The Power of

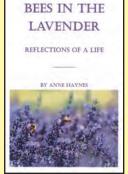

By Tyler Weeks

Poetry has a peculiar effect on everyday life. Whether it's one of Shakespeare's convoluted sonnets or a heartfelt message to a loved one, it's hard to argue against poetry's use as a means of expression. Few individuals in the southern Minnesotan area have used this art form as effectively as Anne Haynes, who recently compiled several poems into a book for charity. Since her

Anne Haynes early beginnings on a Nerstrand farm, Anne used writing to extinguish the fear and worry she felt as a kid.

As her knack for writing continued to develop, she proceeded to write poetry and plays as early as the 4th grade, though not without difficulties.

The Old Has Gone, The New Has Come

By Pastor Larry Grove, Hauge Lutheran Church, Kenyon

Easter is my favorite time of year. I am not a big fan of winter or the cold. So, when I see the grass turning green and the trees starting to bud out I get excited about the new life that surrounds us each spring.

That same excitement fills my heart when we go through the Lenten Season and it reaches a crescendo on Easter Sunday morning when we celebrate our risen Lord and Savior. The old way of sacrificial atonement for our sin was done away with by the death, burial and resurrection of Christ. His love for us was so great and so deep that he found joy in laying down His life that we could have the hope of eternal life.

There are so many verses that tell of this wondrous sacrifice that I would like to share a thread of some of these meaningful words.

Romans 5:8 tells us of God's love for us.

"God demonstrates His own love for us in this: While we were still sinners, Christ died for us."

I John 4:10 speaks of this love as well.

"This is love: not that we loved God, but that He loved us and sent His Son as an atoning sacrifice for our sins."

Jesus did away with the old covenant method of recompense for sinful behavior, which was repetitious blood sacrifices made at the temple.

Hebrews 9:20–22 tells us, "This is the blood of the covenant, which God has commanded you to keep." In the same way, he sprinkled with the blood both the tabernacle and everything used in its ceremonies. In fact, the law requires that nearly everything be cleansed with blood, and without the shedding of blood there is no forgiveness."

In Matthew 5:17 Jesus gives us the answer to this conundrum. He became the 'one time' sacrifice by shedding His blood on our behalf. Jesus tells us, "Do not think that I have come to abolish the Law or the Prophets; I have not come to abolish them but to fulfill them."

Jesus made all things new by becoming this new covenant, fulfilling the law of blood atonement required for forgiveness of sin. All that is required of us to receive that atonement and forgiveness is to repent of our sins and believe in this finished work of Christ in our stead. This is called regeneration and when this takes place all things become new.

II Corinthians 5:17 illustrates this new beginning.

"Therefore, if anyone is in Christ, the new creation has come: The old has gone, the new is here!"

I recently met with a Pastor of a church down the street from ours. We met to determine if there could be ways that we could more effectively minister to our people and the community by praying for each other and joining together to be most fruitful in our efforts. He made a statement that encouraged me and brought hope. The thought that God may be doing some new things filled my thoughts.

He said, "We need to find ways that this could work instead of looking for ways that it wouldn't."

God is painting a picture of new beginnings in nature as each day we see new things that add to the beauty of spring.

He is also showing us the potential of new beginnings for those that yield their lives to Christ and purpose to live an existence that is pleasing to God and bears fruit for His kingdom.

May we take time this Easter to reflect on the finished work of Christ. He did not abolish the requirement of blood for forgiveness of sin, but He fulfilled it by His loving sacrifice and shedding His blood on the cross of Calvary.

The message of this glorious gift should always be on our lips as we need to share this hope with those around us that need the confidence of eternal life.

Find ways that this could work and allow your ministry to be fruitful as God uses you for His glory!

AREA CHURCH DIRECTORY Studying God's Word

Your word is a lamp for my feet, a light on my path. — Psalm 119:105

Have you discovered the profound impact of studying God's Word? In my youth, I often underestimated its importance, seeing Bible study as merely a religious duty. But then came a time when I faced uncertainty and sought direction. And a wise mentor pointed me to Psalm 119:105, emphasizing that God's Word illuminates our path, guiding us through life's challenges and uncertainties.

Studying God's Word is not just about gaining knowledge; it's about encountering God himself. Through Scripture we discover God's character, his promises, and his will for our lives. God's Word provides wisdom for decision-making, comfort in times of distress and hope for the future.

times of distress, and hope for the future.

The Bible reveals God's redemptive plan and his unfailing love for humanity. It teaches us how to live according to his principles and align our lives with his purposes. As we explore Scripture with an open heart and mind, we invite the Holy Spirit to speak to us, transforming our thoughts and renewing our minds.

I am grateful for being able to study God's Word. It has deepened my faith, strengthened my relationship with Jesus, and equipped me to serve others with compassion and grace. Each passage has been a source of encouragement, correction, and inspiration in my walk with God.

inspiration in my walk with God.

May God's Word be a lamp to illuminate your path and a constant source of wisdom and strength.

Lord, may your Word guide and sustain us, leading us closer to you. In Jesus' name, Amen.

Obituaries

Florence Sunderman

Florence Gloria Sunderman, 77, of Dennison, MN, passed away peacefully on March 28, 2025, after a long battle with cancer. Flo was born on February 22, 1948 in German township, Ohio. She grew up in the southwest area of Ohio with her loving family. She graduated from Miamisburg High School in 1966. She married her beloved husband, Robert Lee Sunderman, on January 20, 1968. Robert and Flo raised their three young daughters in Covington, Ohio, and were active members of St. Johns Lutheran Church in Covington for many years. In 1985, the family moved to Minnesota, and made their home in rural Dennison. Florence was a member of Emmanuel Lutheran Church, Kenyon (Aspelund), MN.

Flo was a wonderful wife and mother. She prided herself on cooking delicious meals for her family, and sewing many special outfits for her children, grandchildren, and greatgrandchildren. Flo enjoyed adding an artistic flair to everything she did, from drawing lovely portraits, to painting many unique murals around her house. Flo also loved being outdoors in the summer, working in her flower beds, tending to her apple and pear trees, canning, freezing, cooking, and baking scrumptious meals and desserts from the fruits and vegetables grown in her yard. She was an avid birdwatcher, loved animals (especially her dog Sherlock), nature, and country living.

Most of all, Flo enjoyed spending time with her husband, daughters, and their families. She adored all six of her grandchildren, and her two great-grandchildren. Her family was her pride and joy.

She is survived by her husband of 57 years, Robert Sunderman, of rural Dennison; daughter Teresa (Kent) Kocher, of Bloomington, daughter Angela (Tom) Trelstad, of Wanamingo, and daughter Regina (John) Alle of Farmington. She is survived by her grandchildren: Erica (Jared) Castrellon, Linnea Kocher, Daniel Sholing, Alex Trelstad, Melanie Kocher, and Bethany Trelstad; and great-grandchildren Morgan and Nico. She is also survived by one sister, Sharon Callicoat, of Ohio. She was preceded in death by her parents, Raymond and Edna Recher, and siblings Molly Blessard, Marilyn Duncan, Donald Duncan, and Malcolm Duncan, all of Ohio.

Memorial services were held at 2:00 pm on Friday, April 11, at Emmanuel Lutheran Church at Aspelund, 42957 Co. 1 Blvd, Kenyon, MN 55946. There was a visitation at the church one hour prior to the service. Interment was in the church cemetery. Florence's service was live streamed and may be viewed on her obituary page at www.lundbergFuneral.com, where online condolences are also welcome.

