COUNTY WINS TELLY AWARD FOR CENSUS OUTREACH VIDEO

Doña Ana County was honored with a 2021 Silver Telly Award for an animated video encouraging participation in the 2020 Census. Spectrum Reach, who created the video in partnership with the County, submitted the video to the Telly Award Judging Council for consideration. Ray May, local Spectrum Reach Sales Manager, and Joel Marquez, producer from Spectrum Reach El Paso office, presented the Telly Award to the County.

"We are thrilled to be considered for such a notable recognition for the 2020 Census outreach effort," said Liz Reed, Community and Constituent Services Manager for Doña Ana County who led the outreach efforts. "The outreach project lasted nearly two years and consisted of various marketing components in the local census committee's outreach plan. The animated video that won the Silver Telly Award was an innovative and visually interesting way to promote census participation in our community."

Spectrum Reach, the advertising division of Charter Communications, oversees Comcast Cable advertising operations in Doña Ana County and creates digital marketing for online platforms and cable television.

"Winning the Telly demonstrates the power of partnership between Doña Ana County and Spectrum Reach," noted May. "Our teams collaborated successfully to produce award-winning creative work that I was proud to be a part of and I am looking to future endeavors. What a special thing it is for both our teams to earn this recognition."

The Telly Awards, founded in 1979, honors groundbreaking video and film productions. Over 12,000 entries from all 50 states and 5 continents are submitted each year. Winners represent the best work of advertising agencies, production companies, television stations, and corporate video departments in the world. The entries are judged by a council of leading video and television experts from some of the most prestigious companies in media. Less than 10 percent of entries are chosen as winners of the Silver Telly Award.

Cervantes: Redistricting bill 'erases' partisan boundaries

By MIKE COOK

Las Cruces Bulletin

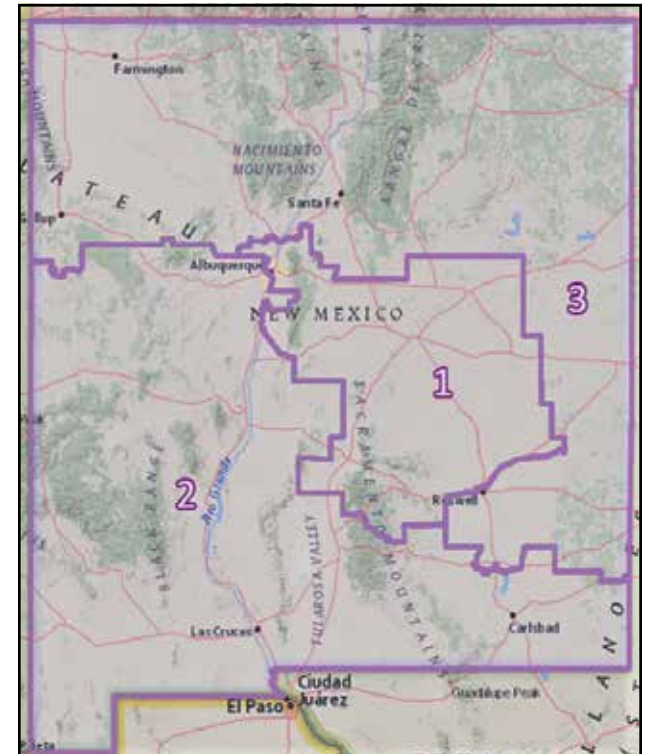

New Mexico will have three newly drawn U.S. congressional districts thanks to a bill signed into law Dec. 17 by Gov. Michelle Lujan Grisham.

The bill, sponsored by state Sen. Joseph Cervantes of Las Cruces and two colleagues from Albuquerque, potentially erases a Republican stronghold in the 2nd Congressional District that includes Las Cruces and all of southern New Mexico.

"For 20 years I've worked to erase the chosen boundaries, which historically assigned southern New Mexico to the Republicans in exchange for the north assigned to Democrats. This plan rejects that past thinking, mixes urban and rural areas and will bring us together as a state," Cervantes said in a text to the Bulletin.

Cervantes was the bill's chief sponsor and is chair of the state Senate Judiciary Committee. He served 12 years in the New Mexico House of Representatives, 2001-12 and was elected to the state Senate in 2013. This year's redistricting special session is his third as a legislator.

The new map balances the populations of the three districts to within single digits; each is just above or just below 705,840 residents. The new District 2 is 56.6 percent Hispanic, 33.3 percent white, 4.9 percent Native American, 1.9 percent Black and

A look at the new congressional districts in New Mexico.

1.2 percent Asian; District 1 is 37.3 percent Hispanic, 49.6 percent white, 3.9 percent Native American, 2.4 percent Black and 2.9 percent Asian; District 3 is 40 percent Hispanic, 38.3 percent white, 16.5 percent Native American, 1.3 percent Black and 1.2 percent Asian.

The New Mexico Legislature's website (nmlegis.gov) says the new District 2 has a 53-47 percent preference for Democrats over Republicans, while the figure is 54-46 Democrats over Republicans in District 1 and 55.4-44.6 percent in favor of Democrats in District 3.

The website fivethirtyeight.com (538) agrees the new map gives Democrats a statistical edge in all three districts, but says

Republican chances of winning districts 1 and 3 are improved.

"The finalized map makes it easier for Democrats to capture the 2nd District," the website said, with the district moving from a partisan lean of R+14 to D+4. "The tradeoff, however, is that the 3rd District becomes more competitive," 538 said, going from a partisan lean of D+14 to D+5. District 1 moves from D+18 to D+11, according to 538, which says it uses "data and evidence to advance public knowledge."

