If you could turn back time ...

By MIKE COOK
Las Cruces Bulletin

Don't forget to set your clocks back one hour (spring forward/fall back)!

Daylight Saving Time (DST) 2023 ends at 2 a.m. Sunday, Nov. 5, and Mountain Standard Time (MST) returns.

When you reset your clocks, it is also a good time to check smoke-alarm batteries.

MST 2023-24 will last until Sunday, March 10, 2024.

DST was first enacted in the United States in 1918, repealed the next year and reinstated as "war time" February 1942-September

1945 during World War II. It became permanent in 1966, and began earlier than before in 1974, after President Richard Nixon signed the Emergency DST Energy Conservation Act because of an OPEC oil embargo that started in October 1973 and ended in March 1974.

President George W. Bush

signed the Energy Policy Act in August 2005, which moved the end of DST from the last Sunday in October to the first Sunday in November and the start date for DST to the second Sunday in March.

And by the way, the correct spelling (and the correct way to say it) is Daylight Saving Time – there is no "s" at the end of saving.

New Mexico is one of 48 states that observes DST. Only Arizona (except for the Navajo Nation) and Hawaii do not recognize DST, along with American Samoa, Guam, Puerto Rico and the Virgin Islands.

Veterans Day Parade to recognize Desert Storm

BULLETIN REPORT

The 28th annual Las Cruces Veterans Day Parade will be at 11 a.m. Saturday, Nov. 11, in downtown Las Cruces, the City of Las Cruces said in a news release.

The parade will form at the corner of Main Street and Lohman Avenue, travel north on Main Street to the roundabout near City Hall and continue south on Water Street back to the staging area.

The theme for this year's parade is "Honoring Desert Storm Veterans."

The parade review stand will be at the intersection of Main Street and Las Cruces Avenue. This is where the presentation of medals to the parade's grand marshals will occur.

Opening ceremonies are scheduled for 10:30 a.m. at the parade review stand. This is where a cannon will be fired to mark the start of the parade, the city said.

To accommodate the parade, Main Street, as well as streets that feed into the parade route will begin closing at 6 a.m. Nov. 11, the news release said.

The Veterans Memorial Wall at Veterans Park, 2651 Roadrunner Parkway, has the names of 479 Doña Ana County veterans who served in Desert Storm.

Desert Storm was the U.S. military action that took place in January and February 1991 as a response to Iraq's August 1990 invasion of Kuwait.

The Veterans Day Parade will motor through downtown Las Cruces Saturday, Nov. 11

It was the follow-on to Operation Desert Shield, in which the U.S. military deployed 500,000 American troops in Saudi Arabia to defend in case of an Iraqi attack.

On Nov. 11, the parade participants will report at 9 a.m. to the staging area on the corner of Main Street and Lohman Ave. The parade starts at 11 a.m. and will travel north down Main Street to the traffic circle, west to Water Street, south, back to the staging area.

Parking will be available at the parking lot just south of El Paso Electric, the Doña Ana County Judicial Complex, Thomas Branigan Memorial Library, City Hall and several parking lots on the East side of the downtown area, between Main and Church streets.

The Las Cruces Veterans Day Parade website (www.lascrucesvetday.org) listed 69 parade entries in October, with the Las Cruces Police Department leading and concluding the order of march.

Other parade participants will include parade grand marshals Marine Corps league Chapter 478 El Perro Diablo; local VFW, American Legion, DAV, Mesilla Valley Chapter 2004 Military Order of the Purple Heart, the 2023 Veterans Parade poster contest winner; Military Officers Association of America; Las Cruces Special Forces Association Chapter 80; Honor Flight of Southern New Mexico and El Paso; Vietnam veterans; Military Rescue Ram Club; United Military Women of the Southwest; NMSU Army and Air Force ROTC; Remember Bataan Foundation; other military veterans; ROTC, bands, sports teams and other Las Cruces Public Schools and Gadsden Independent School District school organizations; the Las Cruces Fire Department; other local law enforcement agencies; Scout troops; car and motorcycle clubs; nonprofits; and others.

Lots of activities set for NMSU's Homecoming

BULLETIN REPORT

It's all things Aggie for Nov. 3-4 homecoming at New Mexico State University.

NMSU has been celebrating homecoming since 1926, and this year will be bigger and better than ever.

Here are highlights of Homecoming 2023's major events:

Distinguished Alumni dinner

NMSU's Distinguished Alumni Awards Celebration Dinner begins at 5 p.m. Friday, Nov. 3, at Hotel Encanto, 705 S. Telshor Blvd. This year's honorees are Barbara Hubbard (James F. Cole Memorial Award for Service), Charles R. Rogers (College of Business), Christopher Kazanjian (College of Health, Education and Social Transformation), Gustav "Gus" Seligmann (College of Arts and Sciences), Heather Whitley (College of Arts and Sciences), Jeanne Gleason (College of Agricultural, Consumer, and Environmental Sciences), John Yates, Jr. (College of Engineering) and Lea Wise-Surguy (Young Alumni Service Award).

The NMSU Alumni Association has presented more than 350 awards since 1956, honoring alumni who "demonstrate outstanding university involvement and notable civic, humanitarian and professional contributions."

Parade

The 2023 Homecoming Parade starts at 9:30 a.m. Saturday, Nov. 4, at Pan American Center and travels west on University Ave.

Aggie 25th and 50th Silver & Gold Reunion Celebration Luncheon

The lunch will be held at 1:30 a.m. Saturday, Nov. 4, at Hotel Encanto, honoring NMSU's 1973 and 1998 graduates.

Alumni Tailgate

The 2023 homecoming tailgate with alumni and friends is 2-4 p.m. (right before the Aggie football game) Saturday, Nov. 4, in the parking lot between Pan American Center and Aggie Memorial Stadium, at the corner of Arrowhead Drive and Stewart Street on the east side of the NMSU-Las Cruces campus. A full meal will be served by Rudy's Bar B-Q. Icebox Brewery will have a cash bar. The event will include the NMSU Pride marching band, cheer squad and Pistol Pete.

Football game

The NMSU Aggies (6-3) take on the Middle Tennessee Blue Raiders (2-6) beginning at 4 p.m. Saturday, Nov. 4, at Aggie Memorial Stadium. For the first time in more than 20 years, the Aggies have won four football games in a row, thanks to their comeback 27-24 road win over Louisiana Tech Oct. 24.

Under Coach Jerry Kill, the Aggies are hoping a win over Middle Tennessee will help propel them to their second consecutive bowl game this year.

The Aggies are 4-1 in Conference USA, currently in third place behind Liberty and Jax State in the nine-team conference that also includes UTEP.

Fireworks after the game

Spectacular fireworks will be launched from Sisbarro Community Park across from Aggie Memorial Stadium immediately after the NMSU-Middle Tennessee football game.

Ag Day offers pre-game events

BULLETIN REPORT

The New Mexico Department of Agriculture (NMDA) and New Mexico State University's College of Agricultural, Consumer and Environmental Sciences (ACES) will host the 10th annual AG Day Saturday, Nov. 4.

The street festival, which is free and open to the public, will be held 1-4 p.m. in the Pan American Center south parking lot and the Aggie Memorial Stadium northeast parking lot. It will be followed by the NMSU Aggies vs. Middle Tennessee Blue Raiders football game at 4 p.m., NMDA said in a news release.

During the event, the NMSU Department of Animal and Range Sciences will provide attendees the opportunity to interact with live animals; New Mexico 4-H, NMSU Cooperative Extension Service, New Mexico CowBelles and New Mexico Ag in the Classroom will educate the public about agriculture with fun activities; and there will be music and samples of New Mexico products.

"Agriculture is a large part of New Mexico culture," said New Mexico Secretary of Agriculture Jeff Witte. "AG Day is a great way to come see what is new in the industry and cheer on the Aggies for their Homecoming game. Come celebrate the agriculture community with us!"

A young cowboy enjoys the fun at a previous AG Day by riding a rocking horse.

"The role that the College of ACES plays in the university and New Mexico is very significant since it is here where our students in agriculture, environmental and consumer sciences learn the science that they will use in their future careers," said NMSU College of ACES Dean Rolando Flores. "Also, the research that is conducted in ACES is transferred to farmers and ranchers in New Mexico through the Cooperative Extension Service and makes the agriculture industry viable and possible given the new climatological conditions we are living in."

Tuesday is Election Day; early voting goes through Saturday

By MIKE COOK

Las Cruces Bulletin

Tuesday, Nov. 7, is election day, as voters in Las Cruces, Mesilla, Hatch, Sunland Park and Anthony, New Mexico go to the polls to elect mayors, city and town councilors and municipal judges, and voters throughout Doña Ana County cast ballots in races for seats on Las Cruces, Hatch and Gadsden school boards and a half-dozen conservation district boards. Doña Ana Community College also has a $16 million general obligation bond question on the ballot.

Polls will be open 7 a.m.-7 p.m. election day at 42 sites in Las Cruces and throughout the county. Visit www.donaanacountyelections.com/locations.

Visit candidateportal.servis.sos.state.nm.us/CandidateList.aspx?eid=2858&cty=99 and enter click on "Dona Ana" in the county box to see a complete list of candidates in the county. (Two of the 67 candidates listed were disqualified.)

Early voting continues through Saturday, Nov. 4, at nine locations in Las Cruces, Mesilla, Hatch, Anthony, Sunland Park and Chaparral. Eight of those locations are open 11 a.m.-7 p.m. The Doña Ana County Government Center, 845 N. Motel Blvd. in Las Cruces, is open 8 a.m.-5 p.m. Friday and 10 a.m.-6 p.m. Saturday.

Election day (Nov. 7) is the last day for same-day voter registration. Absentee ballots must be turned in by 7 p.m. that day to be counted. There are nine secure locations across the county where absentee ballots can be dropped off.

Las Cruces voters will choose a new mayor to take office next Jan. 1. Incumbent Mayor Ken Miyagishima, first elected in 2007, is not seeking re-election.

The city will also have a new presiding municipal judge. Current Municipal Judge II Anthony Filosa is the only candidate on the ballot to succeed Joy Goldbaum as presiding judge. Goldbaum is not seeking a second four-year term.

Las Cruces voters are also choosing city councilors in districts 1, 2 and 4. Districts 3, 5 and 6 are not on the ballot this year.

City of Las Cruces mayor and city council districts 1 and 4 will be decided by ranked choice voting because each race has more than two candidates: mayor: seven candidates, city council district 1: five candidates, city council district 4: four candidates. The District 2 city council race has only two candidates, so ranked choice voting will not apply.