James Gilmore Walker

James Gilmore Walker, age 92, died

Long Beach State College, a MA f r o m with a BA from

Georgetown University and a PhD from Indiana University. Three years in the US Army, one spent at the Monterey Army Language School, and government work in Washington DC preceded his time as a professor at St. Olaf College.

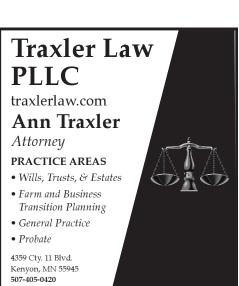

At St. Olaf Jim was the chair of the Russian Department. In addition to his courses in language and literature he started the Russian Choir and led some of the earliest student trips to the then USSR.

Jim loved music, had a wonderful tenor voice, and taught himself to play many instruments. He loved trees, gardening, bicycling, motorcycling and wood carving. When he retired he filled his time driving for the CAC, teaching at the Elder Collegium, doing fundraising concerts for causes he supported, and volunteering his language skills.

Survivors include his wife of 52 years, Nancy, daughter, Katya, son, David (Kova), two grandsons, plus other relatives and friends

A celebration of life in Jim's honor will be held Saturday, May 3, 2025 from 2:00 to 4:00 PM at Valley Grove Church in rural Nerstrand. All who knew Jim are invited. Memories and music will be followed by coffee and conversation.

The Town that Almost Was

By Cheri Roshon

The second town in my brief history of ghost towns in Goodhue County is Hader. When I was a child living in Wanamingo, Duane and Mary Ann Scharpen and their kids Rita and Brad lived in and ran the Hader Store. I have found out a lot about the town in my exploration for this story.

One history book by R.W. Meyer states, " In no other Goodhue County "Ghost Town" is the disparity between intention and achievement more evident than in Hader". To look at the town that once boasted 100 citizens, it would require a wild imagination to realize that Hader was originally intended to be the county seat.

The town was platted in June of 1857 and recorded on August 27th of that year. The plot was 122 blocks in size, and covered almost the entire Section 1 of Wanamingo Township. One block was reserved for the county courthouse. Another block for a city park, and a block for the town's Cemetery. Although the streets were never laid out, neither was any part of it vacated until Sievert O. Haugen who owned much of the east part of Section 1 did so with his portion in 1940.

On April 17 of 1857, a post office opened with Joshua C. Pierce as Postmaster. A string of short-lived postmasters followed. Some of the names I found were Samuel T. Babbitt, Shubael Wales, Thomas Hanson, Joseph T. Leet, John W. Jameson, Samuel Arnold, Thomas T. Cochran and Gustaff A. Ryden. There were 11 postmasters in all, in 22 years! After that, there were 4 postmasters in 24 years. It was settled by "the Yankees" from the New England states, but soon after was inhabited mostly by Norwegians immigrating from Norway.

However, Hader was known for a variety of stores and businesses. In 1872, the Gazetteer listed a general store operated by D. Collins, as well as 2 blacksmiths, a shoemaker, and a cabinet maker, a "watch tinker" named Hans

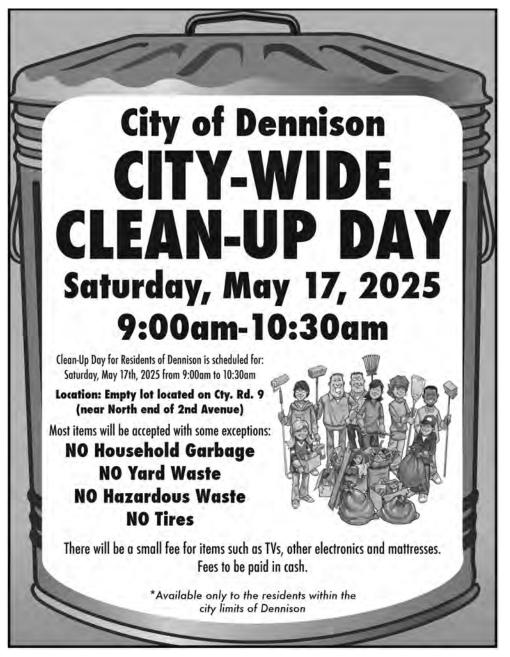

P. Olson. Wm. H. Purdy ran a hotel, John Ryden, P.E. Dahl and H.O. Jaishow operated stores. B. Halvorson was a carpenter. Tom Storseth was a shoemaker. J.L.Goxal and Hans Harrison were blacksmiths, and Christian Hveem (from Aspelund) practiced medicine

At the time, there were 60 inhabitants. Business was "brisk" according to a chronicle of the day.

Two years later the population was 75, but only 1 store remained, operated by the firm of Rosvold & Holstad.

By 1884, the village reportedly had 100 residents. H.M. Hjermstad ran the feed mill. A lawyer named P.S. Aslakson had moved there. Blacksmiths came and went, but most of the business people stayed.

In 1889, Purdy left Hader and rented the hotel to C. Thompson. Three years later, E. Sweatland was proprietor after Purdy sold his farm and hotel to O.S. Haugen, father of Sievert O. Haugen.

In 1894, Holstad sold his store to the firm of Larson and Onsted. On July 21st, Joseph O. Onstad became postmaster. In that year, Hader was again booming, as they say.

Daniel Lindsay was proprietor of a general store in 1896, and there were 2 millinery shops. Early the next year a firm in Zumbrota, Erstad, Haugen & Co., built a new store east of Larson and Onstad's. Another store erected by Olaus Larson in "North Hader" was in operation until its conversion to a church in 1897. Reverend K.O. Lundeberg and others conducted services in the "Nazareth" Church until 1915. It was torn down in 1918.

Hader's last postmaster was Ole T. Tiegen He replaced Ohnstad as owner of the store on February 27th, 1899.

In 1900, there were 65 people living in Hader. Three blacksmiths (One was also a shoemaker), a furniture maker, and a hotel run by Sievert Haugen, in addition to the Larson and Tiegen store. Two years later, Edward Haller (from the store in North Hader) became Tiegen's partner, keeping the store in business until 1908.

Hader post office closed as a casualty of the RFD on October 31st, 1903. Businesses closed one by one, but the Haller store stayed in business. Joseph Tiller bought the store in 1920. On February 18, 1932, the store burned, and Tiller replaced it with a new 2 story brick building with a 24 by 36-foot store area. On August 18, 1945, the building exploded, killing the proprietor Edward Holt and his 15 year old daughter Helen in the blast. Rebuilt again in 1946, it continued to operate under Conrad Tiller and Ray Fredrickson until 1960, when it was purchased by Duane and Mary Ann Scharpen. They ran it until November 30th, 1972.

So, what were the reasons that Hader never made it as a county seat? First of all, there was no river near it to be used in manufacturing. Next, although it was on the route both from Red Wing to Faribault from east to west, and from Minneapolis to Dubuque, Iowa, north to south, they were never able to convince the railroad to be built nearby. The horse and riders that carried the mail always stayed at the hotel if they needed a rest, and were able to change out their horses on the route if need be. There was a noon meal served at the Hader Hotel. But when it came to a vote, Red Wing won the title of county seat, some saying by only 1 vote.

The Hader Store was a busy place, with weekly grocery deliveries to the rural farmers. The store also carried hardware, clothing and shoes. The deliveries began with a horse and wagon, and eventually converted to a truck. When they delivered the groceries to their patrons, they would buy eggs from the farms to then sell at the store. The store did not sell or serve alcohol, and were never open on Sundays. The young men would come to play "Pedro", a game of dominoes, in the evenings. Sometimes they would bring musical instruments, and they actually started a concert band in 1889, organised and directed by Richard Dorn, altho another account on the history of Hader gives Hans Holstad the recognition of starting and directing the Hader Band.