District 1 is represented by Melanie Stansbury, a Democrat from Albuquerque who won the seat in a June special election

Samuel McGillivray, a senior at Mesilla Valley Christian School, helped a Las Cruces neighbor, Karen, put up this tree in her home. Karen recently lost her husband, and Sam wanted to help her keep their tradition of putting up a special tree at Christmas going. Using more than 600 pieces that had been part of a Christmas village, it took them more than two weeks of work to decorate the 15-foot tree, Sam said. Karen's husband had worked for the railroad and was a car enthusiast, "so we added a train station along with a train that goes around the bottom," Sam said. A Hallmark pedal car collection was also added, along with a plane that flies around the top of the tree to honor Karen's father, who was in the U.S. Air Force.

to succeed Deb Haaland, who was appointed secretary of the U.S. Department of the Interior in the Biden administration. District 2 is represented by Yvette Herrell, a Republican from Alamogordo, who won the seat in 2020. District 3 is held by Teresa Leger Fernandez of Santa Fe, who won the seat in 2020 after former U.S. Rep. Ben Ray Lujan gave it up to run successfully for the U.S. Senate.

The Legislature began a special session Dec. 6 to redraw congressional, state Public Education Commission and state Senate and House districts based on the 2020 census.

The state Senate passed the congressional redistricting bill with 25 Democrats voting yes and 15 Republicans voting no. Democrat Bobby Gonzales of Rancho de Taos was excused from the vote and Republican Greg Schmedes of Tijeras (Bernalillo County) was absent.

In the House, the bill passed with 44 Democrats voting for it and 23 Republicans and one Democrat voting against it. State Rep. Candie Sweetser of Deming was the only Democrat to vote against the bill in either house. State Reps. Phelps Anderson, an independent from Roswell, and Republican Jane E. Powdrell-Culbert of Corrales were excused from the vote.

The news release from the governor's office announcing her signature on the congressional redistricting bill said, "according to the New Mexico House of Representatives, the map is a 'nearly 90 percent reflection' of what was called the 'People's Map,' produced by an independent Citizens Redistricting Committee." Lujan Grisham held the 1st Congressional seat for six years before being elected governor in 2019.

"The maps Gov. Lujan Grisham signed into law are nothing more than a Democratic power grab and a clear attempt to put New Mexico's congressional districts in the clutches of Democrats," state Republican Party Chair Steve Pearce said in a news release.

Pearce held the 2nd Congressional Seat for 14

During a 2011 redistricting special session, the Legislature could not agree on a congressional redistricting bill.

In 2001, the Democratic-controlled Legislature passed a congressional redistricting bill, but it was vetoed by then Gov. Gary Johnson, a Republican.

In both cases, congressional redistricting was decided by the New Mexico Supreme Court.

Everyone's awaiting a visit from St. Nick

PUBLISHER'S NOTE: In this edition of the Bulletin, I continue a tradition carried by one of my mentors, the late Tom Reeves, who published newspapers in California, Colorado and Alamogordo, where he hired me as editor in 1995. So here's the classic poem, "A Visit from St. Nicholas," by American poet Clement Clarke Moore, who lived from 1779 to 1863. Here's wishing everyone a Merry Christmas!

A Visit from St. Nicholas

'Twas the night before Christmas, when all through the house
Not a creature was stirring,
Not even a mouse.

The stockings were hung by
the chimney with care,
In hopes that St. Nicholas soon would be there.

The children were nestled all snug in their beds,
While visions of sugarplums danced in their heads.

And mamma in her 'kerchief,
and I in my cap,

Had just settled our brains for a long winter's nap.

When out on the lawn
there arose such a clatter,

I sprang from the bed
to see what was the matter.

Away to the window I flew like a flash,

Tore open the shutters
and threw up the sash.

The moon on the breast of the new-fallen snow

Gave the luster of midday to objects below.

When, what to my wondering eyes should appear,

But a miniature sleigh, and eight tiny reindeer.

With a little old driver, so lively and quick,

I knew in a moment it must be
St. Nick.

More rapid than eagles his coursers they came,

RICHARD COLTHARP
From the Publisher

And he whistled, and shouted, and called them by name!

"Now Dasher! now, Dancer!
now, Prancer and Vixen!

On, Comet! On, Cupid! on, on Donner and Blitzen!

To the top of the porch! to the top of the wall!

Now dash away! Dash away!
Dash away all!"

As dry leaves that before the wild hurricane fly,

When they meet with an obstacle, mount to the sky.

So up to the housetop the coursers they flew,

With the sleigh full of toys,
and St. Nicholas too.

And then, in a twinkling, I heard on the roof

The prancing and pawing of each little hoof.

As I drew in my head, and was turning around,

Down the chimney St. Nicholas came with a bound.

He was dressed all in fur, from his head to his foot,

And his clothes were all tarnished with ashes and soot.

A bundle of Toys he had flung on his back,

And he looked like a peddler,
just opening his pack.

His eyes — how they twinkled!
his dimples how merry!

His cheeks were like roses, his nose like a cherry!

His droll little mouth was drawn up like a bow,

And the beard of his chin was as white as the snow.

The stump of a pipe he held tight in his teeth,

And the smoke it encircled his head like a wreath.

He had a broad face and a little round belly,

That shook when he laughed,
like a bowlful of jelly!

He was chubby and plump, a right jolly old elf,

And I laughed when I saw him, in spite of myself!

A wink of his eye and a twist
of his head,

Soon gave me to know I had nothing to dread.

