The Fairhope Arts and Crafts Festival committee is comprised 100% of volunteers that have executed the festival for numerous years. In 2016 the volunteers formed the Fairhope Arts & Crafts Festival Foundation that is now a recognized 501c3 organization. The proceeds from the festival are used to award scholarships and donations to various groups in the Fairhope community. To date, over $100,000 in proceeds have been awarded to area students and groups in the Fairhope community

The Eastern Shore Arts Association

Many people do not realize that the Fairhope Arts and Crafts Festival is actually made up of two separate shows. Now in its 47th year, the Outdoor Art Show hosted by the Eastern Shore Art Center is located north of Magnolia Avenue along Section Street, on Equality Street and on Oak Street in front of the Art Center. The show includes up to 125 booths of fine artists and craftspeople, attracting more than 350,000 visitors each spring. The Outdoor Art Show is a major fundraiser for the Art Center, allowing free admission to the public all year round. Gallery and gift shop hours are Tuesday through Saturday, 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. For more information, visit www.esartcenter.org.

Fairhope Arts and Crafts Festival – Be a Part of the History!

Welcome to the 69th Annual Fairhope Arts and Crafts Festival. Can you believe how far our hometown festival has come? Not only is this festival widely known amongst the locals, but it is also known across the entire state of Alabama and recognized throughout America as one of the oldest and most prestigious art festivals in the country. Can you believe this cultural festival started over 68 years ago as a tour?

According to records held by the Eastern Shore Chamber as well as newspaper articles, the Arts and Crafts Tour started on February 22, 1953 and lasted until February 28. Back then, these seven-day art exhibits were set up in store windows. The tour schedule also included entertainment and craft demonstrations. Some artists and exhibitors did sell items, but the majority of the exhibits were for viewing purposes only.

The tour was planned to coordinate with Mobile Jaycees' Azalea Trail and Mobile Mardi Gras celebrations with hopes that the locals and visitors attending these festive events would also attend the tour and bear witness to the many talents of the Eastern Shore residents. In 1965, the tour expanded to include exhibitors and activities from the other Eastern Shore cities of Daphne and Spanish Fort with the opening ceremonies held in Spanish Fort and ending with a play in Fairhope.

The year 1967 saw a slight change where exhibitor participants of the festival were asked to pay 10% commission on their gross sales. In 1975 craftsmen set up displays in "Craft-Houses" which were created from vacant buildings. In 1978 the event was shortened to three days. This was the same year that exhibitors left buildings and shops to display their wares on the sidewalks.

The first prize money was awarded in 1983 for Best of Show and the recipient was given $250. This same year the exhibitor booths were moved from the sidewalks and edges of the streets to the center. The next year, the Mary McGrath Award was established.

Starting in 1997, the festival has been recognized by Sunshine Artist Magazine as one of the top 200 Festivals in the United States and has received this honor in the following years. The artists and exhibitors who participate in the shows all over the United States are the ones who vote on this award, so if the artists like the festival, you know it must be a great one! Recent awards include being ranked #10 in 2007, #26 in 2011, #2 in the state of Alabama and #23 in the nation in 2013 and in the past years the Festival has consistently been recognized in the top 20 for the Top 200 Best by Sunshine Artist Magazine.

The Fairhope Arts and Crafts Festival has certainly changed over the years; exhibitors are no longer only locals, exhibitors are no longer charged a commission on sales, just an entry fee, the number of visitors is now in six-digit figures, and the activities surrounding the festival have grown as well. The most recent change has been the formation of the Fairhope Arts and Crafts Foundation, started just a few years ago by volunteers of the Fairhope Arts and Crafts Committee. The Foundation takes opportunities such as the festival to give back to the city of Fairhope and residents by supporting arts in the community. To date, the festival has made donations back into the Arts in the Fairhope community of over $100,000.

This year, be a part of the history yourself and join other visitors as well as wonderful artists and crafters from all over the state of Alabama in the flower-lined streets of picturesque Fairhope as we promote artwork and craftsmanship, good will and festivity in the most charming and magical area of the world — our hometown.