Other business owners included Mrs. Andrew Fjerstad as a dressmaker in the upstairs of the Hader Store, Lorenze Moe was a carpenter and ran the feed mill. Gas was sold at the Hader Store for 12 cents a gallon, tax free. Anna Marta Satren had a rug weaving business in her home. Andrew Nelson owned a stone quarry and sold rock for barn basements.

Old time photographers Larsen and Sterhaug ran their business in Hader for a bit, out of their covered wagon. And then there was the Cheese Factory which was in business from 1920 to 1964, when the rules and regulations became too expensive to keep it running. When Highway 52 was built right through Hader, the engineers wanted to tear down the Cheese Factory, but when it was discovered that there were at least 3 graves left there when the Nazareth Church was torn down, it kept the highway workers from tearing it down. Although it looks a lot different now, the old factory is now a repair shop owned and operated by Darryl Logan.

There was a school of approximately 50 students in attendance for a time, and the teachers were Alma Haller and Mathilda Hjermstad.

The one thing I never found out was where the name Hader came from. I was told by more than one person I interviewed for this story that the common greeting for folks living there was "Hey, der!", and that's how Hader got it's name, but this author has her doubts about that!

I hope you have enjoyed reading a little about Hader, and were able to find some of your relatives in this story! Be well until next time!

Changes in Latitudes, Changes in Attitudes

Hillbilly Dinner Show

By Terry Campbell

This column is written by Messenger editor and Minnesota native Terry Campbell. Terry now splits his time between Minnesota when its warm here and Tennessee when it's cold here.

Tennessee has all the social events of any big city, even in the backwoods. They may be a little crude but they still exist. Big Sandy is one of those places on the banks of the Kentucky Lake. It is a little rough around the edges but they do have a Barbeque place we like to visit. Kid Rock and Hank Williams Jr. like to eat there as well when they are in the area, so I guess that could tell you something . This Barbeque Shack is just that. A small cook shack with a large carport attached to keep off the rain or sun, and depending on the day it might be both. The smoker is right beside the carport so the aroma of brisket and barbeque is quite delicious.

One of their specialties is a huge baked potato smothered in cheese and barbequed pork. It is a favorite of ours and quite a meal all by itself. We decided late one afternoon to make a run down there and enjoy the meal. We didn't know we would be treated to an impromptu side show with our meal.

When we pulled up, we were the only ones there, but seconds after we arrived a woman walked around the side of the cook shack. The Barbeque stand is right beside the local VFW and the owner frequents the bar there so if you show up and no one is cooking, they will soon appear.

It turned out that they were not open, but the woman worked there and had just stopped by to get something for herself. She offered to open up and serve us. She knew we were friends with the owner, but I think she would have done the same for anyone. She said it would just take 15 minutes to heat up the food and we would get our meal. That was where the evening took quite a turn.

She kept saying how this had been just a terrible day, the worst ever, and she was also exhibiting signs of some level of intoxication. As she was cooking, a guy who was her boyfriend, showed up and she asked him if she could make him a burger. He stormed off. We soon learned his role in the story. After she served our food, she sat down and regaled us with the day's events.

It seems she had driven her boyfriend up to the casino in Kentucky, early that morning. She dropped him off at the door and went to park. She drove into the employee parking lot and promptly ran out of gas. She went looking for gas, while the casino security went looking for the person who parked in the restricted area. Her boyfriend came looking for her when he had burned through his gambling funds. She tried begging fuel off everyone she met, to no avail. With security threatening them for parking in an off-limits zone, they finally got some gas from a guy mowing the grounds.

Off they went for home with him mad and her in tears. Along the way she turned into a Tennessee Watershed restricted area, by her account to show the boyfriend some construction site along the river. She didn't see the NO TRESPASSING signs. Along comes the TWA officer and threatens to arrest them for entering a restricted area. Sure enough, when she tries to start the car, it was out of gas again. Lesson Two is don't gamble away your gas money.

So, the guy heads out hiking looking for gas again while she takes her dog down under the bridge. At that point she learned that her next mistake was going into a restricted area after just being warned prior to not trespass again. The boyfriend finally procured another can of fuel and they arrived back at Big Sandy. This one-person play ended with another day shot and one player mad and the other in tears. As we sat for half an hour listening to the sad tale, I couldn't help thinking that less alcohol and more common sense would have been very beneficial to these two actors. But the burgers and the hot potato salad were pretty good.

Back in my day, eggs were so cheap we could dye them without eating them; or throw them at people's houses. Along with similar phrases are all things that I have recently said while being mad about the price of eggs while at the store. While I never threw an egg at anyone's house in my youth, I have dyed my fair share of eggs.

I have many fond memories of watching the little dye tablets dissolve in the vinegar. Taking a little clear wax crayon to draw designs on some of my eggs before dipping them into the colors. Sometimes carefully dipping one end of the egg into one color, before carefully turning it on my wire to dip it into a different color. Just to make a two toned egg.

Not that it always worked the way I meant it to. Since I also remember many times when the egg would fall off the wire and into the second color. Which did still make a two toned egg, just never in the way that I had meant it to.

The Easter when I was seven years-old is still the most amount of Easter eggs that I've ever seen; outside of large scale egg hunts of course. It was 2003 and eggs were just a little over one dollar that year.

My mother got us three dozen eggs to dye. Then two of her friends also bought and dyed a combined four more dozen. None of which was done in a coordinated attempt. It was the year of seven dozen Easter eggs.

I was in childhood heaven. We had so many eggs to find that year. It was also the only year, in my memory, that my older sister did not insite that the eggs had to be hidden three and four more times. Mostly because that was also the year that my mom's friend's then 25 year-old son hid them without remembering where he hid them. Nor thinking about where a 12 and seven year-old were not allowed to go on the property and without any regard for how hard he hid them.

Making the year of seven dozen eggs also the year that we did not find all of the eggs on Easter. Which meant that year we were still finding them until after the Fourth of July.

The Power of Camp: Transforming a Child's Life

By Samuel Smith Overnight and Marketing Director at Camp Victory

Each summer, thousands of children embark on an adventure that changes their lives forever—camp. Away from screens, school pressures, and the daily routines of home, camp provides an environment where kids can grow, explore, and thrive in ways that are simply not possible anywhere else. Whether it's a weeklong overnight experience or a summer of day camp, the impact of camp on a child's development is profound and lasting.

Building Confidence and Independence

One of the most significant benefits of camping is the confidence it instills in children. At camp, kids are encouraged to try new things, from learning how to swim, tackling a ropes course or performing in front of their peers. These challenges push them outside of their comfort zones in a safe and supportive environment, leading to newfound self-assurance.

Independence is another invaluable skill developed at camp. Being away from home, even for a short period, teaches children how to manage responsibilities, make decisions, and take care of themselves. From organizing their belongings to navigating friendships and daily schedules, campers gain a sense of autonomy that fosters personal growth.

Developing Social Skills and Friendships

In an age where children's interactions occur online, camp offers a rare opportunity for face-to-face socialization. Without the distraction of digital devices, campers engage in genuine conversations, learn conflict resolution, and develop deep, meaningful friendships. The bonds formed at camp often last a lifetime, as children share experiences and overcome challenges together, creating a sense of community and belonging.

