Teen Dating Violence Awareness And Prevention Month

Pictured: Shannon Reynolds, Doña Ana County District 3 Commissioner and Jessica Romero, Community Organizer for LC3 Behavioral Health Collaborative

The Doña Ana County Board of Commissioners proclaimed February as National Teen Dating Violence Awareness and Prevention Month. 1 in 3 high school students have been, or will be, involved in an abusive relationship, and according to the 2019 New Mexico Youth Risk and Resiliency Survey, 8.2% of students, grades 9 through 12, in Doña Ana County have experienced physical dating violence and 9.6% have been sexually assaulted.

Both teen girls and boys report that they have been physically or sexually abused by a dating partner, and it affects all youth regardless of socioeconomic status, gender, sexual orientation, religion, or ethnicity. Teens who suffer dating abuse are subject to long-term consequences such as substance use, eating disorders, suicidal ideation, depression, anxiety, and violent behavior. Reports also show that teens who have encountered abusive relationships are reluctant to seek help in fear of retaliation from their partner, shame, low self-esteem, and/or lack of resources.

By providing teens with education about healthy relationships, by promoting safe and respectful relationships, and by changing attitudes that support violence, we recognize that dating violence can be prevented.

Teen dating violence is an issue that not only affects the teen who is abused but also their family, friends, and others in their community. We must work together to prevent and help our youth overcome abusive relationships.

The Doña Ana County Board of Commissioners does hereby proclaim the month of February as Teen Dating Violence Awareness and Prevention Month.

City council to vote on country club rezoning

By MIKE COOK

Las Cruces Bulletin

The Las Cruces City Council will vote March 7 on an ordinance approving zone changes on 75 acres of land known as the former Las Cruces Country Club property.

If approved, the ordinance will change the property's zoning from R-1A (single-family medium density) to multiple zones, including commercial, residential and open space, in seven planning areas within the property, which is located at the intersection of Solano Drive and Main Street.

The property is owned by Omaha, Nebraska-based Tetrad Property Group, which is requesting the zone changes so it can begin development. The property, which includes part of the country club golf course that opened in 1928, is currently unimproved except for the country club building that was designed by El Paso architect Henry Trost in the 1920s. It does not include Three Crosses Regional Hospital, which was developed separately.

In July 2018, the city council adopted the Apodaca Blueprint (ABP), which city staff developed as "a guiding land use and development plan" for the property, according to city documents.

The ordinance includes several conditions for approval placed on the proposed zoning changes by city staff "to ensure that the key development attributes in the plan (ABP) are being met," the city said.

At its Dec. 28, 2021, meeting, the city Planning and Zoning Commission (P&Z) voted unanimously to approve the proposed zone changes. P&Z Chair Harvey Gordon said he voted yes "based on Elevate Las Cruces (the city's master plan for development), staff discussion, the presentation (at the P&Z meeting), and I have seen this property vacant for quite a long time and I'll be very happy to see it developed."

The president of a neighborhood association east of the property proposed for development, however, said the ordinance should not be approved by the city council because it "significantly deviates from the blueprint."

Country Club Neighborhood Association President Eva Nevarez St. John said she does not oppose development of the property, but it should "follow the blueprint as closely as possible."

The city paid a consultant to create the blueprint and included a lot of public input in the process, St. John said, so any development plan it approves should be "consistent with the blueprint to benefit neighborhoods and community taxpayers."

St. John said she is particularly concerned that the proposed rezoning will significantly increase the area's population density and traffic volume and reduce open space.

"We recognize that there has been significant investment from the community in terms of input into the master plan, as well as taxpayer dollars spent to be able to go through that process to create this plan," Tetrad representative Cassie Paben said at the P&Z meeting. Master plans Friday, Feb. 25 marked one year since Las Cruces Public Schools lost its leader and superintendent, Dr. Karen Trujillo. In a year's time, LCPS has mourned her death while welcoming new leaders, two new members to the board of education and a full re-entry to the classroom after Trujillo navigated the entire district into remote learning.

"She was a friend and a trusted leader, but above all, she was my mentor," said LCPS Superintendent Ralph Ramos. "I try to lead our district every day as she would have wanted — with deep respect for the families and communities that support our students."

Ramos was named interim superintendent by the LCPS board March 2, 2021, after an emergency meeting was called. On June 2, the board voted to retain Ramos permanently.

Trujillo, 50, died after being hit by a vehicle as she was walking with her dogs in her north Las Cruces neighborhood. During her tenure, she led LCPS through a cyber attack that crippled the district's Internet access and then spearheaded a plan to teach, feed and support students when the Covid-19 pandemic shuttered classrooms.

“Karen was passionate about education,” said Deputy Superintendent of Teaching and Learning Wendi Miller-Tomlinson, Ph.D., a trusted adviser to Trujillo. “She was a tireless advocate for students. She listened to them, and she made sure that their voice was heard.”

Shortly after her passing, board Vice President Teresa Tenorio made a motion to name the LCPS administration building in her honor. The motion passed unanimously, and on Sept. 25, the Dr. Karen M. Trujillo Administration Complex was formally dedicated. The day marked what would have been Trujillo’s 51st birthday.

“One of the things I live with in her honor is what Karen stood for,” said LCPS Board President Ray Jaramillo. “Her work was making sound decisions for the betterment of our students and our district, and that is the work I continue to do in my professional capacity and in my public service to LCPS. Just as she signed off on each email message, we work in service to the children and educators of Las Cruces.”

Trujillo is survived by her husband, Ben, their three children and her parents, Gilbert and Berna Apodaca. Together, her family has raised hundreds of thousands of dollars in scholarship funds for future educators in New Mexico. Trujillo’s husband and oldest daughter, Taralyn, were scheduled to be in Albuquerque Feb. 25 for the Educators Rising conference. The grassroots effort cultivates future educators from secondary high school and college, providing mentorship opportunities and funding sources to help the teachers of tomorrow get through college today. The Educators Rising chapter at NMSU was founded by Trujillo.

According to Trujillo’s husband, $206,164.97 has been raised for the NMSU endowment that bears her name. The Dr. Karen M. Trujillo Memorial Golf Scramble that held its inaugural event last Sept. 24 raised approximately $98,000, part of which is included with the NMSU endowment.

Here's Johnny! McCants bids adieu to Pan Am

To see him lope down the court, with his unruly beard, and his long hair restrained slightly by a headband, brings to mind the rock guitar legend Jimi Hendrix.

Like Hendrix, New Mexico State University basketball player Johnny McCants is innovative, fun to watch and filled with energy and enthusiasm. McCants won't light a guitar on fire, but he'll frequently set Aggie fans ablaze.

Saturday night, March 5, will be your last chance to see McCants play in the Pan American Center.

Not surprisingly, the 6-7 McCants has been a fan favorite since his freshman year, the local kid who's been a key contributor for the Aggies since the 2017-2018 season. McCants played his high school ball at Oñate High School.

During this, his senior season, McCants joined the Aggies'

1,000-point career scoring club, and surpassed 600 career rebounds.

Statistics, though, are not what has made McCants such a hit with the fans.

At least once a game, you can count on the following from McCants: drawing a charging foul from an opponent, skying for a thunderous dunk — often an alley oop from a teammate — and blocking a shot.

In fact, McCants leads the Western Athletic Conference in blocks, averaging 1.6 per game.