Having faith in Christmas and its true meaning

It's Christmas time, when we celebrate the birth of Christ. In the U.S., surveys show that more than 80 percent of us believe in God. That's more people than have lawyers, drive foreign cars, believe DNA is absolute proof of a criminal act, own a home, have been divorced or watch Oprah!

How can such a high percentage of a highly educated, well-read, technologically and scientifically knowledgeable people believe in an omnipotent being? Where inside of us is the biological process that allows faith to exist? Not just to exist but to flourish. How do you define the words soul, love, compassion, conscience, guilt or sorrow without going outside the parameters of scientific definition?

To choose to believe only what is scientifically provable is to assume, I guess, that all human behavior can be traced to the basic instincts of territoriality, reproduction of species and survival. That a conscience is a highly refined sophisticated mechanism that somehow helps keep peace in the herd, insures that each member gets her share of the kill, and that each dog in the pack gets a place in the pecking order.

If Earth is truly just a long series of accidental chemical bondings and adaptation to the environment, and God has no hand in it, then those animal rights folks who say a rat is a dog is a baby, are right. Human existence on Earth would have no significance, no more than dinosaurs, rocks, oxygen, stars, wars or renal dialysis. As Bertrand Russell, an atheist, once said, "Unless one assumes a God, any discussion of life's purpose is meaningless."

One of the dilemmas that deep thinkers have, is the need to explain the biological, physical, neural or meteorological mecha-

Transparency at heart of government deliberations

Transparency is at the heart of everything we do at the New Mexico Foundation for Open Government (FOG). The New Mexico’s Legislature actions during this past special session show they do not share this value.

For months this summer the Legislature-mandated Redistricting Committee held public meetings and gathered public comment to create fair, equitable maps outlining congressional, state Senate and state representative districts. It seems much of their work has been done in vain.

Surveys show that the public wants a process that is open and engaging. FOG believes the public’s business should be conducted in full public view, the actions of the public bodies should be taken openly and all deliberations be made open to the public, yet the Legislature has conducted their meetings about redistricting behind closed doors, in partisan enclaves, eliminating any public access to the proceedings — access that is an essential element of a properly functioning democracy.

The voters deserve better.

nisms that allow something to happen. Miracles are hard for them to swal-conclude the Bible is more fiction than fact. That Christmas is just a benign commercial day off.

But for the vast majority of Americans, Christmas is the recognition of something bigger than ourselves. It also strengthens our beliefs and reminds us that Jesus was born to change the world.

Our entire concept of God exists by faith. It’s not complicated. When I’m asked if I believe Christ

If I can believe in something so all mighty, all-powerful and unbelievable as God, I can surely believe Jesus was His son.

God bless you.

Two incumbents and one new member of the Las Cruces Public Schools Board of Education were sworn into office Dec. 15 for four-year terms that begin Jan. 1, 2022. The ceremony was held at the LCPS Dr. Karen M. Trujillo Administration Complex, with Doña Ana County Clerk Amanda López Askin administering the oath of office.

Ray Jaramillo was elected to his second term on the board in November.

"My mantra throughout my tenure was 'Provoke, Confront and Elevate,'" Flores told the Bulletin. "It helped me through the rough patches and guided me to make a difference. It is a bittersweet moment, but I gladly give my seat to a great teacher and mentor, Bob Wofford. I wish the new Board much success! Thank you for allowing me to serve! 'Muy agradecida! (Very grateful).'"

When her term ends at the end of December, Flores will have served 12 years and eight months on the LCPS Board of Education. Her term was extended when Las Cruces opted into the Local Elections Act in 2019, which consolidated local elections and moved school board elections from February to November.

Flores won her first election to the board, in 2009, by two votes. She was re-elected by wide margins in 2013 and 2017.

Jaramillo, who has served as board president since January, is director of Alpha School for Young Children, a Las Cruces preschool where he has worked for 26 years. He is a member of New Mexico Early Learning Advisory Council.

After beginning her career with Albuquerque Public Schools, Cort taught French at Las Cruces High School for 26 years, retiring in May 2019. Cort was named LCPS teacher of the year in 2012 and New Mexico teacher of the year in 2013.

Wofford retired in 2017 after teaching English at Las Cruces High School for 34 years.

He has more than 15 years' experience as a consultant for The College Board, a national non-profit educational membership association.

"Letterkenny"

An eventful 10th season lay ahead for the residents of the title rural Canadian burg, which finds McMurray and Wayne (Dan Petronijevic, Jared Keeso) doing some dickering, the Hicks attending a sausage party, the Hockey Players and Skids having a video game battle and the town's men getting complete head-to-toe physicals. (ORIGINAL)

"Movie: Ted Bundy: American Boogeyman"

Daniel Farrands directed this true-crime drama that follows intrepid FBI agents Kathleen McChesney (Holland Roden) and Robert Ressler (newcomer Jake Hays) as they organize one of the largest manhunts in history, for 20th century serial killer Ted Bundy (Chad Michael Murray). Lin Shaye ("The Grudge") also stars. (ORIGINAL)

"Movie: Cryptozoo"

Writer/director Dash Shaw's decidedly hallucinatory animated feature follows cryptozookeepers as they try to capture a Baku, a legendary dream-eating hybrid creature, and wonder whether they should display it in the confines of a zoo or let them remain hidden and unknown. Lake Bell, Zoe Kazan, Michael Cera, Louisa Krause and Peter Stormare head the voice cast. (ORIGINAL)

tonight's picks

Pope Francis

6 p.m. on AMC Movie: National Lampoon's Christmas Vacation

Written by "Home Alone" filmmaker John Hughes, the third installment in the movie-comedy series was a major hit of the 1989 holiday season. Chevy Chase returns as Griswold family patriarch Clark, who tries to ensure a traditional yuletide for his clan — despite the considerable odds against it.

