Ed O'Neill

Q: It's nice to see Ed O'Neill working regularly again in "Clipped." Didn't he do another series in-between "Married"... With Children" and "Modern Family"?

A: In fact, the actor – who currently plays Donald Sterling, the owner of basketball's Los Angeles Clippers, in the FX-produced Hulu series – was a regular on several series during that period. Though NBC's 2000 fantasy "The 10th Kingdom" technically was a miniseries, O'Neill played the Troll King in it over the course of nine episodes.

More traditional was the 2001 police drama "Big Apple," which CBS aired for just over a month in 2001, with two of the eight produced episodes not televised (though they were included in a DVD set later.) The cast also included someone who would have much greater success with another New York-set CBS police drama afterward, "Blue Bloods" co-star

O'Neill didn't stay away from cop shows long, since his next series was ABC's "L.A. Dragnet" (2003-04), executive producer Dick Wolf's ("Law & Order") take on the classic "Dragnet" show that had a couple of earlier TV incarnations under creator and star Jack Webb. O'Neill assumed Webb's role as police detective Joe Friday (promoted to the rank of lieutenant), and another cast member was Eva Longoria, soon before "Desperate Housewives" came to be.

While O'Neill had a recurring role as a governor on NBC's "The West Wing" after that, his other major series pre-"Modern Family" was HBO's "John From Cincinnati" (2007), a single-season drama about California surfers. His character in that show still had police ties, since he was a retired cop; Austin Nichols played the titular John in a cast that also included Bruce Greenwood, Rebecca De Mornay, Luke Perry and Jennifer Grey.

"GHOSTBUSTERS: FROZEN EMPIRE"

While other actors have kept the horror-comedy franchise going in different incarnations, this latest entry in the series reaches back to the original 1984 movie to bring back Bill Murray, Dan Aykroyd and Ernie Hudson (along with Annie Potts and William Atherton) to join newer cast members.and characters. They all unite to give the Ghostbusters renewed relevance and purpose, something that evolves quickly when an otherworldly enemy initiates very cold temperatures in a bid to rule the world. Paul Rudd, Carrie Coon, Finn Wolfhard and Mckenna Grace return from "Ghostbusters: Afterlife," with Kumail Nanjiani and Patton Oswalt also getting in on the New York-set fun that proves chilling ... in more ways than one. *** (PG-13: AS, P, V) (Also on Bluray, 4K Ultra HD, Digital and On Demand)

"THE MINISTRY OF UNGENTLEMANLY WARFARE"

Director and co-screenwriter Guy Ritchie's ("Sherlock Holmes") seriocomic espionage saga is based on fact, but it takes great fictional license in relating the exploits of a diverse team assembled to invade an island in a secret World War Il mission to prevent German U-boats from being restocked for further duty. Henry Cavill plays the leader of the squad, with Elza Gonzalez, Alan Ritchson ("Reacher"), Henry Golding ("Crazy Rich Asians") and Alex Pettyfer as several of his fellow spies in the so-called Operation Postmaster. Rory Kinnear, who has played James Bond ally Bill Tanner in Daniel Craig's 007 capers, gets a job promotion of sorts by portraying Prime Minister Winston Churchill here. ★★★ (R: AS, P, V) (Also on Blu-ray, 4K Ultra HD, Digital and On Demand)