All three of those — the charge, the dunk, the block — bring fans out of their seats. Two of them — the charge and the block — happen on the defensive end, and big defensive plays tend to be momentum changers.

Even when he's on the bench, McCants is an inspiration. He's constantly encouraging his teammates. Whether it's a guy who only plays occasionally, or one of his fellow starters, McCants is offering upbeat words and actions. He'll also motion to the fans to get up and cheer at key moments.

McCants is always fully involved and having fun.

Of course, nothing ever got the Pan Am crowd and Aggie players as excited as what McCants did in January 2019.

If you're familiar with Aggie basketball, you know whenever we play Grand Canyon University, based in Phoenix, the Antelopes bring a busload of boisterous, purple-clad fans to cheer their team. That was the case Jan. 10, 2019, when they filled an entire Pan Am section. The game was close throughout, and fans on both sides were vocal.

But with 3.3 seconds left in the game, the GCU fans were loudest, as their team held a 75-74 lead and looked to be leaving town with a victory.

The dejected and silent Aggie fans watched as a Grand Canyon player stood at the free-throw line hoping to pad the lead.

But the shot bounced off the rim in the direction of McCants. He rebounded the ball about 80 feet from the Aggies' basket, took three dribbles and launched a shot from beyond half court. All the fans in the building held their breath as the ball floated and hung seemingly forever before it punched into the basket for three points at the buzzer, giving NMSU a 77-75 victory.

The silence lasted another half a beat while Aggie fans processed what just happened.

Then everyone went totally nuts, especially the NMSU players who all made a beeline directly to McCants, mobbing him in jubilation.

After I finished my own cheering, I looked to the GCU section. Not a single Antelope fan was left. They must have set some sort of record getting out of the

Let's go back to the basics on city spending

The inability of the Las Cruces City Council to allocate federal relief funding in a way that is fair, efficient and transparent is concerning, not only for the more than $10 million now in limbo but also for the future millions that will be coming our way as a result of federal bills for both pandemic relief and infrastructure.

Last week, the City Council put the brakes on plans to distribute $10.37 million it has received through the American Rescue Plan Act. And, as I write this, there is no agreement on how to move forward.

The disagreement concerns the process for allocating the money. City Manager Ifo Pili argues that, because these are federal funds, the city is not required to follow its procurement code. He said they used a "hybrid" version of that code.

The McHard Accounting Firm, which uncovered serious alleged violations and abuses in its probe of the city's Visit Las Cruces operations, disagrees.

The procurement code was created to combat favoritism and corruption in spending government money. Beyond the legal question of can we circumvent the code is the larger and more important question of should we. How is the taxpayer better served by not having those controls in place?

The city's handling of this has left everybody frustrated. The nine projects originally selected for funding are all worthy. The mess that has ensued, resulting in their loss of funding, should in no way be seen as a reflection on them.

The problem is that other projects that were also worthy were disqualified for reasons that city staff cannot clearly explain. Whatever hybrid they came up with didn't work.

The City Council needs to go back to the basics. Stick to the

LETTER TO THE EDITOR

Reader points out benefits to Las Cruces airport

In the 14 January Bulletin, Eric-Helge Sorensen decried how our airport might grow and become “a noise-producing bane.” He called those who support our city’s general aviation airport a “miniscule-miniscule statistically insignificant number of folks.”

The airport was constructed during WWII as an auxiliary to support the Army Air Force bombardier training at Deming Field (long before any housing development near our airport). After WWII, the military released the airport for civilian use. Today it is a lifeline for residents of Las Cruces and significant as a regional general aviation airport, part of the U.S. national air transportation system.

Our airport is home to over 120 business and private aircraft, supports 16 aviation-related businesses and seven non-profit organizations. They employ more than 83 full-time personnel (and several part-time workers). Sorensen believes most residents are against aircraft flying into Las Cruces. The question is: How is the airport so valuable to Las Cruces?

Most of us use banks and shop in retail stores. Several are branches of state, regional or national corporations which fly into Las Cruces monthly to support their businesses. Covid-19 has brought many medical facilities to the brink of capacity. People need emergency medical treatment every day and aerial medical evacuations allow patients to be transported quickly and safely to where proper emergency care can be provided. Our airport supports 4 to 6 medical evacuation flights every day. The largest business on the field with 19 professionals is the air ambulance service. State government officials conducting business here use our airport. Border security patrols fly from here. Military and cross-country transient planes stop here for refueling and food.

Our airport is not and never will be a noisy nuisance but an essential economic, transportation, and medical necessity for which everyone benefits.

procurement code and develop a transparent scoring system that seeks to ensure the money will go to those most in need, and will have the greatest impact. And, be absolutely certain that all federal guidelines for the money are followed to the letter. Any lapses there could result in our having to pay the money back.

There will still be winners and losers. Ten million dollars is a lot of money, but not nearly enough to address all of the needs of our community. Some groups will still be left out.

But, if we have a process that is fair and transparent, we will be well served, not only as we look to spend the $10.37 million we have now, but also the additional money that is working its way through the system.

Little Black Dress helps literacy efforts

BULLETIN REPORT

The Junior League of Las Cruces (JLLC) is back again raising awareness about childhood literacy in New Mexico and raising funds to help combat those rates during their third annual Little Black Dress Initiative (LBDI) March 7-11, the league said in a news release.

JLLC’s goal is to give every student in Doña Ana County a book of his or her own.

The league said only one in 300 low-income students has a book of their own at home, so having a single book “can be life-changing.”

This initiative is funded through money raised through LBDI.

LBDI is a social media-driven awareness and online fundraising campaign during which community advocates wear the same black outfit for five days in a row with a button that says “Ask me about my dress.”

To donate, visit jllc.org or JLLC’s Facebook page, or mail a check to Junior League of Las Cruces, P.O. Box 342, Las Cruces, N.M. 88004.

“are a basis to start development from,” Paben said. “They can have some fluidity to them, although they should be adhered to for the most part. What we’re proposing actually matches what’s in the blueprint.”

City Senior Planner Katherine Harrison-Rogers said city staff worked with Tetrad on a development plan to “meet the strategies and goals outlined in ABP.” The proposed ordinance “meets the intent of APB,” she said.

City councilors will have the option to approve the ordinance, direct staff to revise it or reject it outright, Harrison-Rogers said. If the ordinance is approved, staff will “monitor development as it proceeds,” she said.

husband, Michael Chapman, in Cloudcroft, New Mexico. They married in Alamogordo in September 1978, then moved to Tulsa, Oklahoma, shortly thereafter with Gloria's daughters, Monica and Melissa. Gloria and Mike had one son together, David Chapman, born January 1980.

Gloria was an active member of St. Bernard's Catholic Church in Tulsa. She worked for American Airlines and, later, the Union School System in Tulsa. Gloria loved to sew and decorate, and she was quite talented at both. She was also a great cook, whipping up wonderful dinners and baking delicious desserts.

In May 2021, the Chapmans returned to New Mexico and settled in Las Cruces, where Gloria attended St. Genevieve Catholic Church. Gloria is survived by her husband, Michael Chapman; three children, Monica Kekuewa, Melissa Tierney-Jones (and husband, Kieron Tierney-Jones) and David Chapman; three grandchildren: Jessica Grisak, Avalon Coltharp and Jake Chapman; one great-grandchild, Elliot Grisak; three sisters, Isabel Johnson of Alamogordo, Sarah Fina Liston of Albuquerque, and Rachel Rose of League City, Texas; nieces Ana Weiland, Denise Ullibarri, Diana Liston, Antoinette Montoya and Amber Macias-Mayo; and one nephew, David Macias.

