Steve Mobley appointed Magnolia Springs councilman

By JESSICA VAUGHN
jessica@gulfcoastmedia.com

MAGNOLIA SPRINGS — Steve Mobley was appointed as the newest Magnolia Springs council member at the town's regular September meeting. Mobley will be taking seat 2 after former council member Donna Esslinger was recently forced to resign due to health issues.

The decision comes after much deliberation from the present council, who received letters of interest from townspeople the week prior to the meeting. In the end, the decision was unanimous. Though the council agreed that everyone who showed interest would be great candidates, there were a few instances that set Mobley apart.

"I nominate Steve because he's been to just about every meeting we've had," said council member Ben Dykema. "He's up-to-date on everything that's going on, he's served on the Planning Commission since our inception, he's served on the Public Lands Committee, he serves

OWA brings thrills, chills, and screams

Halloween comes early at OWA

By JESSICA VAUGHN
jessica@gulfcoastmedia.com

FOLEY — Looking for a place where everyone can have a good time this Halloween, whether you're a diehard horror fan looking to scream or a parent with little ones searching for the treats? Look no further than OWA, the location where you can find all your Halloween needs.

You start by coming to the entrance to one of the most frightening experiences you can find in Baldwin County this season, OWA's Town of Terror. The haunted house attraction is brought on by a partnership between OWA and Fairhope's Nightmare Chambers, who have moved their operations to Foley and created an experience unlike any other.

The attraction is not for the faint-of-heart, and can take between 20-30 minutes to fully experience, depending on if you take the trip walking, or running. The indoor haunted house is filled with narrow corridors and twists and turns. With the lights out and only ambient lighting to guide you, it doesn't take long to get a rising sense of terror as guests try to navigate the building, all the while knowing they are not alone. The attraction is filled with dolls, escaped asylum patients, clowns, and more, all

FOLEY — Drivers in Foley who travel through the downtown area during the evenings and who are not planning on attending the upcoming events should begin planning an alternate route for late October.

On Thursday, Oct. 26, two huge events will be taking place in Foley during the evening, and the planned street closures are expected to begin earlier in the day in preparation of the festivities.

"We're closing down Downtown, and opening it up to the pedestrians," said LaDonna Hinesley, Marketing Director for City of Foley.

The planned street closures according to Hinesley will be Highway 98 and Orange Street, from Highway 59 to Alston Street, and Alston itself south of 98 to Orange.

Uptown Halloween is a much-anticipated event in Foley, and this year everyone is welcome to save the date of Oct 26, from

Foley officer places 3rd in National K-9 Trials

By JESSICA VAUGHN

FOLEY — The Foley Sports Tourism Complex partnered with the Foley Police Department to host the 47th Annual National Police Dog Field Trials, which took place Sept 25-28, with a free public demonstration taking place the evening of Sept 28.

The competition brought 34 law enforcement agencies and 84 teams from all over the nation to Foley, all looking to test their skills in multiple categories during the week-long trial.

During last year's trials, Foley Police Officers Carlos Lizarraga and Daniel Hudson participated in a four-man team that placed 5th overall. During this year's trials, K9 Cpl. Lizarraga and his dog Saban walked away with the awards for second place overall in Apprehension Work with and without gunfire and third place in the overall competition.

Aside from competing, Lizarraga also received the Tim Heritage Memorial Award for outstanding services rendered as the chairman of the 47th AN-PDFT.

"This was one of the best events according to the contestants," said Lizarraga. "Everyone was treated with much respect and enjoyed visiting our area. We couldn't have put this event on without the help of our community, so a big thanks to everyone who had a part in this event."

The contestants competed at a score that started at 700 and worked its way down, with the top three teams, Lizarraga and Saban included, losing less than 12 points.

To begin the demonstration, each competing team drove in a procession to the sports field with their lights and sirens going. The competing teams then treated the audience to the trials that they had performed throughout the week, including obedience, agility, evidence search, and criminal apprehension with and without gunfire. The last event, criminal apprehension with gunfire, was demonstrated to the audience by Lizarraga and Saban.

The Alabama Highway Patrol stopped by the event in a helicopter, lowering to the ground to allow a K9 Officer and his dog to apprehend a "criminal" before he could escape.

The United States Police Canine Association is the oldest and largest certifying law enforcement canine organization in the U.S., with over 3,000 members from around the nation. For anyone interested in watching the K-9 Units in action, next year's competition will be taking place in Huntsville and will be returning locally in 2019 when the trials will be held in Gulf Shores.

Loxley adopts $7 million budget for 2016-17

By JOHN UNDERWOOD
john@gulfcoastmedia.com

LOXLEY — The Loxley Town Council voted to approve its 2017-18 budget at its Oct. 9 meeting with total net income of more than $750,000 for the coming year.

The council voted unanimously to pass the budget with total projected revenues of nearly $7 million with expenses of just under $5.5 million with added long-term debt of more than $600,000.

The budget included an increase in general fund and utility fund revenues. Revenues in the general fund are projected at just more than $4.1 million for 2017-18, compared to just under $3.9 million for 2016-17.

Expenses in the town's general fund budget also increased for 2017-18, going from $3.7 million in 2016-17 to just under $3.9 million for the coming year, a net surplus of just more than $267,000, up from $170,000 a year ago.

The town's utility fund included a surplus of more than $870,000 for 2017-18, with operating revenues totaling $2.2 million, a slight increase more than 2016-17 with this past year's operating revenues projected at $2.1 million with total operating expenses of just under $1.4 million, compared to $1.3 million a year ago.

Other income and revenues increased from slightly more than $300,000 this past year to nearly $450,000 for 2017-18 with expenses of over $200,000 for a surplus of $220,000 compared to a projected $270,000 for 2016-17, bringing the total net income in the utility fund to slightly more than $1 million with long-term debt expenses of more than $600,000, bringing the total surplus for 2017-18 to more than $750,000, compared to slightly less than $400,000 in 2016-17.

In other business, the council:

- Approved an amended plat for the Stonebridge PUD.
- Tabled a measure to declare a public nuisance at a residence on Fincher Lane, giving residents more time to clean up the property.

- Approved a maintenance plan for Stonebridge Phase 1A.
- Approved the execution of an agreement concerning a Transportation Planning Process for the Eastern Short Urbanized Area, authorizing Council Member Richard Teal to serve as the town's representatives to the MPO and Utilities Superintendent Scott Bankester to act as proxy in the event that Teal cannot attend a meeting.

- Approved the 2017-18 financial contribution of $2,500 to the Baldwin County Economic Development Alliance.
- Approved a sponsorship for the Robertsdale High School basketball team.
- Authorized the raising of matching funds and council approval for façade grants for local businesses.
- Authorized Bankester to have the town's Christmas lights rewired.

5:30-8 p.m. This year will be a little different, as Uptown Halloween won't be the only thing taking place downtown that evening.

"This is going to be a big night," Hinesley said. "That also happens to be the Foley High School Homecoming Parade night, and Foley Police Department has approved doing both events the same night. It's going to be a big evening."

The Homecoming Parade will begin at 5 p.m., with a slightly altered route to accommodate Uptown Halloween.

Both events are free to the public, and everyone is invited to come out and show support of Foley

High and then stay for some downtown trick-or-treating that will be taking place afterwards. There will be a costume contest, bounce house, hay rides, and booths to win treats and prizes. "It's going to be a fun

After a quick vote, the nomination was unopposed, and Mobley was announced as the newest council member.

Even so, town members of Magnolia Springs are encouraged to continue showing their interest, as there are plenty of seats available in other committees.

