Pedestrian identified in fatal Thanksgiving Day hit-and-run

ROBERTSDALE — Troopers identify pedestrian struck and killed on Thanksgiving

Alabama State Troopers continue to look for a suspect who fled the scene after striking and killing a pedestrian on Thanksgiving Day.

The victim, now identified as Andrew Lamar Butler of Mobile, was struck by a vehicle at around 1:30 a.m. Thursday, Nov. 28 on eastbound I-10 near the Baldwin Beach Express (exit 49), according to a release issued by the Alabama Law Enforcement Agency. Troopers believe at least one vehicle left the scene of the crash.

Butler was believed to have been involved in a previous crash and was struck after exiting the vehicle.

Anyone with information concerning he crash is urged to contact troopers at 251-660-2300.

The second fatal crash in Baldwin County on Thanksgiving day occurred shortly before 6 p.m. on southbound I-65 north of Bay Minette (mile marker 41) and involved three vehicles.

Marlin Stamps, 19, of Bay Minette, was traveling south in a 2017 Ford Fusion when his vehicle struck a 2016 Hyundai Accent from behind. Both the driver, identified as 87-year-old Duggar Weaver of McIntosh, and the passenger, identified as Barbary Terry, 80, of Mulga, were pronounced dead at the scene. Neither was wearing a seat belt, according to a release issued Thursday by the Alabama Law Enforcement Agency.

A 2006 Toyota Sienna, driven by Barbara Ryan, 80, of Gulf Shores, was also involved in the chain-reaction crash. Stamps and Ryan were not injured, however, a juvenile passenger in Stamps' vehicle was transported to University Hospital with non-life-threatening injuries.

No charges have been filed in either incident.

Outdoor Conditions: As our waters start the typical winter cooling pattern, Redfish and Speckled Trout begin stacking up in the inshore rivers and creeks. Finding them can be tricky. Weak incoming tides along with north winds can make it even more challenging. If you're after Redfish, try looking for sheltered coves with grass beds along the shore and quick drop offs to deeper water.

Try bumping a plastic paddle tail shad with a lead head off the bottom to entice a bite. Speckled Trout like to drop down into deep holes and troughs. Live or plastic shrimp worked right off the bottom might do the trick. Sheepshead respond to the cooling water by heading offshore and can be found around piers and jetties. Gulf State Park Pier in Gulf Shores offers great Sheepshead action this time of year. Live shrimp or fiddler crabs are the bait of choice. If you're heading out there, keep an eye on the weather, bundle up and be safe!

Local Emergency Planning Committee meets in Robertsdale

By JOHN UNDERWOOD
john@gulfcoastmedia.com

ROBERTSDALE — The Baldwin County Local Emergency Planning Committee held its last quarterly meeting of 2019 on Monday, Dec. 16 at the Baldwin County Central Annex in Robertsdale.

During the meeting, Committee members approved a proposal by Zach Hood, director of the Baldwin County Emergency Management Agency, to move two LEPC trailers to EMA headquarters in Robertsdale.

Hood said there are two trailers, one located in Bay Minette and one located in the southern part of the county.

“We have these resources available to us that are not being utilized and many of you probably didn’t even know were there. We need to be able to evaluate these trailers, find out what we need to get them operational so we can use them in emergencies,” Hood said. “The first step in doing that is to get them moved to Robertsdale so that we can look at them.”

The measure was approved by a unanimous vote.

Hood also discussed the possibility of conducting mass casualty/triage and emergency notification training for LEPC members, along with organizations that could be affected by a mass casualty event.

“I know each municipality has protocols in place for emergency situations and we are there to support them in whatever way we can,” Hood said. “I think we all need to be on the same page as far as what municipal organizations and other first responders have and what you need from us to make things run more smoothly.”

The four-hour training sessions would include two hours of classroom instruction and two hours of hands-on training. Hood said he wanted to set up three of the four-hour sessions to allow as many organizations to participate as possible.

Utilizing certified instructors, the training would cost an estimated $3,700, he said. A location for the training would also need to be established.

“We can discuss the particulars in the next Steering Committee meeting,” he said. The training could be done as early as March 2020. “We can certainly delay that if you need more time to work out the particulars.”

Hood said EMA has funding set aside to pay for the training.

“My idea would be to split the cost of training with the LEPC,” he said. “Of course, if anyone would like to contribute to the cost, they are welcome to.”

LEPC meets quarterly at various locations throughout the year. The next meeting will be held beginning at 10:30 a.m. March 16 at North Baldwin Infirmary in Bay Minette.

An act of the State Legislature passed in 1986 requires that each county maintain an LEPC for the purposes of identifying companies that store and transport hazardous materials, provide oversight for the proper disposal of those materials and have an action plan in place should a disaster occur involving hazardous materials.

The committee is comprised of local first responders, representatives from hospitals and health agencies, volunteer organizations and members of the private sector. Lt. Kevin Carnley with the Foley Police Department currently serves as chairman for the group.

Meetings include committee reports, including a financial report, shelter report, medical health, law enforcement, fire services, industry and Volunteer Organizations Active in Disasters (VOAD).

“I think it’s important for the public to know that these meetings are open to anyone who wants to

The annual LEPC Christmas luncheon following the meeting. At the meeting Sept. 17, Committee members voted unanimously to spend $300 to supply meet for the luncheon. Committee members were also asked to bring a side dish.

the water, and you’re looking at an impressive display from the champion of homemade Southern cooking.

“Y’all, Alabama is a very Southern state, and our food is very Southern,” Deen said during an interview prior to the grand opening of the Foley location, held on Monday, Dec. 16. “Our food is going to be unique because it is so delicious. It’s cooked just the way it’s supposed to be cooked. We do big Southern cooking here.”

