DOÑA ANA COUNTY COMMISSIONER LYNN J. ELLINS: A DEDICATED PUBLIC SERVANT

As we bid farewell to Doña Ana County Commissioner Lynn J. Ellins, we recognize his long and varied career in public service. With a background as a Navy Officer an attorney and Chief Deputy Secretary of State for Colorado, Commissioner Ellins brought a wealth of experience to his role as a county commissioner with a strong sense of duty and commitment to his community.

Prior to becoming Commissioner Ellins served as the County Clerk for more than nine years, where he made history for his decision to support marriage equality by beginning to issue same-sex marriage licenses in Doña Ana County in August of 2013. His experience as Clerk gave him a unique perspective on the inner workings of county government and has helped him effectively advocate for the needs of his constituents in his role as commissioner. Among his accomplishments as county commissioner are supporting noise limits on short-term rental properties, facilitating assistance to businesses and renters during the pandemic, attracting and retaining volunteer and full-time county firefighters, support for investing millions in road repairs and more recently, the opening of the Crisis Triage Center.

As a county commissioner, Ellins has been a strong advocate for the South Valley communities between Vado and Mesilla Park, as well as for downtown Las Cruces, Mesilla, and Picacho Hills. He has worked tirelessly to address the needs of residents of District 1 and has made a significant impact on the lives of the people he represents.

As Commissioner Ellins' term ends, we recognize the lasting legacy he leaves in Doña Ana County. His dedication to public service and his commitment to improving the lives of those he represents will not be forgotten. We wish him all the best.

HONORING THE SERVICE OF DOÑA ANA COUNTY ELECTED OFFICIALS

ASSESSOR LETICIA DUARTE-BENAVIDEZ

In 2018, Leticia Duarte-Benavidez was elected as County Assessor. She ran a campaign focused on improving the professionalism and transparency of the Assessor's Office. She has worked to treat residents with dignity and respect, and to explain the assessment process for their properties.

After more than 35 years of dedicated public service in a wide range of roles, Benavidez is retiring at the end of this year. We wish her well in the next chapter of her life and thank her for her tireless commitment to the residents of Doña Ana County.

PROBATE JUDGE DIANA A. BUSTAMANTE

Diana A. Bustamante was elected as Doña Ana County Probate Judge in 2015. Judge Bustamante is responsible for overseeing the probate process for the estates of deceased individuals in Doña Ana County, including wills and testaments.

As Judge Bustamante has served two terms and is now ineligible for re-election, she will be moving on to a new adventure. We wish her well and thank her for her dedicated service to the residents of Doña Ana County.

Unite New Mexico works to coordinate healthcare

By MIKE COOK

Las Cruces Bulletin

Unite New Mexico is a web-based coordinated care platform that launched in Las Cruces in November with a goal of connecting people who need behavioral health care and the local volunteers and professionals who provide it.

Unite New Mexico is part of Unite Us a nationwide technology company founded in 2013 in New York City “that builds coordinated-care networks of health and social service providers,” according to uniteus.com/.

Unite New Mexico has been in place in Santa Fe since 2018 and includes Albuquerque and central New Mexico. A November launch in Las Cruces welcomed Doña Ana, Sierra, Grant and Hidalgo counties, with hopes to expand statewide in 2023.

Unite New Mexico already has more than a dozen partners in Las Cruces, said Unite Community Engagement Manager Monique Rodriguez, a licensed master social worker and therapist.

Zia Vista Therapy, Nexus Counseling Center, National Alliance on Mental Illness (NAMI) of Southern New Mexico, Charlotte's Place Pre-School, Cornerstone Christian Counseling, Amistad Family Services, A New Hope Therapy Center and other programs and providers have joined the platform.

“I see the need,” said Las Cruces therapist Andrea Dresser, whose Counseling Las Cruces is a Unite New Mexico partner.

The platform is valuable to therapists and clients because it links them directly to services they are seeking, Dresser said.

“Everyone needs to know what’s going on in the community,” she said.

Angels With Broken Wings, a nine-bed transitional housing program for people dealing with substance abuse that opened in Las Cruces in October, also has joined United. Founder and peer counselor Ginger Shannon said Unite provides updated information about programs like hers so people in need don’t have to “spin their wheels” searching for available services.

“I love that,” said Shannon, whose program is funded mostly out of her own pocket and by private donations.

People who need behavioral health services “are already in distress,” Rodriguez said. “They are trying to find someone” to help, she said. With Unite, they can check local services on one platform and connect to the care they need “with minimum stress,” she said.

“It’s a service to the client,” Dresser said. “They don’t have to make phone calls.”

Unite is “a really great opportunity for the community,” said Rodriguez, who helped implement a similar program to connect hundreds of thousands of military veterans to the services they needed in Houston, Texas.

“I’ve already seen how it can connect the community in a positive way,” she said. “I know clients will be taken care of.”

Unite will also connect clients and providers to government agencies like the Doña Ana County Crisis Triage Center, schools, hospitals and insurance providers, Rodriguez said. And, it can make connections across the state and across the country.

There is no charge for individuals or small providers to join Unite, Rodriguez said. And, while it fully complies with federal HIPAA regulations to protect patient health information, the platform means a client’s information is quickly and safely available to providers for responses and referrals.

Behavioral health is stepping forward and saying, ‘We want to be connected,’ she said.

House of Mercy nears opening at Gospel Rescue Mission

By MIKE COOK

Las Cruces Bulletin

Gospel Rescue Mission (GRM) Executive Director Henry Young is working out final details to complete the Bethesda House of Mercy and Grace at 1050 W. Amador Ave., next door to GRM.

The 30-foot by 50-foot building will provide housing and hot meals to homeless people who choose not to stay at the mission.

Young said he is still working with El Paso Electric on getting power to the new building and is completing installation of the building's sprinkler system and sidewalks. Occupancy will be authorized in 2023, Young said. In the meantime, he is asking the City of Las Cruces for permission to use the facility as a homeless shelter because, even without electricity, it is a better option for homeless people than sleeping on the street in the winter weather, Young said.

House of Mercy will provide housing to 40-50 people a night and will serve three hot meals a day, seven days a week, he said. There will be no limit on how long a person stays in the shelter.

Once it opens, there will be two staff members with radios and phones in the facility each night in case of emergencies, Young said. Restrooms will be located across the street.

Young is seeking additional funding to complete construction of House of Mercy No. 2, which will be located adjacent to the first building. The 70-foot by 100-foot second building will house a cafeteria, dining room, offices and conference room.

"Our primary need for the completion of building No. 2 is enough money to finish the project and put in all the required appliances and equipment," Young said.

GRM likely will need about $500,000 in donations to complete building No. 2, he said.

GRM has 17 full- and part-time employees, including eight current or former residents, Young said. The nonprofit has been in operation since 1972. In addition to its shelter, kitchen and food-bank and clothing bank, GRM operates Rock of Ages Thrift Store, 1420 S. Solano Drive.

To donate to the House of Mercy project, contact Young at 575-496-1637 and henry@lccrm.org. Mail contributions to Las Cruces Gospel Rescue Mission, P.O. Box 386, Las Cruces, N.M. 88004. Donate online at www.lccrm.org.

Know the signs

Do you know how to identify a natural gas leak? You might smell sulfur or rotten eggs, you may notice dirt or debris shooting up out of a hole in the ground, dead or dying vegetation in an otherwise green area, and a loud hissing or roaring sound near pipeline markers. These and many more are all tell tale signs of a natural gas or pipeline leak. Use all your senses, even common sense and report any possible leaks to Zia Natural Gas Company. When in doubt call us out!

As always, Zia personnel are available 24/7 for all natural gas emergencies. Call (575) 526-4GAS (4427) if you have a natural gas emergency.

Property crimes topic of City Council meeting

By MIKE COOK

Las Cruces Bulletin

"This place is not what it was before," local business owner Randy McMillan said during public input at the Dec. 19 Las Cruces City Council meeting. "It is becoming a war zone."

At the meeting, Mayor Ken Miyagishima recognized McMillan and Chris Allen for saving a man who was attacked by two men with a baseball bat earlier this month near the intersection of Picacho Avenue and 17th Street.

"The two guys that did that, they're out on the streets right now," McMillan said. As a result, McMillan said he now sleeps "with a .40 pistol under my pillow because they threatened me over and over and over. They have my license number on my truck."

"This bail reform nonsense is absolute destruction and it is releasing these criminals into our communities," McMillan said. (In 2016, more than 87 percent of New Mexico voters approved a constitutional amendment granting pretrial release to defendants who are not considered a threat but remain jailed because they cannot afford to post bail.)

McMillan said he had a list of 10 criminal acts that have affected him individually and as the owner of a property management company in the past year, including thefts, office break-ins and criminal damage to property.

"You all asked us to vote for you, to put you in charge of leading this community," McMillan told the city council. "You have connections in Santa Fe. These people in Santa Fe have put these laws into place. I want to know what you are going to do about fixing this."

In a separate interview with the Bulletin, state Sen. Joseph Cervantes, a Las Cruces attorney and chair of the Senate Judiciary Committee, said the 2016 amendment gives "a

Happy Christmas to all

PUBLISHER'S NOTE: In this edition of the Bulletin, I continue a tradition carried by one of my mentors, the late Tom Reeves, who published newspapers in California, Colorado and Alamogordo, where he hired me as editor in 1995.

Each year, on or around Christmas Eve, Reeves would publish this holiday classic in his newspaper. I followed the tradition after succeeding him as publisher of the Alamogordo Daily News in 1998, and when I joined the Bulletin in 2010.

So here's the classic poem, "A Visit from St. Nicholas," by American poet Clement Clarke Moore, who lived from 1779 to 1863. I recommend reading it to your kids, and have fun explaining things like kerchiefs and coursers. Here's wishing everyone a Merry Christmas!

A Visit from St. Nicholas

'Twas the night before Christmas, when all through the house
Not a creature was stirring,
not even a mouse.

The stockings were hung by the chimney with care, In hopes that St. Nicholas soon would be there.

The children were nestled all
snug in their beds,

While visions of sug-arplums danced in their heads.

