SINGER-SONGWRITER

Hardy coming home to headline Fair

By SCOTT HAWKINS
scott@neshobademocrat.com

Philadelphia's own Country Music Award-nominated singer-songwriter Hardy is headed home to headline this year's Neshoba County Fair and just about everyone expects his performance to be a highlight of this year's gathering.

"They're in love with Hardy, and they've been looking forward to watching him play," said Jacob Williams of Cabin 215 about his children's excitement over this year's Fair that starts Friday and runs through July 30.

Michael Hardy, or Hardy, as he is known professionally, is scheduled to perform at 8 p.m.

Tuesday at the Grandstand. Hardy, a Philadelphia native, now lives in Nashville where he has written songs for such artists as Florida Georgia Line and others before launching a solo career that landed him three Country Music Award nominations earlier this year.

Hardy's CMA nominations included Songwriter of the Year, New Male Artist of the Year and Music Event of the Year in association with his song "One Beer," featuring Lauren Alaina and Kevin Dawson.

Hardy is the son of Mike and Sarah Hardy, formerly of Philadelphia and now of Nashville.

Other music highlights of this year's Fair include a performance by country music powerhouse Trace Adkins at 8 p.m. Wednesday, Jordan Davis at 8 p.m. Thursday and Riley Green at 8 p.m. Friday all at the Grandstand.

Friday's Fair events include live music by local musicians on Founders Square from 1 p.m. to 6 p.m. and the Harper & Morgan PRCA Rodeo at 7:30 p.m. at the Grandstand. Southbound will perform dance music on Founders Square from 9:30 p.m. to 12:30 a.m.

Saturday will begin with the Heart O' Dixie Triathlon which starts at 6:30 a.m. at Lake Tiak O'Khata in Louisville and will

PD giving school supplies to families

By SARAH KATHRYN WATKINS
news@neshobademocrat.com

The Philadelphia Police Department will host a Back to School Bash and distribute school supplies on Saturday at Northside Park.

The PD will be distributing school supplies from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. to Philadelphia, Neshoba and Choctaw students in grades K-12, said Philadelphia Police Chief Eric Lyons.

The department accepted donations such as Crayons, backpacks, folders, glue and more from individuals and businesses.

"Everyone in Neshoba County is welcome," said Lyons of their first-ever Back to School Bash.

Others are welcome to attend the event as well and to bring their children to interact with police officers who will be at the event, Lyons said.

"We want the community to be more comfortable interacting with our department and police," Lyons said.

The event will feature jumpers, basketball, face painting, games and a dunking booth where children can throw a ball and dunk a police officer.

Police also will host a lunch that includes hamburgers, hot-dogs, chips, drinks, ice cream and ice pops.

In addition to giving children and members of the community a chance to interact with police officers, Lyons said, the event will help children and families get many of the school supplies they need before school starts in August.

Miss Neshoba County has 13 vying

By AUDREY HALL

Thirteen contestants will compete for the title of Miss Neshoba County Fair on Monday night at the Neshoba County Fair.

Pageant Director Jennifer Bounds said a few more contestants are participating compared to recent years and the contest will feature a few changes this year.

"I have 13 outstanding contestants," Bounds said. "We will bring back the modeling of Fair Wear and the girls will introduce themselves and tell what their favorite part of the Fair is," Bounds said. "They will take part in interviews, an opening number and evening gown competition also. We are no longer a preliminary pageant for Miss Mississippi."

The Pageant is at 8 p.m. Monday at the Grandstand.

Here is a look at the contestants:

• Kyleigh Laughlin is the 18-year-old daughter of Angela and David Turk. She is a member of Southside United Methodist Church. Kyleigh was involved in FFA, played soccer and was a Mississippi Scholar as well as an honor roll student at Neshoba Central.

Kyleigh is a member of the National Barrel Horse Association and High School Horse Association. She is a 2 time state qualifier for the 4H horse show and pistol shooting competitor. Kyleigh plans to attend East Central Community College and pursue a degree in nursing.

• Anna Caroline Stephens is the 18-year-old daughter of Amy Stephens and Don Grantham, Jr. She is a member of Bethsadia Baptist Church. Anna Caroline was involved in many clubs while in high school Bible, Crown, Sci-

Rea places in technology competition

By JOHN LEE

Discussing the positive and negative effects of digital communication in schools landed Neshoba Central rising junior Spencer Rea second place in a state competition.

Rea won in the "Essays on Technology" category of the state Technology Student Association (TSA) competition and competed nationally with another essay in the same category this summer.

For his state competition essay, Rea discussed the positive and negative effects of digital communication in schools.

"I argued that many schools across the country have switched to digital means of communication due to the COVID-19 pandemic," Rea said. "Schools have utilized programs such as Zoom and Google Meets for online classes, and it allows students to work and collaborate in a way that is not possible without technology."

He then discussed the negative effects, such as the expenses of digital technology and required Internet connection, something not everyone has.

Sedera Anderson, TSA Teacher of the Year and engineering and robotics instructor at Neshoba Central, said Rea is a student with many diverse talents.

