Nine-year-old Jackson O'Connell knew that health-care workers were working hard as the coronavirus continued to spread and fill hospital corridors with patients. He also knew that the strain on their ears from the tight elastic bands of their masks was painful. So painful that he colorfully

Some businesses booming during outbreak

By JOHN UNDERWOOD

ROBERTSDALE — Business is booming at meat markets, garden supply stores and hardware stores in the wake of the coronavirus outbreak.

"Business is actually doing pretty well," said Erin Childress Salyers, co-owner of Farm Fresh Meats in Robertsdale. "We have a lot of local suppliers and are able to keep up with the demand of our customers."

The bigger markets are having trouble keeping their meat stocked, Salyers said, and a lot of people are afraid to go in and shop at the bigger markets.

Suspect arrested for multiple construction site thefts

STAFF REPORT

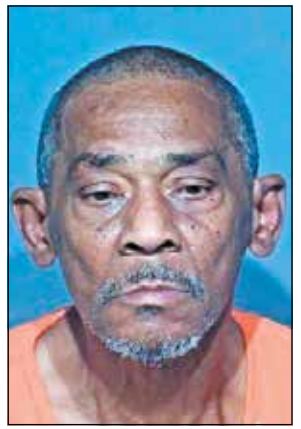

FOLEY — During the months of March and April, multiple breaking and entering incidents occurred within the Myrtlewood Subdivision in Foley. Many sites are under construction, which resulted in the theft of multiple appliances from the sites.

During an attempted theft on Cherrywood Drive, the Baldwin County Sheriff's Department, assisted by Foley Police Department, arrested James Sylvester Weston, Sr. (64). A second suspect left on foot. Officers pursued the suspect, but were unable to locate him. Upon further investigation, officers were able to locate brand new appliances in the suspect's home, which they believe to be the appliances stolen from the construction site. Weston was charged with possession of burglars' tools, possession of drug paraphernalia, theft of property 4th degree, and a driving while revoked warrant. He has since been released from jail on a $2,500 bond.

The Baldwin County Sheriff's Department is further investigating the incident and the location of the second suspect.

describes it as comparable to having their ears "chopped off."

The Gulf Shores Elementary School third grader simply couldn't let that continue to happen.

So, he is on a mission to make the masks of every healthcare worker he can reach more comfortable as they fight the battle of a lifetime.

Jackson, the CEO and sole employee of Jax Bag Tags, normally prints custom key chains and book bag tags on his trusty 3-D printer. Now, he has shifted to printing ear guards all day, every day.

The simple devices stretch across the back of the head and have a series of branches to hold the elastic in place, giving ears a much needed break. Many are emblazoned with the word "Hero" in the center.

"I like to know that I'm helping people. I don't want anything bad to happen to anyone," Jackson said.

With a little help from his biggest investors, mom and dad, Jackson now has three printers cranking out the ear savers. It takes just over an hour to print a set of eight on one printer. So far, Jackson has crafted and shipped out 600 ear savers.

And, Jackson says proudly, he has them available in all colors.

So far, they have been a hit with the healthcare workers he has donated to.

"They really like them," Jackson said. "They used to call them ear guards but now they want us to call them ear savers."

Currently Jackson has a list of more than 1,000 healthcare workers who have requested an ear saver and Jackson is printing as fast as his machines will allow.

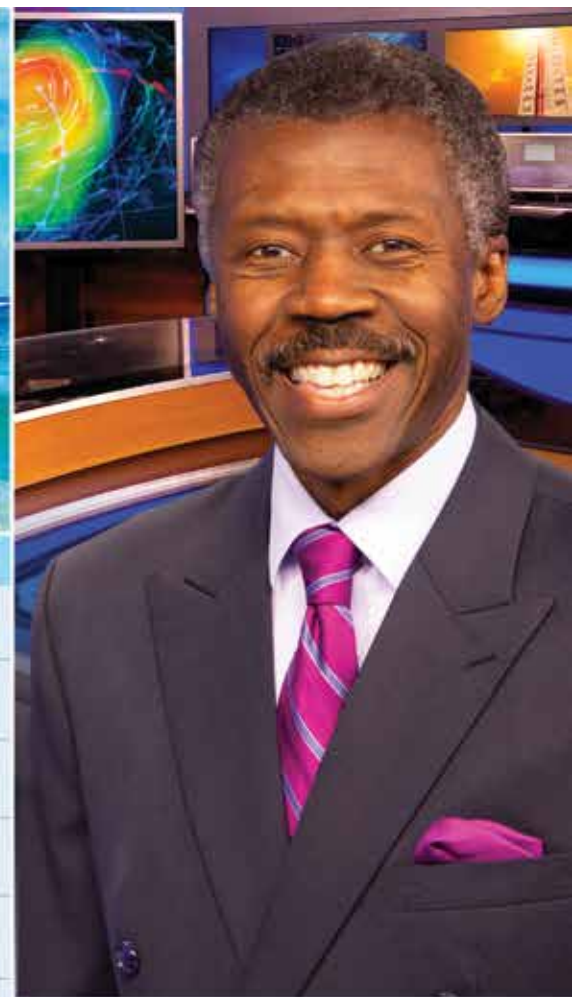

"We will print all day so everyone has one," he said.

To make a donation to help with the cost of printing and shipping them to healthcare workers or to request an ear saver visit jaxbagtags.com.

My utility bill is up. How about yours? March had a lot of us running the air conditioner often in a month that typically might only have the heater on in the early mornings. Temperatures across Baldwin County were about 9 degrees above average. In other words, March felt like May. We leaped right over spring and after a brief break, this month has mostly been the same way-warm and humid. That's weather. Really! Weather is just an average of extremes, even though we tend to expect average. If it were always average, my job would be easy. Is the warmth a sign of things to come? By itself, that's unknown. Take past weather like past performance in the stock market. It tells you nothing about future returns. You may try to correlate past weather patterns with something that followed but that can't really be used to forecast what may come. So, you wonder what comes next for temperature? The answer, my friend, is blowin' in the wind.

