic and easy.

How do you feel about succeeding another actor and character well-known to the program's audience?

If you just took (former star) James Norton and made him leave and then it was like, "Boom! This is the new guy," people would've been angry. But they've done it over the course of a few episodes and doing it that way, I think, just eases (you) in.

You start to see me a little bit and realize that taking James Norton away doesn't make "Grantchester" not be "Grantchester" anymore. It still retains everything that makes it so wonderful.

Robson Green continues as "Grantchester" detective Geordie. How have your dealings with him been?

Meeting him at the chemistry test before I got the job, he just came up to me and gave me a big handshake: "Yeah, I'm Robson." And I was like, "Yeah, I know. You're TV's Robson Green." He was wonderful, and he became and is a really, really close friend of mine. And hopefully, that chemistry translates to the screen as much as it did with James and him.

Kelly Reilly

OF 'YELLOWSTONE' ON PARAMOUNT NETWORK

Playing a damaged soul like Beth has to be a treasure trove for an actor, no?

Yes. Absolutely, that's exactly what it is. It's the possibilities of sort of her personality, her emotions and her psyche, it really is a powerful character. Everyone talks about strong female characters; what I'm interested in are real female characters, you know, flaws and all, not just these perfect role models. But I like that she has these different colors. There is this strength and power to her but also this sort of brokenness inside as well, that she's trying to figure out. And she has deep loyalties to her father and to Rip, and so there's a tremendous amount of dignity. So it's these contrasting traits in her that really start to make her sing as a character.

How is her relationship with her father John (played by Kevin Costner) this season?

She's sort of the person who can't stand the ranch the most but it's most loyal soldier fighting for it. And you know, it's an interesting relationship with her father because she doesn't let him off the hook with anything. She's sort of says it as it is and there's some things that she disagrees with him on in Season 2 that they have to navigate and it's not always an easy ride for either one of them. But yeah, she'll do whatever it takes with him. She sees him for who he is and loves him despite some of the things she feels about him and it's a really rich relationship. I've never seen a father/daughter relationship quite like this in anything before and it's great to work with Kevin, obviously, and to explore that dynamic together. There's such tremendous love but it's just she gets under his skin some times in that way family members can only do.

BEST MOON MOVIES

"A Trip to the Moon" (1902) Considering the Wright Brothers wouldn't take flight for another year, this film could be considered well ahead of its time - in terms of both technical achievements and subject matter. It's loosely based on works by Jules Verne and H.G. Wells, and is about a group of astronomers in a capsule shot out of a cannon toward the moon. Although Georges Melies' 14-minute short film featured very rudimentary special effects and animation, the movie is campy fun. "Countdown" (1967) The space race was in full swing when Robert Altman helmed this underrated drama about an American astronaut hastily launched toward the moon so he - and his country - can get there before the Russians. James Caan plays the astronaut in question, who must rendezvous with a space shelter if he is to survive. The surprisingly impressive cast includes Robert Duvall, Ted Knight, Joanna Moore and an uncredited Mike Farrell. "The Right Stuff" (1983) The U.S. space program, from Chuck Yeager's breaking of the sound barrier in 1947 to the Mercury 7 project and President Kennedy's proclamation to send astronauts to the moon by the end of the 1960s, is at the center of Philip Kaufman's superb historical drama. There's lots of space minutia to absorb here, from the lives of the astronauts in the early days to history-making missions such as John Glenn's (Ed Harris) orbit of Earth in the unpredictable Mercury-Atlas

6 spacecraft in 1962. All in all a rousing tribute to space exploration. "Apollo 13" (1995) While no one actually lands on the moon, it figures heavily in the storyline of Ron Howard's 1995 classic. Jim Lovell, Fred Haise and Jack Swigert (Tom Hanks, Bill Paxton, Kevin Bacon) are headed there on Apollo 13 when an explosion of an on-board oxygen tank cripples the ship and severely compromises their air supply. Much problem solving ensues as NASA works around the clock to bring the astronauts back alive while their friends, colleagues and family sweat it out on the ground. And look carefully at the end of the film. That's the real Lovell as an aircraft carrier commander, shaking hands with Hanks' Lovell following splashdown.