"Spencer requires minimum instruction and just takes tasks and runs with them," Anderson said. "I am completely overwhelmed with the diversity in his capabilities. His essays were written quickly, yet completely on topic. His communication skills are extraordinary." For his national essay submission, Rea discussed air safety and the importance of federal aviation administration guidelines.

"This essay focused on guidelines such as wearing a seatbelt during the takeoff and landing of planes, having a fire extinguisher on board at all times, where emergency exits are located, and the necessity of pilot communication," he said.

He also covered the recent regulations requiring CDC-approved facial coverings while on a plane and that masks are necessary on planes due to the seats being tightly spaced with passengers sitting close together.

"I enjoy writing, especially writing essays," Rea said.

"When Mrs. Anderson asked

Shemah Ladania Crosby was crowned the Choctaw Indian Princess by Tribal Chief Cyrus Ben last Wednesday night out of a field of 13 contestants.

Crosby crowned Choctaw Princess

By STEVE SWOGETINSKY

steve@neshobademocrat.com

When Shemah Ladania Crosby was announced as the new Choctaw Indian Princess last week, she didn't understand her name had been called.

"I was still looking at some of the girls, saying aren't you the winner," Crosby said. "And then they opened up their arms to me and I realized I had won."

Crosby's was the 66th crowning, a tradition that began in 1955 and is held on the opening night of the Choctaw Indian Fair. Crosby becomes the official ambassador of the Tribe.

There was a lapse of about an hour after the final competition before the announcement.

"It was extremely nerve-wracking," Crosby said. "I calmed myself down by listening to Beyoncé and talking to the other girls. I tried to not think about it.

"Then when the time came, I just burst out in tears. I still can't believe it."

Crosby was sponsored by the Pearl River R.V. Park. She lives in the Standing Pine Community and is the daughter of Lane Denson and Oga Crosby.

She said once she decided to enter the Princess pageant, it took about two months to prepare.

"I wanted to be the pride of my people," Crosby said. "Also, I wanted the people who passed on to be proud of me, too. All of my ancestors, particularly my grandmother, Lena Denson, the former first lady. She passed of COVID-19 last year. I am so glad we are at the Fair this summer, especially after the terrible year we had last summer."

"It took time to get my dress made," Crosby said. "I love these dresses so much."

They remind me of my grandmother. She used to make dresses like these."

She knows she has a busy year coming up.

"Right now, I am looking forward to meeting all of my people who are here," Crosby said, "And then I am going back to school and honoring my tribe the best way that I can."

Crosby graduated from Choctaw Central in 2020. She is entering her sophomore year at Mississippi State University.

This has turned out to be a very good summer for Crosby. She was named the Choctaw princess and Mississippi State won the College World Series.

"Hail State," Crosby said. "I didn't get to go to Omaha. I was preparing for the pageant. But I watched it on TV."

She is an anthropology major.

"I wanted to learn about my Choctaw culture," Crosby said. "I am half black and I also wanted to learn about my black culture, too."

"Once I am done with the anthropology degree, I want to go and get a medical anthropology degree. Then, maybe I can come back and help my tribe in the best way I can."

She has been a model since 2014 and has had some pictures published. When she was at Choctaw Central, Crosby said she was known as "The Model."

In her off time, she likes to do beadwork and enjoy time with her family.

"During exam week, I love to paint my nails because it calms me down," Crosby said. "But when I get back home, I play golf with my grandfather. Don't ask me about my score. And, I go into the garden with him. He makes sure all of his granddaughters work in that garden."

Woman accused of stealing pickup at Fair cabin

By DUNCAN DENT
scott@neshobademocrat.com

A woman accused of stealing a pickup truck being unloaded at a cabin on the Neshoba County Fairgrounds last Tuesday is out on bonds.

Aimee J. Mason, 43, 1720 Road 339, was arrested and charged with motor vehicle theft, burglary of a motor vehicle and possession of paraphernalia.

Records show she was released from the Neshoba County Detention Center Saturday morning on a $40,600 bond.

Sheriff Eric Clark said deputies arrested Mason after the incident on July 13 at about 7:30 p.m. in the 900 section.

Clark said the woman reportedly stole a white Ford F350 parked outside of a cabin between Cabin 900 and Cabin 910. He said the owner of the truck and a family member then pursued the woman through the Fairgrounds.

"I don't really know what was going through her mind at the time," Clark said.

She was stopped near the horse barns and confronted by the owner, Clark said. At that point she attempted to flee on foot and dropped her purse which contained a pistol that had been in the truck along with an envelope containing documents related to the truck, Clark said.

The owner and some men around the horse barns were able to hold the woman until deputies arrived, Clark said, and Mason was arrested without incident.

Mason was staying on the Fairgrounds in a cabin near the one where the truck was stolen, Clark said.

Deputies who talked to her on the scene said she seemed "incoherent" at the time, Clark said.

Williamsville traffic stop results in 3 arrests on possession of meth was stopped for a traffic violation.

By DUNCAN DENT

Clark said that after a search all three occupants were found to be in possession of meth in felony amounts and were promptly arrested.

Jail records show that Rush was released on a $10,600 bond. The other two remain in custody.