Learn to raise chickens

Submitted

Would you like to learn how to raise chickens? Youth ages 9-18 can register for the 4-H Chick Chain Project now.

Each participant will receive 10-day-old chicks (female) to raise at home. This activity is lots of fun, and is helpful learning. This year's breeds are Speckled Sussex, Dominique and Salmon Favorolle.

The Project concludes with a show and auction of two birds in November.

The $40 registration is due by April 27, 2020. For more information, call taxes, social security number, or citizenship. As for the information that is entered such as address and phone number, the Census Bureau does not share information with other government entities.

“The U.S. Federal Government has more than $675 billion to give away annually,” said Partnership Specialist for the Census Bureau Jean Hough. “That money is allocated through one thing and one thing only: census numbers, how many people do you have in your community. The money follows the numbers, not the need. So, you’ve got to have your numbers counted to get your piece of that money.”

For each person who does not fill out their Census, that’s $1,600 per person that the state loses. Money from the Census goes towards school lunches, veteran’s programs, Medicaid and Medicare, transportation, and various other organizations and nonprofits. Additionally, Alabama is in jeopardy of losing one, and possibly two seats in the House of Representatives, which a complete Census count could prevent.

As of April 10, the state of Alabama was at a 46.9 percent response rate, with Baldwin County at a response rate of 41.5 percent.

So what can you do to help spread the word about the importance of the Census? The Census Bureau has worked on a list of things the community can do during the COVID-19 pandemic that encourages the community to stay safe and take their Census.

For businesses who wish to participate, offer customers a discount, free product, or free delivery if they show a copy of their Census “confirmation” page. Even if a business is currently closed, these offers can be honored once the shelter at home order is lifted.

For teachers, the Census Bureau is suggesting providing extra credit for students who turn in their home’s Census confirmation page. Bonus points if the student writes a small explanation about the importance of the Census.

For kids who are home, the bureau suggests having some fun and letting them create chalk art supporting the 2020 Census in their driveways. Some homes have also placed messages concerning the Census in their windows for those who are walking through the neighborhood as reminders.

The Census can be filled out online, via phone calls to the Census Bureau, or through paper applications. Check out <https://www.census.gov/> for more information on the 2020 Census. You can watch your town/city’s progress at <https://2020census.gov/en/response-rates.html>. The Census Bureau is asking everyone to share the importance of the Census with friends, family, and coworkers. Governor Kay Ivey is aiming for a 90 percent completion rate for Alabama.

LIVING SHOULDN'T REQUIRE A MEMBERSHIP.

Why should a service like air medical require a membership?

During an emergency, is this the first thing on your mind? What if the membership service is not the closest? What if they don't have the necessities that our flying ICU can provide? What if these differences could save your life?

Air Methods doesn't have memberships. And we have you covered in Alabama. We concentrate on working with your insurance company to manage your out-of-pocket costs. When you consider how often you use air medical, the savings become very apparent. We think it's a better model for everyone, especially you.

SUPERINTENDENT UPDATE

The following is an update from Baldwin County School Superintendent Eddie Tyler to parents sent this week.

Parents, I hope you had a wonderful break and are ready to see your kids get back to school. Today, we have teachers all over the county in professional development working digitally to get your kids on track to completing our core requirements for this year.

I need to clarify some information I sent to you last week about the cancellation of summer programs.

We have many different types of summer programs in our school system. It is correct to say that as of now, all school affiliated summer programs have either been canceled or are on-hold. Let me provide you further information by addressing these in three different groups.

Our summer activities run through our After-School Program. Both grant and non-grant programs are canceled. These programs run summer-long and they are partnerships with other organizations. There are great concerns about where to hold these camps, whether or not we will be able to provide the appropriate distancing and health checks as well as our ability to staff up for the entire summer in light of current circumstances.

We know this will be a great challenge to many families, but it is also why we wanted to get this information out as soon as possible so that you could begin to look for alternate options. Please continue to monitor our social media pages where we will be sharing information about other summer camps going on in our area. If you have information about a summer camp that you would like to share with other parents, please email that information to news@bcbe.org, go to <https://www.bcbe.org/summer-suggestions> or share it to the district Facebook page facebook.com/BCBEAlabama. The information you share with us will be shared system-wide.

Athletic programs are the next group. All athletic programs for the summer have been canceled until further notice. This is subject to change and I am sure there will be some changes as we get a little more clarification and direction at the state level. As you know, our athletic programs are regulated programs. The Alabama High School Athletic Association along with the State Department of Education and, in some instances, national organizations control what we can and cannot do.

Until we are given specific direction on how to proceed forward, we are taking the position that summer athletic activities will be canceled. A better word might be delayed or postponed but I don't want to give any false sense of hope or expectations because truthfully, we do not know. This is not only affecting Baldwin County but the entire state. It is also affecting private schools and collegiate programs, as well as professional sports. I hope to be able to provide you better news. It is my hope our fall sporting programs will continue as planned but until we have more details about the summer, everyone should expect there will be significant changes, if not full cancellation.

The third group is school-sponsored programs. This could include band, cheerleading or other non-athletic but school-related events and activities. It does not matter if the event was scheduled to take place on our campus or at another location. The cancellation of all of these events applies to anything that was paid through a school organization or anything which was scheduled to take place on a school campus. All of those events at this time are canceled. Again, we are hopeful we can revise this decision to maybe a postponement or a delay. Many of these events are not organized by us. Some of them are regional or national events that we participate in and a cancellation of those events is taking place outside of our control.

I want to be clear, I am not happy about these decisions. I wish with all of my heart that things were different and we were back to our regularly scheduled programming. I promise you, if we are given the opportunity to put these athletic and school-sponsored programs back on track we will do so quickly and communicate that information to you. The only exception is our After-School Program activities which will not be rescheduled at any time this summer.

If you have questions about a school-sponsored or athletic event please reach out to the sponsor of that event or your principal for additional information. After speaking with the state superintendent last week, as well as other regional leaders, it is my hope to provide you another update on this matter before Memorial Day weekend. I hope that I have better news to report to you then.