6 p.m. on COOK Worst Cooks in America

Boot camp gets an '80s makeover, and the recruits use their palates and culinary senses to learn about different sauces before team mentors Anne Burrell and Carla Hall teach them how to make meatballs with sauce in the new episode "Sauce Boss," which kicks off a prime-time marathon of this cooking competition. In the main challenge, the recruits are tasked with making saucy enchiladas. Three more episodes immediately follow.

6 p.m. on TBS; 7 p.m. on TNT Movie: A Christmas Story

This holiday favorite from 1983 — which also airs tonight on TNT in a yuletide marathon — stars Peter Billingsley as Ralphie, the little boy who yearns to find a Red Ryder BB gun under the Christmas tree. Not just a Christmas story, it's about parents, little brothers, bullies, decoder rings, double dog dares and most of all, the workings of a youthful mind. The writing by Jean Shepherd (who also narrates) captures it all perfectly. Darren McGavin and Melinda Dillon also star.

7 p.m. on KDBC A Holly Dolly Christmas

Irrepressible country music superstar Dolly Parton blows away any pandemic blues with this delightful holiday special celebrating Parton's absolutely favorite time of the year. The overall mood is intimate, though, with the star performing from a candlelit set, alternating light-hearted yuletide tunes with powerful renditions of hymns reflect the power of faith and resilience. Parton also shares several favorite stories and personal recollections of the season, along with selections from her 2020 holiday album.

7 p.m. on KTSM Movie: It's a Wonderful Life

Small-town guy George Bailey (James Stewart) defers one big dream after another to stay home, marry a local girl (Donna Reed) and run the family business. Facing financial ruin, he's pulled from suicidal despair by angel Clarence (Henry Travers), who shows him how terrible the world would have been if he'd never lived. Lionel Barrymore also stars in director Frank Capra's 1946 classic, which marks its 75th anniversary this year.

11:34 p.m. on KTSM Christmas Eve Mass

Those looking to wind down their hectic pre-Christmas schedule in a quietly reflective mode can find that in this annual special, which features Pope Francis delivering his Christmas Eve mass to the faithful gathered in the Vatican's St. Paul Basilica. This year's mass is expected to mark a return to relative normalcy after the coronavirus pandemic restricted the 2020 Christmas Eve gathering to about 100 worshippers in a smaller rear section of the basilica.

How the Grinch Stole Christmas!

Since its first airing in 1966, this adaptation of the Dr. Seuss children's book has evolved into an annual holiday viewing tradition. Legendary animator Chuck Jones directed the story about a green-skinned grouch who sets out to spoil Christmas for the citizens of Whoville. Boris Karloff provides narration, with additional voices by Thurl Ravenscroft and June Foray. "Fame" co-star Albert Hague was the co-composer of the theme music. This year's airing marks the 55th anniversary of the first telecast.

Dexter: New Blood

Dexter (Michael C. Hall) is forced to fight for his life in the woods, leading to a desperate confrontation in an abandoned summer camp in the new episode "Big Game." Insecure

Series creator and star Issa Rae is keeping a lid on story details for tonight's series finale of her critically acclaimed comedy about two Black women (Rae, Yvonne Orji) pursuing love and professional success in South Los Angeles, but fans don't need to worry: She promises the final episode, "Everything Gonna Be, Okay?!", will be "more sweet than bitter." She adds that she always has thought the story "Insecure" has been telling would span five seasons, which puts tonight's conclusion right on that timetable.

tonight's picks

Elizabeth Stanton

6 p.m. on DSC
Bering Sea Gold

Top contenders Shawn Pomrenke and Vernon Adkison battle it out for their final haul in the face of a brutal storm that seems ready to knock them off the ice in the new episode "Legend vs. Underdog." Meanwhile, Zeke Tenhoff goes all in on one last, very risky move, while Kris Kelly hopes to pull enough to set up his summer season.

6 p.m. on LIFEMOV
Movie: Soccer Mom Madam

Left with no means of support after a bitter break-up, Anna (Jana Kramer) provides for her two kids by working at a massage parlor that specializes in "full service" for its clients. Eventually, Anna branches out on her own, setting up a high-end escort service that matches young beauties with rich and powerful older men. She earns millions while keeping her secret from the other suburban moms in her elite social circle. When the FBI starts sniffing around, hoping to arrest a corrupt big fish among her clientele, Anna's life is in jeopardy in this fact-inspired 2021 drama.

6 p.m. on TLC
7 Little Johnstons

In the new episode "Trent's Funemployment," Trent begins a determined search to find a new job, while Amber debates whether she wants to enroll in college and complete her studies so she can continue her career as a teacher. Elsewhere, Anna, Emma and Alex set up Emma's new photo booth and take snapshots for their online shops.

6 p.m. on TRAV
The Dead Files

Former homicide detective Steve DiSchiavi and medium Amy Allan uncover several bloody secrets that have been long-hidden in the dark corners of a haunted theater in Washington in the new episode "Bloody History." Later, they investigate a North Carolina man's panic-stricken claims that he is being being terrorized by a specter in the home where he grew up.