DeKalb man found shot, unconscious

By DUNCAN DENT
scott@neshobademocrat.com

A man found unconscious in a vehicle in a ditch in west Philadelphia early Monday morning had been shot, the authorities said.

Police Det. Bobby Pattillo said that the call came in shortly after midnight. Officers responded to a vehicle in a ditch right off of Cora Street.

He said that they found a black male suffering from a gunshot wound to the thigh passed out inside the vehicle.

The subject was identified as Lartrell Smith, 39, of DeKalb. He was transported by EMS to Neshoba General and then on to University of Mississippi Medical Center in Jackson.

Pattillo said the vehicle also had damage consistent with gunfire.

"The vehicle was a 2020 Hyundai Sonata and it did have multiple holes consistent with gunshots," Pattillo said.

Pattillo said that they had no gunshots reported that evening through official channels prior to the discovery of Smith.

Neshoba SO radios good call

Neshoba County Sheriff's deputies are now using a state-of-the-art radio network developed after Hurricane Katrina.

The Mississippi Wireless Information Network (MSWIN) was designed with a simple, straightforward objective: Get the right information to the right people, in the right place, at the right time.

And it's working now in Neshoba County.

"All of the communication shortfalls that we were experiencing are a thing of the past," Neshoba County Sheriff Eric Clark said earlier this month after the radios were installed.

Deputies have been issued personal radios that are compatible with the system as well as having radios installed in all of the fleet vehicles.

"These radios will make the county a safer place and are already making our deputies safer," Clark said.

The Neshoba County Board of Supervisors voted to spend $50,000 to purchase 22 portable and 20 mobile MSWIN compatible radios in May.

MSWIN is a P-25 700 MHz LMR public safety communication system that is designed to provide 97% mobile area coverage statewide via multiple sites.

MSWIN is the only statewide interoperable emergency communication voice and data network available for use by both state and local public safety entities. It is designed to allow any manufacturer's P-25 compliant radios to operate on the system.

This type of system offers the following benefits:

- The ability to coordinate communications with other agencies or jurisdictions;
- The ability to purchase radios from more than one vendor; and
- The ability to share resources to enhance communications and control costs.

Mutual aid/interoperability talkgroups are inserted in all MSWIN subscriber radios to ensure optimum statewide interoperability.

Clark said other law enforcement agencies in East Mississippi have already gone to the MSWIN radios and that's beneficial to public safety.

The Philadelphia police and fire departments are considering the move and 68 other counties already have made the move.

Out of the chaos of Katrina and a collapse of communications, then-Gov. Haley Barbour formed a commission to come up with solutions to improve statewide communication among first responders and the MSWIN was born.

"It is just a better system," said Philadelphia Fire Chief Pierce Clark. "Everybody is going to it, and we don't want to be left behind."

Philadelphia Police Chief Eric Lyon said the police department plans to move to the MSWIN system when the fire department does.

We hope the Board of Supervisors will see fit to bring the county volunteer fire departments to the network as well.

Neshoba County will receive $5.6 million and the city of Philadelphia $1.6 million in the federal government's $1.9 trillion federal American Rescue Act passed earlier this year by Congress to help local governments recover from the COVID-19 pandemic.

As a spending gauge, supervisors passed a $15.4 million budget for 2021. The city budget is around $7 million.

Mississippi, by the way, will receive about $6 billion in total in the rescue act, which is equal to the state budget.

Better funding law enforcement is always a solid investment.

Article IV of the Constitution addresses the obligations of the federal government to the state governments that were being asked to surrender aspects of their sovereignty to form our new Union.

"The United States shall guarantee to every State in this Union a Republican Form of Government," reads Article IV, "and shall protect each of them against Invasion."

Late in the War of 1812, U.S. forces held Fort McHenry in Baltimore Harbor through a nightlong attack but failed to stop an invading British army at Bladensburg, which marched on to Washington and burned the Capitol and White House.

To repel a British invasion and the capture of New Orleans, and a blockading of the Mississippi, Maj. Gen. Andrew Jackson mustered a defending army that almost annihilated the invading British force.

Half a decade later, President James Monroe sent Jackson to halt the raids of marauding Indians out of Spanish Florida into Georgia.

Jackson stormed into Florida, crushed the Indian tribes, sent the Spanish governor packing to Cuba and hanged two British subjects for collaborating with the enemy.

Secretary of State John Quincy Adams persuaded the Spanish to cede the "derelict province" they could not control — or Jackson might return, and we might just take it.

Madrid got the message. We got Florida.

When Pancho Villa sent a raiding party across the U.S. border in 1916 and killed Americans in Columbus, New Mexico, President Woodrow Wilson sent Gen. John Pershing and an army that grew to 12,000 into Mexico to run him down.

In 1954, after a million Mexicans had crossed over into the United States, President Dwight Eisenhower sent Gen. Joseph Swing to send them back. In the vernacular of the time, the mission was named Operation Wetback.

Mission accomplished.

Biden's demagogic voting speech

If this is Joe Biden when he's forceful and passionate, the country is better off with the passive and detached version.

The president gave a thunderous address in Philadelphia on Tuesday denouncing alleged Republican voter suppression. Playing on the darkest fears of Democrats and layering on the adjectival overkill, Biden blatantly distorted Republican state-level election laws in a frankly demagogic speech.