And mamma in her
'kerchief, and I in my
cap,

Had just settled our brains for a long winter's nap.

When out on the lawn
there arose such a clatter,
I sprang from the bed to see what was the matter.

Away to the window I flew like a flash, Tore open the shutters and threw up the sash.

The moon on the breast of the new-fallen snow

Gave the luster of midday to objects below.

When, what to my wondering eyes should appear,

But a miniature sleigh, and eight tiny reindeer.

With a little old driver, so lively and quick,

I knew in a moment it must be
St. Nick.

More rapid than eagles his coursers they came,

And he whistled, and shouted,
and called them by name!

RICHARD COLTHARP
From the Publisher

"Now Dasher! now, Dancer!
now, Prancer and Vixen!

On, Comet! On, Cupid! on, on Donner and Blitzen!

To the top of the porch! to the top of the wall!

Now dash away! Dash away!
Dash away all!"

As dry leaves that before the wild hurricane fly,

When they meet with an obstacle, mount to the sky.

So up to the housetop the coursers they flew,

With the sleigh full of toys,
and St. Nicholas too.

And then, in a twinkling, I heard on the roof

The prancing and pawing of each little hoof.

As I drew in my head, and
was turning around,

Down the chimney St. Nicholas came with a bound.

He was dressed all in fur, from his head to his foot,

And his clothes were all tarnished with ashes and soot.

A bundle of toys he had flung
on his back,

And he looked like a peddler,
just opening his pack.

His eyes — how they twinkled!
his dimples how merry!

His cheeks were like roses, his nose like a cherry!

His droll little mouth was drawn up like a bow,

And the beard of his chin was as white as the snow.

The stump of a pipe he held
tight in his teeth,

And the smoke it encircled his head like a wreath.

He had a broad face and a
little round belly,

That shook when he laughed,
like a bowlful of jelly!

He was chubby and plump, a right jolly old elf,

And I laughed when I saw him, in spite of myself!

A wink of his eye and a twist
of his head,

Soon gave me to know I had nothing to dread

He spoke not a word, but went straight to his work,

And filled all the stockings,
then turned with a jerk.

And laying his finger aside of
his nose,

And giving a nod, up the chimney he rose!

He sprang to his sleigh, to his team gave a whistle,

And away they all flew like the down of a thistle.

But I heard him exclaim, ere
he drove out of sight,

"Happy Christmas to all, and to all a goodnight!"

Aggies quiet the critics, for now same this year, as the Aggies started the season 1-5. But a win over in-state rival UNM in front of a large crowd on Hispanic Heritage Day at Aggie Memorial Stadium was the beginning of a late-season rally that left NMSU with a 6-6 regular season record.

The invitation to the Quick Lane Bowl presents a tremendous opportunity for both the players and the team. The bowl game is affiliated with the Detroit Lions and will be played at Ford Field. NMSU players will get to compete on an NFL field and play in an NFL stadium that seats 65,000 fans, though most seats will likely be empty.

The program will get a national spotlight all to itself. The Quick Lane Bowl will be the only game played Monday. Lots of folks will undoubtedly be taking off work the day after Christmas and will be tuning in for the game, which has 12:30 p.m. Mountain time kickoff on ESPN.

Looking ahead, the move next year to the C-USA Conference will finally give the football program some stability. It's tough as an independent, when you're playing Lamar one week and Missouri the next.

Obviously, one break-even season (Monday's game will determine if it is a winning or losing record) won't end the calls for NMSU to reduce its attention to and spending on football. And it remains to be seen if funding levels will allow the program to remain competitive.

For more information on the Aggie bowl game, see Page 30 in Sports.

But for now, let's just enjoy the run and look forward to a win over Bowling Green Monday.

Danzantes at Tortugas Pueblo celebrate Our Lady of Guadalupe on Monday, Dec. 12, the last day of the feast days. The Danzantes will again be dancing starting at 3 p.m. on Jan. 1, 2023, as they escort a statue of the virgin back to her Capilla, officially closing the celebration. The day's events are open to the public to attend and take place at the Tortugas Casa del Pueblo.

Vasquez names district director

BULLETIN REPORT

Congressman-elect Gabe Vasquez announced has hired Cynthia Hull as his district director, Vasquez said in a Dec. 15 news release.

Hull currently serves as a constituent services representative in Las Cruces for U.S. Sen. Ben Ray Lujan, D-N.M. and has worked for more than a decade in similar capacities for U.S. Sen. Martin Heinrich and former U.S. Rep. Deb Haaland, both D-N.M.

"I am truly humbled by the opportunity to serve as Congressman-elect Gabe Vasquez' district director," Hull said. "I am ready to work tirelessly alongside Gabe to serve the people of this district and build a diverse, constituent-centered team in New Mexico that will deliver for all residents of our district."

"As a veteran caseworker, Cynthia knows our district and understands the challenges that we face," Vasquez said. "From veterans issues to visa and immigration casework, Cynthia has been on the frontlines of serving New Mexicans from Las Cruces to Albuquerque. I am excited to bring her expertise to our office to help us build healthy, thriving, and successful families and communities."

Cynthia Hull, a New Mexico State University graduate, will be the district director for U.S. Rep.-elect Gabe Vasquez.

Hull, who is bilingual, is a first-generation Mexican American. She has an M.A. in economics and a B.A. in journalism and mass communication from New Mexico State University, Vasquez said.

17 Fire Academy cadets join LC Fire Department

BULLETIN REPORT

The Las Cruces Fire Department (LCFD) graduated 17 cadets from its 35th Fire Academy Dec. 16 at the Doña

Ana Community College East Mesa Auditorium.

Graduates are Antonio Alvarado, Joshua Calzada, Aaron Castillo, Juan

Castillo, Michael Clifton, Andrew Davis, Joshua Duran, Austin Harris, Jasen Kewshaw, Robert Lopez, Ryan Milka, Ivan Molina, Gabriel Morales, Raul Prieto, Eric Prosser, Adriana Reyes and Charles Roybal.

The Fire Academy began Sept. 12 and included 14 weeks of firefighting training in the field and classroom, the City of Las Cruces said in a news release.

Twelve of the cadets who already have their EMS licenses began working in LCFD shift rotations Dec. 18, the city said. Five others will begin their shift rotations after completing an additional eight-week EMT course through the Fire Academy.

LCFD has 189 positions, with 178 filled after the academy, said Fire Chief Jason Smith. 177 of those are sworn firefighter positions, he said, and 166 will be filled after the Dec. 16 graduation.

LCFD also has a fire protection engineer, two people in management analysis, an office manager, a senior of-office assistant, three community health providers, two case managers and one logistics specialist, Smith said.

Former LC fire chief retires

By MIKE COOK

Las Cruces Bulletin

The City of Las Cruces held a flag ceremony and retirement celebration for Assistant City Manager and former Las Cruces Fire Chief Eric Enriquez Dec. 15 at City Hall.

A native of Las Cruces, Enriquez graduated from Mayfield High School and earned a degree in finance from New Mexico State University. He worked at his parents' tortilla factory and restaurant, Jose Maria, in Alamogordo before being recruited by former Las Cruces Fire Marshal Adolf Zubia to join the Las Cruces Fire Department.

Enriquez graduated from the fire academy in 1997 and from the Las Cruces Police Academy in 2003 with accreditation as an arson investigator. He served with the Las Cruces Fire Department (LCFD) until February 2009 when he moved to Hobbs to serve as fire marshal/deputy fire chief, community services director and fire chief before returning to Las Cruces in May 2016 to become fire chief here.

He was named assistant city manager in November 2020.

Enriquez and his wife,

Yvette, have three children, Audrey, Zach and Ivan, and six grandchildren: five boys and one girl, ranging in age from four months to six years.

Dyslexia Institute 'in the business of saving lives'

By MIKE COOK
Las Cruces Bulletin

"Thank you for teaching me to read."

That was part of a letter retired Las Cruces teacher Ellen Saige received from a young man a few years ago.

Saige founded the Dyslexia Institute of Southern New Mexico (DISNM) in 2000 in partnership with Kelly Covert, to help children like him deal with dyslexia, a learning disorder that causes difficulty with reading, writing, mathematics and spelling.

Originally a sole proprietorship, DISNM became a nonprofit in 2009 and has helped more than 200 children and adults in southern New Mexico and El Paso become strong readers and happier, more successful children and adults.

With her help, the young man who wrote to Saige learned to read well, went on to earn a college degree and become an information technology specialist for an international mission.

Dyslexia therapy has a high rate of success, especially if begun at a young age and the child and his or her parents are committed to that success, Saige said.

DISNM services include a reading program, a math (dyscalculia) program and a writing program for children, as well as a program for high school and college students and older adults with dyslexia.

"We are in the business of saving lives," said DISNM Academic Director Ute (pronounced oota) Thomas, quoting Judy Carter, director of the Scottish Rite Children's Learning Center and trainer of the therapists at DISNM.

DISNM Executive Director Myr (pronounced murr) Dawson got involved with the nonprofit after her grandson was found to be dyslexic while in the third grade.

He was pretending to read, but wasn't able to, she said.

"He was the class clown," Dawson said, "because you'd rather be funny than stupid."

Her grandson began therapy with DISNM and “made tremendous progress,” Dawson said.

She often took him to therapy sessions and eventually joined the institute’s board of directors and staff.

Dawson also brought bookkeeping experience to the institute, having owned a cookie-making business in Corona, New Mexico.

Among them, Saige, Dawson and Thomas have nearly 75 years of teaching experience in Las Cruces and other New Mexico elementary schools.

Saige and Thomas, along with DISNM’s other six therapists, have extensive training in Alphabetic Phonics (a language curriculum) and in the Take Flight curriculum for students with dyslexia developed at Texas Scottish Rite Hospital for Children in Dallas.

Determining if a child has dyslexia begins with a screening that includes the child, a parent and a teacher or therapist. It can be “very emotional,” Saige said, because the child must confront his or her inability to read and the frustration and denial that go along with it.

The child’s initial response may be, “I can’t read. I don’t want to read. You’re not going to teach me to read,” Saige said.

That frustration often causes behavioral problems, she said, and the child may be labeled as “difficult.”