Paula Deen’s Family Kitchen serves dishes family-style. Guests choose either The Albany, which is two main entrees plus four sides, or The Savannah, three main entrees plus four sides. The courses are brought to the table in separate dishes where guests can dish out as much as they like onto their plates, while enjoying unlimited refills. Each meal ends with an individual dessert for everyone in the party. There are no take-out boxes other than for the desserts.

With a full menu, it’s difficult to choose what to try first, though Deen recommends the pork chops, which she states she has every time she visits one of her locations.

“I think everything on our menu is going to be embraced by the people in this area because it takes them back to their grandmother’s table and their mother’s table,” she said. “That’s my wish for everybody that comes in here; to be brought back wonderful memories of when their feet were under our grandmothers’ tables, because so many of our memories are centered around food and being in the kitchen.”

Deen states the good homecooked Southern meals and the staff make her locations special, as her “brand is all about Southern hospitality.” She recently made her first trip to Foley in November, when she visited OWA’s Christmas Tree Lighting Ceremony.

“This area just took my breath away when I saw it because I was amazed that [OWA] was only two and a half years old,” she said. “That blew me away, because this is going to be an incredible source of entertainment for people all over the United States; this is going to be a smaller Disney World or Tennessee. It has so much potential, and I’m thrilled to be in on the ground floor.”

Prior to the official ribbon cutting, Deen handed out checks from The Bag Lady Foundation, her personal foundation, to local organizations Ecumenical Ministries and The Lighthouse. The Bag Lady was formed in 2012 and was named after Deen’s first business.

“My foundation means a lot to me,” Deen said. “It’s to help other women and their children if they have any, because I walked that road, honey, and I know how tough it can be, so hopefully this will come in handy and hopefully there will be more to come.”

Following the ribbon cutting Deen held a book signing for the first 250 guests who began arriving at the restaurant at 5 a.m. to receive their wristband and get in line to meet Paula herself. The restaurant officially opened for business at 11 a.m. that morning, welcoming the first guests to the location.

“I want to thank y’all so much for giving us such a warm welcome and for all the love you give us,” said Deen. “I was blown away when I was here to light the Christmas tree at the outpouring of love there, so today is another good sign that we’re going to be here for a long time because of y’all.”

The past year has been huge for OWA, with the opening of not only Paula Deen’s but also Legends in Concert, C’est Le Vin Wine Bar, Sushi Co., Sweet Tooth at OWA, the Park’s first dark ride Mystic Manor, and more.

Investigators seek answers in homicide

BCMU RELEASE

ELSANOR — The Baldwin County Major Crimes Unit is investigating a shooting in the Elsanor Community east of Robertsdale that left one woman dead early Sunday morning. According to a release issued Sunday, the Major Crimes Unit was requested by the Rob-ertsdale Police Department to assist with the investigation. At approximately 1 a.m. Sunday, the Robertsdale Police Department received a report of shots being fired at a residence on G W Lewis Lane. Based on information gathered from witnesses, several juveniles and young adults were attending a house party when someone began shooting. Before officers could arrive to the location of the original call, they received additional information that 21-year-old Dominique Marshall had been injured during the incident. They were told that she was parked on the side of the Baldwin Beach Express near U.S. 90.

Medical personnel and Robertsdale police officers responded to the victim's location and discovered that Marshall suffered a gunshot wound. They were unable to revive her, and Marshall was pronounced dead at the scene. "Although we have interviewed several individuals, evidence is being collected and leads are being followed; we are asking for the public's assistance with this investigation," according to the release. "We know there were others at the scene of this crime and we are asking that they come forward with any information they may have." While the shooting occurred outside Robertsdale's police jurisdiction, Marshall's death occurred inside the police jurisdiction, making it the first homicide in the city in a decade, RPD officials said. Anyone with information in the case is being asked to contact the Baldwin County Major Crimes Unit at 251-937-0202 (option 1).

ing for hours because more people come to the office than examiners can test on a particular day. Commissioner Joe Davis, whose district includes Fairhope, said applicants often line up at the satellite courthouse long before the building opens at 8 a.m. "I was going to a breakfast meeting yesterday in Fairhope and as I drove by, at about 10 after 7, there were already, I counted, an estimated dozen people outside the east door wing waiting to get in," Davis said. State Sen. Chris Elliott said the Baldwin County Legislative Delegation agreed to pay the $17,212 in extra custodial costs to clean the courthouses on Saturdays. "We feel that is the least we can do for y'all providing those facilities," Elliott told commissioners. "This is a great day in Baldwin County knowing that our driver's license offices and examiner offices in Foley and Fairhope will be open starting on Jan. 11 from 7 a.m. to 3 to allow kids who are getting their licenses won't have to get out of school. Their parents won't have to wait in line. We've all seen those lines out of front of the courthouses early in the morning trying to get in." Commissioner Jeb Ball said county officials and legislators have sought to get ALEA to extend the testing period. "We've been working on this a long time jointly," Ball said. "Sometimes felt like we were running into brick wall. But we pushed and knocked them down." Commissioner Charles "Skip" Gruber said he was pleased that ALEA had extended hours in Mobile and now Baldwin after many license offices were closed or had hours cut back. "I think it's going to be good and hopefully it will work," Gruber said.

He said the demand on Baldwin license offices increased after officials announced that residents would need a STAR ID endorsement on their licenses, or a passport, after October 2020 in order to board commercial airline flights. "When the state announced that the new STAR ID had to be done and it scared everybody and they were being overloaded by people trying to get the STAR ID," Gruber said. At a commission work session on Dec. 7, Sheriff Huey "Hoss" Mack said he was concerned about security in the satellite courthouses on Saturdays when deputies are not stationed in the facilities. After the Tuesday vote, Mack said security issues have been addressed. "We do have a security plan in place and I do feel it will be of minimal impact on the two facilities," Mack said. "Everything has been resolved as far as I'm concerned."