If Democrats lose in 2022 or 2024, his speech will provide warrant for Democrats to embrace a corrosive excuse — GOP foul play.

This tack already got a successful test run by Stacey Abrams when she lost in the 2018 Georgia gubernatorial campaign. She refused to concede and today almost all Democrats treat her, without cause, as the rightful victor.

According to Biden, the GOP election rules are one of the most grievous affronts to our democratic rights ever. He called this push "the most serious test of our democracy since the Civil War." Half the country left the union during the Civil War, and more than 600,000 people died in a yearslong war, which obviously doesn't bear comparison to, say, passing voter ID laws.

At one point, Biden referred to "Georgia's vicious anti-voting law." As the president himself might say, "Come on, man."

Although it tends to be Exhibit A in the Democratic argument against GOP voting initiatives, the Georgia law was fully debated prior to its passage, and refined in the legislative process. The result is well-crafted legislation that is not

This June, 188,800 illegals crossed into the United States — a rate of more than 6,000 a day.

Problem solved. And the point:

America used to regard its southern border as sacrosanct and vulnerable, requiring constant vigilance and occasional action to secure.

And how is President Joe Biden handling his sworn presidential duty to defend the states of the Union from invasion?

This June, 188,800 illegals crossed into the United States — a rate of more than 6,000 a day. Nearly a million have arrived in the six months since Biden swore an oath to defend the Constitution that obligates him to protect the states against invasion.

As for "getaways," migrants who enter illegally but evade contact with the Border Patrol and other U.S. authorities and then vanish into our midst, their numbers have been running at about 30,000 a month.

If the present rate of illegal entries continues, Biden, by the end of his first year as President, will have failed to stop perhaps 2 million illegal aliens from having breached our southern border.

Biden is conducting the border policy of a failed state.

And U.S. immigration policy is being set by people from Third World nations who can find their way to the Rio Grande.

Why cannot we stop this invasion?

Vice President Kamala Harris was assigned to take charge of this task, but she redefined her mission as discovering what makes people leave their home countries and trek across Mexico — to come and live down.

Good question: Why are people from developing nations leaving their home countries and crossing Mexico to get into the USA?

After all, our academic, cultural and political elites have told the world that America is a place of "systemic racism," created by white supremacists, for the benefit of peoples of white privilege, where ethnic minorities remain oppressed.

Why would such a country, of all 193 nations in the U.N., be, far and away, the first choice of peoples migrating from the Global South?

Could it be that people from developing nations are not so ignorant as to believe this anti-American progressive propaganda?

They know America is free and full of opportunity. That even the poor here have access to 12 years of free education for their kids. That they will find better health care in America than they can find at home. That there are programs here to battle poverty, hunger and homelessness.

But from the standpoint of the nation to which they are coming, the illegal migrant millions present real problems.

They consume far more in benefits than they pay in taxes. They are dead weight on the welfare state.

"Biden is in a vise on border," said The Washington Post Sunday headline, over a story describing the president's border problem.

But the only way Biden can have a political crisis on the border is if he is seen as failing in his duty to defend the states against invasion.

Why is he failing? Either he can't do what is needed to be done, or he won't do it.

America's border paralysis is induced by liberal ideology.

The left does not want the illegals coming here. "Do not come!" was the message Harris gave the Guatemalans. But when it comes to the necessary toughness to stop the invasion, they recoil.

Joe Biden is no Eisenhower, no Wilson, no Quincy Adams and certainly no Andrew Jackson.

Patrick J. Buchanan is the author of "Nixon's White House Wars: The Battles That Made and Broke a President and Divided America Forever."

The Georgia law increases the hours available for early voting, and it preserves ballot drop boxes.

anywhere close to hearkening back to Lester Maddox.

First of all, the Georgia law increases the hours available for early voting, and it preserves ballot drop boxes, an emergency measure adopted during the pandemic.

Other key provisions have sensible rationales. The law dispenses with signature match, which Abrams has criticized as unreliable, to verify absentee ballots; instead, it asks that voters provide a driver's license or state ID number.

Where long lines are an endemic problem, the new law mandates that counties either reduce the size of precincts or add new equipment or workers.

The law seeks to reduce the number of provisional ballots, which are hard for election workers to handle, by diminishing a leading reason people vote provisionally, i.e., they show up at the wrong precinct. Election workers will direct such voters to the correct precinct.

In the same spirit, the law says voters can't request absentee ballots later than 11 days prior to the election — because many absentee ballots are rejected for arriving late.

Even if you oppose every single one of these measures, Georgia will still have online registration, extensive early voting and no-excuse absentee voting.

As Henry Olsen of The Washington Post points out, most advanced countries around the world don't have all the different ways to vote that Georgia does. "If Georgia's elections are undemocratic," Olsen writes, "then almost all of our democratic allies are also undemocratic."

Biden either doesn't realize this, or doesn't care — in other words, he's either being recklessly irresponsible or deeply cynical (and probably both).

