Mother's Day, in case you need to be reminded, will be Sunday, May 9, this year.

According to History.com, the American incarnation of Mother's Day was created by Anna Jarvis in 1908 and became an official U.S. holiday in 1914.

While dates and celebrations vary around the world, Mother's Day traditionally involves presenting moms with flowers, cards and other gifts.

In Mexico, Mother's Day (El Dia de la Madre) is always celebrated on May 10, regardless of what day of the week it is.

RETURN TO THE WILD: BOBCAT RESCUED & RETURNED

Doña Ana County collaborated with the New Mexico Department of Game and Fish, and El Paso Electric Company to rescue a bobcat from atop an electrical pole Tuesday evening.

Residents in the Topaz Road area sighted the wild animal at the top of an electric pole and notified authorities and the electric company. Because the cat was stuck and in a precarious location, among live electrical wire, residents' concerns and various other factors, a rescue strategy was needed.

"The county recognized that this situation was an ongoing public safety concern. The bobcat did not seem interested in leaving its perch or was too scared to do so," said County Manager Fernando R. Macias.

To assist state wildlife officials and EPE, the county deployed its Facilities and Parks Department bucket truck, along with employees Andy Segovia and Victor Uranga, to operate the machinery on-site.

Around 4:30 p.m., EPE officials notified the county that they would de-energize the electrical wire in the immediate area after 5:00 p.m., a critical measure to rescue the bobcat. County and Mesilla Valley Regional Dispatch Authority staff quickly worked together to notify area residents via social media and emergency alert channels. The necessary outage lasted for less than an hour; and impacted 42 customers, by 5:45 p.m. all power was restored.

"This level of coordination and support from all entities involved to safely rescue this bobcat really exemplifies our partnership and passion we each share for our community and the customers we serve," expresses El Paso Electric CEO Kelly Tomblin.

"The operation went well, especially considering how quickly it came together," said Sgt. Chris Ortega from the New Mexico Department of Game and Fish. "I'm humbled by the number of people that were willing to assist our department in our efforts to safely remove the animal. The level of interest from the public was outstanding and demonstrates the combined passion individuals have in the protection of wildlife in our state."

On Wednesday, Ortega released the critter in the remote Lake Valley area near Hillsboro in the Gila National Forest. He reported that the bobcat's future consists of abundant food sources and vast rugged terrain to relish.

The New Mexico Department of Game and Fish strongly urges the public to avoid approaching wildlife or getting too close. Advancing towards wildlife is dangerous and causes additional stress on the animal. For assistance with wildlife related issues, the public can call their office at (575) 532-2100. DETENTION CENTER GRADUATION GOES VIRTUAL

The Doña Ana County Detention Center leaders will host a virtual swearing-in ceremony at 10 a.m. Thursday, May 6, for six cadets, via our Facebook page, at www.facebook.com/DonaAnaCounty.

Because of the pandemic and current gathering restrictions, a full ceremony with speakers and loved ones attending in person is not possible. Instead, cadets will be sworn in for service at the Detention Center. A full ceremony will be scheduled for everyone who graduated during the pandemic, at a later date.

Classes were conducted virtually for theoretical material and in person for hands-on techniques, as part of the Basic Detention Officers' Academy.

Doña Ana County Magistrate Judge Rebecca Duffin will administer the oaths of service.

Families and friends of the swearing-in participants are encouraged to join the virtual ceremony and it is open to the public. To view the ceremony, please join us on the County's Facebook page. If you would like to view it later, please visit our YouTube channel at www.youtube.com/c/DoñaAnaCountyGovernment.

Swearing-in ceremony participants are Luis Avina; Luis Borrego; Cesar Lazcano; Santiago Ozante III; William Zimmerman; and Daunte Trujillo.

Cleaning Up Our Recycling

Submitted by South Central Solid Waste Authority

Over the past year, it's likely that recycling may not have been a priority. However, you might have had plenty of Amazon boxes that ending up in your blue bin. But, did Styrofoam from curbside pickup or a greasy pizza box end up there too? That's contamination that decreases the quality of our recycling, and it's a problem that takes everyone to solve.

Our desert home is not a wasteland, but a balanced ecosystem that can be disrupted. Recycling is a crucial part of ensuring environmental sustainability. "It's one piece of the waste management puzzle, not a cure-all program," Patrick Peck, director of South Central Solid Waste Authority, said.

While landfills are a part of the waste management process, they are not ideal. "We know that burying all trash is not the way of the future," Peck said. "There are issues with landfills creating greenhouse gases and microplastics. 'Every piece of recyclable plastic we can remove from an inert process in the landfill – and instead captured to be reused

- is part of being responsible with our environmental stewardship." Peck said.

More than ever, it's up to everybody to double-check what goes into their blue bin: are your items on the acceptable list? Check www. SCSWA.net to be sure you know what's recyclable. Is what you're throwing in clean, dry, and free of food contamination? Double-check that plastic bottles (and rigid plastics): aluminum, steel. and tin cans; and milk and juice cartons are rinsed and dry. Just one swish of water in a milk jug is all we need. Make sure cardboard is flattened. End users individuals or businesses repurposing what you recycle — must have the cleanest recycled material possible to rework it into its next life cycle. Home and business recyclers can bump up the quality in their blue bins: Be mindful. You are recycling materials to be made into something new and clean recyclables are critical.

When pizza boxes find their way into the blue bin, the whole load of good, quality recyclables - like stiff cardboard and aluminum cans - can be contaminated and go to waste.

Residents are reminded to follow the guidance on their blue bins for a statewide initiative called "Know What to Throw." Quick tips include:

Thanks to Sisbarro Volkswagen and El Paso Electric, I got to be Batman for a weekend. I'm a lifelong fan of Batman, in nearly all its forms, particularly the mid-1960s TV show. You know, the one where Adam West as Batman, and Burt Ward as Robin, hop into the Batmobile and say, "Atomic batteries to power! Turbines to speed!" And then they race out of the Batcave toward Gotham City.

Rick Nezzer and Mike Tourtilott of Sisbarro gave me the opportunity to test drive Volkswagen's all-electric SUV, the ID.4. And because El Paso Electric gets about a third to half of its power for Las Cruces from the Palo Verde nuclear power plant in Arizona, you can legitimately call electric vehicles charged here atomic-powered. El Paso Electric also gets power from natural gas plants, and some from solar, but neither of those sound as cool as atomicpowered.

If your impression of an electric car is of a wimpy, low-powered golf cart, think again. Those of vou who have driven or ridden in a Tesla know what I'm talking about. The torque on acceleration makes it feel more like a rollercoaster than a car.

The ID.4 doesn't have quite the torque as a Tesla, but it costs about $25,000 less, too. And the Volkswagen is no slouch when it comes to acceleration. I loved the way it handled, braked and kicked in the power when I needed it.

As in the Tesla, much of the vehicle is operated from a big computer screen panel on the dashboard, about midway between the driver and the passenger. The screen takes some getting used to as you learn all the intricacies and capabilities. And the dash is not the only difference from the typical combustion-engine vehicle.

Ironically, the same day I barro, I also picked up my car from the repair shop, which had about $250 of repairs done to parts an electric car doesn't even have.

An electric car, of course, has no gas tank. It also has no oil pan, spark plugs, radiator, fuel pump, water pump, manifold, pistons and other gas-engine standards. An electric car still needs windshield wipers, a fan and, not just a battery, but a great big battery.

If you had your own electric car, you'd have a power plug-in station at your home, and you could charge it every night. Without that, or when you're traveling, you'll have to know where all the charging stations are on your route.

A fully charged ID.4 will give you about 250 miles of range. Because I didn't have the capability to charge the vehicle for a full 8 hours, I had to do intermittent charges. It was kind of cool, on Saturday, to plug the ID.4 at the public station on Organ Street Downtown, while I sat on the Boneyard Cantina ing to Chris Baker as I kept an eye on the vehicle.

I wasn't so lucky on Sunday. I had driven the vehicle down to a 45-mile range, and was sweating a bit the drive downtown for another charging. It made it fine, only dropping down to about 40 miles in range, but, unfortunately, another vehicle was using the Downtown charging station. Thankfully, another charging station, in front of City Hall, was available. There is another charging station at the Staybridge Suites at U.S. 70 and Del Rey Boulevard, but other than the car dealers themselves, I couldn't find any more stations in Las Cruces.

Tesla, in an apparent attempt to be the Apple of electric car manufacturers, created a charging system unique to its vehicles, so it's not interchangeable with other electric vehicles.

It's clear electric cars will be a part of our transportation future, but predicting their niche is still a bit tricky.

For those of you who forgot how easy it was to get started in farming, let me tell you about my friend Con.

Many years ago, he bought a farm in the wilds of Minnesota. The feller that sold him the farm had his farm sale the day Con arrived to take possession of the land. Now, Con had been a cowboy type all his life and, upon viewing the farm machinery stacked in the yard, he was hard put to identify anything other than the handyman jack and a tractor. But he thought if this stuff was good enough for the farmer that sold of Common Sense out, it was good enough for him. He'd figger out what it was later.

All the neighbors for miles around came to see who the new sucker was and maybe pick over the machinery like buzzards on fresh road kill . . .

Con jumped in and bought the only thing he recognized: the tractor. It was a 45 Allis . . . he paid $1,250. Then he bought the mounted plow that went with it.

Con said the auctioneer started on a big pile of orange metal. "Ain't you gonna buy that? You bought the tractor and the plow." Con bought it. Two days later he found out it was a mounted cultivator.

When the sale was over several of the farmers asked Con to load their heavy stuff, since he'd bought the tractor an' all, they said. Con leaped up in the seat, intent on showin' these took $3.6 billion intended for military projects throughout the world, and funneled it all to the southern border. Money diverted from

New Mexico bases included $40 million approved for a new information systems facility at White Sands Missile Range; $85 million for a training facility and $4.2 million for a ground control facility at Holloman Air Force Base; $42 million for a new cargo pad and facility at Cannon Air Force Base; and $16.3 million for security improvements at Kirtland Air Force Base.

It is estimated that by the time he left office, Trump had spent about $15 billion and completed some 738 miles of new barrier. None of that has been successful.

Despite that massive investment, the Border Patrol has reported a record number of apprehensions at the southern border this year. There are more migrant children in federal shelters now than ever before.