Mesilla and Sunland Park will also elect mayors this year. Salud! de Mesilla co-owner Russell Hernandez will succeed Nora Barraza as Mesilla mayor, as he is the only candidate on the ballot. Javier Perea will serve another four-year term as mayor of Sunland Park, as he is the only candidate in that race. Perea was appointed mayor in 2012 and re-elected in 2014 and 2018. Like Mesilla, Sunland Park did not hold a municipal election in 2022 as New Mexico towns and cities transitioned to city- and town-held elections under the state's Local Election Act, which was signed into law by Gov. Michelle Lujan Grisham in April 2019.

For more information, visit dacelections.com.

DACC GO bond

If approved by voters, Doña Ana Community College's GO bond would provide $16 million in upgrades and improvements to DACC campuses without raising property taxes. It would include $1.4 million for security and safety upgrades; $1.5 million for infrastructure improvements, including maintenance, repair and site development; $2.85 million for classroom upgrades and renovations; $2.5 million for information technology upgrades and equipment acquisition; $8.1 million to replace DACC Sunland Park Center portables with permanent classrooms and equip science labs and student areas.

Connect Doña Ana works to give people best care

BULLETIN REPORT

Doña Ana County has launched Connect Doña Ana, a new closed-loop referral system to help residents in need receive healthcare and social services, the county said in a news release.

The program is a partnership between the county and Unite Us, a national cross-sector collaboration software company, the LC3 Behavioral Health Collaborative and Presbyterian Health Plan. “Along with local health and social services providers, Doña Ana County is building a network of more than 100 partners and community health workers (CHWs) and making it easier for local providers to refer patients or clients to each other,” the news release said.

“Connect Doña Ana makes it possible for each agency to welcome a client into Unite Us and seamlessly refer them to other agencies for additional help,” county Health and Human Services Department Director Jamie Michael said. “For example, if someone visited Casa de Peregrinos for food, staff could also find an agency in the platform that provides housing, without the client having to provide their information a second time.”

“By facilitating information sharing and a seamless referral system across the health and social services provider network, all providers are able to offer more efficient and effective services to individuals and families in need,” the news release said. “The key to the system is CHWs, who serve as navigators.

“Our partnership with Doña Ana County strengthens our partnership with other agencies throughout New Mexico, including Presbyterian Health Plan and the collaboration we are building across healthcare and wellness services,” Unite Us Community Engagement Manager Monique N. Rodriguez. “We are aligned on a shared mission of improving the lives of individuals in Doña Ana County by supporting community-led systems of care, building trust in communities and accurately capturing the whole picture of a person’s health and the community’s needs.”

“Connect Doña Ana

means more than speed and effective service delivery,” Michael said. “A seamless referral system enables all of us to identify gaps, see trends and make adjustments. More importantly, providers can follow-up and ensure referred clients did, in fact access and receive help. In summary, Connect Doña Ana enables us to bolster better health outcomes and foster an improved quality of life, throughout our community.”

BETTY JO GARST, 96

Betty Jo (BJ) Garst passed away at the age of 96 Oct. 19, 2023, in Las Cruces, New Mexico.

BJ was born to Fred and Virginia Minshall on June 3, 1927, in Daniels, West Virginia. She grew up on the family farm in Kingston, Ohio, where she spent many hours doing farm chores. Ready to discover life outside of the farm, she attended The Ohio State University and graduated with a BA. She met Daniel M. Garst while at Ohio State, and they married on April 22, 1950. Dan and BJ were married for 63 years, until Dan’s death in 2013.

When Dan was hired at Sandia Labs in 1957, the couple and their two daughters moved to Albuquerque, New Mexico, from Dayton, Ohio. In 2008, they moved to Las Cruces, New Mexico, to be near their daughters.

Dan and BJ made many friends over the years, enjoying friendships in Ohio, Albuquerque and, most recently, at The Boulders in Las Cruces. BJ was an excellent cook and gracious hostess and loved entertaining friends and Dan’s business associates from all over the world while he worked at Sandia. Along with entertaining, BJ was a skilled seamstress, enjoyed reading, playing bridge, and gardening. BJ was a sharp bridge player and enjoyed teaching others how to play. She and Dan were avid travelers and took many trips to the Bahamas, the Oregon coast, and Alaska. BJ and Dan were members of Immanuel Presbyterian Church in Albuquerque, and later attended St. Paul’s Methodist Church and Sonoma Springs Covenant Church in Las Cruces.

BJ is survived by her daughters, Emily Garst, of Ruidoso, and Betsy Holt (Matt), of Las Cruces; five granddaughters, Megan Cain, Lindsay Locke, Kate Stokes, Carrie Acosta (Mario), and Amy Holt; eleven great-grandchildren; her brother, George Minshall of Kingston, Ohio; and several dear nieces and nephews. She was preceded in death by her husband, Daniel, her older brother Bill Minshall, and sisters-in-law Inez, Carolyn and Sue.

A gathering of family and friends is planned for a later date.

The family would like to thank both the staff at the Heritage Assisted Living for their kind and loving professional care, helping BJ in her last few months, and Mesilla Valley Hospice for their many kindnesses in her last few days.

Arrangements by Getz Funeral Home, 1410 E. Bowman Ave. Las Cruces NM 88001. Please visit www.getzcares.com to sign the local online guest book.

Bulletin/Desert Exposure staff honored

BULLETIN REPORT

The New Mexico Press Association recognized the best of New Mexico's newspaper writing, photography and advertising at the Better Newspaper Contest Banquet on Saturday, Oct. 28, in Albuquerque. The awards were handed out at the NMPA 114th Annual Convention, the theme of which was "Still nosy after 175 years."

The organization recognized newspapers in five divisions. The Las Cruces Bulletin is considered in the Weekly Class 1, for weekly newspapers with a circulation of 6,000 or above, and Desert Exposure is considered in the monthly publication category.

Bulletin winners: Bulletin editor and publisher Richard Coltharp: Columns – second place with "Bill helps NM Doctors, half of them anyway," about the high malpractice suit limits in New Mexico and how it is a deterrent for doctors to work in the state. Coltharp also was recognized for Sports Columns – first place with

"Why not us Aggies," about NMSU's bowl game, and second place with "If you know Aggie sports, you know Jack," about longtime NMSU announcer Jack Nixon's induction into the state's broadcasting hall of fame.

Reporter Mike Cook took first place in News Writing with "Legislative proposal smells like green spirit," about State Sen. Bill Soules' bill to make the smell of roasting green chile the state's official aroma. The judge wrote, "You took a small story and made it very interesting and readable."

Reporter Elva K. Österreich won a second place in the Review category with "Falling out of the box with 'RAW,'" her review about an exhibit by artist Sonya Fe.

Desert Exposure: Österreich received Best Feature Story for "Becoming an alien: Esposito immerses himself in his roles." The judge wrote of the story about Giancarlo Esposito, who was in town for the Las Cruces International Film Festival, "The story does a good job of taking a well-known actor and giving him genuine tie to the local area beyond an event."

Desert Exposure also won the award for Front Page Design, the judge said, "Covers are full of eye catching, attention getting color and art."

October shootings cast pall on holiday festivities

By BROOK STOCKBERGER

For the Bulletin

The weekend before Halloween saw Las Cruces become part of the gun violence trend. A mass shooting at a party Saturday, Oct. 28, sent seven people to area hospitals, some with serious injuries.

According to the Las Cruces Police, about 11:30 p.m. Saturday on the 3100 block of Dyer Street, a drive-by shooting was directed at a house party. The incident was less than half of a mile from Hillrise Elementary School, which was closed because it happened on a weekend night.

"I'm really concerned for all of the gun violence both in our city, state and nation," said Las Cruces Mayor Ken Miyagishima. "I wish I knew the answer on how to stop these shootings, we just need to stay vigilant and learn to be kind to one another." Crime Stoppers of Las Cruces-Doña Ana County is offering up to $1,000 for information that helps identify the person or persons responsible. Crime Stoppers allows tips to be provided anonymously. Anyone with information is asked to call 1-800-222-8477. Tips can also be provided through the Las Cruces Crime Stoppers app, "P3 TIPS." The app is available through the App Store on most devices.

The Las Cruces act of violence grouped southern New Mexico's largest city with communities across the nation the weekend before Halloween where mass shootings - defined by crowdsourced data site Mass Shooting Tracker as any incident in which four or more people are shot - took place. In Texarkana, Texas; Indianapolis, Tampa, Chicago and at least seven other cities, mass shootings took the lives of 11 people and wounded 76 more.

Gun Violence Archive reports more than 100 may have been wounded during the weekend.

"The increase in the amount of mass shootings should be (a) top priority for our government," said Las Cruces Jill Stull. She said "innocent children and bystanders." should not be victims, "because proper screening wasn't done," to keep guns out of the hands of those who will misuse them.

As a result of the Las Cruces shooting, seven victims, one who was 17 and six others who were 18 or older, were injured. Two victims are in critical, but stable, condition.

Christopher, a Las Cruces father of two children who asked that his last name not be used, said far too often youths are turning to guns to solve problems.

"This is not surprising given adults are oftentimes seen acting in a manner which is inconsistent with how we should behave as a society."

The seven victims were initially taken to Las Cruces hospitals, but one was later transferred to an El Paso hospital.

There were no deaths in this shooting.

As of Tuesday, no arrests had been made, and the shooting is being investigated. Any additional information to be shared with LCPD can be made by calling 575-526-0795.

October shootings in Las Cruces neither started nor ended on the 28th.

On Oct. 3, 45-year-old Teresa Gomez was killed during an interaction with an LCPD officer near Burley Court in Las Cruces.

On Oct. 14, a 14-year-old boy died from a gunshot sustained on the East Mesa. A 15-year-old boy was identified as the shooter and charged with involuntary manslaughter and unlawful possession of a firearm.

The next day, Oct. 15, a 16-year-old boy died as a result of a shooting during an altercation outside Little Caesar's Pizza on North Main.

Sunday, Oct. 29, so far unconfirmed by Las Cruces Police, a Las Cruces man was reportedly shot near the intersection of Claude Dove Drive and Telshor Boulevard.

The victim's truck had allegedly been stolen from his driveway, and he pursued the thief in his other vehicle.

The two reportedly met near the intersection, and shots were fired by the alleged car thief. One non-life-threatening injury was reportedly sustained, and the alleged car thief was subdued and later arrested.

- WHO: Crime Stoppers of Las Cruces-Doña Ana County
- WHAT: Up to $1,000 for information that helps identify the person or persons responsible for shooting
- HOW: Call 1-800-222-8477 with tips (can be anonymous)

Pontelli finds way from Italy to land of green chile

By RICHARD COLTHARP
Las Cruces Bulletin

Despite living in New Mexico for more than a quarter century, Enrico Pontelli's native Italian accent is as thick as his grandmother's pasta sauce.

But there's a tell-tale

sign he's a true New Mexican when he's asked about why he likes Las Cruces: "You can't beat the green chile."

For New Mexico State University's dean of the College of Arts and Sciences, however, there are a lot more reasons he's stayed in Las Cruces.