The presumption that marginal changes in election laws measurably affect turnout, a key assumption of the Democratic case against GOP election bills, is simply erroneous. Voter ID laws haven't suppressed turnout. The Supreme Court's Shelby decision ending federal pre-clearance of voting changes in certain states hasn't stopped minorities from voting. And states that adopted no-excuse mail-in balloting last year didn't have higher turnout than states that didn't.

Regardless, Abrams has proved that the charge of voter suppression is a powerful partisan motivator. Biden made a nod in this direction when he said, "We'll engage in an all-out effort to educate voters about the changing laws, register them to vote, and then get the vote out."

Never mind that this wouldn't be possible under a new Jim Crow.

When it comes to juicing up his own supporters, the Biden speech may have been effective, but it wasn't statesmanship — or remotely truthful.

Bruce Davis

Born on December 5, 1940 in Chicago, Illinois. He spent several years as a young boy and later teenager with his beloved grandparents in Illinois and later in Sarasota, Florida where he met his future wife, Nell. He served several years in the US Air Force during the Vietnam era and was proud to do so. He earned many commendations and awards for his service. After the Air Force he worked mostly in sales and sales management. He was District Manager for an aftermarket auto parts company which required several moves within the United States. Many friends were made due to these moves. Also, he was in management with a national Truck Bumper manufacturing company where several of his designs we still see on older trucks. At one point he was part owner of an Import New Car Dealership. Until recently he was a silent partner in another car dealership, dabbled in antiques and enjoyed spending time at the farm in Mississippi.

As a young father he raced with the SSCA in Dayton, Florida and took his three sons to watch the action. He never lost his love of beautiful cars. He enjoyed boating and attending antique car shows. He also liked to travel and took many interesting adventures while living in Europe. He always enjoyed exploring different areas of this beautiful country. After Nell's retirement they revisited some of the places they had lived when young. Enjoyed visiting the State and National Parks.

For every hardship the need was met with much love and support from his wife of fifty-nine years and their three sons whom he loved dearly. Steve and his wife Gwen, Don and his wife and son Bill. He was a kind, gentle man and left an amazing legacy. He will be missed.

Getting the Message/Rev. Chris Shelton

Peace with God through Christ

The book of Acts is the inspired account of the Lord Jesus Christ building his church through the proclamation of the gospel. He commanded his apostles to begin in Jerusalem with the Jewish people, proceed to the surrounding areas in Judea and Samaria, and from there go to the end of the earth.

In this passage we see the gospel go to Cornelius, a Roman Centurion, and his family and friends, who were Gentiles. This is a great shift in redemptive history. This was promised in the prophets, but it was obscure and it is stunning to the Jewish Christians who witness it. Their astonishment should make us pause and reflect on the wonder that the Lord directed the gospel to come to us.

Peter and six of his Jewish Christian companions accompany messengers back to Caesarea and the home of Cornelius. Cornelius had assembled his family and friends for the arrival of the apostle with great anticipation. His desires are so great that when Peter arrives, Cornelius falls down before him and worships. Peter corrects his misplaced reverence, lifts him up, and asks why Cornelius sent for him.

Cornelius recounts to Peter the story of the angel appearing to him and the instructions to send messengers for Peter. After thanking Peter for coming, he says, "Now therefore we are all here in the presence of God to hear all that you have been commanded by the Lord" (verse 33).

There are many people present, and they regard themselves as in the presence of God to hear the word Peter has been given by the Lord. You could not find a more attentive audience. Their fearful yet fervent attentiveness should also make us consider our own regard for hearing God's word.

Peter proceeds to tell them about Christ. I have watched PBS fundraising shows with noted speakers on health and other subjects. The audience is hanging on every word. This is information they have come to hear. You've no doubt been in an audience where the speaker and his subject held the rapt attention of all there. Cornelius and his friends want to hear about Christ.

What does Peter say about Him? He says He is Lord of all (verse 36). That means He is Lord of both Jew and Gentile, but it also means Christ Jesus is the eternal begotten Son of God. He always has been and always will be Lord of all. He is the Alpha and the Omega (Rev. 1:8). When we look upon Christ we first look upon the majestic Son of God through whom all things were made.

When we look upon Jesus as a man, He was a holy man, a man who sought and did all the holy will of God. His nature as man has a subsistence, or union, with the Son of God, so that he is one person with these two distinct natures.

When Peter speaks of Christ, he speaks of peace with God through Him. God looks first upon Christ. He looks upon whatever is good and lovely as in the Son of God. When we embrace Christ by faith we embrace the love of the Father.

Peter says Christ was anointed with the Holy Spirit and with power (verse 38). He went about doing good and delivering people from the power of the devil. We see the eternal majesty of Christ combined with meekness and the heart of a servant. He came not to be served but to serve others, even though he was the Son of God. Cornelius, a Roman commander, would have been awed at these truths.

Jesus spoke of sinners he saved as sheep and he said that He was the Good Shepherd who lay down his life for his sheep. He said, "The thief comes only to steal, kill, and destroy. I came that they may have life, and have it abundantly" (John 10).

He spoke words of life to the poor Samaritan woman, the anxious tax collector, the distressed Canaanite mother, and many others. Now there is a room full of Gentiles, who have heard of his greatness, hearing of His goodness and grace. Peter says, "God was with him" (verse 38).