She was preceded in death by her parents and her nephew, Arthur Macias. Gloria will be remembered for her love of her family and her giving nature. A funeral at St. Jude Catholic Parish and burial at Monte Vista Cemetery took place in Alamogordo March 1.

The family wishes to thank Getz Funeral Home in Las Cruces; St. Jude Catholic Parish in Alamogordo; Mountain View Regional Medical Center in Las Cruces; the Hospitals of Providence-Sierra in El Paso; and the Rehabilitation Hospital of Southern New Mexico in Las Cruces.

Even small projects such as planting a tree or installing fence posts can be very dangerous if you do not know what utilities are buried around your dig site. Whether you are a professional excavator or homeowner, you can be fined AND held financially responsible for repair costs to damaged utilities when 811 is not called. How it works:

1. Use white spray paint and/or white marker flags to mark the ground where you plan to dig.
2. Call 811 two business days before beginning your project and they will alert all of the local utilities to respond to your dig site and mark where the utility lines are buried. Utility companies will have two days, once notified, to respond to your dig site.
3. Once utilities are marked, you must adhere to the "18 inch" rule, which is no mechanical digging (tractor, auger, etc.) within 18 inches of the utility markings. If you must dig within 18 inches of a utility marking, it has to be hand dug or vacuum excavated.
4. Once all of the utilities have been marked, you will have 15 days to complete your digging project. If your project is not complete in that time frame, you must call 811 again.

Film festival goes live this week, features intimate work

By ELVA K. ÖSTERREICH

Las Cruces Bulletin

After two years of introspection, filmmakers have put the Covid experience to work for them by addressing some very emotional but widespread issues.

As filmmaker Katie Boland said, she developed her script for "We Are All Together," with the belief that something this personal is universal.

Boland's is not the only film in the Las Cruces International Film Festival exploring the idea that personal stories can connect with a vast audience.

Many of the participants have chosen the same theme.

Executive director of the festival, Ross Marks, said because of Covid, everyone became isolated and alone in their own ways.

"Communal challenges became internal challenges," he said. "We were turning to ourselves for reflection, value and meaning. All these scripts and stories are really Covid stories. They came out of that period of time and that was about Covid and isolation and turning inward."

Saturday will be an exciting day for the festival, Marks said. With a variety of different things happening in the festival.

"I'm always excited about the 48 hours film contest; we had 60 to 70 team this year," he said. "The films will be screening in two theaters, and the winners get cash."

Also happening on Saturday, Marks said, there will be an open casting call for Las Cruces. Anyone interested in being in the Film Las Cruces data base can attend and get screen tests.

Finally, Saturday evening the awards ceremony is set to happen at the Rio Grande Theater Downtown. All the other events for the festival occur at the Allen Theaters Cineplex at the mall. On Sunday, all the winning films will be shown.

"Things are going really well this year," Marks said. "Our ticket sales are highest they have ever been in seven years. People ready to get out and participate in things."

The Las Cruces International Film Festival is taking place March 2-6, live and in-person at the Allen Theatres Cineport. Tickets are available at www.lascrucesfilmfest.com.

That pre-Covid 2019 Aggie team was the last

Jans team to compete in the NCAA tournament, and almost upset Southeastern Conference power Auburn in the first round, falling 77-78.

As of this writing, the Aggies are 23-5 and 13-3 in conference play with two tough home games remaining. Then they must navigate the WAC tourney in Las Vegas, needing to win the tournament to make it back to the NCAAAs.

The regular season finale Saturday, March 5, in the Pan Am, which tips off at 7 p.m., will be Senior Night for McCants and fellow Aggie veterans Clayton Henry and Donnie Tillman. They, and all the Aggies, could use a big crowd to help them to victory and go into the post-season on a high note.

While I can't guarantee McCants will win the game with a 50-footer, I can guarantee he'll do a few things to give his teammates and many fans something to cheer.

Memory care program's newest staff member has four legs, a tail

By MIKE COOK
Las Cruces Bulletin

Tusk has become the newest staff member at the Village at Northrise (VaN) Memory Support Program.

The 5- to 6-year-old lab mix became the program's new emotional support animal ("resident dog") just before the start of the new year, replacing Mattie, who had retired after seven years on the job.

Tusk was being fostered from the Animal Service Center of the Mesilla Valley by Starr "Foster" Schneider when the program's resident care director, Bonnie Zeiler, met him for the first time Dec. 27.

"It was an instant hit," said Zeiler, who adopted Tusk the next day and took him to VaN. "We didn't look at any other dogs," she said. "His eyes just told me he was the one."

Tusk had been at ASCMV for about four months before being fostered by Schneider, Zeiler said.

Because of the enforced isolation of the pandemic, he was really missing people before he was fostered and then adopted, she said.

VaN's 20 memory care program residents and staff have fallen in love with the sweet-tempered and intelligent dog, who doesn't bite, jump or bark.

Tusk has two beds at VaN, including one in Zeiler's office, where he stays during residents' mealtimes. Otherwise, with residents sharing food with him in addition to his regular meals, Tusk "would be as big as a bus," Zeiler said.

Throughout the day, Tusk follows the staff around, visiting residents.

"He goes from room to room," Zeiler said, often helping to get residents up first thing in the morning.

"It makes such a difference to our residents," Zeiler said. "It's helpful for everybody, especially people with dementia. It helps to bring a little normalcy to their day," she said.

He's also very popular with residents' loved ones and other visitors to the center, Zeiler said.

"It blesses the residents and their families," Zeiler said. "He gets a lot of love. It's really a benefit for all of us."

The center's certified medication aide, Cory Fantino (her mother is Mattie's new owner), walks Tusk every evening, and even comes in on Saturdays to walk him.

"He's living his best life here," Fantino said.

Tusk is the third resident dog at the center, following a French poodle named Fluffy and Mattie, who is a Havanese poodle. There also have been two cats in residence, said Zeiler, who has been with VaN for 11 years.

Village at Northrise tops in nation in money raised for Alzheimer's

BULLETIN REPORT

The Village at Northrise (VaN) raised more than $18,000 for the Alzheimer's Association's Walk to End Alzheimer's, VaN said in a news release, as more than 35 participants from VaN — the Genesis Striders — joined the walk last September in Las Cruces.

VaN raised the most money for the walk of any of the 250 Genesis HealthCare centers nationwide.

In 2021, Genesis HealthCare raised approximately $100,000 company-wide and has continued to add to its lifetime achievement total of $1 million-plus in support of the walk, VaN said.

"As the team captain for Genesis Striders from Northrise for the last 11 years, it has been amazing to expand and increase our fundraising efforts despite being in the middle of a pandemic," said VaN's Bonnie Zeiler.

More than 6 million Americans are living with Alzheimer's disease — a leading cause of death in the United States, the news release said. Additionally, more than 11 million family members and friends provide care to people with Alzheimer's and other dementias.

Genesis HealthCare is a holding company with subsidiaries that comprise one of the nation's largest post-acute care companies, providing services to skilled nursing facilities and assisted/senior living communities in 22 states.