7 p.m. on KVIA2
Popstar's Best of 2021

'Tis the season for looking back on the year that's drawing to a close, and The CW gets in on all the other "count-down" specials with this new hour in which host Elizabeth Stanton looks back at the good, the bad and the ugly of 2021, ticking off some of the year's most memorable moments (for good or bad) and trends that dominated over the past 12 months.

7 p.m. on TLC
I Am Jazz

In the new episode "Raw," Jazz's rally in support of Black Trans Lives is in serious jeopardy after her heavily publicized main speaker is forced to drop out from the event. Elsewhere, Sander goes on a second date with Hope and is surprised to learn about some of her stringent dating criteria. Later, Jazz confronts TS Madi-son about her comments.

8 p.m. on FOOD
Raid the Fridge

Food writer Dan Ahdoot hosts this new culinary competition series, in which competing chefs must rely mainly on their intuition and luck. To get ingredients for a series of challenges, the chefs may use only the ingredients they find in the "mystery refrigerator" they select, but — here's the rub — they have only the exterior photos, magnets, recipes and art on the fridge doors to go by. In other words, what may look on the outside like the fridge of a hardcore foodie may be filled with fast food.

8:03 p.m. on HISTORY
Great Escapes With Morgan Freeman

The new episode "Assassin's Flight" examines how petty thief and lifetime criminal James Earl Ray managed to escape prison multiple times. In fact, it was during one of those "unexcused absences" from incarceration that Ray fatally shot civil rights leader Martin Luther King Jr. For that crime, Ray was sentenced to the notorious Brushy Mountain State Prison in Tennessee, widely believed to be virtually escape-proof. That didn't discourage Ray and some fellow inmates from scaling the prison walls with a makeshift ladder. Morgan Freeman is the host.

BY JAY BOBBIN

'That's Entertainment!,' indeed:*Musicals get their moment again

If you love movies, and movie musicals more specifically, chances are good that you already know the many delights of "That's Entertainment!"

Originally devised by MGM as a tribute to the studio's 50th anniversary, the 1974 compilation of clips has become a New Year's Eve staple on Turner Classic Movies. The channel will maintain the tradition by showing it again Friday, Dec. 31, along with the three sequels ... but the first film offers the cream of the crop, drawing upon many of the top song-and-dance sequences in MGM history, with some extra curios (such as an all-star luncheon) providing additional pleasure.

The picture is smartly organized into segments, each introduced and narrated by a star with an MGM connection, beginning with Frank Sinatra (who opens the movie with an amusing look at how many times "Singin' in the Rain" has been used in different attractions). Fred Astaire, Gene Kelly, Peter Lawford, Liza Minnelli (who reflects on the MGM career of her mother, Judy Garland), Donald O'Connor, Debbie Reynolds, Mickey Rooney, James Stewart and Elizabeth Taylor follow as other hosts.

The march of time allows most of them to wax humorous about their earlier days on screen, with Stewart noting that he was no singer (evidence is offered), yet such vocalizing was among the requirements for many of the studio's talents. Similarly, Clark Gable and Joan Crawford are seen attempting to dance their way through a couple of numbers.

Christopher (Plummer)	Gavin (MacLeod)	Markie (Post)
Cicely (Tyson)	George (Segal)	Norm (Macdonald)
Cloris (Leachman)	James (Michael Tyler)	Willard (Scott)

Board of Review, writer-director Rian Johnson's droll murder mystery boasts an all-star cast headed by Daniel Craig as private eye Benoit Blanc, who is hired to investigate the suspicious death of mystery novelist Harlan Thrombey (Christopher Plummer) on the evening of his 85th birthday. The dysfunctional relatives in attendance make up a rich array of suspects. Jamie Lee Curtis, Chris Evans, Michael Shannon, Don Johnson and Toni Collette also star.

7 p.m. on KVIA
Movie: Frozen

The Disney studio added another animated smash to its inventory with this 2013 fantasy, adapted from Hans Christian Andersen's "The Snow Queen" and sparked by a woman (voice of Idina Menzel) with the gift — and curse — of turning anything, or anyone, to ice. She runs away to prevent hurting those she loves, but her sister goes in pursuit. Jonathan Groff and Josh Gad also are heard, the latter as a snowman named Olaf.

8 p.m. on WE
A House Divided

Dante (Terrell Carter) finds a way to prove his value, while Cameran Jr. (Brad James) signs his first big deal in the new episode "Too Much Blood." Elsewhere, law enforcement agents start to close in on the family in a probe into past crimes. Meanwhile, Torrance (Steph Santana) begins a downward spiral, and Sammy (Lance Gideon) brings in a new young assassin. Another new episode immediately follows.

"The Lucy Show"

Lucille Ball reteamed with her "I Love Lucy" collaborators Bob Carroll Jr., Madelyn Davis, Bob Schiller and Bob Weiskopf to create this 1962-68 sitcom follow-up in which she stars as Lucy Carmichael, a scheming widow with two kids, a long-suffering best friend (Vivian Vance, also from the previous series) and a cantankerous boss (Gale Gordon).

"The Roy Rogers Show"

The inaugural round of this Western series originally broadcast on NBC from 1951 to 1957 stars Rogers and wife Dale Evans as a ranch owner and a cafe proprietor in an 1800s Old West town that apparently had all the conveniences — cars, telephones, electric lights — of the 20th century. Rogers' beloved horse Trigger and German shepherd Bullet the Wonder Dog headed the nonhuman cast.

"Movie: The Theory of Everything"

Eddie Redmayne won an Oscar for his superb performance as astrophysicist Stephen Hawking in this 2014 biopic, which charts Hawking's relationship with then-wife Jane (Felicity Jones). Both are tested sorely when Stephen is diagnosed with ALS, but even as his body fails, he applies himself even more to his work, becoming a global icon for his accomplishments against very visible odds.