The Lord Jesus must have pre-eminence above all things in the hearts of His people. We must first make him our Savior and then we will find Him as our peace. Peter spoke to these Gentiles about the majesty of Christ and the good news from God that was in His name. And as we will see next week, they listened and believed.

The Rev. Chris Shelton is pastor of the First Presbyterian Church of Union.

Payne 4th alternate in Miss Hospitality

By JOHN LEE

john@neshobademocrat.com

Philadelphia's Landry Payne took the stage representing Neshoba County in the 2021 Miss Hospitality competition last week and placed fourth alternate overall.

Payne was also one of the top three out of the 36 total competitors in the speech competition, where she presented a speech she wrote about Mississippi and why people should come to visit the Magnolia State.

Payne will present the speech during the Miss Neshoba County Fair Pageant on Monday night.

"I formed amazing friendships with the other contestants, and I can't wait to see where life takes them," Payne said. "It didn't feel like we were competing against each other, we were just doing our best and having fun."

Payne said she was shocked when they called her name for the Top 10. She had done her best, but she still was not expecting it.

"I'm thankful I got to represent Neshoba County and that I represented it well," she said. "I also got to participate in other amazing things, like volunteering for Extra Table in Hattiesburg, where we packaged rice bags and colored the boxes for them. Those boxes will be distributed throughout the state."

Since Payne placed in the top five of the competition and placed third in the speech competition, she received an estimated total of $2,000 in scholarship monies for the upcoming school year.

Sara Hederman of Ridgeland placed third alternate, Cassidy Young of Pontotoc placed second alternate, Becca Childers of New Albany placed first alternate and the winner overall, Mississippi's Miss Hospitality, was Jane Cranberry of Hattiesburg.

Sara Hederman of Ridgeland placed third alternate, Cassidy Young of Pontotoc placed second alternate, Becca Childers of New Albany placed first alternate and the winner overall, Mississippi's Miss Hospitality, was Jane Cranberry of Hattiesburg.

Payne's mother, Cindy Payne, said her daughter worked very hard and performed well in the pageant held in Hattiesburg at the historic Saenger Theater.

"Landry had a blast this week making friends and working with the Miss Hospitality staff," Cindy Payne said. "She is also receiving scholarship money for the upcoming school year for her accomplishments in speech and placing in the top five overall."

Laura Bailey, director of Miss Hospitality for Neshoba County, said Payne represented Neshoba County well.

"I am very proud of Landry," Bailey said.

Payne will continue her reign of Miss Hospitality for Neshoba through the rest of the year, as well as Little Miss Hospitality for Neshoba, Katie James.

Man arrested for shooting up fentanyl at store

By DUNCAN DENT

scott@neshobademocrat.com

A Union man wanted on burglary charges was in the process of allegedly using fentanyl at a convenient store here when he was arrested on Friday.

Jeffery Dooley, 35, 10211 Road 2210, Union, was arrested and charged with possession of a controlled substance, burglary of a dwelling, three counts of petit larceny and four counts of false pretense, officials said.

Sheriff Eric Clark said deputies caught Dooley at approximately 5:30 p.m. July 9 at the Spaceway on Pecan

Jeffery Dooley

Avenue while he was in the process of grinding up a pill containing fentanyl in a spoon presumably to inject.

Clark said a tip that Dooley, who was wanted in connection with an early March home burglary on Road 836 in the Burnside commun- ty, had been sighted at the Spaceway led them to the scene.

The caller said that the suspect was a male driving a black 2005 Honda Accord who was wanted through Neshoba County Justice Court.

Dooley remained in the Neshoba County Detention Center Monday afternoon on $39,200 in total bond.

Bok Cito rallies to three-peat as stickball champions

By STEVE SWOGETINSKY
steve@neshobademocrat.com

Bok Cito has captured its third-straight Men's Division championship in the World Series of Stickball.

Bok Cito overcame a 3-1 halftime deficit to defeat Pearl River 6-5 Saturday night in the men's finals.

This was the final event of the 71st Choctaw Indian Fair. Four other stickball champions were crowned over the week. Pearl River defeated Bok Cito Ohoyo to claim the women's championship; Koni Hata defeated Beaver Dam to win the Men's 35 and over championship; Pearl River beat Beaver Dam to take the Tulli Okchi Ishko (ages 14-17) division; and, Beaver Dam beat Koni Osi to win the Pushmataha (ages 10-13) division.

Bok Cito's Bracey Bell was selected 2021 MVP of the men's division tournament.

"Everyone played as one," said Bok Cito coach Van Morris. "They played as a unit. Luckily, the momentum was still there even though we didn't play last year because of the pandemic. We were worried about that."

"We have been able to keep everyone together. We won it in 2018, 2019 and now in 2021. These guys have been there before and that helps a lot. Everyone knows what is on the line," Morris said.

After a scoreless first quarter, Melton Robinson scored to put Bok Cito up 1-0. Pearl River came back in the quarter to score three goals and led 3-1 at the half. Scorers included Frankie Garcia and Jamison 'Chico' Gibson.