ALL ALABAMA SHOW 2021

In 2021, the Fairhope Arts & Crafts Festival will feature only artists from the great state of Alabama. Trying to work within our state restrictions at the time of planning, the committee felt that this would be the safest option for the patrons, artists, volunteers, downtown businesses and city workers. For 2021, the committee has laid out the booths to offer additional space between them and are encouraging everyone to wear masks as they go into booths and local businesses. Additional precautions will be taken throughout the festival to insure a safe environment and experience for all.

The 69th Annual Fairhope Arts & Crafts Festival will take us back to our roots of the festival by showcasing local artists and their craftsmanship. We are proud to showcase and recognize the great talent that is in Alabama.

Featured Artist

Meet our 2021 feature artist: Judy Oxford

The 69th Fairhope Arts and Crafts Festival of 2021 is proud to announce Judy Oxford as the featured artist.

Judy Jackson Oxford grew up in Fairhope in the Fruit and Nut section of town where she now resides again. She dedicates her painting for the 2021 Festival in memory of her mother, Rae Bernhardt Jackson.

Rae was an artist and served as chairman for the festival not once but twice and continued to serve as co-chair many ears as needed in the 1980s. Oxford's mother's family lineage dates back to the original Fairhope settlers.

As unusual 2020 year has brought changes to the Fairhope Arts and Crafts Festival volunteers and decisions for March 2021. The decision to base the show on Alabama artists and look for artwork that was reflective of Alabama yet expressing Fairhope's Mobile Bay charm was thought to be a challenge. It was not much of a challenge for the talented and deep-rooted Fairhope artist. She stayed true to her style, incorporated the elements necessary to reflect the festival's Alabama theme and produced a jaw dropping beautiful sunset that says Fairhope, Alabama. In researching the Yellowhammer, the Northern Flicker, she found that there was a substantial sighting of the birds in the Fruit and Nut part of town this past fall.

Judy graduated from Fairhope High School and attended Auburn University, majoring in Visual Design. She returned to Fairhope four years ago and serves on the board at Eastern Shore Art Center. Over the years she has won several Best of Show awards and has had two individual shows at the Eastern Shore Art Center. A great article on Judy was featured in the June 2018 issue of Mobile Bay Magazine that features one of her great musical pieces of artwork inspired by the Excelsior Jazz Band. Judy's art revolves mostly around the seascapes o the picturesque Mobile Bay view with its draping moss, classic piers, breathtaking sunsets and charming scenes of life on the bay. Her artwork can be viewed at the Gallery By The Bay on Fairhope Avenue.

Ronda Gooch

Ronda Gooch is the owner of Gooch Gallery, a self-guided gallery representing award winning artists located inside the Sonesta Resort Hilton Head Island. She is a Fairhope native and graduate of Fairhope High School. She credits the influence of the Eastern Shore art community for inspiring her love of art.

Her career spanned from humanitarian work in Mogadishu, Somalia to managing a Southeastern territory for the American Red Cross. But, it was during her time coordinating events inside resort hotels that inspired her to create a unique gallery concept to showcase artwork beyond the walls of a traditional gallery. Since its inception, art has been on display for guests of all ages to enjoy, and purchased pieces have been shipped throughout the country and internationally. Her business has expanded with art expos throughout the United States which match venues with specific art styles. Ronda resides in Charlotte, N.C. with her husband and two Boston Terriers, and has two grown children and two step-children.

Patron Award Program

Many artists would argue that the most coveted honor is when visitors stop by their booth and purchase their works. The Patron Award Program allows businesses or individuals to honor their favorite artists and craftsmen by committing to purchase at least $100 from one of the festival vendors. When they find that special piece and buy it, they present the artist with a ribbon and placard bearing their name or the name of their business. Patrons may purchase works from any exhibitor they choose and the money goes directly to the artist. For more information visit www.fairhopeartsandcraftsfestival.com (Patron Award button on home page)
