LOXLEY — The town of Loxley celebrated its founders with a day full of events on Saturday, Nov. 9.

The day began with the dedication of two historic markers on Alabama 59, one commemorating the founding of the town located at Loxley Municipal Park; while the other, located north of Interstate 10, commemorating the Loxley POW Camp.

Officials with the town, Baldwin County Commission and Baldwin County Historic Development Commission, attended the dedications. The POW Camp dedication also included veterans from the town.

The ceremonies were followed by a program at the Loxley Civic Center, which featured a slide-show presentation, several booths and displays featuring Loxley's history, the AL200 Quilt and Ruth Elder of Troy University with the Wade Hall Postcard Exhibit.

ROSINTON — Rosinton School will celebrate its 100th anniversary with a celebration from 3 to 5 p.m. on Saturday, Jan. 16 at the school, 19757 County Road 64, Robertsdale.

"We want the entire community to come out and celebrate with us," said the school's principal Andy Benton. "This school was built by the community and many of the activities in the community still revolve around the school We want this to be a celebration for the entire community."

Rosinton School was first built in 1919 with two classrooms and a library with Lillian Kennedy as its first principal. It was the consolidation of three small schools: Antioch, Rosinton and Wilcox. It was the first in the county to be built on the "State Aid Plan."

The first school had two teachers with an enrollment of 140 students in grades first through 10th grade. In 1921, a third teacher was added and in 1923, two more classrooms were built and a fourth teachers was added. At the same time, Holinger and Styx River schools were also consolidated.

As autumn brings cooler temperatures to Alabama, it looks as if summer heat is on the way out. Pleasant weather has drawn many southern gardeners out to make lawn and garden updates.

Whether it is general maintenance — like pruning branches — or raking fallen leaves for compost piles, Alabama Extension regional home grounds, gardens, and home pests agent, Mallory Kelley shares some tips for homeowners and gardeners.

Pruning

"When pruning, remember you will be choosing the point at which new growth will come from next spring," Kelley said. "For a more natural look in the landscape, reach down in the canopy of the shrub to a branch junction before making a cut."

Kelley said this will give the plant a more natural look, but also create less work for the gardener through the seasons.

Gardeners who pre-

Fall: Time for a garden refresh

fer a more formal look will be sheering more often. In this case, Kelley said homeowners should keep the top of the shrub more narrow than the base. Avoid allowing the top to become like a mushroom because it will shade out growth near the ground and cause those branches to stop growing. This creates a leggy appearance.

Kelley suggests contacting a professional if there are large trees dropping major limbs in the yard. Take care of the problem before it comes crashing down on the house or yard.

Mulch

According to Kelly, mulch is a gardener's best friend. There are many materials that people can use to mulch a landscape. With leaves already falling, they would be a readily available material to

"Maybe you will rake those leaves to start a new compost pile to amend the soil with later, or maybe you will rake them into garden beds now instead of hauling them to the curb for pickup," Kelly said.

Mulch will help insulate roots this winter and break down to add nutrients to the soil. Most importantly, the leaves will suppress weeds — alleviating the need to spray or handpull.

"When adding new mulch, I personally like to let all of the leaves drop from the trees first, so that the fresh layer of pine straw or pine bark doesn't get covered up with messy leaves," she said. "Since fall is the best time to plant new trees and shrubs, the new mulch will help keep moisture consistent as they get established."

Kelly reminds gardeners when mulching annual bedding plants, always put the mulch down before planting pansies, snap dragons or ornamental cabbages. Pulling back the mulch to plant transplants will be easier than planting the bed and coming back to place pine straw around each transplant without causing damage.

Find out more information about mulching in Alabama Extension's publication Mulches for the Home Landscape.

Adding New Plants

Kelley said it is important to prepare the soil in flower beds with fresh compost and slow-release fertilizer at planting.

"Annuals are heavy feeders and the new transplants will need some additional nutrients added in order for them to thrive," Kelly

She also advises plant identification before pulling on pesky vines.

"It's always a good idea to wear long sleeves and gloves when working in the yard, but especially with poisonous vines," she said.

As water temperatures cool into the 60s (and occasionally into the 50s) during this time of year, our local fish species that hang out most of the year (redfish, speckled trout, white trout, whiting and flounder) often suffer a case of lockjaw. Alzheimer's patient crashes vehicle into Peachtree Professional Center in Foley

STAFF REPORT

FOLEY — On the evening of Tuesday, Nov. 12, an Alzheimer's patient who had been reported missing by his family drove a vehicle into the Peachtree Professional Center off of Highway 59 in Foley.