“They are disappointed in themselves,” Thomas said.

“After they start to read, they become different children. It is such a blessing to be able to do this,” she said.

“Each child is different,” Thomas said. “You have to be careful of their hearts. You have to make sure they’re successful and they feel that. And with time they start to believe in themselves again.”

With Take Flight instruction, students “will learn all 44 sounds of the English language (and) spelling rules for base words and derivatives,” according to <https://scottishriteforchildren.org/>.

“The training is intense,” Thomas said, and often involves showing the student “a visual of the word” he or she is learning.

Teaching students about sounds may also have them looking in a mirror to “see what your mouth is doing,” Thomas said.

“They’re using all of their senses,” Saige said.

She may ask a student, “How do your lips feel?” when pronouncing a particular sound, or encourage him or her to feel the vibrations of their vocal cords as they speak.

“They like discovering all this,” Thomas said.

“Along the way, there are those aha moments when the kid really gets it. We are all thrilled when that happens.”

Optimist Club of Las Cruces President Len Hampton presents a $1,000 check for scholarships to Dyslexia Institute of Southern New Mexico Treasurer Dixie Felipe and Secretary (and founder) Ellen Saige. “The Club thanks everyone who supported our Poinsettia fundraiser,” Hampton said.

What is dyslexia?

From THE DYSLEXIA INSTITUTE OF SOUTHERN NEW MEXICO

Dyslexia (from the Greek dys: not working well, and lexia: words) is a specific learning disability, neurobiological in origin, i.e., a “different” brain that handles many tasks excellently but does not connect well with reading and written language.”

Dyslexics may have problems with reading, spelling and/or math.

Characteristics that may accompany dyslexia include difficulty with: isolating and identifying sounds in words, syllables and rhymes; word identification and trouble comprehending what is read; spelling, especially remembering the order of letters; handwriting, including reversal of letters and a lack of clarity about right- or left handedness; math related to the order of numbers, the sequence of steps in a problem or the language of mathematics and directionality; putting thoughts into words, both written and spoken; delays in learning to speak and in using age-appropriate language; and confusion of directions in space or time, including right/left, up/down and yesterday/tomorrow).

An estimated 10-20 percent of the U.S. population is dyslexic. It tends to run in families.

People with dyslexia have average, above average or gifted intelligence. A student who is bright but may not be performing well academically and is considered lazy or lacking in motivation may be dyslexic.

Dyslexia therapy is a different way of teaching. It integrates all the senses in learning, bypassing blocked neural passageways and forging new connections in the brain. Dyslexic individuals usually cannot immediately remember whole words, so they must know the structure of the English language and its components (phonetics). Therapy changes the individual’s relationship with written language.

It takes at least two years to complete dyslexia therapy and requires a substantial commitment on the part of the individual and his or her parents.

Dyslexia therapy is important because 80 percent of students who do not read well by the end of the third grade will not finish high school. Illiteracy is a huge predictor of poverty, homelessness and prison incarceration.

Among students who begin therapy before the fourth grade, almost all will learn to read and 80 percent will learn to read well. Therapy will help at any age, but it is not as fast or as effective the later it is started.

higher priority to civil liberties at the expense of public safety.”

“Look at the title of the amendment,” Cervantes told the Bulletin. (The title is “Proposing an amendment ... to protect community safety by granting courts new authority to deny release on bail pending trial for dangerous defendants in felony cases while retaining the right to pretrial release for non-dangerous defendants who do not pose a flight risk.”)

“The suggested purpose of the amendment was to “incarcerate dangerous individuals,” Cervantes said, but that has not been “the most consequential outcome.”

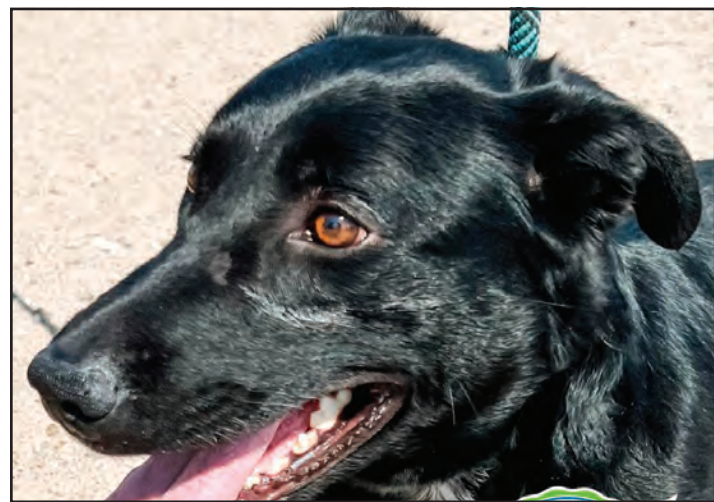

The legislature will continue to “have a role” in bail reform, Cervantes said, but it likely will require another constitutional amendment approved by voters to change the 2016 amendment.

“I have had a chance to visit with the mayor several times and I know he’s very concerned,” Cervantes said. “There is increasing lawlessness in Las Cruces; the statistics bear that out. We’re seeing Las Cruces changing in front of our eyes and I think a lot of us are very concerned about that. We want to assure we don’t slip into the reputation and challenges that Albuquerque has been unable to tackle. It cannot be challenged that people feel less safe in Las Cruces than they were before.

“As a property owner, I can tell you that with other property owners I speak with it is a very large challenge these days to address the destruction of our property and the cleanup and maintenance required by a hands-off approach,” Cervantes said. “It seems increasingly the government is leaving it up to property owners to fend for themselves.”

“We’re going to reach out to the DA (Third Judicial District Attorney Gerald Byers of Las Cruces),” Miyagishima said at the meeting. “There may be some more options, we might be able to give a little bit more teeth, which would be welcome.”

Legal Notice

NOTICE is hereby given that on October 26, 2022, D&L Farms, Inc. (Contact: Sergio Rodrigues), 2100 Hwy 28, Anthony, NM 88021, filed with the STATE ENGINEER OSE File: LRG-10077, Application No. LRG-10077-POD3 for Permit to Drill & Use Supplemental Well within the Lower Rio Grande Underground Water Basin of the State of New Mexico. Dona Ana is the County affected by the diversion and in which the water has been or will be put to beneficial use. This notice is ordered to be published in the Las Cruces Bulletin. The applicant proposes drilling well LRG-10077-POD3 to a depth of 360 feet with a 16-inch casing, in a location within the SE ¼ NW ¼ of projected Section 21, Township 27S, Range 3E (NMPM) and more specifically located at or near where Latitude and Longitude intersect at 31° 56'53.451"N and 106° 38'33.077"W (WGS84), on land owned by the applicant, which will supplement existing well LRG-10077, located on property owned by the applicant within the SE ¼ NW ¼ of said projected Section 21 (NMPM) and more specifically described where Latitude and Longitude intersect at 31° 56'52.82"N and 106° 38'32.32"W (WGS84), for the continued diversion of the amount of water subject to all conditions and provisions contained in the August 22, 2011 Final Judgment and Settlement Agreement in Stream System Issue No. 101, SS-97-101, combined with surface water from the Elephant Butte Irrigation District, for the irrigation of 54.11 acres of land, owned by the applicant, which lies in the center of said projected Section 21 (NMPM) as described in Subfile No. LRS 280180086 Right C of the Lower Rio Grande Hydrographic Survey. The applicant has requested emergency authorization to drill the proposed well under NMSA, 1978, Section 72-12-24. The site of proposed well LRG-10077-POD3 will be located east of La Union, NM and may be found approximately 0.26 miles south of the intersection of Maldonado Rd. and S. Highway 28. To view the application and supporting documentation contact the State Engineer District Office to arrange a date and time for an appointment located at 1680 Hickory Loop, Suite J. Las Cruces, NM 88005. Any person, firm or corporation or other entity asserting standing to file objections or protests shall do so in writing (objection must be legible, signed, and include the writer's complete name, phone number, email address, and mailing address). If the protest does not include the complete name, phone number, email address, and mailing address, it may be deemed invalid and not accepted for filing unless Protestant provides with the protest an affidavit stating that it does not have one of the above-listed elements/requirements (phone number, mailing address, email address, etc.). The objection to the approval of the application must be based on: (1) Impairment; if impairment, you must specifically identify your water rights; and/or (2) Public Welfare/Conservation of Water; if public welfare or conservation of water within the state of New Mexico, you shall be required to provide evidence showing how you will be substantially and specifically affected. The written protest must be filed, in triplicate, with the State Engineer, 1680 Hickory Loop, Suite J. Las Cruces, NM 88005, on or before January 27, 2023. Facsimiles (faxes) will be accepted as a valid protest if the hard copy is hand-delivered or mailed and postmarked within 24-hours of the facsimile. Mailing postmark will be used to validate the 24-hour period. Protests can be faxed to the Office of the State Engineer, 575-524-6160. If no valid protest or objection is filed, the State Engineer will evaluate the application in accordance with the provisions of Chapter 72 NMSA 1978.

“Back in the Groove”

Taye Diggs (the “Best Man” film franchise) hosts this four-episode unscripted series that brings four fortysomething single women to the Groove Hotel, a luxurious Dominican Republic resort, with the goal of rediscovering their youth, living joyously and hopefully finding love with men half their age. (ORIGINAL)

“Letterkenny”

The 11th season of this Canadian comedy finds the residents of the titular small town contending with the best chip flavors, lost dogs, an influencer invasion, Skid business, a mystery at the church bake sale, unwanted guests at beer league and the Degens stirring up trouble. Creator Jared Keeso, Nathan Dales, Michelle Mylett and K. Trevor Wilson are among cast returnees. (ORIGINAL)

“Grails”

ESPN anchor Hannah Storm is among the executive producers of his documentary series that gives a behind-the-scenes look at entrepreneurs Earl Cooper and Olajuwon Ajanaku, former Morehouse College golf champions who created the lifestyle brand Eastside Golf to promote diversity on the golf course. (ORIGINAL)

“Movie: Enough Said”

Included on many critics' 10-best lists for 2013, writer-director Nicole Holofcener's comedy-drama features what was one of James Gandolfini's last performances. In an engaging departure from his tough-guy roles, he plays the new love interest of a single-mom masseuse (Julia Louis-Dreyfus, also superb). Little do they suspect they have someone in common who could thwart their relationship. Catherine Keener and Toni Collette also star.