The Walk to End Alzheimer's, begun in 1989, is the world's largest event to raise awareness and funds for Alzheimer care, support and research.

Murdoch Mysteries

In the conclusion of the two-part story "The Things We Do for Love," Detective William Murdoch (Yannick Bisson) realizes that Harry (guest star Etienne Kellici), the young son he only recently learned about, is in grave peril unless he intercedes with the dangerous characters who are pursuing the lad. With few options available, Murdoch reluctantly makes a risky deal with a henchman from the sinister Black Hand organization. Helene Joy, Thomas Craig and Jonny Harris also star.

Movie: Stolen by Their Father

Adapted from Lizbeth Meredith's memoir "Pieces of Me: Rescuing My Kidnapped Daughters," this new docudrama stars Sarah Drew ("Grey's Anatomy") as Meredith, who reluctantly allows her two young daughters to spend a non-custodial visit with their father (Kimonas Kouris). A few days later, she discovers her abusive ex-husband has kidnapped the girls and spirited them away to Greece. Lizbeth spends the next two years desperately searching for her daughters, despite dire threats from her ex.

Movie: F9 The Fast Saga

"Fast & Furious" action franchise veteran Justin Lin returned to the helm of this 2021 installment, which he also co-wrote with Daniel Casey. The story finds Vin Diesel reprising his familiar role as former criminal turned street racer Dominic Toretto, who comes out of retirement to stop a nefarious plot with grave global implications that is headed by Dom's younger brother Jakob (John Cena). Jordana Brewster, Michelle Rodriguez, Lucas Black, Helen Mirren and Charlize Theron also return in their roles from earlier "Fast" films.

World's Funniest Animals

Host Elizabeth Stanton welcomes actor Jayson Blair ("Good Trouble") as her special guest for a new episode that features clips of such animals as perplexed penguins, outlandish owls, leering lizards, a Husky who enjoys playing hide-and-seek and another dog who has made a new playmate out of the neighbor on the other side of a fence. Among the other humans offering commentary are Brian Cooper, Noah Matthews, Mikalah Gordon and Carmen Hodgson.

Movie: The Green Knight

Writer-director David Lowery received widespread acclaim for this epic 2021 medieval fantasy, which both honors and deconstructs the classic 14th-century poem "Sir Gawain and the Green Knight." Set in the England of King Arthur's reign, the film stars Dev Patel as Sir Gawain, who takes up a challenge posed by another knight of mysterious origin. Alicia Vikander, Joel Edgerton, Sarita Choudhury, Sean Harris and Ralph Ineson co-star in the film, which employs a haunting, dreamlike style.

tonight's picks

Kandi Burruss-Tucker

6 p.m. on HALL
When Calls the Heart

Less than a year after the previous season premiered in May 2021, Season 9 of the heartfelt family drama takes fans back to the aptly named Hope Valley, which finds the community in a state of growth, with business at the foundry steadily growing and several key relationships moving to new levels. Among them, Elizabeth (Erin Krakow) has decided her romantic future lies with Lucas (Chris McNally), not Nathan (Kevin McGarry), although she's about to learn some things about his past that could raise some doubts.

6 p.m. on LIFE
Movie: If Walls Could Talk

Moving back home after the death of her father, grief-stricken Olivia Garland becomes concerned about the mental state of her mother, Rebecca, after the older woman insists there's a ghost in her house. After Rebecca breaks her hip, Olivia hires Jake Winters, a home health worker, to assist with her care. Jake works with such patience and warmth that Olivia begins to think he's too good to be true. Margo Eve Parker, Conner Floyd and Nicole Danielle Watts star in this 2022 thriller.

7 p.m. on BRAVO
Kandi & The Gang

At Kandi Burruss-Tucker's OLG restaurant in Atlanta, the dishes never disappoint and neither does the drama. This new reality series follows Kandi ("The Real Housewives of Atlanta"), her husband Todd and the "Old Lady Gang" behind the scenes at their famed hot spot, where they dish up delicious soul food that has customers lining up, served by the colorful cast of characters who work there.

7 p.m. on STARZ
Outlander

Claire and Jamie (Caitriona Balfe, Sam Heughan) continue their fight to protect those they love while the threat of the Revolutionary War hangs over Fraser's Ridge as Season 6 of this romantic fantasy opens. The couple hopes to maintain peace and flourish in a society that — as Claire knows all too well from her time-traveling perspective — is marching toward revolution. Accordingly, their community becomes riven by strife, raising the question of what to do when the home you've created treats you like an outsider.

8 p.m. on KDBC
NCIS: Los Angeles

After a civilian scientist working with the Marines is murdered and her advanced radar technology stolen, Callen, Sam (Chris O'Donnell, LL Cool J) and the rest of the team spring into action to catch the culprit and recover the sensitive equipment in a new episode called "Where Loyalties Lie." Linda Hunt, Daniela Ruah, Eric Christian Olsen and Gerald McRaney also star; Anthony Alabi, J. Anthony Pena and James Martin Kelly guest star.

8:21 p.m. on STARZ
Shining Vale

Courteney Cox ("Friends," "Cougar Town") returns to series TV in this promising new supernatural comedy, which casts her as novelist Pat Phelps, who just moved with her husband, Terry (Greg Kinnear), and their two kids to the Connecticut village of the title. This change is Pat's last-ditch attempt to save her marriage after her ill-advised affair with a hot handyman. Unfortunately, their newly acquired 200-year-old home has a history that includes a triple homicide and a resident ghost (Mira Sorvino).

9 p.m. on KTSM
Transplant

This Canadian import, a medical drama about a gifted Syrian doctor (Hamza Haq) who flees his war-torn homeland seeking to make a new life in Canada, returns for its sophomore season after a successful Stateside launch in 2020. The action resumes with Dr. Bashir "Bash" Hamed (Haq) and his hospital colleagues still reeling after a stroke fells his mentor, Dr. Jed Bishop (John Hannah). As the medical team adjusts to new arrivals, Bash's new life once again feels precarious.

This new sitcom from "Superstore" creator Justin Spitzer drew strong praise from critics, but is still trying to find the audience it deserves. With hopes for a second season still up in the air, this wickedly funny workplace comedy wraps its freshman season with "Profile," which finds the Payne Motors team scrambling to do pre-emptive damage control as their gaffe-prone boss, Katherine (Ana Gasteyer), films a segment for a TV newsmagazine. Harriet Dyer, Michael Benjamin Washington, Tye White, Humphrey Ker and Jon Barinholtz also star.

Grand Crew

This new vino-centric NBC sitcom closes out its freshman season with a finale called "Wine & Art," which finds Wyatt (Justin Cunningham) asking Sherm (Carl Tart) to sit as his subject after the former unexpectedly gets into an art show. Meanwhile, Nicky (Nicole Byer) has some advice for Noah (Echo Kellum), who can't sense whether Simone (Ashleigh Morghan) is ready to take another step in their relationship.

Vanessa Lachey, Kandi Burruss and Jim Jefferies join host

Ken Jeong and regular panelists Cheryl Hines and Adrienne Houghton for the season finale of this offbeat game show, in which a panel of celebrity detectives try to help a contestant tell whether a singer is good or bad, without ever hearing them sing a note. Tonight's contestant is Elymagda Gonzalez of Puerto Rico, who hopes to use any winnings to buy a home for her son and herself, as well as helping out her parents.