A Pecan Pie to love

In Alabama and particularly Baldwin County we are surrounded by pecan trees. Beautiful stately trees that produce a pecan nut that is especially prized in the South. If you're fortunate to have a pecan tree in your yard you will understand when I say that it is a blessing and a curse. Truly the blessings are many and include the beauty, luscious shade and remarkable nuts. What is the curse?

The curse only weaves its way in due to my shortage of time. Annually when my beautiful trees are heavy with pecans I smile at the gifts from nature. Soon after my brain registers the amount of work that is in my future once the pecans escape to Mother Earth. It is important to pick up the pecans right away before moisture damages the pecans or wildlife arrives for the bounty.

MIMI WOODHAM
Dining with Mimi

If you have ever picked up pecans you will understand the need to "Tom Sawyer" anyone that may assist with a share of pecans. Of course, picking up pecans is only the start of the work. After harvesting, I highly recommend that you deliver the pecans to a professional nut cracker.

Our area has several locations that will crack nuts for a reasonable price. After pecans are cracked you will still need to sort the pecan shells from the nut. Keep the pecans in the refrigerator or freezer until you have time to sort and package properly. All of this becomes a labor of love but it so worth it once you have fresh pecans in your freezer.

Fresh pecans are full of flavor and a healthy treat as a snack. Multiple locations in our area sell fresh pecans and their specialty products. This is always a great gift idea for everyone whether its plain pecans, candied or dipped in chocolate. My web site has a great recipe for Homemade Candied Pecans. This is a great treat to make and share all year long but especially during the holidays. In addition, a pecan pie made with love is a perfect gift.

My bonus Mother, Wathon Woodham taught me how to make a great pecan pie. In our circle of family and friends she is famous for making "the best pecan pies". Guests to our home now expect to see a couple of her famous pies on the dessert table for the holidays. This is one dessert that quickly evaporates before your eyes.

Lovingly she shared her recipe with me. In an effort to use agave over corn syrup I adapted the recipe. This is my gift to you. Warning, once you start making this pecan pie your guests may want it again and again.

Love the family and Oh That Pecan Pie

Servings: 8-10 People
Prep Time: 20-25 Minutes
Cook Time: 35 Minutes

Ingredients

- 1 Pie Shell room temperature
- 4 Eggs medium, room temperature
- 1 Cup Sugar
- 1/4 Cup Butter
- 1/2 Cup Agave Syrup
- 1 Teaspoon Courvoisier Cognac

- 1 1/2 Cups Pecans Chopped

Instructions

1. Preheat oven to 375 degrees. In a glass pie dish, unroll pie shell and place in middle. Center shell as needed. With fingertips press down on crust in dish. Using your fingertips, pinch the dough and press down on the side to form crust edge. Using a fork, place many holes into the sides and bottom of crust.
2. In a 4 cup Pyrex measuring cup, beat four eggs and blend well.
3. Add sugar to eggs and blend well.
4. Melt butter in microwave and pour into mixture.
5. Add in agave, cognac and stir well.
6. In pie shell, layer pecans evenly.
7. Pour mixture over pecans.
8. Use a ring that protects the crust from cooking too fast. If you don't have a metal ring, use thin strips of foil and wrap over the crust. Bake in oven for 32-35 minutes until set.
9. Note: If you don't want to use cognac remove from the recipe.

Happy holidays to you and yours. May the season bring blessings, joy, peace and A Pecan Pie to Love. If you need additional recipes, visit dessert category at www.diningwithmimi.com

merry christmas

On the first day before Christmas when you're working at a newspaper that big story you were chasing? Well, it falls flat or just falls through.

If that wasn't bad enough, on the second day you get assigned (all back-to-back) a variety of lengthy interviews!

On day three, oh my! You catch word that a particular piece, a letter to the editor or opinion column or something, has upset someone. It was only published as another point of view. Or maybe as a joke, for satire. You know, just a bit of fun?

The fourth day you learn as the migraine sets in, the delivery of the papers was delayed... again.

And on the fifth day you find you're set to cover another parade, but here is the kicker; it's scheduled out in the freezing cold rain!

The sixth day you run into an issue; it's been a slow week and that just won't do. We send out reporters to hunt for something, anything, so we can fill our papers with the news!

On day seven, there is an influx of holiday features. And I mean, like, three per day!

Dinners, tree lightings, more parades, bazaars, four plays, twenty fundraisers, a dance, cookies with Santa, and two ballets.

The eighth day you're writing out your columns when last minute additions are thrown right at you. You laugh, you cry, you pray, you throw your mouse across the room just four more days now. Will we make it through?

On day nine the deadlines are approaching quick But a handful of articles and ads are still missing And half the office is out 'cause they are all sick.

Day ten after laying out the paper just right, a late ad comes through and you just want to scream! I would say more, but I won't because I know what I would say would be far too obscene.

Day eleven and your final submission is due. You send it on to the editor, but what does he do? Tosses it aside and says 'this ain't news.' So back to the drawing board with a new view (and maybe a small glass of booze.)

The twelfth and final day of working at a newspaper for Christmas we are thankful to bring you all your newspaper. Somehow, we got through all the madness and hullabaloo without killing or maiming one another. And we did it all for Baldwin County. We did it all for each one of you!

Tacky Jacks presents the 2nd Annual Tacky Sweater Beach Getaway Giveaway

Everyone has heard of tacky sweaters, but how about a sweater made with tacky tape? This winter one creative crafter will win a beach vacation by making a tacky sweater out of duct tape!

