OF SISTERS ON NBC

have given that a try if that opportunity had been presented to him. The drama series, which ran on NBC from 1991 to 1996, is now available to stream via the service Plex. Clooney appeared during the fourth and fifth rounds of the show's six-season run, playing James Falconer, a police detective who became involved with the program's central family when he investigated an assault on one of its members.

Teddy (portrayed by Sela Ward) eventually was Falconer's love interest, with their connection advanced and strengthened by the fact that they both were recovering alcoholics. He had a tragic personal past, for sure, and that background gave Clooney plenty of opportunity to show how he handled dramatic material. That was notable since much of his television work preceding that was in the comedy realm ("The Facts of Life," "Roseanne," etc.).

We won't say much more about Falconer's story here, for the benefit of those who aren't familiar with "Sisters" and may want to check it out. Clooney stayed with NBC and production company Warner Bros. Television by segueing into the medical drama "ER," which cemented his stardom with his portrayal of Dr. Doug Ross. His career after that is the stuff of show-business history, encompassing two Oscar wins (for his acting in 2005's "Syriana" and his producing of 2012's "Argo") but no Primetime Emmy Awards as of yet.

Q: I see that the series "Sisters" is streaming now. I know George Clooney was in it, but which character did he play?

A: We can confirm that it wasn't one of the sisters ... though with his famous sense of humor, George Clooney might

“Brothers” (Oct. 17)

Brothers tells the story of a reformed criminal (Josh Brolin) whose attempt at going straight is derailed when he reunites with his sanity-testing twin brother (Peter Dinklage) on a cross-country road trip for the score of a lifetime. Dodging bullets, the law, and an overbearing mother along the way, they must heal their severed family bond before they end up killing each other.

“The Pradeeps of Pittsburgh” - Season 1 (Oct. 17)

This sitcom follows the Pradeep family and the events of their life in America after moving from India. As told through hilarious (and often conflicting) flashbacks from an interrogation room, the Pradeeps quickly find themselves embroiled—romantically, personally, and professionally—with a polar-opposite neighborhood family, leading to a predicament with many surprising twists.

“The Devil's Hour” - Season 2 (Oct. 18)

Continuing the story of Lucy Chambers (Jessica Raine), a woman caught up in the hunt for serial killer Gideon (Peter Capaldi) in ways she never could imagine, this new season sees Gideon's true intentions finally revealed. As he attempts to involve Lucy in his mission to stop an elusive force of evil, Isaac (Benjamin Chivers), meanwhile, is discovering new emotions every day and struggling to keep his balance in a reality that rejects his existence. Fresh mysteries unfold as our stories converge on one explosive moment that will change everyone's fate.
