Pili has new state question: Red (the Chiefs) or Green (the Eagles)?

By MIKE COOK

Las Cruces Bulletin

Las Cruces City Manager Ifo Pili will be pulling for his old team, the Philadelphia Eagles, in Super Bowl LVII this Sunday. After all, the former defensive lineman has an Eagles NFC championship ring from their 2004-05 season.

But Pili won't be heartbroken if the Kansas City Chiefs wind up winning the Big Game. That's because the Eagles coach then is the Chiefs coach now – Andy Reid – for whom Pili has great admiration and gratitude.

After a devastating elbow injury cut short his tenure with the Houston Texans in his first NFL season, Pili was invited by Reid to join the Eagles.

"I'll always be appreciative to Andy for giving me that shot," Pili said.

The Eagles went 13-3, beating the Atlanta Falcons in the NFC championship game before losing to Tom Brady's New England Patriots 24-21 in Super Bowl XXXIX 18 years ago this month.

The next season, Pili would sign with the Patriots, playing under Coach Bill Belichick and with Brady.

Playing in what some consider the world's greatest sports championship game "was an amazing experience," Pili said. "It's not something everybody gets to do."

Pili is also connected to Reid by Brigham Young University, where each played for the legendary LaVell Edwards during his 29-year career as BYU's head coach. Reid flew Edwards to Jacksonville, Florida, to join him on the sidelines for the Super Bowl XXXIX.

Pili, a native of American Samoa who moved to Orem, Utah, in 1994 during his sophomore year of high school, grew up a Chicago Bears fan, he said, remembering 1985 when the Bears were 15-1 and won Super Bowl XX with BYU graduate Jim McMahon at quarterback.

Playing under coaches such as Edwards, Reid and Belichick and alongside players such as Brady during his season with the Patriots, has helped guide Pili as Eagle Mountain, Utah, city administrator from 2012-2020 and as Las Cruces city manager since September 2020.

Unlike other sports, he said, in football, "you're essentially playing different games."

On defense, it's almost like "hand-to-hand combat with the guy in front of you," Pili said. "Everybody goes after the ball carrier. It doesn't matter who gets there first."

And, while it's a "different dynamic" for the quarterback and the kicker, everyone shares the common goal of winning.

And because he played for one of the NFL's worst teams (the Texans were 4-12) and two of the best (the Eagles and Patriots), Pili said he "was able to see, almost side by side, what a winning team looks like and what a losing team looks like."

The great teams have strong leadership – Patriots owner Robert Kraft was at Pili's locker to welcome him to the team on his first day – but good coaches know real leadership means "a collection of leadership moments that everybody takes part in," he said.

On his high school football team, at BYU and in the NFL, Pili said he recognized success means "learning how to work together," with team members using their skills and talents to achieve "something bigger than you."

Like the engraving on his Eagles' NFL championships ring, Pili's goal in Las Cruces is "One team. One city. One dream."

When Pili played for

New England, the Patriots had just won back-to-back Super Bowls under Brady's leadership.

"I have a lot of respect for Tom," Pili said. "Tom was a great guy."

"Tom has nothing more to prove," Pili said a few days after Brady announced his retirement after 23 seasons with the Patriots and Tampa Bay Buccaneers, agreeing with the widely held opinion that Brady is the NFL's greatest player of all time.

Super Bowl prediction

As far as this year's big game between two of his old teams, which will be played 4:30 p.m. MST Sunday, Feb. 12, in Arizona and televised on FOX, Pili predicted the Eagles would win Super Bowl LVII 31-14.

BULLETIN REPORT

The Astronomical Society of Las Cruces (ASLC) will hold an outreach event at 6 p.m. Saturday, Feb. 11, at the ASLC observatory at Leasburg Dam State Park, 12712 State Park Road in Radium Springs.

“One of the observing targets, in fact the ‘star’ of the show, will be the so-called green comet that is currently in our dark skies,” said former ASLC President Ed Montes.

ASLC’s viewing will be as the comet appears close to Mars in the sky.

“Other objects in the sky include Venus, Jupiter and a variety of star clusters and nebulae,” Montes said. “We will also be commemorating the 10th anniversary of the observatory by naming it after one of our founders, Walter Haas,” Montes said.

C/2022 E3 (ZTF), known as the green comet because of the green color it derives from its gas molecules, was discovered in 2022. The comet was closest to Earth Feb. 1 when it was 26 million miles away, Montes said. It will be 50,000 years before it is this close again, he said.

The comet’s official name comes from “C” to indicate it is a non-periodic comet, taking more than 200 years to orbit the sun; it was discovered in 2022 at Zwicky Transient Facility (ZTF) in San Diego County, California. ASLC was founded in 1951 by Clyde Tombaugh – who discovered Pluto in 1930 – and other area astronomers. Visit aslcnm.org.

Chef ambassadors named

BULLETIN REPORT

The New Mexico Department of Agriculture (NMDA) has selected chefs Jordan Isaacson of Las Cruces and Jon Young of Corrales, New Mexico, as the second class of the NEW MEXICO—Taste the Tradition Chef Ambassador Program, NMDA said in a news release.

Isaacson and Young were selected through a competitive application process and will serve two-year terms advocating for and promoting New Mexico food and agriculture at various events, including the New Mexico State Fair and HomeGrown: A New Mexico Food Show and Gift Market, as well as industry conferences and tradeshows.

“The new chef ambassadors will continue to do an excellent job of promoting New Mexico products,” said NMDA Sec. Jeff Witte. “Jon and Jordan are very talented and bring lots of experience to the program. We look forward to the chefs increasing awareness of New Mexico food and beverages while bringing attention to their personal craft and brand.”

Originally from Barrington, Illinois, Isaacson began his culinary education at the Illinois Institute of Art and completed his degree at the Art Institute of Colorado in Denver. He obtained a bachelor of arts degree in culinary management and graduated magna cum laude.

After culinary school,

Isaacson worked at and managed several Denver restaurants and became lead instructor at a culinary school. He later spent a season cooking at a Forbes five-star resort, Magee Homestead, in rural Wyoming.

“Isaacson currently works as the head chef at Grounded Cafe in downtown Las Cruces, where he has created a menu that represents how he likes to cook: plant-forward, technique-driven and house-made,” NMDA said.

Young is a classically trained French and Italian chef with more than 30 years of food service experience, including designing menus and owning several New Mexico restaurants, the news release said.

Know the signs

Do you know how to identify a natural gas leak? You might smell sulfur or rotten eggs, you may notice dirt or debris shooting up out of a hole in the ground, dead or dying vegetation in an otherwise green area, and a loud hissing or roaring sound near pipeline markers. These and many more are all tell tale signs of a natural gas or pipeline leak. Use all your senses, even common sense and report any possible leaks to Zia Natural Gas Company. When in doubt call us out!

As always, Zia personnel are available 24/7 for all natural gas emergencies. Call (575) 526-4GAS (4427) if you have a natural gas emergency.

Booth settles in as leader of Branigan Memorial Library

By MIKE COOK
Las Cruces Bulletin

Sarah Booth is the new deputy director of the City of Las Cruces Quality of Life Department and administrator of Thomas Branigan Memorial Library (TBML).

Booth replaces Margaret Neill at TBML. Neill left Las Cruces last year to become library division director for the City of Santa Fe.

Booth moved into her office Jan. 17 on the second floor of Branigan, 200 E. Picacho Ave.

"I'm just so excited to be a part of this community," she said. "We've got amazing staff and the support from the city has been incredible."

Booth was previously assistant director of the Montgomery County Memorial Library System, which has seven locations in southeast Texas. She was with MCMLS for seven years. Before that, Booth spent 15 years with the Harris County Public Library, based in Conroe, Texas, with 26 branches in and around Houston.

TBML has more than 30 staff members at the main library and branches at Munson Senior Center, 975 S. Mesquite St., and at Sage Café Senior Center, 6121 Reynolds Drive.

Booth said she is "talking to every single staff member" to get to know them and to hear "their input on the decisions we're making.

Sarah Booth comes to Las Cruces from southeast Texas.

My job is to support the staff so they can do their jobs," she said.

"The staff is so inventive," Booth said. "The programs we have for all ages are creative and innovative. We are here to serve the community and we want people to visit," she said.

In additions to thousands of books to read and check out, the library has e-books and books by mail, newspapers and magazine, videos, a genealogy collection, the Tierra Sagrada Seed Library and seed sharing program, free computer access and a teen library. A grant will allow TBML to soon begin adult basic education classes, Booth said. The library also has artwork and science kits that can be checked out. And it has rooms, including the Roadrunner room on the second floor, that can be rented out for public events.

Booth said six staff members are part of the library's display committee, which regularly changes exhibits throughout the library. Several miniatures are now on display.

Booth is a native of Oklahoma City. While living in Farmington, New Mexico, she took a part-time summer job at Farmington Public Library and gave up a teaching career to become a librarian.

Booth has a bachelor of arts degree in 17th century French history from Austin College in Sherman, Texas and a master of arts degree in library science from the University of Arizona.

TBML is open 9 a.m.-8 p.m. Monday-Thursday, 10 a.m.-6 p.m. Friday and Saturday and 1-5 p.m. Sunday. Munson Library is open 10:15-2 p.m. Monday-Friday. Sage Library is open 9 a.m.-2 p.m. Tuesday-Friday.

Creative industries could benefit from bill

BULLETIN REPORT

"Part of what makes us the Land of Enchantment is because we are home to a rich diversity of artists, creatives, and cultural history that comprise the fabric of New Mexico," state Sen. Jeff Steinborn of Las Cruces said Jan. 27 as he joined state Rep. Reena Szczepanski in Santa Fe to introduce House Bill 8, which would establish a Division of Creative Industries in the New Mexico Economic Development Department.

"With Las Cruces, Albuquerque, and Santa Fe all just named among the best places to live and work for filmmakers, we are seeing the dividends from smart, targeted investments in the arts and creative industries," Steinborn said in a news release issued by New Mexico House Democrats. "The Creative Industries Division will expand investment in our artistic and creative assets to support new economic development opportunities."

"As we strive to diversify our economy, we must lift up the heart and soul of New Mexico," Szczepanski said. "From flamenco studios; to potters and furniture makers; to tech, design, and architecture, this division will unlock incredible economic potential in our creative and cultural industries, creating good jobs and a larger global footprint for rural, tribal, and urban communities throughout the state."

Following a similar model as the Division of Outdoor Recreation established in 2019 through legislation introduced by Steinborn, the goal of the Division of Creative Industries would be to spur job creation and local economic growth by providing grants, professional services, infrastructure capital, workforce training and business consultation to professionals and entrepreneurs in New Mexico's creative fields, the news release said.

Black history is also Las Cruces history

He was a Tuskegee Airman, the U.S. Army's first African-American air fighting corps, formed during World War II, when the military was still segregated.

Las Cruces Clayton Flowers didn't fly one of those P-51 Red Tails that made the Airmen famous, but he helped train those who did.

He also gave perhaps the best quote I've ever received when doing an interview.

In December 2018, when I attended Flowers' 103rd birthday (he recently made it to 107!), I had the honor of visiting with him, and asked, "Of all things you've done over so many years, of which accomplishment are you most proud?"

He paused for a long time, so long I started to wonder if he'd heard my question.

Finally, he responded. "I think I'm most proud of the fact my children like themselves," Flowers said.

RICHARD COLTHARP
From the Publisher

It took a minute for that to soak in. Not until later did I realize the power in that statement.

Flowers is not the only Tuskegee Airman who called Las Cruces home.