Last week, new President Joe Biden pulled the plug on the whole operation. He announced that they would end contracts for wall construction, and return money that had been diverted back to the Department of Defense.

Beyond that, they also announced that they would spend some of the $1.4 billion appropriated for wall construction to repair environmental damage caused by the wall.

It is, obviously, the height of wasteful spending to halt a project midway through, but this project never should have been started. The notion that we were going to build an impenetrable wall the length of the southern border to solve our immigration problem was always going to work better at campaign rallies than in reality. And, the notion that we would bully Mexico into paying for a wall intended to keep their citizens out was simply absurd.

The border wall was always more about symbolism than security. It was a message to not only those in Mexico but all of our southern neighbors that America has become a gated community.

Along with halting construction of the wall, Biden has also ended the remain in Mexico policy that had been imposed by Trump. That has led to a temporary crisis at the border, with more unaccompanied children flowing in than the system can accommodate.

The solution is not a wall, but rather investment in shelters that will allow unaccompanied children to be housed humanely; and in immigration courts that will allow for their cases to be resolved quickly, followed by speedy removal of those who do not qualify for asylum.

The wall was a simplistic attempt to solve a complicated problem. Now we need to get serious.

LETTER TO THE EDITOR

Political drama: Both parties have share of negatives

To the editor: I have lived for 15+ years in each of 3 different states. I am not proud of any of them. I have also taught in 3 different schools. Like states, they each have their positive and negative, pro and con, good and bad.

What can be perplexing are the writers and contributors to our newspapers that say only one political party is the best. How questionable!

The Republicans had the "whole enchilada" under Trump for 2 years and did nothing including no health care legislation. They seemed to be in la-la-land. Trump bragged years ago he was the king of debt. He's arguably the king of lies or at least misinformation. I hope he doesn't run again. This party also had the horrendous McCarthyism in the 50s.

But what do we have now? Something very similar with the Democrats' "woke agenda," "cancel culture," and BLM who want to defund and dislike the police, so. This party has way too much hate and namecalling. I've never seen a president hated as much as Trump by the media, Hollywood, unions and college professors. Half the country is either irredeemable, deplorable, racist, homophobic, etc. except the Democrats. Biden is telling his share of lies and getting Pinocchios for them, creating the border crisis, and pursuing the great money giveaway and becoming the current king of debt and taxes. The far right has said in the past the world will soon end based on religion. The far left has said the world will end soon based on climate change.

Such hypocrisy on both sides. The world may end but not with their timetable. No one knows. Both parties hide their negatives and accentuate their positives which can be far and few between. My wife said it best. If the Republicans were that good, they would win the elections every time. If the Democrats were that good, they would win the elections every time. Can we just acknowledge we need the good that's in both and that neither party is superior in ideas and brain power? Both parties have helped make America the best place on Earth to live in. I served in the military, was ready to die for our country and still feel that way. We must let freedom ring and not let control freakiness and misinformation reign.

Your gas bill will change; have a say in how that happens.

Las Cruces Utilities (LCU) and its Utilities Customer Advisory Group (UCAG) wants your opinion on the gas rate review and its recommendations. UCAG informs the Las Cruces Utilities (LCU) Board of Commissioners (Board) then, in turn, submits its recommendation to City Council.

There are three options:

1) a limited phased-in option that would phase-in the rate increase for the most impacted classes (small and large commercial), 2) a full phased-in approach that would phasein the rate increase across all rate classes, and 3) a full-cost option.

Board of Supervi-

here. I love the potential." The City of Las Cruces "is a five-star organization," she said. "I can only speak in superlatives" Flores said of City Manager Ifo Pili. In hiring him in 2020, the city council "hit the jackpot," she said. "He was everything he was on paper and then some."

Flores also praised city staff, including Sustainability Officer Lisa LaRocque, Public Outreach Manager Jamey Rickman, Grants Administrator Amy Johnson Bassford, Las Cruces International Airport Administrator Andy Hume, Chief Budget Officer Leeann DeMouche and new Utilities Director Delilah Walsh.

Flores expressed admiration for Mayor Ken Miyagishima and her fellow council members, listing Mayor Pro-Tempore Kasandra Gandara as "one of my heroes."

Being a city councilor is a 24-7 job, Flores said. "It's full time. and I love it."

In a second term. Flores said she wants to "continue with projects that we set as priorities," including getting roads paved and septic tanks installed in District 6, along with completing other infrastructure projects.

Flores said she has a passion for Branigan Cultural Center and looks forward to the completion of its renovation this summer, and to "more equity in (city) cultural programming that reflects more of who we are historically." Flores said she also wants to continue to "participate in solutions" to climate change issues facing the city.

"Every decision we make has an impact on everybody who lives in Las Cruces," Flores said.

Quality of life should be a consideration in all council decisions, she said.

Flores is a member of the City Art Board; city Airport Advisory Board; and the city economic development, finance, health, housing and public safety policy review committees (PRC), serving as chair of the economic development PRC. She also serves as secretary of the South Central Regional Transit District Board of Directors.

"A lot of these projects are like my children," Flores said.

"I look at life as a glass half full, as a cloud having a silver lining, that nothing bad ever happens," she said.

Dealing with Covid-19 during the past 13 months "forced us to look at the inequities in our city, our state, our country and our world," Flores said. "It forced us to look at what we should have been looking at years ago."

The pandemic was "a travesty on the lives of our children more than anyone else," she said, and pointed to the "extraordinary work to keep children's programming going" at Thomas Branigan Memorial Library.

The city council and city staff "are working very hard to assure we continue to contribute to agencies to ameliorate hardships Covid has brought," she said.

Flores was born in El Paso and raised in Ciudad Juarez and Los Angeles. Her father. Ernesto Rev Flores, was a planning commissioner, councilor and mayor of Santa Fe Springs, California, for 20 vears.

Flores has a bachelor of arts degree in Spanish literature from California State University at Sacramento and a juris doctorate from the University of California. Hastings College of the Law in San Francisco. She bought a home in Las Cruces in 2005 and has made Las Cruces her permanent home since 2012. Flores has two grown sons, Joaquin and Gordon.

Connie Chapman is Flores' re-election campaign manager. Doña Ana County Commissioner Shannon Reynolds is her campaign treasurer.

Vasquez won't seek re-election to city council District 3

By MIKE COOK Las Cruces Bulletin

Las Cruces City Councilor Gabriel Vasquez has announced that he will not be a candidate for re-election to a second term this November.

Vasquez was elected to represent District 3 on the council in November 2017, winning 70 percent of the vote. District 3 includes east-central Las Cruces.

Vasquez, 36, is a project director for the Western Conservation Foundation.

"I intend to continue serving the community and state that I love, but in a different capacity," Vasquez said. "What that looks like remains to be determined, but I will continue to seek opportunities for public service, volunteerism and work that contributes to creating a healthy, vibrant, fair and equitable community here and across the state. Vasquez's decision not to run again means there will be at least two new council members come January 2022. District 5 Councilor Gill Sorg announced in April that he also would not seek re-election. District 6 Councilor Yvonne Flores said she will seek a second four-year term on the council.

Vasquez, whose term continues through the end of 2021, said he is proud of his accomplishments on the city council and looks forward "to opening the doors to a new, dynamic, thoughtful and motivated candidate to continue the work we've started in District 3 and to bring new ideas, perspectives, and initiatives to the table."

In his three years on the council, Vasquez said he has "led the charge to complete the Nevada Neighborhood Cooling Corridor project, catalyzed the reconstruction of the city's lone skate park, secured funding for the design of what stands to be the city's largest urban open space in Villa Mora Dam, led the charge to fund the city's first response to the asylumseeker crisis and led the formation of the new El Paseo-Solano corridor redevelopment project, among many other proud accomplishments that have delivered tangible results to the people and communities of District 3.

"This job has been incredibly rewarding, and the trust and confidence of the voters of this district will continue to inspire me to serve my community in other ways," Vasquez said. "I remain steadfast in my belief that when we reinvest in the inner part of the city, everybody benefits, and we begin to slowly tackle the inequities that permeate throughout our city, our state and our country. In Las Cruces, we can continue to lead by example with bold, forward-thinking leadership that values every life, every neighborhood and every young person's future.

"Tm also proud to have been such an outspoken advocate for issues at the state and federal level, that I remain incredibly passionate about, and that I believed have moved the needle toward transformative reform, such as liquor license reform and cannabis legalization," he said.

"I look forward to finishing my term strong and placing a particular focus on delivering policy recommendations to the city council that will transform the El Paseo and Solano business and residential corridors for generations to come."

A native of El Paso, he is a first-generation Mexican-American whose parents were migrant workers.

Vasquez grew up in Juarez and El Paso and has lived in Las Cruces since 2002. He graduated from New Mexico State University in 2008 with a bachelor's degree in English with a minor in journalism and public relations.

His professional experience includes working as the business editor of the Las Cruces Bulletin, executive director of the Hispano Chamber of Commerce de Las Cruces, as vice president of public relations for a local medical monitoring device company and as an aide to U.S. Sen. Martin Heinrich. Vasquez has also worked in Washington, D.C., as a communications director and public policy expert for a nonpartisan children's advocacy organization.

Local League of Women Voters elects new board, officers

BULLETIN REPORT

The League of Women Voters of Southern New Mexico (LWVSNM) has elected some new and some holdover members to its board of directors.

Kathy Brook and Eileen VanWie were both reelected to serve another two-year term as the organization's co-presidents. Both are retired from higher education.

Laura Castille, a local attorney who is the executive director of the New Mexico State University Office of Institutional Equity, was elected to a one-year term as vice president.

Mary Flynn will serve a two-year term as league treasurer. Flynn is a relative newcomer to Las Cruces from Chico, California, where she taught math and served as mayor and a city council member. Cindy Murrell was elected to a two-year term as director of membership, and Erika Graf-Webster was elected to a two-year term as director of youth engagement.

Marjorie Burr was elected to a one-year term as chairwoman of the local league's Nominating Committee, and Priscilla Parrish was elected to a one-year term as a Nominating Committee member. On April 25, two Las Crucens were elected to statewide positions during the league's state convention: Brook as state program director and Johnnie Aldrich as a state Nominating Committee member. Aldrich serves as the local league's secretary. VanWie also serves as a state board member.

