Coastal Alabama Farmer's and Fisherman's Market:

Local produce, homemade products, friendly atmosphere

BY JESSICA VAUGHN

Locally grown fresh produce. Homemade baked goods right out of the kitchen. Beautiful handcrafted or painted products. Friendly smiles and vendors prepared to give you the breakdown on their wares. If you're looking for a unique shopping experience where you can find all of this in one place, then step inside Coastal Alabama Farmer's and Fisherman's Market (CAFFM) located at 20733 Mifflin Road in Foley.

Recently voted as one of the 2021 USA TODAY 10 Best Readers' Choice Award Winners for Best Farmers Market, it's easy to see why once you step inside the covered building.

"Everything at the market has to be local, so people know when they come here on Saturdays that everything here is grown in the area, produced in the area," said Isaac Godfrey, manning the booth for the Forland Family Market. Along with selling products from the Forland family farms, the booth offers produce from other local farmers and vendors who are unable to attend the market days. "Most of the products are not heavily treated or grown commercially, so everything here truly has a hometown, casual market feel."

CAFFM was built in 2013, and has steadily grown since. Strolling through the market, you'll find everything from produce, coffee, baked goods, paintings and handcrafted artwork, local honey, fresh fruits, Gulf-caught shrimp and fish and so much more. Each week offers new finds as new vendors come out and join the weekly market. The products offered are ever-changing with the seasons and vendors present on any given Saturday.

Every other week you'll find Sheila Quick set up with a selection of gluten-free baked goods that, believe it, you'd never guess were gluten-free.

"I have taken some old family recipes and some new-found recipes and tweaked them," she said. "I tweak them until they get the way that I think they should taste. I try to bring a variety, I've got cupcakes, muffins, brownies, blondies and cookies. I just try to make sure everything's delicious because good gluten-free is so hard to find." She says she loves setting up her booth at the CAFFM as it gives her the opportunity to meet and talk to people, and the crowds are always great.

Being able to talk to customers is a huge draw for Christina Steffen, co-owner of Artworks Local Arts and Gifts and retired high school art teacher from outside of St. Louis. She moved to Florida seven years ago and now has the time to create her own artwork in her garage studio. She set up booth at the CAFFM for the first time in May.

"It's fun to meet a lot of people at once and talk about your art," Steffen said. "If you have your shop it can be a bit difficult sometimes, so this gives me an opportunity to do some things that I don't get to do in the shop."

Whereas Steffen began her market experience for the first time in May, others have been setting up as vendors for a long time. Local beekeeper Daryl Pichoff has been a vendor at the market since it originally opened, and he has no intention of stopping.

"I'm here every Saturday — if God wakes me up, I'll be here," he said. "I enjoy the market. Number one it's a fabulous building to come under because you're protected from the sun and the rain, and you just back your truck up and you can sell off the back of the truck or they provide tables here, which is wonderful. Two, I enjoy the clientele that comes, we have a lot of people who are interested in the bees and the environment, so it gives me an opportunity to be a steward for the bees, and I enjoy telling that story to folks.”

Pichoff says he has approximately seven million bees on his farm, where he produces two types of honey: wildflower honey, which is the best honey if you have pollen allergies as it contains pollens from a multitude of plants all through the seasons, and orange blossom honey that he makes using the oranges from his own orange trees. The orange blossom honey pairs great with hot tea, he said. Pichoff also grows blackberries, blueberries, citrus, and rotational crops including sweet corn, sunflowers, cotton and soybeans.

Pichoff was able to turn his passion into profit, doing something he loves while bringing money into the farm. Kathy Rush, on the other hand, found something she never knew she enjoyed so much thanks to a wild idea from her husband.

“Nine years ago as my husband and I were moving down here, he said, ‘hey, we’re going to roast coffee,’ and my first comment was, ‘why?’” she said with a laugh. She and her husband run Wolf Bay Coffee. Rush says her husband was the coffee drinker, while she preferred tea. Once she and her husband began roasting coffee beans to sell, she realized she had just never had the right cup of coffee before.