"Thank you to everyone who did let us know that you were interested," said Mayor Bob Holk. "Now we have two positions open on the Planning Commission, we have a position open on the Finance Committee, and we have a position on Public Lands, so we'll be in touch."

Following the regular September meeting, Mobley was sworn in to council, and will be taking seat 2 beginning with the Magnolia Springs October workshop.

Robertsdale seniors participate in annual Masters Games competition

By JOHN UNDERWOOD
john@gulfcoastmedia.com

ROBERTSDALE — Seniors from the George P. Thames Senior Center in Robertsdale once again participated in the Alabama Masters Games bringing home several medals from the tournament held Oct. 2-5 in Trussville.

“We have fun every year at the games and we’re always looking forward to next year,” said center director Sarah Duncan.

A total of 18 participants attended the games this year from the Senior Center, up from 12 a year ago, including nine first-time participants.

“The games provide our seniors with an opportunity to socialize,” she said, “to meet new friends and get reacquainted with friends they’ve met in year’s past. Our goal is to encourage others from throughout the county to participate in the games.”

You do not have to be a part of a senior group to attend the games, Duncan said. The only requirement for participation is to be at least age 50.

“We have participants who are 90 and above compete and win medals,” she said. “It’s a great experience for anyone who wants to participate and stay active.”

According to the East Alabama Regional Planning and Development Commission Website, the Masters Games of Alabama is a non-profit organization dedicated to promoting healthy lifestyles for active adults age 50 and over through social, mental, and physical activities.

They were developed in Oxford in 1989 to provide adults age 50 and above an opportunity to maintain an active lifestyle by participating in a variety of events. Each year, between 600 and 800 participants and volunteers from across the state participate in the games.

This is the 12th straight year participants from the Thames Senior Center participated in the games, which sponsored by the Area Agency on Aging, also locally by the South Alabama Regional Planning Commission.

Seniors qualify in local competitions held throughout Mobile and Baldwin counties in May through July. This year seniors from the Thames Center brought home 33 medals from the games.

The Thames Center represents District 7, which includes Baldwin, Mobile, Escambia, Conecuh, Washington, Choctaw, Clarke, Wilcox and Monroe counties. Participants also attend locally from Orange Beach, Saraland, Chickasaw and Mobile.

The Thames Center serves Robertsdale, Loxley and Silverhill in Central Baldwin, Duncan said. They also have participants from Fairhope, Gulf Shores, Elberta and Malbis.

Participants in this year’s games included, in alphabetical order:

- Bud Biggs, gold medal, Frisbee; silver, basketball free throw, shuffleboard and billiards; bronze, Nerf ball.

- Olivia Campbell, cheerleader.
- Sarah Duncan, cheerleader.
- Mary Fuller, fitness medal walk participant.
- Beth Hurley, fitness medal walk participant.
- Carole Jones, silver medal, checkers; bronze, horseshoes.
- Harvey Nabors, fitness medal walk participant and bus driver.
- Mary Nabors, gold medal, double dominoes; silver, shuffleboard.
- Dorothy Reisel, silver medal, billiards; bronze, double dominoes; fitness medal walk participant.
- Ken Reisel, bronze medal, 5K; fitness medal walk participant.

- Ellen Roberts, cheerleader.
- Georgia Rudolph, cheerleader.
- Jean Sobol, fitness medal walk participant.
- Crystal Thomley, gold medals, billiards, horseshoes and shuffleboard; silver, table tennis; bronze, Frisbee and net ball.
- Mary Williams, gold medal, double dominoes.
- Steve Williams, cheerleader and bus driver.
- Martha Young, gold medal, 5K walk; bronze, horseshoes.

“No Questions Asked” is a bad way to Lead

Years ago, when John David and Emily were in grade school and Jake was a toddler, Santa brought us a Labrador Retriever named Hank. As is usually the case with family pets, the snow job from the children was that they would be solely responsible for its care. Soon, however, it was I (full disclosure: I'm not really a “dog person”) who was doing all the feeding and walking. The walking was especially crucial because Hank was a one-dog-wrecking-crew indoors if he didn't get plenty of exercise outdoors. One cold February weekend, I put my foot down and informed my oldest that when I gave orders for a walk to be given, I wanted immediate obedience, no questions asked, then I flopped onto the couch for a little siesta. I noticed after a few minutes that the house had become eerily quiet, so I looked outside. To my astonishment, John David, bundled up in a parka to protect him from the freezing rain, was leaning against the mailbox watching Jake, not Hank, toddle up and down the driveway in diapers and a tee-shirt. I shouted my dismay to which John David replied, “You told me to walk Jake, no questions asked!”

learned from this little episode, the one for consideration today is this: “No questions asked” is a bad way to lead. While often employed in the belief that such an approach streamlines decision-making, it really serves mostly to cover up poor preparation, insecurity, intimidation, and laziness. Questions are greatly more likely to be keys to problem-solving than problem-creating. In the life of faith, I'm so thankful that God doesn't treat us that way. The Scriptures are filled with people asking God the toughest kinds of questions. He doesn't always give us the answer we want, but He very much wants us to come and ask, and He will always give us Himself, no questions asked.

National program aims to help local farmers

Submitted

Nonprofit organizations help rural communities thrive, and farmers in nearby counties have the opportunity to help local organizations. Through the America's Farmers Grow Communities program, sponsored by the Monsanto Fund, local farmers can enroll for a chance to direct a $2,500 donation to a local eligible nonprofit organization.

New this year, all farmers are now eligible to enroll in the program, as long as they meet the requirement of being 21 years old and actively engaged in farming at least 250 acres of crops or more. The Grow Communities program will award more than $3 million to nonprofits across rural America in 2018.

These funds are being used to provide support to a variety of rural nonprofit organizations that reflect the makeup and character of their local communities, including food banks, emergency response organizations, youth agriculture programs and many others. Since the program began in 2010, the Grow Communities program has awarded more than $26 million in donations to nonprofits toward causes positively impacting farming communities.

"Through the years, we have seen this program impact countless local communities, and we are proud to partner with farmers on this initiative to continue supporting nonprofit organizations important to them," said Al Mitchell, Monsanto Fund president. "Because of farmers' commitment to the Grow Communities program, their donations have provided vital support to organizations that make a lasting impact in local communities throughout the U.S."

Local farmers can easily enroll in the Grow Communities program from now to Nov. 1. Online enrollment, as well as a complete list of program rules and eligibility information, can be found at www.GrowCommunities.com or by calling 1-877-267-3332 toll-free.

Opinion

Solomon, the 60s, and taking a knee

By CAROL MEGATHLIN

After church last Sunday my husband Bill and I sat outside our local bookstore reading the New York Times. Bill glanced up from the sports section and said, "I hate all this kneeling during the national anthem. Can't they protest some other way? I mean, the national anthem," he added, emphasizing the last two words. "If they don't like our country, let them get on a plane and go to Australia."

"Bill, in the '60s Americans were burning the flag," I replied.

One of the benefits of getting older is that we begin to understand the wearied cynicism of the book of Ecclesiastes, written by Solomon — how long ago?

That which has been is what will be,
That which is done
Is what will be done.
And there is nothing new under the sun.

Until PBS began airing Ken Burns' and Lynn Novick's documentary, "The Vietnam War," I had almost forgotten how bad the '60s were.

The counterculture's mantra, "make love, not war," had hippies copulating in the streets. The shocking assassinations, the Cuban missile crisis, war protests, the burning and bombing of campus ROTC buildings, the killings at Kent State, Charles Manson, the upheaval of civil rights, fire hoses and snarling dogs, ceaseless violence and death in Vietnam, the sudden dissolution of morale standards that theretofore had been commonly accepted, and then, the frightening duplicity of Richard Nixon.