"Movie: Lady of the Manor"

Actor Justin Long and his brother Christian made their directorial debuts with this 2021 buddy comedy about a pot-smoking slacker (Melanie Lynskey) who gets a job as a tour guide at a historic Savannah, Ga., mansion and winds up becoming friends with the ghost of a 19th century resident (Judy Greer). Justin Long, Ryan Phillippe, Luis Guzman, and Patrick Duffy also star.

Mitten tree doubles items

BULLETIN REPORT

For more than 10 years Thomas Branigan Memorial Library, 200 E.
Picacho Ave., has coordinated an annual mitten tree. This year's tree was a huge success.

Each year, the community comes together to donate mittens, gloves, blankets, scarves, socks, baby items and many other needed personal items to help Las Cruces' needy.

At the close of business Dec. 17, library staff packed up the tree and counted 1,515 items.

All items will be delivered to La Casa, Inc. domestic violence program, Mesilla Valley Community of Hope and Las Cruces Gospel Rescue Mission.

"Library staff were surprised by

Julian Alexander keeps coming back to roots in Las Cruces

By MIKE COOK

Las Cruces Bulletin

You could call Las Cruces High School and New Mexico State University graduate Julian Alexander a renaissance man, a jack of all trades, a polymath. Or you could just say he is a talented and daring actor, writer, director, filmmaker, storyteller and entrepreneur.

"I want to be ready for anything," said Alexander, 29. "Every time life gets hard, I think about ... all these things I love."

Alexander has served as an adjunct and a visiting assistant professor at NMSU and as an adjunct at El Paso Community College. He currently is a full-time lecturer in film production at the University of East London, where he is also pursuing doctoral studies that focus on "using rap as the primary storytelling tool on screen," or what Alexander calls "The Cinematic Hip-Hop Narrative."

He also has a BA in digital filmmaking from the Creative Media Institute at NMSU and an MFA from Leeds Beckett University in London.

Alexander has lectured and presented live and online about poetry, theater and filmmaking at public schools, colleges and universities in New Mexico and several other states and internationally, and has performed his own material as well as works by William Shakespeare, Harold Pinter, Samuel Taylor Coleridge, Edgar Allan Poe and others for audiences in Las Cruces and around the world.

And, even though Covid-19 interrupted the creative process, he has a number of projects in the works.

"For the last couple years, I've been developing and performing a lecture series titled 'Shakespeare Was A Rapper,'" Alexander said. "It's a project now where I take all the research from my Ph.D. and deliver it in fun and entertaining ways with students and younger audiences in mind. JulianShakesStory is my new initiative where I continue to make classic literature and hip-hop more accessible on both sides of that bridge."

A native of Norfolk, Virginia, Alexander moved with his parents to Las Cruces in 2007 and lived here for nearly a decade.

"I love Las Cruces," Alexander said. "Las Cruces taught me everything about movies. It's a place that fosters creativity and allows you to challenge yourself. It's such a supportive community."

And he keeps coming home.

Alexander co-coordinated the City of Las Cruces Juneteenth Jazz Festival last summer; he produced and acted in the return engagement of "Othello: The Remix," which he and fellow actors Josh Horton, Juan Apodaca and Mark Kantanga also performed in Santa Fe, in August; he co-hosted a poetry slam at Art Obscura Gallery in Mesilla Park; and he emceed and presented at Doña Ana Community College's 10x25 Conference for creators, innovators, educators and entrepreneurs in October.

award at Spain's Bilbao Seriesland Festival and earned a best actor nomination.

Alexander also continues to work with his parents and godmother as part of Alexander Consulting and Training, a long-time family-owned company, and Diversity Decoded, which his family founded in 2020 "to help HR practitioners recognize and respond effectively when they encounter DEI (diversity, equity and inclusion) opportunities and challenges," according to www.diversitydecoded.com.

His parents, who now live in Washington, D.C., "grew up in segregation" in Mississippi and North Carolina respectively, Alexander said, and he has incorporated their life experiences and his own into his classrooms and onto the stage and screen in his plays, poetry and films.

His goal as a storyteller and filmmaker is not to tell just one side of a story, but to show that "there's a complete story," he said.

"My mission is to lift up the forgotten stories of the Southwest and shine a light on the incredible history of the Black people in the Southwest, the tribes and indigenous communities and other minority groups that have been erased through history," Alexander said.

"My mentors in Las Cruces are the ones who inspired me to go to England, and they're probably the reason I keep coming back," he said. "I go to my old schools and love letting students know that there are opportunities to exist elsewhere, but that doesn't mean you have to leave forever. Leave and return with new information that inspires others around you to explore as well. As creative people, that's necessary. Our job is to make up imaginary worlds and characters, an impossible task if our perspectives are limited."

By MIKE COOK
Las Cruces Bulletin

The ARTE Institute for Lifelong Learning of Las Cruces will begin spring classes and tours on Monday, Jan. 10, 2022, kicking off a semester that continues through May 17 and includes visits to the missions of El Paso and Santa Fe, both in-person and Zoom lectures on art-

La Calavera Catrina is a bilingual exhibition featuring larger-than-life sculptures of La Catrina, one of the most recognizable figures of Día de los Muertos (Day of the Dead). An elegant female skeleton and an icon of Mexican heritage, La Catrina approaches death not through sadness, but as a colorful celebration of life. These works by artist Ricardo Soltero explore this rich iconography and feature interpretation written in partnership with Denver's Mexican Consulate.