Another was Dr. James B. Williams, who grew up here and, after World War II, earned a chemistry degree from New Mexico State University. He got his medical degree at Creighton and broke racial barriers practicing medicine in Chicago, where he also served as personal physician to Dr. Martin Luther King. In 1963, he met with President John F. Kennedy with part of a national group fighting to end discrimination in hospitals.

Williams' mother, however, born in 1905, came along too soon to avoid serious discrimination.

If the name Clara Belle Williams sounds familiar, you may have seen her name on a building on the NMSU campus.

Williams and her husband, Jasper, arrived in southern New Mexico in the 1920s. In 1908, she had been valedictorian at the historically Black college in Texas now known as Prairie View A&M. She and her husband were teaching school in Vado and then Las Cruces when Clara Belle enrolled at NMSU (then New Mexico College of Agriculture and Arts) in 1928. Because she had to go to college around her teaching schedule, taking mostly summer classes, it took her nine years to graduate, in 1937.

But the extra time was not the hard part.

Because she was Black, she was shunned from most of her classrooms, forced to listen to lectures from the hallway, taking notes while standing and leaning toward the door.

When it came graduation time, enough students protested about attending commencement with a Black woman that officials canceled the ceremony. That didn't prevent Clara Belle from being the university's first African-American graduate.

Years later, in 1980, NMSU awarded Williams another degree, an honorary doctorate of laws, which came with an official apology for the earlier struggles she endured.

SEE HISTORY, PAGE 7

State must begin transition now

Term limits can be incredibly liberating, as former Republican Gov. Gary Johnson demonstrated when he professed his love for marijuana shortly after winning re-election in 1998.

Gov. Michelle Lujan Grisham has the twin advantages of not having to run again, and going into her second term with financial resources that are beyond the wildest dreams of her predecessors.

Unfortunately, that is due primarily to the unrestrained greed of U.S. oil companies.

Between them, Exxon ($55 billion), Shell ($40 billion), Chevron (36.5 billion) and ConocoPhillips (18.7 billion) made more than $150 billion in profits last year. That was more than the gross domestic product for the nation of Hungary.

While that is enraging to drivers, it is enriching to the state. More than half of the state's budget is expected to come from a windfall in oil and gas revenue.

Lujan Grisham made early-childhood education a primary focus in her first term, and was able to pass meaningful changes that will benefit the state long after she is out of office. The primary focus of her second term should be ending, or at least reducing, our dependence on gas and oil revenue.

She isn't there yet. Her agenda includes cutting the Gross Receipts Tax and increasing support for film production, but there's nothing to create new economic opportunities.

Clearly, no one thing will fill the void. It will take both the growth of existing industries and the creation of new ones. Last August, the state reported it had collected $22.7 million in taxes following the first six months of legal cannabis sales. It's a start.

WALT RUBEL
The View From Here

Las Cruces lawmakers are proposing solutions. In the Senate, Bill Soules has introduced bills to help state universities obtain more research funding through grants and study the feasibility of a high-speed railway running the length of the state.

Joseph Cervantes has sponsored a bill that would create a new fund and council specifically dedicated to "prosperity and economic resiliency." Carrie Hamblen has introduced legislation to allow Las Cruces to establish a redevelopment zone in the El Paseo-Solano area. And, Jeff Steinborn is co-sponsor of a bill that would create a new division in the Economic Development Department for "creative industries" like art, entertainment and media.

In the House, Angelica Rubio has sponsored a bill to create a new division to help workers transition from jobs in the oil fields. And, Doreen Gallegos has sponsored a bill that would provide technical support and public resources to entrepreneurs.

Gas prices are down by more than $1.50 a gallon from their peak last June. This opportunity won't last long. The governor needs to join lawmakers in this effort.

Walter Rubel is a freelance journalist based in Las Cruces. His 40-plus-year career includes work in Colorado, Wyoming, Kansas and—since 2002—in New Mexico, covering Las Cruces and the state Legislature. His opinions are his own and do not necessarily reflect the views of the Las Cruces Bulletin. Rubel can be reached at waltrubel@gmail.com.

HISTORY

Years after Clara Belle, and later her son James, walked the sidewalks of NMSU's campus, other Black students and administrators made history in the field of athletics.

Pervis Atkins was a member of those 1959 and 1960 back-to-back Sun Bowl-winning NMSU football Aggies. Not only that, Atkins led the whole nation in rushing yardage in 1959. Did you know, in fact, that African-American Aggie runners led the nation in rushing for four straight seasons? Following Atkins, Bob Gaiters led the country in 1960, and Preacher Pilot was the top NCAA rusher in both 1961 and '62.

After his pro football career, Atkins foreshadowed NMSU and Las Cruces' later involvement in the film industry. The man who wore No. 27 as an Aggie became an actor and producer in movies and television in the 1970s and '80s. Perhaps his most notable acting role was in 1974's "The Longest Yard," where Atkins played a prison football player alongside Burt Reynolds.

Many of you have seen NMSU's 1970 Final Four banner hanging from the rafters of the Pan American Center. If you're under 50, the names Jimmy Collins and Sam Lacey may not ring a bell for you. But those were the stars of that Final Four team, stars who made their way to Las Cruces because Coach Lou Henson actively sought to recruit African-Americans at a time when many universities, particularly in the South, refused.

In 2004, NMSU brought in McKinley Boston as athletic director, a role at that time rarely filled by African Americans.

In America's bicentennial year, 1976, Albert Johnson became the mayor of Las Cruces, the first African-American to serve as a mayor in the state of New Mexico.

He served for four years, but passed before his time, at age 49 in 1984 of leukemia. His namesake park and statue fill the southeast corner of Main Street and Picacho Avenue.

Many years later, Johnson's cousin and co-worker at White Sands Missile Range, Alfred Rucks, served on the national board of directors of the NAACP.

Just north of Las Cruces, for 25 years between 1866 and 1891, a thousand Buffalo Soldiers – the often revered African-American members of the U.S. Army -- served or passed through Fort Selden.

You've heard the saying Black history is American history.

Black history is also Las Cruces history.

Progress Club advocates for children

BULLETIN REPORT

The GFWC Progress Club of Las Cruces gathered stuffed animals donated by members during the club's January meeting to donate to La Piñon Sexual Assault Recovery Services "for the children they are helping," said club member Debbie Campbell.

The club also decorated and donated holiday stockings in December to La Piñon as part of the club's 2022-23 initiative as advocates for children, said club President Minel Schlaefli. Club members also recognized at the meeting January as National Human Trafficking Awareness Month, Campbell said.

"Around the world, there are 62 million people affected (by human trafficking), with at least 400,000 in the United States and the number is growing," the club said. Club members will hang posters to raise awareness of behaviors and/or signs that might indicate human traffick-

SCSWA Welcomes Visitors for Tours

Submitted by South Central Solid Waste Authority

SCSWA Recycling Foreman Daniel Ortega leading a tour group at the Recycling Center.

Educators: Are you interested in having your students know more about where their solid waste goes and how recycling works in Las Cruces? South Central Solid Waste Authority offers free educational site tours of their Amador Transfer Center and Recycling Center for classes and groups.

In January, students from Mission Academy spent time at SCSWA, supplementing the focus of their in-class learning. SCSWA Recycle Education Coordinator, Brandi Misquez, provided discussion and educational presentations to learners aged four through 13.

"Field experience is an important part of learning at Mission Academy, and their in-person educational experience was tailored for each group," said Misquez.

The main observation from the tour groups was how much recyclable material was in the pit, where the solid waste is gathered and compressed before taken to the landfill.

After spending the week in class learning about recycling and how small daily changes can make a big difference, students were shocked to see how much recyclable material gets thrown out in our trash receptacles.

"People are putting a lot of trash in recycling bins," said Max, while Draven mentioned how some recyclables could be turned into clothing or shoes. They were amazed that each person generates about five pounds of trash daily.

"I learned that pizza boxes are not recyclable," said Grayson. "They get ruined by food contamination."

"Providing these tours to the next generation offers real-world experience and shows the vast occupational opportunities in waste management," said Misquez.

"The workforce of tomorrow needs these experiences. The questions their inquisitive minds asked during the tours also provided our staff a look into how we can improve site visits in the future."

The size of the transfer station surprised many students. An in-person tour allowed them to check out the technology used to process recyclables.

Any group or class can arrange a tour and can be shaped to what students are learning in the classroom. For more information or to set up a tour, please contact Misquez at (575)528-3587 or bmisquez@scswa.net.

Students tour the catwalk near the tipping floor at the Amador Transfer Station.

South Central Solid Waste Authority manages recyclables and solid waste for residents and businesses throughout Doña Ana County. Contact SCSWA at (575) 528-3800 or visit www.SCSWA.net.

Regional Employer Support of the Guard and Reserve Chair Regina Lane, Doña Ana County Deputy Fire Chief Eric Crespin and Fire Chief Shannon Cherry recognize Crespin's Patriotic Employer award from the Employer Support of the National Guard and Reserve. The Patriot Award reflects the efforts made to support citizen warriors through a wide range of measures, including flexible schedules, time off prior to and after deployment, caring for families and granting leaves of absence, the county said. Crespin was nominated by firefighter and paramedic - as well as National Guard and Reserve member - Clete Powell.

WSMR Hall of Fame nominations sought

BULLETIN REPORT

White Sands Missile Range (WSMR) is now accepting nominations from all sources until the end of March for the WSMR Hall of Fame (HOF).

The HOF was established in 1980 to give appropriate and perpetual recognition to those members of the WSMR workforce, military and civilian, who have made singularly significant contributions to the mission on the Range and to the surrounding communities, and induction is the highest award the missile range can bestow on one of its own.

There are 56 current HOF members, Eckles said. Past honorees include Clyde Tombaugh, Frances Williams, Mary Beth Reinhart and Ed Noble. "You don't have to be a world-class scientist to be recognized in the HOF," said Jim Eckles secretary of WSMR's Historical Foundation Society.

The HOF contains men and women, civilian and military personnel, government and contractor employees and a huge mix of professions. To enter the HOF, a nominee must have been responsible for significant and lasting deeds or achievements during his or her career at WSMR. All former military, civilian and contractor personnel who have served at WSMR are eligible for nomination. No one currently working at the range is eligible.

For information on nomination procedures or to request an updated copy of the HOF guide, call the WSMR Public Affairs Office at 575-678-1134. The guide contains the forms, guidelines and procedures for nomination.

City makes garden plots available to public

BULLETIN REPORT

If you have ever wanted to grow your own vegetables and flowers, here is your opportunity.

The City of Las Cruces Parks and Recreation Department opened leases for available community garden plots to the public Feb. 1, the city said in a news release.

The cost to lease a garden plot from Feb. 1-Dec. 31 is $15, the city said.

Plots are available to lease at these community gardens: Las Esperanza, 341 E. Picacho Ave.; Sage, 6121 Reynolds Drive.; and Tony Gomez, 2250 S. Espina St.

Residents may sign-up and pay for their plot lease and acknowledge the community garden rules and regulations at the

Parks and Rec administration office, 1501 E. Hadley Ave., Building B.

There are a limited number of plots available and only one plot can be leased per person. Call the city to conform availability at 575-541-2550.

The Association hosts 'Girls ... Leveling Up' conference

By MIKE COOK

Las Cruces Bulletin

In celebration of International Women's Day, the Association of Las Cruces is hosting the Girls ... Leveling Up Conference, Wednesday, March 8, at New Mexico Farm and Ranch Heritage Museum (NMFRHM), 4100 Dripping Springs Road.