I remember thinking, in my inexperienced youth, that "the country was coming apart." Sound familiar?

Now, though I disapprove of it, the protest of a few athletes kneeling during our national anthem doesn't get me "all fraught up," to use a phrase favored by my father. An intransigent Congress, a shoot-from-the-hip president, the poisonous seepage of Islamic extremism throughout the world, war upon war ... Thank goodness I now possess an experienced core that shrugs and remembers we've survived worse.

Yet we do well to care, very deeply, about the isues troubling us and our country, no matter that it has ever been so and will ever be. We suffer in our present moment, and decent people do their best, individually and collectively, to make circumstances better. Just as they have throughout human history.

I'm not suggesting equivalence here, but the pose of football players taking a defiant knee bears a strong resemblance to the depiction of General George Washington kneeling in prayer at Valley Forge. Taking exception to unfair treatment is thoroughly American. Lest we forget, our own Revolutionary War was a violent protest against being viewed as vassals.

As a democracy, we require an agonizingly long time to redress wrongs. Sometimes we need a nudge even to see the problem. Like it or not, protests that provoke outrage get the gears grinding, often more quickly than reasoned discourse.

In one segment of "The Vietnam War," an American POW recalls that at night, he and his fellow prisoners would softly sing patriotic and spiritual songs. We finally realized, he said, that though we came from different social and economic backgrounds, different races and religions, we were all Americans.

Yes we are, have been, and ever will be. Americans, all.

All is "vanity and grasping for the wind," Solomon chants throughout the book of Ecclesi-astes. Despair pervades his worldview. In the last two verses of the book, however, he lifts his head and says the following.

Let us hear the conclusion of the whole matter:

Fear God and keep his commandments,

For this is man's all.

For God will bring every work into judgment,

Including every secret thing,

Whether good or evil.

Or as the prophet Micah said, "What does the Lord require of you but to do justly, to love mercy, and to walk humbly with your God?"

And to bear in mind that there is nothing new under the sun.

Work, work, work

There is a poem by an unknown author that I heard many years ago, and it has stuck with me:

Stick to your task 'til it sticks to you;
Beginners are many, but enders are few.
Honor, power, place and praise
Will always come to the one who stays.
Stick to your task 'til it sticks to you;
Bend at it, sweat at it, smile at it, too;
For out of the bend and the sweat and the smile
Will come life's victories after a while.

This poem is about work, just plain, old work.

In one way, we are all the same. We all have problems. Some are everyday, ordinary, even mundane problems such as getting out of bed, what to wear, fixing breakfast, getting the car out of the garage, and getting to wherever we need to be on time. Others are more profound such as failing a class, losing a job, loss in a relationship, the death of a loved one, having a major illness, or being the caregiver for someone with a major illness. We all have problems, but they all have a common solution, work. Just plain, old work.

Work and time will solve any problem. That may sound like a simplistic statement, but if you think about it, it is basis for any solution. Some problems may take a long time to solve, but if you don't work at them, they take longer. Work is the basic, essential element to the solutions of every problem. We can sit, wringing our hands, lamenting how hard it is, or how unfair it is, or how long it will take, but if we don't get to work, the problem will not be solved.

Nowhere in the poem does it say that the task will get easier. It doesn't. What changes is you. "Stick to the task 'til it sticks to you", means that as you work, your ability to do the task improves, making the task seem easier. For example, very few of us walked the first time we tried. We bounced off our behinds a lot before we mastered balance, but if we had quit the first time we fell, we would still be crawling. Life's problems, small or overwhelming, can be solved by applying the simple principle of sticking to the task... working.

DAVID ATWOOD

Points of the Compass

I hear people lament, "There's nothing I can do." Sure, there is. If nothing else, sit quietly and think about it. Thinking of a bad situation may be painful, but if you allow yourself, you can come up with a solution, or at least an idea, and that's a start. Starting is the hardest part of any task.

Talk about it. It may be that you are too close to the problem, the proverbial not seeing the forest for the trees. Often, an objective third party can see a solution you cannot, or point you in the right direction and get you started. Whatever you do, get to work.

Sometimes, the solution is to do nothing, and that is often the most difficult task, especially dealing with teenagers who know it all. When you see a clear solution to a task you have experienced, you have to keep quiet and do nothing knowing that if you interject uninvited, they won't take advantage of your experience and may do the opposite of what you suggested. If they stick to the task, they will solve the problem in a way unique to themselves. All the while, you must endure their growing pains while swallowing your pride and the blood from biting your tongue.

When the solution won't come, or isn't obvious, get to work even if it is not on the problem puzzling you. I find that if I work on something, anything, even if it is raking leaves, I am solving problems, and often a solution comes to the more difficult problem.

Work is a blessing, and a hard one to earn, you have to work at it, but if you "stick to the task 'til it sticks to you", the blessing of life's victories will come to you.

A pro-life victory

A few weeks ago, I met a remarkable young boy named Micah. Micah is a five-year-old boy who seems like most any child. He is healthy, smart, and full of life. Most people are shocked when they learn that Micah was born at just 22 weeks.

When Micah was born prematurely, he was no bigger than a pack of M&Ms, but his mom said he was "alive and he was fighting and he wanted to live." Thankfully, due to the miraculous work of doctors and answered prayers, Micah survived.

Every child deserves the chance Micah had.

Sadly, the United States is one of only seven countries in the world that allows elective abortions after 20 weeks of pregnancy. This radical policy puts us among the likes of North Korea and China.

Micah's mother likely put it best when she said that her "heart is grieved that babies are allowed to be aborted at the same age that my own son was born and even later." It is simply heartbreaking.

Well, I recently voted to change the law and ban abortions in the United States after 20 weeks. Thankfully, the Pain-Capable Unborn Child Protection Act, also known as Micah's Law, passed the House by a vote of 237 to 189. The bill now awaits action in the Senate.

This is a commonsense, pro-life bill that simply states that abortions after 20 weeks are unlawful in the United States. The bill does include very limited exceptions in cases of rape, incest, or when the health of the mother is at risk.

To be clear, I do not support abortion at any point, but there is great significance to the 20-week timeframe.

Twenty weeks is the point at which doctors and scientists agree that babies can actually feel pain. The more premature an infant is, the worse the pain because they have yet to develop pain inhibitors.

BRADLEY BYRNE

Notes from your Congressman

Sadly, thousands of babies right here in the United States are killed and subjected to excruciating pain due to late-term abortions. It is simply unconscionable. That is why this legislation is so critically important.

We shouldn't stop with Micah's Law. As a member of the House Pro-Life Caucus, I am always looking for new opportunities to stand up for the unborn.

For example, I am a staunch supporter of the Hyde Amendment, which is a provision included in annual government funding bills to ensure no taxpayer money is used to perform an abortion. I have also supported legislation to make the Hyde Amendment permanent, so it no longer must be passed each year.

I also previously voted to eliminate funding for Planned Parenthood, an organization that promotes abortions. I support redirecting the money away from Planned Parenthood and putting it toward community health centers, which are more plentiful and provide a wider range of services. These are just a few examples.

As I cast my vote in favor of the Pain-Capable Unborn Child Protection Act a few weeks ago, Micah was on my mind. I thought about his smile and how he was full of energy. I thought about others like him who may have been given a chance at life were it not for our nation's broken laws.

As is written in Jeremiah 1:5, "Before I formed you in the womb I knew you, before you were born I set you apart." I promise to always stand up for God's precious gift of life and to support pro-life policies throughout my time in Congress.

