CITY OF CEDAR PARK

Cedar Park employee charged with child porn

By JOSH MONIZ
HCN Senior Reporter

A driver with the Cedar Park Fire Department was charged Friday, Jan. 10, in Hamilton County District Court with one count of third-degree felony possession of child pornography and two counts of second-degree felony promotion of child pornography.

Jay Cortez, 51, who has been with the city for more than 17 years, was charged with the crimes but has not yet been indicted pending investigation by a Hamilton County grand jury. He posted a $27,000 bond and is no longer in jail.

The City of Cedar Park confirmed he is currently on administrative leave.

JAY CORTEZ

Cortez was charged after his wife discovered dozens of images of child pornography on his tablet, took photos and turned them over to the Hamilton County Sheriff's Department, according to the arrest affidavit in the case.

After receiving the materials, Hamilton County Sheriff Justin Caraway and Lt. Ray Miller staked out the couple's Hamilton, Texas home. According to the affidavit, Cortez drove by the house twice, then sped away when they tried to approach his vehicle at Hamilton Fair Park.

The investigators later discovered Cortez had returned home and swapped vehicles for his wife's Buick prior to being spotted at a nearby intersection, according to the affidavit.

Cortez agreed to go to the sheriff's office where he admitted to looking at pages with images of female children performing sex acts on adults, and looking at pornography at least three times a week when his wife and children weren't home. It also states he admitted to knowing the victims were under the age of 18 and identified several of the victims as being between 10 and 12 years old. Lastly, it also states he admitted to viewing bestiality pornography.

He also reportedly admitted to having an "onion" on his tablet, a series of nodes that allow untraceable Internet searching, while browsing a link on the dark web.

Reed Elementary announces Lighthouse Certification at surprise assembly

By APRIL S. KELLEY
HCN Community Reporter

"You might think this is just a regular pep rally or synergy rally, but actually it's not," Reed Elementary Principal Paige Collier said. "It's extra special today. I have been keeping a little secret."

Collier turned students' groans into cheers when it was announced that Reed Elementary School had received a Lighthouse Certification, a highly-regarded standard recognizing schools that have produced outstanding results in school and student outcomes as well as impacted staff, students, parents and the greater community.

"It's really exciting," Collier said. "I guess just seeing the culmination of everybody's hard work and putting leaders first, putting students first."

Reed Elementary told students, staff and parents that they would be attending an Apex pep rally on Monday afternoon, but instead they were all surprised to learn of their achievement. Collier said she found out about the certification one week ago and decided that she wanted to surprise everyone.

Students get excited after learning that they will be celebrating their Lighthouse Certification with cupcakes and extra recess.

"Everybody's been working really hard, and it's something that you work over multiple years for," she said. "So when we got the news, we wanted to make sure that people were excited and happy about it."

With the Student Lighthouse Team standing by the stage, a student read the Lighthouse Certification announcement. Collier then announced that everyone would be celebrating with cupcakes, provided by the Reed Elementary PTA, and extra recess immediately following the assembly.

Students, staff and parents cheered, as well as Leander Independent School District's Superintendent Dr. Bruce Gearing, Chief of Staff Matt Smith, Chief Communications Officer Corey Ryan and School and Community Relations Specialist Rachel Acosta.

WILLIAMSON COUNTY

Wilco says no to new ATV lease

By APRIL S. KELLEY
HCN Community Reporter

In the middle of the budget year, the Williamson County Sheriff's Department asked Williamson County Commissioners permission to enter into a lease-purchase agreement for a new ATV. Commissioners said no.

Indeed, the idea didn't even get enough support to go to a vote. Williamson County Commissioner Cynthia Long's motion to approve the contract didn't get a second.

CAPITAL METRO

Cap Metro resumes Saturday service, adds Leander stop

By JOSH MONIZ
HCN Senior Reporter

Capital Metro has resumed Saturday rail service and added the Leander rail station to the service for the first time.

The service has been suspended since June while Cap Metro installed and tested the federally-mandated "positive train control" system. The system is meant to prevent collisions caused by the human elements of the system by installing automatic electronic override systems.