Camp also encourages teamwork and collaboration. Whether it's working together to build a shelter, paddle a canoe, or perform a skit, campers learn the importance of cooperation, communication, and empathy. These skills are invaluable, not only during childhood but throughout life.

Encouraging a Love for Nature and Adventure

Many children today have fewer opportunities to engage with nature. Camp reintroduces kids to the great outdoors, fostering an appreciation for the environment and a sense of adventure. From hiking and canoeing to stargazing and campfire storytelling, campers develop a connection to nature that is both refreshing and educational.

Outdoor play and adventure also contribute to physical well-being. Instead of being sedentary in front of screens, campers spend their days running, swimming, climbing, and exploring, promoting a healthy, active lifestyle. These experiences not only improve physical health but also enhance mental well-being by reducing stress and increasing happiness.

Cultivating Resilience and Critical Thinking Skills

At camp, children inevitably face challenges—whether it's homesickness, learning a new skill, or navigating social dynamics. These obstacles teach resilience, as campers learn how to cope with setbacks and push through difficulties. Instead of relying on parents or teachers to solve problems for them, campers develop critical thinking skills and a growth mindset, understanding that failure is a steppingstone to success.

By overcoming small struggles at camp, children build the confidence to tackle bigger challenges in life. This resilience serves them well in school, friendships, and future careers, helping them adapt to new situations and persevere through hardships.

A Lasting Impact

The magic of camp extends far beyond the summer. The skills, friendships, and memories gained shape a child's future, instilling values of responsibility, perseverance, and kindness. Many former campers look back on their camp experiences as some of the best times of their lives that built character, inspired passion, and created a lifelong love for learning and adventure.

For parents wondering if camp is the right choice for their child, the answer is a resounding yes. Camp is more than just fun and games; it is a powerful, transformative experience that equips children with the tools they need to succeed in life. Whether they return year after year or only experience it once, the impact of camp is undeniable and everlasting.

So, as summer approaches, consider giving your child the gift of camp. It's an investment in their happiness, growth, and future gift that truly lasts a lifetime.

Tell us about it today!

The Power of Poetry

Because of the many health problems surrounding her and her family, she found it difficult to continue writing amidst diabetes and multiple kidney transplants.

However, these setbacks would not thwart her dream of publishing her book, Bees in the Lavender: Reflections of a Life, to raise money for charity. Below is just one of its many poems, followed by the incredible details behind Anne's story.

Swirling, twirling, windswept leaves. Dancing, floating on the breeze.

Browns and golds blanket the grass.

Earth's insulation against winter's mass.

Before writing this and many other poems, Anne grew up on a farm near the Valley Grove Church in Nerstrand, Minnesota. Fueled by her childhood fears and worries, she began writing snippets of poetry wherever she could. Whether it be her father's old milk slips, paper towels, or chalkboard, nothing was out of the question. Her first poem was written in the 4th grade when she stopped to admire her family's creek. As if the beginning of a grand domino chain, this small step led to further poems and eventually a play for her town's elementary school. It soon attracted the attention of Nerstrand's elementary school principal, Mr. Nelson, who allowed her to gather student actors and practice after class. To her 9-year-old self, the situation was quite ordinary, but a college professor later told her how unusual it was for a 4th grader to have written a short play. It would later go live for Minnesota's Parent-Teacher Association. Realizing her skill, her parents supported her every step of the way, buying supplies and allowing her to enter a local writing contest.

Anne Haynes: "My dad promised me, 'If you win this contest, I'll buy you a type-writer.' And so, at the table of our big family Christmas party, I wrote about how friends often seem more important than our parents as a teenager. At the end of the story, however, I realize the truth after seeing my mom and her 'soft aging cheeks' prepare for Christmas from outside. She loved the story, and I ended up winning the contest and getting that typewriter from it!"

Unfortunately, her dreams of writing were not without their challenges. In later years,

Anne faced ongoing diabetes, brain lymphoma, and issues with her kidneys. To remedy this, she underwent two kidney transplants and cases of sepsis, causing her to go on dialysis and put a hold on her dreams of poetry and theater. After a successful transplant left her without diabetes for two years, she used her newfound energy and health to write the play "Life in Motion." It aimed to connect organ donors and their families to those needing a transplant. Through the help of the volunteers they worked with, Life in Motion ran for six shows and attracted the attention of the late director of U of M's pancreas transplant program, Dr. Sutherland. With his help, she was allowed to perform a short version of the play at the U of M's Medical Center. Other playwriters have since performed and used it to create their own stories surrounding organ donation.

Although she bears responsibility for much of their success, plays like The Newspaper wouldn't have been possible without the help of Anne's colleague Bob. When he flew by helicopter to receive a critical heart transplant, he recalled seeing "five Bobs" riding up to the hospital with him. Inspired by the story, Anne asked him for permission to use the story for the future "5Bobs" play that would eventually air at the Waseca High School. Since Bob's crucial transplant, Anne helped connect him with the EMT helicopter support that bore a part in his surgery. Even if it's just with a single sentence, being able to create moments like these is the only motivation she needs to continue writing. To her, the obvious next step from here was to achieve her lifelong dream of creating a book, but ongoing health issues continued to hinder the idea. With help from Libby Barth, however, she managed to self-publish a curated collection of some of her poems titled Bees in the Lavender: Reflections of a Life. Many of its pages take inspiration from Anne's family memories and hardships.

"During this time, I faced many unfortunate events. My brother Steven died on our farm; my parents left us; my dad had diabetes, and my mom suffered from Alzheimer's. But I realized what was necessary to enjoy life and haven't looked back! It's easy to let fear and worry can cripple you, but you must never give up. Ask God to show you the way, and he will help you to try, try, and try again."

Only two years ago, Anne became completely deaf, but a recent cochlear implant has allowed her to hear once again. Despite her multiple health problems, Anne managed to do what many people don't. From a desire to learn and grow, she fulfilled her dreams and showed that limitations are simply perceptions. Beyond their entertainment, plays like Life in Motion act as a bridge to connect those needing critical transplants with the people kind enough to make it happen. Meanwhile, her poems directly support those in need while reminding us of the beauty of nature and life. If Anne's incredible story has a silver lining, it's never to let anything stand between ourselves and our ambitions. Ultimately, poetry and plays can do much more than entertain; they have the power to change lives.

Anne is selling Bees in the Lavender: Reflections of a Life for $10.00 each, excluding shipping, to help others. You can get a copy by contacting her at ahay2@outlook.com or 14750 Kendall Ct., Nerstrand, MN, 55053.

Friends of Wanamingo to Make Offer on Old School Building

A non-profit corporation has been formed by interested individuals in Wanamingo intent on purchasing and preserving the old Wanamingo School building.

The original building was constructed in 1902 and served as the Wanamingo community through the Kenyon-Wanamingo consolidation in 1994. Most recently is has been utilized for the elementary grades. The Kenyon Wanamingo school board made the decision this year to close the Wanamingo facility and move all classes to the Kenyon building. The district plans to put the property up for sale in May. Fifteen persons from the Wanamingo community have formed the Friends of Wanamigo corporation to purchase the building and pursue ventures to utilize the complex to benefit citizens of the area.

Those involved range in age from 25 years old to those in their 70's. They all have the same goal. They desire to maintain the historical landmark, which has a special meaning to those who lived here and attended school in the building. They live in the Wanamingo area and wish to preserve the building and create an environment to benefit the community.