At the University of Udine, in Pontelli's hometown of Udine, Italy, Pontelli studied computer science. To earn his master's degree, he came to America to participate in a pilot program at the University of Houston. When looking for a place to get his doctorate, Pontelli found NMSU. He earned that degree in 1997 and never left. He joined the faculty, teaching computer science, and kept working his way up the ladder until he was named dean in May 2017.

Outside of the green chile, the biggest reason he's stayed at NMSU has been his love for the people in the classrooms.

"First of all, the students," Pontelli said. "We are such a gem. I don't think people realize how talented our students are.

"They have an incredible work ethic, much more than at many prestigious universities. We have first-generation students that either already have a job or have strong family commitments in addition to their coursework. They regularly see their parents, their family, their siblings. They're hard-working and connected to community."

Pontelli is clearly proud of the students in Arts & Sciences, but he's also proud of the faculty and the programs.

"CMI, our Creative Media Institute is wonderful," Pontelli said. "They have a nationally rated animation program and are growing so fast. We have a very strong computer science program, with internationally renowned research. Every one of our programs brings something -- for example, our philosophy department provides some of the best preparation for law school."

Pontelli recalls a visit a few years back by an NMSU graduate who earned her degree in philosophy before going on to become an entrepreneur in the field of cotton and owned a cotton gin.

"I talked to her and said, 'What made you successful?' She said it was her degree in philosophy. It had given her the right frame of mind.

We also have amazing researchers in biology."

In terms of enrollment, Arts & Sciences is the largest college at NMSU.

Away from the job, Pontelli dives into things much simpler than the complexities of running NMSU's largest college.

"I collect old comic books from the 1950s through the '70s," Pontelli said. "I like to read 'brainless' books, especially when I'm traveling or on a plane. I love dogs. We have two mystery rescue dogs."

Casa for a Cause reflects its community

The Las Cruces Home Builders Association's Casa for a Cause program, formerly known as the Anniversary House, is the perfect microcosm for all that is right with our community.

If you're not familiar with Casa for a Cause, here's how it works: local homebuilders build a house, reducing expenses as much as possible by seeking discounted or donated labor, equipment, materials and land. Then, when the house sells, the profits are divvied up among 20-30 local charitable organizations.

Here's how it's like Las Cruces.

First of all, building a house is hard work. And this year's house was built during the hottest summer on record. Las Cruces works hard. Yes, there are a lot of white-collar jobs at the university and high-tech jobs at White Sands Missile Range and NASA. But at its heart, Las Cruces is a blue-collar community. Many early Las Cruces-area residents worked farms and ranches. Many still do. All you have to do is drive up and down the street to see the many blue-collar jobs and workers that keep our city running.

Secondly, connections and relationships make Las Cruces tick. When the builders (this year's Casa for a Cause builder is French Brothers) start working to find good deals, they rely on friends, former colleagues and networking to make the connections.

Some people say the phrase "It's not what you know, it's who you know" like it's a bad thing. And if you give a job to someone solely because you know them, it is a bad thing. But when you talk to your friends, colleagues and family members to get information and advice on how to do something and who can help, that's not a bad thing at all. It's just smart. And that's how things can get done in Las Cruces.

Third, Las Cruces cares. We care about our neighbors. We care about each other. Why else would Casa for a Cause exist in the first place? The many ways

RICHARD COLTHARP
Going Downtown

Doña Ana County residents go to great lengths to help each other is something we talk about all the time. The Casa for a Cause project culminates annually when the house is sold, and the LCHBA puts on a banquet to distribute the proceeds to the many nonprofits in the community. It's a moving event, seeing all the love in action. And it is love.

However, the love can't flow until the house is sold.

This year's Casa for a Cause, as of this writing, remains unsold.

I'm not suggesting you go out and buy it. It is $399,015, so you're not going to finance it by checking the couch cushions.

BULLETIN PHOTO BY MIKE COOK

This year's Casa for a Cause house is now complete and ready for a buyer. The house is at 7322 Bedford Ave., near Red Hawk Golf Course. It lists for $399,015, and all the profits will be distributed among local charitable organizations.

But maybe you've been house-hunting anyway. Or someone in your family. Or friends. Maybe we can put those aforementioned Las Cruces networking skills to work.

Sooner or later the house will sell.

I hope, after it does, you'll make plans to go to the celebration banquet.

Then I'll challenge you to keep your eyes dry as you witness so many things that are great about our community.

LETTER TO THE EDITOR

State's education colleges need to better prepare science, math teachers

I am writing this letter as a concerned citizen and former faculty member of the College of Education at the University of New Mexico.

When I joined the College of Education faculty as an assistant professor of mathematics education in 1998, there were six dedicated mathematics and science education faculty members, three in mathematics and three in science.

Now, there are only two faculty members in the College who identify as mathematics or science education faculty.

From a cursory glance through the New Mexico State University College of Education online directory, it appears that there are zero faculty at NMSU who are qualified to teach mathematics and science related courses for prospective teachers.

The fact that both UNM and NMSU have not prioritized having mathematics and science education faculty is nothing short of a disaster for the state of

New Mexico. It is simply unacceptable that UNM and NMSU place so little value on preparing teachers to effectively teach mathematics and science in New Mexico's PK-12 classrooms!

Administrators at UNM and NMSU need to take a closer look at how colleges of education in New Mexico seem incapable of understanding the importance of having dedicated faculty who have the primary job of preparing prospective teachers to teach mathematics and science in grades PK-12. If administrators are unwilling to act, the New Mexico legislature needs to get involved to ensure the state's students have access to teachers who know and can teach them mathematics and science.

Fire hits Telshor

BULLETIN REPORT

An office at Telshor Tower Plaza, 755 S. Telshor Blvd. caught fire Monday, Oct. 30.

Las Cruces Fire Department vehicles and more than 40 firefighters responded and put out the fire within an hour.

LCFD officials on the scene said there were two "civillian injuries," both cases of smoke inhalation.

Upon arrival, firefighters found substantial flames coming from second-floor windows of the building, the city said in a news release. Attempted fire attacks through an interior stairwell were hindered by zero visibility and intense heat, prompting LCFD to shift tactics to gain access to the second floor, using ladders and additional firefighters who entered from the rear. Limited access to the second floor and a significant amount of stored materials posed challenges. No other nearby buildings were damaged. An investigation into what caused the fire continues. An estimated cost of damages caused by the fire has not yet been determined.

LAS CRUCES

There is an election on Tuesday November 7th for 3 seats on the Las Cruces Public School Board.

What do you want the FUTURE to be like for your kids, your grandkids and your neighbors' kids?

ARE YOU HAPPY WITH THE WAY YOUR KIDS ARE BEING EDUCATED?

I am running for a seat on the Board in District 4, and I want our kids to succeed, to learn, to think, to master reading, math and science and to be productive in their lives. Right now, that isn't happening because the School Board is not FOCUSED on our children's success, and you can see this in the schools today.

Let's work together to:

- ▶ IMPROVE READING & MATH SCORES.
- ▶ HIRE QUALIFIED TEACHERS FOR ALL OUR SCHOOLS, PAY THEM COMPETITIVELY AND LET THEM TEACH.
- ▶ BRING DISCIPLINE BACK TO THE CLASSROOMS.
- ▶ STRENGTHEN SECURITY IN EVERY SCHOOL, ELIMINATE THE DRUGS AND IMPROVE ATTENDANCE
- ▶ TAKE RESPONSIBILITY AS PARENTS AND GET INVOLVED IN YOUR KIDS EDUCATION, DON'T LET THE SCHOOL BOARD RAISE YOUR KIDS

Bird, bat biology is ALR focus for November

BULLETIN REPORT

“Life on the Wing: The Biology of Birds and Bats” is the focus of the Academy for Learning in Retirement’s (ALR) November series, ALR said in a news release.

“Birds and bats have excited the imagination and invited speculation for centuries,” the news release said.

“Recent studies have advanced our understanding of animal cognition, ecology and evolution.”

The series will introduce participants to recent advances in the understanding of how avian migration takes place, how flying species thrive at night, how vocal learning and communication takes place among birds

Free legal clinic Nov. 4

BULLETIN REPORT

The Third Judicial District Pro Bono Committee and the Southern New Mexico Bar Association will host a free legal clinic, with local attorneys, for Las Cruces residents, 10 a.m.-5:30 p.m. Saturday, Nov. 4, at Thomas Branigan Memorial Library, 200 E. Pícacho Ave., District Judge Robert Lara said.

Legal consultations will be on a first come, first served basis.

“The goal of the clinic is to allow the public to speak with an attorney about a legal issue they are facing and allow them to get advice and direction,” Lara said. “Many of our neighbors are unable to afford such legal assistance, and clinics like this help promote access to justice.”

Spanish interpreters will be on-site during the clinic.

Fingers on buzzers: 'Quiz Lady' scores points on Hulu

celebrity update

BY JAY BOBBIN

Jesse L. Martin

OF THE IRRATIONAL ON NBC

Q: I'm glad to see Jesse L. Martin back as a series star in "The Irrational." I know he also was in "Law & Order" and "The Flash," but has he done any other shows?

A: Yes. After appearing on the ABC daytime serial "One Life to Live" early in his career, Martin landed a starring role in the short-lived "413 Hope St.," a serio-comic Fox show about a crisis center. He stayed with Fox for a recurring part on "Ally McBeal" during its first two seasons, then NBC's "Law & Order" came his way, and he appeared in just under 200 episodes over eight years as Detective Ed Green.

Martin had another recurring role in the NBC musical-drama series "Smash" during its second and final season, then his next long television run – lasting the better part of a decade – with his portrayal of Joe West on The CW's "The Flash." Martin was cast in the "Irrational" before his "Flash" engagement ended, and he went from regular to recurring status on the superhero show so that he could begin work on "The Irrational," on which he's also a producer.

The fact that Martin started work early on "The Irrational" is a big reason the show was able to premiere as it normally would have at the start of the fall season, when so many other series were unable to start at the usual time because of the actors' and writers' strikes that prevented production from taking place. Enough "Irrational" episodes had been banked by the time the strikes began to enable the program to have the September start that it always was planned for.

“Edge of Tomorrow” (Nov. 7)

Live, die, repeat. Based on Japanese light novel “All You Need Is Kill,” this film follows Maj. William Cage (Tom Cruise) as he is forced to fight off an invasion by an alien race known as Mimics. Due to his limited combat experience, Cage is quickly dispatched by the alien threat. However, death isn't the end for Cage as he must relive the day of the invasion until he can find a solution.

“The Croods Family Tree” - Season 8 (Nov. 9)

DreamWork's prehistoric families of the Croods and the Bettermans are back for another season of misadventures. From discovering a submarine or creating a hair growth formula to fighting off a strange-looking snake and competing in a tournament to determine the dominant species on the planet, there is no rest for these kooky families.

