

PAGOSA SPRINGS

REAL ESTATE & RELOCATION GUIDE

WELCOME TO PAGOSA SPRINGS

Welcome

Thank you for your interest in joining our community. Whatever has attracted you to this area — the scenery, the climate, the recreational activities or a specific job, we know you will find Pagosa Country to be a friendly, pleasant place to live, work and play.

The Pagosa Springs Real Estate and Relocation Guide has been developed to provide an abundance of pertinent information about the area.

Our community is surrounded by over 3 million acres of National Forest and wilderness areas. That means you will find a variety of outdoor activities here — hiking, biking, rafting, backcountry exploration, skiing, sledding, cross-country skiing, fishing, hunting and many others. You will also find other activities to keep you busy such as our charming shops, historic sites, museums, Chimney Rock National Monument and a variety of artisans.

Please indulge in the pleasure of soaking in our geothermally heated waters. The giant spring in town issues forth from a mighty aquifer, providing Pagosa Country with some of the most relaxing and restorative waters anywhere in the world.

There are also an abundance of networking opportunities and special events to enhance the work and living environment for residents and business owners.

Members of our community are actively involved in many volunteer, leadership and business ventures.

Whether a home-based business or a growth company, Pagosa Springs has the resources available to help you succeed.

Archuleta School District, along with alternative educational options, offers many diverse programs to all students, including distance-learning opportunities.

The area's hospital, Pagosa Springs Medical Center, operates a 24/7 emergency room, lab and diagnostic services, diagnostic imaging and mammography exams, cancer care, a surgical staff, orthopedic surgery, primary care physicians and more.

Look through these pages and learn for yourself — Pagosa Springs is a great place to live, work, create, move or expand your business, raise a family or retire.

Welcome to Pagosa Country.

WELCOME TO PPAGOSA SPRINGS

Where is Pagosa Springs?

Pagosa Springs sits at 7,079 feet in southwest Colorado at the base of the Continental Divide. Featuring rushing rivers and streams, lakes galore, hiking and biking trails, spectacular fall colors, ancient ruins, deep powder in the winter at nearby Wolf Creek Ski Area, incredible hunting, amazing wildlife, clean air and 3 million acres of National Forest surrounding the area, Pagosa Springs offers plenty of opportunities for our valued visitors, any time of year.

Who can I contact for info?

The Pagosa Springs Area Tourism website at www.visitpagosasprings.com will link you to the Visitor Center, or call their vacation line at (866) 438-4917. Visitor information can also be found at www.ExplorePagosa.com and www.PagosaSUN.com.

Keep up on the news and events with The Pagosa Springs SUN, the community's weekly newspaper, with daily updates online at www.PagosaSUN.com.

What is it like at that altitude?

Regardless of physical fitness, acute mountain sickness can strike anyone not acclimated to Pagosa's 7,000-foot elevation. To guard against altitude sickness:

- Drink three to four quarts of water per day.
- Avoid overexertion, while keeping caffeine and alcohol intake moderate for the first few days.
- Seek medical attention if persistent headache, fatigue, poor coordination or shortness of breath occur.

What is the weather like?

Archuleta County is located in the "Colorado Sunbelt," just north of the New Mexico border and along the Western slope of the Continental Divide. This combination of high desert plateau and dramatic Rocky Mountains to the north and east creates an unusually mild climate compared with much of the surrounding Southwest. We are favored with some 300 days of sun each year, as well as four distinct seasons. With low wind and warm sunshine, residents can enjoy a variety of year-round recreational activities.

Average Temperatures and Precipitation:

Average Days of Sunshine: 300 per year

Annual Precipitation: 20.21 inches/year

Annual Snowfall: 101.4 inches/year

Lantern Dancer Gallery 'I went home with a company'

By Josh Pike

Christine Jones' journey with turquoise began in her youth in Pagosa Springs, where as a "stone nerd" she came to know many of the local turquoise mine owners, including one who has become a "second grandpa" to her and her children.

This passion became a commercial venture when Christine acquired the Funky Trunk consignment shop in Pagosa Springs. The shop regularly received Native American, particularly Navajo, turquoise jewelry from local consignors.

Eventually, this collection became notable enough for Funky Trunk to advertise the jewelry in COWGIRL Magazine. This brought Christine to the attention of Doris Green, then current owner of the Lantern Dancer Gallery. Doris had owned the gallery since 2005 and had helped grow a national audience for its turquoise jewelry.

According to Christine, when Doris' representative contacted her in 2021, asking her to eat lunch with Doris, "I'm like 'I'm so busy, I have three kids, we're all in Pagosa Springs High School sports, I don't have time for anything else...'"

However, despite her reservations, Christine agreed to meet with Doris. "I came over to lunch, and Doris is very convincing, and I went home with a company," Christine said.

To Christine, being invested in the local community is a core part of success as a small business owner. "Tourists are a big income asset, but your bread and butter is locals," she stated. Even as the Lantern Dancer has grown, with advertisements in Cowboys & Indians and COWGIRL magazines and appearances at events like the Cowgirl Cadillacs horse sale, the gallery has worked to retain local buyers.

We maintain a "pretty large section" of jewelry under $100, Christine explained. She added that the gallery recently opened a gift shop featuring affordable small-batch, USA-made products. These selections, as well as frequent sales and a focus on customer service, have allowed the gallery to maintain a dedicated local audience, making it a go-to for local jewelry enthusiasts and gift shoppers.

According to Christine, the gallery works hard to give back to the community, supporting organizations like Veterans for Veterans and Curtains Up Pagosa. The gallery's displays also heavily feature local Native American turquoise artists.

"People don't know this, but there's thousands of Native American artists. So, to get your jewelry noticed, you have to have a gallery adopt you and put the money in to promote you." Christine explained. Among the artists promoted by the gallery are internationally known Navajo silversmith Calvin Begay and recent gallery favorite and fourth generation Navajo silversmith Leigha Cleveland.

"I personally love this industry because it's the most down to earth people on the planet," Christine concluded, "It's families that shop here."

Invest in an Opportunity Zone in Pagosa Springs

By Mary Jo Coulehan

You hear a lot of buzz about Opportunity Zones these days, but what is it about this program that has communities and investors excited?

Opportunity Zones (OZ) were enacted as part of the 2017 tax reform package to address uneven economic recovery and persistent lack of growth. The OZ program provides a federal tax incentive for investors to invest in communities through favorable treatment of reinvested capital gains and forgiveness of tax on new capital gains. The deferral of inclusion in taxable income for capital gains is until December 31, 2026. There is a gradual reduction of tax if gains are held for only five years or seven years. Permanent exclusion is tax free if the gains are held the full 10 years or until 2026.

When first implemented, low-income urban or rural communities had the opportunity to submit a census tract in their area for acceptance to the state of Colorado and then the federal government. The good news for Southwest Colorado is that every county had a census tract that qualified. In Archuleta County, census tract number 9744 was selected which encompasses Piedra Road northeast past Cloman Boulevard, the north side along U.S. 160 past U.S. 84 and southeast along U.S. 84. In this census tract, there are many opportunities to build out on vacant land tracts from larger parcels to infill parcels such as in the downtown area.

Archuleta County developed a community prospectus for investors. Numerous work groups were held, always open to the public. This group formulated the community prospectus. Participants included realtors, town and county government, developers, business professionals, utility companies, nonprofit agencies, the Chamber of Commerce and the Community Development Corporation (CDC), who took the lead in preparing the document.

The Pagosa Springs Community Prospectus is an invitation for developers and investors to look at our community and invest in projects we feel are important such as housing, light manufacturing and lodging. The work group took into account the Town's Comprehensive Plan, Smart Growth Plan and the County's Community Development Action Plan (CDAP) to align OZ projects with the highest priorities in these documents. The town and county collaborated on local development incentives that can be added to federal and state tax incentives. Investors can "stack" incentives from a myriad of opportunities.