The Saturday service will only run during the afternoon and evening with departures from the Leander station towards downtown running from 4 p.m. to 11 p.m. Prior to the temporary stop of service, the Saturday service only traveled as far as the Lakeline station.

Meanwhile, Cap Metro is also expanding its weekday service by adding more departure times and having the final northbound departure from the downtown, including on Saturdays, now leaving at 7:18 p.m.

Cap Metro still does not provide Sunday service. For more information on Saturday service and new departure times, check out www.capmetro.org/metrorail.

Council to consider Ronald Reagan Blvd. speed reduction

By JOSH MONIZ

The Leander City Council will hold a joint workshop 5:30 p.m. Thursday, prior to the regular 7 p.m. council meeting, with the newly appointed Comprehensive Plan Advisory Committee, which will advise in the review and overhaul of the city's Comprehensive Plan.

The plan is updated every 5 years and serves as the guiding document for how city staff will be directed to tackle community goals and the city's economic growth.

The 16 recently appointed members to the board and the entities they represent are:

- Planning and Zoning Commission: Annette Sponseller
- Parks Board: Randy Hutchison
- Public Arts Commission: Deanna Ramirez
- TIRZ Board: Joe Eckels
- Economic Development Committee: Bob Shaver
- Leander ISD: Jimmy Disler
- Chamber of Commerce: Bridget Brandt

- Place 2: Kathy Howell
- Place 3: Pete Tamez
- Place 4: Richard Schaffner
- Place 5: Chelsea Irby
- Place 6: Kelsey Stone

The council will consider during the regular meeting a proposal to reduce the speed limit for Ronald W. Reagan Boulevard from 65 mph to 50 mph for the section of the road between one-half mile north of the Palmera Ridge Boulevard/Vista Heights Drive and one-quarter mile south of Hero Way. The proposal is meant to adjust the road's speed to reflect the introduction of new intersection and heavier traffic along the road as the city had grown.

Notably, four agenda items related to two separate development projects requesting land use and zoning amendments to their already approved projects have been pulled or postponed to February after hotly debated or deadlocked votes at the Jan. 9 Leander Planning and Zoning Commission meeting.

LISD seeks input through pre-k community survey

By APRIL S. KELLEY
HCN Community Reporter

The Leander Independent School District is currently conducting a community survey to gauge the interest and plan for the expansion of pre-kindergarten from a half-day to a full-day curriculum for eligible 4-year-olds, to begin in the 2020-21 school year, according to the district website. The survey will also gauge the interest in possibly offering a half-day pre-school program for eligible 3-year-olds.

“We are excited to connect with our community to learn what our priorities should be in this important initiative,” LISD Superintendent Dr. Bruce Gearing said. “This district has phenomenal learning happening at every level and our intent is to provide the very best educational environment for our littlest learners.”

House Bill 3, passed in the 86th Legislative Session, requires all school districts in the state to implement a full-day pre-k program.

Eligibility requirements for the free, full-day program include several factors, including whether or not the student is economically disadvantaged, if their parent is an active-duty military member or if they have difficulty understanding English. A list of the eligibility requirements for the free, full-day program can be found at leanderisd.org/prek.

There may also be opportunities for those students who are not eligible for the free, full-day program to participate through a tuition-supported program.

LISD currently offers a half-day pre-k program at six elementary schools for eligible 4-year-olds, which includes free breakfast or lunch and transportation.

The community is invited to complete the survey to help plan the future for pre-k in LISD at leanderisd.org/PreKsurvey. The survey is available in both English and Spanish.

Covey says Wilco Commissioners are ‘very transparent’ after comment

By APRIL S. KELLEY
HCN Community Reporter

Williamson County resident Bill Killebrew asked the Williamson County Commissioners to be more transparent at their meetings during the public comment portion of their meeting on Tuesday. Though not directly, Commissioner Valerie Covey responded to the concern, pointing out transparency on behalf of the Commissioner’s Court.

“We got 10 pages of agenda and only one page of Regular Agenda, so we’ve got nine pages of stuff that are lacking in transparency,” Bill Killebrew said.

He said things in the Consent Agenda, such as spending money and delegation of authority are often approved without real discussion, and things discussed during Executive Session, such as lawsuits against the Williamson County Sheriff’s Department, Williamson County Sheriff Robert Chody and the Williamson County Commissioners as well as land acquisitions and economic development discussions receive almost no transparency to citizens.