The patient's family had reported him misstelling the Foley Police Department he had taken a car he was not supposed to drive. The family also reported a gun missing from the home, which they believed the man had taken as well.

A Foley officer spotted the car and began following behind with ing earlier that evening, no lights flashing. The man spotted the officer pursuing him, when he took off through the intersection. The officer switched on his lights and attempted to stop the man. The man then swerved off the road and crashed into the building. The building was vacant at the time, and there are no known injuries. The man was coherent at the scene and talked with officers. He was given medical attention at the scene.

Emergency personnel inspected the building the night of the incident to ensure safety, and crews began work the following morning to repair damages.

Robertsdale man dies in head-on collision with an 18-wheeler

LOXLEY — A Robertsdale man was killed in a head-on collision with an 18-wheeler Monday afternoon, Nov. 11 in Loxley.

Emmett McNider II, 40, of Robertsdale was driving southbound on Alabama 59 when he crossed the center turn lane and collided headon with an 18-wheeler just north of Hinote Glass Road, said Lt. Doug Phillips with the Loxley Police Department.

McNider was pronounced dead at the scene. The driver of the 18-wheeler, who has not been identified, was uninjured, Phillips said.

This is the fourth fatality involving 18-wheelers reported in the area within the last week.

Two motorcyclists and an Escambia County, Florida, firefighter lost their lives in separate crashes Tuesday night and early Wednesday morning, Nov. 5 and 6 in central and north Baldwin County.

On Nov. 5, an Elberta man was killed in a collision involving an SUV and a motorcycle on the Beach Express near Interstate 10.

Then, in the early morning hours of Nov. 6, a Pensacola man was killed in a collision with a tractor-trailer on County Road 112 near the Florida state line. An Escambia County, Florida, firefighter also lost his life when another tractor-trailer rig crashed into the scene.

The Loxley Police Department is investigating the Nov. 11 crash while the other fatal crashes are being invested by ALEA State Troopers.

is one step closer to a freestanding emergency department.

During the rescheduled regular council meeting Nov. 12, the city council approved a resolution to authorize the execution of a ground lease with Foley Hospital Corporation, which is South Baldwin Regional Medical Center. and is owned by their parent company Community Health Systems.

This lease is to establish a free-standing emergency department on city property commonly referred to as "the 11 acres" the city owns just west of the airport and east of Hwy 59. The lease agreement will provide up to six acres to South Baldwin Regional Medical Center to establish the freestanding emergency department.

A freestanding emergency department provides the same level of care as a hospital emergency room and is open 24 hours a day, seven days a week, 365 days a year. Facilities are staffed by emergency trained physicians and are able to receive ground and air transport. Additionally, advance services such as X-ray, ultrasound, diagnostic services and advance lab testing are available.

The Gulf Shores facility plans call for a 13,387 sq. ft. building with eight exam rooms, triage, imaging services, lab services, on-site pharmacy and patient and staff support areas and helipad. The total projected cost is $15.2 million with $10.2 million of that amounting to construction costs. The remaining amount will be used to purchase medical equipment.

The future economic development of this project will bring 40-50 full-time jobs in health care to the community.

This was walked onto the agenda because the Certificate of Need hearing is Nov. 20 in Montgomery. Certificate of Need (CON) programs are aimed at restraining health care facility costs and facilitating coordinated planning of new services and facility construction.

"We wanted to make sure this lease was in place so South Baldwin Regional Medical could have everything buttoned up and had everything to proceed to that hearing and hopefully obtain that CON Nov. 20 and move forward with this project. If the CON is obtained construction is projected to begin in the Fall of 2020 with completion Fall 2021," said Blake Phelps, City of Gulf Shores economic development coordina-

"It was around 15 years ago we met to start talking about this project and it's taken a long time. Everyone here needs to know it was not just hours, but days, weeks and years have been spent to get us to this point to where I think we finally have the ability to create a first-class emergency facility in our community. It will become somewhat of an anchor facility that I think will expand to other health care facilities and services on this site," said Dr. Gaylon McCollough, member of the Gulf Shores Healthcare Authority.