For more information at the league, email lwvsnm@gmail.com.

Branigan Cultural Center seeks input for aviation exhibit

BULLETIN REPORT

Branigan Cultural Center (BCC) is seeking community input for an upcoming exhibition about the history of aviation in Las Cruces and the surrounding area. The exhibition will examine more than 100 years of aviation history, both military and civilian, starting with the introductory use of military airplanes in 1916 after Pancho Villa's raid on Columbus, New Mexico, through World War II bombing training grounds and air mechanic training, and into the postwar civilian flying boom.

BCC is encouraging community members who were involved in these aviation-related events or had family members who were to share their stories

Space museum in Alamogordo to re-open on May 7; admission price reduced

BULLETIN REPORT

The New Mexico Museum of Space History in Alamogordo re-opens on Friday, May 7, on National Space Day. Hours are 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. Wednesday through Sunday.

Admission fees will be temporarily reduced to $5 per person, because of ongoing renovations and other projects. Capacity will also be limited.

The newly renovated "Human Spaceflight Gallery" opens for the first time. Located on the museum's third floor, it showcases suits and equipment used for the world's first excursions to space. A majority of the exhibits will be open.

Several never-beforeseen artifacts are featured on display from the museum's archives. These include two of particular interest to New Mexico – the Omega Chronograph watch worn by New Mexican Jack Schmitt during the Apollo 17 mission in 1972 and the EKG that John Glenn took at the Lovelace Clinic in Albuquerque before becoming one of America's first astronauts in 1960.

The International Space Hall of Fame Gift Shop inside the museum also re-opens on May 7.

2021 STRONGER TOGETHER

The Space Hall Gift Shop inside White Sands Mall continues to operate at that location.

Reduced capacity may result in a wait to get inside the museum. Visitors will be required to wear a mask.

Information: 575-437-2840 or 877-333-6589 or visit nmspacemuseum. org.

Las Cruces Academy students call attention to ecology on Earth Day

Students of the Las Cruces Academy honored Earth Day on April 22. They learned about many environmental issues over the previous two weeks, including plastic pollution, climate change and deforestation.

Each of the 23 students in grades 3 to 8 chose a topic, then designed and drew a poster.

Lining a sidewalk by the Mesilla Town Hall, they waved to passing motorists and called attention to their concerns and hopes.

Sign up now for NAMI Southern New Mexico virtual walk

By MIKE COOK Las Cruces Bulletin

Registration is open for the National Alliance on Mental Illness (NAMI) Walks Your Way virtual walk that will be held in Las Cruces and statewide Saturday, May 22, in conjunction with similar walks across the state and around the country.

There is no fee to register as a walker or team captain for the NAMI Walks events, according to NAMI New Mexico. Every individual who personally raises $100 will be recognized on walk day with an event T-shirt.

"The thing we're most excited for the walk this year is how it is our gateway to all of the other great things we have planned," said NAMI Southern New Mexico Executive Director Micah Pearson, who is also a member of the NAMI national board of directors.

Funds raised from the walk will help NAMI Southern New Mexico expand the services it offers to the community without cost, Pearson said, including offering programming in Spanish for the first time ever. As of April 28, NAMI New Mexico had signed up nearly 20 teams and nearly 100 total walkers statewide to participate in the May 22 walk. It had raised $42,000 of its $115,000 goal. NAMI Southern New Mexico had raised nearly $2,300 of its $5,000 goal as of April 28.

Register at www.namiwalks.org/newmexico. Or register with the NAMI Southern New Mexico walk team at www.namiwalks.org/index.cfm?fuse action=donorDrive. team&teamID=41290. You can also make a donation to NAMI Southern New Mexico on that site.

"We are counting on participants to fund-raise this year," said NAMI Southern New Mexico President Alicia Blasingame. "Locally, we are raising money to support capacity building in southern New Mexico, as we serve 16 counties."

To be an event sponsor, email Blasingame at president@nami-snm. org or NAMI Southern New Mexico Executive Director Micah Pearson at m.pearson@nami-snm. org.

What's Available NOW On

"Movie: Songbird"

Adam Mason ("Junkie," "Blood River") co-wrote and directed this 2020 sci-fi drama with a storyline that may hit a little too close to home for some: a pandemic-ravaged world circa 2024 where a handful of individuals navigate the problems plaguing society, among them disease, vigilantes, martial law and quarantine. K.J. Apa, Sofia Carson, Craig Robinson and Bradley Whitford head the cast.

"Movie: Girl"

A young woman searches for answers after she heads to her hometown to kill her abusive father, only to find he'd been slain the day prior in this 2020 thriller from writer/director Chad Faust ("The 4400," "Saved!").

Sir David Attenborough 9 a.m. on GOLF Golf

Amateur golf takes center stage beginning today at Seminole Golf Club in Juno Beach, Fla., where the 10-player teams from the U.S. and Great Britain/Ireland will square off in a match play format in the 48th Walker Cup. To date, the U.S. has dominated Walker Cup play, with 37 wins against nine losses and one tie, including a 15.5 to 10.5 victory two years ago at England's Royal Liverpool Golf Club.

2 p.m. on FS1 MLB Baseball

Two teams that will be seeing a whole lot of each other this season square off this afternoon at Oracle Park, where Evan Longoria and the San Francisco Giants continue a three-game set against their NL West rivals in Wil Myers and the San Diego Padres. The Giants drew first blood in their series in early April with the Pods, winning two of three at Petco Park.

6 p.m. on LIFE Movie: Memories of a Murder

Gail, a young woman who runs a successful shop where she sells "murderabilia," attracts the unwelcome attention of a real-life killer who taunts her by leaving trophies from unsolved murders at her doorstep. The situation assumes life-or-death stakes, however, when her investigation gets closer to the psycho's identity in this 2021 thriller. Isabella Pisacane, Jamie Donnelly, Abby Awe, Rosa Gilmore and Craig Walker star.

6 p.m. on AXSTV; 10:05 p.m. on KFOX

VAX LIVE: The Concert to Reunite the World

Selena Gomez hosts this new special (also airing on CBS and Fox) that aims to boost vaccine confidence and help get the vaccines proven effective against COVID-19 to some of the poorest nations around the world. Performers in the concert, which was pre-taped at So-Fi Stadium, include Jennifer Lopez, Eddie Vedder, Foo Fighters, J Balvin and H.E.R. The special also will include a salute to the 27 million heroic health workers currently involved in the worldwide battle against the coronavirus pandemic.

6 p.m. on BBCA Attenborough's Journey

This new British documentary offers a respectful but entertaining portrait of environmentalist and filmmaker Sir David Attenborough on his 95th birthday. The film chronicles Attenborough's life from his boyhood

7 p.m. on OWN Iyanla, Fix My Life

A new episode called "99 Problems and My Mom Is One" spotlights a family that is approaching the end of its collective rope after spending months together in quarantine due to the global coronavirus pandemic. Now, they're feeling disconnected and frustrated, but life coach Iyanla Vanzant helps them understand that their profound issues with communication and codependency started long before a deadly virus came along.

9 p.m. on HBO Movie: Greenland

Structural engineer John Garrity (Gerard Butler) and his family in Atlanta find themselves fighting for survival as a massive comet streaks toward Earth in director Ric Roman Waugh's 2020 disaster film, on which Butler also serves as a producer. Morena Baccarin, David Denman, Hope Davis, Roger Dale Floyd and Scott Glenn also star in the film.

6 p.m. on A&E Biography: Booker T

Emmy and Peabody Award winner George Roy ("Mayweather") directed this feature-length profile of one of the greatest superstars in sports entertainment history. A two-time inductee into the WWE Hall of Fame, Booker T also is an 11-time WCW Tag Team Champion, a sixtime World Champion and winner of the 2006 King of the Ring Tournament. In addition to his triumphs inside the ring, Booker T also went on to become a color commentator for WWE's weekly programming.

8 p.m. on KFOX Bob's Burgers The Belcher kids (voices of Dan Mintz, Eugene Mirman, Kristen Schaal) find themselves caught up in a cat-and-mouse game after Dr. Yap (voice of guest star Ken Jeong) comes to the burger restaurant looking for something that was taken from his dental office waiting room in the new episode "Steal Magazine-olias." Elsewhere, Bob, Linda and Teddy (voices of H. Jon Benjamin, John Roberts, Larry Murphy) try to remove an unusually large deposit of bird poop from the eatery window.

8 p.m. on CNN United Shades of America

In the new episode "Black to the Future," host W. Kamau Bell takes a very deep dive into the discrimination and racism that lingers in major programs like STEM. He also examines social and corporate leaders who are driving efforts to build a more inclusive workforce for the globally competitive future in technology and space.

9 p.m. on KDBC NCIS: New Orleans

After Pride (Scott Bakula) directs his team to find evidence linking Sasha Broussard (recurring guest star Callie Thorne) to the recent violent attacks in New Orleans, he faces the painful task of helping Connor (guest star Drew Scheid) come to terms with who his mother really is in the new episode "Illusions." Meanwhile, Carter and Tammy (Charles Michael Davis, Vanessa Ferlito) search for a highly trained military canine who has been stolen.

9 p.m. on KVIA The Rookie

Officers Nolan and Bradford (Nathan Fillion, Eric Winter) put their safety on the line as they desperately try to de-escalate a potentially explosive drug war before any innocent lives are lost in the new episode "Triple Duty." Elsewhere, Officer Harper (Mekia Cox) hopes she can ensure that Officer Chen (Melissa O'Neil) is fully prepared for a high-stakes undercover assignment.

9:20 p.m. on AMC Gangs of London

As the members of the Wallace family retreat to the relative security of a safehouse, Marian (Michelle Fairley) increases her pressure on Sean (Joe Cole) to find a way to unmask the killer of his father Finn (Colm Meaney) in the new "Episode 6." Elsewhere, a new threat throws Elliot's (Sope Dirisu) recovery into jeopardy. Lucian Msamati and Paapa Essiedu also star.