Some of their ideas are to open office spaces and a day care center within the building. The gymnasium is currently used four to five days a week and they wish to continue to make it available for many uses. The Kenyon-Wanamingo school district will also have access to the gym for basketball and volleyball practice and games if needed. Events like Granny Basketball, Men's Basketball and pickleball to name a few can use the venue year-round. They would look into renting out the commercial kitchen facilities for cottage industries and farmers market sellers who need a commercial kitchen for their products. The playground would remain available to all to enjoy. The parking lots would also be free for those using the swimming pool or activities at the gym. The Kenyon-Wanamingo school district would have permission to use the parking lot for baseball and softball games and practices. Coaches would also have access to the school building as needed. Classrooms and facilities would also be available to the Kenyon-Wanamingo school district if they needed it for pre-school, K-W Kids or any other needs.

This looks to be a positive alternative for the Kenyon-Wanamingo school district as they would get cash for the facility and it would still be accessible for use for school activities in the community. The non-profit foundation will operate the facility to utilize it in a manner that supports the strategic growth and economic vitality of the surrounding community. They look forward to working with the community and the Kenyon-Wanamingo school district to offer opportunities for all to create a valuable asset for students and residents in the area.

K- W Superintendent to Leave Position, Will Lead Kasson-Mantorville

Giese has led the K-W District through the challenges of the SOD (statutory operating debt) right-sizing the school district to one facility in Kenyon, due to lower class sizes, which includes the Superintendent position being reduced potentially to half-time, which Giese recommended to the school board.

Giese estimates savings of over $700,000.00 by the consolidation of the sites to Kenyon. Giese became highly regarded in her position, and will be missed as she moves on, but her impact will help move the K-W District out of debt by 2027.

Giese started her career at Kasson-Mantorville in the 90's as a teacher, and will now lead the district. The Kenyon-Wanamingo School Board will begin the process to find Gieses replacement.

Osteoporosis By Noel Aldrich, PhD, CNS Licensed Nutritionist

You and I are very dependent on our bones to hold us up and to keep us going. Your muscles are important too, but those muscles are only helpful if they have a bone that they can move. We can take our bones for granted. The bones have held you up for decades, so why should you be concerned? Osteoporosis is a weakening of the bones from the inside out. In the same way that you might think about termites in the framework of the house, your bone framework could be slowly "eaten" way and you don't even know it.

Bone is made of protein fibers called collagen which are coated with mineral deposits of calcium, magnesium, boron, strontium, and other trace minerals. These protein fibers and mineral deposits will change and adapt to the stress and work that you go through each working day. The more stress and work that you put on the bones, the more the bones will reshape and strengthen to be able to handle the stress being applied. Your bones are constantly being remodeled. Just as a building contractor can go through a house and remodel the structure by taking down some walls and building up other walls, your bones are constantly being remodeled to adapt to your living conditions. This constant remodeling of bone means that you have an entirely different bone about every seven years.

This remodeling is not easy work. There are specific cells (osteoclasts) that break down old bone material and other cells (osteoblasts) that put on the new bone material. So if the bones are constantly being remodeled then why does Osteoporosis happen? Great question.

Osteoporosis happens when the cells that break down bone material are doing more work than the bones that build up bone material. When everything is working in balance, the old bone material is being recycled as fast as the new bone material is being built in. But there are conditions that can increase break down of bone and slow down the build up of new bone material. Here are some lifestyle practices that contribute to a decrease in new bone material:

Acidosis – a condition of eating foods that promote an acid reaction in the body without eating foods that cancel the acid reaction. If you have ever taken TUMS or Rolaids for heartburn you are familiar with using this calcium tablet to reduce the acid in the stomach. Some of the foods we eat produce an acid reaction and your body will call on the calcium reserves in the bone to help neutralize the acid reaction. Soda pop, white sugar, bread, beef, chicken, and hard cheeses are examples of foods that create an acid reaction. Some of these are healthy sources of nutrients, but we need to balance these foods with other foods that will neutralize the acid. Spinach, cucumbers, green beans, carrots, lettuce, green tea, and avocados are examples of foods that will neutralize the acid reaction. In other words, every plate at mealtime should have some vegetables to help balance the digestion so your body does not need to take more calcium from the bones.

Vegetable Oils – Corn oil and soybean oil are very high in omega 6 fatty acids. While your body does need some Omega 6, Americans tend to get five times as much as they need. Most of this excess comes from deep fried foods, chips, and commercial salad dressings. Make an intentional shift to extra virgin olive oil, flaxseed oil, butter, and coconut oil to reduce your intake of Omega 6 fatty acids.

Vitamin D deficiency – Vitamin D is an essential nutrient that stimulates the body to absorb more calcium. Living in the northern states, obtaining Vitamin D through sun tanning is not an option. To check for a deficiency, you can ask for a simple blood test to evaluate how much Vitamin D your body has. For building bone tissue, the recommendation is a measure of 60-80 ng / ml of Vitamin D. This level of Vitamin D will help to ensure your body is absorbing the calcium you are getting in your food.

Vitamin K2 deficiency – Vitamin K2 is an important nutrient that activates the transport of calcium to the bone tissue. Frequently, someone may start taking a calcium supplement for their bones but the calcium will not get to their bones if Vitamin K2 is not present. Calcification of arteries and muscle tissue can happen when calcium is not delivered to the bone. You can find Vitamin D and K2 together in some supplements.

Understanding Watershed Plans in Rice County

By Emmie Scheffler, District Technician

After an intense drought in 1977, Minnesota began the process of developing Comprehensive Local Water Management Plans, which were required for all counties by 1985. These plans were drafted for each county, but if you think about it, water does not follow county lines. In the 2010s, the state shifted focus to the One Watershed, One Plan approach. The vision for this approach is to align the local water planning on major watershed boundaries with the state strategies towards prioritargeted, and implementation plans. With this approach, Rice County is part of three management plans for the watersheds of the Cannon River, Zumbro River, and Lower Minnesota River.

The first of the plans approved for Rice County was the Cannon River Comprehensive Watershed Management Plan in 2020. The Cannon River Watershed encompasses a large portion of Rice County, and the watershed has many lakes and streams within its boundaries. Some of the main priorities for the watershed include protection and impaired lakes, impaired streams, drinking water protection, soil health, flooding of communities, and education. Some activities that have been completed are: SSTS inventory, well sealings, native plants workshop, field erosion structures, and cover crops. To find out more information on the Cannon River Watershed plan and who to contract, the website for the watershed is www.cannonriverwatershedmn.gov.

The very southeast part of the county is covered by the Greater Zumbro River Comprehensive Watershed Management Plan. The plan was approved in 2021, and the goals of the plan are to address water quality and quantity, groundwater, drinking water, habitat, recreation, and other issues. Projects that have been completed so far include: Ag Waste storage, cover crops, erosion structures, well sealings, well testing, and education. To find out more information on the Greater Zumbro River Watershed, the website can be found at https://storymaps.arcgis.com/collections/e1099a1b459a4fb1a5dd 5a2cf7d133da.

The last plan for the county that was approved in 2024 was the Lower Minnesota River East Comprehensive Watershed Management Plan. This watershed covers the very northwest part of Rice County, and the goals of the plan are to protect water resources, education and outreach, and to assist with statewide programs. Current activities that are being implemented are erosion control structures, urban stormwater management practices, shoreline protection, well sealings, well screening clinics, and education and outreach for smart salting and stormwater ordinances. Information on this plan can be found at https://www.lowermn-

Since each watershed is unique, each plan is unique and has different resource concerns and activities identified. The Rice SWCD office can help you identify what watershed you are in and what opportunities may be available for you based off your concern for your land and what you are trying to achieve. Activities being completed are also changing, and priorities are being reevaluated as progress is being made in the watershed. For more information, feel free to contact our office at 507-332-5408.