“Dark Side of the Ring” - Season 4 (Nov. 9)

This hit docuseries is back with even more of compelling — and possibly horrifying — stories from the world of professional wrestling. From the life and careers of figures like Abdullah the Butcher, Marty Jannetty and Tammy Lynn Sytch to infamous events such as WCW Bash at the Beach 2000, Season 4 tries its best to find the truth in this wacky intersection of fact and fiction.

“Bleach Thousand Year Blood War - Part 2: The Separation” (Available Now)

After the initial invasion by the Quincy's, the Soul Reapers are left in a state of disrepair, while Ichigo and allies go to the train with the Soul King's Royal Guard. Unfortunately for the forces of good, the Quincy's have been literally hiding in the shadows of the Soul Society — and they're ready to strike once again.

What's Available NOW On

“Star Wars: Young Jedi Adventures” - Season 1 (Nov. 8)

This kid-friendly take on the venerable sci-fi franchise follows Kai Brightstar and his fellow Jedi younglings as they journey the cosmos with their mentor, Yoda. On their adventures, the younglings learn valuable life lessons. Season 1 returns with six new episodes; one of which sees our heroes land on the Wookiee's home planet of Kashyyyk to celebrate Life Day.

“The Santa Clauses” - Season 2 (Nov. 8)

In Season 2 of this TV continuation of the beloved “Santa Clause” film trilogy, Scott Calvin (Tim Allen) continues his search for someone to replace him as Santa. In the meantime, he drafts his family to help with his duties. Unfortunately for the Calvins, they face opposition from the recently-revived Mad Santa (Eric Stonestreet).

“Harry & Meghan: A Royal Romance” (Available Now)

With all the inner turmoil and drama of the current British Royal Family, there is no better time to reminisce over happier times. This historical drama recounts the meeting and courtship of Prince Harry (Murray Fraser) and Meghan Markle (Parisa Fitz-Henley), from their initial date to the media storm that occurred when the relationship went public.

“Spider-Man: Far From Home” (Available Now)

Following the death of his mentor, Peter Parker (Tom Holland) finds that he has big shoes to fill as Spider-Man. Those feelings come to a head when Peter is drafted into fighting multiversal creatures by Nick Fury (Samuel L. Jackson) and Quentin Beck (Jake Gyllenhaal). However, everything isn't what it seems when it comes to the mysterious Beck.

Planet Earth III
BBCA 6 p.m.

Sir David Attenborough explores the dangerous frontiers created by the world's coasts, where animals fight for survival amid constant change, and natural elements are in a battle for dominance. And Namibia's Skeleton Coast has unexpected residents.

Never Been Chris'd
HALL 6 p.m.

Best friends Naomi (Janel Parrish) and Liz (Pascal LaMothe-Kipnes) return home for the holidays and reconnect with high school crush, Chris (Tyler Hynes). But when a complex love triangle forms, they're forced to examine their lives and their friendship.

You're Not Supposed to Be Here
LIFE 6 p.m.

Kennedy (Diora Baird) and her pregnant partner, Zoe (Chrishell Stause), retreat to a beautiful cabin in a remote mountain town. But their peaceful getaway soon turns into a nightmare when they realize the local townspeople want something they have.

Cowboys & Aliens
KVIA2 7 p.m.

Bearing a mysterious metal shackle on his wrist, an amnesiac gunslinger (Daniel Craig) wanders into a frontier town called Absolution. He quickly finds that strangers are unwelcome, and no one does anything without the approval of tyrannical Col. Dolarhyde (Harrison Ford). But when Absolution faces a threat from beyond Earth, the stranger finds that he is its only hope of salvation. He unites townspeople, outlaws and Apache warriors against the alien forces in an epic battle for survival.

All Rise
OWN 7 p.m.

Justice might be blind, but it still has its sense of smell and it does not appreciate what is stinking up the LA court system. Judge Lola Carmichael (Simone Missick), a former deputy district attorney, keeps trying to push boundaries and expectations.

The Collective
SHOW 10:05 p.m.

A group of righteous assassins decides to take down a sophisticated human trafficking ring backed by insolent billionaires. With their backs against the wall, the group must put its most important mission in the hands of a rookie assassin (Lucas Till).

Saturday Night Live
KTSM 10:30 p.m.

From the Rockefeller Center in New York, a hilarious cast of regulars, including Colin Jost, Michael Che, Chloe Troast and others, are joined by a weekly celebrity guest as they perform sketches and shorts in front of a studio audience.

tonight's picks

Dr. Simone Whitmore from "Married to Medicine"

The Santa Summit
HALL 6 p.m.

Jordin (Hunter King), a recently dumped art teacher, returns home to regroup and attends the town's annual holiday celebration with friends. She immediately bonds with Liam (Benjamin Hollingsworth), but they get separated before she gets his name.

Lost Women of Highway 20
ID 7 p.m.

During the premiere episode of this new series, 13-year-old Rachanda Pickle goes missing. Investigators' suspicion falls on the girl's father, a man with a dark past, but the discovery of connected crimes from the 1970's suggests a more complicated truth.

Married to Medicine
BRAVO 7:15 p.m.

It might be just what the doctor ordered when "The Real Housewives of Atlanta" alum Phaedra Parks joins the cast in the Season 10 premiere. She's also joined by Lateasha Lunceford and dentist Dr. Alicia Egolom. Expect drama to make a full recovery.

Krapopolis KFOX 7:30 p.m.

All looks to be sunshine and rainbows for Tyrannis as he starts dating the goddess Demeter. However, mother Deliria doesn't approve of Tyrannis being offered a chance at immortality. Meanwhile, Stupendous and Hippocampus venture to Hades for a shield.

The Circus: Inside
the Greatest Political Show on Earth
SHOW 8 p.m.

They may not be your monkeys. They may not be your dancing bears. But this is definitely our circus. A look at the new era of presidential politics, exposing the intense, inspiring and infuriating stories behind the headlines in real time.

The Gilded Age
HBO 10 p.m.

After the death of her father, Marian Brook (Louisa Jacobson) moves to New York City to live with her aunts. Soon enough, Marian is caught in the middle of a social war between her aunts and their wealthy neighbors, the Russells.

Gordon Ramsay from "Kitchen Nightmares"

Holiday Baking Championship
FOOD 6 p.m.

Jesse Palmer asks the bakers to combine two of the fall season's best treats and make seasonal coffee drink cinnamon rolls. Then, the bakers create fall-themed yule logs before judges Carla Hall, Duff Goldman and Nancy Fuller decide who is rolling home.

Tough Love With Hilary Farr
HGTV 7 p.m.

Renowned designer Hilary Farr is challenged by families whose dysfunctional houses are putting a strain on their relationships. Hilary uses creative design solutions with a dash of tough love to renovate their spaces and get these families back on track.

Kitchen Nightmares
KFOX 7 p.m.

The cross-country trip continues as Chef Gordon Ramsay steps in to help a family-run Haitian juice bar and restaurant in Brooklyn, N.Y. However, it might take more than Ramsay's unique tactics to keep this restaurant from falling back into utter chaos.

BravoCon Live With Andy Cohen
BRAVO 8 p.m.

Bravo has created some dynamic duos and infamous twosomes from franchises such as "The Real Housewives," "Below Deck," "Married to Medicine," and "Vanderpump Rules." These stars sit down with Andy Cohen from BravoCon in Las Vegas. Third wheels welcome.

American Dad!
TBS 8 p.m.

It may very well be a new era in the Smith house as CIA agent Stan puts his homeland first and his family — including his wife, liberal daughter, socially awkward son, goldfish with the brain of a human, and an escaped alien from Area 51 — a close second.

Independent Lens
KRWG 9 p.m.

This documentary follows Muslim chaplains in the U.S. Armed Forces, who vow to support and defend the right of every service member to practice their faith freely. But their position sparks cries of disloyalty and disapproval from their own communities.

Participate in 'very special day'

Participating in the electoral process is a privilege that is afforded all American citizens. Registering to vote is the beginning of this wonderful process. I remember the day, so many, many years ago, that my dad took me to register to vote. As a World War II Army veteran, my father was so proud of America and my registering to vote was his way of passing on his legacy of service. The morning he took me to register to vote, he was so proud. Soon afterwards though, he began to explain that registration is just the first step.

"To fully understand the process," he said, "you will need to get educated on the candidates in every race and then actually participate in voting on Election Day." Election Day was a very special day in my family ... the culmination of the entire voting process. Yes, I first registered to vote in the days of no early voting!

The words of my father ring just as true to me today as they did so many years ago. Registration, education and participation are the three key components of our voting process. To fully engage in the process, none of these can be missed. So here we are – 2023 – just a few days from the Nov. 7 elections. Education is the second element in the voting process. The City of Las Cruces and Doña Ana County both have great websites where you can print a sample copy of the ballot. On the sample, you will see the positions and names as it will appear on your official ballot. Additionally, the DACC G.O. Bond (on the back of the ballot) will appear on the Nov. 7th ballot.

At right is an "Election 2023" QR code. By scanning this code from your cell phone, you will be directed to the Chamber's Election 2023 page on our website. This site is full of links and informational materials, including completed questionnaires from various candidates.

as it will probably bring to your memory either an ad or a mailing. How do you know which candidate is more aligned with your personal political beliefs if all you see is their name? The answer is easy, “Ask them.” Most candidates have websites that give you historical, experience and personal background along with statements of what they will do if elected. Many candidates also have coffees or meetings throughout the community and are open to question-and-answer sessions with the potential constituents.

Having run in two races in another part of New Mexico, I can tell you that a candidate always wants to discuss their motivation to run, the platform they are running on and why your vote makes a difference. Yes, of course, they are trying to convince you to vote for them, but more than anything, each candidate is honored you're taking the time to talk to them. Engaging with candidates is yet another piece of participating in the voting process.

This is your time for your vote to count. There are many opportunities to vote. You can vote early in person, absentee ballot, or wait until Election Day. Your choice. Your vote. Your participation. This is what my dad instilled in me so many, many years ago: “My vote counts.” Let's break all voter participation records this year, Las Cruces and Doña Ana County! We are indeed #LASCRUCESSTRONG!

RIBBON CUTTINGS

On Oct. 17, the Greater Las Cruces Chamber of Commerce and the Las Cruces Hispanic Chamber of Commerce held a ribbon cutting to congratulate La Clinica de Familia on the grand opening of their Behavioral Health Wellness Center, 760 Motel Blvd. Virgil Medina, CEO, is joined by staff as he cuts the ribbon.

On Oct. 19, The Village at Northrise, 2880 Roadrunner Pkwy. invited the Greater Las Cruces Chamber of Commerce, the Las Cruces Green Chamber of Commerce and the Las Cruces Hispanic Chamber of Commerce to celebrate their 25th Anniversary. Marcus Royo, Director of Sales and Marketing, Sylvia Padilla, Director of Guest Services, and Bonnie Zeiler, Director of Health and Wellness, held the proclamations while Leah Knight, Executive Director, cuts the ribbons.