“They’re hidden in the agenda, behind closed-door meetings ... Are we ever going to see better transparency in this county?” he said.

Covey requested several items from the Consent Agenda be moved to the Regular Agenda prior to the Court’s approval of the Consent Agenda, stating that these kinds of things are proof of their transparency. Most of these items related to change orders for previously approved projects.

“I’m disappointed that Bill left after commenting about transparency because that’s what we’re doing here,” she said. “We’re talking about several items that were lumped together in consent. I think it’s done for consistency of items’ types, but there are many times that we pull items off Consent and put them on Regular Agenda so that we can have discussion.”

Later after the unanimous approval of some of those same agenda items, Covey made another comment about transparency on behalf of the Commissioner’s Court.

“Not to get into detail, but I think what we just did shows that we are transparent in our procedures here, as well as the fact that our Executive Session is so long because we are so transparent on all of the items,” she said. “I think there are over 65 items that are there, including real estate, litigation and economic development items. We list them out specifically so that people can understand. Obviously, the negotiations for those items are not going to happen out in public, which would not be to the benefit of the taxpayers. I just wanted to comment that we are very transparent in our items.”

CEDAR PARK CITY COUNCIL

Council approves utility impact fee increase

By JOSH MONIZ
HCN Senior Reporter

The Cedar Park City Council approved Thursday increasing each of the City of Cedar Park’s two utility impact fees by approximately $1,000 per living unit equivalents (LUEs).

The water and wastewater impact fees are meant as one-time assessments to cover some of the cost created by new developments adding a significant increase in demand for local utility services and contributing to the need for more capital improvements projects to facilitate the demand on the system. The fees are only assessed against new developments or sizable new projects, so it does not impact existing customers nor does it change the city’s utility rates.

During its first public hearing, the council approved adopting the new updates to the city’s Land Use Assumptions and Capital Improvement Plan, which is used in the calculation of the utility impact fees. Based on anticipated growth rates, approximately 4,524 (LUE) are expected to be added to the city’s water and wastewater systems over the coming decade.

During the second public hearing, the council also approved the city’s recommendations, based on the city’s new calculations for future need, to increase the water impact fee from $2,250 to $3,160 per LUE and the wastewater impact fee from $2,000 to $3,170 per LUE.

The only citizen to speak on the items was former Cedar Park Mayor Bob Antle, who did not oppose the increase but urged the council to be mindful in general about city fees in order to keep residential units affordable as the city grows.

NEWS BRIEFS

Governor’s domestic terrorism task force meets at Capitol

Gov. Greg Abbott last week convened the quarterly meeting of his Domestic Terrorism Task Force at the state Capitol.

“We must work together to develop meaningful solutions to fully eradicate domestic terrorism in the Lone Star State,” Abbott said in explaining the purpose of the meeting. “Just as domestic terrorism takes many forms, this task force is committed to developing comprehensive and evolving defense strategies to ensure a safe and secure future for every Texan,” Abbott added.

Abbott’s office said the task force analyzed prevention strategies against domestic terrorism in the form of cyber attacks and discussed the importance of good “cyber hygiene.”

Task force members include Abbott, Lt. Gov. Dan Patrick, House Speaker Dennis Bonnen, Texas Attorney General Ken Paxton and other high-ranking state, county and federal officials.

DPS releases reports

On Jan. 7, the Texas Department of Public Safety released two reports: the 58-page “Assessing the Mass Attacks Threat to Texas” and the 49-page “Texas Domestic Terrorism Threat Assessment.”

In releasing the documents, DPS Director Steven McCraw said it is critical to evaluate public safety vulnerabilities. To further its mission in preventing acts of violence and terrorism, the DPS is urging Texans to report suspicious activity to their local law enforcement or through the iWatchTexas program, a system that captures and connects potential criminal, terroristic or school safety-related threats.

Both reports are available online at dps.texas.gov/news.htm.

Disaster is declared

Drought conditions have caused a state of disaster in 17 Texas counties, Gov. Greg Abbott declared on Jan. 3. The declaration applies to the counties of Bandera, Bell, Blanco, Burnet, Karnes, Kendall, Kinney, Llano, Maverick, McCulloch, Medina, Real, Uvalde, Val Verde, Williamson, Zapata and Zavala.