We encourage potential investors to look at the various districts and see what projects might be available, or they can match their particular area of interest, such as housing, and reference what types of projects are available in each district. The community prospectus is available for download from the Region 9 website, www.scan.org or from the CDC website at pagosaspringscdc.org/incentive-programs/. The key to the OZ program is the investment of capital gains. If you are moving to Pagosa, have some capital gains that you would be interested in investing, contact your financial advisor for more investment information or Mary Jo Coulehan at the Chamber of Commerce at (970) 264-2360.

Region 9 Economic Development District of Southwest Colorado Equation for economic recovery

By Laura Lewis Marchino, Executive Director
Region 9 Economic Development District of SW Colorado

None of us have been through a COVID-19 related economic shock, but its impacts have similarities to past economic shocks. There is a 2017 book, Coping with Adversity: Regional Economic Resilience and Public Policy, that assesses over 1,500 disasters between 1978 and 2014 and how impacted communities responded. This includes events such as the downturn of the steel industry, the Great Recession, the 1980s savings and loan crisis, and numerous weather disasters.

History suggests that economic shocks are unavoidable. Look at our own state: the decline of mining/energy industries, manmade disasters like the Gold King Mine Spill, weather events like floods, drought, avalanches and the ongoing wildfires.

The good news is there is no “secret sauce” for economic recovery, as it is based on core economic development practices.

When studying those 1,500 disasters mentioned earlier, researchers looked at how each community recovered and what common components were present in the communities that were the most successful.

Recovery = T + I + E + BRE + Recovery equals talent plus infrastructure, plus entrepreneurship, plus business retention/expansion. This equation is the formula for economic recovery and resilience success.

Talent development was important before COVID-19 and will continue to be so. Recovery occurs when talented people build/rebuild great companies that generate new jobs and new wealth for a community. This means that continued and expanded investments in workforce and education programs are essential.

Entrepreneurship is also key in the recovery equation. Can someone who wants to live in our community find a job, and if not, create their own? Many communities have co-working spaces, accelerators, incubators, and the business support tools to grow their entrepreneurial landscape. In today’s changing world, jobs are following people rather than people following jobs so easing the transition to open and grow a business is critical. Post COVID-19, this means assisting with ownership transitions. Many business owners, primarily baby boomers, are thinking now would be a good time to retire. Instead of closing these businesses, we need to help new entrepreneurs take over. New owners tend to be more innovative, see new opportunities and have new ideas and energy.

In terms of infrastructure, the COVID-19 crisis has made it clear that broadband is the missing amenity and closing this gap needs to be top priority for any underserved location. Making sure there is affordable housing and strong education opportunities are also important.

Finally, there is business retention/expansion. In recovery we need to invest in strengthening local companies already in business. Small businesses are more likely than large businesses to fail after a major disaster. Existing businesses are already invested and committed to a community, and it is cheaper to retain companies than to recruit new ones. If every business were able to support one additional employee, communities would see tremendous benefits.

Our rural region is already resilient but focusing on the Recovery Equation, based on 40 years of research, will help guarantee we will not only recover but be one of the regions that thrive.

Opening a business in town

License, permits, zoning information and more

The Town of Pagosa Springs requires an annual business license for all businesses located and/or conducting business within the town's boundary. This includes special events, vendors, food trucks, seasonal/temporary vendors, vacation rentals, retail sales, bars/lounges, restaurants, professional services, construction general contractors and subcontractors, home-based businesses, nonprofit entities, etc. Additional license and/or permits may also be required for certain types of businesses.

It is recommended that you contact the town planning and building department at the beginning of your planning process and prior to determining a location for your business. There may be zoning restrictions and building code requirements for particular businesses that you should know about before you get too far along in your planning process, and certainly before you lease or purchase a property. This will help eliminate surprises and very costly oversights along the way. It is also recommended that you contact the building department if you are contemplating any new construction or remodeling work. There may not be any permit needed, however, a quick call will help eliminate delays and/or unknown expenses. In addition, a sign permit is required for all permanent and temporary signs (banners). Again, you should contact the planning department prior to designing or manufacturing a sign to ensure you meet the town's code requirements and prevent any costly mistakes.

Town staff is available to help guide you through the process of opening or relocating a business in Pagosa Springs. Applications are available on the town's website, www.pagosasprings.co.gov, or at Town Hall. Contact town government at: 551 Hot Springs Blvd., P.O. Box 1859, Pagosa Springs, CO 81147, (970) 264-4151.

Pagosa Springs Community Development Corporation Improving our economic climate

By Emily Lashbrooke

The Pagosa Springs Community Development Corporation (PSCDC) is a Public-Private Partnership that leads initiatives to enhance the economic vitality and quality of life for Pagosa Springs and Archuleta County.

Our industry partners range from banks, utility groups, health care, and independent business owners. We partner with large employers to tackle the most challenging struggles to help Pagosa Springs grow, diversify and continue our economic stability.

Alternative energy is a national focus and Pagosa Springs has an impressive portfolio, with biochar, solar and geothermal companies. The PSCDC is working with individuals and companies to provide internships and work-based learning opportunities in this field.

PSCDC is providing broadband to our designated business park to allow for all industries to thrive with all assets located on the property. We feel fortunate to have such an amazing community, with the Weminuche Wilderness and southern San Juan Wilderness in our backyard this is the perfect place to live, work and play.

With our Public partners, we have created some incentives for new businesses and relocation packages. The partnerships with Southwest Colorado Accelerator Program, Small Business Development Center, Region 9 and local banks will provide all the support you will need. The PSCDC strives to be your one-stop shop to relocate or start or grow your business.

I am available to share information regarding available properties, infrastructure, broadband connectivity, utilities, and workforce data. We offer this information and much more on our website at www.pagosaspringscdc.org.

Our business community is full of synergy and collaboration all in one of the most beautiful places in Colorado, nestled in the mountains, with picturesque views at every turn. Where else would you want to work, when you can experience all four seasons and have activities and recreation year-round to complement your quality of life.

We are proud partners with the Pagosa Chamber of Commerce and our tourism office, Visit Pagosa, for prosperity and planned growth for all of Archuleta County.

Feel free to reach out to us when you are ready to make the jump. Emily@pagosaspringscdc.org.

Grow your business with the Pagosa Springs Area Chamber of Commerce

By Mary Jo Coulehan

The Chamber of Commerce is a member-based organization that promotes and supports the local community through various educational programs, a resource and referral system, business advocacy, economic gardening and special event promotions. With almost 400 members, it is known for consistently having one of the highest per capita memberships in the state — an honorable achievement for a small mountain community.

Networking events such as Business After Hours and targeted trainings are a great way to stay current with area activities and to hone and expand your business savvy.

The Chamber offers confidential consulting services, connections to other important business service centers and numerous ways to help you grow your business.

We also stay involved in other community initiatives including broadband, housing and workforce development which are the priorities identified by the business community.

During COVID, our business community saw how important their chamber was by receiving the latest information on financial assistance, help with unemployment issues, working to man an emergency call center, and partnering with the town, county and nonprofit organizations to assist residents and businesses in Archuleta County.

The Chamber of Commerce, along with the Pagosa Springs Community Development Corporation, the Small Business Development Center and the Region 9 Economic Development District are ready to help you take your business to the next level. Being a Chamber member is being in support of the business community and offering a collective voice.

Contact the Chamber of Commerce at pagosachamber.com or by calling (970) 264-2360 for more information.