On Wednesday, Oct. 25, the Ambassadors gathered to recognize Rick Jackson, American Document Services, as a “lifer” Ambassador. Rick has served as a chair and has participated as an Ambassador for more than 20 years.

Leadership class 31 tours Spaceport America

Leadership Class 31 had its first group day traveling to Spaceport America. Twenty-six students and six advisers experienced the VIP Astronaut Tour.

The day started with breakfast burritos from One Stop – a local favorite. The class toured the facility led by Virgin Galactic's own Brock Neely. They were treated to an overview by Scott McLaughlin and learned about how Spaceport America was started and enjoyed an informative presentation in the fire department hangar. Next, they visited the Virgin Galactic facility. The class took a “trip” to space in the flight simulator piloted by C.J. Stuckrow and walked through the hangar where the mother ship is housed. Following the tour, the group enjoyed lunch and a talk from Jamila Gilbert about her space flight. Finally, the group traveled back to Workspace 141 and were treated to Caliche's and a fabulous leadership talk by Las Cruces Chamber of Commerce CEO and Director Debbi Moore.

Leadership Las Cruces Class 31 would like to extend a huge thank you to the entire team at Virgin Galactic and Spaceport America – it was truly an experience like no other.

FROM THE AMBASSADOR CHAIR

I cannot believe it is already November! This year is flying by. I feel like once we get into the last three months, if you blink, they're gone! I always associate the month of November with Thanksgiving, and therefore reflect on what I am thankful for and how I can give. Our wonderful community has a plethora of opportunities to “give,” especially during the months of November and December. Non-profits are gearing up for Christmas and starting to accept donations for gifts, etc. The food pantry is looking to collect food for families at Thanksgiving and volunteers to help with this. There are so many opportunities to give. I ask that this holiday season, you considering giving. You don't necessarily have to give an item, but consider giving a few hours of your time to volunteer. I can guarantee you that doing some volunteer work or giving a few donations will go a long way. The recipients will be thankful for YOU! I hope that everyone has a wonderful Thanksgiving holiday.

BY LYNSAY MARTIN

“Akuma Kun” - Season 1 (Nov. 9)

This new animated series is a sequel to the 1989 original of the same name, which was based on a manga written and illustrated by Shigeru Mizuki. Set 30 years after the events of the original, it tells the story of boy genius Ichiro Umorigi. Since he was raised by demons, Ichiro is perceptive of supernatural phenomena, which comes in handy when solving paranormal murder and mysteries.

“Resident Evil: Death Island” (Nov. 9)

Based on the hit survival-horror video game series by Capcom, this animated film gives a viewer an idea of what adventures the heroes and heroines of “Resident Evil” get up to between games. When a zombie outbreak occurs in San Francisco, Jill Valentine, Leon Kennedy and Chris Redfield are sent in to resolve the crisis. They soon deduce that outbreak originates from Alcatraz Island.

“The Killer” (Nov. 10, Movie Premiere)

Inspired by writer Alexis “Matz” Nolent and artist Luc Jacamon’s 1998 graphic novel, this thriller tells the story of an assassin (Michael Fassbender) who, after a fateful near-miss, battles his employers — and himself — on an international manhunt he insists isn’t personal. Charles Parnell, Arliss Howard, Sophie Charlotte and Tilda Swinton also star.

“Onimusha” - Season 1 (Available Now)

Capcom’s long-dominant action game series gets a new lease on life with a brand-new anime adaptation. The series follows Miyamoto Musashi — who is modeled after late Japanese film icon Toshiro Mifune — as he embarks on a covert mission to rid Edo Japan of demons. Armed with the fabled Oni Gauntlet and his trusty sword, is Musashi enough to combat the forces of evil?

“A Murder at the End of the World” (Nov. 14, Limited Series Premiere)

With a new kind of detective at the helm, this FX mystery series follows Gen Z amateur sleuth and tech-savvy hacker Darby Hart (Emma Corrin), who, along with eight other guests, is invited by a reclusive billionaire (Clive Owen) to participate in a retreat at a remote and dazzling location. When one of the other guests is found dead, Darby must use all of her skills to prove it was murder against a tide of competing interests and before the killer takes another life.

“Monarch: Legacy of Monsters” (Apple TV+ — Nov. 17, Series Premiere)

Following the thunderous battle between Godzilla and the Titans that leveled San Francisco, and the shocking revelation that monsters are real, this series, based on Legendary’s MonsterVerse, tracks two siblings following in their father’s footsteps to uncover their family’s connection to the secretive organization known as Monarch. Clues lead them into the world of monsters and ultimately down the rabbit hole to Army officer Lee Shaw (Kurt Russell and Wyatt Russell), taking place in the 1950s and half a century later where Monarch is threatened by what Shaw knows.

“Scott Pilgrim Takes Off” - Season 1 (Nov. 17, Series Premiere)

Based on Bryan Lee O’Malley’s hit graphic novels, which were adapted into the 2010 live-action film “Scott Pilgrim vs. the World,” this new anime adaptation is bringing back Scott (Michael Cera), Ramona Flowers (Mary Elizabeth Winstead), and all seven of her evil exes. Reuniting the cast of the live-action film, the series also voice stars Aubrey Plaza, Brie Larson, Chris Evans, Anna Kendrick, Mae Whitman, Jason Schwartzman, Kieran Culkin, Alison Pill, Brandon Routh, Mark Webber, Ellen Wong, Johnny Simmons and Satya Bhabha.

Lindsey is struggling with a food addiction. And now it's threatening to cost her the life she enjoys: a white picket fence, a loving husband and a great job. As she starts her weight loss journey, is her husband an addict himself?

Pawn Stars Do America
HISTORY 6 p.m.

In Lexington, Kentucky, the team brings a '41 Ford Coupe Deluxe roaring back to life, legendary Coach John Calipari assists with a University of Kentucky basketball collection, and Corey and Chum surprise Rick with a present beyond his wildest dreams.

Survivor
KDBC 7 p.m.

Get more survival action as season 45 of this legendary reality series expands the show's weekly runtime to a whopping 90 minutes. That's even more quality time spent with the 18 castaways stranded on the beautiful islands of Fuji. Jeff Probst hosts.

The 57th Annual
CMA Awards
KVIA 7 p.m.

It's Nashville's biggest night as members of the country music industry are celebrated at the 57th annual CMA Awards. Lainey Wilson tops all nominees with nine nominations. Luke Bryan and Peyton Manning host.

Fixer Upper: The Hotel
MAGN 7 p.m.

Leave it to Chip and Joanna Gaines to go big with their latest "Fixer Upper" crossover as they purchase and begin renovation on Hotel 1928 in downtown Waco, Texas, just minutes from the couple's Silos complex. Demo Day might become Demo Month.

BravoCon Live With Andy Cohen
BRAVO 8 p.m.

Celebrate all things Bravo at BravoCon 2023 in Las Vegas. Hosted by Andy Cohen, this spicy panel returns after a stunning debut the previous year. It gathers all the sharpest talkers from fan-favorite Bravo shows on one stage to dish some dirt.

FEDS
ID 8 p.m.

This series premieres its very first episode, following as a kidnapping brings FBI agents to rural Illinois, where they face a race against time while searching for Larry and Connie Van Oosten. The truth behind their abductions shocks the small town.

The Spencer Sisters
KVIA2 8 p.m.

Darby Spencer (Stacey Farber) and her mother Victoria (Lea Thompson) continue their work as private detectives in an all-new episode. This time, the duo is hired by a former schoolmate of Darby's to investigate acts of vandalism at his winery.

Snake Oil
KFOX 8 p.m.

A new episode airs, putting contestants to the test as they try and discern what product is 'real' while pitched ideas by a pair of phony entrepreneurs. Players are joined by celebrity guest advisers — this week's being Bethenny Frankel and Jay Pharoah.

Julie Chen Moonves from "Big Brother"

Mountain Men
HISTORY 6 p.m.

If you like your men rugged, bearded and able to kill and eat a caribou while simultaneously trapping a pine marten for its pelt, sit back and relax. Lauro and Neil Eklund quest for beaver and fish while Marty returns to his trap to find it destroyed.

Big Brother
KDBC 7 p.m.

Tension is high as this competition reaches the end of Week 14. After the last live vote, there is a power vacuum in the house as the position of Head of Household still sits vacant. Who will seize control in this power struggle? Julie Chen Moonves hosts.

The Golden Bachelor
KVIA 7 p.m.

Arthritic or not, Gerry sure can sweep you off your feet. As "The Bachelor's" first senior contestant, this grandpa is searching for his second shot at love. This episode gives the women a chance to address some of the season's most unforgettable moments.

The Departed
AMC 8 p.m.

South Boston cop Billy Costigan (Leonardo DiCaprio) goes undercover to infiltrate the organization of gangland chief Frank Costello (Jack Nicholson). As Billy gains the mobster's trust, a career criminal named Colin Sullivan (Matt Damon) infiltrates the police department and reports on its activities to his syndicate bosses. When both organizations learn they have a mole in their midst, Billy and Colin must figure out each other's identities to save their own lives.

What's Available NOW On

“Desperately Seeking Soulmate: Escaping Twin Flames Universe”

This three-part docuseries unveils the dark truths behind the Twin Flames Universe, an alleged online love cult. As journalist Alice Hines looks for a new story, her research takes her into the controversial world of spiritual communities when she comes across the Twin Flames Universe. Blown away by the level of obsession its members have for founders Jeff and Shaleia Divine, Alice knows she has found her story.

“Godzilla vs. Kong” (Available Now)

One will stand and one will fall in the latest entry of the epic MonsterVerse franchise as two of film's most monstrous icons collide in battle. Following mysterious attacks by Godzilla, the humans send King Kong to the depths of Hollow Earth. Kong's goal: to acquire the power source for a weapon to subdue the King of Monsters.

“Renfield” (Available Now)

From director Chris McKay, this horror/comedy film stars Nicolas Cage as the infamous (and notoriously difficult) Conde Dracula — a blood-thirsty vampire who has been stuck in an asylum for decades. His henchman and fellow inmate, Renfield (Nicholas Hoult), has spent decades waiting on Dracula hand and foot (and tooth), but now longs for a life away from the Count and his dangerously daunting demands.

“Spectre” (Available Now)

After preventing a bombing attempt in Mexico, a message left by his previous boss leads James Bond to uncover a secret criminal organization known as SPECTRE. Unfortunately for Bond, this discovery gets the notice of SPECTRE's leader, Franz Oberhauser, who stops at nothing to make Bond's life a living hell. However, this may not be the first time SPECTRE has interfered in Bond's life.