McCollough continued, "The extension of the dream the Healthcare Authority has had is for us to develop our own health care campus in Gulf Shores. We need it for our permanent residents and our guests and it's going to make this a desirable place. When people look around to see where they are going to settle in or retire, health care is high on the list and education is right there with it. We have already made great strides with our city school system. This is the next step to getting us to be a community that is going to be desirable to people around the world."

When the floor was opened to questions or comment from the community only one resident had a question regarding the level of trauma the facility will be able to handle and if patients would still have to go to Mobile or Pensacola. Councilman Dr. Jason Dyken fielded the question.

"There are different levels of trauma and the facility will be rated but if it's a major trauma the only level one trauma center. I believe, is South Alabama. I don't know what level our center will be, but it should be able to handle a large percentage of traumatic injuries that occur in our community," Dyken said.

Traffic improvements planned in Summerdale

By GUY BUSBY

guy@gulfcoastmedia.com

ROBERTSDALE — County, state and town transportation officials are working on improvements to make two intersections on Alabama 59 in Summerdale safer, but County Commissioners questioned if the work would set a precedent.

The Alabama Department of Transportation plans to install a traffic light at the intersection of Baldwin County 28 and Alabama 59 in Summerdale. The department will also make improvements to the intersection of Baldwin County 71 and Alabama 59 to the north of Baldwin 28.

The signal light will cost $209,402, according to state estimates. The cost would be split between ALDOT and the county. The town of Summerdale has agreed to pay $75,000 of the Baldwin's $104,701 share of the price of the light, Joey Nunnally, county engineer, said at the County Commission work session Tuesday.

After the light is installed, the state proposal calls for Baldwin County to maintain the signal.

Three of the four corners of the intersection are in the Summerdale town limits. Some County Commissioners questioned the county taking full responsibility for maintenance.

"I'm thinking that we could talk and have further discussion and it would not be unfair to ask the town of Summerdale to contribute some of the maintenance costs instead of it falling all on the county," Commissioner Jeb Ball said.

Commissioner Joe Davis said he was concerned that the county's action could lead to other commitments in other areas.

"I think we need to be cautious about setting a precedent because it could then become the basis for other arrangements," Davis said.

Commission Chairwoman Billie Jo Underwood said Wednesday that the town of Summerdale agreed Tuesday night to maintain the signal. She said the county does maintain traffic signals where parts of the intersections are within municipal limits. She said the light at the Baldwin Beach Express and Baldwin County 32 is maintained by the county, but part of the property at the intersection is in Summerdale.

Nunnally said the county also maintains other traffic signals where parts of the intersections are in corporate limits, such as Baldwin County 34 and Greeno Road in Fairhope. In some instances, municipalities do pay to maintain signals if the city or town had requested the light.

Underwood said the light at Baldwin County 28 was requested by Snook Christian School. She said the Snook Foundation, which supports the school, paid the $75,000 that Summerdale contributed toward the project.

Commissioner Charles "Skip" Gruber said municipalities should support traffic improvements in their corporate limits, but the light is needed no matter who has to pay for it.

"This project needs to go forward and whether they do or not, if they say no, we've still got to do it," Gruber said.

The state will pay for the improvements to the turn lanes and other work at Baldwin County 71 and Alabama 59, Nunnally said. The estimated cost of that project is $105,058, according to state reports.

Underwood said those improvements will help traffic safety on the highway

"This is a very dangerous intersection," she said.

through the years before a new school was built a half-mile down the road in 1999.

"In the 1980s there was talk of consolidating Rosinton School and Elsanor School," said lifelong Rosinton resident F.B. Ellison. "After Elsanor School burned and it was agreed that a new school would be built in Elsanor, the School Board wanted to move students from Rosinton into the new Elsanor School."

A meeting was held at Rosinton School and the building was filled to capacity with concerned residents, asking to keep the school in Rosinton.

"Shortly thereafter, it was decided that we

A lifelong resident of Rosinton, Ellison attended the school from 1938 to 1946. Today, his great-grandchildren attend the school, making five generations if you count the fact that his mother also attended.

"This school has been a part of the community my whole life," Ellison said, recounting how his family boarded teachers in the early days of the school.

The new school was built on property donated by the Cooper family, said Ellison's daughter, Dawn Hopper.

"There are so many families who have contributed to this school through the years," she said. "It's not just about our family, it's about the entire community."