Record oil, gas funds $176M in Doña Ana County education

By MIKE COOK

Las Cruces Bulletin

A new report from the New Mexico Tax Research Institute (NMTRI) shows the state's oil and natural gas industry provided $5.3 billion in state and local tax revenue for fiscal year 2021—the highest figure in New Mexico history, the New Mexico Oil and Gas Association (NMOGA) said in a Dec. 1 news release.

Through its contributions to the state's general fund, the oil and gas industry provided almost $176.1 million in funding for Doña Ana County's three school districts, New Mexico State University and Doña Ana Community College in FY 2021, NMOGA said in its 2021 report, "Fueling New Mexico: How New Mexico's Oil and Natural Gas Industry Benefits All."

That includes $114.6 million in K-12 funding — 77 schools in Las Cruces Public Schools, the Gadsden Independent School District and Hatch Valley Public Schools; and $61.6 million for NMSU and DACC.

NMOGA said that translates to 6,374 jobs supported and almost $300 million in labor income.

Public schools continue to be the largest beneficiary of oil and natural gas revenue, NMOGA said, with $1.04 billion going to public education and $275 million going to New Mexico universities, colleges and other institutions of higher education.

more than $500 million from FY 2020 on production growth and improving market conditions, as

New Mexico also became the second-largest oil producer in the United States, NMOGA said.

"Historic revenue equals historic opportunity, and that is great news for teachers and students, critical first responders and health care workers, and each and every New Mexican across this state," said NMOGA President and CEO Leland Gould.

The $5.3 billion in 2021 revenue surpassed the previous industry record of $5.16 billion set in FY 2019.

Higher-than-average production coupled with improving market conditions were the primary drivers of revenue growth, NMOGA said.

"2021 saw a remarkable recovery in New Mexico's oil and natural gas industry as producers maintained record production levels and gradually restored drilling over the course of the year," said NMTRI President Richard Ankam.

"While some revenue streams initially dipped on curtailed drilling activity, the rebound in market prices and consistently high output lifted direct taxes on production by 40 percent," Ankam added.

Oil and gas revenue accounts for 35 percent of the state general fund, supporting education, public safety, economic development, health care and other areas of state spending, NMOGA said.

The oil and natural gas industry is the state's largest economic and fiscal contributor, supporting more than 134,000 jobs and $27 billion in annual economic activity, NMOGA said.

See the complete "Fueling New Mexico" report at www.nmoga.org/fueling-newmexico2021.

NMOGA is a coalition of more than 1,000 oil and natural gas companies and individuals operating in New Mexico.

It is the oldest and largest organization representing the state oil and gas industry and includes all facets of oil and natural gas production, transportation and delivery.

Aggie women working on playing for a full four quarters

The New Mexico State

University women's basketball team has played some good basketball at times but needs to work on finishing out games and playing a full 40 minutes.

That's the verdict of both coaches and a couple of key players.

A case in point: the Aggies led I-10 rival UTEP for nearly 35 minutes on Dec. 15 at the Pan American Center before losing 82-78 in overtime.

The Aggies also lost their most recent game, 65-63 to Weber State in Ogden, Utah, in a road test Dec. 18.

"We've been really close and show a lot of improvement in every game," said sophomore Taylor Donaldson, who scored 25 points off the bench against UTEP, while posting two steals and two blocks. Donaldson scored 16 against Weber State.

"I think it's just being able to close out the whole game to secure the win," added Donaldson, who is from Newbury Park, Calif.

The Aggies are off to a 3-6 start and their losses have all been to tough opponents and/or rivals — twice to UTEP, twice to New Mexico, once to nationally ranked Louisiana State University in the San Juan Shootout in Puerto Rico over the Thanksgiving weekend and to an improved Weber State club.

Aggie head coach Brooke Atkinson said Dec. 9 her team played its best three quarters of the year against both LSU and UNM.

"We have to continue to clean up things that will make us that more efficient to beat a really good team," Atkinson said.

Against LSU, New Mexico State was up by nine points at one point and had a chance to make it to double digits before losing 72-52.

"We'd do three really good things and make a mistake," Atkinson said. "We'd do two good things and then make two mistakes. And then, we'd do one good thing and make three mistakes. We are still a really new team with each other. Against really good teams — New Mexico, UTEP, LSU — they will make you pay when you make mistakes."

Golf provides plenty of life lessons to improve your leadership skills

Those of us who have played golf know that the big difference between our success and failure at any given time is almost always mental, not physical. When athletes of similar talent compete, in any sport, mental competence and expertness (I call it "toughness") is what separates winners from others. So it is too with senior executives, elected political leaders and military leaders, whose success and failure depends on the same factors. That simply means the thoughtfulness and the ability to exercise the necessary discipline over our behavior, having continual control of our emotions, having and maintaining utmost confidence in our abilities and possessing the presence of mind to size up the circumstances correctly and decide decisively.

CHARLIE BLANCHARD

Golf Doctor

Just as golfers need to learn shot making, positioning, recovery plays and other critical skills, leaders in any field need to master certain competencies which are required for performance that is consistent with winning. As golfers we need to master swing fundamentals, course management, touch, feel (e.g. putting and chipping) and nerves.

Leaders need to master business fundamentals, people management, organizational politics, situational feel — oh, and nerves. In both golf and in leadership, we are supposed to know, understand and follow the rules of the game. As golfers and leaders we must always carry ourselves with class and behave with professionalism and honor. In golf and leadership what counts most is what we do alone.