Religious liberty for all

By TAYLOR DAWSON

Free exercise of religion is a bedrock principle of American governance. As schoolchildren, we're taught that Pilgrims fled to America to avoid persecution by the Church of England. While many of America's founders were Christians, they prohibited government from favoring one religion over another. Our constitutional protection for religious exercise is listed first in the Bill of Rights. That wasn't a mistake.

Since I've been involved in Alabama politics, I've noticed that a good number of people, Christian conservatives in particular, tend to equate "defending religious liberty" with "defending Christian principles." Many of the religious-liberty cases around the country that we hear about in conservative circles involve Christians being sued for refusing to do things that violate their beliefs. So I understand, to some degree, why this religious-liberty confusion occurs. That's why it's important, when we find ourselves thinking about the intersection of faith and government, to remember what the founders intended when they first laid out the concept of religious liberty.

We can turn on the news almost any given day and see people around the world persecuted for their beliefs. Even in America, we see targeting of different religious groups by radical individuals. I am thankful we do not live in a country where government-sanctioned religious discrimination exists, but with that comes the obligation of our government to defend the rights of all individuals to worship across all religions.

When it comes to politics, I am more likely to vote for a candidate who is a Christian, not because I think that they intend to use their office as a soapbox for our shared beliefs, but because I believe they are more likely to prayerfully consider decisions they may make. I have the right to do that, just like the person sitting next to me at my polling place has the right to vote for a candidate who has a different system of beliefs, or no religious beliefs at all.

I'm afraid if folks start thinking about what religious liberty really means, some won't like it. From where I'm sitting, it looks like many are okay with the concept of religious liberty as long as it only applies to what they believe. But here's the problem with that — who defines what's right in terms of religion? I think John Adams said it best: "Nothing is more dreaded than the National Government meddling with religion." True freedom means that people are given the opportunity to worship the way they see fit, and the government shouldn't stifle or promote any particular religion, theology, or belief system.

Today, we live in a state where many politicians are proud to be Christians, and for that I am truly thankful. But what if, one day, that changes and Christians become the ones compelled to comply with another religion, or shamed by the government for adhering to our religion? One day, it could be that most of our elected officials espouse a religion that I do not. Would we want to receive the same treatment we've extended to other religious groups? If we can't answer that question in the affirmative, we need to rethink our stance on religious liberty.

LETTER TO THE EDITOR

Praise for Fort Morgan Fire Department

Dear editor,

I wish to commend to your readers Capt. A.J. Andreasen and the Fort Morgan Volunteer Fire Department. In an age when confidence in public officials and institutions has eroded, your community is indeed fortunate to be served by the captain and his department.

While visiting recently, my family and I encountered misfortune which could have become disastrous as tourists with no personal or professional associates in the area to lend aid. Capt. Andreasen made it a point to check on us and ask about our status. He pointed out natural dangers we had no knowledge of, and he remained on scene until our troubles were solved. His cheerful professionalism and personal concerns were touching, and his assistance was invaluable. Aided by his companion Ashes, the departmental dog, the captain possesses the ideal combination of calm expertise and warm humanity to make him perfect for his job and a genuine asset to your community.

We are grateful for his help, and because so many others we have met during our visits are just as remarkable, we are eager to return next year.

LETTER TO THE EDITOR

The theory of economics in Orange Beach

The differences between theory and practice are often insurmountable, but Orange Beach may be the exception.

Community-oriented development started in late 2006 with the Horizon 20/20 Plan, defining the direction Orange Beach wanted to take. The Great Depression of 2008 changed that, re-inventing the way businesses and cities look at long-term growth. A decade later, our local economy is booming, breaking records for municipal revenue, according to Mayor Tony Kennon in a Facebook video.

John Maynard Keynes said, "Employment levels are determined by aggregate (total) demand rather than by the price of labor. Economies should not be expected to automatically right themselves after a temporary shock," according to Macat An Intro to Keynes' General Theory of Employment, Interest and Money, a YouTube video.

After the Great Depression in 2008, finally seeing the ship right itself with recordsetting revenue levels in Orange Beach, generating $48.6 Million in revenue in 2016, compared to $36.3 Million in 2010, according to Financial-Audit Documents on the website, cityoforangebeach.com.

This ship was not self righting, municipal intervention played an integral part with stimulus programs, like beach cleaning and the "Leave Only Footprints" initiative of 2014, injecting money into the economy, being so successful that a 2 percent lodging tax was laid-ontop in 2017, generating $5 Million in revenue, according to Ford Handley, Finance Director for the City of Orange Beach. This tax-based stimulus was enshrined into law, expanding its brief to cover traffic infrastructure, creating additional jobs and more economic growth.

The importance of government intervention, helping economies grow cannot be underestimated. Assuming that natural-market forces and free enterprise will keep the economy in Orange Beach thriving is delusional, because governments have resources to intervene during economic shocks, creating jobs, like cleaning the beaches, and providing ambassadors for sunbathing visitors. These municipal efforts have a positive affect, supporting restaurants, fishing trips, and beach services.

Stimulus may not have been Council's Plan, but it is the result of their actions.

Another example where actions begat stimulus is the $14.9 Million Middle School approved for construction in Orange Beach by the Baldwin County Board of Education in 2017, according to John Sharp at AL.com. These monies will generate jobs, purchasing everything from alphabet soup to zip ties. Workers will need to eat, perhaps persuading the city to temporarily ease permitting on food trucks, specifically servicing the school's construction site.

Local vendors will also benefit, because the city allows 5 percent leeway on Bids for City Contracts. "In accordance with State Law (Act 2015-293), the City does have a 5 percent local preference. Our local preference zone as set by City Council is Baldwin County. Please note that this local preference only applies to purchases subject to the State of Alabama's Competitive Bid Law, which includes materials, equipment, and services $15,000 or more, with some exceptions, and does not apply to competitively bid Public Works Contracts," said Renee Eberly, City Clerk & Procurement Officer for the City of Orange Beach in an email.

Even without a written plan, big dollars will pour into the city's coffers from the Middle School's construction. Afterwards, additional jobs will come online for school administration, teachers, special-needs personnel, bus drivers, cleaners, cafeteria staff, and grounds keepers who will spend money in Orange Beach.

So, who needs a plan?

The stakeholders in Orange Beach are the entire community from beach condos to residential homes to local businesses. No one escapes an economic downturn like the one we had in 2008, knowing it has taken a decade to recover from the last cycle. We cannot avoid what happens on the national level, but we can lessen the impact on the local level, understanding there is a pillow to soften the landing with stimulus.

Decision-tree strategies give government self-policing oversight, checking in the rear-view mirror, ensuring they are between the lines, defined by plans like Horizon 20/20.

In the case of Orange Beach, I do not believe we would have achieved this level of success by welding our colors to one particular strategy. It took navigating-by-gut, seeing an opportunity to grow, strengthening beach tourism, and a little luck from hurricane-free years to succeed. Seen with 20/20 hindsight, we had a viable plan, as if the path were intentional, perhaps we should write it up, and share it with other municipalities.

The classic-economic model decries stimulus-related thinking, "If the economy is allowed to work, the economy will automatically gravitate towards full employment, according to John Nash, The Keynesian Model and the Classical Model, a You-Tube video.

This will happen eventually, but taking so long that the economic devastation will impact a generation.

Milton Friedman, the doyen of classical economics, argued against government stimulus. This is where the social conflict between the two ideologies of stimulus versus non-intervention becomes important. Friedman espoused free markets should be free from government meddling in his book Capitalism and Freedom according to Macat, An Introduction to Milton Friedman's Capitalism and Freedom, a YouTube video. Friedman saw government intervention, leading to economic stagnation without innovation, threatening democracy, because of excessive-governmental intrusion.