With speakers from local businesses, government, nonprofits and higher education, the conference will bring together 50 girls from each Las Cruces Public Schools middle school and high school to help them "to know their value, create strong boundaries and see themselves in the women of our community," said The Association co-founders Marci Dickerson and Sumer Rose Nolen.

son and Sumer Rose Nolen.

"All things are possible; you can do anything" is the message of the conference for participating girls, said Dickerson, who is the owner of The Game and Game II and Dickerson's Catering and Party.

"The more young women can interact with successful businesses in the world and in their own community, the more they know the possibilities out there," said Rose Nolen, owner of Living Fit(ter) and SRN Financial Services. Dickerson and Rose Nolen will both serve as emcees during the conference, and Rose Nolen will speak on the topic of "Money for Young Women."

The other conference speakers are:

- Former Doña Ana

ROSE NOLEN

DICKERSON

County Manager and City of Sunland Park Manager Julia Brown, on "You Can Do Anything." Brown is the former national board chair of the American Association of University Women and of the Doña Ana County Federation of Democratic Women.

- Cece Meadows, owner of Prados Beauty of Las Cruces, whose topic is "See Yourself in Me – How She Built an Indigenous-Inspired Beauty Business."

- Marci Salinas-Milan, program director for New Mexico State University's

Nusenda Center for Financial Capability, whose conference topic is "Build Your Resume, Build Your Future."

- A speaker from La Piñon Sexual Assault and Recovery Services of Las Cruces, on the topic of "Know Your Worth – Setting Boundaries and Putting Yourself First." Dickerson and Rose Nolen said this presentation in particular will help young women develop relationship foundations and recognize the triggers and consequences of poor relationships.

The conference's youngest participant will be 9-year-old Austyn Blazer, who is helping print tee shirts and bags for the conference, Dickerson and Rose Nolen said.

The conference will also have a career fair with many local businesses represented, they said.

The wide range of employers at the business fair demonstrates for the participants that "you don't have to fit a mold to be successful," Dickerson and Rose Nolen said, and you don't have to go to college or leave Las Cruces to have a successful career.

The Association is sponsoring the conference in partnership with LCPS. Presentations are age specific, as middle and high school girls have different needs and face different challenges, they said.

Students interested in participating in the conference should contact their school counselors, Dickerson and Rose Nolen said.

The Association was created in 2019 "to provide ambitious female professionals and entrepreneurs a place to network, develop, connect and support one another through meaningful relationships & expert business-development instruction," according to its website.

For more information, including being a conference sponsor and/or participating in the career fair, contact Rose Nolen at 575-640-2014. Contact Dickerson at 575-644-0778. Visit theassociationlc.net and facebook.com/theassociationlc.

Local legislators introduce bills

BULLETIN REPORT

State Rep. Joanne J. Ferrary, a Las Cruces Democrat, is sponsoring a bill in the 2023 New Mexico Legislature “to increase public safety and address the harms that alcohol-related incidents cause in New Mexico,” Ferrary said in a news release.

Ferrary was joined by co-sponsor Sen. Antoinette Sedillo Lopez, D-Bernalillo, Jan. 27, the news release said. The bill, filed as House Bill 230 and Senate Bill 259, “Liquor Tax Rates and Differential” would create an alcohol harms alleviation fund.

“New Mexico has the most alcohol-related deaths per capita in the country,” Ferrary said. “In 2021, 2,274 New Mexicans died due to alcohol,” she said, citing the New Mexico Department of Health. Her bill “would address this issue by increasing the alcohol excise tax to 25 cents per drink,” Ferrary said. “This would generate an additional $155 million for ... prevention, treatment and reduction programs to help reduce alcohol-related harms.”

FERRARY

Bill on human rights

State Sen. Carrie Hamblen of Las Cruces was one of four New Mexico legislators who introduced the Human Rights Act Modernization bill (House Bill 207) Jan. 26.

If passed and signed into law by Gov. Michelle Lujan Grisham, the legislation “will be the most proactive and protective bill for LGBTQ people in the country,” Equality New Mexico (ENM) said in a news release.

“The Human Rights Act was enacted in 1969 to ensure that all New Mexicans are protected from discrimination in employment, housing, credit and public accommodation,” according to the New Mexico Department of Workforce Solutions. In 2003, New Mexico became the 17th state to add sexual orientation and the third state to add gender identity to such an act, said ENM. “The Human Rights Act has a loophole that allows taxpayer-funded discrimination. (HB207) will close that loophole, prohibiting discrimination against LGBTQ New Mexicans in public schools, universities and state and local governments,” the release said.

Bill on lobbying

State Sen. Jeff Steinborn, a Las Cruces Democrat, introduced a bill Jan. 26 that would require lobbyists in New Mexico “to report all their lobbying activity on all legislation they work on or advocate for or against,” Steinborn said in a news release.

“Senate Bill 218 would, for the first time, reveal the full range of companies and interest groups involved in trying to shape or stop legislation,” Steinborn said.

“Transparency is the bedrock of good government, and this legislation would create a level playing field by bringing all factors involved in the legislative process into the light,” said state Sen. Mark Moores, an Albuquerque Republican who is co-sponsoring SB218 with Steinborn.

wide opportunity, House Bill 8 establishes at least 50 percent of funding appropriated from the division would be distributed to rural and underserved communities. Today, New Mexico’s creative and cultural industry contributes $5.6 billion to the state economy and provides $2.4 billion in annual wages, House Democrats said.

“With rich legacies in the fine arts, design, crafts, cuisine, music, and dance, the creative industries are without a doubt an economic strength for New Mexico with incredible untapped potential to expand,” they said.

House Bill 8 lays out the scope of the division, proposing an operating budget of $2 million and a one-time appropriation of $67 million from the general fund to provide a funding pool to make targeted ongoing investments, the news release said.

“With targeted investments in this sector—similar to the successful investments that we have made in film—we can identify, enact, and scale the strongest ideas from all across our state, harnessing the potential that’s waiting for us in the minds and spirits of New Mexico’s deeply creative people,” said Lea Wise-

Surguy, executive director of Cruces Creatives makerspace nonprofit.

“We often make the mistake of thinking that art and industry are mutually exclusive,” said Doña Ana Arts Council Executive Director Greg Smith of Las Cruces. “We too often make a similar mistake and exclude art from our dialogue about educating for science, technology, engineering and mathematics. House Bill 8 will help correct these mistakes. With ‘creative industries’ we see the natural place art holds in the cultural industry and its relationship to science, math, and technology. HB8 will firmly establish a powerful future for New Mexico arts and culture and the entrepreneurs of the future,” Smith said.

“I have been a practicing and professional theater artist, producer and writer for some 40 years,” Irene Oliver-Lewis told the Bulletin. “Never in all these years have I been involved with such innovative and monumental legislation as HB8. The passage of HB8 is a game changer for everyone working in the arts—small businesses, entrepreneurs, sole proprietors, and arts organizations. The bill elevates the concept of workforce creation and economic development in the arts for today and the future.”

How to follow the legislative session

The first session of the 56th New Mexico Legislature, which began Jan. 17 in Santa Fe, is nearing the halfway point as legislators consider a record $12 billion budget.

Thursday, Feb. 16, is the last day for legislators to introduce bills during the 60-day session, which ends Saturday, March 18.

Follow all the action at www.nmlegis.gov.

You can search for a bill, resolution, memorial or capital outlay request on the site’s home page. Or, click on “Legislation,” or on “Legislators,” find a senator or representative and scroll down to “Sponsored Legislation” on his or her page.

You can click on any bill by number to see its sponsors and co-sponsors; committee(s) it has been assigned to; text of the bill as introduced and amended; votes on the bill, and more.

Burrell College receives national diversity award

By MIKE COOK

Las Cruces Bulletin

Students, faculty, staff, board members and supporters of Burrell College of Osteopathic Medicine (BCOM) gathered at the school Jan. 20 to unveil a national award won by the medical school.

“At BCOM we are given a platform through which our stories really matter,” BCOM Student Doctor and Executive Board President of Burrell College of Osteopathic Medicine’s Student Government Association Alberto Velasco said as the school unveiled its 2022 Health Professions Higher Education Excellence in Diversity (HEED) Award from INSIGHT Into Diversity magazine.

“What we experience, where we are from ... is such an important tool,” said BCOM Board of Trustees Vice Chair Denise Gonzales, MD, who grew up in southern Doña Ana County.

“I’m honored to be part of this great medical school from the very beginning,” said BCOM President and CEO John Hummer. “This organization is all about diversity, equity and inclusion,” said Board Chair John Harris, who is CEO of Memorial Medical Center.

“Our diversity drives our excellence,” said BCOM Dean William Pieratt, DO.

In addition to BCOM students and staff, the award honors the indigenous people who were inhabitants of the BCOM site, said Chief Diversity Officer Erica Hughey.

“Of all students enrolled this year at Burrell College, 57 percent are female and 23 percent are underrepresented minorities,” BCOM said in a news release. “This is the first time the college has been selected for recognition. This award is presented by the oldest and largest diversity-focused publication in higher education. Burrell was one of six osteopathic medical schools to receive this honor.”

BCOM broke ground in 2015 at 3501 Arrowhead Drive on the New Mexico State University campus in 2015 and welcomed its first class in 2016. Its first class graduated in 2020.

to be located within the NW ¼ NE ¼ of Section 18, Township 20 South, Range 3 East (NMPM), and more specifically located where Latitude and Longitude intersect at 32° 34' 29.52" N, 106° 40' 22.23" W (WGS84), on land owned by the applicant, for the continued diversion of 3.0 acre-feet per annum for live-stock purposes, as described by Subfile No. LRO-28-024-9001, Right D of the Lower Rio Grande Hydrographic Survey. The applicant has requested emergency authorization to drill the proposed well under NMSA, 1978, Section 72-12-22. Dona Ana is the County affected by the diversion and in which the water has been or will be put to beneficial use. This notice is ordered to be published in the Las Cruces Bulletin.

To view the application and supporting documentation contact the State Engineer District Office to arrange a date and time for an appointment located at 1680 Hickory Loop, Suite J, Las Cruces, NM 88005. Any person, firm or corporation or other entity having standing to file objections or protests shall do so in writing (objection must be legible, signed, and include the writer's complete name, phone number, email address, and mailing address). The objection to the approval of the application must be based on: (1) Impairment; if impairment, you must specifically identify your water rights; and/or (2) Public Welfare/Conservation of Water; if public welfare or conservation of water within the state of

New Mexico, you must show how you will be substantially and specifically affected. The written protest must be filed, in triplicate, with the State Engineer, 1680 Hickory Loop, Suite J, Las Cruces, NM 88005 on or before March 31, 2023. Facsimiles (faxes) will be accepted as a valid protest if the hard copy is hand-delivered or mailed and postmarked within 24-hours of the facsimile. Mailing postmark will be used to validate the 24-hour period. Protests can be faxed to the Office of the State Engineer, at 575-524-6160. If no valid protest or objection is filed, the State Engineer will evaluate the application in accordance with the provisions of Chapter 72 NMSA 1978.

What's Available NOW On

“Movie: Cocaine Cowboys”

If you have a weak stomach, be warned: The gore count in this 2006 documentary is high. It's the story of how drug trafficking in the 1970s and '80s transformed Miami, thanks to Columbia's Medellin cartel. Director Billy Corben uses the firsthand accounts of three men involved in the trade, as well as lots of bloody crime scene photos and the re-enactment of one particularly grisly 1979 shootout.