Please stay well, continue to respect the orders from our health officials about social distancing and sheltering at home. None of us want to see this virus pop back up if we are successful in avoiding the crisis as many have suggested. I will be back in touch later this week with some updates about our first week back to school.

Burglary at Gulf Coast Tire Summerdale

Submitted by THE SUMMERDALE PD

SUMMERDALE — Officers of the Summerdale Police Department assisted by officers of the Foley Police Department stopped a Silver Volkswagen car traveling at a high rate of speed southbound on Highway 59 through Summerdale. The vehicle was estimated to be traveling in excess of 100 miles per hour. The vehicle was eventually stopped in Foley near Abbey Lane. The vehicle was driven by Matthew Hadley of Bay Minette. Hadley was charged with DUI by Foley Police at the scene. Incident to the arrest of Hadley his vehicle was impounded and inventoried. Found in his vehicle were four brand new tires, a computer, a television, video surveillance cameras, automotive parts and supplies. When officers found these items, they found paperwork belonging to Gulf Coast Tires in Summerdale. Additional officers arrived at Gulf Coast Tires and ing cash and only take orders by credit or debit card payment over the phone.

“We did lose some business by closing our retail operation,” said Salyers’ father, Farm Fresh owner Chuck Childress, “but our main focus right now is to be able to serve our customers and keep them safe at this time.”

Customers are encouraged to visit farmfreshmeatsal.com to check on availability. Farm Fresh is also constantly updating its Facebook page to let people know what’s available, but with availability changing so rapidly, the best way to communicate is to call the store and place an order.

Customers are encouraged to call when they arrive at the store after placing their order, open their trunk or back door and get back in their car. Someone from inside will bring their order to their vehicle.

“We just want to stress that we are doing everything we can to keep our store clean and to limit physical contact with our customers as much as possible during this time,” Salyers said. “We are going to get through this together and we are doing everything possible to ensure the safety of our customers at this time.”

The business also now closes on Mondays to restock from weekend sales and give the store a thorough cleaning. It’s also a chance for Farm Fresh employees to get together and determine what to do moving forward.

“There are so many small businesses in our community that have been forced to close and we’re focusing on ways that we can help the community right now,” she said. “That is something that we’re still trying to figure out how we can get the word out.”

Lee Racine, owner of Racine’s Feed and Garden Supply, said their business has also been busy at this time with a big demand for planting and gardening supply, in particular vegetable plants.

“There are several reasons for this,” she said. “Part of it is just the normal spring vegetable rush. Part of it is that people have kids at home and are looking for something for them to do. We also have people that are concerned that there will be a shortage on food and want to grow their own. We sell plenty of seeds for growing, but a lot of people right now want that instant gratification of growing vegetable plants.”

Racine said they are open for business regular hours Monday through Saturday and are still receiving regular shipments.

“There will eventually be a shortage of vegetable plants because suppliers simply can’t grow them fast enough to keep up with the demand,” she said. “But we still have plenty of seeds and are doing everything we can to serve our customers and keep them safe.”

While most of their business is conducted outside, Racine said, and they do have pick up and delivery service available for customers who call ahead, they are also taking extra measures to ensure customer safety if they have to come inside the store.

“We are trying to stick to social distancing guidelines,” she said. “We had two registers together and we moved one to the other side of the store and we are trying to limit the number of customers that come into the store at one time.”

Racine’s also supplies feed for livestock and pets, she said, of which sales have not slowed down since the outbreak.

Weekend projects have become fulltime jobs for customers at Loxley Auto Parts & Hardware, said owner Rob Davis.

“We’ve been super busy Monday through Saturday in both our auto parts department and our hardware department,” he said. “We’ve been talking and it’s not people making panic buys. It’s just people who have a lot of projects built up and now they are home and able to do them.”

At the same time, David said, the business has an auto repair shop that has been largely empty since the outbreak.

“We’ve just have a lot of people coming in getting supplies for do-it-yourself projects,” he said, “but at the same time, they are not wanting to spend $400 to $500 on an expensive repair.”

As far as safety is concerned, David said, everyone who comes in is pretty much aware of keeping six feet apart and they are not experiencing long lines.

“We just let people stay back and call them up as we get to the next person in line,” he said. “We are also trying to disinfect as much as possible and keep our areas clean and safe for our customers.”

Calvary Chapel Foley gives back to the community

Every Thursday the Calvary Chapel Fellowship of Foley has been offering a drive thru food pantry for locals. The drive thru lasts approximately from 8:30 – 9:30 a.m. The service provides help to those in need, and is accommodating to the current social distancing practices in place to help stop the spread of COVID-19.

Ways to serve healthcare professionals in our area

Submitted

3Circle Church, which has several campuses in Baldwin County, is asking the community to help the parish support healthcare professionals during the coronavirus crisis. The church is asking for donations of personal protective equipment and hand sewn masks and gowns.

Here are several ways you can help:

Donate supplies – Supplies are needed that can be used to make face masks, scrub caps, and gowns. This includes fabric, elastic, ribbon, thread, and bias tape. If you have any of these that you are willing to donate, someone will pick up from your front porch.

Please email DonatePPESupplies@gmail.com or text 251-422-3546, to donate supplies.

Sew face masks – If you have basic sewing machine skills, you have an opportunity to help our local and regional healthcare professionals by sewing much-needed face masks and surgical gowns!

If you have fabric at home you can easily make masks with the following materials.

- Supplies for each TIE mask –
- 1 - 7.5" X 15" piece of fabric
 - 2 - 30" X 2" strips for ties
 - 1 - 6" pipe cleaner

If you do not have fabric at home a local quilt shop is putting out kits daily with the supplies listed above.

These are first come/first serve, for the entire community to sew, with the material free of charge. Check "The Nest At Magnolia Springs" on Facebook for updates on how many kits they have available on a given day. Completed masks should be returned to The Nest, for distribution (based on an ongoing waiting list of medical professionals).

The tutorials for a mask with fabric ties and pocket for a filter (the nurses and doctors prefer the ties, as elastic can be too tight and uncomfortable) can be found at the links below:

Mask center:

<https://bit.ly/2x0BRUs>

Mask ties:

<https://m.facebook.com/thenestms/>

(See videos "part 1" and "part 2" for ties.)