Town and County Regulations

Before you build, expand or open your business

Before you build, renovate or open your doors for business, there is one step that many people forget — and it is one that could save you time, money, surprises and headaches. That step is checking with the Town of Pagosa Springs or Archuleta County building and planning departments regarding doing business in our community.

Depending on where your business is located, each entity may have different requirements and zoning laws.

Zoning and land use

Of course, most entrepreneurs know that you need a building permit before you break ground or remodel any portion of an existing commercial building.

But are you breaking ground in the right zone?

Both the town and county have land use permitting and zoning. It is important to check to make sure that your business fits within the zoning and building code guidelines. Even though a zone may permit light manufacturing, you will need to make sure that your manufacturing operation fits within those guidelines. You may need to ask for a variance.

Even if you bought an existing building, contact the building department to make sure your business is compatible within the zone. This includes converting a house from long-term to short-term rental, adding accessory structures to a nonresidential location (including portable shipping containers), paving or changing access and parking lots, and doing any work in a floodplain. Some properties may be “grandfathered;” however, the improvement must meet current codes when expanded or changed or if vacant for more than six months.

Permitting and licensing

It is not necessary to obtain a business license within the parameters of Archuleta County; however, if doing business within the Town of Pagosa Springs, you must have an annual business license. Even if your business is physically located in the county, but you perform a business function within the town (delivery of products, repairs, sales), you still need a town business license.

Business licenses are also required within the town for temporary seasonal businesses like food trucks and vendors or special event permits and building contractor work permits.

Each planning department also has guidelines for building fees. While impact fees have been waived, other fees may apply such as water tap fees, plan submission, etc.

For those looking at larger developments, especially in the Opportunity Zone districts, the town and county can assist with incentive packages and plan development.

In both the town and the county, sign permitting is required for temporary, modified or permanent signage. Before you spend the money on making a sign, visiting with the planning departments will alert you to size restrictions or perhaps colors if you are doing business in the historic district.

Any new construction will need to have plans submitted to either building department. Each entity will provide a building and fire safety inspection before issuing a certificate of occupancy.

Both the town and the county have rules and restrictions regarding short-term rentals (under 30 days). Each has a different fee schedule and all short-term rentals need to be licensed and collect sales and lodgers’ tax. Before you purchase, build or set up your property for short-term rental, check the guidelines for where you are located, including specific property owner association subdivision restrictions and regulations.

Many of the licensing forms can be found on the town’s website at pagosasprings.co.gov or on the county’s site at archuletacounty.org.

The town’s building and planning departments are located at Town Hall at 551 Hot Springs Blvd. and the county building and planning offices are located at 1122 U.S. 84. These entities are here to help you through the building process and minimize duplication of efforts.

Find out the guidelines before you put a shovel in the ground for your new project or pull a hammer out to remodel your existing building. A quick phone call can save you needless time, energy and expense.

Colorado Office of Economic Development and International Trade Business incentives offered

By Laura Lewis Marchino, Region 9 EDD

Everyone wants to feel that they are getting a “deal.” That is why many of us use coupons or look for items on sale. In that respect, businesses are no different and incentives can be a tie breaker when choosing where to locate between two similar communities.

Archuleta County-based businesses have several incentives available for both relocating and existing businesses. Below is a quick summary of those resources.

Rural Jumpstart

Rural Jumpstart is a state program that incentivizes relocating and start-up companies offering a non-duplicative business product or service. Archuleta County and the Town of Pagosa Springs are eligible and participating. In fact, the first Rural Jumpstart business in Southwest Colorado was in Archuleta County.

Businesses must apply and be approved by the Economic Development Commission and create at least five new jobs that pay above the median income within a certain timeframe. <https://oedit.colorado.gov/rural-jump-start-program>

The program provides relief from state income taxes for the new business, relief from the state sales and use tax for the business, relief from county and municipal personal property taxes for the business, and relief from state income taxes for the employee.

Enterprise Zone State Tax Credits

The Colorado Enterprise Zone (EZ) program encourages job creation and capital investment in targeted economic areas including in the majority of Archuleta County.

The program provides a variety of tax credits to businesses and nonprofit projects to promote and encourage economic development activities. There are 10 different credits including equipment purchases, vacant building rehab, and new employee hires. <https://oedit.colorado.gov/enterprise-zone-program>.

HUBZone

Portions of Archuleta County have just been approved under the HUB Zone. This federal program fuels small business growth with a goal of awarding at least 3 percent of federal contract dollars to HUBZone-certified companies each year. www.sba.gov/hubzone.

Opportunity Zone

There is an Opportunity Zone census tract in Archuleta County. These zones are federally designed to spur economic development and job creation by providing tax benefits to investors who invest eligible capital into these communities. Taxpayers may defer tax on eligible capital gains by making an appropriate investment in a Qualified Opportunity Fund and meeting other requirements. <https://oedit.colorado.gov/colorado-opportunity-zone-program>.

The Colorado Office of Economic Development and International Trade has information on additional incentives to businesses that can be further explored at <https://oedit.colorado.gov/>.

- Advanced Industry Tax Credit — Provides assistance to Colorado companies operating in seven advanced industries the opportunity to receive capital from investors.

- Job Growth Incentive Tax Credit — A performance-based program for businesses pursuing job creation projects that are competing with at least one other state and where the incentive is a major factor in the decision.

- State Trade Expansion Program — Financial assistance for aspiring and current Colorado exporters entering into a new international market. This program supports small and medium-sized businesses through grant funds to offset international business development and marketing costs.

Commercial Historic Preservation Tax Credit

Jointly administered with History Colorado for owners of designated commercial properties who do a certified rehabilitation of their property. <https://www.historycolorado.org/grants-incentives>

Pathways to the future:

Varied educational opportunities help students find success

It's apparent educators in Archuleta County know not every student learns the same way and not every student has the same goal for their future. Schools in the area cater to those who prefer to learn in a more traditional school, want to use the community to learn through project- and place-based learning, need help supplementing a home-school program, want to learn online and more.

They also find ways to help students not only finish high school, but to accomplish that feat while setting themselves up for success.

Pagosa Springs High School, for example, offers multiple pathways to graduation aimed to help students be better prepared for what they want their future to be, whether heading off for postsecondary education before embarking on a career or heading into the workforce a little sooner.

The school's career and technical education (CTE) program has grown over the years and now includes five pathways: agriculture, food and natural resources; building trades; business; computer science; and health science.

Those pathways encompass training to help lead students into careers in fields such as recreation and the outdoors, hospitality, tourism, government work, food service (restaurants and catering), property management, landscaping, greenhouse construction, game design, firefighting, construction and more.

According to the school's website, some of the classes prepare students for a job directly after completion, while others put them on the pathway for careers with some additional training.

The programs, according to the school's website, "often give you the opportunity to earn certifications that can help you to get a job. They will make you career and college-ready. Each of the CTE classes have been approved by the Colorado Community College System and organized by Career Pathway."

Adding to the educational selection, each pathway also offers the opportunity for students to be a part of a related career and technical student organization.

These organizations, the school district outlines, give students a chance to expand their knowledge beyond the classroom and include Future Business Leaders of America, the Colorado Technology Student Organization, Health Occupations Students of America, Future Farmers of America and SkillsUSA.

The school is also consistently working to offer more pathways and courses.

The school also offers things such as plant science through its science department and, beginning with the 2022-2023 school year, automotive courses.

Soon, the school hopes to expand its campus with a building that will be the home of several of those pathways programs.

In February 2021, the Archuleta School District Board of Education gave the go-ahead to a volunteer-led nonprofit, Build Pagosa Inc., to begin fundraising for a CTE building that is slated to sit near the high school.