Baby, it's cold outside! How would you like to trade in your white snow for white sand? Here's your chance to eat, drink and be TACKY this winter! Tacky Jacks is giving away a Gulf Shores and Orange Beach getaway to one crafty winner. All you have to do is make a tacky sweater using duct tape. "The idea came from years of teaching Ductigami classes at Tacky Jacks in Gulf Shores," Tara Mc-Means said. "The restaurant is unique because it has colorful duct tape from floor to ceiling, each with a message that our guests leave behind. We have always wanted to incorporate a tacky sweater theme into our winter program. So, we bounced the idea around with our team and guess what? It stuck!"

Participants will submit a photo of their duct tape Tacky Sweater online and the public will vote for their favorite. The photo with the most votes will win a 3-night stay in a Gulf front condo provided by Young's Suncoast Realty and Vacation Rentals, a parasailing adventure from Chute for the Skye, and $200 to spend at Tacky Jacks.

The Tacky Sweater Beach Getaway Give-away will run through February 15, 2020. For more information on this contest or other activities during Tacky Jacks Wacky Winter of Fun visit tackyjacks.com or Tacky Jacks Gulf Shores Facebook page.

Spend an evening with Amy Grant at the Saengar Theatre

Conventional wisdom has it that Amy Grant put Contemporary Christian Music on the map, becoming the first CCM artist to have a platinum record, the first to hit No. 1 on the Pop charts, and the first to perform at the GRAMMY Awards. Since then, Grant has been strumming her way through a thirty-plus year adventure as a singer-songwriter, author, television host, and speaker.

Early on, Grant's iconic voice became instantly recognizable in both the Christian and pop worlds. Over the years, she has sold more than 30 million albums world-wide, including three multi-platinum, six platinum, and four gold. Her chart performance has also been consistent throughout her career, boasting six No. 1 hits, 10 "Top 40" Pop singles, 17 "Top 40" Adult Contemporary tracks and multiple Contemporary Christian chart-toppers. In recognition of such success, Grant has received 6 GRAMMY Awards and 26 Dove Awards, a star on the Hollywood Walk of Fame, and a star on the Music City Walk of Fame. Additionally, she was most recently inducted into the Gospel Music Hall of Fame in Nashville.

Stepping out from behind her guitar, Grant found herself hosting the NBC prime time series "Three Wishes" in 2005, bringing her into millions of living rooms across America every Friday night. The people she met and stories she collected proved to be great inspiration for creating new music and even writing a book. Two years later, Grant's first book, Mosaic: Pieces of My Life So Far, was published. She continues to share her stories with audiences all over the country as a keynote and inspirational speaker.

In April 2016, Grant celebrated the 25th anniversary of her first pop hit, "Baby Baby", with a worldwide release of a new version of the song featuring pop sensation and fellow Capitol Music Group recording artist Tori Kelly. Growing her wildly popular Christmas brand, Grant then released "Tennessee Christmas" in October 2016, her first all-new Christmas album in nearly twenty years.

She looks forward to national arena symphony Christmas tours each November and December with long-time friend Michael W. Smith, as well as an annual Christmas residency at the world-famous Ryman Auditorium in Nashville with country superstar husband Vince Gill.

Grant resides with her family in Nashville, Tennessee, and is widely known for her philanthropy and tireless involvement in local causes and charitable organizations.

Tickets go on sale today, Dec. 20, at 10 a.m. Prices are $35, $49.50, $59.50, $79.50 (Additional fees may apply.)

Thoughts on last minute holiday marketing

Christmas is almost here! Let's find the creativity in the "cracks" on how to lure those last-minute shoppers to your store. Have you considered email marketing? Have you been collecting emails from your customers this year?

Constant Contacts offers several tips with examples for writing a holiday email and they include keep the subject line short but create interest for this is your best chance of getting your email opened, all marketing emails need a tag line that hooks the reader into reading the email, and an eye catching image to round out the top three.

For the other information and tips for writing a productive holiday marketing email go to Constant Contacts blog at <https://blogs.constantcontact.com/write-holiday-marketing-email/>

Have you optimized

your Google listing so that customers can find you?

Take five minutes to complete these six steps: Fully populate your profile, fill in your business description, keep your hours updated, choose the right business categories, select all applicable attributes and verify your location.

For video detailing these tips go to <https://blogs.constantcontact.com/optimize-google-my-business/> Want to drive more customers to your business and capture end of the year sales, watch constant contacts' webinar at <https://blogs.constantcontact.com/last-minute-holiday-marketing/> Creating your offer can be daunting so a worksheet is available at <https://blogs.constantcontact.com/wp-content/uploads/2019/11/November-Last-Minute-Holiday-Planning-Worksheet-Calendar.pdf> to get you over the hump.

Are you competing for those couponing shoppers without a coupon? Some business models do not lend themselves to coupons so be creative and add value. What does that mean? Offer something that means more than a discount and these last minute shoppers are in a time crunch so think about free gift wrapping, free shipping, develop a checklist for finishing the last minute details or make it easier and faster to shop with you by using your shopping guide for last person on your gift list.

All of this is great fresh content for your social media posts. Any images developed consider not putting a date so that it can be used in another way next year. Merry Christmas to you and your family from your weekly business advisor! As always if you have a new business idea on your mind let's discuss it. To schedule a no cost consultation establish an account in your name at www.asbdc.org/register.

Lakewood's Azalea course reopens

Dogwood course and practice range also updated

By PHILLIP ELLIS
Golf Today News

The legendary Lakewood golf course at Marriott's Grand Hotel in Point Clear reopened Nov. 1 after a year-long, multi-million dollar renovation. Baldwin County's oldest links houses two 18-hole championship layouts, the Azalea and the Dogwood. Both have been updated, along with the practice range, to offer the best play in golf.