Archie Madekwe in "Gran Turismo"

"GRAN TURISMO"

The realistic video-game franchise that puts players in the driver's seats of simulated race cars inspired director Neill Blomkamp's ("District 9") expectedly fast-paced adventure, with Archie Madekwe ("Midsommar") as David Harbour ("Stranger Things") as the true-life Jann Mardenborough, whose skill at the game made him a candidate to take to racetracks for real. David Harbour ("Stranger Things") plays the former driver who's now a mechanic serving as Mardenborough's trainer, but also helping to guide others through the process of becoming real-course-ready. Orlando Bloom appears as the auto-company executive who hatches the idea to make standout game players into genuine racers. Geri Halliwell (aka Spice Girls' "Ginger Spice"), Darren Barnet, Djimon Hounsou and Thomas Kretschmann also have major roles, and the actual Mardenborough was the stunt double for Madekwe's portrayal of him. Indeed, those who perform the racing sequences are essential stars of the movie, too. ★★★ (PG-13: AS, P) (Also on Blu-ray, 4K Ultra HD, Digital and On Demand)

"GREASE: RISE OF THE PINK LADIES"

This prequel series got just one season from Paramount+, which already has removed it from its streaming platform, making home video the sole salvation for those who still want to sample the show. The founding members of Rydell High's rebellious Pink

Ladies gang are played by Marisa Davila, Cheyenne Isabel Wells, Ari Notartomaso and Tricia Fukuhara, with the characters doing – in true "Grease" tradition – much singing and dancing in their quest to make their mark among relatively bland classmates. Some of the young women are relatives of members of their school's

"IT'S A WONDERFUL LIFE"

One of the most beloved of all holiday-season films has been packaged a number of ways on home video, and this time, it's part of a new "Christmas Classics 4-Movie Collection" on DVD. Director Frank Capra's 1946 saga of ne'er-do-well George Bailey (James Stewart) and novice angel Clarence (Henry Travers), who saves George from taking very permanent action in the belief that others would have been better off without him, is as poignant and affecting as ever. Donna Reed, Lionel Barrymore, Thomas Mitchell, Beulah Bondi and Gloria Grahame also are in the cast of the picture, which still gets annual television broadcasts during the holidays. Also included in the set are Bing Crosby and Danny Kaye in "White Christmas" (1954), Crosby again with Ingrid Bergman in "The Bells of St. Mary's" (1945) and Albert Finney as "Scrooge" (1970). ★★★ (Not rated: AS) office, 230 S. Water St. The office is open 10 a.m.-5 p.m. Monday-Friday.

You can also buy tickets at the event.

New this year is the ArtsFaire "Magellan" Fun Run, which will be held Sunday morning, Nov. 5, at Young Park. Register at eventbrite.com. The cost is $20 for ages 11 and up and free for ages 10 and under. Online registration closed Oct. 27.

The Society for Creative Anachronism's jousting and sword play will be a major attraction at both days of RenFaire, along with a wide range of musical performances and acts on several stages, regal processions and art. More than 80 vendors will participate, along with 18 vendors and eight local nonprofits. There will be beer and wine vendors in the Dragon's Eye Tavern.

Emily Guerra from KRWG is this year's emcee. Las Cruces magician Chris Mitchell is the emcee in the RenFaire Children's Realm.

"I'm so excited about going," said DAAC board member Robin Przybysz, who moved to Las Cruces from San Diego four months ago. "This will be my very first RenFaire ever."

No pets will be allowed at the event except for registered service dogs.

Irish singer Karan Casey comes to Las Cruces

By MIKE COOK
Las Cruces Bulletin

"I'm really looking forward to it," world renown Irish singer Karan Casey said about her upcoming performance in Las Cruces.

Casey will perform at 7 p.m. Friday, Nov. 3, at Unitarian Universalist Church (UUC), 2000 S. Solano Drive.

She will be joined by guitarist Seán Óg, and fiddler/singer Niamh Dunne for the show.

"I just feel this is a really special trio. We've worked together for nearly 10 years," Casey said. The three have collaborated in writing many of the songs they will perform in Las Cruces, she said.

Casey has released 11 albums, including 2023's "Nine Apples of Gold." Casey said the Las Cruces concert will include songs from that album, along with songs about nature, female activism and camaraderie, and anti-colonialism – "songs that welcome immigrants," she said. The performance will also include new songs Casey has written.

"Hopefully, people will be singing along," she said.

To find inspiration for her songwriting, Casey often visits a glen near her home that is filled with egrets, herons and other birds and wildlife – "the natural world," she said. She also finds traveling to be inspirational, along with her work on "historical songs" to honor women.

"I'm writing more," Casey said. "I'm always trying to evolve."

"A lover of ballads, love songs and searing versions of social justice songs, fond of a good yarn, she has toured the world making deep connections with her audience connecting via Ireland's past but crucially repositioning women and songs in a

The Las Cruces concert is part of the "Songs, Stories, and Social Good" performance series sponsored by the nonprofit makerspace Cruces Creatives and UUC, along with High Desert Concerts and Ramada Las Cruces Hotel and Conference Center.

Casey's performance in Las Cruces is part of a 10-stop tour that includes Santa Fe, Albuquerque and Silver City; Tucson and Phoenix; and four cities in Oregon.

Tickets to the Las Cruces concert are $15-$30.

REVIEW: Film offers new take on time theme

By ELVA K. ÖSTERREICH

Las Cruces Bulletin

“Quantum Cowboys” plays with time the way a cat plays with a mouse. It could be described with equal energy as brilliant or as confusing. It is a ride you have to hold on for; things become clearer in the end but in the meanwhile, it can be tricky to get there.

For people like me, where themes around time concepts have a fascination and enjoyment all our lives, “Quantum Cowboys” is a delight with its new take on the theme. Essentially, the idea is time splits into different directions on every decision made and so nothing is real wherever you are in time. Except when a memory is captured in art, then it stays the same.

Two hapless drifters, Frank and Bruno (Kiowa Gordon and John Way), team with Linde (Lily Gladstone) to recover her land and trek across 1870s Southern Arizona to find an elusive frontier musician. The complex quantum time theory is blended with philosophical musings about art as the way we understand our history and memories, with gunfights, horses, dance halls, cacti and saloons.

The characters are likeable and engaging, despite their constant mutating – from live action to line drawing to Claymation and everything in between. Despite watching the men and woman change, they are always recognizable and strongly individual.

Ultimately, this is simply a Western, a hero’s journey and a good story. Have patience, get to the end, and you may be satisfied with the result. I was.

At 7 p.m., Friday, Nov. 3, the Mesilla Valley Film Society welcomes writer/director Geoff Marslett and writer/composer

Howe Gelb to the Fountain Theatre for a special screening of “Quantum Cowboys.”

In addition to Gordon, Way and Gladstone, the film stars David Arquette, Gary Farmer, Neko Case and John Doe.

Marslett is a film director, writer, producer, animator and actor. He also teaches cinema studies and moving image arts at the University of Colorado-Boulder. Gelb is a singer-songwriter and record producer. He has collaborated with Marslett on several projects and composed songs in “Quantum Cowboys.”

The event begins with a performance by Howe Gelb, followed by the film screening, then a discussion and Q&A at the Fountain Theatre, 2469 Calle De Guadalupe in Mesilla. Tickets are $15 general admission and $12 for MVFS members.

“Quantum Cowboys” will continue at the Fountain Theatre through Thursday, Nov. 10. Tickets are available at mesillavalleyfilm.org and at the theatre.

Border Artists at 925

BULLETIN REPORT

Gallery 925, 925 N. Mesquite St., will host the Border Artists group in November in a show entitled “Small Gems,” the gallery said in a news release.

The show’s opening reception is 1-8 p.m. First Friday (Nov. 3) and will include participating artists; refreshments will be served.

Border Artists’ work will be on display at Gallery 925 Nov. 3-26.

The artists “represent a variety of disciplines in painting, sculpture, textiles, ceramics, photography and printmaking,” the news release said. “Each artist will be giving the viewers a glimpse inside their studio practice, their use of materials and subject matter.”

Gallery hours are 1-5 p.m. Friday and 11 a.m.-5 p.m. Saturday and Sunday. Visit borderartists.org and www.gallery925nm.com.

Agave Gallery welcomes Holland

BULLETIN REPORT

Agave Artist Gallery is welcoming Las Cruces artist George Holland as a new gallery member.

Holland brings many years of artistry, teaching and exhibiting to his art, the gallery said. As a potter, his work is known nationally.

Holland describes himself as a craftsman, artist, chemist and pyrologist, which are all components of a good potter, he said.

“Holland’s passion is evident,” the gallery said. “He communicates with the clay, and it comes out in the quality and excellence of his pottery.”

Coffeen celebrates chile with cookbook, signing events

BULLETIN REPORT

Las Cruces cookbook author, food consultant and New Mexico State University professor Kelley Cleary Coffeen has scheduled three book-signing events for her new book, “The Big Book of Hatch Chile.”

The book signings are
 • 5 p.m. Thursday, Nov. 9, Ice Box Brewery, 2825 W. Picacho Ave.

• 4 p.m. Friday, Nov. 10, Barnes & Noble bookstore, Mesilla Valley Mall, 700 S. Telshor Blvd.

• Noon-3 p.m. Saturday, Nov. 11, La Posta de Mesilla, 2410 Calle de San Albino in Mesilla (salsa and signing).

“The Big Book of Hatch Chile” includes 180 recipes, Coffeen said.

“Hatch chile for breakfast, lunch, dinner, and drinks?

Yes, please!” she said. “Chiles are the heart of Mexican cuisine.”

Recipes in the book include Hatch red chile sauce, savory chile cheesecake, a chile-laced margarita and the classic green chile cheeseburger.

The book includes Hatch chile lore and history, and “profiles family farms, restaurants and everyone and everything that makes chile central to the identity of the Hatch Valley and New Mexico,” Coffeen said.

Mendoza publishes third book in trilogy

BULLETIN REPORT

Las Cruces artist and author George Mendoza completes his Spirit Man trilogy with the publication of book three in the series, "Heart of the Spirit Man."

"Heart of the Spirit Man is a hero's journey about Michael's quest to get his heart back, which was stolen by a mad god who dwells in the wastelands of Shook," Mendoza said. "it is an inspirational story about a young man's courage and his incredible triumph over defeat and despair."

Mendoza has published more than 30 books. He began painting and drawing in childhood and has been a full-time artist since the early 1990s. Mendoza, 68, has been legally blind since age 15. Some peripheral vision remains, he said, along with the colors he sees and paints.

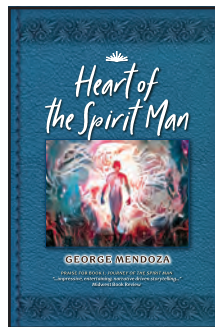

A New York City native, Mendoza graduated from New Mexico School for the Blind and Visually Impaired in Alamogordo. He was seriously injured while running in the Organ Mountains in 2011, suffering a broken left arm and broken jaw and damage to his right hip and knee, Mendoza said. That experience helped him "discover" the location in the Organs of the gateway that leads his hero, Michael, on his adventures in the "Spirit Man" series. The character is based on Mendoza's real-life son, Michael, and "Journey of the Spirit Man" was dedicated to Mendoza's daughter, Maria.