No Retreat: Business Bootcamp

Joe De Sena, a former Wall Street broker turned "serial entrepreneur," hosts this new reality series, which challenges managers from struggling businesses to participate in a series of mental and physical tasks at an elite training facility known as "The Farm," in the mountains of Vermont. Drawn in part from ancient Spartan military philosophy, these challenges promise to show each business team how to reach its full potential in facing the future. Working with De Sena are Dr. Lara Pence, a clinical psychologist and performance coach, and growth marketer QuHarrison Terry.

Deep Fried Dynasty

Since 1886, the State Fair of Texas has drawn huge crowds each fall, apart from hiatuses during periods of war or pandemic. The event has a staggering array of attractions, but one of the main things that keeps visitors coming back is the food. This new docu-series spotlights some of the big personalities and grease-soaked geniuses who bank on turning deep-fried delicacies into major profits. Family-run small businesses are behind such sinfully delicious treats as Deep Fried Butter, Crispy Crazy Corn, Fried S'Mores and Toffee Coffee Crunch Cake. Another episode follows.

9 p.m. on KDBC
FBI: Most Wanted

Julian McMahon bids farewell to the criminal procedural he has led for three seasons with his last appearance as Supervisory Special Agent Jess LaCroix in the new episode "Shattered," which finds Jess and his team trying to save a woman fleeing an abusive relationship. Her ex-boyfriend didn't take that decision very well, embarking on a murderous spree as he pursues his fugitive lover. McMahon startled fans of this series in January with his announcement to leave the show to pursue other opportunities.

9:01 p.m. on KTSM
The Thing About Pam

Renée Zellweger makes her network television debut in the title role of this new limited series, on which she also serves as an executive producer. The story chronicles the true-crime saga of Betsy Faria's (Katy Mixon, "American Housewife") brutal 2011 murder, a crime for which her husband, Russ (Glenn Fleshler), initially was convicted. That conviction eventually was overturned, however, as a chain of events exposed a diabolical scheme involving a criminal, Pam Hupp (Zellweger).

10-4: An affirmative step to fight crime, connect businesses and the police

By DEBBI MOORE
GLCCC CEO/President

The Greater Las Cruces Chamber of Commerce’s newest program is called “10-4,” which means “affirmative” in law enforcement language. For the chamber, it is one of the most important initiatives we have ever undertaken. For the community, it is a way to recognize and honor the officers and cadets of the Las Cruces Police Department and to help businesses, neighborhoods and residents reach out to their community police officers and reduce crime in Las Cruces.

“With the 10-4 program, we are creating and expanding relationships between our businesses and police officers and expressing goodwill and appreciation to those officers for their service,” says Heather Salopek, Vice Chair of the Building Community Sector. “We plan to build on existing neighborhood watch programs that are already successful through our community, and to help create even more of these programs.”

As with many programs of the Chamber, collaboration with partners will be essential to 10-4’s success. After an initial conversation(s) with Police Chief Miguel Dominguez, City Manager Ifo Pili, Mayor Pro Tempore Kasandra Gandara, Vice-Chair Salopek and the Board of Directors, this program was birthed. Along our side will be many other organizations in our community who will join us in continued organization and coordination of this new program. It is our intent to learn from other organizations that already have many elements of 10-4 in place.

Here is a comment from Mayor Pro Tempore Kasandra Gandara: “This is a positive step in involving the business community in showing our law enforcement community support. It is a way to build strong relationships with our community police officers and community businesses. I thank Debbi and her leadership for their willingness to partner with the city and I.”

We’re taking a strong influencer role in hard conversations about crime, about homeless, about how

FROM THE GLCCC CHAIR

Our region offers unique opportunities

By CRAIG BUCHANAN

GLCCC Chair

I was fortunate to attend the U.S.-Mexico Summit recently in El Paso which was sponsored by The Borderplex Alliance. Listening to the various presentations reminded me that we live in a region that certainly has issues to resolve, but that is also home to enormous resources and plentiful opportunity.

One of the sessions focused on presentations from a group of site selectors for companies seeking locations for either relocation or expansion opportunities. The thing that stuck with me from this particular session was the notion that a community needs to be able to communicate its business proposition to a company looking to relocate or expand to a new area. This part of the discussion centered on the idea of explaining what sets our community apart from all of the other available options. The panelists reiterated that they already have access to statistical data for the communities chosen for consideration. They need to understand the community at a deeper level than is available from a search of internet sites to help decide where to invest the company resources for the future.

I think this concept of understanding and communicating the business proposition for our community is critical for not only large companies looking to make multi-million dollar investments, but also for small business owners and local entrepreneurs seeking the best place to invest their time and resources to have a successful business. Many wonderful people have chosen to invest time and resources to build businesses in Las Cruces and Doña Ana County. As we look to retain and grow existing businesses and attract new business to the community, we need to stay mindful of our community's business proposition for future growth. There are certainly strengths and weaknesses, and the various community statistics are readily available. What information would we offer to dispel a common misconception of our community? What would we want to communicate to sway investment to stay in our community or come to our community when compared to others with similar statistical attributes?

I was reminded this week of our need to be able to collectively present a compelling case for our community as a great place for business to invest its resources of time and money. Our community is constantly in competition for other locations for the next investment. The Greater Las Cruces Chamber of Commerce is only one of many great organizations working to maximize the potential of the business community in our region. Let's all continue to work together to make Las Cruces and Doña Ana County a place where business thrives and stands out as the best choice for owners looking to invest their resources.

we can improve the quality of life in our community. We will have a formal launch for 10-4 in the near future and hope you will be able to join us then, but more importantly become involved in this initiative. It also will include seminars to help local businesses be safer and learn what to do if a crime occurs.

In the meantime, we are asking businesses to join 10-4 by "adopting" your community police officer(s) or other officers of the LCPD. Expression of appreciation, along with establishing strong relationships is essential to this part of 10-4. If you don't know who your community officer is, we would be happy to assist you with the information.

Once again, the Chamber is stepping up to coordinate the conversations to deal with challenges in our community. And, once again, we need your assistance to make it successful now and far into the future. This isn't a fundraising initiative, but active dialogue & plans of action. Want to get involved? Call us at 575-524-1968 or stop by our office at 150 East Lohman Avenue. The Chamber feels this is a very important step for our community. Thank you for your help and support. As always, we are #LASCRCESSTRONG; #LASCRCES 10-4.

“Pieces of Her”

A random act of violence sets off an unexpected chain of events for a Georgia woman and her mother, and she embarks on a dangerous cross-country journey that draws her toward the dark heart of her family in this thriller series.

Toni Collette, Bella Heathcote, Omari Hardwick and David Wenham head a solid cast. (ORIGINAL)

“Movie: Against the Ice”

In 1909, the crew of a Danish expedition to Greenland must deal with extreme hunger, fatigue and a polar bear attack, as well as a ship crushed by ice, in this adventure movie from director Peter Flinth (“Beatles”). Nikolaj Coster-Waldau, Joe Cole and Charles Dance head the cast. (ORIGINAL)

“Ms. Pat: Y’all Wanna Hear Something Crazy?”