The Grand Hotel, located on Mobile Bay, is a pre-civil war property that temporarily became a hospital during the Civil War. A historic cemetery that houses hundreds of Confederate casualties, including one from the war of 1812, runs adjacent to the Azalea Course and testifies to history of the renowned facilities. Niall Fraser, the director of golf, explained that great care was taken during the renovation to ensure that none of the graves was disturbed.

In addition to its Civil War history, the hotel has played host over the decades to presidents, European royalty, movie stars, sports legends, and captains of industry, and even now continues to do so. The Point Clear facility's Lakewood GC is hosting the 59th U.S. Senior Women's Amateur tournament, a USGA event, Sept. 12-17, 2020. From over 16,000 American courses, only fourteen are selected each year for a national championship.

Heading up the new look was Hilton Head's Clyde Johnson who is an expert at working with low water tables at sea level. Changes include a total redo of 12 green complexes with a resurface of the remainder and improved bunkers. All 18 tees have been reworked moving them from runway tees to individual tees. A 3-acre lake between holes nine and 10 was added along with new bridges on eleven and eighteen, and reworked bulkheads.

Additionally, the greens were covered with Tiff Eagle, the fairways adorned with new Latitude Bermuda, the rough accentuated with 419 Bermuda, and the par 3s designated with Bahia. The result is improved play with a stunning visual effect due to the color differences in all the grass.

Finally, cart paths were moved closer to the tee's and greens and the back tee length was shortened three hundred yards.

"It's all about making the course more playable for the high handicappers while retaining the challenge for the players looking for a real contest. We think we've accomplished just that," commented Fraser. He added, "I like to say Lakewood is about fox squirrels, oak trees, sunsets, and much more."

Attention Baldwin County Golfers! If you are putting together a large charity golf tournament, have some interesting golf stories to share, or are a PGA professional that's new to the area or was recently promoted, I want to hear from you. Drop me a line @golftodaynews@yahoo.com.

AHSAA approves 2020-21 and 2021-22 classification and realignment

By TONY WHITEHEAD
tony@gulfcoastmedia.com

MONTGOMERY — The Alabama High School Athletic Association Central Board of Control unanimously approved the classification for member schools for the upcoming school years 2020-21 and 2021-22.

Daphne moves up to 7A overall due to enrollment, Bayside volleyball moves up to 5A while McGill-Toolen Catholic will drop from 7A to 6A due to enrollment, except for its volleyball program (The Dirty Dozen) which remains in 7A due to the competitive-balance rule.

St. Michael Catholic moves up from 3A to 4A. The largest jump in classification affects Elberta which will move from 2A to 5A – a three-tier move before the new school holds its first graduation. Newest newcomer Orange Beach will compete at the 2A level through 2021. Across the Bay St. Paul's moves back to 5A while Old Shell Road rival UMS-Wright moves up to 5A.

Statewide, St. John Paul II Catholic High, which was listed in Class 5A, will be a Class 4A school in the newest upcoming classification period. Saint James High School of Montgomery, listed in 3A, will also be in Class 4A. East Lawrence and Oakman are moving from 4A to 3A.

Due to these changes in school classification, some football region alignment changes became necessary in Classes 5A, 4A and Class 3A. The adjustments leave 32 football-playing schools in Class 7A; 58 in Class 5A; and 59 in Classes 6A, 4A, 3A, 2A and 1A.

Some changes were also made in volleyball alignments and cross-country alignments. The adjustments have been corrected on the football and volleyball alignment maps online and on the classification information online.

Due to a miscalculation, some adjustments were made incorrectly Tuesday, but were corrected within hours of the initial release. None of the miscalculated (now corrected) adjustments, however, affects Baldwin area schools which compete in the AHSAA.

"On behalf of the Alabama High School Athletic Association, I apologize for any inconvenience this may have caused," said Executive Director Steve Savarese.

The system will continue to place member schools into seven classes. The AHSAA functioned with a six-classification system from 1984 to 2014 before adding 7A. The schools were grouped in a four-classification system from 1964-1983 and a two-classification system from 1947-1964. Prior to 1947, the AHSAA had just one classification system.

The Central Board also approved the sports alignments for the other fall sports volleyball, cross country and swimming. The winter sports alignments will be announced following the end of the basketball season, and the spring sports alignments will be announced following the conclusion of the spring sports playoffs.

Jones provides bright spot in an otherwise lackluster season for the Falcons

It has been a mixed season for former Foley Lion and Atlanta Falcons star wide receiver Julio Jones. The Falcons are going through another terrible season with injuries occurring yet again along with a lackluster defense, but Jones is having another fantastic individual season.

MICHAEL HANICH
Sports Analysis

With the Falcons (5-9) out of playoff contention, there is little hope to salvage this 2019 NFL season for any small measures of success they can find. Jones' accomplishments and consistency to being one of the most elite receivers in the league will be the best storyline for the remainder of the season.

In 13 games, Jones has caught 82 passes (out of 129 targets) for 1,150 yards for average of 14 yards per reception and six touchdowns. Jones is fifth in the NFL total receiving yards accounted for and reception yards per game (88.5). He is also 12th highest in total receptions accounted for, which speaks volumes to his input on the field. He has accounted for five 100-yard receiving performances this season and seven six-reception (or more) performances.

The Atlanta Falcons have the fourth ranked passing offense in the league (288.9 passing yards per game) thanks to the combined efforts of quarterback Matt Ryan, wide receiver Calvin Ridley, tight end Austin Hooper and Jones.