Sew surgical gowns:

Gowns can be made from bed sheets. The pattern is attached below. A video tutorial can be found here: <https://bit.ly/2X70BVJ>.

If you do not have fabric/sheets: There are donation drop-off and fabric pick-up containers, specifically for gowns, that have been set up on a local doctor's porch, at 824 Summer Lake Street in Fairhope. Drop by to pick-up fabric; supplies are replenished daily.

Thank you for considering helping. Regarding social distancing and the statewide "stay at home" order, this is considered an "essential service," and will require zero social interaction, on your part. As always, we appreciate your heart to serve our community!

students 16 or older) may be required to show their Driver's License when exchanging a broken Chromebook for a new one.

How do I get my child's Chromebook repaired?

Due to the quarantine, no computer repairs or replacements will be processed during the school closure. You may call the Technical Assistance Help Desk at 251-967-5333 to request help, or you may pick up printed materials for review at either your school or the Central Office. Please call your school to verify someone is there, or call the Technical Assistance Help Desk at 251-967-5333 to arrange a time to pick up printed materials from our Loxley location.

How can I pick up my elementary child's Chromebook now?

If you were unable to pick up your Elementary School student's Chromebook during the week ending March 20, it may be possible for you to pick up a Chromebook from the school during the closure. Information will be posted on each school's website of available times for pickup during the closure.

I can't connect to download materials. What else can I do?

Please call our Central Office Help Desk at 251-967-5333 and schedule a time to stop by our office in Loxley to pick up materials.

How do I connect my Chromebook to Wifi at home?

Power on the Chromebook. At the bottom right of the screen, click on the time clock, then click on the wireless network icon (upside-down cone shaped icon) and select your home Wifi from the list. Enter the password if prompted, and then click "Connect".

I do not have Wifi at home. How do I download the educational materials to work offline?

First, connect your Chromebook to the internet. This will mean of course that you must take your Chromebook somewhere that has Wifi access.

After connecting to the internet, follow the instructions on these two links:

https://docs.google.com/document/d/1DL7cBeBkMzvtv5oQGN1jd3LetGJS_5UkVmzb1w2ZxOeQ/edit

<https://docs.google.com/document/d/1uODDZPH4RIYIRPAEWOCV-yK-kxFe3N8xkPb3e--IM24/edit>

How do I access the materials provided for student reference during the closure?

Log into the Student Portal (students.bcbe.org). You will find an icon there labeled "School Closure Resources".

Click on this icon to load a shared Google Drive folder with resources for all students. Elementary School students for example will open the folder labeled "Elementary Schools", and then the folder(s) for the appropriate grade level or other resources needed.

You can access these resources from any computer as long as you're logged in to your @ibaldwin.org account.

How do I get to the Student Portal?

After logging into the Chromebook, you can open the web browser and go to students.bcbe.org. There is also a yellow icon at the bottom of the desktop that will take you to the Student Portal.

How do I log into my Chromebook?

When you power on your Chromebook, you should see an icon with your name displayed. Click on that icon, and then type your password into the password field. Your password is a 5 digit code. A printed page with this password was sent home with each Chromebook/Student.

April cooking with “The Littles”

Life in 2020 has a nuance that I was not expecting when the new year started.

None of us predicted our covid-colored-world and where we would find ourselves. Most of us have re-treated to our protective shells until the wind of change blows this pandemic away. For young families, it is a great time to cook with your little ones.

By this point, parents may be running out of ways to occupy their children. Teaching them the basics in the kitchen is something that everyone should learn. It will also provide a special bonding time that little ones crave. If you teach them to cook now, they'll be able to help you in the kitchen later. Who doesn't need a helping hand in the kitchen?

Rules for Teaching the Littles

MIMI WOODHAM
Dining with Mimi

1. Patience is key to teaching littles to cook. (Have wine on hand if patience evaporates)
2. Everyone needs an apron. (or pin a dishtowel)
3. Select a recipe that may be evenly divided if you have more than one little. Cookie recipes are easy to separate between multiple children.
4. When they make a mess teach them to clean as they go. (breathe and sip wine)
5. Teach them to start with best practices such as:
 - locate and place ingredients on counter
 - locate all baking pans and utensils needed
 - completely read the recipe out loud first
 - a clean kitchen is a ready kitchen
6. Teach them to cook a recipe they will like to eat. Cooking will help them to see food differently which may help with picky eaters.
7. While dish is cooking, everyone helps clean up.
8. After cooking dish, sit down and enjoy the fruits of your labor. Ask them questions. Do you like it? What could we add to make it better? What do you want to make next?
9. Give them a cookbook and allow them to pick out something that they want to eat. A cookbook with pictures works great. This month you will find loquats bountiful everywhere in our county. Cook Sun Kiss Loquat Cobbler with peeps. Peaches or strawberries may be substituted as well. This recipe is very easy to make with one child. If you have two children, make a pan for your house and one to give away.

cream served along with this will make the little ones howl with delight.

Enjoy your time with the littles. Before you know it, they will want to borrow the keys to the car and you may have to pay them to spend time with you.

If you want a cookie recipe for the littles, look for Updated 100 Year Old Oatmeal Cookie Recipe at www.diningwithmimi.com.

Note: This will be very hot when it comes out of the oven. A scoop of ice

She leads by example and provides innovative and creative marketing solutions to her industry partners and clients. Tara was among 65 STS Marketing College graduates in the Class of 2019. The graduates were announced at the STS Connections conference in Little Rock, Arkansas on Monday, February 10. The program began in 1992 and has produced 1,296 TMPs.

STS Marketing College uses facilities at the University of North Georgia, located in Dahlonega, Georgia, to teach travel marketing for a week each summer. The continuing education program began in 1992.

Registration is open for the 2020 session, which will take place July 26-31. STS membership is not required, but STS members receive a reduced tuition rate.

Instructors are travel industry professionals such as convention and visitor's bureau executives, public relations practitioners, sales and marketing consultants, and research experts.