"We have been down to them before and came back," Coach Morris said. "We never panicked, not once. We made some good adjustments that we needed to. Our shooters came through and our defenders held it so we could catch up."

Bell scored twice in the third quarter to tie the game. In the fourth quarter, he scored one goal to give Bok Cito the lead. Bok Cito and Pearl River then exchanged goals, making the score 5-4 with time running out. Bok Cito went up 6-4. Pearl River scored with less than a minute to play and Bok Cito held on for the victory.

Bok Cito defeated Beaver Dam in the semifinals to advance to the finals, while Pearl River defeated Koni Hata.

Madison County man charged with stealing vehicle at casino

By DUNCAN DENT
scott@neshobademocrat.com

A Madison County man has been arrested and charged in connection with the theft of a vehicle from one of the casinos on Friday, Neshoba County Sheriff's officials said.

Lasamuel Lamont Harris, 28, 1213 Carthage Road, Camden, was arrested and charged with felony motor vehicle theft and burglary of a dwelling.

Neshoba County Sheriff Eric Clark said a 2019 Ford Expedition was reported stolen from the Golden Moon Casino on Friday, July 16.

He said the vehicle was recovered due to a quick response by Choctaw Police Department and assistance from the Forest Police Department.

A Neshoba County Sheriff's Investigator responded to the complaint and took custody of Harris on Friday afternoon from the Forest Jail. Jail records show that Harris remains in the Neshoba County Detention Center and has been denied bond.

Deputies arrest man on marijuana, firearm possession

By DUNCAN DENT
scott@neshobademocrat.com

An early-morning traffic stop near Williamsville last Thursday led to the arrest of a man on marijuana, firearm and traffic charges.

Robert Hickman, 34, 243 Carver Avenue, was arrested and charged with careless driving, driving under a suspended license, felony possession of a controlled substance, possession of a firearm by a convicted felon, no proof of liability insurance and a child restraint violation.

Hickman was driving a Toyota Highlander and was stopped for a traffic violation near the intersection of Highway 16 and Highway 15 on July 15, Sheriff Eric Clark said.

Jail records show Hickman was released on a $27,300 in bond.

Beckham enjoys collecting cookbooks

By SARAH KATHRYN
WATKINS
news@neshobademocrat.com

Lola Barton Beckham, daughter of the late D.L. and Cara Barton, collects cookbooks and has been buying a cookbook on every roadtrip she has been on since 2010.

Beckham started collecting cookbooks in 2010 when Sister Shubert, a professional cook from Alabama, known for her popular dinner rolls, visited Philadelphia for a meet-and-greet.

"I got an autographed copy of her cookbook and started collecting," Beckham said.

Beckham's favorite cookbooks are the ones she purchased from Oak Alley in Vacherie, Louisiana. Other favorites of Beckham's are Sister Shubert's cookbook and a cookbook from Graceland in Memphis that includes all of Elvis' favorite recipes.

Beckham grew up with five brothers and five sisters, her being next to the last child. Growing up, Beckham was not one to stand in the kitchen and watch as her family cooked. It was not until Beckham's teenage years that she became interested in learning how to cook.

"There wasn't much room in the kitchen anyway," Beckham said.

Beckham met her husband, Tony Beckham, in seventh grade at Neshoba Central.

They have now been married for more than 26 years. The Beckhams have two grown children, TJ and Brandon Beckham.

Beckham went to East Central Community College in 2003 to become a registered nurse.

"My children were 2 and 4 years old," Beckham said. "I made it through with the support of my family."

Beckham has been a Registered Nurse for 16 years. Fifteen of those years, Beckham worked at Anderson Regional Medical center specializing in labor and delivery. Now Beckham works at Neshoba County General Hospital at the Infusion Oncology Center.

"I enjoy working at Neshoba General and taking care of my patients, not only people of Neshoba County but people of the surrounding counties as well," Beckham said.

Beckham's hobbies include traveling, crafting, photography, anything Elvis-related, collecting cookbooks, spending time with her family and cooking.

Beckham also enjoys baking fresh sourdough bread.

A special memory for Beckham is teaching her father how to make cornbread.

"My dad quickly picked up on how to make cornbread and perfected it," Beckham said.

Beckham said her father could make his cornbread in a cast-iron skillet, which made it good.

Happy Anniversary to Jim and Martha Whittle who celebrated 57 years of marriage on July 15th! Seven years ago the couple's family and friends enjoyed a celebration of their Golden Anniversary of 50 years.

They are so thankful to have these 7 additional years to enjoy each other, other, their family, and welcoming additions of great grand children. Martha feels they are so very blessed. Wishing you many more happy years together!

The Neshoba County Public Library recently concluded its Summer Reading Program 2021 for Preschool-6th graders at the library. The theme this year was "Tails and Tales".

The children were divided into age appropriate groups with Preschoolers attending story time on Wednesdays, and grades 1-6 having activities on Tuesdays and Thursdays. The program was a huge success and parents were very pleased with the happy, welcoming environment for their children and all of the fun, interesting activities planned for the sessions. What a great way to introduce and maintain a positive library and reading experience! Thank you to everyone who helped with this valuable service to our community's children.