The comic talks about growing up in Atlanta during the Reagan era, what she learned spending five days in juvenile detention and how her mom made her get baptized at local churches to get money, among other topics, in her first Netflix stand-up special, which was filmed this past September at the Atlanta Comedy Theater. (ORIGINAL)

In Focus

“Welcome to Flatch” (Fox — series premiere, March 17)

This new comedy from Paul Feig (“The Office”) and Jenny Bicks (“Sex and the City”) follows a documentary crew as it seeks to study the dreams and concerns of residents in a small American town: Flatch, a Midwestern community teeming with eccentric personalities. The ensemble cast is led by newcomer Chelsea Holmes and Sam Straley (“The Kids Are Alright”) as two of the locals, cousins and best friends Kelly and Lloyd “Shrub” Mallet; Seann William Scott, Aya Cash and Taylor Ortega also star.

movie review

BY JAY BOBBIN

‘Arthur’ still does the best that he can do

With certain movies, it takes just the right stars to make them really click.

A case in point is “Arthur,” the buoyant 1981 comedy that Turner Classic Movies shows Saturday, March 12. The fact that Dudley Moore owned the film was underscored by Russell Brand’s 2011 attempt at a remake; while that may have its fans, they’re undoubtedly outnumbered by those who appreciate the special qualities Moore brought to the title part of a New Yorker as irresponsible as he is wealthy.

Writer-director Steve Gordon custom-fit the part of Arthur Bach to Moore’s self-deprecating whimsy, with the perpetually tipsy millionaire picking up women from the back seat of his chauffeured Rolls-Royce. (“Are you a hooker?,” he asks one incredulously upon realizing her profession. “I just thought I was doing great with you!”)

Dudley Moore in “Arthur”

As content as Arthur might remain to stay ensconced in his world of bubble baths and toy trains, two things change him: his relationship with his stern manservant Hobson (John Gielgud, in a deservedly Oscar-winning performance), which takes an unexpected turn; and Arthur’s newfound affection for sassy waitress Linda (Liza Minnelli), who might inspire him not to go through with an arranged marriage ... which would be a turn his family would not want.

Season 6 opens with "Yardi Gras," set in New Orleans where the coronavirus pandemic has forced the cancellation of traditional parades with their attendant large crowds. In response, festive local residents have decorated their yards to reflect the spirit of this season. While the parades may be on hold, however, the same can't be said of emergencies, with the EMT crew responding to a collision between a personal vehicle and a streetcar, a house fire, a motorcycle accident and a patient who may be having a heart attack.

This freshman sitcom about three female friends further bonded by the death of a fourth wraps up the season with a finale called "Coleen in a Box," a reference to the dearly departed, whose birthday is approaching. In honor of that occasion, Amy, Sarah and Jodie (Eliza Coupe, Maggie Q, Ginnifer Goodwin) decide to table their individual personal issues to enjoy a girls' night out — with the late Coleen's cremated remains along for the ride.

“Movie: Little Miss Sunshine”

This 2006 comedy follows a family on the road to California and the title beauty competition, which the daughter (the wonderful Abigail Breslin) is eager to participate in. Numerous crises and complications arise en route, constantly putting the tempers of the rest of the clan — superbly played by Greg Kinnear, Toni Collette, Paul Dano, Steve Carell and Alan Arkin — to the test.

MADEA'S WITNESS PROTECTION

“Movie: Madea's Witness Protection”

Tyler Perry dons the guise of the sassy Madea again in this 2012 comedy that makes the title character's home the refuge of an investment banker (Eugene Levy) who's linked to mobsters through a Ponzi financial scheme. Denise Richards, Doris Roberts, Tom Arnold, John Amos and Marla Gibbs also appear — but as usual, Perry in disguise is the real show here.

“57th ACM Awards”

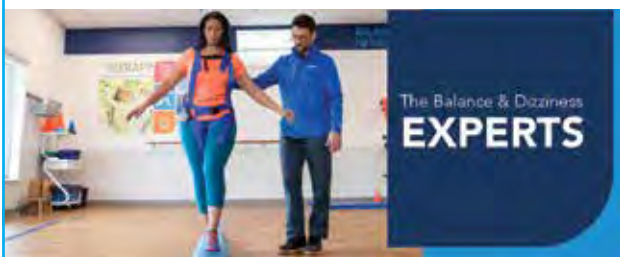

The year's top achievements in country music are honored in the annual festivities from Allegiant Stadium in Las Vegas, which include unusual collaborations, surprising moments and unprecedented world television premieres. This year's ceremony also marks the first time this show will be exclusively streamed live. (ORIGINAL)

Journey of faith becomes an award-winning film

By MIKE COOK

Las Cruces Bulletin

Camino de Santiago is a 500-mile pilgrimage across France and Spain that people have been making for a thousand years. It's also the title of an award-winning film that will be featured in the Las Cruces International Film Festival (LCIFF).

"Camino de Santiago Faith Walk with Kristin and Peter" is the story of Kristin Dickerson and Peter Fleisher, who left flourishing careers in Dallas in 2019 to walk the Camino, deal with the challenges they were facing individually and as a couple and rediscover their faith in God.

"We never thought it would be a film," Dickerson said. "We knew we were called to do it."

Entered into more than a dozen film festivals, "Camino" has won awards for best editing, best documentary and best in fest. LCIFF will be the first film festival featuring "Camino" that Dickerson and Fleisher have attended in person.

The movie will be shown at 4 p.m. Saturday, March 5, at the Allen Theatres Cineport.

Visit lascrucesfilmfest.com for more information.

Dickerson said the motivation to walk the Camino began in January 2019, when she was working as a TV reporter and anchor for the NBC affiliate in Dallas, where Fleisher was an Emmy-nominated drone pilot.

Dickerson said she knew her 15-year career "wasn't right." She was dealing with depression, and she and Fleisher were struggling in their 11-year marriage.

"Everything in our world was a mess," Dickerson said.

During a news broadcast, Dickerson said she "felt a very strong message in my soul that I'm doing this wrong." Then she and Fleisher "started getting signs to roam,"

Our Lady of the Boat church in Muxía, Spain, which was one of the landmarks along the Camino de Santiago.

Dickerson said, and decided to "leave a paycheck and just go on this odyssey in search of God."

Dickerson said her "biggest moment of transformation" came early on the trek.

On the fifth or sixth night, she said, "I had a dream that I was killed in a car wreck and I'm going through this great tunnel and its getting faster and faster and I arrive in this waiting room and it's all gray. And I'm kind of excited because I'm going to meet God."

The dream ended as the hand of God grabbed her and put her back in her life, Dickerson said. She and Fleisher were staying in a 13th-century church at the time, and she awoke to a recording of Bob Dylan singing "The Times They Are A-Changin'."

"I didn't know how much I needed to walk across a country until I walked across a country," Dickerson said.

For Dickerson and Fleisher, the journey was a transformation.

The couple "reprioritized everything and dug some stuff up," Fleisher said, during many "little moments of nourishing yourself."

They knew "the risks and the worry and the security and all the things we left behind," Dickerson said.

"At the end, we just felt so grounded and grateful for the small things that make life so worth living, spending time in nature and just slowing down," she said.

"We heard so many people say the real journey begins once your Camino's finished because now you return to your life, whatever that might look like and a different perspective," Dickerson said. "We put our entire heart and our lives into this movie and share everything. It's been a treat hearing from people and all the things they have taken away from it."

