Susan N. McCollough

PAINTING "FOR THE LOVE OF IT"

Susan Nomberg McCollough was selected in Florence, Italy where she traveled to receive "Artist of the Year" in 2017 by Art Tour International Magazine and was selected as one of the Top 60 Masters of Contemporary Art. She also earned the title of Best Modern/Contemporary Artist of 2015/2016/2017. McCollough was born in Bronx, New York; grew up in Dothan, Alabama; and graduated from Dothan High School.

She received her B.S. in Theater and Art from The University of Alabama studying with Alvin C. Sella, Frank Engel, Max Hellman and later continued to study with many accomplished artists and teachers, including Professor Gary Sussman at Students Arts League of New York, Vytlačil Campus (sculpture) and Sonia De Franceschi at the Accademia D'Arte in Florence, Italy "(Old Masters technique of painting and gold leafing)".

McCollough has produced numerous paintings, many on commission, and she has exhibited in many solo and group exhibitions across four continents.

The University of Alabama commissioned her to create a painting to honor her late professor and life-long mentor, Al Sella. The painting is an impressionistic portrait of the iconic artist and his emblematic bicycle. This large portrait now hangs in the art building, Clark Hall, and it is slated to do so in perpetuity.

Susan N. McCollough served on the Art Committee at the United States Sports Academy for more than 10 years. The USSA attracts and honors artists from around the world and is solely responsible for selecting featured artist for the Olympics. She now serves not only on the committee as Artist Emeritus but also on the Academy's Board of Trustees.

She is a member of the Women's Art World organization in Marrakech, Morocco. The WAW's mission is to bring together and promote Women’s art in a world of different cultures, languages, and art. Today, there are 20 countries and 35 artists represented in Women’s Art World. Susan is also a member of ICAF (International Culture and Arts Federation) in Seoul, South Korea; NOMA (New Orleans Museum of Art) in New Orleans, Louisiana (USA); BMOA (Birmingham Museum of Art) in Birmingham, Alabama (USA); MMofA (Mobile Museum of Art) in Mobile, Alabama (USA); Metropolitan Museum of Las Vegas in Las Vegas, Nevada (USA); MOMA (Museum of Modern Art) New York City, New York (USA), MMOA (Metropolitan Museum of Art) in New York City, New York (USA) and DMA (Dallas Museum of Art) Dallas, Texas (USA).

McCollough paints primarily on large canvases, sometimes working on as many as three or four paintings at a time. Her works are Abstract Expressionist with a freedom of movement and vibrant, or sometimes, monochromatic colors. She sculpts using water-based clay and paints in oils and acrylics, as well as in charcoal and ink, pastels, water-colors, and mixed media.

Susan N. McCollough is celebrating her eighth year in her Gallery and Studio which houses more than 50 representative examples of her work. The theme of her Grand Opening was:

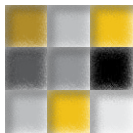

REHEARSAL REFLECTION

CORPUS OPUS

“Past and Present.” Now, after years of painting, she says she can paint everyday “For the love of it.” I paint from the excitement of the blank canvas. I paint with freedom of inner-feelings, movement, lighting, connection of space, combination of colors, playing with positive and negative space until it all speaks to me.”

Most days you will find her working in the studio, where she welcomes all visitors. It is located next to the Villas at the McCollough Institute. The Institute is located at 350 Cypress Bend Blvd., Gulf Shores, Alabama 36542.

In his youth, Jack Swindle captured beautiful scenery and faces on a canvas. He painted, traveled and sculpted. And when he said he was able to finally afford a decent camera and equipment he made the jump to photography, and never looked back. Now, sometimes it is hard to tell if his gorgeous photos are created with a snap or a stroke of the brush. His painter's eye, and technique, has jumped from the canvas to the frame.

In 1976 Bill Wismar became a goldsmith's apprentice under his father. Using old world integrity and workmanship, he trained Bill in the fine art of jewelry design. Bill's designs, integrating graceful, natural forms with contemporary flair are influenced by growing up on the Texas Gulf Coast. He strives to create wearable art; "this means jewelry with a unique design that's fun and easy to wear. I envision my jewelry as miniature sculptures and I work to carry the design throughout the entire piece." His jewelry is made heavy, to be handed down from one generation to the next; something he feels is missing in today's mass-produced jewelry market that is dominated by lightweight, promotional items. Since 2006 he has been creating works of art in his Fairhope studio and gallery, winning a national award and many Alabama state awards for jewelry design. Now living out in the country in a log home he has time to design and create pieces of art in the solitude of the beautiful, quiet surroundings that inspire him. Bill is convinced that you will enjoy wearing his jewelry as much as he enjoyed its creation.