Today, the school includes about 300 students. With the addition of Benton, who became the school's principal following the retirement of Theresa Hardin in 2013, the school's page on the Baldwin County Board of Education website lists 40 faculty and staff.

"We are still a small school and our No. 1 goal is to serve the Rosinton community," he said.

Benton said anyone who has old photographs or stories about the early days of the school is welcome to attend.

"We are particularly looking for former principals and faculty, along with their families," he said. There will also be free food and games, set up in the playground area behind the school.

Helping children around the world

Baptist Church Child Development Center in Bay Minette spent a recent morning packing goodies in shoeboxes for Operation Christmas Child. After the boxes were filled, the children prayed over each one and asked God's blessings on these boxes and the children who will receive them.

The full shoeboxes will be delivered to one of the local drop-off locations to be sent out as part of Operation Christmas Child. OCC is

Some students at First a project of Samaritan's Purse, an international Christian relief and evangelism organization.

> Since 1993, Operation Christmas Child has collected and delivered more than 135 million gift-filled shoeboxes to children in more than 150 countries and territories. For many of these children, the gift-filled shoebox is the first gift they have ever received.

For the love of dance Coastal Ballet holiday performances

By ALLISON MARLOW allisonm@gulfcoastmedia.com

When tiny Taliyah Scott-Kent leaps across the stage she is a glittering, glistening snowflake. This is not the first performance of the Nutcracker that the 7-yearold Foley Elementary student has danced. However, the sparkling, flowing snowflake costume may in fact, be her favorite.

"It makes me feel so happy. It makes me want to play outside," she said.

For artistic director Madame Rio Cordy, the little girl's excitement on stage is part of the goal at Coastal Ballet, in Foley.

"It is very important to expect my children to be the best they can be," Cordy said. "If they believe it, they can achieve it. This gives them good tools for life.

"The most important thing is, I give them responsibility. Once they have more self-confidence they are willing to try things that might be a stretch," Cordy said.

"Once these children realize they have potential, they're hungry. They want to go forward," she said.

Cordy opened Coastal Ballet in 2008 after building a professional dancing career that led her to the Royal Academy of Dance in London, The Julliard School in New York, and Miami where she served as both dancer and instructor at the Miami Ballet and the renowned Thomas Armour Youth Ballet.

In Alabama she was instructor, Ballet Mistress and event coordinator for the Alabama Ballet.

She has helped train and launch the careers of Baldwin County dancers who have headed to stages in New York, Russia and beyond. She also has helped children who never plan to pursue dancing professionally believe in themselves.

Coastal Ballet is a non-profit organization, meaning much of the staff is volunteers.

Cordy works with children who are hearing impaired who dance to the beat they feel rather than the beat they hear. She works with children who suffer heart conditions and need to build up their stamina and heart muscle. She works with stroke victims who use dance to improve their balance. Some of her students have handicaps that can't be seen.

"They have a sense of community here, our studio is very loving," Cordy said. Her legion of volunteers helps to ferry the dancers to community events at retirement homes, churches and the

There the students put on semi-professional shows, complete with costume mistress, hair and make-up artists and other professional touches.

Cordy said her instructors also are often licensed in Reiki.

'It teaches people how to communicate with the body in a gentle way," Cordy said. "We want to work in a way they will remember corrections. I get very small and very quiet and I like teachers

Celebrate the season with Legends in Concert's Holiday Show at OWA Theater

Submitted

FOLEY — Las Vegas' longest running and most-awarded tribute show has a lot to celebrate this holiday season, as they launch their first Holiday show at its newest theater in Foley. Legends in Concert opened its doors at OWA in June to be met with excitement and enthusiastic crowds at its shows six nights a week. As the fall cast head out, the holiday lineup of performers begins on November 19.

The first annual Holiday show at OWA Theater will pay tribute to Tony Bennett,

Dolly Parton, Lady Gaga, Blues Brothers and George Michael. Just as the Radio City Rockettes have become synonymous with the holiday season in New York City, the annual Holiday show at Legends in Concert has become part of the season's celebrations in locations around the country. A dynamic blockbuster opening number begins the festivities with Brian Setzer Orchestra's rendition of "Jingle Bells." For the big finale, the entire cast will perform "The Most Wonderful Time of the Year" and the Legends band brings music memories to life with a sensational tribute to the Trans-Siberian Orchestra's "Christmas Eve in Sarajevo" ("Carol of the Bells") that brings the magic of the season to Foley.