"Our Marketing College program is designed to provide applicable tools and working knowledge that our travel and tourism professionals can immediately implement when promoting their destinations, attractions, hotels, and events," said Monica Smith, Southeast Tourism Society's President and Chief Executive Officer.

Study topics include online marketing strategies, creating an eye-catching and engaging tourism brochure, social media content planning and distribution, Google analytics, travel and tourism research, community engagement, economic impact studies, and budgeting. In addition to classroom work, students also must complete two projects that relate to their job while utilizing skills that were learned throughout the program.

"I am thankful to Gulf Shores and Orange Beach Tourism for providing me with a scholarship to attend STS Marketing College and am eager to apply the knowledge and skills acquired within my community", said Tara McMeans.

"Since its inception almost 30 years ago, Marketing College has elevated the level of service and professionalism visitors receive when traveling to the Southeast and has supported efforts to increase economic development through tourism. We're proud to be a part of that positive impact throughout the region," said Smith.

Update on Paycheck Protection Program progress

Launched less than two weeks ago, the Paycheck Protection Program, managed through the Small Business Administration, has funded nearly $248 billion in more than one million loans to small businesses across the country.

A total of 19,244 loans valued at $3.8 billion have been made to Alabama businesses through this program.

As part of the CARES Act signed into law on March 27, the Paycheck Protection Program provides much-needed assistance to many small businesses desperate for help as a result of the pandemic. With guidance from the U.S. Treasury and SBA, financial institutions across the state are helping their customers gain access to funding from this program.

"Alabama banks remain hard at work assisting small business owners in keeping Alabamians employed with Paycheck Protection Program loans. According to this latest report, Alabama ranks 21st in the number of PPP loans provided and 22nd in the total value of loans issued. Despite challenges with backlogs of applications along with systems delays across the nation, Alabama banks are persevering to provide much needed help to workers all across our state," ABA President and CEO Scott Latham said.

"Small business owners are encouraged to remain in close contact with local bankers to take advantage of this and other opportunities available during this pandemic."

A report from the SBA shows that on a national level 70% of these loans are for $150,000 or less. The top five industries receiving funding from the Paycheck Protection Program thus far are: construction; professional, scientific and technical services; manufacturing; health care and social assistance; and accommodation and food services.

The Alabama Bankers Association represents 126 banks. Banks in Alabama have combined deposits of more than $100 billion and have 1,466 locations across the state.

Yazdi one of three Baldwin scholar-athletes recognized for Bryant-Jordan Award

By TONY WHITEHEAD
tony@gulfcoastmedia.com

DAPHNE — Daphne senior Lillie Yazdi has been recognized for her commitment to achievement on and off the field. The longtime varsity swimmer and assistant athletic trainer for the Trojans football program and other sports plans to study and focus on sports medicine at the University of California at Los Angeles. Yazdi also hopes to become part of UCLA's intern programs and eventually work with the Bruins' football team. While there, she also plans to eventually seek an internship with the NFL's L.A. Chargers.

In what sport(s) do you participate and do you plan to continue in college?

Lillie Yazdi: I first started swimming when I was around four because my mom (Pari) wanted us to learn. After a few years she noticed it was something that my siblings and I were good at, so she signed us up for a team. I have been competitively swimming since I was about 6-years old. It was something I always did to keep me active and have something to do. I don't plan to swim in college because I never thought about doing it professionally, so I chose to focus on my academics when I do go to college.

What do you plan to major/concentrate in?

Lillie Yazdi: Since my freshman year in high school, I have been an athletic training assistant to my high school's football team. I was introduced to this program my first week of high school by my sports medicine teacher. Since then, I have worked at almost every single football practice and football on the sidelines. This helped to develop my love and passion for sports medicine and it is ultimately what I want to do for the rest of my life.

I am attending UCLA in the fall without a specific major yet. The main reason I am going to UCLA is because of the career opportunities that I can take advantage of. UCLA has its own sports medicine internship and so does the LA Chargers, my favorite NFL team. When going to school there, I am going to apply to both in hopes of getting one and continue my work with football.

What are you doing to stay in shape during this COVID-19 time out?

Lillie Yazdi: For the first few days, as any teenager does, I slept in, ate really bad, and did not get out of bed. After about a week or so, I realized how much I missed the feeling of being active. Now, I wake up every day and run from my house to school and back, which is about three miles. I then do around a 30-minute full body workout. There really is no need for me to do all this because I won't be a collegiate athlete, but my entire life had been focused on being active and that is a part of me that I will continue to do.

Who would you like to thank for helping you (in academics and athletics) get to this point?

Lillie Yazdi: I certainly would not be here without the help of any of my former swim coaches (I have had a lot!) and my parents for continuing to support my dreams and always being present at my events. I specifically owe my future and motivation to Alicia Cox, my sports medicine teacher. She gave me the guidance that lead to me having clarity on what I wanted to do for the rest of my life. Without her, I have no idea where I would be going or what I would be doing right now.

(DHS Athletic Director) Coach (Kenny) King is another huge figure in my life. Not only did he open his arms to me and allowed me to work with his program, but he was generous and trusting enough to allow me to be a part of the program as well and be a part of the team.

Because of that, I have developed life-long relationships with many of the players and coaches and it has caused me to truly know that I wasn't just some random girl down in the field doing little tasks, but I was someone that was included on the inside jokes, downfalls, and even got to pretend I was a player during practice one time. Even throughout times where there were people who tried to stop the work I was doing with the team, he advocated for me.

Look for another upcoming feature on Baldwin's other Bryant-Jordan winner Albany Casey of Baldwin County High in the pages of Gulf Coast Media newspapers.

The Bryant-Jordan Foundation honored all 104 AHSAA high school seniors on Monday night with its 35th Bryant-Jordan Awards program. But this year, in lieu of an actual banquet which has been held annually since 1986, the Bryant-Jordan Foundation recognized the regional recipients, the class and overall winners via television and online streaming. The Bryant-Jordan Foundation and WOTM TV produced the television and webcast show for broadcast over the AHSAA TV Network and the NFHS Network. The banquet was canceled due to crowd restrictions mandated by Governor Kay Ivey with respect to COVID-19 precautions. The Bryant-Jordan Awards Banquet emcee Chris Stewart served as host of the broadcast.