“We don’t sell anything that’s over two weeks old,” she said. “We also grind to order. A lot of coffee from stores and even some coffee places can be anywhere from nine to 18 months old, and anything after a month or two, to me, just loses its flavor.”

Wolf Bay Coffee offers a selection of flavors, including Guatemalan, House Blend, and Peru, just to name a few. Rush works with three different importers and has coffee shipped to her home in groups of 40 and 50 pounds. They also offer decaf. Rush says it’s the fresh offerings of the CAFFM that make it the perfect place to sell and shop.

“Everybody here is so friendly, and the fruits and vegetables, the homemade bakery type products, they’re all so fresh,” she said. “It’s just fantastic. The eggs are amazing, what a difference from store bought eggs to eggs where the farmers grind the feed for the chickens!”

CAFFM is open Saturdays from 9 a.m. to 2 p.m. Stop by and check out all the local products, chat with the vendors about what they’re selling, and get a fresh taste of what Baldwin has to offer.

Anthony Jones ... Well Worth A Visit!

Voted The Best Salon in Baldwin County

It was a beautiful summer morning when we left Fairhope, low humidity and not a cloud in the sky. We were on our way down to Orange Beach to check out a business that many of our friends have told us about, this Englishman who had opened a Hair Salon on the beach with his daughter Emma. My hair is very important to me and getting a good haircut is a must, and that is what Anthony Jones is known for and excellent hair color to boot.

We have both been very dissatisfied with the last few attempts on designing our hair to suit our lifestyles; most of the so called stylists did not take into consideration our age or understand that we both want to look great without a lot of fuss and bother.

The traffic was a bit heavy due to the summer visitors, but we arrived on time to this charming yellow and white beach house on the beach road with a fabulous view of the Gulf of Mexico. We were greeted warmly by Anthony and Emma and they ask us if we would like a cold drink or a glass of wine before he started making us beautiful.

Pam, my friend, went first since I was a little chicken after the last experiences. Anthony directed her to a styling chair and went on to explain the ten most important rules in designing a custom hairstyle to suit her. He first looked at her face shape and explained that there are five face shapes out there and told her her face shape was oval. The next was bone structure and head shape, after that was the type of her hair, the texture of her hair, then what sort of condition her hair was in, followed by the way the hair grows out of the head, plus cow licks, then her likes and dislikes and fashion. Wow! What a lot of things to get right.

So then Emma started with a relaxing shampoo and deep conditioning, then for the next 30 minutes Anthony's hands were a sea of motion, lastly a quick blow dry with hardly any fuss and presto she was finished! She was so happy and she could not believe the difference in her hair.

Now it was my turn, my hair especially in the summer gets very frizzy and dry; I have tried everything out there for my hair with no success! Anthony explained that commercial hair products are made different to professional hair products. Commercial shampoos are made of mild detergent and the conditioners are based on petroleum oil. Where professional hair products are pure and natural and give back to the hair, he also went on to say that we should all wash our hair every day and condition our hair the same.

Anthony explained that at all times our hair has to have at least 8% moisture in it the same as our skin, we should treat our hair the same way as we treat our skin, by moisturizing it every day which made a lot of sense to me, since the last stylist told me not to wash my hair every day because in her mind it would dry it out. Anthony explained to me that yes using some drug store products would dry your hair out if washed daily. After we went through the ten rules, he took me to the shampoo area and treated me to the best shampoo and conditioning my hair had ever had.

While shampooing, Emma explained to me what I should do in the morning in the shower, again stressing no over-the-counter hair products, that's why my hair is dry and frizzy. After shampooing and before conditioning, towel blot the hair because the hair is porous like a sponge, putting any conditioner on one's hair when it is full of water will not go into the hair itself, so blot it first then apply the product and leave it in while you are washing yourself. Then before you leave the shower, rinse and count up to 10 slowly and stop, just rinse the excess and no more.

After she explained to me the hows & whys, I understood. They are like hair doctors, if we listen and do what they says it works! Anthony has his own line of products and everything he used on me was his and believe me the stuff works. The cut he gave me was wonderful; I walked out a new woman and so did Pam, no more frizzes! Oh, by the way he used a great product before he dried my hair called "POTION." It is a gel with a lot of healing features with body, fabulous! I bought a bottle. Best money we ever spent and yes, we are definitely going back. He is a true professional.