What's Available NOW On

“Wicked Tuna: Outer Banks Showdown”
(Available now)

The first season of this National Geographic unscripted series follows the “Wicked Tuna” anglers from Gloucester, Mass., as they head down to North Carolina to compete with locals to see who can catch the most fish while contending with harsh weather and their new opponents’ unfamiliar tactics.

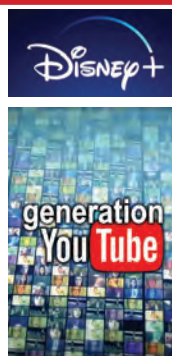

“Little Giant”
(Available now)

This National Geographic documentary follows Little E, an elephant calf born into a family struggling for survival in Kenya's Maasai Mara. Drought is setting in, forcing them to keep moving to find food and water but they face threats from lions, hippos and even humans. The film chronicles how they address each challenge and reveals elephants to be loving creatures with intelligence that rivals a human's.

“Generation YouTube”
(Dec. 30)

From National Geographic comes this documentary that charts the history of the last decade through the lens of the world's most famous video sharing site, telling story of those who created it, the stars to whom it gave birth and the countries whose fates it changed.

“Encanto at the Hollywood Bowl”
(Dec. 28)

The original voice cast of “Encanto” reunites at Southern California’s Hollywood Bowl for this concert event that celebrates the world, characters and songs of the 2021 Disney animated comedy and features an 80-piece orchestra conducted by Anthony Parther, 50 dancers and spectacular special effects. Lin-Manuel Miranda does a special introduction. (ORIGINAL)

tonight's picks

Macaulay Culkin

4 p.m. on BBCA
Movie: Love Actually

Stars, unite! The charm writer-director Richard Curtis gave "Four Weddings and a Funeral" and "Notting Hill" also infuses this 2003 comedy, boasting a great ensemble cast. Frequent Curtis collaborator Hugh Grant plays England's prime minister, who falls for an employee (Martine McCutcheon).

6 p.m. on AMC
Movie: Elf

Surprisingly sweeter than you might expect from the premise and the casting, this 2003 comedy stars Will Ferrell as Buddy, a human who was adopted by elves as an infant and grows up thinking he's just a large version of his adoptive father (Bob Newhart). When Buddy finds out the truth about his parentage, he is crushed and goes out into the real world to find his birth father (James Caan), who has his own family and isn't interested in rehashing the past.

6 p.m. on TCM
Movie: The Bishop's Wife

David Niven stars as busy bishop Henry Brougham in this 1947 tale directed by Henry Kostner. Brougham is attempting to get a new cathedral constructed, to the detriment of his marriage to Julia (Loretta Young). Dudley (Cary Grant) is an angel just trying to help the bishop realize what, and whom, he has before it's too late. As he gets to know Julia, Dudley begins to fall in love with her — definitely not part of his job description.

7 p.m. on KVIA
Movie: Home Alone

Hollywood should have left "Alone" alone after this hit 1990 comedy, to which the sequels don't hold a holiday candle. Macaulay Culkin stars as a youngster who is mistakenly left home alone when his family leaves for Paris at Christmastime. When two burglars break in, he foils their attempts to rob the house by constructing elaborate traps. Joe Pesci, Daniel Stern, John Heard, Roberts Blossom, Catherine O'Hara and John Candy also star.

7 p.m. on KTSM
Movie: It's a Wonderful Life

Small-town guy George Bailey (James Stewart) defers one big dream after another to stay home, marry a local girl (Donna Reed) and run the family business. Facing financial ruin, he's pulled from suicidal despair by angel Clarence (Henry Travers), who shows him how terrible the world would have been if he'd never lived. Lionel Barrymore also stars in director Frank Capra's 1946 classic.

8 p.m. on AMC
Movie: National Lampoon's Christmas Vacation

Written by "Home Alone" filmmaker John Hughes, the third installment in the movie-comedy series was a major hit of the 1989 holiday season. Chevy Chase returns as Griswold family patriarch Clark, who tries to ensure a traditional Yuletide for his clan — despite the considerable odds against it. Co-stars Beverly D'Angelo and Randy Quaid also are back. Juliette Lewis plays one of the younger Griswolds.

8 p.m. on TCM
Movie: A Christmas Carol

Many people consider this 1938 version their favorite screen adaptation of the Charles Dickens classic. Count June Lockhart ("Lost in Space") among them: She made her film debut at age 12 as one of the children of Bob and Emily Cratchit, played by her real-life parents, Gene and Kathleen Lockhart. Reginald Owen stars as Christmas-hating curmudgeon Ebenezer Scrooge.

8:20 p.m. on FREEFRM
Movie: The Santa Clause

Toy company executive Scott Calvin (Tim Allen) makes a drastic — and cold — career change in this heartwarming 1994 comedy. After killing the real St. Nick by mistake, Scott tries on the red suit and is transformed into Santa, complete with white beard and round belly. In addition to the traditional duties, this Santa must convince his skeptical son that he's the real thing. Eric Lloyd, Wendy Crewson and Judge Reinhold also star.

tonight's picks

Helen George

11:30 a.m. on TOON
Movie: The Wizard of Oz
The memories! The colors! Toto, too! Almost every child knows the story of Dorothy and her faithful dog blown by a twister to the magical land of Oz. Judy Garland gives an iconic performance as Dorothy in this 1939 classic adaptation of L. Frank Baum's book. She and Toto follow the yellow brick road, making friends with an unlikely trio along the way. Ray Bolger, Bert Lahr, Jack Haley, Margaret Hamilton and Frank Morgan co-star.

5 p.m. on BBCA
Movie: Willy Wonka & the Chocolate Factory

The remake's got nothing on this delightfully subversive 1971 flick, with its yummy visuals, morality plays and marvelous music. And who could forget those Oompa-Loompas? Gene Wilder plays the confectioner who offers five kids a tour of his plant and a shot at being chosen as his successor. But the winner has to be pure of heart, and four brats are quickly ruled out. That leaves poor but honest Charlie (Peter Ostrum), but Willy has a special test for him.

6 p.m. on TBS
Movie: The Wizard of Oz

The memories! The colors! Toto, too! Almost every child knows the story of Dorothy and her faithful dog blown by a twister to the magical land of Oz. Judy Garland gives an iconic performance as Dorothy in this 1939 classic adaptation of L. Frank Baum's book. She and Toto follow the yellow brick road, making friends with an unlikely trio along the way. Ray Bolger, Bert Lahr, Jack Haley, Margaret Hamilton and Frank Morgan co-star.

6:15 p.m. on KTSM
NFL Football

First place in the NFC South is there for the taking for the Tampa Bay Buccaneers, who get a possible boost in that direction in tonight's road game against the Arizona Cardinals. Though they've struggled around the .500 mark, Tom Brady and the Bucs have the chance to distance themselves from a mediocre South field as they take on the Cards, a losing team that has been beset by injuries, inconsistent play and off-field distractions.

8 p.m. on KRWG
Call the Midwife

With Christmas soon approaching, the midwives move to their maternity clinic and are delighted when their first patient is a familiar face. Life in Poplar returns to normal after the tragic train crash, and everyone unites for a festive talent show in this new holiday episode. Helen George, Vanessa Redgrave, Laura Main, Stephen McGann, Jenny Agutter, Judy Parfitt and Cliff Parisi also star.

9 p.m. on FX
Movie: The Lion King

Jon Favreau directed this 2019 "photorealistic computer-animated remake" of the 1994 animated blockbuster that chronicles the coming of age of Simba (now voiced by Donald Glover), a lion cub whose royal father (voice of James Earl Jones) has been murdered by Simba's villainous uncle (voice of Chiwetel Ejiofor).

10 p.m. on SHOW
George & Tammy

It looks like a blue Christmas in the world of country music when the only present Tammy (Jessica Chastain) wants is George's (Michael Shannon) sobriety. When he cannot deliver, their relationship hits a crisis point, forcing Tammy to make a drastic threat. And when George calls her bluff, they find themselves singing sad songs in the new episode "The Grand Tour."

tonight's picks

Movie: The Bodyguard

Whitney Houston makes her acting debut in this 1992 drama as an overindulged music superstar who is being stalked. A coldhearted professional bodyguard (Kevin Costner) is hired to protect her, and they end up falling in love. The film's soundtrack includes the hit song "I Will Always Love You."

7 p.m. on KVIA2
Family Film Awards

Family-oriented entertainment is honored in this new two-hour special. Hosted by Dean Cain and Laura McKenzie, the awards are presented to both television series and movies. A panel of industry leaders, celebrities and the readers of "Popstar Magazine" have voted for their top choices in 20 different categories.

8 p.m. on KTSM
Dolly Parton: Coat of Many Colors

Though she's not actually a star of it, country-music icon Parton is a huge factor of this 2015 TV movie — in the form of her nine-year-old self, portrayed by Alyvia Lyn Lind. Fellow singing star Jennifer Nettles and Rick Schroder play the young, Smoky Mountains-raised Dolly's parents, who were huge influences on her ... as was the very special coat that gives the movie and Parton's same-named song their title.

Groucho Marx (left) and Dick Cavett

6 p.m. on DSC
Bering Sea Gold

A familiar face shakes up the gold game as Emily Riedel shows Jane Kilcher ("Alaska: The Last Frontier") the ropes of running a dredge. Then Kris Kelly deals with an excavator malfunction, costing precious time. Meanwhile, Hurricane Dave is horrified by Vernon's methods and digging deep pays off for Mr. Gold Shawn Pomrenke in the new episode "No Jane, No Gain."

7 p.m. on KRWG
American Masters

This new episode explores the enduring friendship between Dick Cavett and Groucho Marx. Cavett, a writer for Jack Parr on "The Tonight Show," met Marx at the funeral of playwright George S. Kaufman in 1961. When Cavett made the transition from writer to comedian in 1965, he was encouraged and mentored by Marx. In 1968, Cavett became the host of his own talk show and Marx became a frequent guest capturing what Cavett called "the last of Groucho's greatness."