Jones has contributed to many great performances this season for the Falcons. In week two, the Falcons beat the Philadelphia Eagles 24-20 when Jones accounted for five receptions (on 10 targets) for 106 yards and two touchdowns. In week eight, the Falcons came close to defeating the Seattle Seahawks (currently on top of the NFC) 27-20 when Jones accounted for 10 receptions (on 12 targets) for 152 yards. Last weekend, the Falcons shocked the San Francisco 49ers in San Fran when Jones had his best performance of the year. In the game, Jones accounted for 13 receptions for 134 yards and two touchdowns.

His dominating performances with an underwhelming Falcons' team earned him his seventh Pro Bowl selection in his nine-year NFL career this past Tuesday. Jones and defensive tackle Grady Jarrett are the only two players representing the Falcons in the 2020 Pro Bowl this year.

HOROSCOPES

WEEK OF DECEMBER 23, 2019

ARIES (March 21 to April 19) Your love of the holidays creates a special bond between you and the people in your life. Use this as a way of building stronger relationships that will carry over well beyond this time.
TAURUS (April 20 to May 20) A new approach could go a long way toward resolving a painful estrangement, especially at this holiday time. And since your aspects favor friendship this week, why not go ahead and try it?
GEMINI (May 21 to June 20) Your positives continue to dominate, and any negative factors that squeeze in can be dealt with easily. The secret is to tackle them at once and not allow them to benefit by your neglect.
CANCER (June 21 to July 22) Good news: A colleague's remarks could help you move toward ultimately resolving that persistent workplace situation. Meanwhile, enjoy the holidays with loved ones.

LEO (July 23 to August 22) No one reflects the bright holiday more than all you Leos and Leonas who love the shimmer and glimmer of the season. P.S.: There just might be a very special something from Santa.
VIRGO (August 23 to September 22) Celebrate the holidays by being more receptive to new experiences. Overriding the Virgo reluctance to try new things could be the best gift you've given yourself in a long while.
LIBRA (September 23 to October 22) Good news about a loved one makes the holidays even more festive. Expect some unexpected gifts, so be prepared with a few nicely wrapped packages of goodies to offer in return.
SCORPIO (October 23 to November 21) The holiday season provides an opportunity to meet new people, some of whom you might even consider "worthy" enough to join the Scorpio's select group of friends.
SAGITTARIUS (November 22 to December 21) You always bring your own wonderful sparkle and light to the holidays, and don't be surprised if this year someone special reaches out to respond to your warmth in kind.

CAPRICORN (December 22 to January 19) Togetherness is the dominant theme for the Goat's holiday celebrations this year. That means reaching out to bring everyone you care for into your very own special circle of light.
AQUARIUS (January 20 to February 18) A reminder of a very special moment from the past makes the holidays more memorable for the romantic Aquarian. New friendships hold the promise of a romantic future as well.
PISCES (February 19 to March 20) Getting into the swim of things for all you party-loving Pisceans is easy enough this holiday season. And, of course, you can expect to impress people wherever you go.

Opinion

Celebrating the many blessings in Baldwin County

A booming economy. Neighbors that reach out to help neighbors. Plentiful jobs. And lots of folks on local Facebook pages that will stop everything to help a lost dog find its owner.

Baldwin County is blessed beyond measure.

As our county continues to grow at rates that exceed state and local levels we continue to attract families that just don't want to move south but want to embrace our culture, our traditions and become part of the fabric of our community.

We have hundreds of teachers who work tirelessly every day to help our children grow, learn and pick up the mantle to continue to improve our community.

Our civic leaders work each day to carefully consider what is best for all of us as they negotiate expansions in neighborhoods, schools and roads.

Our men and women in uniform continue to stand at the front and protect every one of us, even when it means putting their own safety, and even their lives, in danger.

And those who find themselves broken or in need can find a helping hand among the thousands of men, women and children who volunteer in organizations in every city and town in Baldwin County.

We are blessed indeed. We wish a very Merry Christmas and Happy Holidays to every one of you.

Pete Turnham epitomized the Greatest Generation

Famous former television news anchor, Tom Brokaw, wrote an iconic book entitled "The Greatest Generation." The 1998 book chronicles the unique character of a generation of Americans. Brokaw attempted to capture the unselfish contribution of our World War II

Americans who built our marvelous country.

As Brokaw says, "They will have their place in the ledgers of history, but no block of marble or elaborate edifice can equal their lives of sacrifice and achievement, duty and honor as monuments to their time."

Pete Turnham of Auburn passed away on September 30, 2019. Mr. Pete epitomized the best of the greatest generation. He was three months shy of 100 when he transitioned to be with his maker and his beloved wife, Kay, who preceded him in death in 2016. While on earth, he lived every day to the fullest. He truly made a difference during the century he was here.

STEVE FLOWERS

Inside the Statehouse

Mr. Pete represented Auburn and Lee County in the Alabama House of Representatives from 1958 to 1998. This is the longest tenure in state history. Due to his longevity and tenure in the Legislature, Mr. Pete became known as the "Dean of the House."

Like many of the greatest generation, Pete served in World War II. Pete shipped off to Europe during the war earning distinction in battle as a Bronze Star Medal and Valor award winner under the command of the famed General George Patton in the Third Army. His assignment at the end of the war was as a company commander of troops guarding the priceless art stolen and stored by the Nazis at Neuschwanstein Castle. This story was the subject of a famous movie entitled, "The Monuments Men." You might say that George Clooney played the part of Pete.

Pete came home, raised his family and built a legacy in his beloved Auburn. Like many ambitious men of the greatest generation, Pete became successful in business. However, Mr. Pete is best known for his 40 years of service in the Alabama Legislature. Most of that time he was on the Ways and Means Committee, which appropriates the state education dollars. He made sure that Auburn University got their fair share of these dollars. He retired as the Dean of the House in 1998.

It was one of the greatest privileges and experiences of my life to sit beside Mr. Pete in the Legislature for 16 years.