According to a document Build Pagosa produced to give to prospective donors, “The purpose of this collaboration is to create a modern and current vocational facility along with a CTE program that provides up-to-date training resulting in career certifications for our student body and community.”

The building will not be the first time the high school has benefited from a partnership with Build Pagosa.

The high school’s CTE program was given a boost several years ago when Build Pagosa formed, when a group of local builders identified the need for skilled construction workers and set out to find a solution for the problem.

That led one of their own, Tor Hessman, to become a teacher.

According to the prospective donor document, they told Principal Sean O’Donnell they “were experiencing a shortfall in the ability to hire a qualified workforce in the Pagosa Springs community. With the generous donations from the construction industry in the community, the school district was able to hire Tor and begin offering courses to the high school students.”

The building trades pathway now offers building trades, technical drawing and woodworking courses. Students from the program have gone on to take part in a summer work program and obtain jobs, and even promotions, in the field.

To learn fundamentals, students craft things such as chicken coops, dog houses and playhouses, which are then auctioned off in the community to raise funds for the next round of building materials.

Education Options

Private and Homeschool

While Archuleta School District offers excellent educational opportunities, some people relocating to Pagosa wish to enroll their children in a private school, online or blended school, or would like to homeschool their children. Pagosa Springs offers many private educational options, online and blended options, and homeschooling groups.

Pagosa Family School: Pagosa Family School is an Archuleta School District shared-schooling educational outreach program offered to all homeschool, private school and Archuleta School District students. PFS offers Spanish, art, music, drumline, choir, sewing and drama. Courses subject to changes contingent upon enrollment and interest. Visit the school on Facebook, the school district website at MyPagosaSchools.com or contact the Shared School Liaison at (970) 264-2228.

Pagosa Valor Academy: Pagosa Valor Academy is a University Model School for kindergarten through 12th grades. They are UMSI Certified and Cognia Accredited. It combines the best traits of home education with the best traits of public school education. It is a family-oriented school with the core purpose of teaching kids from a Biblical perspective while preparing college-ready young adults. Learn more at pagosavaloracademy.org.

Our Savior Lutheran School: This early childhood school offers preschool through eighth grade in which every discipline is taught from the Christian worldview. All classes are taught using a Classical Christian Curriculum, which includes such classes as Latin, cursive, traditional math, English, science, art and music. The school is located on three acres, complete with six classrooms, a gymnasium and two playground areas. Information is located at oscpagosa.org.

Online and blended options: Online schooling options, many of which are tuition-free public schools, are gaining popularity.

GOAL High School is a free public charter school and a Microsoft Showcase School. With more than 14 years in operation, GOAL serves ages 14-21. GOAL offers a blended learning format with online courses and student drop-in centers. Visit online at goalac.org.

A sampling of other popular tuition-free public online schools available in Pagosa include Southwest Colorado eSchool (southwestcoloradoeschool.org), K-12 schools (k12.com/colorado-online-schools), and Colorado Connections Academy (connectionsacademy.com/colorado-online-school).

Pagosa also has a robust and diverse homeschooling community. Homeschooling families of all educational philosophies are invited to stay connected through Pagosa Homeschool Connection’s Facebook page. In addition, three homeschooling groups meet weekly throughout the school year. Classical Conversations of Pagosa Springs group (classicalconversations.com) follows a classical home-education model with weekly community days. Friday Co-Op offers academic classes and field trips for preschool through high school as participation dictates. Adventures à la Carte group gets together every week for social and enrichment activities such as hikes, sledding and other field trips. Families who are considering homeschooling for the first time or moving into Colorado are encouraged to review homeschooling laws in Colorado, available through HSLDA (hsllda.org) and the Colorado Department of Education.

For more information on these groups or for advice on additional homeschooling resources, contact Pagosa Homeschool Connection leaders at pagosahomeschoolconnection@gmail.com.

San Juan Mountain School

An alternative to success

San Juan Mountain School (SJMS) is an alternative education campus within the Archuleta School District.

During the school's first two years of operation, students showed drastically improved attendance rates and increases in credit completion.

More importantly, the student body unified around designing a school from the ground up, both inside and out.

SJMS Principal Stewart Bellina said of their effort, "It is really exciting to watch a group of students who typically feel as though they don't fit in school create a learning environment which works for them. They have taken the reins and developed a program we can all be proud of."

In its first years, the student body of SJMS created a mission statement, designed a logo, developed pillars of the school, chose a mascot and school colors, and developed a list of behaviors all staff and students should strive toward each day. SJMS partners with various organizations to provide the most well-rounded education for students as is possible.

Classes at SJMS are designed to be engaging, real-world relevant and rigorous. SJMS educators develop curricula which centers around teaching fundamental skills applicable to life after high school, such as a personal finance class in which students learn about interest rates, insurance, taxes and savings. Other classes include robotics, nature writing, art, exploring world cultures, history in film, music and social justice, and leadership.

Throughout the school year, students and staff take trips into the wilderness together and take part in service projects in an effort to give back to the community, see real-world examples of their classroom learning and develop a stronger sense of community. Students took trips to Wolf Creek Ski Area, Bandelier National Monument, Santa Fe and Chaco Canyon National Historical Site. They also went rafting through town and into the Mesa Canyon, and went rock climbing in Durango.

"What separates us from fully online schools is the opportunity to receive small group instruction from highly qualified teachers in each content area and our dedication to creating a supportive community," Bellina said.

Families with students who are struggling with the typical educational environment are encouraged to reach out to SJMS and discuss whether it is a good fit. To learn more about SJMS, visit the district's website at sanjuanmountain.mypagosaschools.com.

Pagosa Peak Open School

Engage learners, connect with community, make a difference

Pagosa Peak Open School (PPOS) is a K-8 public, tuition-free school and is chartered through Archuleta School District, but is governed by its own volunteer board of directors.

PPOS has a unique educational model different from the district's other schools by offering project- and place-based learning, as well as experiential learning, for a hands-on approach. Students learn through doing and by reflecting and discussing what those experiences have taught them. Students develop knowledge, skills and values from direct experiences, both in and out of a conventional academic setting.

PPOS was started by a small group of local parents dedicated to bringing an innovative educational choice to our community.

PPOS impacts the children of Archuleta County in many ways. Students are learning about regional issues such as snow science; life skills such as gardening, farming and food security; and philanthropy in addition to the core subjects of English, social studies, mathematics and science.

Students, families, community and our region are all incorporated into how PPOS educates. Under school director Angela Reali-Crossland, PPOS is working as a unified team with a common goal: creating a community of empowered, lifelong learners by providing a multiage learning environment designed to foster confidence, high academic achievement, and the joy of learning through original and meaningful work.

In 2020, the Pagosa Peak Open School Building Corporation purchased the school's building at 3133 Cornerstone Drive in order to provide a permanent facility for the school.

In 2021, the school was awarded a BEST (Building Excellent Schools Today) grant. The State Board of Education approved $1.4 million for critical safety upgrades at PPOS to help transition the former office building into an education occupancy. That award included $663,820.02 in funding from the state.

To learn more about PPOS, visit its website at www.pagosapeakopen-school.org.

Public schools offer multitude of reasons for living in Pagosa

Archuleta School District

For families with children who are interested in moving to Pagosa Springs, there are a multitude of reasons, many of them found in our schools.

In Pagosa Country, education is about building strong, positive relationships, ensuring quality academics prepare students for their future, and maximizing the unique opportunities that southwest Colorado offers.

The community and its families trust the school district to provide real-world, relevant learning experiences that prepare students for college and careers of the 21st century. Our students have extensive academic options including Advanced Placement and multiple Career and Technical Education pathways, as well as many co-curricular activities to address interests and needs.