Emmie Scheffler is a District Technician with the Rice Soil & Water Conservation District and is the Plan Administrator for the Cannon River Comprehensive Watershed Management Plan. She also assists landowners and farmers with the implementation of soil erosion control practices and tree windbreaks. Contact Emmie with your questions at 507-332-5408.

Own your own home?

You May Be Eligible for a Property Tax Refund

By Rice County

Some Minnesota homeowners, depending on their income, or the percentage or amount of increase in their property taxes could be eligible for a property tax refund known as the Minnesota Homestead Credit Refund.

To qualify, you must:

- Own and occupy a home
- · Have your home classified as a homestead with your county
- Pay or arrange to pay your property taxes

There are two types of Homestead Credit Refunds:

- A regular refund based on your income and property taxes
- A special refund based on how much your property tax increased You may qualify for either or both of these refunds.

Type of refund

Regular

Special

Requirements to claim the refund

- You owned and lived in your home on Jan. 2, 2025
- Your household income for 2024 was less than $139,320
- You owned and lived in the same home on Jan. 2, 2024, and on Jan. 2, 2025
- Your home's net property tax increased by more than 12% from 2024 to 2025
- The net property tax increase was at least $100
- The increase was not because of improvements you made to the

Subtractions

Certain subtractions can help you qualify for the refund or increase your refund. You may claim a subtraction for each of these that apply:

- You had dependents
- You or your spouse were age 65 or older on or before Jan. 1, 2025
- You contributed to a retirement account
- You or your spouse had a permanent and total disability on or before Dec. 31, 2024

Life Estate

If you retain an ownership interest in your home, you may qualify for the property tax refund regardless of who pays the property taxes.

Claim the Refund

You can claim your refund online, through a software provider or by paper. The due date is Aug. 15. Homeowners may file up to one year after the due date. For details on filing options, see Filing for a Property Tax Refund.

Use the property tax statement you receive from your county in March or April (mid-July for mobile homeowners). Do not use the Notice of Proposed Taxes.

Once you've an application has been filed, check your refund status after July 1 at www.revenue.state.mn.us/wheres-my-refund.

Diaper Bank Collaborative a Joint Effort to Help Area Families

By Rice County

To Heather Luethje, the Rice County Diaper Bank Collabora-RICE tive is a blessing; another way she can show her clients that the community cares about young families and is there to help.

"Every family is so appreciative and grateful for something so small but yet so big in the grand scheme of managing their monthto-month budget, said Luethje, a nurse with Rice County Public Health who works with its Family Visiting Program. "Seeing parents smile and give me a hug with their thanks is incredibly rewarding and adds to how much I love what I do.'

Before 2024, keeping diapers on the shelves at the Community Action Center had been no easy feat. Almost as soon as they would come in, there were families in need adding them to their carts. Not only are diapers expensive -- $80 to $100 per month per child, according to the National Diaper Bank Network - supplemental food assistance programs, including WIC, don't cover diapers.

That growing need led the CAC to consider how it could bolster its diaper supply, in turn making it available for its clients with young children - which led to it becoming a certified member of the National Diaper Bank Network in 2023 and partnering with the Twin Cities-based Diaper Bank of Minnesota. That stimulated conversations between CAC, Rice County Public Health, Growing Up Healthy and Three Rivers Community Action with leaders from each partner pitching in to help identify and meet a community need.

"We get asked about diapers all the time," said Michael Pursell, CAC food access program director. "But none of our organizations knew how great the need was before forming the Rice County Diaper Bank Collaborative. All we knew was that none of us ever had enough diapers."

While the Collaborative is a cross-organizational effort to support young families across Rice County, the CAC sources and warehouses the diapers, and distributes them to other local agencies, soon to include the HOPE Center.

In 2023, the CAC distributed over 150,000 diapers through its food shelves in Faribault and Northfield. Through the Diaper Bank Collaborative, it and its partners distributed more than 350,000 in 2024.

Don't be surprised if the collaborative exceeds that mark this year. Just a few weeks ago, the CAC got a rare opportunity through the National Diaper Bank Network to purchase a brand of sustainably sourced plantbased diapers at a 75% discount.

A truckload at that rate would supply the Collaborative for the year, said Pursell, so CAC seized the moment, chose abundance and placed an order.

"2024 was so successful," said Pursell happily, "we doubled down in 2025."

A 'must have'

Keeping infants and toddlers in diapers is a concern across the state and the nation. With 76% of Minnesota mothers with infants in the workforce, disposable diapers are a must have. According to the National Diaper Bank Network, most child care facilities require parents to provide diapers for their child. Nationally, 25% of parents with diaper need reported missing an average of five days of work or school in the past month due to not having enough diapers to drop children off at child care. And that can result in lost wages.

Currently, diapers are available for local families in need at the Community Action Center's three food shelves and through Healthy Community Initiative, Three Rivers Community Action and Rice County Public Health for families enrolled in programs for young children.

Though the CAC can buy in bulk from the Diaper Bank of Minnesota at a discount, it welcomes donations of both cash and diapers and continues to look for ways to make the program sustainable long-term.

With 2024 under their belts as a pilot year, the collaborative now knows that with the right support from the community, they could easily distribute more than half a million diapers this coming year to families in need across Rice County.

"That's a giant investment in the health of our children and families," said Pursell. "Every one of those diapers frees up funds that struggling families can spend on other essentials, relieves stress for parents and caregivers, and leaves one more baby happy and dry."

GET INVOLVED Anyone interested in hosting a diaper drive or otherwise supporting the Diaper Bank should email diapers@communityactioncenter.org.

Financial contributions from the community provide essential support for the bank and help ensure its sustainability. The Diaper Bank welcomes donations of diapers and baby wipes in any quantity at the CAC's Northfield and Faribault offices.

Exciting News from Nerstrand Fire and Rescue

Courtesy of Nerstrand Fire & Rescue

We're thrilled to announce that thanks to a generous gift from the Taylor Family Farms Foundation, along with support from the City of Nerstrand, the Waterford Warriors Snowmobile Club, Warsaw Township, and the Dennison Lions, we have officially added a new rescue truck to our fleet!

This truck, delivered last week and scheduled for upfitting in May, will replace our current ambulance and significantly boost our emergency response capabilities.

However, we're not done yet. We are actively fundraising and applying for grants to equip the new vehicle with updated radios and modern extrication tools. Our current radios are at end-of-life and no longer supported, and our extrication equipment struggles with cutting into newer vehicles—leading to longer rescue times.

- New radios cost around $6,000 each
- Updated extrication tools are approximately $50,000

If you'd like to support this vital effort, please reach out to us or talk to any of our firefighters. Every contribution helps save lives.

Ask A Trooper

By Sgt. Troy Christianson, Minnesota State Patrol

Question: My vehicle was recently involved with a crash with another vehicle. I had car seat inside but no child was present at the time of the crash. I am wondering if the car seat would still need to be replaced. My auto insurance company didn't want to replace it. Is there some state statute on this?

Answer: I did some checking with a Child Passenger Safety Technician and was advised there is no specific statute regarding car seat replacement after a crash from a state perspective. However, if the car seat manufacturer recommends replacement after a crash, that guidance should be followed. The insurance company may request documentation from the car seat manufacturer to support the claim. The replacement recommendation is not contingent on whether the child was in the seat at the time of the crash.

Child passenger safety technicians are trained to tell parents that if a car seat or booster seat has been in a crash, replacement is dependent on the severity of the crash, as well as the car seat or booster seat manufacturer's guidelines for the seats.