Significantly low rainfall and prolonged dry conditions continue to increase the threat of wildfire and pose an imminent threat to public health, property and the economy.

In the declaration, the governor authorizes the use of all necessary available resources of state government and its political subdivisions.

Injury statistics posted

The Texas Department of Insurance on Jan. 3 referred to U.S. Bureau of Labor Statistics data showing there are more workers in shopping malls and retail outlets that get sick and injured than in any other private industry sector in Texas.

An estimated 33,200 retail workers in Texas suffered a job-related illness or injury in 2018, as compared to 12,300 in construction, 17,700 in transportation and 20,400 in manufacturing, according to the Bureau of Labor Statistics.

About 25% of these injuries required Texas retail workers to lose a day of work, while about 5 percent of the injuries required employees to lose 31 days or more of work.

The median time off for injured retail workers in Texas was five days. “There are more retail workers in the state getting injured than employees in construction, transportation or even on factory floors,” said Chris D’Amura, director of workplace safety at the Texas Department of Insurance, Division of Workers’ Compensation.

“We’re seeing a lot of retail workers with sprains, strains, tears and overexertion. According to the U.S. Occupational Safety and Health Administration, the longer workdays, expanded schedules and irregular shifts can negatively affect the mental and physical health of retail workers,” D’Amura said.

“When you add less sleep and more crowd stress, it’s not surprising we start seeing more accidents. Falls from ladders, slips on floors and trips over boxes and equipment were cited among the most common causes of injuries in the retail industry. Overexertion due to lifting, lowering and repetitive motion is also a high cause of injury in retail,” D’Amura added.

Paxton reacts to ruling

State Attorney General Paxton on Jan. 6 welcomed the U.S. Court of Appeals for the Fifth Circuit ruling that parties protesting the relocation of Confederate monuments at the University of Texas do not have standing to pursue their lawsuit.

The bronze statues of Jefferson Davis, Robert E. Lee, Albert Sidney Johnston and John Reagan were moved in 2015 and 2017 to the Briscoe Center for American History on the university campus, where the figures are part of an educational display.

TEXAS TRIBUNE ANALYSIS

Treat elected officials like your dog

Imagine a dog, a Labrador-border collie mix named Dixie. Our friendly beast likes food and can reach things left within a foot of the edge of the kitchen counter.

Dixie knows that eating things on the counter will get her in big trouble, but she is a dog and does what dogs do when their humans aren't paying attention. There is practical evidence that she especially likes steaks and hamburgers.

But she won't make her move when anyone is watching, a tendency she shares with our elected officials.

The treat in question here is an appearance by Enrique Iglesias, the guest of honor for a holiday parade in McAllen in 2015. The duly elected celebrity-struck members of that City Council paid $485,000 for the music star's performance, and then fought public disclosure of the amount and details of the contract for more than four years.

The details were juicy, literally, as The Texas Tribune's Emma Platoff reported: The contract required two bottles of aloe juice — one with pulp, one without — in his dressing room. It required a pre-show meal of steak and chicken; a post-show list of sushi, water, Ketel One Vodka, orange Gatorade, three "UNOPENED" bags of strawberry Twizzlers and two washed king-sized sheets ("THIS IS EXTREMELY IMPORTANT," the contract noted); and a list of foods and drinks for a crew of 20 to 30 people. The city had to pay for setting up the stage to the performer's specifications; provide chartered flights from and to Guadalajara, Mexico; cover two dozen hotel rooms and so on — all on top of the $485,000 fee for his performance.

It's a freaky list, but that's show business. What's really consequential here is that public money financed the whole enterprise, and the public officials who spent it tried every which way to avoid telling their voters how much the extravaganza cost.

They relied on state laws and Texas Supreme Court rulings written to hold the secrecy of government contractors over the interests of taxpayers. It took the Legislature four years to fix it, but lawmakers led by state Sen. Kirk Watson, D-Austin, and state Rep. Giovanni Capriglione, R-Southlake, closed two loopholes in last year's legislative session — taking away the exceptions that allowed McAllen to keep the Iglesias contract under wraps.