The district was created in 1950 and consists of four campuses, one shared school and one district-authorized charter school: Pagosa Springs Elementary School (kindergarten through fourth grades); Pagosa Springs Middle School (fifth through eighth grades), Pagosa Springs High School (ninth through 12th grades) and San Juan Mountain School (ninth through 12th grades). Pagosa Family School is a district shared-school elective program for homeschool and private school students serving students in grades K-8. In addition, Pagosa Peak Open School is a district-authorized charter school serving grades K-8 in the school year 2021-2022.

The motto at Pagosa Springs Elementary School (PSES) is “Care

Reigns Here” and the staff believes that creating respectful and caring relationships is the foundation for learning. From this foundation, kids engage in learning a rigorous curriculum including core subjects plus music, art, fitness, advisory, P.E., STEM and Spanish. PSES places an emphasis on whole child education and offers educational opportunities for all students to grow in individual ways. PSES ensures that all children are introduced to the concepts of entrepreneurial, personal, professional, academic and civic duty.

Pagosa Springs Middle School takes great pride in offering a dynamic, well-rounded educational experience. Its mission is to empower students to navigate the future through learning and problem-solving. The highly trained and caring staff engages students in relevant and dynamic ways to meet and exceed the Colorado Academic Standards. PSMS embraces the community values and the spectacular location of Pagosa Springs in the academic pursuits. PSMS often ventures outside the classroom to learn and explore. Student health and wellness is a top priority. As a three-time Healthy School Champion, the middle school has been recognized for having a well-developed, systemic approach to embedding best practices at all grade levels.

Pagosa Springs High School’s mission is to prepare students to succeed after high school by building community, inspiring contribution, challenging growth and embracing diversity. PSHS looks to build on post-secondary objectives by offering advanced placement (AP), concurrent enrollment, and career technical education pathways. PSHS has engaging and popular courses in building trades, culinary arts, woodworking, computer sciences, business and outdoor careers, among others.

All Archuleta schools support socio-emotional growth through an advisory or homeroom program. The advisory programs' age-appropriate, research-based curriculum is provided to support students and to build strong relationships.

In the fall of 2016, Archuleta School District, in partnership with a variety of home and private school groups, began Pagosa Family School. This unique opportunity provides elective classes such as Spanish, art, drumline, choir and an exploratory class consisting of science, music and drama to homeschool and private-school students during the regular school day as well as extra-curricular offerings. This program provides a rich opportunity for students to embody the motto of "Learning Together."

On the playing field, Pagosa Springs is a 3A school, and is consistently competitive at the state level in a number of team sports. The Future Business Leaders of America, Skills USA, Speech and Debate, and FFA organizations consistently produce top finishers in state competition and multiple Destination Imagination teams have qualified for Global Finals.

PSHS also takes great pride in the arts. The high school offers a wide variety of music programs including traditional band and choir as well as guitar and the Americana Project, which is a beginning songwriting course. Students can also enroll in a drama class in addition to after-school drama productions.

Head Start, Wings and Seeds of Learning work hand in hand with the district through the Colorado Preschool Program, which also offers assistance to at-risk preschool students. The district provides bus services to the majority of the district's students.

Educational enrichment courses for Archuleta County home-school, private school and public school kids

By Jane Parker

Archuleta School District's Pagosa Family School (PFS) offers a dynamic educational environment connecting homeschool, private school and public school students as they learn together in enrichment courses.

PFS responds to the educational and social needs of the students, and the courses reflect the needs of the community.

PFS is able to offer tuition-free, high-quality classes taught by experienced teachers.

Courses have included art, choir, general music, drumline, Spanish, physical education, exploratory science, aquatics, sewing, digital animation, outdoor education and drama.

PFS has also incorporated a focus on service-learning projects to connect the youth to their community and the larger world around them. Service projects have encouraged students to think outside of themselves and to ask how they can help others. The two service-learning projects that PFS students have participated in thus far are the Bee Habitats and Little Dresses for Africa.

The Bee Habitat service project included building the habitats, filling them with mason and leafcutter bees and then gifting them to the community and placing them along the Riverwalk to support the plants and flowers along the route.

For another project, students studied African culture integrated in their classes, heard a presentation on humanitarian relief work and sewed dresses for the nonprofit Little Dresses for Africa.

Pagosa Family School students are doing their part to give back to the environment and to others as they offer small gestures with a big impact.

Beyond providing educational opportunities and service projects for students in the school district, PFS has also helped promote a positive growing relationship between the various educational communities in Pagosa and has been successful as a result of that positive collaboration.

Each spring, the program surveys families to determine future course offerings for electives.

PFS is able to offer many electives that may not be offered in the mainstream classroom or homeschooling program, thus adding extra opportunities for all students in Archuleta County.

Continuing Education

Pueblo Community College Southwest

Pagosa Springs residents have the opportunity to learn technical skills, take general education classes and earn an associate degree or certificate through Pueblo Community College Southwest.

PCC, based in Pueblo, Colo., has been offering high quality, affordable community outreach education and training programs in southwestern Colorado for more than 30 years.

PCC Southwest, a comprehensive two-year college, has three locations. The Southwest campus is in Mancos/Cortez; the Durango site is on the campus of Durango High School; and the Bayfield site is at 110 East South St.

Program and course offerings among the three locations include health care, agribusiness, general education, welding, automotive service technology and college transfer classes. Many courses are available in person or online to accommodate students' needs and preferences.

PCC Southwest operates its locations with the aid of a regional advisory board with representatives from local counties, including Archuleta, Dolores, La Plata and Montezuma. This diverse regional representation helps PCC focus on the needs of its local communities, such as workforce demands and education interests.

For more information, visit pueblocc.edu/Southwest.

Fort Lewis College and Adams State University

Pagosa Springs is situated between the sites of two higher learning establishments: Fort Lewis College in Durango and Adams State University in Alamosa.

Fort Lewis College

Serving the Four Corners for over 100 years, Fort Lewis College (FLC) is Colorado's crossroads of education and adventure, where a uniquely beautiful mountain campus inspires an active and friendly community, and transformative learning experiences foster entrepreneurship, leadership, creativity and life-long learning.

Smaller classes (15:1 ratio of students to faculty with 98 percent of classes smaller than 50 students) is a hallmark for FLC.

There is a diversity of studies offered, with specially accredited programs in business, chemistry, engineering-physics and music. With over 50 student organizations, including NCAA Division II sports (in the Rocky Mountain Athletic Conference), Fort Lewis College prides itself in not only community activities, but national and international activities through their Study Abroad and Village Aid Project programs. Fort Lewis College also offers internships, service learning and rigorous undergraduate research opportunities.

Durango marries the educational requirements with the accessibility of the natural playground in which it is located.

Located 60 miles west of Pagosa Springs in Durango, travel to FLC from Pagosa Springs is just an hour.

Curiosity is our compass at Fort Lewis College. Learn more at www.fortlewis.edu.

Adams State University

Adams State University (ASU) is located in Alamosa, approximately 90 miles east of Pagosa Springs.

ASU is a comprehensive institution offering bachelor degrees in over 60 areas of study, in addition to 11 master's-level programs and one doctoral program.

ASU is distinguished by caring professors and a diverse, yet close-knit community. The average class size is 18.

ASU was Colorado's first four-year higher education institution to be federally designated a Hispanic Serving Institution, with 35 percent of undergraduate students identifying as Hispanic.

With about one-third of the student body participating in athletics, the Adams State Grizzlies compete in the NCAA Division II and the Rocky Mountain Athletic Conference. Adams State has over 40 student clubs and organizations.

An intimate campus with tree-lined walkways, state-of-the-art classrooms and laboratories, supportive programs and a vibrant student life await ASU students.