Film about family and mental illness part of festival slate

By ELVA K. ÖSTERREICH

Las Cruces Bulletin

When Canadian actor and filmmaker Katie Boland was presented with the Canadian best seller “We Are All in This Together,” she knew it was the project she had been looking for. The book addresses some mental illness in a family, beginning with the mother/grandmother, Kate, who took it upon herself to go over a waterfall in a barrel. She survives, landing in the hospital in a coma. When someone catches the event on a phone and it goes viral on social media, the family faces even more anguish.

Boland adapted the book into a screenplay, directed the movie and played the two main characters, adult twins.

“So much of this is very personal to me which is why the novel spoke to me,” she said. “There is a lot of mental illness in my family. I have had a lot of firsthand experience with people who had episodes, and had my own struggles with depression.”

Dedicating the film to her grandmother who had bipolar disorder, she said her grandmother was one of her heroines.

“She was bipolar at a time when there was no medication for a lot of her life and treatments were pretty barbaric,” Boland said.

Creating “We are All in this Together” gave her a way to talk about mental illness.

“I felt the characters were well rounded,” she said. “It shows how difficult it is sometimes to love someone who is struggling.”

The sisters Boland plays, Finn and Nicki, are very finely drawn, Boland said. That was very helpful when it came to portraying them. She said she worked extensively with hair, wardrobe and makeup to create these two different women so the viewer would know exactly which one was on screen at a time.

“Within myself, I had stopped drinking a year before we made the movie,” she said. “I thought of Finn as before and Nicki as how I was when I had just gone sober.”

In her publicity, Boland states, “I was funnier, and braver. I took more risks. I believed in myself,” about the process of making this film.

“Just by believing that I could direct the film and play twins, I found an audacity in myself — an empowerment,” she said. “Then when I did, I felt like other people around me did also.”

The book’s author, Amy Jones, was supportive and liked the movie, Boland said.

“We were able to go to a film festival together in Canada and got to watch it in an audience of people together,” she said. “That was one of the highlights of my life creatively.”

The film was shot in 16 days. Boland said while it was difficult directing and starring in the same film, she would do it all again.

“But there does come a point where you are editing your own face, that it makes me too crazy for words,” she said.

Boland is in post-production on her second foray as a feature film director for Lifetime Television. She also has a recurring role as an actress on the Apple and Disney + show “Five Days at Memorial” from Academy Award-winning John Ridley, alongside Vera Farmiga and Cherry Jones. As a writer, she has a television series in development with Ron Howard’s Imagine, Chernin Entertainment and several networks.

“We are all in this together” is screening at the Las Cruces International Film Festival at 11 a.m., Saturday, March 5.

The festival is taking place at Allen Theatres Cineport.

"It has been such a pleasure working with these talented actors as we work together to create this fun comedy for our audiences at LCCT," said Lewis, who starred in "A Christmas Carol," LCCT's one-man show last December. "Like all comedies, this play is about love, but since it is a contemporary comedy, love is sometimes scary, sometimes confusing, sometimes sexy and sometimes very funny."

"What is special about this particular group is that its origin is out of the 'Covid frustration,'" Kuyper said. "All performing artists were feeling bad during the days of the lockdown. 'Let's get together and play some music,' became 'Hey, this sounds pretty good! We should organize a concert.'"

Arts council kicks off next half century with return of arts fair

BULLETIN REPORT

The Doña Ana Arts Council (DAAC) is kicking off its second 50 years with a return of the Las Cruces Arts Fair after a one-year hiatus due to the pandemic, DAAC Executive Director Greg Smith said in a news release.

The Arts Fair will be open 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. on Saturday, March 5, and 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. on Sunday, March 6.

The 11th Arts Fair, at the Las Cruces Convention Center, 680 E. University Ave., will continue the DAAC tradition begun in 2010 at the urging of Sally and Glenn Cutter, Smith said.

Tickets are $10, with children under age 12 admitted free.

“Many familiar artists and some new ones will be part of the event this year, with booths situated in the main concourse and exhibit hall of the convention center,” he said.

Thousands have come to the event each of the 10 previous fairs, and Smith said he expects the convention center to be a safe environment for that to happen again this year in early March.

DAAC supports and promotes the arts as both part of a thriving creative economy and a source of community pride. DAAC board meetings are held the fourth Thursday of most months.

Green Bridge. Also near the bridge will be museum living history characters giving a talk on branding.

The Parade of Breeds cattle program is a staple of Cowboy Days. Livestock Manager Greg Ball brings each breed into the round pen to discuss its history and characteristics. The museum has seven different breeds of beef cattle. This popular program is 11 a.m. to noon and 2 to 3 p.m. Saturday.

Linda McDaniel of Alamogordo will be at FRHM with her herding dogs to demonstrate sheep herding at 10 a.m., noon and 3:30 p.m. Saturday.

Tensions in Ukraine highlight wisdom of our First Amendment

Editor's note: The situation in the Ukraine is a breaking news story and continues to develop.

We're all familiar with the First Amendment that was included in our Constitution to guarantee that there would be no establishment of a particular religion in the United States of America. The operant word is "particular." The founding fathers, by and large, stemmed from England, where the Anglican Church was the established religion. That meant that other expressions of Christianity were forbidden, not to mention other religions. The Toleration Act of 1689 softened this, so that "non-conformist" churches were allowed to exist, but their adherents were still frozen out of government and university positions. That is the backdrop for the writing of our First Amendment.

The First Amendment to our Constitution, however, does not mean that your faith should not influence your political positions. But that's an aside: the point is No Established Church, which is to say no collusion between church and state.

Fast forward to what's happening worldwide

GABRIEL ROCHELLE

Tales from the Cassock

these days and, especially, to the tensions and problems between Russia and Ukraine. Here, religion and politics have become seriously intertwined again. Ukraine has been independent for over three decades and is trying to forge a democracy on the fault line between Russia and Central and Western Europe. In 2018, the principal Orthodox Churches of Ukraine entered a new union (there are reasons why there were three, but that requires a long explanation) to form the Ukrainian Orthodox Church. It's no secret that the eastern Ukrainian churches, which includes those in Crimea, were a sizeable chunk of the Orthodox Church in terms of both numbers and commitment.

The Russian government together with the Russian Orthodox Church, which has been the established religion since the 11th century, opposed this move and did everything in their power to try to stop the merger, and that opposition has continued as military and ecclesiastical pressures. In recent weeks the patriarch of Moscow, head of the church, declared his intention to start new churches in Egypt and Turkey. The first is an attempt to bring pressure on the patriarch of Alexandria, Egypt, who has supported the fledgling Ukrainian Orthodox Church. The second is a direct attack upon the ecumenical patriarch in Istanbul, the titular head of the Orthodox Church worldwide. Russian governmental pressure has been exerted in recent years through the military annexation of Crimea (always a ping-pong ball in Russian diplomacy), which is the eastern part of Ukraine with a major port at Odessa on the Black Sea. Military action in Ukraine has also transpired in Kyiv in the Maidan Revolution of 2014. Standing in the shadows of these politico-religious machinations is American interest, which favors Ukraine as a bulwark against the Russian drive for territorial expansion.

As a priest in the Ukrainian Orthodox Church of the USA, although not ethnically Ukrainian myself, I am not an objective reporter. These events are not without reverberation in our national church. We have, literally, thousands of new members who have come to the US in the latest wave of migration, spurred in part by the frictions "back home."

Area wrestlers endure pain, early mornings to score big at state

Las Cruces High School senior wrestler Avery Atma is willing to pay the price for success in the sport he loves.