"We are thrilled to launch the first-ever holiday version of our show in coastal Alabama, and look forward to it becoming a tradition for families visiting the region as well as for our amazingly supportive locals," said Brian Brigner, Chief Operating Officer of Legends in Concert. "The show will feature signature hits from the stars that made them legendary, and holiday songs they recorded during their illustrious careers."

Carmen Romano will share "The Good Life" with his classic portrayal of the timeless Tony Bennett, and will also serve as the host of the evening. Michael Knight brings his "Careless Whisper" to the OWA stage as George Michael, and have "Faith" he will perform his 80's mega-hit "Last Christmas." Sandy Anderson will be working more than "9 to 5" with an uncanny performance as Dolly Parton, and will certainly show up with "Hard Candy Christmas" in her stocking. Lady Gaga, presented by the dynamic Erika Moul, will give you a "Million Reasons" why you should see the Christmas show and will share a special duet with Mr. Bennett as a gift. And lastly, The Blues Brothers, portrayed by Romano and his partner Russ Peterson, will turn Sweet Home Alabama into "Sweet Home Chicago" with their comedic antics and Rhythm and Blues tribute.

This very special holiday production at Legends in Concert begins Nov. 19 and continues through Dec. 31. Legends in Concert will perform Tuesday through Saturday at 7:30 p.m. with additional matinee shows available at 4 p.m. on Saturday and Sunday. Adult tickets are on sale for $34.95 (+taxes/fees) and Child (ages 4-12) tickets starting at $17.95 (+taxes/fees). Legends in Concert also offers discounted Military tickets for $27.95 (+taxes/fees). VIP balcony section and preferred seating will also be available.

Blakeley to host artist workshop focusing on nature

Historic Blakeley State teur and Park invites you to join us for a special workshop focusing on our amazing natural environment from 9 to 11 a.m. on Saturday, Nov. 23.

This short, interactive program will help ama-aspiring artists develop their drawing skills and encourage guests to venture into the forest where their own new discoveries await. The workshop will draw on easily-overlooked botanical jewels such as mushrooms and wildflowers as inspiration for the hobby of nature journaling.

Our instructor, Nancy Milford, is a Baldwin County girl through and through. She has a passion for Alabama flora and fauna which led her to study biology at the University of South Alabama. She later pursued a career as an engineer, but re-connected with nature and began to explore her more creative side by drawing and painting wildlife. Nancy is a self-taught artist, but continues to attend workshops to polish her craft. She is a member of the Mobile Arts Council and the American Society of Botanical Artists.

The workshop is complimentary with regular park admission. No

Open enrollment season tips

Submitted

It's that time of year again! That's right Alabamans can start enrolling for health care at www.healthcare.gov.

According to a new Health and Human Services report, people can find even more affordable plans this year than in years past. For the last two years, over 4 million uninsured people have been eligible for plans with $0 monthly premiums thanks to financial help.

Interview Requests: National spokespeople-including former Obama Health and Human Services Officials and Get America Covered Co-Founder Joshua Peck--are available for interviews about Open Enrollment and to answer questions your audience may have.

5 Vital Facts About Signing Up For Coverage at HealthCare.gov:

- 1: Sign up by Dec. 15. Open Enrollment starts on Nov. 1 but you must take action by Dec. 15, no matter if this is your first time getting covered or if you are returning to shop and save.
- 2: Coverage could be cheaper than you think. Last year, 9 in 10 people qualified for financial help to make their monthly premiums more affordable. In fact, 2 out of 3 Health-Care.gov customers can find a plan for $10 or less this year.
- 3: Shop and save. If you had coverage through HealthCare.gov for 2019, you should come back to update your information and compare your options for 2020. Every year, plans and prices change, you could save money by switching to a new plan that still meets your needs.
- 4. Accidents happen: Health insurance protects you from the unexpected. Accidents happen and people get sick.
- 5: Free help is available. If you have questions about signing up or want to talk through your options with a trained professional, free help is just a call or quick away. Call 1-800-318-2596, visit localhelp.healthcare.gov or make a one-on-one appointment now.

Coastal South men complete sweep of Pensacola State 87-54

By TONY WHITEHEAD

tony@gulfcoastmedia.com

BAY MINETTE — Manny Patrick and Jamerious Anderson led the Sun Chiefs to their third-straight win with an 87-54 mark over Pensacola State at Jack Robertson Arena Tuesday. It was their second victory of the season over the Pirates as Coastal South improved to 3-0 in November and 4-1 overall.