The Bryant-Jordan Program, named in honor of legendary coaches Paul "Bear" Bryant and Ralph "Shug" Jordan, has annually recognized 52 senior student-athletes, one from each of the eight AHSAA districts in Classes 1A through 6A and one from each of the four districts in Class 7A in the Bryant-Jordan Achievement Award category and the Bryant-Jordan Scholar-Athlete category.

Each regional winner is presented a $3,000 scholarship to the college of their choice from the Bryant-Jordan Foundation. During the ceremony the seven Scholar-Athlete Class winners and seven Achievement Award Class winners were also announced. Each received an additional $3,500 scholarship. The Larry D. Striplin, Jr. Scholar-Athlete of the Year recipient and the Ken and Betty Joe Blankenship Achievement Award Student-Athlete of the Year recipient were also announced.

Each received an additional $4,000 scholarship. Several other special scholarships were also presented.

The Bryant-Jordan Awards Program has been held annually since 1986 with more than $10.8 million in scholarship funding distributed to 3,222 student recipients.

WEEK OF APRIL 20, 2020

ARIES (March 21 to April 19) Don't be put off by a seemingly too-tangled situation. Sometimes a simple procedure will unsnarl all the knots and get you in the clear fast and easy, just the way the Lamb likes it.

TAURUS (April 20 to May 20) It's a good time to go through your work space — wherever it is — and see what needs to be replaced and what can be tossed (or at least given away) without a second thought.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 20) Someone who disagrees with your position might try to intimidate you. But continue to present a fair argument, regardless of how petty someone else might be while trying to make a point.

CANCER (June 21 to July 22) You might find yourself exceptionally sensitive to family matters this week. An issue could come to light that you had overlooked. Ask other kinfolk to discuss it with you.

LEO (July 23 to August 22) You might have more questions about a project (or perhaps someone you're dealing with on some level) than you feel comfortable with. If so, see which can be answered, which cannot, and why.

VIRGO (August 23 to September 22) It's a good time to clean up and clear out what you don't need before your tidy self is overwhelmed by "stuff." Then go celebrate the Virgo victory over clutter with someone special.

LIBRA (September 23 to October 22) You might feel a mite confused about why something you were sure couldn't go wrong didn't go all right either. Be patient. Things soon move into balance, exactly as you like it.

SCORPIO (October 23 to November 21) At this decision point, you could be moving from side to side, just to say you're in motion. Or you could be considering making a move straight up. What you choose is up to you.

SAGITTARIUS (November

22 to December 21) Although your finances should be in an improved situation at this time, thrift is still the savvy Sagittarian's smart move. Advice from a spouse or partner could be worth heeding.

CAPRICORN (December 22 to January 19) Taking on a new challenge brings out the Goat's skills in maneuvering over and around difficult spots. Best of all, the Goat does it one careful step after another. (Got the idea, Kid?)

AQUARIUS (January 20 to February 18) Your well-known patience might be wearing thin because of a disturbing (and seemingly unending) problem with someone close to you. This could be a time to ask for help. Good luck.

PISCES (February 19 to March 20) Be careful about a new venture that lures you into a "just look and see" mode. Be sure that what you're being given to see isn't hiding what you should be seeing instead.

Opinion

Fill out your census form, please

The U.S. government is going to give the state of Alabama $1,600 for every citizen who fills out one simple form.

$1,600. One form. Ten minutes. Civic duty, done.

But why should you care, really. I mean, you don't personally get the money so why bother, right?

Listen closely, you do get the money. In more ways than you can possibly count.

Did your kid eat lunch or breakfast at school for free or on a reduced fee meal plan? That $1,600 helped pay for that meal.

Are you a veteran? The money given to the state by the federal government for veterans' programs is tallied by the census count. No veterans, no money.

Do you have a student in college? Pell Grant dollars and student loans were distributed to Alabama students based on census counts.

Does food you receive from the Supplemental Nutrition Assistance Program fill the bulk of your cupboards? Alabama receives money to support the SNAP program from the census count.

If you see a doctor using Medicare Part B and Medicaid benefits the money given to Alabama is also calculated using census numbers.

Now, if you are sitting back feeling lucky that you don't use any of these government services, and therefore don't need to complete the census, you should prepare for bumpy roads ahead. A cool $797 million in funds were allocated to Alabama for highway planning and construction after the last census count.

In all Alabama received $13 billion in 2016 for 55 programs that are guided in some part by data derived from the census.

Every one of us either is someone or knows someone who benefits from those programs.

And, every one of us either is someone or knows someone who benefits from the spending done by those programs and their constituents in our towns and municipalities. The money being spent ripples through our communities.

And it is not just money our state stands to lose. The federal government might stop hearing us.

The number of representatives that a state is allotted in the U.S. House of Representatives is based on the population count gathered in the census. Less people equals less representatives equals less of a voice in national issues.

Alabama is in danger of losing one of its seven congressional seats. If less people fill out the census form, that seat is guaranteed to be taken from us, and our voice on federal issues weakened.

Do your home state a favor and fill out the census form. With the new online format it takes a mere 10 minutes to say you did your part to make Alabama great. Complete it today at www.my2020census.gov.

More observations

Allow me to share some more observations from the year.

One of my favorite people in the world and one of the finest gentlemen I have ever known is State Representative Steve Clouse of Ozark. My relationship with Steve goes under the category of Alabama is one Big Front Porch.

His sweet mother, Mrs. Ruth Price Clouse, passed away a month or so ago at 93. There was a nice church service at the First Methodist Church of Ozark. Afterwards, Steve and his lovely wife, Dianne, invited folks to come over to their house across the street from their church. It was a splendid gathering.

Our mamas grew up as best friends and Steve and I are close friends. Mama and Mrs. Ruth were friends through grade school and Troy High School. Mrs. Ruth married Jimmy Clouse from Ozark. They had two children, Steve and Kay. I had a sister named Kay. I always wondered if that was just a coincidence.