10 p.m. on HBO The Nevers

As much of the public buzzes over with anticipation over an upcoming execution, Penance (Ann Skelly) wrestles with a moral calling she feels that is notably at odds with Amalia's (Laura Donnelly) plan in the new episode "Hanged." That divergence of vision forces the Orphans to debate among themselves as to which of the women to follow. Olivia Williams, James Norton, Tom Riley and Ben Chaplin also star. 11 p.m. on HBO

Mare of Easttown

After Mare (Kate Winslet) is forced to take a back seat on the investigation, Colin (Evan Peters) grills a local priest for more information on the nebulous circumstances that prompted his transfer to the local parish in the new episode "Poor Sisyphus." Elsewhere, Dawn (guest star Enid Graham) gets a mysterious phone call that rekindles her hope that Katie is still alive. Julianne Nicholson, Jean Smart and James McArdle also star.

12 a.m. on SHOW Ziwe

Formerly a scribe for "Desus & Mero" and "Our Cartoon President," the writer, comic and performer Ziwe also is showrunner of this eponymous new late-night variety show, which is driven by her funny and distinctly no-holds-barred brand of comedy and cutting pop culture observations. Showtime has ordered six episodes for Season 1, which reportedly will feature interviews, musical numbers, guest stars, sketches and spontaneous interactions with everyday people.

Mark-Paul Gosselaar

7 p.m. on KRWG Extra Life: A Short History of Living Longer

Hosted by science writer Steven Johnson and historian David Olusoga, this absorbing new four-part series examines some of the medical innovations that were developed to conquer some of the world's deadliest diseases — smallpox, cholera and the Spanish flu, among others — and explores how scientists, doctors and activists used those breakthroughs to launch a public health revolution. In some parts of the world, life expectancy doubled over the course of less than a century as perspectives on illness changed, paving the way for modern medicine.

7 p.m. on KDBC NCIS

A case literally hits close to home for Gibbs (Mark Harmon) when his team tracks a stolen laptop computer to the uncle of Phineas (guest star Jack Fisher), a young boy who used to be one of Gibbs' neighbors, in a new episode called "Unseen Improvements." Other guest stars include John Bobek, Anahi Bustillos, Karri Turner and Philip Shahbaz; Sean Murray, Emily Wickersham and Maria Bello also star.

7 p.m. on KVIA2 The Flash

Barry (Grant Gustin) seeks out Timeless Wells (Tom Cavanagh) for help after suffering a devastating betrayal in the new episode "Timeless." Meanwhile, Iris (Candice Patton) leads Team Citizen down a dangerous rabbit hole as they search in vain for answers, and Cisco (Carlos Valdes) confides to Kamilla (guest star Victoria Park) about his biggest fear. Danielle Panabaker also stars.

7 p.m. on TLC Little People, Big World

There's nothing "little" about this show's success, as the Roloffs prove by returning for their 22nd season, which finds them hunkered down during the COVID-19 pandemic. Zach ponders a future in which he co-owns and runs the family farm with his dad, Matt, but he's unsure what that partnership might involve. Meanwhile, Matt's ex-wife, Amy, has moved out and started planning her wedding to fiancé Chris. Alas, it soon becomes obvious that the couple has different visions of what their big day should be.

8 p.m. on KVIA

black-ish

After one of the secrets that he shares with Pops (Laurence Fishburne) is revealed to Ruby (Jenifer Lewis), Dre (Anthony Anderson) has the revelation that his relationships with each parent have shifted since they got married, leaving him uncertain to know which of them he should confide in, in the new episode "Snitches Get Boundaries." Meanwhile Bow (Tracee Ellis Ross) surprises the twins (Miles Brown, Marsai Martin) with a new car. Marcus Scribner also stars.

8 p.m. on KVIA2 Supergirl

Series regular David Harewood directed the new episode "Fear Knot," which follows the intrepid Super Friends as they venture into the Phantom Zone in a life-or-death gambit to rescue Supergirl (Melissa Benoist) and bring her back home to the present. As they search for their friend, each member of the team is tormented by visions of their worst nightmare. Chyler Leigh, Nicole Maines and Jesse Rath also star.

8:01 p.m. on KFOX Prodigal Son

With a serial killer on the run, Malcolm (Tom Payne) becomes so driven to find and capture the police team's guarry that U.S. Marshal Emily Ruiz (guest star April Hernandez-Castillo) feels compelled to boot him off the case in the new episode "Sun and Fun." Unfortunately for her, the obsessed Malcolm isn't inclined to back off. The quest cast also includes Catherine Zeta-Jones and John Cullum; Michael Sheen and Bellamy Young also star.

8:03 p.m. on HISTORY America's Book of Secrets

Host Lance Reddick returns for Season 4 of this docuseries, which purports to reveal the truth behind some of history's most shocking headlines. The season premiere, "The Secret Space Program" dives into a 2002 story about a man named Gary McKinnon, who claimed he had uncovered evidence of a secret military space program, nearly 20 years before the Trump administration announced its Space Force program. The episode considers whether the United States may have a covert presence in space of which the public is unaware

8:30 p.m. on KVIA mixed-ish

When Paul (Mark-Paul Gosselaar) seeks to become closer to sister-in-law Denise (Christina Anthony), he exploits his white privilege to help her out with her errands in the new episode "Walk This Way." Meanwhile, Rainbow (Arica Himmel) and her siblings (Ethan Childress, Mykal-Michelle Harris) pick up some questionable sales tactics while hustling chocolate bars for a school fundraiser. Tika Sumpter also stars.

10 p.m. on HBO The Crime of the Century

The conclusion to filmmaker Alex Gibney's two-part examination at shady dealings behind the opioid epidemic delves into the mass marketing of fentanyl, where once again there were strong connections between drug manufacturers and government policy. Even as the silent opioid epidemic was killing 40 Americans every day, Insys Therapeutics, the manufacturer of fentanyl. continued to bribe doctors to over-prescribe their drug. Eyebrow-raising videos from sales retreats, as well as promotional materials, point to a nearly complete disregard for widespread and nefarious corporate practices.

11 p.m. on FREEFRM Cruel Summer

In a new episode called "As the Carny Gods Intended," the paths of Jeanette and Kate (Chiara Aurelia, Olivia Holt) finally intersect at the Skylin High School takeover of the county fair, but in other respects, the two girls are not in the same place at all. One of them is desperate to prove herself, while the other would rather lose herself entirely. Froy Gutierrez, Benjamin J. Cain Jr., Andrea Anders and Harley Quinn Smith also star.

By BRANDI MISQUEZ

The pressures of maintaining a household during a pandemic are intense on their own. 2020 brought additional pressures to millions of households with parents being tasked to uphold their own work responsibilities, while also ensuring their kids are learning effectively. Parents wanting to instill some sense of normalcy into their kids' lives while upholding these tasks can simply be summed up by one word for me: balance.

It's clear that being a parent during COVID-19 times has not been an easy feat. From my perspective, this has awarded us a unique challenge mixed with a blessing. Being a Chamber employee awarded me the freedom of bringing my children to Chamber office

PRESIDENT OF THE GREATER LAS CRUCES CHAMBER OF COMMERCE

It's Mother's Day

By DEBBI MOORE GLCCC CEO/President

We hope you take time this Mother's Day to honor those "Moms" who have made a difference in your life. While they may or may not be related to you naturally, acknowledging those women, those "Moms" in your life who have nurtured, guided and invested in you.

Our front page article featured one of our Chamber Team members, Brandi Misquez. Brandi's story relates to so many mothers out there who, during the pandemic, suddenly became a teacher in their children's lives, while working all the time. I salute Brandi and all those moms who have navigated the new journey with dignity, grace and patience!

Opening and growing a business with a parent/child can have it's own unique challenges. Balancing family relationships, right along side business relationships can bring its very own definition of "stress." We reached steady exhaustion that came with non-stop parenting and working took some adjusting. It has been amazing to see how close our kids have become and I am grateful for the slower pace that 2020 created for my family and the additional time we all have had together without the hustle and bustle of the next event, practice or demand.

I worried about the amount of screen time and the pace of learning being offered. I wondered if the teacher would effectively sense when my Cipriano was bored and needed to be further out to a couple of those type of businesses for their input in this edition of the Bottom Line. We trust you enjoy their heartfelt stories.

From The Emerald Isle Boutique: Kellie & Louis Burchell

The Emerald Isle Boutique began in 1981, with two sisters as the original partners: Louise Burchell & Jeanette Smith. I (daughter Kelli) became a partner in 2002 as a result of my Aunt's retirement. Working together every day is not without its challenges because of how close we are and seeing the toll it can take. When one of us is upset, we feel it ten-fold.

We think our company thrives because of our individual talents and areas of expertise. Mom (Louise) relies on me to keep our company relevant in today's world, while she is our rock and I look to her for guidance. The best advice for any "mother-child" partnership is to trust each other. This is of utmost importance. If you can trust that you come from a place of love and always have the best interest of your company at heart, you can do anything.

Just because you work together doesn't mean your relationship is complete. Family means birthdays, holidays and everything in-between. The good, the bad and so on...we are on this journey together every single day and we wouldn't have it any other wav!

Kelli Burchell

challenged, whether Josiah's teacher noticed he was quietly falling behind the class or if Destiny would keep her drive of excellence while learning remotely. I was saddened for my Moriah to experience a non-social senior year and worried that our Emma might miss the excitement of meeting new friends on her first day of kindergarten.

The weight of uncertainty for my small businesses in the community and whether we would still be able to visit our favorite restaurant as a family once we came through the other end of this pandemic was simply heavy. Adjusting our benefits for our members of the Chamber while keeping them informed of the help available has been a never ending job. Constant communication and research has evolved into a greater benefit of membership. Events and socialization remain a focus of the Chamber and we look forward to getting back to inperson events.

I'm ready to miss my children again. Ready to sit down together at the dinner table and hear about their day at school. To hear about their experiences without me. After a long year with me as their teacher, lunch lady, recess monitor, janitor, tutor etc. they are ready too.

MOM'S 10 RULES FOR THE FUTURE WORKFORCE

A Mom's 10 Rules for raising the future workforce

One of the most common things we hear that businesses look for in an employee is "soft skills." In the spirit of Mother's Day, we've compiled 10 basic things you can teach your child. These 10 simple lessons are easily transferred in one of those much need soft skills for future employment, along with assisting them in their education journey.

1. Teach them manners: Saying thank you, showing acts of kindness and caring for others.

2. Read to them for entertainment as well as comprehension. An added benefit it teaches them the power of the imagination.