The law still protects trade secrets and the like, but governments in Texas have to share information about costs and bids and such that they were routinely keeping from the public in the wake of a 2015 decision by the Texas Supreme Court.

But the old law of the land prevailed for four years, blocking open-information requests for any government with enough gumption and creativeness to employ it. As the Tribune reported in 2016, blocked requests included one to the city of Houston for the number of driver permits issued to Uber, the food service deal in Kaufman County's public schools and details from the Texas Department of Insurance's contract for interpretation services.

Records like those were open before the Supreme Court intervened, and now, thanks to the recent changes in the law, they're open again.

As with the Iglesias ignominy, the details might come out any day now on any of those requests — or others — and might even be as hilarious as McAllen's 2015 misadventure.

But that doesn't exactly set things right. Getting away with something for a year, or for four years, is different from not getting away with it at all. We can go back and see what happened, but probably not in a time frame that allows us to do anything to stop a bad deal, or a goofy one. It's amazing what can happen when you're not looking — or aren't allowed to look.

Anyone seen Dixie?

Ross Ramsey is the executive editor of the Texas Tribune, a non-profit, digital-only news organization focused on statewide legislative and policy issues.

MY VIEW

Talking to my daughter about war, 'Megafires'

We were on the way to ballet rehearsal. It's my favorite 30 minutes of the day. It's a chance to break away from work, and to touch base with my only child. She's 14 now. And it won't be long before she's driving herself. I treasure these moments.

"So," I asked her. "How was school today?"

"We were arguing about whether we're more likely to die from World War III or climate change," she said.

"... a 2008 report commissioned by the Australian government predicted that global warming would cause the nation's fire seasons to begin earlier, end later, and be more intense - starting around 2020."

— PAUL KRUGMAN, NEW YORK TIMES COLUMNIST

Her response stopped me cold, but I guess I shouldn't have been surprised. With the dogs of war straining at the leash, the missiles flying in Iran, and our bellicose and unstable commander-in-chief lurching from one scarcely believable justification to the next, the prospect of another American forever war on the other side of the globe didn't seem all that far-fetched.

MICEK

GUEST COLUMNIST

First up, I disabused her of the notion that any of her classmates might be drafted, reassuring her that there was no such movement afoot on Capitol Hill. Nor would there likely ever be one. The American military remains an all-volunteer force comprised not of the nation's elite, but of the sons and daughters of Main Street America. Trump's voters. Some of my daughter's classmates - if they ever heed the call to serve - may well be among them.

She seemed relieved at that news. Talking to her about the threat of climate change was another matter entirely.

It seemed to me there were decades remaining before the Earth might ever be rendered uninhabitable because of climate change, I offered. Which didn't mean that we shouldn't do all we can right now, I added.

"But Australia is burning," she countered, her brown eyes wide with alarm, anger creeping into the edges of her voice.

She had me there. I'd seen the photos of scorched koalas and dead kangaroos. The endless walls of flame. It's difficult to find the words to describe the scale, and the scope, of the ecological and human catastrophe that's unfolding on the other side of the world.

As of this writing, NPR was reporting that a hellish "megafire" comprising an unfathomable 1.5 million acres, an area three times larger than any known brush fire in California, had taken shape in New South Wales and Victoria, the country's most populous states.

That's on top of the 135 bushfires in southeastern Australia that have left at least 26 people dead, killed more than 1 billion animals and damaged or destroyed nearly 3,000 homes.

Writing in the New York Times, columnist Paul Krugman observed that, in a more rational time, the fires, which have been partially a result of climate change, "would have represented a turning point."

"After all, it's exactly the kind of catastrophe climate scientists long warned us to expect if we didn't take action to limit greenhouse gas emissions," he wrote. "In fact, a 2008 report commissioned by the Australian government predicted that global warming would cause the nation's fire seasons to begin earlier, end later, and be more intense - starting around 2020."

And all this got me to thinking about the world that we're bequeathing to my daughter and her classmates.

While much is better about the planet, there's still much to be concerned about. And the threat of an uninhabitable globe should lead us to a united search for solutions, not juvenile taunts hurled at a teenager by one of the most powerful people on Earth. Even one dead child in an elementary school classroom should motivate us to find ways to reduce violence, not watch hopelessly as more bodies pile up.