Mendoza's artwork has been shown in galleries around the world and hangs in many private collections. His exhibition "Colors of the Wind" was a national Smithsonian traveling art exhibit. Biographies of Mendoza include one by that same name, "Colors of the Wind," and "Running Toward the Light."

Mendoza is a Smithsonian fellow and received the New Mexico State University distinguished alumni award in 2014.

Through his paintings and books, "the world gets to see how I see," Mendoza said.

Pearson embraces the night with poetry

BULLETIN REPORT

After hearing a T.S. Eliot poem read aloud in his high school English class, Las Cruces John Pearson's love of poetry began.

Pearson started writing creatively in the years after and hasn't stopped since, he told the Bulletin. His latest book, "Embrace of Night," is a collection of his poetry from 1985-2023, and "covers the magic and mysteries of sexual attraction, the pain and anguish of heartbreak and the crushing grief of loss through death," Pearson said. "The beauty and subetry may be pleasantly surprised by this collection," Pearson said.

Here is an excerpt from his poem "She Was," expressing the emotions Pearson said he felt "during a chance encounter one night long ago":

"Readers who have never been interested in po-

"While waiting for Life to happen, you spoke to me from the darkness, making me want to pick the sunflowers of your heart.

In the warm, velvet air of that night, I showed you the moon on the water, and you responded with honey-warm breath, slipping shackles on my free will.

The darkness took you back before I could dispel your myth. And, I have loved you forever since, having never heard your name."

Short helps others seek everyday joy

BULLETIN REPORT

Las Cruces artist and first-time children's book author Renee Short has published "The Joy of Everyday Things," which she describes as "a picture book for all ages."

"As the book chronicles Amee's journey, we are all reminded to seek our joy," Short said, and it "allows the reader and listener to learn without being taught.

A native of Brooklyn, New York, Short "finds joy in a creative lifestyle," she said. She expresses her creativity by writing children's stories, light-verse poetry, graphic novels and screenplays. Short also is an avid animal lover, outdoor enthusiast and world traveler.

The book is available on amazon.com.

Project in Motion hosts aerial festival

BULLETIN REPORT

Project in Motion (PIM) will host the Above Borders Aerial Festival, Thursday-Sunday, Nov. 9-12,

PIM, local composer and musician Dallas David Ochoa and guest artists are collaborating on “Enchanted Journey,” a production that will highlight each day of the festival.

The four-day event “brings together innovative collaboration, daring athleticism, beautiful aerial dance and mesmerizing storytelling,” PIM said.

A festival meet and greet will be held at 7 p.m. Nov. 9 and will include food, drink and a silent auction. Tickets are $40, which includes a ticket to a per-performance of “Enchanted Journey.”

Email pimdance@gmail.com to reserve a seat.

“Enchanted Journey” performances are at 7 p.m. Nov. 10-11 and 2 p.m. Nov. 12. Tickets are $20 for adults and $10 for children ages 12 and under.

Festival guest artists will include Marta Brown, a contemporary circus artist specializing in hand to hand, banquine and Cyr wheel, PIM said; and Sara Burleson, who has been dancing since age 5 and spent six years studying aerial arts and performing in Las Vegas, Nevada. Burleson is a Las Cruces High School graduate.

Ochoa is a singer/songwriter and guitarist. He has performed solo and with his band, Dallas Ochoa Trio, across the county, and his music is heard on a variety of platforms.

Honoring animals

A third New Mexico mural highlighting imperiled species in the state was unveiled Oct. 21 next to Lujan's Bakery, 442 E. Lohman Ave. It is part of a national mural project to commemorate the 50th anniversary of the Endangered Species Act (ESA). The mural includes the Mexican gray wolf, the long-nosed bat and the lesser long-nosed bat. The unveiling and community celebration were sponsored by the Doña Ana Village Association (DAVA) and ESA at 50. "This mural represents a chance of life for the endangered animals," said mural artist Ramon "Ray" Acosta.

Local artists share NMDA's Rounders Award

BULLETIN REPORT

New Mexico artists Edna Harper and Stewart Williamson received the 2023 Rounders Award Oct. 25 for their vivid artistic creations that tell the story of the West.

New Mexico Agriculture Sec. Jeff Witte presented the awards to Harper and Williamson at the New Mexico Farm and Ranch Heritage Museum.

The award was named after "The Rounders," a Western novel by Max Evans, the award's first recipient. Former state Ag Sec. Frank DuBois created the award in 1990 to honor those who live, promote and articulate the western way of life, the New Mexico Department of Agriculture (NMDA) said in a news release.

"I am proud of the legacy

Max has left in Western culture, and this year's Rounders Award recipients definitely live and articulate the Western way of life. Max would be proud," said Witte. "Harper and Williamson have built vibrant careers with unique creations that reflect the Western way of life. I am honored to welcome them to the group of Rounders recipients."

through her meticulous paintings and drawings. Harper has spent most of her life working on ranches in western New Mexico. She honed her artist skills by tooling leather in her family's saddle shop. Harper's 30-year career of making timeless pieces her customers cherish can be attributed to her skills in silversmithing. She has shown her art in a multitude of shows including the Mountain Oyster Show in Tucson and the Cowboy Christmas Show during the National Finals Rodeo. Harper and her husband currently live in Elephant Butte but return to Coyote, New Mexico every hunting season.

Williamson is a New Mexico native who has created timeless cowboy gear for years. Having developed this passion through his ranching background, Williamson has earned his place as an award-winning fabricator.

Williamson started engraving in 2003 with the help of Johny Weverts, Wilson Capron and several other noted makers and by 2005, he was building bits and spurs full time. In 2010, the Academy of Western Arts named him "Engraver of the Year."

Later in 2013, he was named "Spur Maker of the Year" by the National Bit, Spur, and Saddle Collectors Association. During his career, Williamson has also partnered with Danny Woodward of Wild Wood Jewelry to create custom, hand-engraved rings and other unique pieces of wearable art. He currently resides in Taos, New Mexico, with his family.

Valley Sessions crafts mood, meaning for musicians

By MIKE COOK
Las Cruces Bulletin

Las Cruces entrepreneur and filmmaker Ryan Robson created Valley Sessions in 2022 and shot his first video for Southwest Expeditions at the old county courthouse earlier this year. He has since completed nearly a dozen videos at local venues, working with local musicians and filmmakers and calling on the expertise of his own cadre of young, creative artists.

Valley Sessions doesn't have a space; Robson and his team travel to whatever indoor or outdoor site has been chosen to make the best video or to capture a musician or band in a live performance.

Shooting several hours of video, Robson and his team can produce a completed video in as little as 72 hours, he said. They can help with marketing the finished product as well. Robson is also creating a database of musicians and crew available to collaborate on a wide range of creative projects.

But the real work begins before the cameras roll.

To begin, Robson and his team sit down with a client to collectively decide how to make a video that is "the best representation of the artist," he said.

"We take a lot of pride in that." They get to know a performer's history and listen to and talk about the songs he or she will perform.

"There is such a tenderness in the conversation about the music," said Jenna Ivey, a Las Cruces filmmaker, actor, vocalist and musician who serves as Valley Session's music supervisor. "It's so collaborative."

The musician as writer/creator of the music is "so vulnerable" at this point, she said. Part of the creative team's work is to help him or her "feel safe."

"It's a relationship you can trust," Robson said.

"This is your time to get the story out there, which is the reason why I do this," said Las Cruces musician and artist Marqus "M. Qu" McDermott, who shot his first video with Valley Sessions.

Robson is "constantly checking in. He represents me authentically," said McDermott, an R&B artist originally from Tennessee who moved to Las Cruces two years ago. "It's very courageous and very encouraging. The moments are made when you have that silent interaction," said McDermott, who sings and plays the piano.

"You're giving me a piece of yourself, your poetry," Robson told McDermott.

"He created something special with us," Robson said about McDermott. "I fell in love with his music even before we shot it."

The team makes the best use it's using to create the highest quality audio and video possible, Robson said. The editing process builds the video around "finding one take that we love," he said.

"We treat every musician like a rock star," Robson said. "The only thing a musician is worried about is their art. We're taking care of everything else."

"There's a vision there," said Valley Sessions copywriter Austin Martin-Likes. Generosity is a cornerstone of the team's work, he said. Robson is "open to the needs and interests of the people he's working with. There is a spirit of creating something for Las Cruces."

"We know what we're doing," Robson said. "We trust what we've created."

"It was such a cool experience," said McDermott, who has competed on "American Idol" and "The Voice." "You don't feel rushed, the support shows. People are getting connected. They show up for each other."

Robson gives musicians "the opportunity to shine the most," McDermott said. "He is lifting up the community."

Robson recently shot a video in Apodaca Park, liking "the atmosphere of the park," he said, including the sounds of running water and kids playing baseball.

For another video, he and his team used candles to light the set because "the song is more intimate," Robson said.

"We're curating these spaces to create something authentic," Martin-Likes said.

A perfectionist, Robson said reshooting different performances of the same song can create a completely different video each time, reflecting the emotion of the performer and his or her connection with the crowd that's watching.

"I liked it the first time. The fifth time, I loved it," he said. "This is a piece of this musician. It's unique to them. I get it."

Robson's vision is to grow Valley Sessions by "involving more people in creative roles," he said. His volunteer crew includes more than 20 musicians, filmmakers, sound engineers and designers, including NMSU music and film students.

New Pistol Pete's Pecan Treats benefit Aggies

By TATIANA FAVELA
NMSU Communications

The list of licensed products owned by New Mexico State University just got a little sweeter, with the latest addition of a brand-new cookie, Pistol Pete's Pecan Treats.

New Mexico State Athletics collaborated with Snugglecubs Cookies, a family-owned business from Albuquerque, and cookie enthusiasts can expect to get a taste of its New Mexican-grown pecans and milk chocolate morsels.

"This collaboration with NM State Athletics to help support student-athletes perfectly aligns with the vision of Snugglecubs Cookies when I created the company five years ago," said Suzanne Slauson, founder of Snugglecubs Cookies. "Our goal has always been to create cookies that bring people together, evoke comfort and joy, and celebrate as a family. With this partnership, we get to do just that while supporting the amazing student-athletes at NMSU. We can't wait to share this special cookie with Aggie fans everywhere."

"Pistol Pete's Pecan Treats marries one of our region's most popular agricultural products, pecans, with milk chocolate chips, and is sure to be a fan favorite," said NMSU Athletic Director Mario Moccia. "Supporting another small, family-owned, New Mexico business is a win-win-win for NM State Athletics and has been a staple of our family of collegiate-licensed products. We appreciate the New Mexico Department of Agriculture bringing opportunities to us from New Mexico businesses."