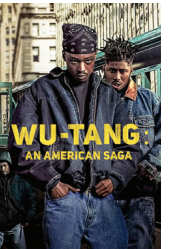

“Movie: A Long Way Down”

Toni Collette and Pierce Brosnan head the cast of this 2014 British comedy about four strangers who meet on New Year's Eve and form a sort of surrogate family to help one another get through the difficult times in their lives. Directed by Pascal Chaumeil (“A Perfect Plan”), the film's talented cast also boasts Imogen Poots, Aaron Paul, Rosamund Pike and Sam Neill.

“Wu-Tang: An American Saga”

The third and final season of this drama series finds the members of the Wu Tang Clan following their own separate musical paths as money, fame, ego and business threaten to tear the group apart for good. Ashton Sanders, Shameik Moore, Siddiq Saunderson, Julian Elijah Martinez and Marcus Callender head the returning cast. (ORIGINAL)

What's Available NOW On

“Mars: Season 1” (Available now)

Astrophysicist Neil deGrasse Tyson, SpaceX CEO Elon Musk and former Apollo 13 astronaut Jim Lovell were consultants on this six-part miniseries following the first manned mission to the Red Planet in 2033. Half drama, half documentary, “Mars” defies pigeonholing, alternating the scripted story — which stars Ben Cotton (“The 100”), Alberto Ammann (“Narcos”) and musician Jihae in her acting debut — with segments showing current or in-the-works technology.

“The Chorus: Success, Here I Go” (Available now)

From Brazil comes this musical drama series in which young adults seeking to rekindle their abandoned dreams of stardom audition for a renowned theater company in Sao Paulo — and cope with the fear of failure, betrayal and ghosts from the past that come with it.

“42 to 1” (Available now)

This “30 for 30” documentary from directors Ben Houser (“E:60”) and former ESPN anchor Jeremy Schaap recalls one of the greatest upsets in sports history — when James “Buster” Douglas handed Mike Tyson his first loss by knockout in a heavyweight title fight in Tokyo on Feb. 11, 1990.

tonight's picks

Katie Douglas

11 a.m. on KVIA
NHL Hockey

A peach of an NHL double-header is on tap today on ABC, which gets going with an interconference clash of play-off contenders when Brayden Point and the Tampa Bay Lightning pay a visit to Jason Robertson and the Dallas Stars. Then in the nightcap, two East postseason hopefuls do battle when David Pastrnak and the Boston Bruins play host to Alex Ovechkin and the Washington Capitals.

6 p.m. on HALL
Movie: A Paris Proposal

Advertising account manager Anna (Alexa PenaVega) hopes to land Durand Diamonds, the biggest client of her career. Unfortunately, her annoying colleague Sebastian (Nicholas Bishop) is sent to Paris with her to make the deal happen. But when the pair arrive, a misunderstanding leads the Durands to think Anna and Sebastian are married, making them excited about the prospect of having a real-life couple in charge of the creative vision for their brand and forcing them to try to keep up appearances in this 2023 romance.

6 p.m. on LIFE
Movie: The Girl Who Escaped: The Kara Robinson Story

Kara Robinson (Katie Douglas) was watering plants when she was approached by Richard Evonitz (Kristian Bruun), who put a gun to her neck and kidnapped her. When her captor finally fell asleep, she escaped and was able to lead the police back to the apartment's exact location and identify her kidnapper who turned out to be a serial killer who was also responsible for the unsolved murders of at least three other young girls in this 2023 documentary that is based on a true story.

6 p.m. on MAGN
Family Dinner

Just listen for the dinner bell. Growing up in rural Minnesota where the nearest neighbors were miles away, family dinner was a nightly ritual and brought the Lassen siblings closer together. Today, they still come back for home cooked meals with their favorite recipes passed down by their parents and Grandma Joan. Andrew Zimmern hosts the new episode "The Lassen Family."

7 p.m. on KFOX
The Perfect 10

There are only 10 players that have won the Heisman Trophy and been in enshrined in the Pro Football Hall of Fame, and this 90-minute documentary brings together seven of them — Marcus Allen, Tim Brown, Earl Campbell, Tony Dorsett, Barry Sanders, Roger Staubach and Charles Woodson — to reminisce, share stories and their life journeys to achieve this rare achievement. Brown and Woodson are among the film's executive producers.

8 p.m. on TCM
Movie: Sergeant Rutledge

Lieutenant Tom Cantrell (Jeffrey Hunter) is sent to defend Sergeant Braxton Rutledge (Woody Strode), a Black cavalry soldier, who stands to be court-martialed for raping and killing a white woman and murdering her father, his superior officer in this 1960 Western. The story begins in a courtroom and it is told through flashbacks. Constance Towers, Billie Burke, Juano Hernandez, Willis Bouchey and Carleton Young also star.

9 p.m. on KRWG
Austin City Limits

In the new episode "Maren Morris," the country star makes her long overdue ACL stage debut in support of her 2022 album "Humble Quest." Backed by a six-piece band that provides near-perfect support throughout, Morris demonstrated why she's among the best artists in mainstream country music. "Circles Around This Town," "I Can't Love You Anymore," "80s Mercedes," "Nervous" and "Detour" are included in her 14-song set.

tonight's picks

Super Bowl LVII

12 p.m. on KVIA
NBA Basketball

NBA Finals preview, anyone? That could be on tap today at TD Garden, where Jaylen Brown and the Boston Celtics hope to leave a calling card in their home game against Ja Morant and the Memphis Grizzlies. The Celts got the better of the Grizz when they last met in early November, when Jayson Tatum scored 39 points and Boston held on for a 109-106 road victory.

12 p.m. on DSC
Puppy Bowl XIX

It takes dedication to tail wagging and licking to earn the right to play in the greatest exhibition of cuteness the world has ever known. These puppies can't wait to take to the gridiron in the Puppy Bowl Stadium and show off their moves on the field. The full player lineup from Team Ruff and Team Fluff will leave fantasy leagues barking up the wrong tree. This year, the game celebrates more puppies, more animal shelters and rescues, and more inspiring adoption stories than ever before. Which team will win the Lombarky trophy?

4:30 p.m. on KFOX
Super Bowl LVII

State Farm Stadium in Glendale, Ariz., is the scene as the Kansas City Chiefs and Philadelphia Eagles go it for the league championship in Super Bowl LVII. In last year's contest, that honor went to the Los Angeles Rams, who defeated the Cincinnati Bengals 23-20 at SoFi Stadium in Los Angeles.

6 p.m. on TCM
Movie: Curly Top

Airing as part of a Shirley Temple double feature, wealthy Edward Morgan (John Boles) becomes charmed with a curly-haired orphan (Temple) and her pretty older sister Mary (Rochelle Hudson), and arranges to adopt both under the alias of "Mr. Jones." As he spends more time with them, he soon finds himself falling in love with Mary in this 1935 musical romance. "Wee Willie Winkie" immediately follows.

7 p.m. on KRWG
Miss Scarlet and the Duke on Masterpiece

It's a special delivery of the most unwanted kind when Eliza (Kate Phillips) receives a bomb in the mail. The female sleuth must team up with the Duke (Stuart Martin), Moses (Ansu Kabia) and her old enemy Patrick Nash (Felix Scott) to find out who is behind the deadly delivery in the Season 3 finale episode "The Jewel of the North." Cathy Belton, Evan McCabe, Tim Chipping and Simon Ludders also star.

11:30 p.m. on ESPN2
NBA Basketball

11:50 p.m. on FREEFRM
Movie: A Star Is Born

Bradley Cooper proved himself a Renaissance man with this 2018 musical blockbuster, on which he made his directorial debut as well as co-writing the screenplay and starring as the male lead, an alcoholic country superstar who discovers a brilliant new singer-songwriter (Lady Gaga). This version of a much-told story earned eight Oscar nominations, winning for best original song ("Shallow"). Sam Elliott also stars.

7 p.m. on HISTORY History's Greatest Mysteries

In Dallas, Texas, on Nov 22, 1963, President John F. Kennedy was assassinated, shaking the nation to its core. While an initial suspect was captured, many believe there's more to the story. Investigators and amateur sleuths alike have been searching for answers for almost 60 years. Will newly declassified documents and evidence finally provide closure? Laurence Fishburne hosts the new episode "The Assassination of JFK."

7 p.m. on BRAVO Summer House

Pack your cute shorts and your best bikini. Mya, Amanda, Kyle, Paige, Lindsay, Ciara, Danielle and Carl are joined at the house by three single newbies — Samantha Feher, Chris Leoni and Gabby Prescod — as well as old friends Andrea Denver and Kory Keefer in the Season 7 premiere. New people bring excitement and some new energy, but will this cause new drama or help heal old wounds?

8 p.m. on KDBC NCIS

Parker (Gary Cole) struggles to reign in his emotions when a conman from his past turns up as a prime suspect in the murder of a Navy officer transporting millions of dollars worth of opioids in the new episode "Old Wounds." David McCallum, Sean Murray, Brian Dietzen and Rocky Carroll also star.

Name

6 p.m. on FOOD
Chopped

It seems the "Chopped" kitchen is the place to go when looking for love. Four pairs of chefs are set up on teams to compete against other lovelorn duos in an epic showdown, where sparks could fly in the heat of battle. Heart-shaped pasta and a flirty cocktail get things going in the appetizer round. And as they cook up chateaubriand entrees, the couples find ways to connect, like doing shots in the pantry and discovering matching tattoos in the new episode "Blind Date Night." Will someone get a rose? Ted Allen hosts.

8 p.m. on KVIA
The Rookie: Feds

It's like deja vu all over again. During a recent murder investigation of an investment banker, who was also declared murdered six years ago, the unit follows a suspicious trail that leads to new evidence on both cases. Meanwhile, relationships are put to the test as Fortune (Britt Adams) considers her future with Carter (James Lesure), and Brendon (Kevin Zegers) pushes his limits with Antoinette (DeVika Bhise) in the new episode "Dead Again."

9 p.m. on KVIA
Will Trent

They're still working the bugs out of the program. A double murder leads Trent (Ramon Rodriguez) and the GBI on a cyber-chase to investigate a software firm's activity behind closed doors. Meanwhile, Angie (Erika Christensen) does her best to ensure a key witness testifies in her case in the new episode "Should I Go Get My Tin Foil Hat?" Iantha Richardson and Jake McLaughlin also star.

10 p.m. on FREEFRM
Love Trip: Paris

Trouver l'amour à Paris! Four American girls — Caroline, Rose, Lacy, Josielyn — unlucky in love in their own country, move into a penthouse in the middle of Paris to find a floor of French suitors waiting to date them in this new unscripted series. But is this love trip to Paris their one-way ticket to romance, or are they headed for heartbreak in another language?

CLEAN ENERGY FUTURE

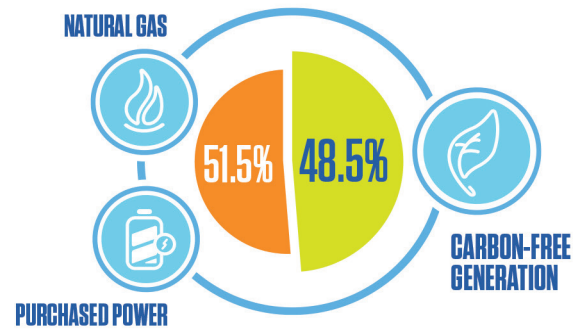

BIG PLANS FOR CLEAN ENERGY

We want to do more to create a cleaner, brighter energy future for everyone. That's why we're working to achieve two major milestones that bring us closer to this goal:

Our investments in innovative energy infrastructure, EVs, and renewable energy developments are all part of the bold changes we're enacting today.