STEVE FLOWERS
Inside the Statehouse

Steve and I would play together as boys. As we grew older, we both went to the University of Alabama and were fraternity brothers. Then I went to the Legislature at around 31. Steve was elected eight years later. We served together in the House for about a decade.

Our districts adjoined — my district was Pike County and part of Dale County. Steve's district was Dale County. Our names were so similar that people today get us confused. Whenever I stop in Ozark, invariably people will say to me, "I like the way you are thinking that I am Steve Clouse. He tells me the same thing happens to him; someone will say to him, "I liked your column this week." However, that is where the similarities end. Steve is a better man that I am and, as he is quick to point out, he is five years younger.

If anyone knows the Katherine Tucker Windham adage, Alabama is just a Big Front Porch, it is Secretary of State John Merrill. He knows every crook and cranny of this state from one end to the other. He knows more people one-on-one than any other political figure in the state. He is by far the best retail politician in Alabama and has a tremendous grassroots organization in the Heart-of-Dixie.

Bradley Byrne worked hard in every county of the state in his race for the U.S. Senate. He has nothing to be ashamed of nor could he have done anything differently. He received 26% to Tommy Tuberville's 33% and Jeff Sessions' 32% in the March 3 primary. He could have won the race had Sessions not gotten in it at the last minute. He still would have probably made the run-off if a Super PAC, called the Club of Growth, had not spent over a half-a-million dollars in negative ads against him.

Byrne seems to be snake-bit by third party interlopers getting into his race. He would have won the 2010 governor's race had Dr. Paul Hubbert and the AEA not spent two million dollars in negative ads against him. Now the Club for Growth kicks him out of the Senate race.

Very few Alabamians are aware that one of Alabama's finest ladies, Vicki Drummond, of Jasper is Secretary of the National Republican Party. Mrs. Drummond was elected by her peers on the national committee to this prestigious and important post. She is the only Alabamian in state history to hold this position on the national political stage.

Vicki was a Republican before it was cool. She has worked in the state and Republican vineyards her entire adult life. She and husband, Dr. Mike Drummond, a Jasper dentist, have been leaders in their community and church, as well as the Republican party. They have two sons, Michael and Matthew, who both worked in the George W. Bush White House.

Mike Cason continues to be the premier political reporter in the state. The veteran follower of Alabama politics is concise and factual. You can take what he writes to the bank. He has taken the throne left by Phil Rawls as the best-on-the-block. He is also a good writer.

Joe Reed's day as the King of the Democratic Party is over. A new, young group of outstanding leaders have taken the state Democratic Party away from him. His Alabama Democratic Conference took a terrible beating in the recent Democratic Presidential Primary in the state. Reed went out on a limb and endorsed Michael Bloomberg. Joe Biden gave him a good old-fashioned whipping in Alabama. Bloomberg only got 12 percent of the vote in the state.

Former governor Don Siegelman has a new book out, Stealing Our Democracy. It is a memoir that reveals how the political assassination of a governor threatens our nation.

See you next week.

Steve Flowers is Alabama's leading political columnist. His weekly column appears in over 60 Alabama newspapers. He served 16 years in the state legislature. Steve may be reached at www.steveflowers.us.

8 p.m. on CBS-5 Let's Go Crazy: The Grammy Salute to Prince

Filmed live this past January at the Los Angeles Convention Center, this special features an all-star lineup of musical artists in a salute to a beloved musician and seven-time Grammy Award-winning performer whose unprecedented influence on the contemporary music scene still is being felt. The lineup includes several of Prince's most celebrated musical friends and collaborators, including his band the Revolution, singer and percussionist Sheila E. and funk band Morris Day and the Time. John Legend, Usher and Earth, Wind & Fire also perform.

8 p.m. on FOX-10 FOX-25 Empire

With its current season cut short due to coronavirus concerns, the new episode "Home Is on the Way" becomes the de facto series finale of this once vital musical drama. The story finds Cookie (Taraji P. Henson) reflecting on her life and the woman she has become in her fight to regain control of Empire.

8 p.m. on ID Diabolical

No eyebrows were raised in connection with the separate passing of three local men over a span of 12 years. Nothing about the deaths suggested anything suspicious and no charges were filed in connection to them. When a deadly car explosion rips through downtown Pensacola, Fla., however, suspicion almost immediately falls on a single subject in the new episode "Devil Wears False Eyelashes."

9 p.m. on ABC-3 For Life

The new episode "Character and Fitness" flashes back over the previous nine years of Aaron Wallace's (Nicholas Pinnock) incarceration as he reflects on this life-changing journey from terrified novice inmate to attorney and social justice crusader.

9 p.m. on A&E Accused: Guilty or Innocent?

This new docuseries puts an intimate, sometimes almost painfully candid face on the harrowing process that unfolds after a person faces trial for a serious crime he or she has alleged to have committed. Using unprecedented access to members of the legal team, as well as the friends and loved ones of the accused, each episode follows that journey through the planning of their legal defense, the trial itself and finally, the verdict.

Quarantined and bored? Try new recipes from YouTube

The old adage that familiarity breeds contempt holds especially true in this time of quarantining.

For the foodie, that can mean what you eat. With restaurants closed, you've likely been doing a lot of cooking for yourself and by now you're probably sick to death of it. The thought of consuming another meatloaf, roasted chicken or spaghetti dinner produced by your own hand makes you physically ill. This, of course, is no reflection on your actual skill in the kitchen.

So what to do?

YouTube has plenty of novel ideas for meals to make in this age of no eating out. So log on and check out some recipes that you can make today with what is in your pantry.

That's certainly on Gordon Ramsay's mind in his "Quick & Simple Recipes" (www.youtube.com/watch?vmhDJNfV7hj), in which the chef, restaurateur and TV personality shows how to make delicious dinners from such staples as pasta, chicken breast, flour, eggs, potatoes and cheese. His gnocchi looks incredible as well as easy and his mantra "simple is always the most impressive" certainly rings true here.