7 p.m. on KVIA2
Ocean Emergency:
Currents of Hope

This new two-hour documentary discusses the ongoing crisis facing our oceans and examines how humanity can chart a better course to help save this fragile ecosystem. Hosted by Dean Cain, Laura McKenzie, Elizabeth Stanton and Montel Williams, the group travels around the globe to share a first hand look at the state of emergency our oceans are facing, while providing tips on how viewers can help mitigate this worldwide issue.

7 p.m. on FOOD
Chef Dynasty: House of Fang

Chef Kathy Fang is taking her San Francisco-based restaurant, Fang, to new heights in Chinese cuisine. Her father and business partner, Peter Fang, is one of the city's most-elite chefs and owner of the famous House of Nanking.

However, she must convince him that a modernized menu will help her expand and achieve what she coins as, "Chinese cuisine world domination." A private dinner for influencers puts her new ideas to the test, in the series premiere episode "Old School, New Food."

"Movie: Roald Dahl's Matilda the Musical"

Alisha Weir has the title role in this Matthew Warchus-directed production about the little girl who conjures her own fantastical tales as an escape from the oppressive private school where she was sent by her selfish parents. Emma Thompson, Andrea Riseborough, Stephen Graham, Lashana Lynch and Sindhu Vee also star. (ORIGINAL)

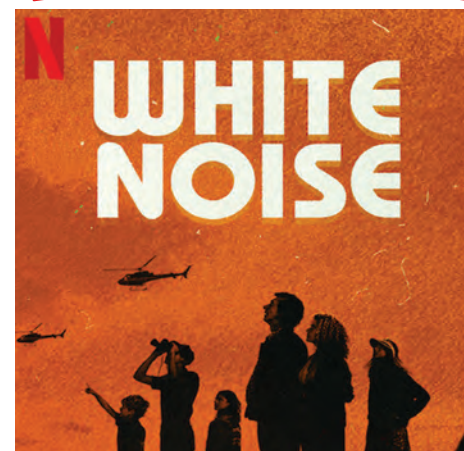

"My Unorthodox Life"

The sophomore round of this unscripted series about a woman who fled her ultra-Orthodox Jewish community picks up with fashion mogul Julia Haart facing an avalanche of personal and professional challenges, chief among them a divorce and a battle for control of her business empire, which quickly turns contentious. (ORIGINAL)

"Chelsea Handler: Revolution"

The award-winning comedian lets loose on a number of topics — including her choice to remain childless and alone, dating during the pandemic while her family invades her home and her vision for a future where men don't wear flip flops — in this stand-up performance recorded this past June at the Ryman Auditorium in Nashville, Tenn. (ORIGINAL)

"Movie: White Noise"

Noah Baumbach ("Greenberg," "Frances Ha") directed this dramedy about a contemporary American family's attempts to deal with the mundane conflicts of everyday life while grappling with the universal mysteries of love, death and the possibility of happiness in an uncertain world. Adam Driver, Greta Gerwig and Don Cheadle head the cast. (ORIGINAL)

tonight's picks

5 p.m. on AMC
Movie: Pretty Woman

Julia Roberts, who had charmed filmgoers the year

before as the brave, doomed
Shelby in "Steel Magnolias," became a certifiable superstar with this 1990 comedy-drama.
She earned her second Oscar nomination for her portrayal of a hooker with a heart of gold whose strictly business relationship with a corporate takeover artist (Richard Gere) becomes something more. Directed by Garry

Marshall, the film also stars
Jason Alexander, Laura San Giacomo and Marshall-movie
regular Hector Elizondo.

7 p.m. on KDBC
The 45th Annual Kennedy
Center Honors

It's pretty difficult to beat the star power of this year's honorees as George Clooney, Bono, The Edge,
Adam Clayton, Larry Mullen
Jr. (collectively U2), Amy
Grant, Gladys Knight
and Tania Leon are feted for their contributions to American culture. Also making appearances are Julia Roberts, Matt Damon,
Don Cheadle, Eddie Vedder,
Brandi Carlile, Sheryl Crow,
Ariana DeBose, Maren Morris,
Michael W. Smith, BeBe
Winans, and many others.

9 p.m. on KDBC
The Gift: Kindness Goes
Viral With Steve Hartman

Steve Hartman examines how one simple act of kindness can create a ripple effect that

Amy Grant

causes real, positive change in this one-hour CBS News special. Hartman meets an MIT professor as she works on a formula to answer the question: What does it take for an act of kindness to spread?

It's all about ordinary people committing extraordinary acts and changing lives far beyond their own communities. The impact will amaze you.

Elizabeth Stanton

1 p.m. on FREEFRM
Movie: Shrek Forever After Things get even twistier than usual during the fourth entry in the animated fairy-tale franchise, as a frustrated Shrek (voice of Mike Myers) strikes a bargain with Rumpelstiltskin that will allow the big green family guy to enjoy a day as a properly terrifying ogre. Unfortunately, Shrek doesn't realize the "fine print" in this deal will have devastating repercussions for himself, Fiona (voice of Cameron Diaz) and the entire kingdom of Far Far Away.

6 p.m. on FOOD
Restaurant: Impossible
Felicia's failing restaurant in Ash Fork, Ariz., has forced her to sacrifice her time with her children. Overwhelmed by guilt, she is ignoring her mountain of debt and her deteriorating business. Robert Irving must help Felicia turn her attitude and business strategy around to save the restaurant and her family in the Season 21 premiere episode "A Mother's Guilt."

6 p.m. on TCM
Movie: The Great Sinner
Airing in celebration of "Star of the Month" Ava Gardner's 100th birthday (Dec. 24), Fedja (Gregory Peck) is a young writer who goes to Wiesbaden to write about gambling and gamblers, only to ultimately become a compulsive gambler himself. Losing all his wealth, as well as his moral fiber, he commits the ultimate degradation of robbing a church poor box in order to feed his compulsion in this 1949 drama. In addition to Gardner, other stars include Melvyn Douglas, Walter Huston, Ethel Barrymore and Frank Morgan.

7 p.m. on KVIA2
Popstar's Best of 2022
Presented by Associated Television International, host Elizabeth Stanton counts down the greatest and most memorable moments and trends of 2022 based on polls from "Popstar Magazine" in this new special. From Justin Bieber's health scares to Pete Davidson's dating life, Harry Styles spitting to Will Smith's Oscar meltdown, 2022 gave us plenty of things to ponder and reexamine.

7:01 p.m. on HGTV
Luxe for Less
Young parents Cameron and Avery are trapped in a dated house. After dreaming about luxury for so long they finally realize it's time for some help, and call Michel Boyd and his team. Big ticket items Boyd needs to work into their $60,000 budget: a butler's pantry inspired by a mansion, a countertop that charges your phone, replicating an $8,000 kitchen hood and creating luxury living spaces while making it functional for children in the new episode "Butler's Pantry Please."

9 p.m. on HBO
Movie: The King's Man
The third installment in the "Kingsman" movie franchise and a prequel to the two earlier films, Matthew Vaughn's 2021 spy action comedy underperformed at the box office, mainly due to pandemic-related issues. It still delivers an entertaining yarn about how the Kingsman organization was born during the turmoil of World War I. Ralph Fiennes heads the stellar cast as Orlando, Duke of Oxford and founder of the spy network, with Tom Hollander ("The Night Manager") pulling triple duty in multiple roles. Gemma Arterton, Rhys Ifans, Matthew Goode and Daniel Bruhl co-star.

"NYPD Blue"

Dennis Franz, Jimmy Smits, Sherry Stringfield, Sharon Lawrence and James McDaniel head the cast of this Stephen Bochco/David Milch-created ABC drama about the struggles of police and other staffers at a fictional Manhattan precinct, which gained acclaim for its grittiness and realistic portrayal of their personal and professional lives. (ORIGINAL)

"Everwood"

All episodes of this 2002-06 WB drama about a physician (Treat Williams) who moves his family to the small Colorado town of the title following the death of his wife comes to the streaming service. The series also marks one of the first roles for future action star Chris Pratt, who is in a cast that also includes Gregory Smith, Emily VanCamp and Tom Amandes also star. (ORIGINAL)

"Movie: About Fate"

This 2022 romantic comedy stars Emma Roberts and Thomas Mann as Margot and Griffin, two people who believe in love but have been unlucky in it — that is, until a wild twist of events puts each in the other's path on a stormy New Year's Eve. Britt Robertson, Madelaine Petsch and Wendie Malick also star for director Marius Vaysberg ("Naughty Grandma").

"Movie: Wildcat"

From filmmakers Melissa Lesh and Trevor Beck Frost ("Person of the Forest") comes this documentary that follows Harry Turner, an Afghanistan War veteran struggling with PTSD and depression, who gets a second chance in the Amazon rainforest when he meets an American scientist running a wildlife rescue and is entrusted with the care of a baby ocelot. Jamie Lee Curtis

"HALLOWEEN ENDS"

It's always risky to call the supposed final chapter of a popular franchise the definitive ending, should there be the desire for another revival, but the makers of this horror chapter maintain that's the case. If so, it's the last stand for Jamie Lee Curtis as Laurie Strode, the heroine who has stood up to homicidal Michael Myers (James Jude Courtney) over a 44-year span. Here, she's involved in a familiar scenario, probing whether a babysitter had a hand in the fate of his young charge – and since all roads in this series lead to Michael, you can guess the showdown that inevitably happens. Andi Matichak returns as Laurie's granddaughter, and director and co-writer David Gordon Green is back from the previous two installments. DVD extras: audio commentary by cast and crew members; seven "making-of" documentaries; deleted and extended scenes. ★★★ (R: AS, P, GV) (Also on Blu-ray, 4K Ultra HD, Digital and On Demand)

"FATHER OF THE BRIDE"

A durable family-comedy plot served both Spencer Tracy and Steve Martin well, and in this latest version, Andy Garcia gets a turn at the title role. His character is harried in his own way as he tries to adjust to the idea of his eldest daughter (Adria Arjuna) getting married, and there's an added complication not in the earlier editions: Dad's wife (music superstar Gloria Estefan) wants a divorce. And if that's not enough, miserable weather may disrupt the nuptials. Estefan's daughter Emily plays her mother's character at a younger age. Isabela Merced, Diego Boneta, Enrique Murciano and "Saturday Night Live's" Chloe Fineman also are featured.