3. Teach them project management by having them do projects from beginning to end, whether it be coloring pages in a coloring book or making homemade playdough, they can learn so many aspects of managing a project.

4. Teach them how to read a ruler; make change; use flash cards for addition, subtraction, etc. Math skills are essential to the workplace.

5. Teach them to respect others, their elders, their peers—lead by example.

6. Teach them how to resolve the smallest of conflicts when their young, right along with learning to share with others.

7. Teach them how to experience new things constantly. Expose them to the outdoors, nature, animals, etc. Expose them to the workplace and careers.

8. Watch them carefully to discover their passions. You may have a budding entrepreneur, artist, doctor, photographer etc. The sky is the limit when they discover their passion.

9. Work with them on communicating, memo-rizing, thinking outside the box...to be innovation and creativity.

10. Teach them to be confident in who they are...they are special and destined to make a difference in the world!

2021 LAS CRUCES HOMEBUILDERS ASSOCIATION'S CASA FOR A CAUSE Breaking ground on Casa for a Cause

By RICHARD COLTHARP

You may know it as the Las Cruces Home Builders Association Anniversary House.

Its new name is Casa for a Cause.

But whatever you call it, this community construction project is one of the best fundraisers in Las Cruces. That's saying a lot, because we have many great fundraising events in this relentlessly generous community.

If you're not familiar, here's how it works.

A local builder volunteers to build a home. This year it's Adam Juarez of A New Beginning Custom Homes. The builder then works to find subcontractors and suppliers who will provide their services and materials at or below costs, to reduce expenses as much as possible. This year's project will get a jump start to one of LCHBA's founding members, Eddie Binns, who donated a portion of the land for the home.

When the house is completed, it goes on the market at or above the going prices. Because the expenses have been charitably reduced, the profit is much higher. The LCHBA then takes those profits and puts them back in the community to help charity groups and nonprofit organizations.

The previous four houses have raised funds ranging from $64,000 to $125,000, and supported dozens of nonprofit groups in the Mesilla Valley. By extension, thousands of people have benefited from that infusion of support.

The Las Cruces Bulletin is proud to be one of the co-sponsors for this year's Casa for a Cause. Tuesday, April 13, ground was broken on the project, which could see a finished house by September.

Mayor Ken Miyagishima was at the groundbreaking, and talked about a passing of the torch. Miyagishima nodded to Binns and praised him for all the good works he's done for the community the past 50-plus years. Then the mayor nodded to Juarez and several other young builders in attendance, and encouraged them to carry on those good works.

Even if you don't know which end of a hammer to grip, you can still help with the project. If you want to volunteer, make a donation, or if you're part of a nonprofit interested in applying for funds, contact LCHBA executive director Nicole Black at 575-993-9288 or stop by the offices at 2825 N. Main St.

Three River Fires Donations

From the heart of the President & CEO

From a grateful heart, I write this in appreciation for the outpouring of generosity in donating much needed supplies to the firefighters and first responders to the Ruidoso Three River Fires. Much as been said of the role of the Chamber in this regard, the idea didn't begin in our offices.

The credit and sincere appreciation is to be given to one amazing young man by the name of Todd. A retired Iraq Army War Veteran, Todd just happens to be the grandson of my late husband, Bill. Bill was very, very proud of Todd & his service to our Country. Todd's immediate response at the beginning of the fires was to establish a command and collection center for the first responders & firefighters fighting the fire. Additionally, he assisted in rescuing & relocating livestock in the area, late into the night. Donations from around the State have been pouring in because of his efforts. We are honored to play a small part of his vision.

Todd's action reflect a true loving, giving heart that I know is generational. From Mom and Dad, with influence from his Grandpa, I have seen time after time this "giving from the heart" up close and personal. In the time of true need, they always step up. He has proven, beyond a shadow of a doubt, that one person can impact a community, a region and a state. If you would like to donate, donations can be dropped off at: Double S Stables & Kennels, LLC; 126 Derbyshire Road Tularosa, NM. Items needed, but not limited to are: water, sports drinks, energy/protein bars, jerky, individual snacks, Chap Stick, hand creams, socks, battery, baby wipes or something similar. Likewise, we will continue to accept donations at the Chamber and will coordinate to have the donations delivered to Todd and Double S Stables.

We should all be challenged, that during times of crisis and unpredicted circumstance, we need to that ONE person. The ONE person who will follow their heart, step up and makes a difference. While his grandfather is not here to tell him personally, I know Todd has made him very proud! From a very personal perspective, I would say, "Be a Todd."

A huge "thank you very much" to the donors who generously donated to the Three Rivers Fire first responders & firefighters:

tonight's picks

6 p.m. on MTV Siesta Key

Juliette and Kelsey are both trying to launch new business ventures, while Brandon embarks on an unexpected yet committed journey into fatherhood as this summer reality series returns for Season 4. Meanwhile, compulsive gossip and meddler Chloe has embarked on a spiritual journey to become a better person, even if her friends are a little skeptical about how genuine this self-reinvention really is. Elsewhere, Amanda's new career in filmmaking is jeopardized when a scandalous video surfaces.

David Boreanaz 8 p.m. on KDBC

SEAL Team

Jason (David Boreanaz) leads Bravo Company on a complex and high-stakes covert mission that tasks them with infiltrating a Boko Haram camp, hacking into its data network and using that intel to rescue an American hostage in a new episode called "Hollow at the Core." Max Thieriot, Neal Brown Jr. and A.J. Buckley also star.

9 p.m. on KVIA A Million Little Things

In the wake of the George Floyd killing in Minnesota, the group of friends feels compelled to reflect on their own internal racial biases and take to the streets of Boston to advocate for equality in a new episode called "Listen." For reasons of his own mental health, however, Rome (Romany Malco) opts out of that group activity, choosing instead to have a frank conversation with his father about the best way to effect change. Terry Chen, Adam Swain, Lou Beatty Jr., Karen Robinson and Andrea Savage guest star.

in which young Missy's (Raegan Revord) first heartbreak sparks a series of events affecting brother Sheldon (Iain Armitage) and the entire Cooper household.

7 p.m. on KVIA2 Walker

Walker and Geri (Jared Padalecki, guest star Odette Annable) both are still trying to process their feelings about the recent kiss they shared, but the confusion mounts when her old flame Hoyt (guest star Matt Barr) comes home from prison in the new episode "Freedom." His welcome home party is interrupted when Micki (Lindsey Morgan) alerts everyone that Walker's lethal nemesis Clint West (guest star Austin Nichols) is a fugitive at large.

8:01 p.m. on KDBC Mom

This Emmy-winning comedy series, which received widespread acclaim for skillfully juggling laughter and pathos, ends its eight season run with a finale called "My Kinda People and the Big To-Do," in which Bonnie (Allison Janney) gains a new perspective on her sobriety when she is forced to deal with some difficult news. In a happier development, Jill and Andy (Jaime Pressly, recurring guest star Will Sasso) take a major step in their own relationship. Mimi Kennedy, William Fichtner, Kristen Johnston and Beth Hall also star

9:01 p.m. on KVIA Rebel

After Helen (Mary McDonnell) is denied critical surgery, Rebel (Katey Sagal) goes to the mat to save her life, and continues to push Cruz (Andy Garcia) to recall the heart valve for closer study in the new episode "Heart Burned." Elsewhere, Cassidy and Lana (Lex Scott Davis, Tamala Reneé Jones) try to help Luke (Sam Palladio) when his personal life threatens both his career and personal reputation.

"Movie: Venus and Serena" With that title, anyone who knows tennis won't be surprised to find this is a documentary about the sport's iconic Williams sisters. The film concentrates on their performances in 2011, when a variety of crises threatened their standings in the game ... but their off-court lives get as much attention, through candid footage that also details the huge role their father played in their progress.

"Movie: Frankie & Alice" Halle Berry took a sharp turn away from her superhero persona in the "X-Men" movies to play a decidedly mortal character in Frankie, a stripper struggling with multiple personalities who puts herself in the care of an eccentric psychotherapist (Stellan Skarsgard, "Chernobyl"). Phylicia Rashad, Chandra Wilson and Matt Frewer also star in this 2010 biographical drama.

"Movie: Forgetting Sarah Marshall"

The forgetting isn't so easy for a composer (Jason Segel) after his television star girlfriend (Kristen Bell) leaves him in this raunchy comedy from producer Judd Apatow. Trying to shake his grief, the jilted guy goes to a Hawaiian resort where the other guests turn out to include his ex-love and her new rock-star beau (Russell Brand). Mila Kunis, Paul Rudd and Jonah Hill also appear.

"Crime Scene Kitchen" (Fox series premiere, May 26) Hosted by actor and comedian Joel McHale, each episode of this cooking competition begins at the scene of the crime — a kitchen that was just used to make an incredible dessert or cake that has since disappeared. The chef teams of two are challenged to scour the kitchen for clues and ingredients to figure out what was baked in order to decode and then re-create the recipe, with the winners walking away with the $100.000 prize.

"Biography: Ultimate Warrior" (A&E Network - new special, May 30)

First debuting in the ring in 1987, WWE Hall of Famer Ultimate Warrior inspired an entire generation of fans living by his mantra of "always believe." His trademarks included colorful face paint, equally colorful interviews and aggressive entrances into the ring. His only WWE Championship came by defeating Hulk Hogan at WrestleMania VI at Toronto's SkyDome in front of 67,000 fans. The wrestling icon was inducted into the WWE Hall of Fame on April 6, 2014, but tragically passed away just three davs later.

Right at Home

For 50 years, the Las Cruces Bulletin has been your hometown community newspaper.

During this current time of uncertainty, we are working diligently to keep you informed, as well as inspired and, we hope, entertained.

We will continue delivering our full, printed edition each Friday, and also check our website, www.lascrucesbulletin.com. We're updating the site frequently with the ever-changing news regarding the pandemic.

We're also providing snapshots of the news with our eBulletin, which we deliver each Tuesday to our email list, with an increased, almost daily, frequency during the pandemic. If you're not on our eBulletin mailing list, send a request to richard@lascrucesbulletin.com. We're right at home with you.