Both the Keynesian and the Friedman Models strive towards an economy operating at its full potential. The Keynesian model forces government intervention, arguing the economy is not always in full employment, realizing wages and prices can get stuck, like in a recession, requiring government stimulus for help, kick-starting the economy for a faster recovery.

Keynesian theory is clearly the corner stone of economic thought in Orange Beach.

Perhaps not being defined as such, because Keynesian doctrine was liberally applied by the Obama administration, yet here we are, enjoying the fruits of municipal stimulus in the heart of conservative orthodoxy. Proving liberal theories and conservative practices can work in harmony. Perhaps Orange Beach is the small-town exception, defining new rules for municipal economics.

Toros pull away for inter-region win over Lions

Spanish Fort 49, Foley 14

By MICHAEL HANICH
GCM Sports

FOLEY — Spanish Fort and Foley met in a cross-class matchup in Lions territory Friday. In a matchup that could've been an upset alert game for Spanish Fort, it ended up being a one-sided performance in a 49-14 win over Foley.

After the Lions' scored with a 3-yard wildcat run from Chris Armstrong on their second drive, the Toros' defense played more consistently and sound.

Foley wouldn't have another scoring drive until their final possession late in the final quarter.

The Toros offense had success ranging from screens to sophisticated reverses. Dayton Reed had the Toros' first touchdown (eight yards) in the third possession of the game. Kris Abrams-Draine accounted for five receptions with 62 yards and a touchdown catch, and passed for a 34-yard touchdown to Corson Swan.

The best play of the game was a screen from Jack Samsel to Reed where he quickly pitched to Troy Trojans commit Grant Betts for a 19-yard touchdown in the first play of the second quarter.

Lions QB Garrett Mayo accounted for 10 completions (out of 25 attempts) for 157 yards, a touchdown in the fourth quarter to Christian Blackwell, and two interceptions. Toros' Defensive Backs John Sharp and Xavier Love had interceptions in the second quarter.

Foley (3-4) will travel to Mary G. Montgomery (0-8) as Spanish Fort (6-1) will travel to Saraland (6-2).

Trojans' late rally denies Dolphins upset on the Eastern Shore

DAPHNE — Daphne rallied to avoid the upset by a determined Dolphins' team Friday at Jubilee Stadium.

Chance Newman capped the Trojans' late fourth-quarter drive with a 10-yard touchdown run on fourth down with 17 seconds left as Daphne rallied to regain the lead and hold on to top Gulf Shores 31-28 in Class 6A, Region 1 competition.

Todd Hoover scored twice for the Dolphins, once on the ground and once by air from GSHS quarterback Rett Files. Files also connected with touchdown passes to Jacob Knight and Devin Swainston.

Daphne improved to 5-2 overall, 4-1 in league play with the victory. With the win the Trojans remain right behind unbeaten Spanish Fort in the 6A Re-

Rain raids Bear Homecoming to get first win of season

B.C. Rain 32, Robertsdale 14

By JOHN UNDERWOOD

ROBERTSDALE — Friday the 13th proved unlucky for Robertsdale as the B.C. Rain Red Raiders collected their first win of the season, 32-14 over the winless Golden Bears on Homecoming night at J.D. Sellars Stadium.

Things looked good early for Robertsdale.

After their opening drive stalled on the Red Raider 30 and the RHS defense held B.C. Rain to three-and-out on its first drive, the Bears got on the board first with time running down in the opening period.

A short Raider punt gave Robertsdale good field position at their own 48 and two runs by DeAndre Prim, followed by a penalty gave the Bears the ball in B.C. Rain territory at the 39.

Tristian Stevens then connected with Travis McGowan, who raced down the Bear sideline for the score. Noah Cincotta added the extra point to put Robertsdale up 7-0 with 4:41 to go in the first quarter.

But after that, it was all B.C. Rain until late in the third quarter. After the Red Raiders' ensuing drive stalled at the Bear 18, B.C. Rain would get the ball back when Robertsdale turned it over on downs at the Red Raider 32.

Two plays later, the Raiders connected on a 53-yard pass play. The 2-point conversion was good to put

B.C. Rain up 8-7 with 6:32 to go in the half.

It was a lead they would never relinquish scoring on a 32-yard pass just before the half with another 2-point conversion making the score 16-7 with 17.5 seconds on the clock.

A final effort by the Bears to score before the half came up empty after Romaro Settles returned the kickoff down to the Red Raider 45 and Robertsdale fought to get one

Pirates power past Warriors to stay unbeaten in 7A Region 1 play

FAIRHOPE — All phases of the game clicked with the right timing for Fairhope to take a big region win over Davidson Friday 31-17 at W.C. Majors Field.

Devin Mitchell threw

two touchdown passes to C.J. Edwards and helped the Pirates establish an early lead. Davidson rallied and took a 10-7 lead at the half, but FHS then regained and held the Pirates' advantage in the second half. Cole Deeds made field goals of 42 and 37 yards and punted well all night to lead the special teams' efforts.

The Fairhope defensive side also scored twice with interceptions by Noah May (40 yards) and Gibbs Sherrell (28-yards).

"I can't say enough about how everybody on this team pulled together," said Fairhope head coach Tim Carter. "Offense, defense and special teams all did great. Cole Deeds' and the kicking game was a huge factor in this win. Devin did a great job of running the offense. But it was a real team effort and you always like to see that."

With the Pirates leading the Warriors 24-17 and 54 seconds left in the game, May intercepted a Davidson pass at the 40 and ran it back for the final margin.

Davidson's defense also kept the Warriors within striking distance. Jukyle Hunter picked up a fum-

Foley introduced Hall of Fame class

Submitted BY ZANA PRICE AND RUSS MOORE

FOLEY — Foley High School honored 12 former athletes during its annual Hall of Fame ceremony before the Lions' home game against Spanish Fort on Friday at Ivan Jones Stadium.

A reception hosted by the Foley High School Alumni Association was held in the Foley Elementary School gym/auditorium on Oak Street next to Ivan Jones Stadium before the ball game. All friends, family, classmates and well-wishers were invited to congratulate the inductees before being officially recognized before the home town crowd.

The Foley High School Athletic Hall of Fame Class of 2017 inductees include the following:

- Mr. Johnny Adams was a standout basketball and football player for the Lions in the early 1980's.

- Mr. Anthony Carvin starred for the Lions on the gridiron in the mid 1990's.
- Mr. Scott Crosby excelled under Coaches Lester Smith and Bud Pigott on the football field in the mid 1980's.
- Mr. Lynn Gregson was an outstanding three-sport letterman for the Lions in the early 1980's.

- Mr. Kertz Hare was a leader on the football field in the late 1980's.
- Mr. Charles King was a two-way player for Coach Ivan Jones in the early 1960's.
- Mr. James McGaster was a three-sport athlete who excelled on the football field in the mid 1980's.

• Ms. Loreena Pickens was a pioneer in girls' basketball for the Lions in the late 1970's and early 1980's.

- Mr. Chris Reed was a leader on some of Foley High School's best basketball teams in the early 1990's.
- Mr. Vince Shoots led his team from the quarterback position under Coach Lester Smith in the mid 1980's.

- Coach Ben Watson served a long career primarily in the South Baldwin area at both Elberta MS and Foley HS.
- Ms. Tennille Wilson excelled as a sprinter for the Lions in the mid 2000's.

Battle for the Belt 2017

By MICHAEL HANICH
GCM Sports

TROY — College Football was full of upsets and shockers last week. In Troy on a Wednesday, the South Alabama Jaguars (2-4) came in as a 17-point underdog against the Troy Trojans (4-2) and won with a stunning 19-8 score. Troy came into this game with a more aggressive defense and a more efficient offense but it didn't appear that way against the Jaguars.