★★★ (PG-13: AS, P) (Also on Digital and On Demand)

"THE STAIRCASE: THE LIMITED SERIES"

Originally told in the form of a true-crime documentary, this dramatic HBO Max adaptation examines the case of a writer (played here by Colin Firth) suspected in the death of his second wife, a well-known businesswoman (Toni Collette) found at the bottom of a staircase in the family home. The clan becomes mired in various legal matters as the investigation develops, also drawing the attention of a documentary crew – and thus paying heed to the original project about the case in something of a meta way. Michael Stuhlbarg, Parker Posey, Juliette Binoche, Dane DeHaan, Olivia DeJonge, Rosemarie DeWitt, Patrick Schwarzenegger, Sophie Turner, Odessa Young and Trini Alvarado also are featured. Some of those who worked on the original version of the story had criticisms of this dramatization. ★★★ (Not rated, AS, P, V)

Since it's the final week of the year, here's a look at several of the hits of the past 12 months that may merit another look before 2022 ends.

"JURASSIC WORLD: DOMINION"

In a way, the fantasy-adventure franchise cycles back to its roots with this latest chapter, reuniting "Jurassic Park" stars Laura Dern, Sam Neill and Jeff Goldblum ... and teaming them with "Jurassic World" fixtures Chris Pratt and Bryce Dallas Howard. Dinosaurs again roam the planet after the destruction of the island that housed the cloned creatures, and not only do they pose perils of their own, they have impacts on the environment that generate natural dangers. The outcome of the situation will determine whether contemporary mankind and prehistoric beings can coexist. Executive-produced by original "Jurassic" director Steven Spielberg, the film expectedly boasts bountiful special effects. Co-star B.D. Wong returns as well, and Campbell Scott, DeWanda Wise and Kristoffer Polaha also appear. ★★★ (PG-13: AS, P, V) (Also on Blu-ray, 4K Ultra HD, Digital and On Demand)

"MINIONS: THE RISE OF GRU"

Spun off from the "Despicable Me" movies, the title characters had a major box-office hit with this animated comedy (which actually was delayed for two years by the coronavirus pandemic). The story takes Gru (voiced again by Steve Carell) back to his youth, when he and his supporting Minions (voiced by Pierre Coffin) anger an established group of villains by stealing a very special stone. That gang abducts Gru and threatens him with harm unless the Minions return the object, but in the meantime, Gru learns the finer points of being a bad guy from his captors. Julie Andrews is heard again as Gru's mother, with Alan Arkin, Taraji P. Henson, Michelle Yeoh, Jean-Claude Van Damme, Russell Brand, RZA, Danny Trejo, Lucy Lawless, Dolph Lundgren, Will Arnett and Steve Coogan also in the clearly diverse voice cast. ★★★ (PG: AS, V) (Also on Blu-ray, 4K Ultra HD, Digital and On Demand)

BY GEORGE DICKIE

Checking in with
STEVE HARTMAN

From his childhood as a Boy Scout to his work with Big Brothers Big Sisters to his role as a reporter for CBS News, Steve Hartman has always had a soft spot for acts of kindness. So he's bringing the spotlight to those who perpetrate them in an upcoming CBS special.

In "The Gift: Kindness Goes Viral," premiering Wednesday, Dec. 28, Hartman examines how one simple act of kindness can create a ripple effect that can cause real, positive change. He also meets with an MIT professor as she works out a formula that posits how kindness can spread through simple, everyday acts.

"What's always fascinated me most," explains Hartman, who also does a segment called "Kindness 101" for CBS News, "was these stories about little, simple acts of kindness that don't stop there. There'll be somebody who will do something and for whatever reason – the right circumstances or luck or coincidence, whatever it is – the kindness keeps spreading. Somebody will do something kind for somebody else. And it doesn't peter out; it just keeps going."

Among the people he highlights here are a Minneapolis woman who gives haircuts to the homeless; a Dallas school bus driver who doubled as a mentor for his charges; and an Ohio crime reporter who teamed with a girl who was going blind to create a "visual bucket list" of places and things to see for others losing their eyesight.

In each case, those acts of kindness have spawned others and it's the type of thing Hartman has been championing all his life.

"When people ask me what I do for a living, sometimes my short answer is I try to restore faith in humanity because that's kind of the direction my career has taken me ...," he says. "I think it's my parents and probably the Boy Scouts, too. I mean, this was instilled in me from all sides from a very young age."

Full name: Stephen Robert Hartman

YOUNG LAS CRUCENS DELVE INTO SOCIAL, POLITICAL THEMES

January production takes on Green Day's 'American Idiot'

BULLETIN REPORT

Blank Conversations Theatre Company (BCTC) will present "Green Day's American Idiot," the musical, at Rio Grande Theatre (RGT) in January 2023, BCTC said in a news release.

BCTC will produce the 2009 adaptation written by Green Day's Billie Joe Armstrong and Michael Mayer in six performances, Friday, Jan. 20-Saturday, Jan. 29.

The musical is based on the iconic 2004 punk album released by Green Day after the Sept. 11, 2001, terrorist attacks, at the height of political tension and media coverage, BCTC said.

"The album was released during the conflict in Iraq and was considered Green Day's rebirth and countercultural call out of the U.S. presidency, the politics of war, the role corporations play and the accountability of the media. The album was nominated for various awards and a few years later Mayer collaborated with Armstrong to release the first run of the musical at Berkeley Repertory Theatre, before moving to Broadway at the St. James Theatre in New York in 2010," BCTC said.

Leaving Suburbia

The show features three main characters, Johnny (Riley Merritt), Tunny (Tim Wilbur) and Will (Huge de Billie), who desire to leave the numbing and media-saturated life of Suburbia, the news release said. Johnny heads to the city, Tunny enlists in the Army and Will remains home with his pregnant girlfriend.

"Trying to break free from what the world has told them to be, the characters fall into dangerous paths in this unkind, post 9/11 world including addiction, war and loss," BCTC said.

Post 9/11 world

"I think it's relevant in just how powerless all of us really are," said director and BCTC co-founder Gus David Sanchez. "All of this is cyclical and carried solely by circumstances beyond our control. We're made to believe that we have full control, but we don't have control over the world that's been built for us. People my age are grown into a now post-9/11, post-2008, post-Iraq, post-Trump world. 'American Idiot' manages to say a lot about it," he said.

Joining Merritt, Wilbur and de Billie in the cast are JJ Hanley, Mattie Ruminer, Yocelin Torres, Zane Chaffee, Chad Gonzales, Reagan Szulc, Joshua Jackson, Ben Ramsey, Peyton Womble, Karen Melendrez and Dawn Franco.

Alyssa Gose is the production's music director, Jason Wyatt is the assistant director, Steven Cousler and Roxi Garcia are stage managers, Felicia Gonzales and Esther Rogge are choreographers, Topher Lininger is the producer and set designer, Angelica Lucio is the costume designer, Alia Belinte is the lighting designer and John Schwindinger is the projections designs.

Rage and love

"I had never acted in Blank Conversations shows before 'The Importance of Being Earnest' earlier this fall," said Merritt, a recent graduate of the New Mexico State University theatre department. "I not only wanted a chance to work with my friends and peers one last time before leaving, but I've also always had a firm attachment to the character of Johnny. He is someone who is fed up with the prescribed American, working-class propaganda, and he decides, no matter the consequences, to go out and seek something meaningful. As an artist in our current political and social environment, I get this same desire. I'm fed up, full of rage and love, and want to find meaning in a shallow world."

After his performance in "American Idiot," Merritt is planning to leave Las Cruces to pursue professional theatre opportunities, BCTC said.

"This show has a lot of significance for me," said Hanley, who plays Whatshername, Johnny's romantic interest. "It's a show about so many difficult topics that a lot of people can relate to, including myself, like drug use. I am a recovering drug addict, and this show brings light to how easy it is to get into drugs, and how fast drug use can ruin friendships and relationships. It's a message I believe is really important. Drug abuse is a disease and should be treated as such."

Power to choose

"American Idiot" features mature and sensitive content and topics including drug use, war, politics, mental illness and sexual content, but there are representations of resilience, hope and escaping toxic behaviors, BCTC said.

"The thing I want people to take away from this show is a realization that they have the power to choose what they surround themselves with," Gose said.

"We ultimately become what we invest our time in, and all of our leads come to understand that they need to choose a less destructive approach to their lives."

Founded in 2019, BCTC's primary mission is to bring affordable, quality, theatre productions to the Las Cruces community and to diversify the productions and theatrical work of local theatre, Sanchez said.

Giancarlo Esposito, best known for playing the proprietor of Los Pollos Hermanos in “Breaking Bad” and “Better Call Saul,” will be recognized at the 2023 Las Cruces International Film Festival.

‘Breaking Bad’ villain comes to Las Cruces

BULLETIN REPORT

Actor Giancarlo Esposito will be in Las Cruces in April 2023 to attend the Las Cruces International Film Festival, and receive the organization’s “Outstanding Achievement in Entertainment” award.

The award will be another edition to his list of honors. Past recipients of the LCIFF award include William H. Macy, Danny Trejo, Brendan Fraser, George Lopez, Cybill Shepherd, Richard Dreyfuss and Edward James Olmos.

Esposito will also host a question-and-answer session with the audience following a screening of one of his films at Allen Theatres Cineport. Esposito will also be speaking at New Mexico State University about his long and esteemed career.

“Giancarlo Esposito is an iconic New Mexico actor known for his historic roles in ‘Breaking Bad’ and ‘Better Call Saul,’ said Las Cruces International Film Festival founder and Executive Director Ross Marks. “His outstanding and diverse body of work has brought so much recognition to our great state. It is a thrill the Las Cruces International Film Festival can honor him in person. He is the consummate character actor whose values and work ethic reflect Las Cruces. We are beyond ecstatic to have him as the face of the 2023 film festival.”