Mesilla Valley Fine Arts Gallery features Peacock, Rutherford in May

By PHILLIP KRUMHOLZ

Mesilla Valley Fine Arts Gallery

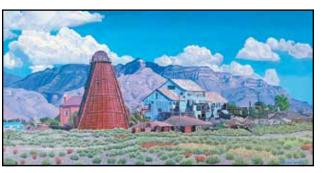

The Mesilla Valley Fine Arts Gallery, 2470-A Calle de Guadalupe, across from the Fountain Theatre on the historic Mesilla Plaza, is featuring local artists Frank Peacock and Patricia Rutherford in May.

Peacock is the son of a New Mexico pioneer family and has lived in communities as diverse as San Francisco and Mexico City, as well as in Amish country in Pennsylvania.

As a National Landscape Painting Competition finalist, Peacock's paintings, pastels and etchings are in private collections worldwide. Known for dramatic use of color and texture, his work has been included in museums, cultural centers and university exhibitions across the United States.

With works once dedicated to the everchanging landscape, and then the mystery of ancient American symbols and imagery, Peacock now dedicates his skills to the majesty, grace and hope intrinsic to nature's forms.

During the past three

vears. Peacock has studied and painted the pecan orchards of Doña Ana County. From the Stahmann to the Salopek to the Fletcher farms, including Fairacres' "Awesome Woods," his drawings and paintings express the unique personality of each orchard. Rutherford, a contemporary realist colored pencil artist, is well versed in the use of graphite, charcoal, watercolor and pen and ink. Rutherford's unique style allows her to highlight features and expressions in the faces of both people and animals. Through layering, mixing and blending, she can uncover the soul of her subjects.

The gallery's newest member is artist Rhoda Winters. Drawing in class helped Winters remember what the teachers said. The Organ Mountains are in most of her earliest childhood memories. She perceived life to be an overwhelming tangle of confusion, and yet she sensed that there is an organized structure that extends from the galaxies through life in all its variety, all the way down to the structures of the individual atoms.

Winters explores the wonder of the moment, the beauty of life and the structure of the natural world in her art. She begins by painting or sketching (on location) to catch the real heights, proportions and perspective, and also takes photographs to capture the details. Then Winters rediscovers the joy and wonder of that place and moment in time. MVFAG features the work of 30 artists in various media, including oil, acrylics, pastels, watercolor, fused glass art jewelry, woodturnings, stained glass, photography, ceramics, mixed media, decorated gourds, handmade textile weavings, art tile, fiber art, natural gemstone jewelry, colored pencil, basket weavings, charcoal, pen and ink, prints, cards and miniature paintings.

MVFAG is open 10 a.m.-5 p.m. daily with limited access because of public health orders.

From City Council to Arts Council: Greg Smith talks about art's broader impact on community

By MIKE COOK Las Cruces Bulletin

Transitioning from an elected office to running a nonprofit within a couple of months at the end of 2019 and the beginning of 2020 was a "big shifting of gears" for Greg Smith. But moving from the Las Cruces City Council to the Doña Ana Arts Council (DAAC) "connects in with a lot of what I think is important with Las Cruces and Doña Ana County going forward," Smith said in a recent interview.

"I'm really happy to be here doing this," Smith said. "The arts is very much a part of what I was trying to do politically."

In addition to serving as DAAC executive director, he is also chair of the city's Arts and Cultural District (ACD) Coordinating Council, which was created in 2015 to help develop arts and culture assets in downtown Las Cruces.

It was a busy and challenging first year at DAAC for Smith, as he helped guide the arts council through Covid-19 and its move to a new home at 250 W. Amador Ave. The move returned DAAC to the ACD, across the street from the historic Amador Hotel and adjacent to the site of the home built by Martín Amador (1836-1903), patriarch of one of Las Cruces' earliest and most influential families. "It all connects," Smith said. And the new location

"is working for us in so many ways," he said.

Like many other nonprofits, DAAC hosted online exhibitions, workshops and fundraisers online throughout 2020, and is looking forward to a return to live, face-to-face events as it celebrates its 50th anniversary and the 50th anniversary of its signature event, the Renaissance ArtsFaire, in 2021.

DAAC also has a full lineup of in-person youth art camps this summer and other events are in the works.

Reflecting local history and their connections to space, engineering and agriculture, the arts present "a bright opportunity to have Las Cruces and Doña Ana County shine," Smith said, and "take pride in who we are and what we are."

The arts, he said, also offer great educational and economic development opportunities, he said, and can help keep local youth living and working "where they grew up."

The arts are also "part of a larger community," Smith said. They won't necessarily bring a grocery store to a food desert, he said, but they are "part of the environment for those things to happen."

With nearly $2 million in capital outlay funding, ACD has plans for wayfinding, lighting and unique transportation in the downtown area, Smith said. And the coordinating council wants to help with the development of performance venues, galleries and artists' lofts that will attract artists and visitors to downtown and its neighboring Mesquite and Alameda Depot historic districts.

quite and Alameda Depot historic districts. The challenge for DAAC and ACD, Smith said, is "How do we make ourselves both viable and integral to what's happening in Las Cruces and Doña Ana County going forward?"

Arts Council has full slate of summer camps on tap; registration deadlines approaching

The Doña Ana Arts Council (DAAC) is currently planning in-person summer camps that will follow state Covid guidelines, DAAC said in a news release. The camps will include Career Art Path, Missoula Children's Theatre and Opera Storytellers Camp.

• CAREER ART PATH: will be held 8:30 a.m.-2 p.m. weekdays, Monday, June 14- Friday, June 25, and is a visual arts camp for 30 fifth- to eighth-graders. During this twoweek experience, participants will explore art-related careers through hands-on activities and speakers. Lisa Carlson, a Kennedy Center-trained art teacher who had a long and distinguished career as an art teacher with Las Cruces Public Schools, and Hiba Mohammed, who is an LCPS art teacher, will co-coordinate the program. Tuition is $100 per student. The registration deadline is Monday, May 24.

• MISSOULA CHILDREN'S THEATRE: will be held 10 a.m.-2:30 p.m., Tuesday-Saturday, July 6-10. This year, a cast of 60 student actors will perform "Sleeping Beauty." Tuition is $60 per student with a discount for children in the same immediate family. Students must pre-register by Tuesday, June 15. Pending possible changes in state public health orders, the cast is expected to be comprised of 16 students entering first grade to age seven, and 44 students ages 8-18.

• OPERA STORYTELLERS CAMP: will be held Monday, July 19-Friday, July 30. It will be directed by Christa Fredrickson, who is director of choral activities at Centennial High School and an adjunct instructor in the New Mexico State University Theatre Arts Department. Earlier this year, she co-directed the Theatre Department's Destination Broadway production. The camp is open to students in grades three-12. Participants will compose and perform their own 30-minute musical drama based on the hero's journey and will learn the technical aspects of lighting and sound, as well as set and costume design. No experience is required for the camp. Tuition is $300. The registration deadline is Tuesday, June 15.

Partial scholarships based on financial need are available for all programs.

Apply online at https://daarts.org/for-youth/. Call DAAC at 575-523-6403. Visit the Dona Ana Arts & Cultural Center and office at 250 W. Amador Ave.

Las Cruces improv group has first performance in mid-May

By MIKE COOK

Las Cruces Bulletin

Five veteran Las Cruces actors have formed an improvisation group and will have their first public performance Friday, May 14, 7:30 p.m. in the courtvard at Black Box Theatre (BBT), 430 N. Main St. downtown.

The Super-Secret Improv Show (SSIS) was founded by Josh Taulbee in 2020 and also includes Erin Wendorf, Cassandra Galban, Rachel Thomas-Chappell and Teddy Aspen-Sanchez.

Three of the actors have theater degrees. Aspen-Sanchez is also a graduate of an improv school in Massachusetts and Thomas-Chappell is a graduate of the Second City improv school in Chicago.

Collectively, the five actors have performed in more than 100 plays, including productions at virtually every theater venue in Las Cruces. They also variously have experience as directors, play and skit writers and set designers. Aspen-Sanchez is also a standup comedian.

Aspen-Sanchez has wanted to form an improv group in Las Cruces since about 2007, he said. The idea finally came to fruition during a conversation he had with Galban and Taulbee while the three were performing together in Eugene Ionesco's "The Killing Game" at BBT in early 2020.

They added Thomas-Chappell and Wendorf to the group, and had time for a couple of in-person rehearsals before Covid-19 public health orders put New Mexico into lockdown, closing theaters and cancelling live productions.

SSIS rehearsed via Zoom for more a year, only returning to in-person rehearsals — following state public health guidelines — when New Mexico returned to yellow status in the state's red-yellowgreen-turquoise tiered risk system.

Improv has no script and often derives its performance subjects from audience members. It likely traces its roots to ancient Rome about 400 B.C. Modern improv games began as children's exercises created by American John Dewey (1859-1952) about 1916. These short-form improv games are familiar to many from the television series "Whose Line Is It Anyway," which began airing on American TV in 1998.

"Improv forces me into the moment in a therapeutic way," Galban said. "Being put on the spot and having to think of something exaggerates life and makes everything else so much easier."

Improv is "really open," Wendorf said.

It's easy to be typecast in theater, but through improv she can "enjoy being a person I'm not," Wendorf said.

"It's a unique experience we get to share," Taulbee said. Whatever the group creates "wasn't ever seen before and probably won't ever be replicated."

Improv to Thomas-Chappell is "making fun, making magic," she said. "You trust your fellow players. You know they've got your back."

For Aspen-Sanchez, good improv is about telling a story more than anything else, including comedy.

"I always wanted to be a storyteller," he said.

Most people are familiar with the short-form improv that is featured in "Whose Line Is It Anyway," Aspen-Sanchez said. The improv games SSIS played during a recent rehearsal at BBT included "The Actor's Nightmare: Cockroaches," "Foreign Film: Swedish Film," "Film and Theater Style" and "Double Entendre." There are many others.

Aspen-Sanchez plans to introduce long-form improv to Las Cruces audiences. It is less structured than short-form, he said, and often adds tragedy and drama as well as comedy. Like short-form, it is completely unscripted and relies on suggestions from the audience.

The long-form session that was part of the recent rehearsal had Keanu Reeves and the game Jenga as its audience-suggested themes. Most longform improv runs 30-60 minutes, Aspen-Sanchez said.

In either format, improv gets an actor's energy up,

"The audience will feed it back to you," she said. "They get on that journey with you and can't wait to see what you pull out your hat next."