That means lots of early morning practices, making sure he makes weight and even enduring a ton of pain.

At the state wrestling championships Feb. 18-19 in Rio Rancho, Atma suffered a hairline fracture of the collarbone in the semifinals and a possible injured knee ligament in the final, but was able to persevere to win his third straight state championship.

State placers include: Aden Martinez, Kash Alley, Avery Atma, Elijah Ojas, Ryan Baca, Tye Barker, Izaiah Gonzalez, Tomas Herrera and Alyssa Sedillo. Not shown: Matt Franco.

He finished with a 31-0 record — his second straight undefeated season — and won the New Mexico state title at 126 pounds in the 5A competition.

“I took some Ibuprofen and put some Icy Hot on it (the shoulder),” Atma said. “That was my mentality — one more match. It was my third straight state championship on the line. It was like, ‘One more match to go do it.’”

Atma wasn’t the only standout from Doña Ana County.

The Bulldogs had another state champion — freshman Alyssa Sedillo in the girls at 100 pounds — and five others who finished in the top six.

Centennial High had a state champion — Tye Barker at 138 pounds in 5A — and one other state placer, while Gadsden High had a wrestler break into the top six.

Alyssa Sedillo took second last year in state as an eighth grader and was able to come home with the gold this year.

Las Cruces High coach Kevin Marks said Sedillo weighs just 90 pounds and has had to wrestle against heavier girls in her bracket.

Sedillo said the difference is her reliance on good technique.

Tye Barker of Centennial High won his second straight state title. Barker, a junior, finished at 38-1 on the season. He said his goal next year is to finish undefeated, beat everyone by pin and win a third straight state title.

Aden Martinez of Las Cruces High took third place at 113 pounds. He placed sixth at 120 last year but wrestled down in weight this year. Having to constantly cut weight kept him focused on his goals, he said.

Ryan Baca, a junior from Las Cruces High, took third place at 145 pounds. Baca was one match away from breaking into the top six last year.

Matt Franco and Elijah Ogas of Las Cruces High took fourth at 195 and sixth at 160, respectively. Marks said they both showed a great deal of unselfishness by wrestling up a weight class and allowing some younger teammates to get experience at state.

Playing good golf on windy days requires adjustment, lots of practice

It’s the windy season! Our heavy windy period, which mostly lasts through April, often causes damage to structures (e.g. roofs blown off), uprooting trees and means blowing dust and “brownouts.”

It’s a difficult time of year for us golfers. Afternoons are frequently typified by 10, 20 and 30 mph winds, with higher gusts. Golf courses are playable under windy conditions, but a 40 mph wind is too high for golf. Golf becomes unplayable when the ball begins to move from a stationary position on the putting surface. That said, here are a few tips for playing good golf on very windy days.

There are basically three wind conditions (and shots) we are concerned with: hitting into the wind, hitting down wind and hitting into a cross wind. Bear in mind that several variables include high wicked gusts, shifting wind directions and air density (i.e. humidity). The variation in the wind will be greater on hilly or mountain courses, and will be less on flatter topography. The wind has the potential to affect every golf shot from a 300-yard drive to a 3-foot putt. In our town, my own experience has taught me that the prevailing wind this time of year is from the southwest and the west, which tends to create the most blowing dust. And the wind is the strongest coming down the West Mesa, and less strong on the East Mesa.

Playing golf this time of year requires that we become adept at reading the breeze, and maybe embrace the wind.

When hitting straight into the wind, it’s, of course, recommended that you take more club — sometimes even two or three clubs up; one more club for every 10 mph of wind speed. Some pros like to grip down on the club and make a shorter backswing, leading to better control. Trying to swing the club harder is not a good idea that too often results in a high, wildly ballooning golf ball. One of my favorite shots into a strong wind is a low hot-running hook that stays well beneath a wind gust. When hitting with the wind behind you, remember that the wind will actually affect the higher shots the most, and sometimes “knock down” a rising ball, thereby flattening the trajectory. A lower ball flight still makes the most sense. Note that it will be harder to stop your shot, so playing for the ball’s roll-out is important.

Playing a shot with a strong left-to-right or right-to-left crosswind takes some practice, especially since you need to figure out whether you’re better at hitting into the wind or going with the direction of the wind. For approach shots to the green, we need to notice where exactly the hole is located, as we want to avoid being short-sided downwind to the hole. A controlled, balanced swing is what’s needed.

Putting on a windy day presents an equally dramatic challenge. For most fourth place at 170, also at 5A. Herrera credits teammate Mathius Soto with pushing him and keeping him sharp this season.

golfers putting represents 40 percent of their scores. A strong breeze or wind will certainly affect how the ball rolls, especially when the greens are fairly fast. It's important, as with all other shots, that you stay balanced; sometimes a wider stance is needed. Be acutely aware of the slope of the green and the direction of the wind when hitting an approach shot or a chip to the green; it may be impossible to stop a downhill, downwind, down-grain putt; it might just roll off the green. Pay particular attention to the break of the putt, as you may need more "borrow" than before.

umn, ultimately, is to underline in red the significance of having a constitution in which the state is not connected to an established church. We are blessed because our founders deliberately sought to evade such issues. In Czarist Russia, the Orthodox Church was the established religion, and current Russian policies demonstrate a reversion to this pattern of collusion. I grieve for the people of both Ukraine and Russia who must live through this current nightmare. Please pray for all those involved as these weeks go by and the saber-rattling continues.

All Hands Meeting Develops Defined Vision at Las Cruces Utilities

By Cassie McClure

With over three hundred employees, Las Cruces Utilities (LCU) is the largest department within the City of Las Cruces (City). All employees work to serve their neighbors, whether they provide customer service, fix broken water pipes, or spend their days in the laboratory testing wastewater samples to ensure that our shared environment stays safe.

Communication in a department as large as LCU is essential, and a new quarterly, all-hands meeting allows everyone to understand the direction of LCU's mission.

"There is specialized work within our different lines of business, but we are all one utility," said LCU Director Delilah Walsh. "I want all of our employees to have a shared vision of what we do and how we are growing with new technology and new transitions into sustainable energy."

The last all-hand meeting, held virtually, was on Thursday, February 24, 2022. Over 60 employees tuned in to hear about some of the most pressing issues, like standard operating procedures and vehicle safety changes. The meeting showcases pictures of staff, those new to LCU, and those who have taken on new roles, such as Case Van Dyke, one of the natural gas trainers who is now the coordinator for the Utilities Safety Program.

"Each meeting, we highlight a different line of business, this time, it was Natural Gas and Energy," said Walsh. "I want staff in every position to know more about what other programs within the different lines of business do. We are moving toward a utility where employees can move throughout the department to support the work being done in each line of business."

Even with employees working in different locations and on different shifts, Walsh promotes an open-door policy by encouraging staff to send questions ahead of time for her to answer at the meeting, which is recorded to be accessed through the Department's internal streaming channel for later viewing. This time, one of the questions asked about the expectations for the "One Utility" where Walsh could detail how resource sharing can support all areas.

"We're looking to create more opportunities for cross-training and are consolidating crews, like our gas and water line locators, to increase the efficiency of our entire staff," said Walsh. "Sometimes the questions are more challenging, and I lean on staff who ground me with institutional knowledge that informs the evolving mission of where we need to be to best serve our customers."

"Meeting the great customers of my community is the best part of my job."