I'm still firm in my belief that it's not too late for us to shrug off all that divides us, and to work together to fight these existential threats.

But that means having a nation that engages with the global community not denigrates it; one that rejects the false choice that less gun violence somehow means fewer rights; and one that doesn't stare each over the trenches, each irrevocably convinced that its way is the only way.

My daughter - and all our children - deserve far better answers than the ones we've been giving them.

The sheriff’s department wanted a 2020 Kawasaki Pro FXT LE Mule, from RideNow-Georgetown as part of Kawasaki’s Law Loan program and made that presentation at the Jan. 7 meeting of the commissioners court.

The idea drew immediate criticism during public comments.

Georgetown residents Mark and Catherine Truesdale said they opposed the 11-month ATV service contract.

“There is no such thing as a free lunch,” said Catherine, noting that there appears to be no clear or urgent need for this ATV for the Sheriff’s Department, and that Kawasaki clearly has an agenda with the loan program.

“Williamson County should maintain a disinterested, arms-length relationship with Kawasaki and its local dealership, none of this free loan hanky panky of expensive, double-the-price ATVs. Surely Kawasaki seeks an advantage in future ATV sales to the County Sheriff via this free loan.”

Mark opposed the approval of the 11-month service agreement stating that it should not be requested nor approved in the middle of a fiscal year.

“Why would we deviate from that rational, deliberative, public-serving budget process to accept a free loan from a local dealership of this ATV?,” he said. “It’s not good government.”

Catherine said the Sheriff’s Department did not request the Kawasaki ATV during the budget process but they did request two replacement ATV’s, a John Deere Gator and a livestock ATV, both listed at the price of $8,500.

Commissioner Valerie Covey interrupted Mark to make a clarification, saying that it is not a free loan.

“It’s not free in that we do have maintenance and operation on it,” Covey said. “The other thing is that after the 11-month loan period, then we get to hopefully renew it. In 11 or 12 months, we would have to pay for it ... it wouldn’t be required, it would be an option.”

As a lawyer, Mark said he had reviewed every related Texas Statute to make sure there were no violations.

A letter from the Williamson County Sheriff’s Department to the dealership lists the proposed uses of the ATV while under the loan service agreement. The letter states that the ATV would be used in the search and rescue of missing children, elderly and other individuals; demonstrations at community events; transportation at large or extended crime scenes for personnel; park and lake patrols; parades; and any other event or call that would benefit the community of Williamson County.

“Nowhere [in the statutes] do I see any mention of parades,” Mark said. “No mention of conducting parades, supervising parades or riding in parades, no mention of parades whatsoever ... If you [approve the loan agreement as proposed], you’re going to be in violation of Sec. 81.032. I ask you not to take that unlawful step.”

Kawasaki provides a Law Loan program to public safety agencies to be used exclusively for purposes of patrol, enforcement, rescue or education at no cost for the loan program except for the fuel and mechanical repairs. RideNow-Georgetown does recommend the break in service at 20 hours, which costs approximately $618.78 to be funded from the Sheriff’s Office vehicle repair and maintenance line item.

Williamson County would also be responsible for providing Bodily Injury and Property Damage Liability Insurance on the ATV when loaned to the Sheriff’s Department. At the end of the loan period, they have the option to re-apply for the program or purchase the previously-loaned ATV at a discounted price.

Mark said he had approached RideNow-Georgetown to discuss what the discounted price might be after the loan service contract period expired. He was told they would likely receive a $1,700 discount on the list price of $17,977.10.

Texas Longhorns guard Matt Coleman III (2) goes to the basket as High Point Panthers guard Denny Slay II (2) overcommits on the defense during the second half of an NCAA men's basketball game between Texas and High Point in Austin, Texas, on Dec. 30, 2019.