Patrick, out of McGill-Toolen Catholic was hot early and often with pullup 3-pointers and Anderson (Baldwin County High) scored inside and out with big help from Justin Anderson, Melvin Baker, Lue Williams and more. (Individual stats were not available for this edition – visit ACCCAAthletics.com).

Defensively the Chiefs shipwrecked the Pirates' inside game and harassed the perimeter shooters all night. But at PSC last week, the Chiefs took game one 102-62 despite being down 30 points at the half.

Head coach Robby Robertson said his team played well knowing the Pirates are much better that the score reflects.

"Hats off to our guys for sticking with the game plan and defending so well all night. I was glad to see that we took it to them early and didn't let them build a lead," he said. "We balanced the inside and outside on offense well and did a good job defensively most of the game."

He said smart defense was a big key to the outcome.

"They (the Pirates) are one of the best freethrow-shooting teams around at about 80 percent, so we made it a key point to guard, but not foul. And I was pleased to see we only had one on us in the second half. Discipline was big part of tonight's approach and I don't remember the last time I've seen a college basketball game with just one team foul in a half. So, credit the guys for keeping (the Pirates) off the line."

The Chiefs host Snead State tonight (Nov. 13) at Robertson Arena (Visit ACCCAAthletics.com for schedule/times updates or changes). They close out November on the road at LaGrange Nov. 18 and at Talladega Nov. 21. League play starts in

Toros look to avenge earlier playoff losses against Indians

Week 1 of the 2019 High School Football playoffs have come with some thrilling matchups and shocking upsets. Park Crossing's (4-7) 30-27 victory over the Sara-MICHAEL HANICH land Spartans (10-1) will be one of the most shocking upsets in high school football in the state of Alabama. The Spanish Fort Toros (6-4; 5-3 in region play) are looking to continue their journey in the playoffs against a familiar opponent. The Toros will travel to face the Wetumpka Indians (6-5) in the playoffs for the third time in a row.

Sports

In those past two games in the playoffs against the Indians, the Toros have had their playoff journey shortened. The Toros are looking for revenge against Wetumpka as they look to advance further into the playoffs. Spanish Fort is coming off a 28-21 victory over the Dothan Wolves in the first round last Friday.

The Toros are averaging 28.3 points per game but it is their defense is the stronghold of their team as they allow only 19.5 points per game. The Indians have suffered a small setback by not finding a win streak throughout the season. Wetumpka's offense averages 32.3 points per game and their defense averages 30.3 points per

For the Toros to get revenge on the Indians and advance in the third round of the playoffs, their reliable offensive line must be stable in their blocks. Their dynamic running offense is hard to read defensively. If the offensive line creates great push for dual-threat quarterback

Kris Abrams-Draine and running back Chico Hixon, then they will find themselves scoring consistently.

Defensively, the Toros' secondary must be consistent against this potential high-power Indians offense. They cannot allow the easy plays to come alive for the Indians offense. This means being tight in coverage, consistent pressure, and keeping the quarterback in the pocket.

Kickoff in Wetumpka is set for 7 p.m.

Support your community, shop local this holiday

It's beginning to feel a lot like Christmas as a cold front sweeps across the region this week. Has it put you in the mood to begin checking off your holiday shopping list? If so, indulge yourself in the small town, holiday splendors of shopping in Baldwin County. Sure, it's easy to jump online to Amazon and other retailers during lunch break or while you are waiting in the school carline. But you would miss the joy of reveling in the creative holiday décor that our merchants have poured their hearts into in order to turn our downtown areas into winter wonderlands. You would miss amazing hand-crafted items and delicious locally produced desserts. You might even find the perfect gift for the toughest person on your list in a locally owned shop where every item is one of a kind. You would also miss the opportunity to support your neighbors, friends and community. When we buy local we support artists, we support the families in our schools and in our neighborhoods. Shopping locally supports business owners who live in Baldwin County. When we shop locally we keep our community's money in our community supporting the charm and personal touch out of our towns.

This holiday pick a day to wander into one of Baldwin County's festooned downtowns. Talk to the merchants. Shop their wares. Enjoy living in a place where our community supports each other and raises each other up. Tis the season.