Unlike standup comedy, mistake that many improv actors make early on, SSIS members said.

Thomas-Chappell said.

There is "a mental state of being in the moment that I find in improv acting," Galban said. Staying in the moment is "a muscle we exercise in improv class."

Improv also makes actors better performers in scripted shows, all the SSIS members said.

"You pay attention" to the other actors, Wendorf said. Good improv is about "listening to your partner."

The May 14 performance is $10 per person, but seating is limited. Call BBT at 575-523-1223 for information. The show will be suitable for all family members. Actors will wear microphones.

"IT'S LIFE CHANGING

Finally! A local Doctor is helping cancer survivors live lives free from the constant pain and suffering associated with Peripheral Neuropathy!

> "I remember thinking 'that's become mighty easy for me', I didn't have to hold on to the hand rail or anything! It's life changing to have this mobility back!'

Again and again, we meet with patients who were once diagnosed as "untreatable" or "incurable" but after receiving Dr. Quintanilla's treatments are now living lives free from pain and suffering. For 12 years she has been reversing the effects of CIPN and other varieties of Peripheral Neuropathy including those caused by diabetes without invasive surgeries and medications that come with uncomfortable side effects.

If you've recently beat cancer only to find that you're living a life in constant pain and discomfort or you're struggling with the same symptoms as a result of either idiopathic Neuropathy or diabetic peripheral neuropathy, Dr. Quintanilla and the incredible team at Sonoma Acupuncture Integrative Health can help!

Dr. Quintanilla is now accepting new patients but only for a limited time. In an effort to protect her patients, both current and future, she has made the difficult decision to limit the number of patients seen in her office. Only 10 patients will be accepted before the end of May so call (575) 618- 6900 now to schedule your consultation.

Irreversible is not a word you want to hear from your Doctor but it's a common one if you've been diagnosed with Chemotherapy-induced peripheral Neuropathy or CIPN.

Elliott S. of Las Cruces survived testicular cancer only to be living life in constant pain. He felt as though he were walking on pins and needles, becoming weaker and weaker every day. "I was beginning to be worried that one day I would be wheelchair-bound."

Nearly half of the patients who undergo chemotherapy will develop Chemotherapy-Induced Peripheral Nueropathy or CIPN.

Chemotherapy meds travel throughout the body and attack cancer cells; sadly they can also cause severe damage to healthy nerves. CIPN can begin within weeks of starting treatment and can worsen as treatment continues. A high number of really unfortunate people will be forced to endure the symptoms associated with CIPN for months or even years after they've complated chemo.

When asked how CIPN was affecting his quality of life, he responded, "It was difficult to even walk up and down stairs and do other things we usually take for granted."

The most common symptoms include:

- pain, tingling, burning, weakness, or numbness in arms, hands, legs or feet
- sudden, sharp, stabbing or shocking pain sensations
- loss of touch sensation
- clumsiness and trouble using hands to pick up objects or fasten clothing
- loss of balance and falling

For some, their nerves will recover over time. For most, the nerve damage is 'irreversible.' Elliot had been told just that by a series of Doctors and specialists. Essentially they could cure his cancer but couldn't fix the damage done by the drugs used to cure his cancer.

Then Elliot made a call to Dr. Janet Quintanilla of Sonoma Acupuncture Integrative Health right here in Las Cruces. Dr. Quintanilla is using time tested science of Acupuncture and technology originally developed by NASA that assists in increasing blood flow and expediting recovery and healing to treat debilitating disease.

After a series of treatments, Elliot was taking stairs with stride!

"My bedroom is upstairs. This morning I walked right down and got in my car," Elliot shared.

Call 575-618-6900 TODAY and take advantage of their $40 consultation special

RELIGION

Looking for newer ways to read the Bible

Translators are traitors. tion" tries to explain the That's an old saying from centuries ago. Translators are Trojan horses, bringing foreign forces into your midst. I think a lot about this because of working with biblical texts for over half a century as both a reader and a scholar. In many cases translations commit what literary critic (and translator) Robert Alter calls "the heresy of explanation." What a terrific phrase!

Alter's point is well taken. Bible translation has often tried to twist the reader's mind to read the text from the translator's perch. Such "translatext, rather than simply to render Greek or Hebrew into > lated. I'm not addressing my comments to those who think the Bible is not worth reading. I'm thinking of those who struggle to make sense of texts locked in ancient history or linguistic peculiarities. I understand the struggle.

People may lose interest in reading when they suspect they're being manipu-

I was reading the Bible in Greek and Hebrew before I was old enough to vote, so I have some right to comment on problems of translation. It's a struggle to assist people to hear the Bible precisely because these texts are old. They do need interpretation and commentary to be heard anew. But at the same time a delicate balance must be struck so as not to wind up explaining via translation. Such "translation" equals special pleading for a particular way to read the texts. We who live in these texts really want them to be heard apart from our prejudices and predilections.

Here's one example of many: in Genesis 31, Laban the father of Rachel and Leah, Jacob's two wives, overtakes them on their way with their possessions, for which Jacob had toiled 20 years. They left without a blessing, but Rachel had taken the household gods and hid them under her saddle. This was a powerful response to her father because the household gods — little statues placed at the corners of a dwelling represented a claim on Laban's property.

The text notes that she was "after the way of women," meaning that she was in her menstrual cvcle and, thus, untouchable. No way was Laban going to get those statues. The cleverness of her move may pass without notice. Without understanding the cultural norms, we can miss the enormity of this challenge to her father.

To let that text speak, some interpretation is necessary, but it mustn't overpower the craftsmanship of these few words. Literary craftsmanship is evidenced by the textual brevity. In the scriptures, just a few choice words may carry enormous significance. This is true throughout the Hebrew Bible, and in the New Testament as well. Ernest Hemingway said that he tried to write so that people could read the spaces between the words. The Bible is writ like that, but so often the flatness of many translations overshadows such a close reading.

How to proceed? Get a good study Bible, like the Oxford Annotated or the Jewish Study Bible. Better still, buy Alter's three-volume set. It's worth every dollar if you're a serious reader. Alter has painstakingly given us a version that captures the nuances and flow of the Hebrew text, and avoids "the heresy of explanation."

On one hand you need helps for the history and language. On the other hand you want a readable text that doesn't try to convince you about the text by explanation. That's the bargain you need to strike, and when you do, the Bible may come alive for you in ways it never has.

Progress being made, but more work to be done to combat hate

In my months of retirement, I have been reviewing files that I accumulated during my rabbinate. I am keeping special mementos of important events in which I participated.

One item which I retained was from the local newspaper in Topeka, Kansas. It was a full-page ad responding to a planned Neo-Nazi rally on the steps of the Kansas State Capitol on Aug. 24,

RABBI

Seeking Harmony

2002. On one side was a colorful poster that read, "Hate is not a Topeka > value." In a statement on the opposite side, two city council members called on local citizens to support a proposed antidiscrimination ordinance which would extend legal protections to members of the LGBTQ community. They explained, "We sent a million of our finest sons and daughters in harm's way in Europe and Asia to combat the evil of hate because of one's appearance, religion, or personal beliefs." They urged local leaders to take a stand for equalitv for all.

My congregation held a service for the greater community to communicate a message of mutual respect and understanding on Aug. 23, 2002. Two weeks later, at the Sept. 10 city council meeting, I spoke in favor of the ordinance (which passed to some extent).

Nineteen years later, I can say that communities in our country have made some progress towards combating prejudice and promoting equality.

However, it is clear that we have much work to do. Hatred persists. The Anti-Defamation League recently held a press conference to release its report on the many incidents of anti-Semitism in 2020. Presenters lamented recent attacks on members of the Asian-American Pacific Islander community and examples of racist behavior against people of color in our society.

Concerned members of the Las Cruces community have joined together to combat prejudice and discrimination. During my decade here, people gathered to stand up for DACA recipients and to call for immigration reform.

Memorials were held after the violent attack at Pulse nightclub in Orlando, Florida in 2016, the shootings at Pittsburgh's Tree of Life Synagogue in 2018 and the attack at the El Paso Walmart in 2019. Religious leaders and community members came together in 2017 to oppose proposed immigration standards that targeted members of the Muslim community.

We know, deep down, that it is always time to come forward in order to pursue equality and justice, and to act with fairness and compassion.

Local artist's work selected to represent Roadrunner Tea

By ELVA K. ÖSTERREICH Las Cruces Bulletin

Barbara Chichester, a Las Cruces artist, was chosen by Admiral Beverage as the artist for the new beverage product Roadrunner Tea, launching in New Mexico now.

The manufacturer intends to take Roadrunner Tea nationwide following the New Mexico launch. Chichester's artwork was chosen for its symbolism and art style.

She was contacted by the beverage manufacturer in October 2020 and, after finalizing the purchase of the rights to Chichester's art for the logo, the company went into high gear to develop the product.

"They contacted me on my art site and said they wanted to develop this product," she said. "They told me they were very interested in my artwork and felt that it was just New Mexico all over the place, so it was just a whole situation — kind of cool."

The legal teams got together, and they bought the rights to the piece now being used on the cans. Chichester said the tea is coming out in Pic Quik stores now and will be coming out at other locations soon.

Not having a local studio or local retail outlet for her art, Chichester sells solely from her website at barbara-chichester.pixels.com. She said if someone in the local area wants her art, she can do special requests. "Mostly I sell from the site," she said. "Europeans are big on art of the Southwest. I sell a lot in Europe."

Chichester said she sold a huge print once of a giant Coors beer sign to a pub in Ireland.

Art is her first love, she said. She approaches much of her work starting with photography. Creating art since 2012, she developed her own technique she calls paintography.

Sometimes, it will be a digital painting and sometimes, she paints on her photographs. On her site, the art is made into all sorts of things, available as posters, furniture and handbags.

"When you photograph something, you really see it," she said. "When I do portraits of pets, I get really familiar with them. I make my own textures and sometimes will layer the textures. I have some software programs I use. It's all mixed media. It works for me."

Chichester retired from her work as a commercial real estate broker and began to pursue her "heart's desire" of art. Doing it as a hobby has now turned into a business she loves.

"It takes a lot of time," she said. "Sometimes when it hits you as an artist, you would wake up at 5 a.m. — then suddenly it's 6 p.m. I enjoy what I'm doing. I enjoy it so much!"