Some manufacturers require replacement after a crash of any severity. After a minor crash, replacement recommendations vary by car seat manufacturer. Car seats and booster seats always need to be replaced after a moderate or severe crash. Caregivers should contact the car seat or booster seat manufacturer with any questions about if the seat should be replaced after a crash.

The National Highway Traffic Safety Administration (NHTSA) has established the following criteria for assessing minor crash severity:

https://www.nhtsa.gov/car-seats-and-booster-seats/car-seat-use-after-crash

What defines a minor crash?

A minor crash is one in which ALL of the following apply:

- The vehicle was able to be driven away from the crash site.
- The vehicle door nearest the car seat was not damaged.
- None of the passengers in the vehicle sustained any injuries in the crash.
- If the vehicle has air bags, the air bags did not deploy during the crash; and
- There is no visible damage to the car seat. NEVER use a car seat that has been involved in a moderate to severe crash. Always follow manufacturer's instructions.

Question: I am in the process of restoring a classic car. I have a question regarding windshield wipers. Do I have to install them on my ride? I am concerned they will take away from the aesthetics. Everything from how they look on the windshield to the motor under the hood that operates them. I thought I would check with you.

Answer: Yes, you must have working windshield wipers on your vehicle. Minnesota law says the windshield on every motor vehicle shall be equipped with a device for cleaning rain, snow or other moisture from the windshield. The device shall be so constructed as to be controlled or operated by the driver of the vehicle.

Speaking of windshield wipers, a reminder that anytime your visibility is reduced due to rain, snow, sleet, hail, smoke, fog or other conditions that your headlights and taillights must be on.

Question: The other day I was going down the freeway and I saw a vehicle that must've missed their exit as they were backing up near an exit ramp. This didn't appear safe and I'm going to guess illegal. What do you say sir?

Answer: Backing up is not allowed on freeways or expressways, except for emergency vehicles. If someone missed their exit they would need to continue along and use the next exit. I have come across a number of motorists that use the median crossover when they've missed their exit and attempt a "U" turn, this is illegal and unsafe. Some of which have resulted in serious crashes due to this type of negligence.

Stopping on the freeway is prohibited unless it is for an emergency. Pedestrians, bicycles, motorized bicycles and nonmotorized traffic are also prohibited on the freeway.

Question: I have a new driver in the house. We were having some discussion on where a person needs to stop when coming to a stop sign and other situations. Can you please write about that? Thanks!

Answer: Congratulation on the new driver. Here is what a person needs to know when it comes to stopping your vehicle.

Stop Signs:

- Come to a complete stop at stop signs.
- If there is a marked stop line, stop before the line
- If there is a pedestrian crosswalk, stop before entering the crosswalk.
- Yield the right-of-way to pedestrians, bicyclists, and traffic before proceeding.

Obstructed View:

• If your view of the intersection is obstructed, be prepared to stop again for traffic or pedestrians in your path.

You can avoid a ticket — and a crash — if you simply buckle up, drive at safe speeds, pay attention and always drive sober. Help us drive Minnesota Toward Zero Deaths.

If you have any questions concerning traffic related laws or issues in Minnesota send your questions to Sgt. Troy Christianson – Minnesota State Patrol at 2900 48th Street NW, Rochester MN 55901-5848. (Or reach him at, Troy.Christianson@state.mn.us)

City of Dennison Meeting Minutes March 6th, 2025

The March Dennison City Council meeting was called to order by Acting Mayor Heidi Cooke on Thursday, March 6th, 2025 at 7:0 pm. Present were Councilors Nichole Schloesser, Caleb Voight, and Diane Ruddle, and clerk Jessica Page. Mayor Jeffrey Flaten was unable to attend.

Councilor Schloesser moved to approve the Meeting Minutes from the February City Council meeting. Councilor Voight second. Motion passed 3:0. Councilor Ruddle abstained as she was not at the January Meeting.

Councilor Voight moved to approve the Treasurer's report. Councilor Schloesser second. Motion passed 4:0.

Goodhue County Sheriff: Utilities:

1.Update from Nate: Nate sent an email update as he is just returning from the MRWA Annual Conference. He noted that Ponds are stable. Well house is functioning as it should. Quarterly fluoride and coliform samples done last month. Training went well.

Post Office water finally thawed out. Nate mentioned to postal employees that the owner of the building needs to put heat tape on their line as it is not city property or the City's issue to fix.

2.J Hasse water Maybe talk to Bollig if they have any ideas. Wait to bring sample in. One possible solution to Jeff Hasses's water problems may be a flushing hydrant mounted outside his building to keep water supply from getting stagnant. Get information on costs. Look at doing a flushing hydrant. Estimated cost is $1400 for materials.

3. Review and discuss proposal from Minnesota Pump Works for maintenance on our lift station pumps. This would include calibrating the pumps twice a year, which we need to do for the MPCA. Typically, the maintenance and calibrating of pumps occurs in the spring, calibrating again in the fall. The the inspection/maintenance/calibration $299.50. The fall calibration will be based on the time it takes to complete the task. The previous maintenance agreement with MN Pump Works we had been paying $190 for each visit in the spring and fall. Councilor Schloesser move to approve the contract for a three year contract. Councilor Ruddle second. 4:0

Old Business/Committee Reports/Building Permits:

Land split for Danny Nesseth, do public hearing at 6:45 before the April meeting? Reviewed and looks to be ok. Set Public hearing for April meeting at 6:45.

Administrative Issues:

1.Discuss and vote on the land split for David Koester. Public hearing was held prior to the regular monthly meeting. There were two people in attendance beside Council representatives. The proposed land split was explained to those present. There was not opposition to the proposed land split. Councilor Ruddle move to approve the land split. Councilor Schloesser second. Motion passed $4\cdot0$

2.New City Cannabis Ordinance discussion. Any updates? Councilor Ruddle noted that the City will need to designate what zones Cannabis would be allowed in, and not be allowed (as an in-home business, for example). The Zoning Ordinance would need to be updated to reflect those Zoning specifications. Council would like to do a 1 year moratorium on the zoning/cannabis issue. Check with the city attorney on how to do that. The Cannabis ordinance is easier to do, but to update the Zoning Ordinance is going to take a long time to do. Clerk to send an email to lawyer asking if the City can do a moratorium while we work through the zoning ordinance.

3.Discussion about the City moving funds into CDs at the Heritage Bank. 3 or 6 month CDs have really good rates at this time? Mayor recommends putting city funds into CDs. We can sell bonds to pay for the remaining costs of the street projects and not cash out CDs before their maturity dates. Councilor Voight move to have the CD's as follows: 3 month CD's 4 @ $50,000, 6 month 2 @ $50,000. Councilor Ruddle second. Motion passed 4:0. Councilor Schloesser move to designate Jessica, Jeff and Heidi to make the transactions to set up the CD's. Councilor Voight second. Motion passed 4:0

4.Update on the damage to 5th Avenue Way and the shoulder of the road, going back to the fall of 2023. The right-of-way was disturbed (ground sunk) in the area of the private driveway of 37347 5th Avenue Way, which is owned by Jeff Hasse. The mayor filed a claim to be reimbursed for the damage from Sedgwick, a third-party administrator for Lumen Technologies, essentially Century Link. After weeks of emails and telephone calls with the claims representative, they sent a letter to the City denying the claim on September 4th. The mayor sent follow-up emails and one letter to Sedgwick since then without any responses. The mayor notified the Minnesota Attorney General's office about the letter sent by Sedgwick and follow-up attempts. The mayor told the AG that he had checked the Gopher State One for locates on 5th Avenue Way for 2023. On 9/14/23, emergency work was done to replace the telephone main. On the ticket it said the work was being done for Lumen. The contractor was out of Hibbing. The mayor checked the longitude and latitude coordinates and it appeared that work crossed the road, which would explain why the ROW was disturbed. So, basically, the mayor believes there's enough evidence to go to court and win, but does the Council want to proceed with that course of action? If we use our city attorney, the costs to win the judgment could exceed the amount to be reimbursed, which was $500. Discussion was held and it was agreed that the City should go ahead and fix and that it wouldn't be work the extra expense of taking it to court.