For those who like to employ their instant pots, "31+ Pandemic Recipes in the Instant Pot" (www.youtube.com/watch?vbZq_4_skSc) may have a few possibilities. Here, host Lisa Childs shows how to make cheap and easy meals using your emergency stores of frozen and nonperishable food. Her offerings range from standards such as oatmeal and mac and cheese to more offbeat fare like Hawaiian meatballs and lime cilantro rice. Chow down while shut down.

Sam the Cooking Guy wants you to eat more interestingly while sheltering in place in his multi-part "Quarantine (Lockdown) Munchies" (www.youtube.com/watch?vh0GMUXSdYaI), in which he shows how to make quick and easy recipes that feature poultry, ground beef, pasta, eggs and more. Among the offerings are a chicken noodle wonton soup, chili mac and cheese, a chicken and ramen noodles stir fry, Mexican chips and dip and a fritata. Imaginative fare made from commonplace items.

 David Attenborough hosts this new one-hour documentary, which brings together some of the world's leading climate scientists to discuss what might happen if the current level of global warming increased by just 1.5 degrees, and examines the dramatic, even dire, consequences rising temperatures can have on ice sheets, developing communities, fragile ecosystems and extreme weather events. Eyewitnesses contribute their accounts of experiences in California wildfires, extreme coastal flooding in Louisiana and other devastation.

OF 'BROKE' ON CBS

How much does the presence of a studio audience help your performance?

A lot. I really like a live situation because I'm a stand-up comedian and I have been for 20 years. So just getting the reactions from your entrances and exits ... really does kind of do it for you more than other things (laughs). And also delivering the jokes is really fun because, especially in a multicam like this, there's a lot of heart in it but there's a lot of one-liners.

You know, the ability to be able to do a one-liner and then in the next take do another one, like a different one — maybe they weren't laughing at this one. And then all the writers will get together and be like, "OK, now on the third take, try this joke." And that might be the best one and the audience is always surprised. And you know, the audience never really lies. You can kind of tell what the best joke is from the three times you do it because of the measure of which they laugh (laughs).

So in essence, the audience chooses which joke is best?

In a way, yeah, they can, especially with — you know, it's a multicam, there are many cameras going at once so you can edit it all together. But when it's replacing a line, yeah, for sure, you see what's the funniest.

Do you have any leeway for improv within that?

Yeah ... but they have an amazing staff who are always there on set during the tape nights so they would pitch you things and then I would sometimes be like, "OK, well what about that part ...?" We would all kind of collaborate together and that was a really fun part of it.

OF 'BETTER THINGS' ON FX

How would you describe your style as the director, as well as the star, of "Better Things"?

I love that (actor-director John) Cassavetes came up with all of that stuff, and documentaries in the '80s and all of that. I like it when a camera is on somebody who is not talking, and if somebody's outside of a frame. It's just very organic. It's like the whole thing is kind of living and breathing, and I like it. I like lights to be contrast-y and weird. I like practical light. It's just my aesthetic that I try to put into the show, so I'm lucky enough that my network enables me to do that.

Is there any change to your process for the show, and its mature content, now that FX is owned by Disney?

No change. I've been working for Disney for years and years and years, doing animation (via voice work). And what is exciting for me was when I was doing the marketing shoot, (I was told about) FX being on Hulu, and it's my No. 1 dream that more people can see the show. And hopefully, that's going to happen with us premiering on Hulu.

Every single time I'm on a plane, I go on the (seatback video) screen and ("Better Things" is) never on. So I call FX, and they're like, "We can't do anything about it, it's the buyers" ... so I'm very excited for it to be more accessible and for people to watch this show, because I love the show.

Are you used to working with a free hand creatively?

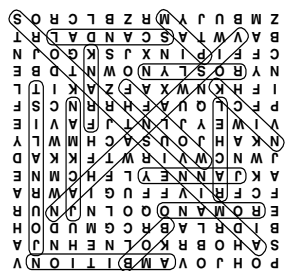

I have a very healthy communication with my network, and every time they give me a note — which is not often — it's never mandatory, but it always makes my show better. It either makes me dig my heels in and know that the choice I've made is right, or it makes me think about doing it in a different way.

BY GEORGE DICKIE

"St. Elmo's Fire" (1985) In a Brat Pack cast that also included Demi Moore, Emilio Estevez, Ally Sheedy, Judd Nelson and Andrew McCarthy as young Georgetown University grads struggling with adulthood, Lowe shined as irresponsible musician Billy.

"Youngblood" (1986) Lowe did solid work in this drama about a talented young hockey player who will have to learn to handle himself with his fists if he is to triumph over a brutal opponent and advance to the pros. Patrick Swayze, Cynthia Gibb and Ed Lauter also star.

"About Last Night ..." (1986) In this first film adaptation of the David Mamet play "Sexual Perversity in Chicago," Lowe and Moore reunited to play 20-somethings who hook up, shack up and then break up amid much angst in the Windy City. Jim Belushi and Elizabeth Perkins stole the show as the lovers' best friends who did what they could to sabotage the relationship.

"Square Dance" (1987) Lowe did fine work in this underrated drama in which he played a mentally challenged teenager who catches the eye of a new neighbor's (Jane Alexander) 13-year-old daughter (Winona Ryder).

"Bad Influence" (1990) Lowe played it dark in this drama as a sociopath who becomes the best friend and confidante of a young executive (James Spader) in need of backbone. Needless to say, things go from bad to worse as the relationship progresses from companionship to one of obsession.

"Wayne's World" (1992) Though overshadowed by Mike Myers and Dana Carvey as suburban Chicago cable-access TV stars Wayne and Garth, Lowe was nonetheless stellar as the dastardly network executive who has designs on the teens' production.

"Contact" (1997) In a small part, Lowe played it holier-than-thou as a religious leader who had serious qualms with a scientist's (Jodie Foster) possible discovery of life elsewhere in the universe in Robert Zemeckis' excellent sci-fi drama. Matthew McConaughey, Angela Bassett and James Woods also star.

"The Invention of Lying" (2009) In a world where untruths are never spoken, Lowe's character was the nemesis of a man who spoke the first one in Ricky Gervais' at-times amusing comedy. The stellar cast also includes Tina Fey, Jeffrey Tambor, Louis C.K. and Jonah Hill.