Barbara Chichester's artwork is being used for the new beverage product Roadrunner Tea.

Having lived in Las Cruces off and on for 20 years, Chichester and her husband finally settled down here permanently.

"Once you're here, it grows on you and you can't leave," she said. "The rule is you are only allowed to tell one person about this place."

The design of the can itself was carefully thought out to reflect life in New Mexico, according to a release from Admiral Beverage.

"The roadrunner bird displayed on our can is the New Mexico state bird," the release said. "The Zia symbol also proudly exhibited in the design has several references to sets of four including the four seasons of the year, four times of day and the four seasons of life. Admiral Beverage couldn't think of a better symbol to represent the four delicious flavors of tea."

Admiral Beverage is a family-owned company that distributes and produces many products, said Admiral Beverage General Manager of Las Cruces Steve Liddell in the release. Consumers are familiar with Molson Coors, Red Bull, Dos Equis and many other products the company delivers to its retail partners. It also produces and sells Aquavista water.

"We support local businesses and support New Mexico State athletics here in Las Cruces," he said.

Admiral Beverage wanted the product to resonate with the consumer, said Robyn Bryant, vice president for marketing.

"Packaging graphics is very important and need to represent the look and feel of the product," she said. "We googled 'roadrunner' graphics and one of my associates found a beautiful picture that Barbara Chichester had created, so we went to her website to review her work. Her artwork has captured the look that we wanted for the product. She is an amazing artist and she is from Las Cruces. It doesn't get any better than that."

Admiral Beverage supports local retailers and employs local people, Brvant said.

Roadrunner Tea depicts New Mexico with its graphics and tea flavors. Right now, it is only being sold in New Mexico. Roadrunner is coming out with Peach Mango Tea, Watermelon Tea, Sweet Tea and Green Tea with Ginseng and Honey. In creating a new kind of tea, the company did its homework, Bryant said. They worked locally to see what flavors, packages and names would resonate with the consumer in New Mexico. "We received a lot of ideas on product names, flavors and packages and chose the ones that best represented New Mexico," she said. "Consumers can find the product now at Pic Quik, Food Basket, local retail stores and soon in United Albertsons and Lowe's.'

Both Chichester and Roadrunner Tea pull together for quality because they care about the end result of their creations.

"Do what you love," Chichester said. "And if you do what you love, everything falls into the place. I am humbled when somebody falls in love with what you have done. Art is subjective. There is no rights or wrongs to it."

Day commemorations, held virtually, in nearby states. In Kansas, this year's event featured, as speakers, Megan Felt and Norm Conard of the Lowell Milken Center for Unsung Heroes in Fort Scott, Kansas.

While she was a student in high school in Uniontown, Kansas, Megan and two of her classmates created a history day project that highlighted the courageous acts of Irena Sendler, who saved over 2,500 Jewish children from certain death in Warsaw, Poland, during World War II.

The project participants had several opportunities to meet with Irena Sendler in person in Poland. She told the students:

"You honor me because I am one of the few remaining to bear witness. But I tell you, I only did what any decent person would do in such horrible times. I do not consider myself a hero. A hero is someone doing extraordinary things. What I did was not extraordinary. It was a normal thing to do. I was just being decent."

So may we have the courage to be decent, which is, truly, extraordinary and heroic.

Hatch Valley coach gets solace from the game he loves after death of his beloved wife

By JP MURRIETA NMAA

The Hatch Valley girls basketball team is off to a strong start this season.

"This is the most athletic team I've had here in Hatch," said head coach Ben Trujillo.

The Bears have a roster with seven seniors.

"We can go 10 deep and we really don't lose anything," added assistant Taralyn Trujillo.

But one key member of the program is no longer with them. Back in February, New Mexico suffered a tragic loss when Las Cruces Public Schools Superintendent Karen Trujillo was killed after being struck by a vehicle while walking her dog.

"She was always there, even at our away tournaments," said Hatch Valley senior Natalie Molinar.

"She helped with concessions. She literally did anything we would ask her to, but her passion was to come and watch these girls play and announce the games," said Taralyn Trujillo, about her mother.

"There's still those moments, whenever we have our home games, we're used to her announcing every play and I still look over and wait for her to announce," said Hatch Valley junior Makenzie Williams.

Hatch Valley girls basketball coach Ben Trujillo says coaching the game he loves has helped him deal with the death of his wife, Karen Trujillo, the superintendent of Las Cruces Public Schools who was killed when struck by a vehicle when she was out walking her dogs in February.

away from the game. But instead, he embraced it. "Basketball to me has always been my oasis, my get out of stress-free card," said Ben. "I enjoy working with kids. I guess you should if you've done it for 37 years, right?"

To help in the healing, Ben has his daughters by his side to help coach the program. "A lot of it is coping and it is helpful to do the stuff that we love," said Tavyn Trujillo. "He loves coaching; I love the sport."

Teams are honoring Karen with stickers on helmets, and recognizing the Trujillo family before games. Ben says the outpouring of support throughout the entire state has been overwhelming.

"The community across the state, all the stories they shared with me," said Ben. "I've said this many times, it's like I have my own 'Chicken Soup for the Soul' book."

"Like my dad says, it's good for the soul to hear all the stories of things she did because she was very modest with things," said Taralyn.

"We didn't even realize how active of a person she was in other people's lives," added Tavyn. "We saw the top level of it, but all the little stories, down to the detective. Even he had a story to share of stuff she did for his wife. It's crazy how many people have reached out and shared amazing stories and tributes to her. We're not the only ones that lost her."

Ben says staying involved and surrounding himself with loved ones helps get him through the grief. "Those kids, they help a lot," he said with tears.

The games aren't the same for the Trujillo family. A wife, mother and dedicated educator is no longer around, but the family knows that she is still with them every single day. "She's cheering us on," Taralyn said. "My dad and I always say we have to put one foot in front of the other. We can see her up there saying, 'Keep moving forward, keep living your dreams, do what you're supposed to do, don't stop your life because I'm gone." "There truly is no guar-

"There truly is no guarantee for tomorrow," Ben said. "There's no guarantee for 10 minutes from now, right? We talked about this all time, about being present and enjoying the moments you're in."

The moment they're in, right now, is a winning one. With everything the program and their coach has endured off the court this year, what would it mean to see his team reach the state final for the first time in the history of the school? "I don't know if I can verbalize what it would mean, but it would certainly be super special, super special," said Ben said.

Hatch Valley won its first-round game in the Class 3A playoffs, beating Sandia Prep, 47-24. It was scheduled to play topseeded Navajo Prep May 5 as the Bulletin went to press.

The West Mesa Industrial Park Wastewater Treatment Facility (Facility), operated by Las Cruces Utilities (LCU), treats approximately 150,000 gallons of wastewater per day. There's plenty of equipment that helps those thousands of gallons get processed, and over time, that equipment needs to get replaced.

"Those aeration blowers were originally purchased and installed new at the Jacob Hands Wastewater Treatment Facility in 1983 and 1984," Joaquin Murillo. LCU assistant plant manager, said. "They supplied air for our Jacob Hands Wastewater Treatment Facility Aeration Basin up until the year 2000 when LCU added a second aeration basin to the process." During that time, the aeration blowers were swapped out for four new natural gas aeration blowers. The old ones were refurbished and repurposed to supply

Can an old dog learn new tricks? Research says yes

The more we learn about the human brain the more amazing it is.

New research in neuropsychology is telling us that, as we get older, our brains can actually get better, instead of the other way around.

The phenomenon is called "brain plasticity," and I am excited about it. Our brains may be the most adaptable organ we have.

While it was once thought that our brain just gradually deteriorated as we aged (from about age 50 on), neuroscience is demonstrating that the aging brain can change and actually improve.

This means that learning new ideas, skills, attitudes and behaviors is possible. But learning requires memory, suggesting that brain training and brain experiencing are certainly worthwhile, even while we get older and our bodies stiffen. Let's take the average 65-yearold golfer. He's been playing about the same game, on the same golf course, with BLANCHARD the same group, Golf Doctor using the same swing, getting the same results, for about the last 20 years now.

Time and habit, along with Charlie (horse) and Arthur (itis) have beaten him into submission, so he tends to accept golf stagnation.

One of the things we know about the aging brain is that if you keep doing the same thing, over and over again, especially when you're older, you end up making your brain and actions more rigid. Do you want a cemented brain? Basically that's what happens with individuals who have Obsessive-Compulsive Disorder (OCD), where the mind-driven behavior becomes stereotyped and automatic, mostly beyond their control.

Fundamentally what I'm saying is that if you want to improve your golf game as a senior you can't rely on only upgrading your physical skills.

You have to change your brain and here's some of what you need to know to do exactly that. First of all, brain plasticity requires motivation. You have to be willing to change and be in a mood to learn new stuff. In golf, that translates to taking lessons and trying things which are out of your comfort zone. It also means getting into a more golflike routine of practicing and maybe even working out.

Secondly, we can only change things we're aware of, and things we're paying attention to. I'd like you to note that high self-awareness is one of the key requirements of mental toughness. It's also a critical element in high emotional I.Q. — the very thing that helps us to succeed in social and business settings. Just like executives, professionals and public servants, golfers need a lot of feedback. When you heighten your self-awareness you increase your chances of understanding what went wrong — and then being able to correct it. Feedback for golfers unquestionably involves regular lessons from a golf teacher; otherwise you're flying blind.

Thirdly, challenging ourselves with new tasks and games turns on the brain plasticity switches. We can try playing new courses, perhaps even with different companions. Also, be open to upgrading your equipment and taking advantage of new technology. We absolutely have to step out of our comfort zone once in a while if we are to grow and improve, regardless of our age. Are you a student of the game? Do you want to reach your full potential?

So I'm suggesting that your brain is inviting you to be young again. The bottom line for you and me as senior golfers who want to get better is skill acquisition.

We can go a long way by promoting positive brain change (no, it's not too late!) by harnessing our potential for brain plasticity.

If you're not happy with your current game, change it. Revamp your swing; develop new shots; hit the ball farther. Skill building certainly extends to learning new mental toughness techniques, such as acute visualization. Be open-minded. Try different problemsolving approaches. In golf that means different shots and creative strategies. We absolutely can't afford to get stuck in old habits.