We became best friends for life. When I arrived as a freshman, 30-year-old legislator in 1982, Pete had already been a representative for 24 years. He had known me as a youngster when I spent my summers paging in the House. When I arrived, Pete took me under his wing and told me I was going to sit by him. Therefore, I immediately left the other freshmen on the back row and went to a prime seat near the front of the chamber next to the Dean of the House.

You get to know someone well over 16 years. Pete Turnham was the consummate gentleman. I never heard him say a harsh word about anyone or use any profanity.

He loved his wife, Kay, his children, his Baptist Church in Auburn, and Auburn University. He also loved his vegetable garden. True to his agricultural roots, he grew his own produce in his six acres behind his house. Pete's favorite place was in his vegetable garden where for 65 years he personally attended the planting and harvesting. He had quite a green thumb. His garden was famous and he shared the bounty with friends and neighbors.

Like many great men of that generation, he genuinely loved and cared about people and helping his fellow man. He helped and cared for his folks in Lee County on a daily basis, especially assisting students at Auburn University.

I closely watched Pete helping aspiring students and his constituents. He helped a lot of folks in Lee County and he did it without fanfare, whether it was giving someone down on their luck vegetables from his garden or getting their road fixed. Everything he did was with humility, helpfulness, peace-making efforts and a positive attitude. Pete Turnham was a true Christian gentleman.

Pete Turnham served under nine different governors and nine different House Speakers. He was the only legislator to serve during all the Wallace administrations. Passing at nearly 100 years old in the year of Alabama's Bicentennial 200th Anniversary, Mr. Pete lived half of Alabama's history and participated in making much of it.

Pete Turnham was one of the greatest of the Greatest Generation.

Next week we will commemorate the other Alabama political legends who passed away this year.

See you next week.

Talented on screen and in the kitchen: Celebs you didn't know could cook

As Americans sit down to their holiday family dinner this week, it will more than likely be to a meal prepared at home.

Yes, as a people, we love to eat and we love to cook, and what better way to express appreciation for loved ones than by setting before them a sumptuous feast in a festive setting? It's a tradition that reaches across socio-economic, political and geographical boundaries.

It also extends to the people who keep us entertained on TV, in movies and recordings and on the field of play. The following are a few of those folks who have talent in the kitchen, aren't afraid to show it off and who might be slaving away in the kitchen this week. Or not.

Jesse Tyler Ferguson: The "Modern Family" actor has a food blog with professional chef Julie Tanous and together they plan to write a cookbook. An admitted foodie and a restaurant investor, he says if he wasn't an actor, he'd be enrolling in culinary school.

Kris Jenner: The "Keeping Up With the Kardashians" matriarch has a thing for making comfort food for her family, many recipes of which turn up in her 2014 cookbook "In the Kitchen With Kris: A Kollection of Kardashian-Jenner Family Favorites."

Lady Gaga: The singer born Stefani Joanne Angelina Germanotta has cooking in her blood as the daughter of a New York Italian restaurant owner. She'll demonstrate her skills with photos of her creations on Instagram, making fresh ravioli with fillings from her garden and preparing a family favorite, whole wheat pasta with a sweet fennel sauce.

Michael Bublé: Yes, the man with the golden throat can also fill mouths and stomachs, making his own gnocchi, chorizo and asado. A former boat cook and fisherman, the Canadian crooner appears to have gotten this talent from his great-grandmother, who he watched cook as a child.

Gwyneth Paltrow: It should come as no surprise that the Oscar-winning actress is passionate about food, being the founder of the healthy-eating website The Goop and the author of the bestselling cookbooks "My Father's Daughter" and "It's All Good."

David Beckham: The retired soccer star has some serious chops in the kitchen, which he likes to show off on Instagram. His good friend and mentor Gordon Ramsay has helped him along that path, giving him tips and showing him how to perfect his specialty, Beef Wellington.

Toby Kebbell

OF 'SERVANT' ON APPLE TV+

You've said you know your "Servant" character of Sean Turner. How so?

From my perspective, the way I saw it was this is a guy who's found someone he loves. He's got his career in a place where he's doing well and earning money and he's found someone he wants to spend his life with and marry and have a family with, and then all that tragedy befalls him. And I think from Sean's point of view, he can't lose everything. He doesn't want to lose his wife as well so he's willing to play along with this charade.

And he leans on his brother-in-law — played by Rupert Grint — for a dose of sanity.

Absolutely. I mean, his brother represents all those things that he used to enjoy, which is having guests over and introducing them to things and mockery and humor and everything. I mean, what a tremendous brother-in-law that would be to have — and played so well by Rupert. His timing's just excellent.

How was it filming in executive producer M. Night Shyamalan's studios outside of Philadelphia?

It's a great, great little space where they built a brownstone and it's just absolutely an astonishing replica in every detail. You know, you open a drawer and there's cutlery and you turn on the tap and it works or you flush the lavatory — you know, anything you've got to do a scene in and he's built it so that it works. If the wall needs to come out, it comes out. You know, it's really well thought out and just astonishing work by a wonderful set designer.

How was it working with your co-star Lauren Ambrose?

So easy — and not easy like not without work. I mean, easy but you put the work there and she's such a giving actress, it's just so fun to work alongside her. And we're both dealing with an incredibly stressful subject, so we share a great sense of humor, so it was just a pleasure.

OF 'A CHRISTMAS STORY' ON TBS AND TNT

What do you make of the enduring popularity of "A Christmas Story"?

There's a very loyal fan base for that movie. Those who like it know it and quote it, and it's a part of the family tradition of Christmas for them. And we have not infringed on the reputation, or their enjoyment, of that film.

Do you watch "A Christmas Story" yourself during its annual 24-hour marathon?