OUR ENERGY PORTFOLIO AT A GLANCE*

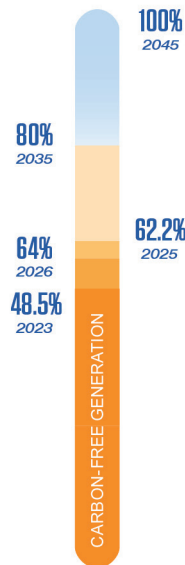

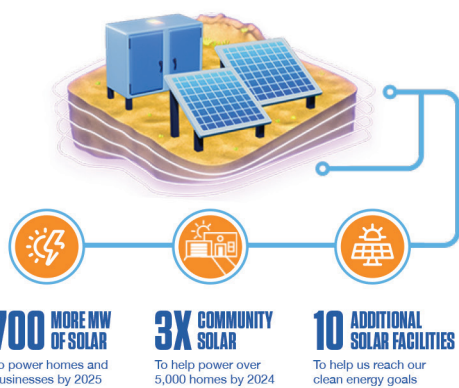

*2021 Generation Portfolio

CO₂e contains carbon dioxide (CO₂), methane (CH₄), nitrous oxide (N₂O), and sulfur hexafluoride (SF₆)

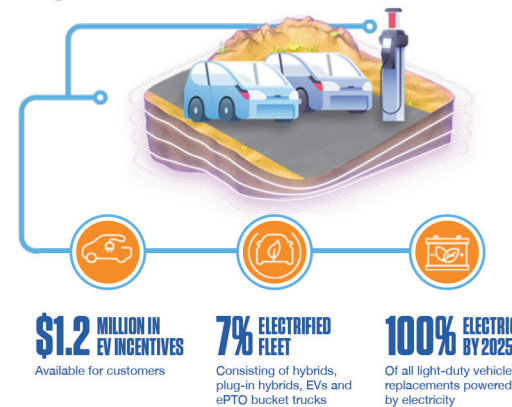

A BRIGHT OUTLOOK FOR 2025

Expanding solar energy is key to building a brighter future for our region. That's why we're committed to making it more accessible and affordable for our customers every day.

ELECTRIFYING A CLEANER FUTURE

We're committed to meeting our climate goals and inspiring others to take action. That's why we are accelerating the transition of our fleet to EVs, and supporting expansion of transportation electrification in our region!

MESSAGE FROM THE PRESIDENT

Spring is coming and so are the Doña Ana County Senior Games. Our Board of Directors encourages all 50+ seniors to join us in committing to a healthy lifestyle through exercise, fun, sports/activities and a little friendly competition. We are an 'Open County,' meaning any U.S. citizen may participate in our games as long as they have reached 50 years of age.

Our goal for the 2023 local games is to double the number of participants from last year's games and with the Covid crisis in our rear-view mirrors, we strongly feel reaching our goal is possible. Our games begin on March 17 with Table Tennis and finish with Air Gun on April 23. But it is not too late to begin getting ready. Many of our events have scheduled practice times before the competition so you will want to take advantage of receiving instruction from the event managers.

We will again be using Fusesport as our registration provider. There are three ways you can register: 1) Attend the DACSO registration at Munson Senior Center, 975 S. Mesquite St., Las Cruces, NM on Feb. 25, from 10 am to noon where our Board of Directors will provide assistance; 2) Register online by going to the Fusesport website and 3) Seek assistance from a board member at our DACSO office, open Mondays and Wednesdays from 11 a.m. to 1 p.m. beginning Feb. 13, 2023.

We would love for you to join our family of senior athletes as we inspire our community to become more active and keep on moving!

Betty Burgess

President, Doña Ana County Senior Olympics

What is Doña Ana County Senior Olympics Mission and Vision?

OUR MISSION

Our Mission is to provide interesting sport activities to motivate mature men and women to continue year-round activities, enabling them to keep physically and mentally healthy.

OUR VISION

Our Vision is to provide opportunities for women and men age 50 and above to become involved in sport activities within their own five-year age groups, contributing to their own positive physical, mental, social and emotional well-being.

Spring is coming and so are the
Doña Ana County Senior Games

KICKOFF & REGISTRATION

SATURDAY,

FEB. 25, 2023

10 a.m. to noon

Munson Senior Center
975 S. Mesquite St.

This is a great time to chat with friends over light refreshments, visit with your sport's event manager and have help registering for the local Doña Ana County Senior Games. Registration will be online through Fusesport at <http://dacso.fusesport.com/registration/1915/> website. You may register on your own with an email address and credit card.

PLEASE NOTE THERE WILL BE NO REFUNDS
FOR THE 2023 DACSO GAMES.

OTHER WAYS TO REGISTER

→ ONLINE:

Go to <http://dacso.fusesport.com/registration/1915/> website/ Follow the instructions for registration, you will need an email address, credit/debit card and be asked to create a password for return or future use. If you registered in 2022 you may add to that registration.

→ IN PERSON:

Come by the office on Monday or Wednesday starting Feb. 13, 2023, from 11 a.m. to 1 p.m. for assistance in online registering. You will need a credit card and your email address. If you have a partner for a sport you will need their name, DOB and email to partner with them online. Fusesport will send them an email invitation to join also.

We go the

I agree that failure to do so will result in my disqualification or suspension from the DACSO Games for a specified period of time.

2023 DOÑA ANA COUNTY SENIOR GAMES INFORMATION

Welcome to the 2023 Doña Ana County Senior Games! We are pleased to have had 139 athletes compete last year and look forward to seeing more this year!

Doña Ana County Senior Olympics is committed to a program of sports and recreational events to promote healthy and active lifestyles for all seniors age 50 and above. Our programs encourage both the athlete and the beginner to participate within their own 5-year age category starting from 50-54 and going up to 90+. Senior Olympics in Doña Ana County is a volunteer group, with support coming from your modest registration fees. We offer 20+ events with opportunities for singles, doubles and mixed doubles play. When participating in any of our events, each person is covered by an athlete insurance policy. Your age group for competition is the age you are on Dec. 31 of the registration year.

For more information call Betty Burgess at 575-644-0782.

If you are playing doubles or a partnered sport, you will need the name, birthdate and email of your partner. Your team age is determined by the youngest partner's age as of Dec. 31, 2023.

Example: if you turn 50 on Sep. 1, 2023, you are considered 50 for the full year of 2023, and eligible for the spring 2023 games.

THERE WILL BE NO REFUNDS FOR THE 2023 DACSO GAMES.

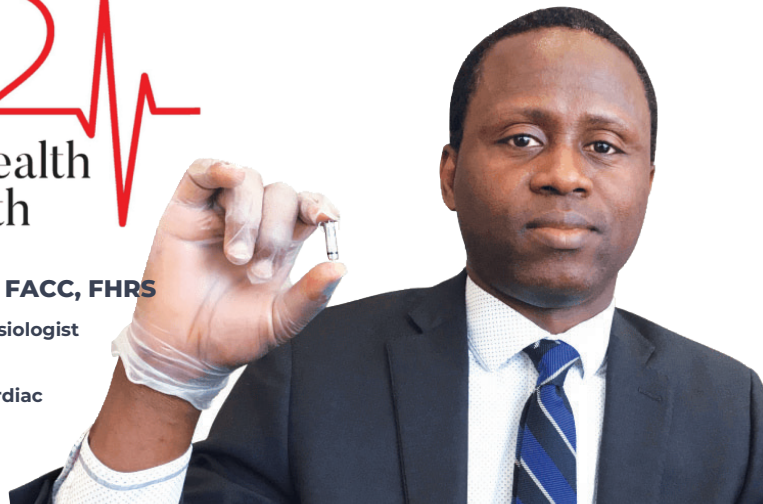

With this new registration system, you will need an email address, to create a password and be able to pay via credit/debit card.

Prominent Las Cruces Senior Olympian Jayne Milavec

Jayne Milavec, age 61, has been a vibrant figure in the New Mexico Senior Olympics for almost a decade. Her moto and mantra is: "To stay fit, healthy, and happy while doing activities that I love!"

A resident of Las Cruces since 1991, Jayne began her Senior Olympics experience by competing in the 2015 Doña Ana County Senior Olympics (DACSO). She came home with multiple medals in swimming, track and field, power walk and other recreation events. She has since continued to compete and medal at all the county, state and national games every year they were held. At the national games in 2022 in Fort Lauderdale, Florida, Jayne broke the 1500 meter power walk record with a winning time of 9:55.20 for females age 60-64 and also came in first for the 5K power walk. That year New Mexico placed 19th in the United States for participants attending the games. The athletes that year brought back a total of 121 medals!

When asked which swimming events she competed in, she immediately answered: "All of them!" As an example of her success in the games, in 2018 she compiled 15 medals in swimming events alone. She has several racks of medals hanging in her home that she has earned over the years. Having brought home dozens each year, those racks are full.

Jayne has a rigorous training regimen that she fits into her busy life. On her days off, working as a nurse, she runs for 1-1/2 hours and swims for 1-1/2 to 2 hours. On the days she works, she does only one or the other. She also runs a marathon each year. Her eyes light up when she states that she loves to run and swim and "could be in the water all day!" Always interested in improving her times, she said, "Every year my swim times are less and less. By the time I am 90, I'll be really good!"

Living life to its fullest, Jayne is a good natured, active mother, wife, nurse and volunteer, besides being an incredible athlete. She grew up in an energetic family with six sisters and a brother. She credits her mother for encouraging a healthy, fun competition with each other in a variety of sports. Jayne has always enjoyed running. She swam and ran track in high school. Her husband, Anton, son Justin, and daughter, Micaela, are also all active in sports. Anton competes in the Senior Olympics as well, and together they won a medal in the couples dance event in Swing/Jitterbug. Their church is an important part of their lives. Jayne and Anton, a dentist by profession, have traveled to India and Costa Rica as missionaries with Doña Ana Community College with the School of Hygiene.

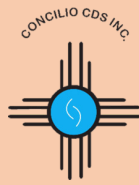

With no plans of taking it easy after she retires, she wants to continue with what she is doing and incorporate more biking, pickleball, yoga and ballroom dance into her life.

Jayne not only competes, she is a volunteer member of the DACSO board that organizes and runs the local games every year. Between competing in her many activities at the games, she is the event manager for both Pickleball and Fun and Rec.

When asked if she had any advice for anyone considering to compete in the Doña Ana County Senior Olympics, she simply said, "Find an activity you love."

You can register to compete or to be a volunteer for the upcoming games being held March through April, 2023 at: www.dacso-nm.org.

tonight's picks

7 p.m. on KDBC

The Price Is Right at Night

The family that guesses retail prices together will at least have something to discuss around the dinner table. An epic game night featuring teams of kids, parents and grandparents playing for chance to win prizes for the whole family including new cars, adventure-packed trips to Paris and Jamaica, an outdoor home theater setup, $100,000 in cash and more. Drew Carey hosts the new episode "Family Night."

7 p.m. on FOOD

Guy's Grocery Games

In the new episode "Flavortown Food Network Champs," four chefs who've won virtually every Food Network competition are now competing for a $15,000 prize. First, the chefs go head-to-head in a pair of sudden-death matches featuring spinning order wheels. The winners face off in a high-stakes culinary confrontation, making a high-end seafood dinner with details determined by the notorious food pyramid. Ultimately, the judges will determine which chef's dinner will earn them the prize. Guy Fieri hosts.