Early Childhood Education

Seeds of Learning

Seeds of Learning, a NAEYC-accredited early care and education center nonprofit 501(c)(3) organization in Archuleta County, is a quality early childhood education facility serving preschool children ages 2.5 to 5 years old. The center encompasses early education, child care, parenting classes and staff in-services.

The center piloted and provides the Incredible Years Program, which brings children, their parents and their teachers together in a proven prevention strategy that has been shown to reduce child behavior problems, promote positive discipline and improve school performance.

They are also contracted by the Archuleta School District to implement the Colorado Preschool Program, which serves children in need of language development and helps reduce the risk of school failure by providing support through early childhood education.

Seeds of Learning provides a hot lunch every day, along with breakfast and afternoon snack. Tuition is offered on a sliding scale.

Seeds of Learning is open Monday through Friday, 7:30 a.m. to 5:30 p.m. and is open year round. The center is located close to the downtown area and provides an educational, nurturing environment for children and parents.

More information can be obtained by visiting the website at www.growingseeds.org.

Tri-County Head Start

Tri-County Head Start has provided quality early childhood education programs at nine locations throughout Southwestern Colorado for over 40 years. Participation in the Pagosa Springs Head Start program is at no cost to eligible families. Free or low-cost extended day services are also available.

Each year, 48 enrolled children from ages 3-5 in Archuleta County benefit from daily activities helping them grow mentally, emotionally, physically and socially. Head Start program services also include health screenings and assessments, disability services and family involvement.

Visit the Head Start website at www.tchs4c.org for more information or to apply.

Wings Early Childhood Center

Wings Early Childhood Center in Archuleta County is open year-round Monday-Friday from 7:30-5:30. Wings is a nature-based facility serving ages 1-5 with three classrooms; the wobbler room (1-2 years), the toddler room (2-3 years), and the preschool room (3-5 years).

The center's mission is to deliver high-quality, affordable early care and education to children ages 1-5 in Archuleta County regardless of family income or structure to inspire the importance of learning as they get older.

Tuition is offered on a sliding scale and information regarding tuition assistance programs such as the Colorado Child Care Assistance Program (CCCAP) and Colorado Preschool Program (CPP) will be provided.

The facility is centrally located at 74 Backswing Ct.

Visit its website: wingsearlychildhood.org or Facebook page: www.facebook.com/wings.early.childhood.

Private Schools and Day Care

There are private organizations that offer early childhood learning and day care services. A list of providers is available by contacting Archuleta County Human Services at (970) 264-2182 or Seeds of Learning.

Pagosa Springs Medical Center: Growing to meet community needs

The Upper San Juan Health Service District, which now operates as Pagosa Springs Medical Center (PSMC), formed in 1981 for the purpose of providing health care facilities and services for area residents and visitors, with the district covering approximately 1,800 square miles.

As the community and need for a hospital grew, voters approved a mill levy in 2001 and a bond was approved in 2006 to build a hospital connected to the existing Dr. Mary Fisher clinic (named after one of the community's storied doctors). The community also stepped up to help sustain the new hospital, with the nonprofit Dr. Mary Fisher Medical Foundation raising more than $1 million to help sustain it through its startup phase. The hospital opened in 2008.

Then, between 2014 and 2017, PSMC planned, financed, and constructed and opened a 22,780-square-foot clinic building.

In 2018, PSMC renovated the old clinic space to open the Center for Cancer and Blood Disorders, which has helped people keep their care close to home instead of facing drives to Durango, Farmington, Denver or elsewhere for treatment.

In 2020, PSMC replaced its HVAC system — a behind-the-scenes move to expand surgery, pharmacy and oncology services. In 2021, PSMC installed a new, state-of-the-art MRI machine.

In between those major milestones, PSMC added other service lines to meet the needs of the community: orthopedic and behavioral health services in 2014, inpatient physical therapy in 2015, and cardiology and ophthalmology services in 2017. Ear, nose and throat services were added in 2018, on-site radiology in 2019 and interventional pain management in 2021. PSMC also earned a Trauma Level IV certification in 2014, which allows the facility to keep more patients closer to home while receiving the help they need.

Now, PSMC includes a critical access hospital, general and orthopedic surgery, 24/7 emergency department, general cardiology, gastroenterology, a cancer care center, first-responder emergency medical service and a primary care center with walk-in availability six days a week.

The medical center also offers lab, pharmacy, radiology, mammography and telemedicine technology, among other things, and continues to look at how to best meet the needs of those in the area moving into the future.

Keeping cancer care close to home: Center for Cancer and Blood Disorders

By Pagosa Springs Medical Center staff

A diagnosis of cancer can be one of the most difficult things to hear. Fortunately, many patients fully recover if their cancer is detected and treated early. Obtaining care can be especially challenging in smaller communities which often lack access to basic health care services, let alone specialty cancer care. However, Pagosa Springs isn't your average small town.

Since it opened four years ago, Pagosa Springs Medical Center's Center for Cancer and Blood Disorders has been an invaluable asset for everyone in the greater Pagosa Springs area. Cancer care available close to home has made a tremendous difference in people's lives. No longer do patients have to travel to Albuquerque, Durango, Denver or farther for cancer treatment.

PSMC's dedicated team of experienced, board certified physicians and provider cancer specialists work together to develop treatment plans using the latest technologies and treatments to guide patients through their unique challenges, including Andrew Buck, DO, oncologist and hematologist; Bill Jordan, DO, oncologist; Jessica Cox, DO, radiologist; Roy Tinguely, MD, general surgeon; Kelly Cesary, advanced oncology certified nurse practitioner; Lauren Muir, physical therapist and certified lymphedema therapist; and Christina Reeves, Director of Pharmacy and administrative director for the center. The integrated cancer center team also includes an oncology nurse navigator, chemotherapy/biotherapy certified infusion nurses, and a social worker.

When patients require a higher level of care, such as radiation, PSMC's cancer center team closely coordinates care with outside specialists and cancer centers to meet each patient's individual needs.

In addition to offering diagnostics to detect cancers early and individualized treatment plans with or without chemotherapy, non-cancer infusions are also available including hormonal therapy, immunotherapy, intravenous antibiotic therapy, osteoporosis therapy, and specialized infusion therapies for blood and autoimmune disorders.

There is no single way to beat cancer; there are many. The integrated care team at PSMC's Center for Cancer and Blood Disorders is here to help every step of the way.

Alternative Treatments Plentiful in Pagosa

Throughout the centuries, people of all cultures have come to regard the hot mineral waters in Pagosa Springs as having healing properties.

Whether they were used to soothe sore muscles, to deal with breathing issues or just for simple relaxation, the hot mineral baths have played a key part in the development of Pagosa Springs.

Pagosa is also home to the famous Dr. Mary Fisher — our own “Dr. Quinn Medicine Woman” — who, back in the late 1800s, graduated medical school as a doctor of homeopathy and surgery. She brought her healing skills, tenacity and tenderness to Pagosa Springs at the turn of the century, becoming a legend.

Perhaps because of the healing waters, the thought that Pagosa is founded on a vortex, or just because of the natural assets of the flowing rivers, cascading waterfalls or glorious mountains, those providing many forms of healing have been drawn to our community.

Pagosa abounds in talented therapists qualified in a variety of massage techniques. Traditional massage, cranio-sacral, Swedish, deep tissue, sports, neuromuscular, axial tonal alignment, kinesiology, energy work and reflexology are but some of the modalities practiced by trained therapists. Therapists work out of several spas in the community, stand-alone businesses, out of their homes and, with their massage tables, will travel to your home. Massage therapy is definitely one of the industries that is prevalent in Pagosa — good for the therapist and for those who need and want this body work.