The movie usually does wind up being on at my house, because we do Christmas with a lot of family and a lot of kids. And they like it, not just because their uncle is in it, but they enjoy it just on that level of being a tradition. It's been enough years that it seems kind of normal when it's on the kitchen TV, and you just hear it when you're walking through to get some more coffee.

"A Christmas Story" had only mild success when it was released in 1983. What do you think made it so iconic?

In a way, it really caught its audience through home video, which had just started a couple of years before. A movie would come out in theaters, and maybe you could get a re-release (which "A Christmas Story" did) if there wasn't a crowded Christmas window the next year.

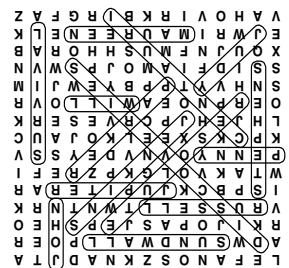

Cable and video weren't really part of the equation back then, so the popularity of the film really grew as I got older and outgrew being able to play that age, where I would have been able to be cast for other things. It's nice to have been a part of that movie and to have seen it grow. You never expect to have that kind of success.

Movie: Scrooged

Bill Murray portrays

Ebenezer Scrooge — called Frank Cross here — in another adaptation of the Charles Dickens tale. This 1988 version follows the story of a greedy TV executive who figures since he hates Christmas, no one else should enjoy it. But his outlook is changed after a visit from three ghosts on Christmas Eve.

Happy New Year, Charlie Brown

Good grief! Who assigns elementary-school children "War and Peace"? Charlie Brown's teacher, that's who. He has to read it over the Christmas break and write a report, but holiday distractions keep getting in the way. He ends up leaving a New Year's party and sitting outside to read, but that doesn't end well. Chad Allen ("Dr. Quinn, Medicine Woman") provides the voice of Charlie Brown in this animated 1986 "Peanuts" special.

Movie: The Cincinnati Kid

Norman Jewison's 1965 screen adaptation of Richard

Jessup's novel casts a charismatic Steve McQueen as Eric "The Kid" Stoner, a cocky young Depression-era poker player determined to prove himself the best at his game. Toward that end, he challenges reigning champion Lancey "The Man" Howard (Edward G. Robinson) to a high-stakes game. Joan Blondell earned a Golden Globe nomination for her supporting performance; Ann-Margret, Karl Malden and Tuesday Weld also star. Ring Lardner Jr. and Terry Southern co-wrote the screenplay.

episode this year as they have so often in the past, but here's the next best thing: a recently reconstructed lost adventure from Season 4, "The Macra Terror," in which the TARDIS arrives on a human colony that appears to be a holiday camp. The level of happiness makes the Second Doctor (Patrick Troughton) and his companions (Anneke Wills, Michael Craze, Frazer Hines) suspicious, however. The episode uses surviving audio from 1967 accompanied by new animated visuals.

Movie: Dolly Parton's Coat of Many Colors

Though she's not actually a star of it, country-music icon Parton is a huge factor of this 2015 TV movie — in the form of her nine-year-old self, portrayed by Alyvia Alyn Lind. Fellow singing star Jennifer Nettles and Rick Schroder play the young, Smokey Mountains-raised Dolly's parents, who were huge influences on her ... as was the very special coat that gives the movie and Parton's same-named song their title.

"Two and a Half Men"

"Breaking Bad"

"United States of Tara"

BEST UNCONVENTIONAL TV FAMILIES

The Tanners, "Full House" (ABC, 1987-95): Bob Saget starred as a young widower who needed his rock musician brother-in-law (John Stamos) and comedian best friend (Dave Coulier) to move in and help raise his three small daughters. That they did it largely without a woman in the house (at least in the early seasons) and in San Francisco, a city not known to be child-friendly, was a small miracle.

The Sopranos, "The Sopranos" (HBO, 1999-2007): A mob boss, killer and sociopath for a dad — what's unusual there? But James Gandolfini made Tony Soprano, the well-intentioned paternal figure who often fell short of the mark, believable — and sometimes funny — which was a tribute to the actor and the show's writers.

The Harpers, "Two and a Half Men" (CBS, 2003-15): Following his divorce, an uptight chiropractor (Jon Cryer) moves into his Hollywood jingle-writer brother's (Charlie Sheen) Malibu beachfront bachelor pad, and with the help of a tart-tongued housekeeper (Conchata Ferrell), they endeavor to raise the former's young son (Angus T. Jones) amid a steady stream of female companionship. Then the brother dies, the house is sold to a tech billionaire (Ashton Kutcher), the survivors stay put, and the "half-man" rearing continues. A little formulaic, don't you think?

The Henricksons, "Big Love" (HBO, 2006-11): Almost by definition, anywhere where polygamy is occurring, that family has to be considered unconventional. But where Utah state senate candidate Bill Henrickson (Bill Paxton), his three wives (Chloe Sevigny, Jeanne Tripplehorn, Ginnifer Goodwin) and offspring were concerned, his family life also happened to be considered immoral and fodder for political opponents. Which is why he tried to keep it under wraps.

The Whites, "Breaking Bad" (AMC, 2008-13): When he wasn't being henpecked by his demanding wife (Anna Gunn) or caring for his cerebral palsy-stricken son (RJ Mitte), milquetoast New Mexico high-school chemistry teacher Walter White (Bryan Cranston) could be found cooking up a batch of crystal meth and selling it to secure his family's financial future after his death from terminal lung cancer. And being wildly successful at it.

The Gregsons, "United States of Tara" (Showtime, 2009-11): Some might not find a mother with multiple personality disorder anything to laugh about, but Toni Collette made the character of Kansas mother and wife Tara Gregson sympathetic, believable and sometimes funny in this underrated sitcom. She won Emmy and Golden Globe awards for best actress which confirmed her deft performance.