5.Missing gray chairs from City Hall. It was reported to the City that several of the gray chairs were at Beebe's house. Clerk sent a text message to them requesting the chairs be returned. That hasn't been successful. Mayor is requesting a letter be sent to them. Checking to see if there are current phone numbers and clerk will send another text, and update at April.

6. Update from Jessica about the City audit. No progress has been made on the audit at this point in time, but clerk will try to get as much done as soon as possible.

7.Pay Equity Report was reworked and submitted on February 25th.

8.Spring Clean up day (requested date from Floms) May 17th or 31st May 10th if nothing else available.

9.Trees (Possibly use some of the proceeds from the 4th Quarter gambling check of $2503.02.) Councilor Cooke has been looking into getting trees from the SWCD. Councilor Cooke was thinking maybe 75-100 trees could be purchased for just under $200. Can discuss various ways to get them out to folks. Councilor Schloesser move to get 100 trees, 4 different kinds for just under $200. Councilor Ruddle second. Motion passed 4:0. Will try to come up with a plan to do some type of community thing, hotdogs, etc.

Citizens Issues:

Chickens in town. Will be doing an update to the zoning ordinance. Currently there are no chickens allowed in town.

Mayors Issues: None

Councilor Schloesser move to pay the bills as listed, plus the one for Xcel Energy at $941.76. Councilor Voight second. Motion passed 4:0.

Acting Mayor Cooke moved to adjourn the meeting. Councilor Schloesser second. Motion was adjourned at 8:10.

Next meeting: Regular meeting is Thursday April 3rd, 2025 at 7:00. Public Hearing to be held before the meeting at 6:45 pm to hear input on the split of a parcel owned by Danny Nesseth.

City of Nerstrand City Council Meeting Minutes March 11, 2025 7:00 P.M.

221 Main Street, Nerstrand, MN

COUNCIL PRESENT: Mayor Todd Evavold, Council Members John Harris, Karla Ingersoll, Betty Voge, Pam Caron

ARCENT.

STAFF PRESENT: Clerk Frances Boehning, Interim Clerk Jeanette Baalson, Public Works Steve McDowell

GUESTS: Bollig Representatives; Zack Bubany. City residents and Fire Chief Joe Johnson.

APPROVAL OF AGENDA:

Council member Betty Voge made a motion to approve the agenda, second by Council member John Harris. All approved.

CONSENT AGENDA:

A. Payment of Claims dated March 11, 2025.

B. Minutes from February 11, 2025 MOTION:

Motion to approve the Consent Agenda. Motion made by Council Member John Harris, second by Council Member Karla Ingersoll. All approved.

CLERK'S REPORT:

• The Clerk reviewed the current status of the new utility billing software and the annual audit. There are some issues with the third-party credit card billing software from Hamer that are being worked on.

NEW BUSINESS:

• Bollig SCDP

- Request for Proposal regarding Federal and State funding for Civil Engineering and Related Services.
- Zach Bubany from Bollig answered questions from the Council about the RFP process and the next steps. The procurement process involves publishing the RFP in the news paper after which the engineering firms will submit requests for information. The responses and information will be reviewed at the April City Council meeting. The Council discussed the process and how an engineering firm would be selected.
- Council Member Karla Ingersoll made a motion to proceed with the publishing the request for proposal in the Faribault Daily News, Council Member Pam Caron seconded, all approved.
- Vehicle on street complaint A complaint had been received by the City regarding the placement of a large truck, owned by Cody Grund, on the street near the school. As a result, cars navigating around the truck are crossing over the center of the road which results in unsafe conditions. Council Member Betty Voge stated that she was nearly hit by a car navigating around the truck. A city resident also noted that she had received a number of complaints about the truck and unsafe conditions. The question was asked if the truck could be parked near the Ag Center. Mayor Todd Evavold and Council Member John Harris will talk to the Ag Center and see if they would allow the truck to be moved onto their property until such time as Cody Grund could find suitable placement for it. The recent snow plowing was also reviewed. Due to the soft ground, the snow was not able to be moved further off of the road as it has been in the past.

Old Business

- Update regarding cannabis ordinance This will be reviewed at the next Council meeting in April
- Update regarding liquor ordinance and permitting. Wild Wood will be holding an event with liquor during the first half of May. Council Member Pam Caron asked what had happened to the liquor licenses that the City had in the past. The Council will work with legal counsel to determine what changes are needed to the ordinance. A question was asked by Wild Wood if the City has an ordinance regarding food trucks. Council Member Karla Ingersoll will review the ordinances and respond to Wild Wood.
- Clerk's Position—Three resumes were received and interviews will be held on Tuesday, March 18th, starting at 7:00 pm.

Reports of Officers

- Public Works Director –
- Steve McDowell reviewed the job posting for the position in public works. He has two candidates interested and Council Member John Harris knows of one more. The position will be posted on the front door of City Hall. Mayor Todd Evavold and Steve McDowell will interview the candidates. Council Member John Harris made a motion to approve the job posting and interview process for the position of public works employee, Council Member Karla Ingersoll seconded, all approved.
- The recent invoice to Meyers for payment to Nerstrand for the Farm Street legal and survey expenses was reviewed by Steve. After reviewing all of the invoices included in the total, he determined that a portion should not be charged to Mr. Meyers. Council Member John Harris made a motion to remove $861 from the total invoice, Council Member Karla Ingersoll seconded, all approved. A new invoice will be sent by the

- The tree trimming along the streets will be completed as soon as the contractor has time.
- A request for a grant to cover the copper line inventory was submitted.
- A request for quotes for paving Farm Street will be sent out to possible contractors.
- Mayor Mayor Todd Evavold stated that he would like to replace the banners on the main street light poles. Council Member John Harris made a motion to approve the purchase of six new banners with the cost not to exceed $1,000, Council Member Pam Caron seconded, all approved.
- Fire Department Update provided by the Fire Chief.
- Council Members Council Member Harris stated that a homeowner had placed stumps along the road in front of their house (across from the church) to prevent cars from parking there. As this could cause a hazard to the public, a letter will be sent from the clerk asking that the stumps be moved further back onto the resident's property.

MOTION ADJOURN:

MOTION: Motion by Council Member John Harris second by Council Member Karla Ingersoll to adjourn. All Approved.

Our unique skid steer and utility tractor snow plow feature a floating face plate and an innovative "cross draw" design, with a dual direction hydraulic cylinder which allows this plow to sit much closer to the machine and faceplate than a traditional A-frame style plow with a dual ram set-up. Because of our proven design, these plows have substantial amount of free movement or "walk" when going over uneven terrain like a dirt road, side hills, around a pond, a loading dock or handicap ramp. These plows include a cross over relief valve to help protect the hydraulics from damage.

Lightweight plow (up to 35hp) Std Duty plow (up to 65hp) Heavy Duty (up to 85hp) Industrial/Commercial Duty