A comprehensive aquatic wellness program with therapeutic water exercises is offered for adults with chronic health conditions or healthy individuals who just wish to improve their fitness level.

Traditional medical practitioners in the area focus on and offer preventative and wellness programs to help individuals achieve a healthy, active lifestyle.

Pagosa also has its share of qualified chiropractors. There are a variety of chiropractic treatments available, serving a wide range of needs. With the active lifestyles in our community, sports medicine treatments, using traditional adjustment methods and non-force techniques are also widely available. Whether a resident of Pagosa or someone interested in opening a practice, there is certainly room to explore this industry.

If you are looking to improve your life through conscious and inner awareness, Pagosa is home to a number of well-trained therapists, including hypnotherapy practitioners. Several practitioners who had very successful businesses in the “big city” have chosen to move to a smaller community, and have made Pagosa their home, now sharing their expertise with the community by setting up shop here in the mountains. Some therapists still travel, but make Pagosa their home base. Whether experiencing a life change, a choice of a place to raise your family, downsizing or even semi to full retirement, Pagosa welcomes alternative and experiential therapists.

With the resurgence in natural or holistic products in recent years, Pagosa Springs is also home to a variety of businesses producing natural-based products. Some of the businesses operate from storefronts, offering spices, tinctures, oils, teas, soaps and many other selections. Other businesses are home-based and Internet-driven. Body and facial care products, soaps and cleaning products are produced locally, but marketed globally. As the market for holistic and natural products increases, talented practitioners are finding our community conducive to producing and marketing these products right here in Pagosa Springs. Pagosa, with one of its eyes on the holistic, is a perfect place for businesses of this nature to set down roots and grow.

Our community is a wellspring of traditional and alternative solutions to health care. With lodging and conference facilities, mineral hot springs in town and the great outdoors as our backyard, Pagosa Springs is an attractive site for wellness seminars educating the outside world to the benefits of alternative methods of treatments and holistic products. There is still room for the “alternative” community to come together and better promote our area to the outside world.

Pagosa exemplifies a healthy way of life through its active lifestyle and open-mindedness to alternative contributions to health care.

Ruby M. Sisson Memorial Library Expansion enters public campaign phase

By Dorothy Elder

Looking to expand the programming, available space and resources for Pagosa Springs' Ruby M. Sisson Memorial Library, the Ruby M. Sisson Memorial Library Foundation has entered the public phase of its expansion and renovations campaign and is calling on community members to support and donate to its efforts.

The planned construction would expand the library by 50 percent, taking it from its current 7,300 square feet to 11,000 square feet, Cindi Galabota, executive director of the foundation, said.

The process for the proposed expansion started shortly after the foundation's 2018 founding, when, in 2019, the foundation held a financial feasibility study, she explained. They hired a consultant who interviewed more than 60 people to figure out the community's interest and potential in funding the expansion.

That was followed by a design feasibility study, which focused more on what the community would want to see featured and added in the expansion, she stated. From that, the foundation was able to create a big-picture, rough design for the library's renovation.

Both of the studies resulted in the campaign's goal of raising $4 million, she explained. Of that, $3 million would go directly to the construction and service needs of the library, and $1 million would be set aside for an endowment for upkeep of the new programs and features.

Among some of the new rooms that the expansion will include is a children's discovery room that will feature an updated children's book collection, a designated spot for the library's storytime program and a bathroom designed for children and families, Galabota said.

Connected to the children's room will be an outdoor children's exploration garden, designed for children's programming. The access to the garden will be through the library only, making it a safe place for children, she stated.

Separately, the library will also add a reading garden meant for library programs and outdoor reading space for community members. It will connect to both the library and the planned Town-to-Lakes trail and will include artwork, such as sculptures, she explained.

Additionally, a new community and multipurpose room will be built that will hold up to 150 people. The room will be able to be broken up into smaller rooms if necessary, and will hold a small catering kitchen, Galabota described.

Galabota explained that, currently, the library's community room isn't very big and is within the library, making it so that the time and space is limited for the community to take advantage of the room.

This new room will be disconnected from the main library, therefore making it usable to the public outside of library hours, she stated.

The expansion will also feature two smaller rooms, she explained. The first is a “collab lab” meant for open, free-use space, such as skill-building classes, art and 3-D printers. The second is a teen room, meant for teenager use and new programming that’s designed for the age group.

“Teens often feel like they’re a little bit lost in libraries,” she said. “They maybe don’t know where they fit within a library, and so this will give them a space that’s their own.”

The last element of the expansion is to add a couple of study spots, meant to hold one or two people in them. These will be ideal for community members in need of a quiet place for things like business meetings, Zoom classes and studying, she explained.

“The pandemic has really highlighted the need for that space within our community,” Galabota said.

All of the new space will allow the library to add new programs and increase capacity for its more popular current programs, such as the Pagosa Adult Learning Services program, which offers tutoring for community members for things like obtaining GED diplomas, commercial driver’s licenses and assists with college preparation, an English as a Second Language program and the lifelong learning lecture series, Galabota mentioned.

“The library does so much more than just provide books,” she said.

Currently, the campaign has raised over $1.15 million from pledges and actual gifts, she stated. A community member who wants to offer a pledge can pledge up to five years.

The current goal is to raise the rest of the needed money by the end of 2023 and to start construction in 2024.

Much of the campaign so far has been in its “silent” phase, meaning the efforts have been on securing larger gifts that go toward things like naming opportunities, she explained.

As the campaign progresses into its public phase, more fundraising events will start to happen. One such event was the April 9 kickoff event for the public campaign. The event, called The Library Affair, featured 17 creatively decorated, book-themed tables by table decorators in the Pagosa Springs area.

Volunteer opportunities

In addition to the wondrous beauty, plentiful wildlife and an active outdoor lifestyle that you will enjoy in Pagosa Springs, there are tremendous opportunities for enriching your life by volunteering in the community. No matter what your level of involvement has been in the past, you will find wonderful ways to share your interests, talents and abilities.

Pagosa Springs has traditional civic clubs, churches and organizations that you will find in almost every community. There are two Rotary clubs that are very active. The churches and nonprofit community have a wide variety of projects and activities year-round. Loaves and Fishes provides a free hot meal every Thursday with different organizations adopting a week of service. Habitat for Humanity builds and renovates homes using both local and national volunteers.

There are also multiple organizations supporting Pagosa's youth. Big Brothers Big Sisters provides mentors for boys and girls who need an active role model. 4-H, Girl Scouts and Scouts BSA help keep our youth involved in positive activities, including the Archuleta County Fair.

For our veterans or active military, there are Veterans For Veterans and the American Legion Post 108.

The Democratic Central Committee and the Republican Women meet regularly and are involved in community affairs.

We also have many volunteer opportunities unique to our area.

If you like outdoor activities, you can volunteer with clubs like the San Juan Outdoor Club, the Pagosa Nordic Club, the Gray Wolves Ski Club or the Back Country Horsemen. If you have a love of history, you can be a guide with the Chimney Rock Interpretive Association for Chimney Rock National Monument or volunteer with the Pagosa Springs History Museum (San Juan Historical Society). If you love animals, you can be a volunteer at the Humane Society Shelter or Thrift Store, LASSO horse rescue or other organizations.

In addition to paid professional staff, the Pagosa Fire Protection District relies heavily on volunteer firefighters. The San Juan Mounted Patrol assists with numerous community events and emergencies.

To help people who need assistance in our backcountry or with emergencies, we have the Upper San Juan Search and Rescue, the Mounted Search and the Incident Management Group.