7:30 p.m. on KVIA

The Goldbergs

You're not alone. Ever. Erica's (Hayley Orrantia) discovers a whole new world when she befriends another young mom. Meanwhile, Barry (Troy Gentile) and Adam (Sean Giambrone) team up for a money-making performance inspired by a kooky '80s educational entertainer in the new episode "Moms Need Other Moms." Wendi McLendon-Covey, Noah Munck and Sam Lerner also star.

9 p.m. on KVIA

A Million Little Things

Surprises come in all shapes and sizes. An unexpected fan steps behind the mic at Maggie's

(Allison Miller) radio show, and Walter (Lou Beatty Jr.) attempts to convince Rome (Romany Malco) he is more than capable of being behind the wheel. Meanwhile, Eddie (David Giuntoli) finally makes moves to reenter the dating pool and gets some help from an unexpected ally in the new episode "Think Twice."

6 p.m. on LIFEMOV
Movie: Who Killed Our Father?

After her foster sister dies, Leila (Kirsten Comerford) takes a DNA test and discovers the identity of her biological father and sister. But when her father is tragically murdered, and Leila travels to meet the sister she never knew, she lands herself in more danger than she ever imagined in this 2023 thriller. Devin Cecchetto, Joanne Boland and Sam Ashe Arnold also star.

6 p.m. on TCM
Movie: West Side Story

One of the great movie musicals, this Oscar-winning 1961 version of the stage hit — an update of "Romeo and Juliet" — casts Natalie Wood and Richard Beymer as young lovers Maria and Tony. Their romance intensifies the rivalry between two New York street gangs, the Jets and the Sharks. Co-stars Rita Moreno and George Chakiris earned supporting Oscars for their roles. The film airs as part of the channel's continuing "Star of the Month" tribute to Moreno.

6 p.m. on BBCA
Movie: Pulp Fiction

Director Quentin Tarantino's violent, much-praised drama was one of the most controversial movies of 1994. It boasts first-rate performances by John Travolta — whose career was resuscitated by the movie — and Samuel L. Jackson as hired killers who often debate life's larger issues. A parallel plot involves Bruce Willis as a corrupt boxer in trouble. Uma Thurman, Harvey Keitel, Tim Roth and Amanda Plummer co-star. Tarantino and colleague Roger Avary earned an Academy Award for their original screenplay.

6 p.m. on EPIX
Movie: The Pink Panther

The title of this 1964 comedy actually refers to a very rare gem sought by a sophisticated international jewel thief. This "pink panther" turned into a cash cow for writer-director Blake Edwards, thanks to the magical alchemy that occurred when Peter Sellers was cast as bumbling Inspector Clouseau, a role originally intended for Peter Ustinov. David Niven and Robert Wagner also are featured, as is Henry Mancini's incomparable score.

7 p.m. on KVIA2
Walker

Cordell (Jared Padalecki) and Cassie (Ashley Reyes) dig into the deaths of his military buddies. But he uncovers some inconsistencies that may reveal truths he's not ready to face. Then Trey (Jeff Pierre) is presented with an interesting new opportunity. Captain James (Coby Bell) receives some news from Kelly (guest star Kearran Giovanni) and Bonham (Mitch Pileggi) remains at odds with the rest of the family in the new episode "Past is Prologue."

9 p.m. on KVIA
The Chase

Why must winning money be such a challenge? Chaser James "The High Roller" Holzauer battles against a murder mystery enthusiast, a veterinary pathologist, and a Michigan local whose irrational fear includes floating heads in the new episode "Hoping This Is a Slumdog Millionaire Moment." Will they be able to take down a champion? Sara Haines (ABC's "The View") hosts.

What's Available NOW On prime video

“Movie: Somebody I Used to Know”

A career setback sends workaholic TV producer Ally (Alison Brie, “GLOW”) back to the comfort of her hometown, where she reunites with first love Sean (Jay Ellis, “Insecure”) and is reminded of the person she used to be by his fiancée Cassidy (Kiersey Clemons, “Antebellum”) in this film comedy from director/co-writer Dave Franco (“The Afterparty”) and co-writer Brie. (ORIGINAL)

“Movie: Cloudy With a Chance of Meatballs”

The long-popular children’s book by Ron and Judi Barrett gets a fanciful retelling in this animated 2009 feature. An inventor’s device goes haywire, causing food to fall from the sky like precipitation ... amounting to pancakes and cheeseburgers instead of raindrops and snowflakes. A town’s mayor sees a way to cash in, though the phenomenon could destroy the area before there’s any chance for profit.

“Movie: How to Train Your Dragon”

In this adaptation of the same-named Cressida Cowell book, Jay Baruchel (“She’s Out of My League”) voices a young Viking-in-training named Hiccup who wants to impress his demanding father (voice of Gerard Butler) by mastering the title task. His mentor has the enjoyable vocals of comic and late-night television host Craig Ferguson. America Ferrera (“Ugly Betty”) and “Superbad” alumni Jonah Hill and Christopher Mintz-Plasse also are heard.

“Carnival Row”

Season 2 of this fantasy series picks up with Philo (Orlando Bloom) investigating a series of gruesome murders that stoke social tension, Vignette (Cara Delevingne) and the Black Raven plotting vengeance for the unjust oppression imposed by The Burgue’s human leaders and Tourmaline (Karla Crome) inheriting supernatural powers that threaten her fate and the future of The Row. Arts & the National Parks

Feb. 13 event celebrates three treasures

By MIKE COOK
Las Cruces Bulletin

Thanks in part to a New Mexico State University Arts and Humanities seed grant, a clarinet and a flute will bring to life the magic of White Sands and two other national parks during a free concert 7:30 p.m. Monday, Feb. 13, at Atkinson Recital Hall in the NMSU Music Building, 1075 N. Horseshoe St. on campus.

NMSU assistant professor of clarinet Madelyn Moore used the grant to commission the pieces, which will have their world premiere at the concert.

Moore, who has a doctorate of musical arts in clarinet performance, is also the clarinetist who will perform at the concert, along with flutist Dorothy Glick Maglione, who has a Ph.D. in musicology and is associate director of bands and assistant professor of music at William Jewell College in Liberty, Missouri. Together, Moore and Glick Maglione comprise Violetta Duo.

Pieces of the Parks

The piece about White Sands National Park (WSNP) includes four movements: “Dunes,” “Critters,” “Blood Moon” and “Sledding,” said its composer, NMSU trumpet and jazz professor Jacob Dalager, Ph.D.

Dalager said he is a frequent visitor to WSNP “because my kids love sledding there.” He also has been to the park with his family for full moon nights and a hot air balloon festival.

“Every time I go there, especially the first time, it just feels like you’re entering a different planet,” Dalager said. He has visited many national parks, he said, but none “give me such an extraterrestrial feeling like White Sands.”

While it was challenging to compose for just two instruments, Dalager said he enjoyed his first experience writing for a duo.

“I’ve heard (Moore and Glick Maglione) play a little bit of it and I’m quite pleased about it,” he said.

A piece about Grand Canyon National Park in northern Arizona was written by Theresa Martin, who lives in Wisconsin. A composition about Rocky Mountain National Park in northern Colorado is by Daniel Morel, who lives in Kansas.

Plans for the Project

“Dr. Moore is an outstanding performer, and I am excited to hear the new works that she is premiering on Feb. 13,” said NMSU Music Department Head Fred Bugbee. “This has been a project that has been long in planning, and I am so happy to see it reach fruition through the seed grant funding awarded through the NMSU Office of Research, Creativity and Strategic Initiatives.”

Moore said she and Glick Maglione hope to bring “modern art music to people who aren’t familiar with it and to those who don’t think they like modern art music,” and show audiences that it is “more than just squeaks and honks.”

The long-term plan for the national parks music project is to commission additional pieces about other parks, perform the compositions in parks around the country and record a CD, Moore said.

“That’s our goal – make it bigger and take it everywhere,” she said.

Moore and Glick Maglione met while both were attending graduate school at the University of Kansas and have collaborated for the past 12 years, Moore said.

The two have performed together at the International Clarinet Association Clarinetfest, in residency at Bemidji State University in Bemidji, Minnesota, on Kansas Public Radio, at the National Association of Composers/USA conference and in the Charlotte, North Carolina, area. They have weekly Zoom meetings, make recordings for each to play along with as they rehearse for upcoming performances and meet for a week each summer, Moore said.

Poems of the Parks

The concert will include a reading by NMSU Department of Geography and Environmental Studies assistant professor Eric Magrane, who has written a poem about each of the parks featured in three pieces of the music that will be performed.

In addition to a Ph.D. in geography, Magrane has an MFA in creative writing, both from the University of Arizona. He has been artist in residence at three national parks and poet in residence at Arizona-Sonora Desert Museum.

“I’m grateful for Madelyn and Dorothy’s invitation to contribute poems for their concert,” said

Magrane. “They shared early recordings of the music along with some of the composers’ program notes, and I kept those in mind as I wrote each of the poems. For instance, the white keys in the White Sands poem alludes to one of the compositions being written primarily with the white keys of the piano. As another example, I drafted the Rocky Mountain poem while listening to a recording of the musical composition, so it takes on some of the sound of the piece. At the same time, all of the poems also draw on my own past experiences in each of the parks.”

Love Las Cruces group unveils downtown murals

By MIKE COOK
Las Cruces Bulletin

The nonprofit Love Las Cruces unveiled two brand new downtown murals by artist Zach Buchner Jan. 30. A New Mexico native and 2001 graduate of Oñate (now Organ Mountain)

High School with a bachelor's degree in kinesiology from New Mexico State University, Buchner said he used geometry, perspective and colored tiles to create the murals, titled La Placita Sunrise and Roadrunner Xing. Buchner, who now lives in Albuquerque, donated his time in creating the murals, his first in Las Cruces.

Love Las Cruces hosted the unveiling in partnership with Party Tenders Events, said Alycia Jameson, executive director of Love Las Cruces, which formed in 2022 "to beautify

Las Cruces through community cleanup events, murals, food pantries and community gardens.

"Let's continue to embrace the beauty of our land and culture and continue coming together and keeping Las Cruces beautiful, and representing New Mexico through inspired hearts and minds," Jameson said.

The murals are in La Placita between Rad Retrocade and The Boneyard Cantina.

Love Las Cruces events

Love Las Cruces upcoming events on Plaza de Las Cruces, 100 S. Main St. downtown, are Friday, March 17: Radapalooza; Friday, May 5: New Mexico Tamale Fest; Saturday, July 15: Tequila, Taco & Cerveza Fest; Saturday, Aug. 12: Las Cruces Beer Fest; and Saturday, Oct. 14: Great American Pizza Fest.

Evolving home economics

BULLETIN REPORT

The Branigan Cultural Center (BCC) will host Merranda Romero Marin, Ph.D. for "Beyond Cooking, Cleaning and sewing" at noon, Thursday, Feb. 16, at BCC, 501 N. Main St. downtown.

Marin will discuss how the field of home economics has transformed into what is now called family and consumer science (FACS), Las Cruces Museums said in a news release.

"The presentation will highlight female scientists who worked to bring lab sciences into the homes of families by providing education around healthy human development, food safety, nutrition, etc. to enhance and improve the lives of community members," the news release said.

The presentation will also highlight FACS gains in the United States and especially in New Mexico.

Romero Marín is a professor in and interim department head of the FACS Department at New Mexico State University.

MARIN

She is a licensed psychologist and marriage and family therapist specializing in the treatment of post-traumatic stress disorder. Romero Marin's areas of research include understanding the impact of poverty on children and family systems, maternal mental well-being and the effects of trauma on family and community systems and resulting resilience mechanisms.

Romero Marin "takes pride in being dedicated to understanding and promoting the strengths of vulnerable and diverse populations," the news release said.