Texas continues conference play with tough week

By ZACH SMITH
HCN Sports Editor

Texas has had to do some soul searching since the Big 12 season started. The Longhorns dropped their first two games of conference play, losing on the road against Baylor and at home to Oklahoma before picking up their first Big 12 win with a 64-50 win over Kansas State on Saturday night. “The Kansas State game was one of the best we’ve had in a while in terms of our guys driving who we want to be,” head coach Shaka Smart said. “The biggest key for us is that player given component. There are guys leading the way and saying, ‘This is who we’re going to be and we won’t accept anything less.’” One of the guys Smart pointed out as a leader, Matt Coleman, scored a team-high 14 points in the Longhorns’ win over the Wildcats on Saturday, while Texas didn’t allow a point for the first eight minutes of the second half. Two other leaders, Courtney Ramey and Jace Febres rounded out the box score with 11 and 10 points, respectively. The Longhorns turned the ball over 20 times but finished 10-of-23 from 3-point range. “Defense has to be our identity and our anchor,” Smart said. “You’re typically not going to hold a team scoreless for seven or eight minutes, but we helped each other and got our hands on the basketball. That’s what we want to be about.” Texas travels to face off against Oklahoma State on Wednesday and returns to the Frank Erwin Center when No. 6 Kansas comes to Austin on Saturday afternoon. A year ago in Stillwater, the Longhorns used a pair second-half runs to tie the game late, but Ramey missed a potential game-winning 3-pointer from long range at the buzzer to give the Cowboys the win. Smart, like most coaches, isn’t worried about that fact. “It’s about this year’s team and where we are coming off of this past week and the steps we need to take as a group,” Smart said. “We made a big point of emphasis going into the Kansas State game of simplifying things. The guys grabbed hold of that.”

“There are guys leading the way and saying, ‘This is who we’re going to be and we won’t accept anything less.’”

THE BIG PICTURE

Victoria Baker, Vista Ridge eye continued success

HCN Sports Editor

Vista Ridge has been a perennial playoff team every year senior Victoria Baker has been on the squad, but the big picture remains the same. The Rangers made it to the regional semifinals last year after advancing to the second round the previous two seasons. That playoff pedigree only increases the confidence of this year’s team. “This year, we have a lot more people that bought in even if they aren’t getting a lot of minutes,” the senior guard said. “This year we kind of want it a little more just because of the headache we had from last year.” Vista Ridge wrapped up the first half of district play last week, outlasting Cedar Ridge 64-56 on Tuesday in a rematch of last season’s thrilling round-three game, which the Rangers won by one point. “We knew we had to match their intensity,” Vista Ridge head coach Keith Allen said. “Cedar Ridge made some adjustments in the second half and gave us a run. It was a pretty adverse situation in the last four minutes, and they overcame it.” The Rangers then dropped their first game of the district campaign, falling to Hendrickson 70-67. All-District honorable mention Zion Neat, first-team forward A.J. Marotte and Baker, who was named Co-Offensive MVP in District 13-6A as a junior last season, make up a trio that has served as the offensive catalyst this season. “It’s hard to admit that they’ve grown up,” Allen said. “They’re some of the greatest kids I’ve ever coached. Their investment in the program, and their love of the game and crave for knowledge has been impressive. I don’t want to stop coaching them.” On one hand, Baker understands that she wants to end her senior year on a high note, but when she gets out on the court, all that pressure fades away.

ZACH SMITH
Senior Victoria Baker was named District 13-6A Co-Offensive MVP last season, leading the Rangers to the fourth round of the playoffs.

ROUND ROCK (2-6, 13-13) AT
VISTA RIDGE (7-1, 19-6)

Vista Ridge High School
Main Gym
Friday, January 17, 7 p.m.

“We have really good chemistry, and it shows on the court,” Baker said. “Everyone is kind of playing for each other.” Allen admitted that the team took a step back over the Christmas period, which included a pair of losses during tournament play. But, especially in the game against the Raiders, they started to show they were on their way back. At the end of the first round, Vista Ridge (7-1 District 13-6A) has a one-game lead over Cedar Ridge (6-2) and Hendrickson (6-2). The Rangers continue district play Friday night at home against Round Rock, followed by another home game against Mc-Neil next Tuesday.

ZACH SMITH
Senior Zion Neat is one of three players on the current Vista Ridge roster that was named to the All-District list last season.

“I just want to keep going up,” Allen said. “Playoffs and all the other stuff takes care of itself when you just keep getting better throughout the season. That’s how we can maximize the potential for this team.”