State Legislature not very good stepping stone

Early speculation on the 2020 U.S. Senate race had state senator, Del Marsh, listed as a potential GOP aspirant. He had considered making a plunge into the Special Election contest for Jeff Sessions' seat in 2017 but opted out.

Most astute observers never thought he would ultimately pull the trigger then, or this year. Unlike others, who have run and won statewide, Marsh is essentially unknown outside of the Capitol and is known only around his Anniston state senate district. His best asset was probably that he had his own money to spend rather than his state senate influence.

His name appeared on a Mason-Dixon poll conducted in April with other potential candidates, including Roy Moore, Bradley Byrne, Mo Brooks and Gary Palmer. The name identification of these four ranged from 90 percent for Moore to 40 percent for Palmer. Marsh had three percent name identification. Soon after, he said that he was not going to run.

It was a wise decision. He could not have won and if he could he would not be as powerful as he is in his current position. As President Pro Tem of the Alabama State Senate, he is very influential. In fact, he has more influence over public policy in his current post than he would as a Freshman U.S. Senator, especially a 64-year old freshman.

Senator Marsh's abysmal name identification number is no surprise. My observation over the years is that legislators and state senators, regardless of how powerful they are in Montgomery, are unknown statewide.

The bottom line is the Legislature is not a good stepping stone to higher elected office, especially the U.S. Senate.

A very similar scenario to Marsh's occurred years ago. Then Speaker of the House, Seth Hammett of Andalusia, was contemplating running for governor. Like Marsh, Seth's role as Speaker made him the most powerful of all 140 House and Senate members. Seth was well liked and very respected among his legislative colleagues. He was and still is beloved in his native Covington County.

Well, Seth's first due diligence was to conduct a Benchmark poll. He commissioned one of the best pollsters in the south and awaited the results. When it came back, the mild mannered, respected Speaker of the Alabama House had three percent name identification. Seth's potential opponent, Lt. Governor Lucy Baxley, had 78 percent name ID. Seth chose not to run for governor but remain as Speaker.

My good friend, Mac McArthur, has been the head of the Alabama
State Employees Association for over two decades.
Not many folks know
this, but Mac is a lawyer and was a prosecutor as a young man. He also was Director of the State Ethics Commission for a few years before moving to his current post at ASEA.

Ole Mac had political aspirations as a young prosecutor. He really wanted to be Attorney General of Alabama. While he was Ethics Chairman he was planning to run for Attorney General. Like Seth, Mac's first step was to get a Benchmark name identification poll. He hired the best pollster in the state. Mac was confident that he had some significant name identification because he had just gotten some good statewide publicity for some highprofile prosecutions as Ethics Chairman.

The pollster called Mac soon after the poll and said, "Come on over." Mac rushed over to his office and anxiously awaited the results. His pollster began by telling Mac he had good news. Mac you have almost six percent statewide name identification. Mac's despondent reply was, "The only thing good I see in that is I can run through Winn Dixie butt naked and nobody will know who I am."

Alabama's greatest and most legendary political icon, George C. Wallace, knew the importance of name identification. During Wallace's early years the place to stay for all legislators and powerbrokers was the old Exchange Hotel in downtown Montgomery. Wallace would of course stay there during the legislative sessions as a young legislator from Barbour County. It was a hotbed of politics and many a political deal was consummated on the premises of the Exchange. Wallace would pay the Bellhop a tip every day to walk through the lobby and sing out loudly, "George Wallace, calling George Wallace."

Wallace would use the same gimmick at the University of Alabama football games in the Fall. He would get the PA announcer to call out his name, "Calling George Wallace." Name identification is a vital ingredient for success in politics. The Master of Alabama politics knew this fact of political life.

See you next week.

A cutting comment you might think is apt right now will leave others hurting for a long time to come. LEO (July 23 to August 22) Be more sensitive to the emotions of loved ones who might feel left out while you're stalking that new opportunity. Be sure to make it up to them this weekend. A nice surprise could be Still, if it's what you want to do, you'll find a way. Good luck. It's a parade of confections on 'Macy's Thanksgiving Cake Spectacular'

Maureen McCormick has never been to the Macy's Thanksgiving Day Parade but this week she will get to preside over a cake version of it in a competition special on Food Network.