Well worth a visit!

Red Snapper Fishing

As I told you the past few months, the artificial reefs are a must for catching red snapper. I can honestly say they are working.

According to charter fishermen, Hurricane Sally did not destroy all of the manmade reefs, but moved a few.

According to The Department of Conservation and Natural Resources Marine Resources Division the Alabama state waters and federal waters opened for red snapper fishing on Friday, May 28. The season will consist of four-day weekends, Friday through Monday, and continue until the private angler quota is projected to be met.

Anglers fishing from federally permitted for-hire vessels have their own 63-day season which began June 1 at 12:01 am local time through Aug. 3, at 12:01 am local time. The daily bag limit will be two red snapper per person, per day with a minimum size limit of 16 inches total length.

Each vessel landing red snapper in Alabama is required by law to complete one landing report per vessel trip of their harvested red snapper through Snapper Check prior to removing the fish from the boat. All red snapper landed are required to be reported prior to landing regardless of the jurisdiction in which they were caught. The exact Alabama private angler quota has not yet been provided by the National Marine Fisheries service but is anticipated to be similar to the 2020 quota which was 1,122,662 pounds. I really hope the quota is not met early like last year because many trips had to be cancelled.

As of now, there are still a few days left so get out and go catch some big red snapper.

Local historian Margaret Childress Long moved to Orange Beach from Evergreen when she was just two months shy of her second birthday. Although she did spend 12 years in Creola she has always called Orange Beach home. Margaret and her husband Buddy live in the same house where Margaret's parents lived for more than 50 years. Her dad paid $12,500 to Dr. Amos Garret of Robertsdale, her mom's first cousin, in 1949 for the 300 ft. waterfront parcel. A teacher at Fairhope Middle and High Schools and Elberta Middle School, Margaret served the island as school board representative for six years. A fisherman, hunter and farmer, her father also owned a farm in Summerdale. Sons Wesley and Brooks have turned the farm into the popular Alligator Alley tourist attraction.

Margaret has co-authored two books, "The Best Place to Be – The Story of Orange Beach, Alabama" and "Orange Beach Alabama – A Pictorial History"

POCKETS OF PERFECTION

Sun, sand and surf. This are the things vacations are made of. But every once in a while even the most devoted sun lover needs a day in the cool shade. Lucky for them, Baldwin County is home to some of the most beautiful beaches on the Gulf Coast as well as some of the most beautiful parks and green spaces that the coast has to offer.

Check out this list of green spaces, parks and nature trails, pockets of perfect, that are carved out and nestled among our beautiful beaches and tourist attractions. You just might find yourself coming back year after year, drawn by these quiet natural wonders rather than the roar of the mighty shoreline.

Deep fried delights

An ode to the most delectable taste on the beach

Fresh seafood, tropical drinks and deep fried everything?

Oh my?

Oh yeah!

If you are visiting Alabama's gorgeous white sand beaches for the first time, it may feel like you have strayed far from the traditional Deep South. But this nearly tropical paradise is in fact Alabama, and you are nestled in one of the most delicious communities this state has to offer.

At the top of our long and distinguished menu offerings, is deep fried everything, a Southern tradition that will make your mouth water every time you hear the song, "Sweet Home Alabama" drift from your radio speakers.

Sure, you may have tried coconut shrimp at other balmy locations, but for the best regionally you need to visit DeSoto's Seafood Kitchen. And maybe you've ventured into foreign territory by popping some warm and spicy fried okra, a staple of our summer picnic tables. You'll find our favorite at Big Daddy's down on the river in Fairhope.

If you stop at Lulu's for any meal you best order a side of fried green tomatoes no matter what else is on your plate, or we reckon you can't really say you've been to Alabama.

And for a walk on the wild fried side, visit Sassy Bass where the staff deep fries Mahi Mahi, porridge balls and Gouda cheese balls. You will never think of seaside food the same way again, and we guarantee, you'll be back!