South Alabama's defense was tasked with stopping an offense that dismantled LSU's defense two weeks ago in Baton Rouge. The Jaguars defense only allowed 30 rushing yards in Trojans' running game including star Jordan Chunn, who only accounted for 28 yards on 10 carries. The Jaguars' defense accounted for seven tackles for loss including one from Nickel Khalil McDonald that resulted in a safety late in the second quarter.

quarterback Dallas Davis in the game late in the second quarter. Davis finished the night with seven completions (10 attempts)

After nearly upsetting Blount earlier in the season, the Baldwin County Tigers proved they can handle top-10 competition with a big 15-14 league victory over Saraland at Simmons Field Friday night.

With 15 seconds left in regulation and trailing 14-7, Baldwin County quarterback Eli Powell tossed a 27-yard touchdown pass to Jarvis Atchison to make it a one-point game.

DAPHNE — The Admirals rallied to defeat Class 3A Region 1 rival Cottage Hill Christian 23-20 Friday night at Freedom Field in Daphne.

Trailing the Warriors in the fourth-quarter Bayside faked the field-goal attempt and Matt Kalifeh ran the ball in for a 6-yard, go-ahead touchdown.

Nathan Cook and Andrew Smith also scored touchdowns and Mac Douglas kicked a 34-yard field goal for the Admirals who improved to 3-4 overall and 2-3 in Class 3A, Region 1 play.

Up next, Bayside travels to Brewton to take on the T.R. Miller Tigers. The Cottage Hill Warriors (3-4, 1-4) are home to face Hillcrest-Evergreen.

34-yard field goal. Jason Williams' second-quarter interception set up the Warriors' go-ahead score before the half.

Fairhope improved to 5-0 in Class 7A Region 1 with the league win and 6-1 overall.

Fairhope travels to Mobile for a Thursday-night game to face Murphy at Ladd-Peebles at 7 p.m.

Davidson (4-3, 4-2) travels to Class 5A Jackson for a non-league game on Friday.

second put on the clock following a 12-yard connection from Stevens to Cincotta.

But Stevens' pass was intercepted in the endzone, leaving the score at 16-7 going into the locker room.

Robertsdale's defense held the Red Raiders to three-and-out to start the second half, but B.C. Rain would get the ball right back on a Bear fumble at their own 34.

Three plays netted just three yards, but the Red Raiders connected on a 30-yard pass on fourth down to put the ball on the Robertsdale 1. After a penalty put the ball back at the 6, the Raiders ran it in from there and another successful 2-point conversion made the score 24-7 with 7:45 to go in the third.

Robertsdale cut the lead back to 10, set up again by a good return from Settles giving the Bears the ball at the Raider 35. Prim rushed three times for 21 yards and a Raider penalty put the ball on the B.C. Rain 5.

After Stevens hobbled off the field while attempting to get the ball back to the line of scrimmage on first down, junior Robert Barnett went behind center and ran twice, once to the Red Raider 3 and again into the endzone for a Bear score. Cincotta's extra point cut the lead to 24-14 with 5:03 left in the third.

After the two teams traded drives without a first down, B.C. Rain took over on its own 13 and drove 87 yards, converting a third down and two fourth downs along the way, including a roughing the passer penalty which gave the Raiders a first down at the Bear 16. B.C. Rain scored three plays later on a one-yard run, again tacking on two points to make the score 32-14 with 4:07 to play.

Stevens returned to the game and led the Bears from their own 20 down to the Red Raider 17, completing four passes for 43 yards, including a fourth down completion to Barnett for 19 yards to put the ball inside the Red Raider red zone.

But three incomplete passes and a sack gave the Raiders the ball back at the 32 and they would run out the clock from there.

The Red Raiders torched the Bears for 326 yards of total offense, including 13 of 24 passing for 230 yards.

The Bears offense was held to 149 yards total offense, just 21 yards on the ground with seven negative rushing plays. Stevens was 10 of 22 passing with an interception for 128 yards. Prim led the rushing attack with 61 yards on 14 carries.

The Bears will attempt to get their first win of the season on the road at Prichard Stadium in a Thursday night contest against the LeFlore Rattlers (2-5), including a 22-10 win over B.C. Rain earlier in the season. The Raiders return to Trimmier Park to take on Baldwin County, a team they defeated 24-21 last season, but who are now 5-2 (3-2 in 6A Region 1 play) following a huge 15-14 win at home against Saraland Friday night.

Thursday Bets

7 p.m. on ABC
It's the Great Pumpkin, Charlie Brown

Linus stakes out a spot in the pumpkin patch, hoping to catch a glimpse of the Great Pumpkin. While he continues his annual vigil, Charlie Brown discovers stones in his trick-or-treat bag, Lucy becomes maternal and Snoopy gets moonstruck.

9 p.m. on AMC
The Walking Dead

The new one-hour documentary "Behind the Dead" features members of the cast and production team of "The Walking Dead" talking about how the show has evolved since its premiere. Past and present cast members participating include Andrew Lincoln, Norman Reedus, Lennie James, Jeffrey Dean Morgan, Danaï Gurira and Melissa McBride, among others.

Friday Bets

8:30 p.m. on ESPN
NBA Basketball

The NBA champion Golden State Warriors will be looking to get off to another hot start in this young NBA season when they visit the New Orleans Pelicans. As long as Stephen Curry and Kevin Durant are on the court along with Klay Thompson and Draymond Green, it's hard to see anyone stopping them.

9 p.m. on PBS
Great Performances

Part of a PBS "Broadway's Best" franchise, the musical "She Loves Me" — which the Roundabout Theatre Company streamed live when it was staged — is a variation on the story that also fueled the movies "The Shop Around the Corner" and "You've Got Mail." Laura Benanti and Zachary Levi ("Chuck") play shop clerks who clash on the job, not realizing they're secretly each other's romantic pen pal.

Saturday Bets

6:30 p.m. on NBC College Football

USC versus Notre Dame used to be one of the biggest college football games of the season. But quarterback Sam Darnold and the USC Trojans seem to be on another level right now. Still, when Darnold and company visit South Bend they'll find themselves in a hostile environment.

7 p.m. on LIFE Movie: The Watcher in the Woods

In this remake of a 1980 thriller, Anjelica Huston stars as Mrs. Aylwood, who rents out her manor house in the British countryside to Jan Carstairs (Tallulah Evans) and her family. The woods surrounding it have a sinister air about them, which only grows stronger after Mrs. Aylwood notes how much Jan resembles her daughter, Karen, who disappeared 20 years ago.

Sunday Bets

7 p.m. on FOX The Simpsons

The animated sitcom's traditional "Treehouse of Horror" episode returns for another year. This latest edition (the 18th) is a crossover of sorts with another Fox series, "The Exorcist," since that show's Ben Daniels is a guest voice as... yes, an exorcist, whose help is needed by the possessed Maggie.

8 p.m. on AMC The Walking Dead

During the course of Season 7, Rick Grimes (Andrew Lincoln) eventually abandoned his attempts to negotiate with Negan (Jeffrey Dean Morgan) when it became obvious this nemesis was beyond reason. As Season 8 opens, Rick has begun rallying neighboring communities for a high-stakes uprising against Negan and his Saviors, assisted by Maggie and King Ezekiel (Lauren Cohan, Khary Payton).

8 p.m. on VH1 Scared Famous

Tiffany "New York" Pollard and drag artist Alaska are among the 10 reality TV personalities who share an eerie estate in famously haunted Savannah, Ga., in this new "horror reality series." These guests must endure frightening challenges that pay homage to classic horror movies.