Creativity Week includes Music Department performances

By MIKE COOK

Las Cruces Bulletin

The Latin band Nosotros, which originated in Las Cruces in 1994, and Native American musician Randy Granger of Las Cruces will join the New Mexico State University Music Department for performances during NMSU's Feb. 21-24 Research and Creativity Week, Music Department Head Fred Bugbee said.

All performances are on the NMSU campus and are free and open to the public, Bugbee said.

• 7:30 p.m. Tuesday, Feb. 21: Nosotros, whose members include some of Bugbee's first music students at NMSU. (He joined the NMSU Music Department in 1994.)

"We're excited to have them," Bugbee said.

• 3:30 p.m. Wednesday, Feb. 22: quartet featuring Jim Shear, Celeste Shear and Laura Spitzer.

"This concert represents both new and old research undertaken by NMSU Regents Professor Jim Shearer and colleagues over a number of years," Bugbee said. "Most recent is a new work for tuba and piano from noted composer Alvin Singleton titled 'Topless,' for which Dr. Shearer served as the lead commissioner. This marks Mr. Singleton's first solo work created for tuba, and it was premiered as part of the Chatter concert series in Albuquerque and Santa Fe in January. The work will be recorded soon with NMSU piano faculty member Dr. Laura Spitzer for release on Summit Records.

"Also featured in the concert will be a solo piano work by Mr. Singleton titled 'In My Own Skin,'" Bugbee said. "In addition, Dr. Shearer and Dr. Spitzer will be joined by horn player Celeste Shearer for the works 'Two Lovers Dream' by Memphis composer Tom Clary (commissioned by the Shearers) and 'Haunted America Suite' by noted Hollywood film composer and NMSU alumni Justin Raines.

• 7:30 p.m. Thursday, Feb. 23: The NMSU Jazz Band will perform, with soloists Mike Sedillo, Chadd James and Ziggy

Randy Granger

Nosotros will perform with the NMSU Music Department Feb. 21

Garcia of Nosotros. The 20-piece Jazz Band is directed by Jacob Dalager, Ph.D., professor of trumpet and jazz at NMSU.

"I'm really excited for our students to get to work with the soloists from Nosotros," Bugbee said.

• 7:30 p.m. Friday, Feb. 24: Las Cruces musician Randy Granger.

"Randy is always so generous with his time," Bugbee said. "I think he does so much for the community."

Bugbee thanked NMSU Vice President for Research Luis Cifuentes, who "wanted music to be a part of it (Research and Creativity Week). He was adamant about it," Bugbee said.

'Love Letters' plays Feb. 14

By MIKE COOK
Las Cruces Bulletin

Continuing a long-standing tradition, Black Box Theatre (BBT) will present a single performance of A.R. Gurney's "Love Letters" at 8 p.m. on Valentine's Day, Tuesday, Feb. 14.

Veteran Las Cruces actors Karen Buerdsell and Ed Montes will perform.

Buerdsell is currently appearing in BBT's production of "Love, Loss, and What I Wore." Montes last appeared at BBT in its production of "The Standby Lear" last May.

Buerdsell and Montes were voted best actress and best actor in the 2022 Bulletin's Best.

Montes has a personal connection with Gurney (1930-2017), who was his freshman college advisor at Massachusetts Institute of Technology (MIT) in 1970, where Gurney was a professor of humanities. Montes graduated from the prestigious university with a degree in mathematics in 1974.

"Professor Gurney was incredibly helpful in guiding me, this kid from a little west Texas town, through the maze of high-powered academia in which I found myself," Montes said. "He made MIT, and Boston itself, approachable," Montes said.

"Even though I was planning to major in science or math, in my application I emphasized theater as one of my principal high school activities," Montes said. "Because of that, I guess, I was assigned, of all things, a professor of humanities as my freshman advisor. He turned out to be professor Albert R. "Pete" Gurney, the playwright of this piece. He shepherded me quite ably and very patiently through that first year, transitioning from high school to college. He was already an established writer but had not yet sprung forth with 'Love Letters.' I am both proud and humbled to be a part of this production and dedicate my performance to his memory," Montes said.

"Love Letters," which premiered at the New York Public Library in 1988, was a finalist for the Pulitzer Prize for Drama. The play has had both Broadway and Off-Broadway productions. Gurney was inducted into the Theatre Hall of Fame and of the American Academy of Arts and Letters in New York City in 2004 and received an Obie (Off-Broadway theatre awards) lifetime achievement award in 2016. He and Molly, his wife of more than 60 years, had four children.

"Love Letters" had its first performance at BBT in 2001 and was also performed at BBT in 2002, 2005 and 2022.

Tickets are $12-$15 and are available online at no-strings.org/tickets.php and also will be available at the theatre before the performance until all seats are filled.

BBT is located at 430 N. Main St. downtown. Visit no-strings.org/ and argurney.com.

'Matilda' opens at LCCT Friday

By MIKE COOK
Las Cruces Bulletin

Las Cruces Community Theatre's (LCCT) production of "Matilda, the Musical" opens Friday, Feb. 10, for a three-weekend run at LCCT, 313 N. Main St.

Mia Berkson plays Matilda. She has previously appeared in LCCT productions of "The Crucible," "Mary Poppins," "Annie" and "A Christmas Story," and in Las Cruces School of Dance and Music's 2022 production of "The Nutcracker."

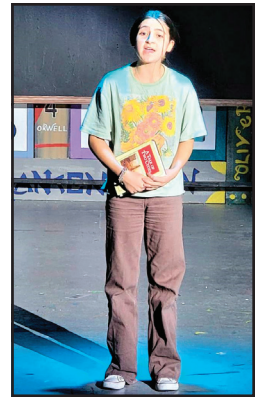

The cast also includes Melis Derya White, Bianca Castro, Mike Cruz, Francesca Perez-Wright, Caroline Stapleton, Julian Castrol, Mackynzie Barrios, Jamin Bever, Luis Castol, Kayla Bradford, Piper Gandy, Milagres Medina, Sapphira Roper, Makena Tellez, Olivia Vasquez, Scott Ludlow, Tanya Camargo, Charlie Bever, Muriel Cain, Braden Gonzales, Astrid Johnson, Kaitlyn Nelson and Zeke Wyatt.

The musical is directed by Michael Wise.

"Matilda," the children's novel the musical is based on, was written by Roald Dahl, a British novelist and screenwriter who also wrote "Charlie and the Chocolate Factory" and "James and Giant Peach."

EAST MESA WATER RECLAMATION FACILITY: Solar, Savings, & More

By C.T. Barnes

Las Cruces Utilities (LCU) is continuously looking for innovative ways to bring affordable, sustainable, and environmental projects to the City of Las Cruces and their customers. Did you know that LCU is a leader in water reuse and energy efficiency?

One project you may not be aware of is the East Mesa Water Reclamation Facility (EMWRF) that uses clean energy to treat and clean wastewater. By introducing a solar farm east of the facility in 2017, LCU has been successful in reducing the energy costs to power the facility and clean the City of Las Cruces' wastewater.

What makes the EMWRF self-sustainable and what is the importance of this facility? "During daylight hours, the Solar Facility provides the power needed for the operation of the EMWRF," LCU Deputy Director Environmental & Technical Support Carl Clark explained. "The EMWRF takes wastewater that comes from commercial business and residents east of the Las Cruces Dam and cleans it to a level that it can be reused for irrigation purposes, otherwise known as reclaimed water, thus saving potable water," Clark stated.

The reclaimed water from the EMWRF is used for various recreational grounds and parks. Some of these parks include Sonoma Ranch Golf Course, Centennial High School, Foothills Landfill, Pioneer Park on Roadrunner, Flood Control Dam, and Veterans Park on Roadrunner. East Mesa Recreation Complex will soon be added to the list of facilities using reclaimed water from East Mesa.

LCU team member at the East Mesa Water Reclamation solar site-Courtesy LCU

The facility cost over $9 million which was funded through grants, bonds, NMFA loans, and SAP which is state appropriated. The solar site addition project in total cost $1.5 million. "It is important that we find the right funding for projects like this and others that benefit the community, so our customers don't experience price increases on their bills," LCU Deputy Director Business Services Domonique

Rodriguez pointed out. In total LCU has saved around $91,000 in energy costs with our solar plant addition and being a self-sustaining facility.

With these types of projects starting to become more common and a high priority for LCU will there be a need to develop more self-sustaining water reclamation sites in Las Cruces? "With expanded growth in Northeast Las Cruces, it's possible we will need an additional reclaimed water plant," Carl Clark concluded. LCU is also looking at innovative ways to lead the energy transition while keeping costs for their customers low. This will include more solar projects, methane capture projects, as well as continuing to expand and build more facilities like the EMWRF.

Multiple Arts Council events For the Love of Art

BULLETIN REPORT

Known locally as “For the Love of Art Month” in Las Cruces, “February is bringing plenty to love in south central New Mexico, specifically in the new Doña Ana Arts Council (DAAC) galleries at 230 S. Water St. in the Las Cruces Arts and Cultural District,” said DAAC outgoing Executive Director Greg Smith.

Here are shows and events at DAAC during February:

- Artist Georjeanna Feltha’s show, “Vindication, Restoration, and New Beginnings” continues through Feb. 25. An artist’s reception will be 11 a.m.-5 p.m. Saturday, Feb. 11.

- 5-9 p.m. Friday, Feb. 17, the Derrick Lee Group will perform new and old jazz favorites, including Lee’s own compositions. An accomplished drummer, Lee will be joined by Michael Martinez on trumpet and flugelhorn, Josh Carter on tenor sax, Miguel Torres on piano and Arnold Schnitzer on bass. Tickets are $15 each and $25 for two and can be purchased at DAAC before the event, at the door and online at box-office.daarts.org/e/4/the-derek-lee-group. Seating is limited.

- 4-5 p.m. Saturday, Feb. 25, Las Cruces artist Bob Diven will present “Confessions of an Editorial Cartoonist.” Diven, an accomplished painter, sculptor, singer, composer, actor and playwright, has been drawing editorial cartoons for the Las Cruces Sun-News for 15 years. Tickets are $10 and are available at DAAC, by phone and at the door.

“Love seems a most appropriate note to strike in February,” Smith said. “We love the work these three artists do and that people can come in and appreciate Geor-

LCCT holds ‘Gypsy’ auditions Feb. 27-28

By MIKE COOK

Las Cruces Bulletin

Las Cruces Community Theatre (LCCT) will hold auditions for “Gypsy” 6-9 p.m. Monday, Feb. 27, and Tuesday, Feb. 28, at the theatre, 313 N. Main St.

Director Constance Hasapopoulos will be casting numerous men, women and children ages 8-80 in the musical.

There are more than a dozen adult roles and five roles for children in the show. Some are relatively age specific, others are for any age actor. No roles have been precast.

Auditioners should prepare a Broadway-style song to be sung along with a pre-recorded track (from a cell phone is acceptable) but an a cappella audition is also acceptable, LCCT said.

A short dance routine will be taught as part of the audition, so auditioners should dress in appropriate clothing.

Rehearsals for “Gypsy” are tentatively set for 6-9 p.m. Thursdays-Sundays beginning Monday, April 10.

Additional dance and vocal rehearsals will be scheduled as necessary.

The show will have nine performances, which will be June 2-18.

The music for “Gypsy” was written by Jule Styne, lyrics by Stephen Sondheim and book by Arthur Laurents.

It first appeared on Broadway in 1959, with revivals in 1989, 2003 and 2008. The 1959 production was nominated for eight Tony awards and won for best musical theater album.