Slauson said the idea of this collaboration sparked in spring 2023 and took months of careful development and taste testing to create a special treat that captures the essence of the Aggie community.

"A portion of the proceeds from the sale of the Snugglecubs Cookies' Pistol Pete's Pecan Treat cookie will go directly towards scholarships and programs that benefit NMSU student-athletes, furthering their pursuit of excellence both on and off the field," Slauson said. "Snugglecubs' is what we used to call our kids when they were small. We encouraged and assisted our children with their educational

Kozlowski resigns as DLCP director

BULLETIN REPORT

After six years of service, Downtown Las Cruces Partnership (DLCP) Executive Director Jennifer Garica Kozlowski announced her resignation in October. Susan Cabello has been named interim executive director, DLCP said in a news release.

During her tenure at DLCP, Kozlowski "saw the state designation of the Las Cruces Arts and Cultural District (LCACD), coordinated many successful community events such as Chile Drop, Salsa Fest and Zombie Walk and helped secure almost $3 million in capital outlay funds for LCACD," the news release said.

Cabello has worked at DLCP for the past four years in various roles, beginning as a graduate intern. She has master's degrees in English literature and public administration. During her time at DLCP, Cabello has created and implemented economy and cultural programming including business seminars, the Próximo Paso project, ACD Icons, "The Generations Community Writing Project" and Lit Fest.

"We appreciate the many years of service to our organization and wish Jennifer much success in her future endeavors," LCDP Board of Directors Chair John P. Muñoz said. "Susan will ensure continuity and brings a dynamic perspective to the organization; she holds a great deal of experience and has a strong network that facilitates growth in the downtown arts and cultural district."

DLCP is a nonprofit whose mission is to facilitate the economic growth and well-being of the downtown and LCACD while preserving and protecting the unique culture and history of the heart of Las Cruces.

CITY OF LAS CRUCES

In April 2022, City of Las Cruces Utilities Director, Adrienne L. Widmer, P.E., asked Ronald Borunda, Deputy Director Water if he would represent the Water line of business for Las Cruces Utilities in a water related Sister Cities event, in partnership with New Mexico State University's Doña Ana Community College.

I felt this was a great opportunity to get involved in and learn about water issues related to Las Cruces' Sister City, Nienburg, Germany and provide the same information back for the City of Las Cruces. This involved an overseas trip, which meant I had to get on the fast track of getting a passport, something I had never held before.

I was given Timothy Chappell's contact information, who is a Professor at NMSU-DACC and organizer of the Urban X-Change program for Sister Cities.

My Trip to Nienburg, Germany

By Ronald N. Borunda, LCU Deputy Director of Water

After meeting Dr. Chappell, we discussed the scope of this year's Urban X-Change project, which was focused on rivers near our cities; Sister Rivers, Rio Grande and Nienburg Wesser.

I was beyond excited about this, as Water and Natural Resources has been my career and discipline for nearly 20 years.

Travel arrangements were made, and itineraries were shared as we approached our departure date, Aug. 17, 2023. It felt as if time moved faster than usual leading up to flight time, and before I knew it, the day had arrived.

Even with all the planning and talks beforehand, nothing would prepare me for the 10-day journey and experience.

Great talks and ideas occurred with our counterparts in Nienburg about our rivers and the influence they have.

But I say it was the people that was the biggest highlight of the trip.

Our Sister City colleagues went above and beyond to make us feel welcome in their city and country. As we talked more and shared ideas, it was discovered we are not different from one another and have similar struggles in keeping our waters clean and useful for future generations.

I was surprised that they asked me to go to Berlin, Germany for the close out ceremonies being held Oct. 23, 2023, through Oct. 27, 2023, and feel privileged to represent the City of Las Cruces and the Utilities Department.

Aggies win C-USA soccer title

BULLETIN REPORT

Women's soccer: With a 1-0 road victory over Western Kentucky Oct. 27, NM State's women's soccer team clinched the Conference USA regular season title and the No. 1 seed in the post-season conference tournament which began this week in Ruston, Louisiana.

"I am so proud of these young ladies," said Head

Coach Rob Baarts, Rob Baarts, who earlier this week won C-USA Coach of the Year honors. "We have gone to hell and back this year and players have continued to step up."

The Aggies, who won the Western Athletic Conference championship last year, accomplish the rare feat of being consecutive champs in two different conferences.

The Aggies, who finished 9-5-3 overall, and undefeated at 6-0-2 in C-USA play, earned a first-round bye in the tournament, and will play at 3:30 p.m. mountain time Nov. 3 against the winner of the Florida International-Sam Houston game, which took place Nov. 1 after the Bulletin's press time.

Women's volleyball:

The NM State volleyball team will play its final home matches of the season 6 p.m. Friday, Nov. 3, and 1 p.m. Saturday, Nov. 4, against Sam Houston.

After defeating Chicago State Oct. 30 3-0 in a non-conference match, the Aggies are 15-9 overall and 7-5 in Conference USA.

The Aggies have road matches Nov. 10-11 at Florida International before the C-USA tournament begins Nov. 17 in Lynchburg, Virginia.

Dawgs, Blazers look to advance

BULLETIN REPORT

Las Cruces High School will host Los Lunas 7 p.m. Friday, Nov. 3, at the Field of Dreams in the first round of the Class 6A state playoffs. LCHS (5-5 overall, 4-1 in 6A District 3/4) is seeded No. 7 in the bracket. Los Lunas (7-3 overall, 3-1 in 6A District 5) is seeded No. 10.

Across town, at the same time, Mesilla Valley Christian School will play in the state semifinals of the District 2 8-man state playoffs. That game will be against Clayton at the Organ Mountain High School football stadium. MVCS beat Menaul 54-32 in the first round Oct. 27. That makes the SonBlazers 8-2 on the season. They are the No. 3 seed in the bracket. Seventh-seeded Clayton defeated No. 2 seed Legacy Academy 28-26 last weekend.

Centennial High School, who beat Las Cruces High School 30-23 Oct. 27 to win 6A District 3/4, earned a bye in the first round of the 6A state playoffs. The Hawks, who finished the regular season 7-2, is seeded No. 2 in the bracket. If the Bulldawgs beat Los Lunas Friday night, there will be Cruces-Centennial rematch the following week.

Artesia beat Mayfield High School 43-7 in Artesia Oct. 27. The Trojans finished the regular season 4-6 and were seeded No. 9 in the 5A state playoffs. Mayfield goes on the road to Anthony, New Mexico, to face No. 8 seed Gadsden at 7 p.m. Friday, Nov. 3.

Alamogordo beat Organ Mountain 27-0 Oct. 26. The Knights finished the season 0-10.

Homecoming Saturday

BULLETIN REPORT

The NM State Aggies could clinch a bowl berth with a victory Saturday, Nov. 4, against Middle Tennessee State. It's the Homecoming game for NM State, with a 4 p.m. kickoff at Aggie Memorial Stadium.

A win over Conference USA foe MTSU would put the Aggies 5-1 in conference play and give them a 7-3 record overall. That seventh victory is widely considered the number needed to secure an appearance in a postseason bowl game.

Both teams come into the contest after a layoff.

Receiver Trent Hudson leads the Aggies with six touchdown receptions. NM State hosts Middle Tennessee 4 p.m. Saturday, Nov. 4, at Aggie Memorial Stadium for Homecoming.

MTSU (2-6 overall, 1-3 C-USA) has not played since Oct. 17, when they nearly defeated C-USA leader Liberty on the road, falling 42-35.

The Aggies last played Oct. 24 in Ruston, Louisiana, defeating La Tech 27-24.

AI could influence the game of golf as we know it Today we're talking about artificial intelligence, or "AI." No going back to C3PO, R2D2 or Hal.

AI is short for the development of computer-generated systems and processes able to perform tasks and brain-type functions that normally require human intelligence, such as speech and language, visual and speech recognition and complicated reasoning, including thinking and responding both humanly and rationally.

It's a complex and daunting scientific advancement, especially for folks in their senior, third-third of their lives, to comprehend. Advances in deep learning and machine learning have allowed AI to enter almost every sector of society and industry. Yes, even golf. AI is changing the game of golf from improving player performance, to club design, to course design, coaching, simulators, data analytics, media production and more.

There is debate whether AI should be vilified or celebrated regarding golf course design. Skilled course designers have been doing this for centuries, but some think AI can help. AI can analyze data from millions of rounds played on existing courses and identify improvements for playability, speed up play and reduce costs. It can reveal hazards that are dangerous or unfair, allowing designers to change them.

Expert designers try to use interesting natural features of the course and create even more dramatic landforms. Some feel abandoning the designer's touch could render a course soulless and void of an identity.

Personal club fitting is another emerging application of AI. Club Champion, one of the leading club fitters with 150 studios nationwide, leads the way with their data-driven AI-based "Fitter Co-Pilot." The Co-Pilot technology takes data from nearly a million swings per month and distills it to actionable data, narrowing the huge matrix to recommendations, avoiding testing components that won't fit the golfer's profile, says Nick Sherburne, founder of Club Champion.

Co-Pilot uses a TrackMan Optimizer to find player characteristics like clubhead speed, attack angle, carry distance and ball speed to match previous fitting data. The system includes over 65 golf brands and 65,000 clubhead and shaft combinations.

"Co-Pilot doesn't replace a highly trained fitter," says Sherburne. "It's another tool in their toolbox; he still has to understand the principles of fitting, the club technology, and golfer's needs and how to interpret the data."

Callaway has used AI to develop its latest clubs, and says an AI Machine Learning algorithm and supercomputer helped reduce a tradition of over three decades of product design to just a few weeks.

It began with their R & D team in 2017. The team focused on the design of the face of the driver, and specifically the "sweet spot," which generates the fastest ball speed. That effort produced the "Flash Face" which went into the Epic Flash driver series. In order to create, test and analyze the 15,000 prototypes needed it would have taken Callaway's lab people years instead of weeks. Other performance parameters Callaway plans on improving with AI include increasing stability and forgiveness of a clubhead, lowering the backspin off metalwoods and improving golf ball aerodynamics. Now almost every major golf club manufacturer uses AI-driven club design in some way. This week Callaway's Odyssey brand putters announced the introduction of their "Ai-One" line of putters developed using AI.

Sportsbox AI emerged in 2020 as an AI-powered tech company that developed mobile applications for coaching sports, including golf, using 3D motion analysis. In 2021, the company launched Sportsbox 3D Golf as a coaching app (using a smart phone) for instructors, and then unveiled Sportsbox 3D Practice as a consumer app; go to sportsbox.ai.com. They refer to it as "a launch monitor for your body." The company's stable of advisers/investors include David Leadbetter and Sean Foley. It's real!