9:01 p.m. on NBC The Brave

Dalton's (Mike Vogel) team finds a situation very unlike what they expected to when they head to Nigeria after receiving word that Ambassador Charles Webb (guest star Ben Cain) has landed in danger while stationed in that region. Patricia (Anne Heche) receives a piece of personal news, while Jaz (Natacha Karam) forms a connection with a little girl she meets during the mission.

With the witching season upon them, Frankie (Patricia Heaton) discovers that nearly 50 years ago, a woman died in a bathtub of the Heck residence in the new "Halloween VIII: Orson Murder Mystery." That revelation soon leads to her and Brick's (Atticus Shaffer) unshakable conviction that the lady was murdered and, much to Mike's (Neil Flynn) dismay, they set out to find the killer.

Conservation Advisory Board welcomes new members

By DAVID RAINER
Alabama Department of Conservation and Natural Resources

The Alabama Conservation Advisory Board will welcome new members and share its appreciation with departing members at its first meeting of 2018 in February.

Jessica Butler of Scottsboro and Greg Barksdale of Hanceville will join the board as first-time members, while Brock Jones of Boligee returns to the board for a new term.

"I'm excited to have Jessica Butler and Greg Barksdale as new additions to the board," said Chris Blankenship, Commissioner of the Alabama Department of Conservation and Natural Resources. "Both seem to have a real passion for the outdoors, and they may bring a different perspective than before. Brock Jones was appointed about a month ago, and he understands the process after being on the board previously."

Dr. Warren Strickland of Huntsville, who served as chairman for the past several years, and Austin Ainsworth of Guntersville recently finished their terms on the board.

"I really appreciate the leadership of Dr. Strickland as chairman for the last several years and his service to the board for over a decade," said Blankenship. "I also appreciate Austin's contribution to the board. It's always bittersweet when you get new members and members you've enjoyed working with move on to other things. I would be remiss not to thank Dr. Strickland and Austin for their service to the board and to the hunters and anglers of Alabama."

Current board member Joseph "Joey" Dobbs Jr. of Birmingham was named the new chair of the board, and Ben Stimpson Jr. of Mobile was reappointed by Gov. Kay Ivey.

"I'm also looking forward to working with our new chairman, Joey Dobbs," Blankenship said. "He's been on the board for a good while. He's a skilled statesman and will do a very effective job of working with all the members of the board to make sure their voices are heard, and that they have the opportunity to represent their districts."

Butler is a member of the Scottsboro City Council and Marketing Director at Highlands Medical Center in Scottsboro. She took her first buck, a 9-pointer, in the eighth grade and has been an avid hunter and angler all her life. Among her other outdoor pursuits are waterfowl hunting and fly-fishing.

Barksdale has a background in banking and insurance and has been an avid outdoorsman for 40 years. He brings a lifelong love of hunting and fishing in Alabama and several other states. Barksdale, who is involved with the Cullman County 4-H Shotgun Sports program, pursues opportunities to mentor and educate young people about natural resources, wildlife and wilderness conservation.

Jones, a Camden native who works in finance, lives in Boligee where his outdoors endeavors include hunting deer, dove and quail in Greene and Wilcox counties.

For those not familiar with the Conservation Advisory Board, it is composed of 10 members appointed by the Governor for alternating terms of six years, and three ex-officio members. Those ex-officio members are currently Gov. Ivey, Commissioner of Agriculture and Industries John McMillan and Director of the Alabama Cooperative Extension System Gary Lemme. The Commissioner of the Department of Conservation and Natural Resources (DCNR) serves as the ex-officio secretary of the board.

The Advisory Board, which was created by statute, meets two to three times per year to assist in formulating policies for the four DCNR divisions — Wildlife and Freshwater Fisheries, Marine Resources, State Parks and State Lands. The board is regularly updated on all rules and regulations and takes public input at the public meetings on any issues regarding conservation and natural resources in the state. The board can offer recommendations for change or amendment to the rules and regulations. Any changes or amendments to those rules and regulations must receive approval of two-thirds of the members and the approval of the Governor to become effective.

"The Conservation Advisory Board members come from all over the state," Blankenship said. "They work with people in their districts to understand the conservation-related issues they face and to share those with the Department."

"Also, as we have regulations, as we have needs, it's good to work with the Advisory Board to get their advice and to get the word out about different regulations or things we're doing in the Department."

To ensure the public is aware of any changes in the rules and regulations, the board made changes to its procedures to get as much public input as possible before any votes are taken.

"I think people view the board as very fair," Blankenship said. "The public can bring up an issue or a board member can bring up an issue at one meeting, but we can't bring it up and vote on it at the same meeting. That's been the rule of the board for the past several years. That way, people get plenty of opportunity to look at the proposals and provide public input so the decisions made by the board and the Department are very sound.

"Our process provides a good back-and-forth with the Advisory Board and the divisions of the Department and the public to try to do what's right for the natural resources of our state and for the people who enjoy the outdoors."

With the additions of Butler, Barksdale and Jones, the board has now reached its 10 members who represent the different districts in the state.

Representing District 1 are Stimpson and Gary Wolfe of Fairhope. District 2 is represented by Patrick Cagle of Montgomery and Grady Hartzog of Eufaula.

SUBMITTED PHOTOS

Jessica Butler

Jeff Martin of Pell City represents District 3, while Barksdale represents District 4. Butler and Raymond Jones Jr. of Huntsville represent District 5. Dobbs is the District 6 representative, and Brock Jones is the representative from District 7.

The board usually meets in February each year, followed by a meeting later in the spring.

As numerous hunters and anglers can attest, regular attendance and input at the CAB meetings can result in the changes the public desires as long as those changes are in the best interest of the natural resources and outdoors enthusiasts in Alabama. Those who do not participate are missing a valuable opportunity for their voices to be heard.

'Our process provides a good back-and-forth with the Advisory Board and the divisions of the Department and the public to try to do what's right for the natural resources of our state and for the people who enjoy the outdoors.'

How to choose a personal trainer

By MARY GLOVER
M.Ed., M.S., ACSM Certified

Why should personal trainers be only a luxury of the rich and famous? Some say that they cannot afford a personal trainer yet they will splurge on the purse that is in style, an expensive dinner out, or on a piece of exercise equipment that they promise to use. Unlike the purse that goes out of style, the instantly gratifying meal, and exercise bike that is used to hang clothing on, personal training is an investment in your health and fitness which can bring lasting benefits.

Before you splurge on the gift of personal training for yourself or for someone you care about, there are a few considerations that you should be aware of to make a sound investment. The following checklist will help you in your search for an educated, qualified, and compatible trainer who will help you to meet and to exceed your fitness goals.

Education and Certification

First and foremost, a professional trainer should have a degree in exercise science, kinesiology, exercise physiology, or a related health and fitness field. Ideally, your trainer should also have a current certification from a nationally recognized organization. The title "Personal Trainer" is not a guarantee that the person is qualified to lead you in a safe effective exercise program. The degrees and certifications are more than just pieces of paper. Rather, they are your assurance that your trainer has spent hours of serious preparation and did not get certified on a whim. Currently, there aren't any national standards or minimum requirements for holding this job title. Therefore, it is best for you to choose a trainer who is certified by one of the following organizations:

- American College of Sports Medicine (ACSM)
- Aerobic and Fitness Association of American (AFAA)
- American Council on Exercise (ACE)
- National Strength and Conditioning Association (NSCA)

While there may be other qualified certifying bodies not listed above, these are the most recognized and respected in the field. These certifications require a valid CPR card, the passing of written and practical exams, and continuing education requirements. These organizations also offer professional liability insurance to their trainers. Some of the organizations even provide an online database of trainers in your particular area.