Esposito was born in Copenhagen, Denmark, to an Italian carpenter and stagehand father from Naples, Italy, and an African-American opera singer mother from Alabama. He is well known by television audiences for his iconic portrayal of drug kingpin Gustavo “Gus” Fring in “Breaking Bad” for which he won the 2012 Critics’ Choice Award and earned a 2012 Emmy nomination. Esposito can be seen reprising his role of ‘Gus Fring’ on “Better Call Saul,” which has earned him 2019 and 2020 Emmy Award nominations.

Esposito will next be seen leading the cast of Netflix’s heist drama series “Kaleidoscope.” The series premieres on Jan. 1.

Esposito began his career working in theater, making his Broadway debut in the 1968 musical “Maggie Flynn,” starring opposite Shirley Jones. He also starred in the original cast of the Stephen Sondheim-Harold Prince production “Merrily We Roll Along.”

The eighth Las Cruces International Film Festival takes place April 12-16 and will be live and in person at the Allen Theatres Cineport. Tickets are available at www.lascrucesfilmfest.com.

Giancarlo Esposito returns to New Mexico.

Ukrainian violinist finds way from Luhansk to Las Cruces

By ELVA K. ÖSTERREICH
Las Cruces Bulletin

Born in a small town in the Luhansk region of Starobelsk in Ukraine, Alla Sukhomlinova was surrounded by music.

"My parents were very fond of music and from childhood I attended a music school," she said.

Alla went on with her violin to study at the College of Music in the city of Severodonetsk, graduated from the conservatory in the city of Donetsk, then went back to teach at the Severodonetsk College of Music for 12 years.

"There was grief in my life," she said. "In 2015, my husband died and when I moved to the city of Odessa with my middle daughter and her family. I worked at a music school and taught children to play the violin."

In 2019 she met American Donald Jackson, who had been "hanging around Las Cruces off and on since 1969," in the city of Odessa, they enjoyed each other and were married, and then lived in Washington state for a while.

"Since my husband fell in love with Ukraine very much, we planned to live for several months in America and several months in Ukraine," Alla said. "And so it was we came to Odessa for several months and then we flew to Ukraine for the last time on Feb. 3, 2022."

A week later they learned all foreigners were to leave Ukraine and Donald returned to America. He also had a business issue to resolve. Alla stayed with her family because, she said, Ukrainians did not believe a war would start. She went to the city of Starobelsk with two of her adult daughters for her mother's 80th birthday. Her daughter went to Kharkiv following the birthday.

"When on Feb. 24 we heard explosions at 4 in the morning we were very scared and did not know what to do," Alla said. "My eldest daughter called me from Kharkiv and said the war had begun. Russia attacked Ukraine and there was a full-scale invasion."

The family was in a panic. Alla's mother refused to leave her home, but Alla went on to Kharkiv.

"I arrived in Kharkiv by train and on that day an air raid alert was announced," she said. "Everyone had to go down to the underground parking and we had to spend nights and days there."

After a harrowing journey to Poland where one of her daughters lives, Alla was able to make her way back to the U.S. to Donald and the couple settled in Las Cruces. She had to leave everything behind, only carrying a small bag including documents and some winter clothes.

Alla's parents connected her with music, and the violin specifically, in her childhood.

"I often said it was difficult for me to learn it, but my mother insisted,"

she said. "She told me it will come in handy. I don't regret a bit. Now I enjoy playing the violin."

Now that she has landed in Las Cruces, plays the viola with an orchestra in town. She also plays as a busker at the Downtown Farmer's and Crafts Market, collecting money to send to Poland for refugees from Ukraine.

"I love small children very much," she said. "I give lessons, even in the square (plaza), I give the violin to small children, they try to play."

"The violin is a natural extension of herself," Donald said.

Alla is available for private functions as well. She can be reached at 253-264-7221 for inquiries about her services.

Taking the Night Watch: Water Conservation Team Spotlight

By Cassie McClure

The sun had set, but the water was still flowing. The Water Conservation Program (WCP) at Las Cruces Utilities (LCU) has been conducting observations to find irrigation system malfunctions and water loss throughout the city, even at night. LCU Customer Service Representative William Wilkinson patrols the streets of Las Cruces late at night, early in the morning, and all times in between to find and prevent water being wasted.

On one recent evening, water flowing on a side street spurred a quick walk up along a commercial complex. When the flow he saw ended as the hill inclined, he walked into the parking lot to examine a leaking irrigation valve at the beginning of the irrigation system.

"Many times, we're looking for water flowing off or ponding on residential or commercial properties that the occupants are not aware of, and it's found by seeing water and investigating or through outreach by the community who see the water on the street and report it to us," said Wilkinson.

The WCP, of which Wilkinson is a part, administers the Water Conservation Ordinance. The ordinance mandates days for watering for residential and commercial properties served by LCU. Outdoor watering is allowed at odd-numbered addresses only on Wednesday, Friday, and Sunday. Even addresses are allowed only on Tuesday, Thursday, and Saturday. There is no watering on Mondays. Water ponding or leaving the property is prohibited.

Administrative fees can be assessed for watering violations.

"For us, it's about education, especially when irrigation systems break due to things outside a

LCU Customer Service Representative William Wilkinson finds a broken irrigation component for a commercial complex at night. LCU will be doing audits to watch for water waste, even during the winter and at night.

person's control," said LCU WCP Coordinator Rhonda Diaz. "Right now, with temperatures dropping, we're going to be seeing leaks just from pipes bursting overnight."

Please report any water waste you might see. The team receives reports of water waste on the WCP hotline at 575-528-4444, by calling Customer Central at 575-541-2111, or emailing ConserveWater@lascruces.gov. Be prepared to provide the date and approximate time, street address or intersections, and what you observed.

Wilkinson explained that the team will follow up on every tip, but it often takes several days to contact the party responsible for the watering violation. It may take several more days for them to make the necessary changes. If you see the same violation after two weeks, please report it again.

And for those worried about their neighbors watering in the winter? "Plants still need water in the winter, too, just less," said Diaz. "Soak your trees and bushes about once a month."

UKRAINE

Since leaving Ukraine, Alla's daughters and mother have all left the country for safer environments. Her mother had broken her hand and finally acquiesced to leaving. By then the trip had become more difficult and expensive as they had to move her through Latvia and then to Poland.

"My mother was also transported to Poland because it was so dangerous there in the Luhansk region," Alla said. "Two days after her departure there was an explosion near her house, breaking windows and all the glass flew on her bed. If she had stayed in her house, I don't know if would have been dead or not."

Connecting with friends and family in Ukraine, Poland and across the world, Alla has a YouTube channel with more than 1,100 followers where she share her life and adventures in Las Cruces. It can be found at Alla California.

Lea Wise-Surguy, the co-founder, chair and executive director of Cruces Creatives, officially joined an exclusive group of entrepreneurs Thursday as the fourth inductee into the New Mexico State University Entrepreneur Hall of Fame.

Wise-Surguy earned a Master of Fine Arts degree from NMSU in 2015, and co-founded Cruces Creatives, a nonprofit makerspace located in downtown Las Cruces, in 2018. Wise-Surguy was nominated through a search organized by NMSU's Arrowhead Center and the Office of the Vice President for Research and Graduate Studies. The induction ceremony took place at Arrowhead Center Thursday afternoon.

"The idea of a makerspace as both a community toolbox and a platform for launching projects for charity, in the arts, in education, in sustainability, in technology, science and in economic development has succeeded beyond my expectations, thanks to hundreds of people incorporating their dreams and using Cruces Creatives to help make them happen," Wise-Surguy said. "I hope that this award brings greater attention to all the incredible projects that Las Cruces have launched through the makerspace."

Arrowhead Center Director and CEO Kathy Hansen presents the 2022 Entrepreneur Hall of Fame award to Lea Wise-Surguy, co-founder and executive director of Cruces Creatives.

The NMSU Entrepreneur Hall of Fame recognizes outstanding achievement in entrepreneurship among alums representing colleges and disciplines across the NMSU system who have launched successful businesses, introduced innovative entrepreneurial concepts and practices into workplaces, and who have contributed to the entrepreneurial climates of their regions. Community members nominate outstanding alumni entrepreneurs who demonstrate these qualities every fall.

Cruces Creatives provides tool access, training and a community of makers in Southern New Mexico, making possible cooperative efforts to foster economic development, improve education, support the arts, advance science and technology, protect the environment, and more. Cruces Creatives opened to the public in June 2018 and has since established a network of over 7,500 people engaging with the tools, classes, and programs.

Cruces Creatives offers 50 to 60 classes and workshops a month, many of them free, that let community members learn skills from soldering to creative writing to 3D printing and more. It also offers hands-on educational projects for more than 3,000 students every year, supported by makerspace tools, instructors and mini-grant funding for classroom projects.

It also hosts the Hub Community Bike Shop, which teaches employable skills and offers free bicycles to children, the homeless and veterans, and the Job Shop, which offers custom design and fabrication services to organizations and individuals in Las Cruces while providing employment and on-the-job skills training.

And it offers agricultural work parties for sharing and implementing sustainable practices, supported by custom technologies developed at Cruces Creatives.

"We're proud to have recognized the work Lea has done through Cruces Creatives," said Kathy Hansen, director and CEO of Arrowhead Center. "Her contributions to the community and other business owners in the region are exemplary and have earned her a spot in the Entrepreneur Hall of Fame."

Hakes opens new community

BULLETIN REPORT

Hakes Brothers held a Dec. 17 ribbon cutting to celebrate the grand opening of Sonoma Ranch 5, a new residential community on Sonoma Ranch Boulevard near U.S. Highway 70, the company said in a news release.

Sonoma Ranch 5 includes 38 luxury homesites with eight different floor plans to choose from, the news release said. Homes range from 2,088-3,627 square feet, in size, three-six bedrooms, 2.5-3.5 baths and two- or three-car garages.

"The views from Sonoma Ranch 5 are without comparison and a real treat to those who have witnessed them," said Hakes Brothers Director of Sales and Marketing Ty Taylor.