The exceptionally mentally tough leaders and war heroes tend to be high in what is called "emotional intelligence" or EQ. To perform brilliantly when it counts, whether you're an athlete or an executive, there are three essential aptitudes we can learn from golf — and all are components of high EQ.

The most basic is getting to know ourselves as deeply as possible. High self-awareness, which means understanding our strengths, our tendencies, our limitations, our attitudes, our peculiar habits and those areas where we need to grow; this is absolutely essential for someone to manage others effectively. Secondly, high performing leaders need to have a savvy grasp of the situation at all times. They need to see the big picture and they need to be keenly focused on what is happening in the moment.

SEE LEADERSHIP, PAGE 23

LEADERSHIP

As with Greg Norman, who started the 1996 final round at the Masters with a 5-shot lead, sometimes raw nerves conspire with bad decisions to sabotage business leaders, golf pros and politicians. Norman lost by 5 to Nick Faldo.

Perhaps most importantly, we need to control our emotions, which is the earmark of high EQ people. Golfers like Bobby Jones, Jack Nicklaus, Arnold Palmer, Nancy Lopez, Annika Sorenstam and Tiger Woods stand on a pedestal as classic performers, and were always under control and didn't lose their cool under pressure. Loss of command of our emotions can hijack our brains. Have you ever noticed how hard it is to think clearly and rationally when you're angry or really down? If you're a public speaker saying the right thing before an audience may depend on getting grasp on your emotions. A symphony musician must have total control to let the composer's music come out with virtuosity. We can learn these things from golf, especially if we pay attention, and become students of the game, and look more closely at ourselves.

Perhaps the deepest lesson that golf has personally taught me is how to recover from bad breaks and adversity.

WOMEN

Atkinson, now in her fifth year as the NMSU head women's coach and 13th overall year with the program, said the Western Athletic Conference is the toughest she's ever seen it.

That's why it has been important to play a challenging nonconference schedule to get ready for the rigors of WAC play, Atkinson said.

Donaldson said it really comes down to closing out games.

"We feel good about where we are, but we have a lot of things to work on," she said.

Donaldson said the team needs to continue practicing hard, focusing on defense and "stopping people."

The Aggies really get going when "our defense is propelling our offense and getting the ball inside to people like KB (Bigue "KB" Saar) and we have people taking charges," Donaldson said.

"That gets us fired up and gets us going where we are getting on a roll," she added.

Saar is a graduate student, originally from Senegal in west Africa, who played the past two seasons at Oklahoma State University.

Saar says the women's team is getting better every game and every single day.

"It is a process," she said.

"I really like that our nonconference games are kind of tough," she said. "It will help us get ready for when the conference games start."

Saar agrees with Donaldson that defense is what really keys the Aggies.

"When we play really good defense, that's when we get transition baskets," she said. "It's some easy and quick baskets. I think our defense is our go-to."

Again, it all comes down to finishing games, Saar said.

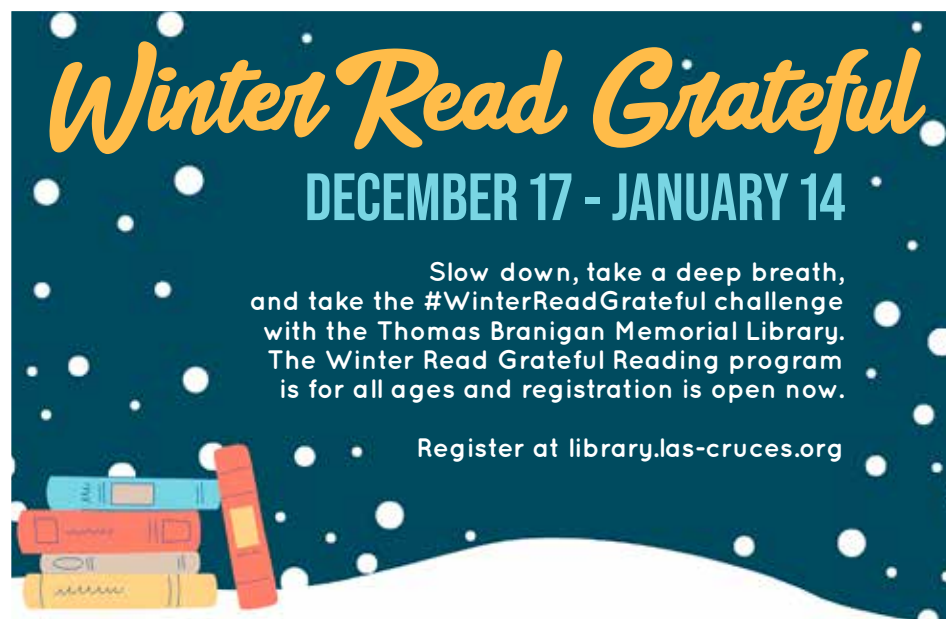

"We need to close out games and play for a whole four quarters, instead of three or 3 1/2," she said. "We are doing a lot of good things, but if we don't finish, it won't be enough."

The Aggie women will host SAGU American Indian College at 2 p.m. Tuesday, Dec. 28, in their final tune-up before WAC play.

Their scheduled Dec. 21 home game against Houston Baptist was canceled because of positive Covid-19 tests in the HBU program. The game will be rescheduled during the 2022-23 season.

The Aggies will then host Seattle U at 6 p.m. Thursday, Dec. 30 in the Pan American in their conference opener and then travel to Chicago State for a noon game Saturday, Jan. 1.