The 1989 production was nominated for four Tonys, winning for best revival and best actress in a musical (Tyne Daly). The 2003 revival was nominated for four Tony awards.

The 2008 revival was nominated for seven Tonys, winning for best performance by a leading actress in a musical (Patti LuPone) and best performances by a featured actor (Boyd Gaines) and best performance by a featured actress (Laura Benanti) in a musical.

For more information, contact Hasapopoulos at 415-410-9509 and hasapopoulos@gmail.com.

Ukes perform concerts

Searching for a better path in the age of rage

Rage brings a lashing out that's wholly self-centered, vindictive, and malicious. Rage is a mania that comes over people, making them feel they have every right to run people off the road, storm the White House, or pull a gun and fire into a random group of people. We are experiencing an epidemic of rage in the United States that seems unending. What do our spiritual traditions have to say to this?

Every religious tradition warns against anger. Early writers on prayer in Christianity, for example, warn that anger drags everything in your life down the drain. Yes, there is righteous anger, like when we are incensed at how indigenous peoples in many countries were corralled into enclaves and virtually enslaved. But unrighteous anger quickly gets out of hand and becomes pure emotion-fueled rage.

Friedrich Nietzsche coined the phrase "God is dead." He was not happy about that prospect. He knew that to draw that conclusion, in western culture, would mean the loss of constraints on behavior. If we're in charge, there are no boundaries, and we're not very good about setting boundaries because we are naturally selfish. If you become your own God, with infinite power and judgment, where's the boundary against committing acts of rage? Why not run someone who makes you angry off the road when you are driving? Why not punch your spouse if they make you upset? Why not act as if other people don't matter?

GABRIEL ROCHELLE

Tales from the Cassock

The problem is ultimately spiritual in the broad sense; it has to do with the diminution of our belief that life in general and individual human lives matter. It has to do with our retreat from reason and the slow slide into emotionalism that marks the age.

The Polish writer Witold Gombrowicz quipped that there was only so much soul in the world; hence, the greater the population, the less soul for each person. Gradually, as the population grew massive, soul would entirely disappear from humanity, and we would devolve to robots or machines with no soul. Maybe he had a point. We seem to be close.

The most famous sermon in colonial times was Jonathan Edwards' "Sinners in the Hands of an Angry God." His target was people who offended God's holiness. God is not

Downtown Desert Yoga anniversary continues

BULLETIN REPORT

Downtown Desert Yoga (DDY), 303 S. Alameda Blvd., continues a week-long celebration of its 13th anniversary through Friday, Feb. 10.

“We will be celebrating this auspicious occasion with our social enterprise parent, Desert Community Wellness, the nonprofit that we founded three years ago,” DDY instructor Debra Knapp, New Mexico State University professor emeritus and retired director of the NMSU Dance Department.

Wellness Week includes free classes all week, and special donation-based workshops and wellness sessions, Knapp said.

“During the week, we will be hosting a silent auction with art and crafts from local community members,” she said. “We conclude our celebration

Friday, Feb. 10, with an arts/craft market from 4-8 p.m., a fun-filled raffle and the conclusion of our silent auction.”

The proceeds from the auction, raffle and workshop donations will support the youth and adult community programs of Desert Community Wellness, Knapp said.

All events are open to the public.

For more information, visit downtowndesertyoga.com.

Stampede Meat expands

BULLETIN REPORT

Stampede Meat, Inc., which has a facility in Sunland Park employing 600 workers, began a partnership with DL Lee & Sons, Inc. in Alma, Georgia, in January that “will allow Stampede to expand its geographic production footprint into the Southeast,” the company said in a news release.

Stampede’s “expansion outside of the Midwest – its headquarters is in Bridgview, Illinois – began in 2018 with the grand opening of the company’s facility in Sunland Park. In 2021, Stampede expanded its footprint by opening Stampede North in Cambridge, Ontario, Canada.

The facility in Bacon County, Georgia, is 155,000 square feet, the news release said. DL Lee & Sons was founded in Bacon County in the 1930s and has served that community “with quality meat products through five generations of the Lee family,” Stampede said.

The Sunland Park facility has 142,000 square feet and an annual capacity of 100 million pounds. Stampede has about 285,000 square feet of combined production capability in the Chicago area.

“This partnership is so much more than an acquisition,” said Stampede CEO and President Brock Furlong. “Together we can expand further and proudly serve our growing network of food service and retail customers.”

Little Shop on Main Street opens downtown

By MIKE COOK
Las Cruces Bulletin

The Little Shop on Main has opened at 275 N. Main St. in downtown Las Cruces.

The store is “the ultimate one-stop shop,” said owner/operator Barbara Jimenez, with “a little bit of everything” in the nearly 1,000 square-foot storefront.

Inside Little Shop, you will find handmade furniture, footwear (including double-soled urban moccasins); fetishes, sage dolls, smudges sculptures, carved smoking pipes, tomahawks and dreamcatchers from Taos Pueblo; designer jewelry made by Jimenez and other artists, including earrings, bracelets, pins and colorful friendship bracelets; unique toys for pets; crosses made by Taos minister Pablo Flores, including a “man-cave cross;” Zia symbol magnets; a vase and sculptures from Nambe Pueblo; thermoses that keep drinks cold for 24 hours or hot for 12 hours; small Justin Bieber and Andy Warhol dolls; kitchen towels; Star Wars figures; angel figures; handwoven scarves and shawls, jeans from Los Angeles and tee shirts; artwork; lamps (and painted jeans) by Taos artist Patience Heyl

Beginning in February, Jimenez will be a retail partner with Pendleton (bedding/linens and housewares), Old Gringo Boots and Magnolia Pearl (clothing).

The store also has Band-Aids, lotion, shower steamers, ice cream and cold drinks.

“It’s 99 percent eclectic and unique,” Jimenez said.

A native of Ventura, California, Jimenez lived in New York City for more than 20 years and has visited 30 U.S. states and traveled around the world.

She first opened Little Shop as a “holiday popup” on north Main Street, but then moved to Taos for a year.

“I knew I wanted to be back here,” said Jimenez, who was delighted to get the property at the corner of Main Street and Las Cruces Avenue, with support from Downtown Las Cruces Partnership Executive Director Jennifer L. Garcia Kozlowski and Mayor Pro Tempore

“angry” because God is capricious, hostile, or judgmental. In Edwards’ theology, God’s wrath is not punitive but corrective, precisely because individual people matter. While it may seem destructive, it aims to create better people, icons of the holy. Edwards’ words encouraged his hearers to back off tendencies like the rage that comes naturally to us and that destroys our relationships and ultimately our own souls. As a nation we must find ways to return to these spiritual values that uphold the dignity of human life if we are not to sink into barbarism.

We live in a “post-truth era,” when objective facts seem less important than personal feelings. We’ve been moving this way a long time, through the me-first generation of the Eighties to the entitlement generation of the Nineties. Now we seem to be in an era when my personal feelings trump all other considerations.

The post-truth era is marked by hasty judgments based on feelings. If each of us would retreat from that hastiness, perhaps we could again see others as icons of the holy. Our parents taught us to live as if we were at a railroad crossing sign that says “stop, look, and listen.” The world would be a better place if we heeded their simple advice.

Aggies get first WAC wins

BULLETIN REPORT
A pair of home victories Feb. 1 and 4 put the NM State men's basketball team on the Western Athletic Conference scoreboard.

The Aggies shot 54 percent from the field Feb. 4 at home against Seattle, en route to an 82-75 victory. Sophomore Anthony Roy led all Aggies with 15 points, but five other NM State players hit double figures as well.

NM State also benefited from a balanced attack three nights earlier, defeating Stephen F. Austin 73-67 in the Pan Am Center Feb. 1.

Five Aggies scored in double figures, led by 15 from DaJuan Quayle Gordon, who hit several key buckets when SFA closed the gap in the second half. Xavier Pinson was nearly a sixth Aggie in double figures, finishing with nine.

After the two victories, NM State's men were 9-14 overall, and 2-9 in conference play.

The women's team split their two games last week, beating Cal Baptist 62-61 Feb. 2 on a Soufia Inoussa layup with seven seconds left in the game. Saturday, Feb. 4, Grand Canyon came into the Pan Am to edge NM State 64-59. After those two games, the women were 12-11 overall and 7-4 in WAC play.

Lions... We Serve

A short golfing story: Please don't be that guy ...

Skip is a twentysomething who works part-time selling used cars. He's an avowed know-it-all. You can immediately discern that by the self-centered slant of his conversation, which is often non-stop. "I know for a fact that football did not get deflated," he blurts out, unprompted, followed by, "Roger Goodell's a jerk!" Skip's "spare" time is consumed betting on fantasy sports.

Skip started playing golf two years ago. He claims he is a 19 handicapper, and says on a good day, "I can shoot in the low 80s." Despite being unable to hook up with a regular group to play with on his days off, he joins groups randomly and likes to play for money. This is real cash, not fantasy. Negotiation for strokes is always contentious, since he doesn't have an official USGA handicap at any golf course. He deflects the strokes question with, "Just ask my friends what I shoot." But the truth is he doesn't have any actual golf friends.

Attired in camo cargo shorts, T-shirt, tattoos, tennis shoes and hat turned backwards, Skip sports a Ping stand bag he acquired from a thrift shop filled with what appear to be up-to-date Callaway woods and irons, and oh, a Scotty Cameron blade putter. He brags that he bought his clubs on eBay and were all "great deals."

"These clubs are money, baby," Skip beams. They look nice and look authentic, but it turns out they're all counterfeits.

As they had played only a few holes Skip summons the cart girl and orders a double Bloody Mary and a beer. He remarks about the cart girl's outfit and "hot" looks. He offers no one else in the group a drink, despite the fact that they invited Skip to join. The tab amounts to $24; he offered a measly $1 tip. The cart girl avoided the group the rest of the afternoon.

Unlike the other players in the group, Skip keeps his oversize smart phone in his back pocket at all times. After every shot he pulls it out and stares at it while thumbing downward and sideways. The habit started to become annoying to others, so one of the players finally asked Skip if his phone had a GPS app or a personal golf tips app. "Nope," he replied. "Just checking my Twitter account. Kim Kardashian tweets that she's planning for a fourth baby. Wow."

As the group goes further into the round it's obvious Skip is a volatile individual. Prior to the 12th hole, his off-color antics seemed confined to swearing and kicking the tires of his golf cart after hitting a terrible shot. But on 12, after a decent drive, he hooked his ball in the water and proceeded to helicopter his club down the fairway. This meltdown would not be his last. On the next hole, he pulled his tee shot left where it ended up lodged against a rock wall. Skip proceeded to use his "foot-wedge" to clear the ball from the stymie, but before he was able to take a shot, one of the other players came over to say, "Wait a minute, you can't do that. We're playing for some money here, and we're liberal with the rules of golf, but not that liberal."

"What! That's an immovable object," Skip squawks.

"It's definitely immovable," the competitor says, "but it also is the boundary of the golf course. It's not out of bounds, but if you can hit it you'll have to drop it where you can, no closer to the hole, with penalty."

"I thought you were nice guys," Skip yelled. "You're just a bunch of turkeys!"

With the round finally over, Skip was told that he owed a total of $22 for bets. He then muttered that he was putting his clubs in his car. He proceeded to immediately drive off, leaving the group wondering.

A week later, when Skip showed up at the course to play, the head pro came to the counter and leaned over, looking Skip in the eye, and said, "Last week you raced outta here, welching your bets. Hey, you don't pay, you don't play. Now scram!"