Founded in 2006, Hakes Brothers is the largest homebuilder based in New Mexico, the company said. With recent expansions in Texas, it has become one of the largest homebuilders in the region.

Aggie women head into WAC play with a pair of victories

BULLETIN REPORT

NM State's women's basketball team (5-7, 0-0 WAC) crushed Northern New Mexico 90-42 in the Pan American Center Dec. 20, and took a narrow 55-53 victory over Portland State Dec. 17 in their last two games before starting conference play.

The Aggies travel to Edinburg, Texas, to take on UT-Rio Grand Valley Dec. 29 for the Western Athletic Conference opener.

Then, for New Year's Eve, the Aggie women host Southern Utah in a 1 p.m. game Dec. 31.

That will be followed by the Aggie men, who will host Sam Houston in a 4 p.m. game, which can make it a rare men/women doubleheader for Aggie fans.

Against Northern, three Aggies scored in double figures. Lucia Yenes led all scorers with 19. Tayelin Grays scored 14 points and Molly Kaiser had 11.

Against Portland State, NM State put up a nice effort on defense, especially in the first half allowing just five shots to fall for the Vikings and holding them to no threes. In fact, the Vikings didn't record their first three-point make until the fourth quarter.

Most of Portland State's points were coming from the free-throw line, 43.3 percent of their points to be exact.

NMSU defeated Portland State 55-53 on the road Dec. 17, and beat Northern New Mexico 90-42 at home Dec. 20. The Aggies begin WAC play Dec. 29, and play at home again Dec. 31.

Holiday inspiration from two classic movies

Two of my favorite movies during the holiday season are "It's a Wonderful Life" and "A Christmas Carol." Both are classics and offer lessons we all can use to be better persons.

"It's a Wonderful Life" tells the story of a small town businessman, George Bailey (played by Jimmy Stewart) whose building and loan institution comes up short of cash on Christmas Eve, after a confused clerk loses the deposit. Faced by a surprise bank audit, and gripped by panic, George Bailey is struck by the thought that, as far as providing for his family, he is worth more dead than alive, due to modest life insurance policy.

Standing on a darkened bridge high above the freezing, roiling waters below and prepared to jump, George's guardian angel, Clarence, takes over. George did jump but only to rescue Clarence from the frigid river. Clarence then proceeds to reveal how awful things might have been in Bedford Falls, New York, if George had never been born. As he returns home, George is met by a reception of townspeople who have chipped in and made up the $8,000 bank shortfall.

It's a wonderful life.

Every year, my emotion-filled viewing of "It's a Wonderful Life" evokes feelings of joy and appreciation for all the blessings we enjoy as Americans. True, there continue to be underprivileged people, sick people, homeless folks, the poor and the hungry, all underscoring the fact our abundance is not shared by every American. We have to work on that.

But we ought not lose sight of the fact that America is the safest, most bountiful place on earth, which is why so many people are leaving their foreign homes to enter our borders. Here no one is born to be a failure because there is opportunity everywhere. No one is poor who has friends, and this is the time of year when we can look around and be thankful for all those who make life a joy.

My all-time holiday favorite is Charles Dickens' "A Christmas Carol." Over the years there have been several movie versions of this movie, also

CHARLIE BLANCHARD
Golf Doctor

titled "Scrooge," as well as hundreds of important stage productions, and even a wonderful, animated film that debuted in 2009. The very best, I think, is the 1995 film starring the late George C. Scott. Everyone, of course, knows the classic tale: A mean and miserly Ebenezer Scrooge, embittered and lonely by his singular pursuit of money, is visited by three spirits on Christmas Eve, all summoned by his long-deceased former business partner Jacob Marley. Marley seems intent on sparing old Scrooge an eternity of wandering through the nether-world burdened by dragging the heavy shackles and chains he forged in life because of failing to care enough about the "business of all mankind." After being forced by the spirits to witness the scenes of Christmas past, Christmas present and, dreadfully, the Christmas yet to come, Ebenezer Scrooge gets the message. Mr. Scrooge awakens on Christmas morning a new man.

"They've done it all in one night," he muses, amazed in his own metamorphosis. And he becomes a caring "uncle" to Tiny Tim.

The message left by Dickens is all about transformation. Nearly all Dickens' novels are permeated by themes dealing with the plight of the poorer classes, a plea for mercy for the downtrodden, and the quest of common folk to rise above.

What is different about "A Christmas Carol" is the starkly unmitigated fantasy of sudden personal transformation. Were it possible in clinical counseling and psychotherapy, sick persons would be cured of their troubles as quickly.

In life and in golf we are sometimes challenged by the possibility of, or the urgent need for, major personal change. For most of us, there is usually something important that happens -- a precipitating event -- which startles us into the realization of how useful it would be to change ourselves. It may be that we need a major makeover -- in golf or work or in life.

It might open up a whole new wonderful world for you, as it did for Ebenezer Scrooge.

Aggie football fans look forward to bowl game

By RICHARD COLTHARP
Las Cruces Bulletin

JERRY KILL

When the NM State football team broke its 57-year bowl game drought in 2017, seemingly half of Las Cruces made the short trip to Tucson to watch the Aggies defeat Utah State in the Arizona Bowl.

Now, five years later, with the improbable ascension of new coach Jerry Kill's Aggies to another bowl game, fewer fans are likely to make the trip.

First, because the Quick Lane Bowl will be in Detroit, not an easy four-hour drive down Interstate 10.

Second, the game is 12:30 in the afternoon, the day after Christmas, when many are still traveling for the holiday. However, thanks to the magic of cable and satellite television, and the federal scheduling of holidays when they fall on a weekend, almost everyone who wants to see the 6-6 Aggies take on 6-6 Bowling Green can watch on TV.

If you want to see the game with a bunch of other Aggie fans, call your favorite sports bar, pub or restaurant and see if they're hosting a watch party.

QUICK LANE BOWL

LOCATION: Ford Field, Detroit

DATE: Monday, Dec. 26

TIME: 12:30 p.m. MST

TEAMS: NMSU Aggies (6-6) vs. Bowling Green (Ohio) Falcons (6-6)

TV: ESPN

RADIO: 99.5 FM KXPZ Las Cruces, with Aggie Hall of Famer Jack Nixon on the call

ODDS: BGSU is favored by 2 to 3.5 points, depending on the source

Below is a sampling of places that are making open invitations to NMSU faithful. Most all of them are encouraging fans to arrive early, as seating is on a first-come, first-served basis.

• Rudy's Country Store and BBQ, 1020 N. Telshor Blvd. This is NMSU's official local watch party; in-house dining available.

• Cineport 10, 700 S. Telshor Blvd. (in the Mesilla Valley Mall). Allen Theatres' Russell Allen said there will be no charge, but he expects seats to go quickly. The normal movie concessions will be available.

• The Game, 2605 S. Espina St., and the Game II, 4131 Northrise Drive, will both be open at noon to host, well, the game. You can call ahead for reservations. Proprietor Marci Dickerson said specials will include $3.50 domestic draft beers, and all of the Game's specialty hot dogs will be priced at $10.

• Hooters, 3530 Foothills Road. "The bowl game will be on all our screens and we'll have the sound up," said Mark Graves of Hooters. "If you can't go to the game, this will be the next best thing. The place will be jumping and everyone will be cheering."

Aggie Hall of Fame radio broadcaster Jack Nixon will be making the trip with the team, so you can follow along with that familiar voice on 99.5 FM KXPZ.

Nixon said he and the NMSU contingent will leave Las Cruces Friday, Dec. 23, meaning they'll all spend Christmas away from home.

"There will be a Christmas dinner for the team, as well as a Christmas Eve dinner," said Nixon, who has been the Aggie announcer since 1976 and will be calling just his second NMSU bowl game.

Because the Quick Lane Bowl will be the only bowl game played Dec. 26, many Aggie supporters are hoping it can shine a positive national spotlight on NMSU football.

Coach Kill and the program have already had national media attention leading up to the game.

Many Las Cruces will choose to watch the game from the comfort of their own home, or will attend a house party with friends and family.

If you plan to watch the game as an extension of breakfast, you might consider a simple recipe, the result of multiple experiments by this reporter:

RICH'S CHILAQUILES

INGREDIENTS: corn tortillas, your favorite red chile sauce, 4 eggs, grated cheese (asadero, mozzarella and cheddar), white onion.

DIRECTIONS: In a standard size non-stick pan, spread four corn tortillas and cook lightly in your favorite oil. Season eggs with salt, pepper and your favorite spices; beat well and pour over tortillas. While eggs are cooking, pour in red chile sauce and sprinkle cheese. As eggs continue to cook, periodically spoon in more chile and cheese. When eggs reach your preferred consistency, remove and serve. Add more red chile sauce as desired. Top with chopped onion.

Aggie men set to start WAC

BULLETIN REPORT

The New Mexico State University men's basketball team kicks off Western Athletic Conference play 7 p.m. Wednesday, Dec. 28, hosting Southern Utah in the Pan American Center.

They'll follow that up with a 4 p.m. home game Saturday, Dec. 31, against Sam Houston.

The Aggies went into the Dec. 21-22 WestStar Don Haskins Sun Bowl Invitational in El Paso with a 6-4 record. Those games took place after the Bulletin went to press, so we don't have the results of those games. NMSU opened the invitational with a game against Kent State. The winners of that game were slated to meet the winners of the UTEP/North Carolina A&T game. The losers faced each other as well.

NMSU went 1-2 during a crazy three-game road trip which saw the Aggies lose 66-65 to Santa Clara in California Dec. 7. Then, they traveled to Pittsburgh where they defeated Duquesne 73-60 Dec. 11. After that, they traveled back to California, where they lost 81-68 at St. Mary's. Finally back home, NMSU handled Northern New Mexico 95-53 Dec. 18 in the Pan Am.

Marchelus Avery scores two of his career-high 26 points Dec. 18 as New Mexico State University defeated Northern New Mexico 95-53 in the Pan Am. The Aggies' next home game will be 7 p.m. Wednesday, Dec. 28, against Southern Utah in the Western Athletic Conference opener.