The Right Fit

You must decide if you would prefer a male or female trainer. Is the trainer able to accommodate your schedule? The trainer should be able to communicate clearly and explain your program in an easy to understand manner. Ask yourself if this trainer is someone you could get along with. The trainer should be an individual genuinely interested in helping you to make the lifestyle changes necessary to reach your fitness goals.

Fees

Rates will vary depending on the length of sessions, location, and trainer's experience. Some gyms offer discounts on package deals and even group personal training options. On average, hands-on personal training is $65 to $100 an hour depending on the market.

A Game Plan

Be cautious of a trainer who insists on a workout during the first meeting without first getting to know your goals and physical capabilities. Qualified trainers should ask you to complete a health history questionnaire, informed consent form, and require a physician's approval to exercise. Baseline measurements to assess body fat, flexibility, cardio respiratory endurance and muscular endurance can be utilized to prescribe the best type of exercise, equipment and level of intensity. No exercise plan is complete without giving proper attention to nutrition. Your trainer should have a network of professionals such as nutrition specialists, physical therapists, and physicians to refer you to in areas outside of their expertise.

Proceed With Caution

Beware of trainers who may engage in unethical practices. Be on guard and skeptical if your trainer:

- Tries to sell dietary supplements or ergogenic aids.
- Is uninsured.
- Doesn't have written policies on billing and cancellation procedures.
- Is not punctual or is unavailable via telephone or email.
- Does not practice what he/she preaches.

With the above information you are now equipped to go out and find the best trainer to best suit you. So, go ahead and splurge because you are investing in one of your greatest assets — your health and fitness!

Food and fun at the Senior Lifestyle Expo

Hundreds of seniors turned out for the annual South Alabama Regional Planning Commission's Area on Aging 2017 Baldwin County Senior Lifestyle Expo, held Thursday, Oct. 12 at the Baldwin County Coliseum in Robertsdale. Several local providers were set up to offer healthcare screenings and advice for seniors, as well as what's available through the Area Agency on Aging. Vendors were also on hand with plenty of free handouts, along with games and prizes. Participants also received a free token for a spin on Cigna Healthspring's Wheel of Fortune and chances will be available for door prizes.

For more information about what the Area on Aging has to offer, contact the South Alabama Regional Planning Commission at (251) 433-6541 or Lorraine Martin at 251-706-4638.

Robertsdale Garden Club: 'Yesterday, Today & Tomorrow'

Submitted by
MARY ANN LINDSAY

ROBERTSDALE — The Baldwin County Fair was the setting for the Robertsdale Garden Club flower show representing the theme "Yesterday, Today and Tomorrow." Members submitted 14 flower arrangements which were judged by Baldwin County Master Gardeners Theresa Sims, Pam Tucker and Tampa Sykora.

Member Katie Warren chaired the show. Charlotte Zinner, a member of the club over 46 years, was awarded a blue ribbon for her entry. Other blue ribbon awards went to Jimmie Lou Ramey and Mary Ann Lindsay.

"Best of Show" ribbon was awarded to Katie Warren for her arrangement "Yesterday Plantings = Today's Beauty." Judge Tampa Sykora remarked that this year's arrangements were "fabulous."

The judges were also called upon to judge horticulture entries and the Spanish Fort Garden Club flower arrangements. The Club presented flowering cactus arrangements to the judges to thank them for their time and expertise.

ROBERTSDALE — For the first time in 87 years, the Robertsdale Garden Club was called to order by a gentleman, Ken Ramey, first vice president. Before the club was officially formed, Harry Starnes, a vocational-agriculture teacher, designed a landscaping plan for shrubs and plants at the Robertsdale schools. This was the genesis of the present-day garden club.

Since this was the first meeting of the year, Ramey reviewed programs for the year as well as Robertsdale Health Care birthday assignments. Charlotte Zinner presented the treasurer's report, and Hilda O'Clair read minutes from the last meeting.

Mary Ann Lindsay, publicity chair, reported that press releases and pictures continue to be published in local newspapers.

Mary Ann Lindsay will prepare a draft of guidelines for participation in the Baldwin County Fair for review at the next meeting.

Charlotte Zinner brought two bags of spider lily bulbs for all members to share. These lilies are also called Hurricane lilies and Surprise lilies.

Following the business meeting, Katie Warren, chair of the club flower show for the Baldwin County Fair, gave a demonstration and tips on creating flower arrangements.

Mary Ann Lindsay with Door Prize

Lou and Ken Ramey.

The next meeting will be held on Thursday, Oct. 12 instead of Tuesday, Oct. 10. Members and guests will take a field trip to the Weeks Bay plant sale followed by lunch. Jimmie Lou Ramey will make the arrangements.

A time to celebrate

Silverhill Seniors celebrated birthdays and anniversaries in August and September. The group meets for a short program and lunch beginning at 11 a.m. the second Thursday of every month at the Silverhill Community Center, 21918 Third St. Celebrating in August are, from left, Mickey Wiley, birthday; Harry and Margie Melton, anniversary; Lamar Giles, Bonnie McNeil and Dorothy Chandler, birthdays. Celebrating birthdays in September are, from left, Delores Downs, Betty Woodward and Virginia Martin.

each turn.
 The Town of Terror is open Fridays and Saturdays from 6 p.m.-midnight.
 Feeling extra brave? Then come to the Town of Terror on Thursdays or Sundays from 6-9 p.m., when the attraction hosts special Flashlight Nights. On these nights, all the lights inside the attraction will be shut off and the town will be cast into complete darkness. The only thing to guide you through the maze? A single flashlight (only one is allowed per group, and all flashlights are provided upon entry) that will offer guests light. The fun doesn't stop there. The flashlights are interactive, and those who enter with one will find a whole different type of terror waiting for them as they navigate the darkened halls with their trusty (or untrustworthy) flashlight.

 Located outside of The Park, Town of Terror can be experienced with a combo ticket for the attraction and The Park, or solo tickets that will only get guests into the attraction. Admission prices can be found on OWA's website.
 If being terrified isn't for you, or if guests are looking for a more kid-friendly activity to enjoy, then they merely have to enter The Park to find fun for the whole family.

 On Fridays from 4-7 p.m. and Saturdays and Sundays from 12:30-6 p.m., guests can enjoy the Parkside Pumpkin Patch, which is free to guests with paid admission to The Park, while supplies last. Pumpkins are provided by the park, and kids and adults alike can paint their pumpkin and then have it displayed right in the park.
 Also happening during October is The Park After Dark, featuring trick-or-treating and a Spooky Spell Search.

 For the in-park trick-or-treating, children can go to various locations within the amusement park and receive complimentary pumpkin treat bags that will be handed out while supplies last.
 The Spooky Spell Search begins upon entry to The Park, where guests are given a map after speaking with the representatives at the first booth. They then follow the map and stop at various scavenger hunt locations, where a cast of "spooky" characters will be waiting for them. The object of the hunt is to break the OWA curse by stopping by all 5 locations that will be scattered around the park.

 Both activities included in The Park After Dark, as well as the Parkside Pumpkin Patch, are all non-scary activities and geared towards children. There will also be complimentary face-painting inside the amusement park for kids to enjoy.
 What about those who would rather do the Halloween activities on the actual date of the holiday? OWA will be open on both Oct. 30 as well as Oct. 31, and they will be offering every Halloween-related activity to guests on those nights. So whether you're hoping to take the children out for some trick-or-treating or curse-breaking, or if you were thinking of spending Halloween running from escaped lunatics while navigating a tight maze, OWA will be open from 6-10 p.m. on both the 30 and 31.

 For more information on OWA's hours, admission costs, or general inquiries, visit their website at VisitOWA.com.