In "Macy's Thanksgiving Cake Spectacular," airing Sunday, Nov. 17, the former "Brady Bunch" actress is the host as four top bakers create cake sculptures of balloons and floats that pay tribute to the venerable New York City procession, to be evaluated by a judging panel of "Cake Boss" Buddy Valastro; Susan Tercero, the parade's executive producer; and last season's winner, Timbo Sullivan. The victor takes home a $10,000 grand prize and tickets to the parade, and will have their work featured in the Macy's flagship store in New York.

The competition has two rounds. In the first, the "Cake Pop Challenge," the bakers are tasked with creating a cake pop inspired by their own childhood memories of the holiday. Then in the main event, the "Cake Challenge," they construct or decorate a cake based on a float or balloon. For inspiration, the artists even visited the Macy's parade warehouse in New Jersey to see some of the genuine articles.

McCormick was impressed by what they came up with.

"Some of them were huge," she reports of the cake sculptures that can reach upward of four feet in height, such as one Cat in the Hat creation.

"I was blown away by what they were making," McCormick continues. "They, of course, were not as big as the float but I'm telling you, some of the pieces that these people did were huge. I can't even imagine making a cake that big but they were doing it. ... You know, you're seeing everything, the mistakes, the things that they have to change as they go along and all the different things that can come into play when you're baking (in front of a studio audience) on TV."

But despite the gaffes, McCormick says all the bakers responded to the pressure of competition and represented themselves quite capably.

"They all stepped up to the cake – not the plate but the cake," she quips. "They were amazing and it was so fun to watch, very inspirational.

"There were a couple that I kind of saw as we were going along, thinking, 'I think this is going to take the cake,' (compared to) in the beginning when I thought it was going to be someone else. So it's amazing how it can change from minute to minute."

OF 'HIS DARK MATERIALS' ON HBO

With all your projects, where do you find the time to try to save newly cancelled TV shows?

Yeah, well that's been an interesting side mission in my life, is tweeting like a disgruntled fan for "One Day at a Time" or "Brooklyn Nine-Nine." As you can see, I really watch a lot of sitcoms, and yeah, I'm a fan of these things. You know, thanks to the success of "Hamilton," I really kind of only get involved in things I'm really passionate about. And I have the incredible privilege to get to do that. And I was a fan of these ("His Dark Materials") books. When my wife and I started dating we read these books together, and they're incredible, so I was thrilled to be a part of it.

When you went to Comic-Con this past summer, what surprised you about it and what surprised you when you put on the "Deadpool" costume and nobody knew who you were?

Well, it was really nice of HBO to pay for me to go to Comic-Con as a fan which is basically what happened. I did my panel with these guys and then I had two days of running around Comic-Con and being a fan of things like everyone else. But honestly, I'm surprised it's my first time. I'm a fan of a lot of things. I guess I'm a fan of a lot of things in the privacy of my own home. And to be out in the "Brooklyn Nine-Nine" activation with other fans of the show, to put on a Party City "Deadpool" costume and get to walk around the floor with far more elaborate "Deadpool" costumes, it was a joy. ... It was really fun. I don't know what else to say.

Cindy Busby OF 'CHRISTMAS CUPCAKES' ON UP

In "Christmas Cupcakes," you play one of two sisters who become involved in a seasonal competition to save their family's bakery. Do you actually bake?

Oh, my gosh ... I am so not a baker! Cooking is a passion of mine, but baking involves chemistry, and I don't do chemistry. We had an amazing baker who was on the set, kind of advising us; she would preset the cupcakes and the bread that were a big part of the story, because that's what our characters' father is known for.

It was actually quite nice to learn from her. I can't say that I've picked it up since we shot the movie, but I appreciate the time and effort that goes into baking. And I do enjoy the end result if someone else makes it.

What do you look for in doing a Christmas project?

I absolutely love Christmas. It's always been my favorite holiday, hands-down, so anything Christmas-themed already appeals to me. I also like stories about family and how things come together; I ask, does the movie bring together what I believe the Christmas spirit

At the end of the day, any of the holidays is about bringing people together and having them have moments of enlightenment. That's what I love in any story, but specifically in a holiday story.

You're also in the Hallmark Movies & Mysteries film "A Godwink Christmas: Meant for Love" this season. These aren't the first holiday movies you've made, but how do you feel about representing this time of year so much?

We shot "Christmas Cupcakes" at the beginning of last year, so I wasn't sure that it would air this year. And with the fact that (the two new films' premieres) fall on the same weekend, I thought, "What are the chances of that?" I'm into it, though.