Culpepper, Rush win golf tournament

By STEVE SWOGETINSKY

steve@neshobademocrat.com

Don Culpepper and Joe Rush captured the 49th Annual Kosciusko Fourball golf tournament championship in a playoff over the weekend.

Culpepper and Rush were one of two teams from the Philadelphia Country Club to play in the tournament. Chad Stokes and Allen Johnson finished third overall in the championship flight.

Culpepper and Rush were five under par and two strokes off the lead after the first round, which was shortened to nine holes because of the rain.

They picked up a couple of birdies on holes 3 and 9 over the second day and finished tied at 12

under par. The Culpepper-Rush team then claimed the championship on the first hole of the playoffs.

"We have played this tournament the last four years," Rush said. "We finished second two years ago.

"We were able to beat the rain.

It rained before we played and after we played but we were able to get the tournament in."

Next on the schedule is the 45th annual Philadelphia Country

Club Fourball which is slated for August 14-15.

College football coaches coming to Fair

By STEVE SWOGETINSKY
steve@neshobademocrat.com

It might not be a Neshoba County Fair first, but no one seems to remember when the head football coaches from Ole Miss, Mississippi State and Southern Miss have appeared together.

Lane Kiffin of Ole Miss, Mike Leach of Mississippi State and Will Hall of USM will appear together at the Fair next Thursday for a roundtable discussion starting at 2 p.m.

"To my knowledge, it's a first," said Scott Bounds a member of the Fair Board. "I thought if we were able to get them together and pull it off, it would be unique. This is probably a one-time thing but it could turn into something, maybe not annual but every few years. I thought it would be something a little bit different."

The three coaches will be at the Pavilion from 2 p.m. until 3 p.m. SuperTalk Mississippi is going to broadcast it for one hour uninterrupted.

Sid Salter will moderate the discussion. It will be a round-table format with each coach being able to talk about their team and upcoming season. They will take questions from the radio audience and they will take questions from the Fair audience.

"This is something we have been working on for a few months," Bounds said. "It just takes time to put it together."

THE NESHOBIA DEMOCRAT

Union Public School District Notice of Proposed Ad Valorem Tax Effort

The Union Public School District will hold a public hearing on its proposed school district budget for fiscal year 2022 on Monday, August 2, 2021 at 6:00 pm at the Union Public School District Central Office. At this meeting, a proposed ad valorem tax effort will be considered.

The Union Public School District is now operating with a projected total budget revenue of $10,180,620.80. Of that amount, 4.2% or $424,461 of such revenue is obtained through ad valorem taxes. For the next fiscal year, the proposed budget has total projected revenue of $13,459,357.01. Of that amount, 3.3% or $444,188 is proposed to be financed through a total ad valorem tax levy.

For the next fiscal year, the proposed increase in ad valorem tax effort by Union Public School District may result in an increase in the ad valorem tax millage rate. Ad valorem taxes are paid on homes, automobile tags, business fixtures and equipment, and rental real property.

Any citizen of Union Public School District is invited to attend this public hearing on the proposed ad valorem tax effort, and will be allowed to speak for a reasonable amount of time and offer tangible evidence before any vote is taken.

A millage rate of 54.32 will produce the same amount of revenue from ad valorem taxes as was collected the prior year. The millage rate for the prior year was 54.32.

METH: A DEADLY DRUG

Methamphetamine is a stimulant drug that is destroying our community. Methamphetamine, also known as meth, is a powerful, highly addictive stimulant that affects the central nervous system. Meth takes the form of white, odorless, bitter-tasting crystalline powder that easily dissolves in water or alcohol. People typically use meth by smoking, snorting or injecting. Meth is man-made from pseudo-ephedrine and other toxic ingredients such as lithium, brake fluid and lye. Meth addiction is so powerful because this drug quickly increases levels of dopamine, a chemical in the brain that produces feelings of pleasure. This makes a person want to use meth again and again to achieve the same rush, which eventually leads to addiction.

Even taking small amounts of meth, or just trying it once, can cause harmful health effects, including:

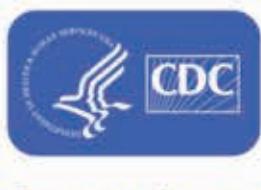

- Rapid or irregular breathing
- Bizarre, erratic, aggressive, irritable, or violent behavior
- Increased blood pressure and body temperature
- Faster breathing
- Loss of appetite, disturbed sleep patterns, or nausea

Chronic meth use leads to many damaging, long-term health effects (even when users stop taking meth), including:

- Paranoia, hallucinations, mood disturbances, delusions, or violent behavior (psychotic symptoms can sometimes last for months or years after quitting meth)
- Anxiety, confusion, or insomnia
- Permanent damage to the heart and brain
- High blood pressure leading to heart attacks, strokes, and death
- Liver, kidney, and lung damage
- Intense itching, causing skin sores from scratching
- Severe dental problems ("meth mouth")

What can you do if a loved one is using meth?

- Do some research about addiction and meth to have a better understanding
- Be ready to listen, and do not be judgmental
- It is not wise to confront the individual when they are high
- When a person refuses help or services, voice your concern but respect the person's decision
- Self-care is very important when caring for others