If the arts are your passion, we have Pagosa Springs Arts Council, Friends of the Library, Curtains Up Pagosa, the Thingamajig Theatre Company, Pagosa Community Choir and the Pagosa Springs Community Band. There is a garden club, a quilting club, two Rotary clubs and more. The Audubon Society has an active presence.

You can find out more about organizations that interest you at PagosaSUN.com.

Volunteering can enrich your life, allow you to share your talents and pursue your passions!

The Parks of Pagosa

The parks of Pagosa Springs run the gamut from the wild and natural pine forest on Reservoir Hill to the well-manicured fields of Yamaguchi Park. What follows is a list of each park and a description of what it has to offer.

Reservoir Hill — The most prominent physical feature of the downtown area, Reservoir Hill towers over the south bank of the San Juan River and is distinguished by the large green water tank visible from U.S. 160.

The park is accessible from three trailheads — located across the highway from the River Center, behind the Healing Waters Spa and next to the U.S. Post Office — and offers miles of hiking and biking trails ranging from gentle and peaceful to steep and technical.

A large meadow right next to the water tank is the home to the Four Corners Folk Festival over Labor Day weekend. A large, wooden gazebo in the festival meadow is available to rent for special occasions such as weddings or reunions.

Located one-fourth of a mile east of the gazebo is an overlook that allows one to overlook the town and see stunning views.

Reservoir Hill is also home to one of the best disc golf courses in the region, featuring 18 baskets, 18 regular tee boxes and 18 alternative tee boxes for those experts looking for a bit more challenging game.

There are restrooms available on the hill.

Centennial Park — Centennial Park stretches along the river behind the Archuleta County Courthouse, and includes several tables for enjoying a nice family picnic while watching the activities in the river and the hot springs beyond. A pedestrian bridge provides a continuous connection for the Riverwalk that winds through the wetlands behind Town Hall and the Ross Aragon Community Center. A pedestrian bridge at the other end of the park connects to The Springs Resort and Spa.

Town Park — On the southeast corner of the U.S. 160/Hot Springs Boulevard intersection, Town Park connects to Centennial Park via the Riverwalk and contains a wind harp, bathrooms, a drinking fountain, picnic tables, barbecue grills, a Pirate ship-themed playground, climbing boulders, two special-event 200-amp electrical services and a white-water feature in the adjacent river.

The park and the athletic field across Hermosa Street host several events throughout the year, including the Fourth of July Park 2 Park Arts and Crafts Fair, ColorFest and the Mountain Chile Cha Cha.

Yamaguchi Park — Located on South 5th Street between Pagosa Springs High School and the river, Yamaguchi Park is home to a favorite hangout for local kids — the Pagosa Skate Park. The Skaters Coalition for Concrete, a local grassroots organization formed over a decade ago, raised funds and added a full-sized bowl to the 4,500-square-foot concrete terrain at the park.

The park was designed to appeal to skaters of all ability levels and includes several plaza elements and a bowl feature.

The park is open from dawn to dusk throughout the year, provided the skating surface is free of ice and snow in the winter months.

Another amenity of Yamaguchi Park is the kayak/raft launching facility and two whitewater features, complemented by the paved Riverwalk to facilitate viewing activities on the river.

A pump track was installed in 2017 south of the skate park for bicycle use and in 2018, an outdoor basketball court was installed.

A heated year-round restroom, drinking fountain, picnic tables, barbecue grills and picnic shelter allow for family gatherings, while a state-of-the-art playground, climbing boulder, and beautiful soccer and softball fields give plenty of room for the kids to play. A special-events and performance venue with electrical service is also available.

Mary Fisher Park — Along the south bank of the San Juan River directly across from Town Park, and connected to it by another pedestrian bridge, Mary Fisher Park contains several picnic tables, as well as a changing screen for kayakers and inner tubers to use before hitting another one of the new white-water river features.

River Center Park — Nestled behind the River Center shops on the east end of town (from U.S. 160 go behind the River Center buildings), the River Center Park contains two small fishing ponds with a handicap-accessible pier and access to the river for launching rafts and kayaks. The park also offers a playground climbing structure for kids.

South Pagosa Park — A true neighborhood park located on the south side of town on Apache Street between 7th and 8th streets, South Pagosa Park has bathrooms, a drinking fountain, picnic tables, barbecue grills, a picnic shelter, horseshoe pits, a playground and four pickleball courts. An ice rink is available during the winter months. The park is well used by local families.

Cotton Hole Park — Located east of Town park at the end of Hermosa St., a new concrete trail was completed through the park in 2021.

This park invites a relaxing environment and the San Juan River is accessible from this park for tubing and kayaking. This park will continue to have a natural setting and will not be over developed.

Pagosa Springs: The Best of Both Worlds

Are you worried that relocating to Pagosa Springs and the surrounding community in the heart of the beautiful San Juan Mountains might leave you without the basics and the luxuries you've come to rely on?

Let those worries fade away: Pagosa Country offers the best of both worlds — a wonderful, small-town environment and shopping and dining opportunities that will satisfy your needs and cravings.

There's not much you'll want or need that you can't get in Pagosa.

A wide variety of businesses, from small to large, serve up goods from hardware to luxury lighting, from clothing (everyday and fancy) to sporting equipment, from gear for the horse owner to motorized off-road vehicles.

Looking for furniture, either utilitarian or high-end? You can find it in Pagosa. Appliances? Electronic goods? You'll find them here.

What about dining? There's plenty in Pagosa to satisfy even the most discriminating palate. Pagosa has about as many eating establishments per capita as any town you can think of, with the options spanning the spectrum in terms of styles of cuisine and price.

Want a down-home breakfast? No problem. Looking for a muffin or croissant, specialty coffees and espresso drinks? We have those.

When dinner calls, you need only to determine what kind of cuisine you're in the mood to sample: continental, American, French, Thai, Chinese, Italian, barbecue, steaks and chops, Mexican, seafood, breweries with classic pub fare, burgers and fries, a menu with plenty of options for the kids. You name it, you've got it. In all price ranges.

A night out, with a meal at a favorite restaurant, is one of Pagosa's great pleasures. Take advantage of it whenever you can.

In need of some entertainment? Fear not, you can find it in Pagosa. Local bars and pubs regularly feature music and, on any given night, one can choose from jazz, rock, blues and others. Art galleries provide art lovers with opportunities to indulge their passion. Or, how about a rodeo? A play? We have those, too, and other organizations hold events year-round that can keep anyone busy and having fun.

Pagosa is small, yes. But Pagosa packs a lot onto its small frame. That's part of the joy of living and working here — you are in the heart of an environment that appeals to even the most discerning outdoor enthusiast, but you have the dining, shopping and cultural amenities you need to indulge your whims. It's a great place to be!

Local Groups Share the Outdoors

Pagosa Springs and the outdoors go hand-in-hand; in fact, being able to enjoy the outdoors year-round is one of the benefits of living in this mountain paradise. There are a number of groups that are passionate about their sport and are willing to share their enthusiasm.

The San Juan Outdoor Club is devoted to providing outdoor activities such as backpacking, hiking, canoeing, cross-country skiing, fishing, cycling, etc. The club also performs community services. The club's primary goal is to get outdoors and have fun together. The organization is open to families and individuals. For more information on member application and fees, visit their website at sanjuanoutdoorclub.org.

The Gray Wolves Ski Club is more than just a senior ski club; it's a group of skiers and outdoor enthusiasts who are interested in socializing, downhill skiing, cross-country skiing, hiking, golf, etc. The club started in 1984 to promote skiing, other outdoor sports and fellowship through organized activities for people 50 years of age or older.

Regular ski days are held during the winter months to promote fellowship, with discounts for members. The Gray Wolves hold various functions throughout the year, such as potlucks and gatherings. For more information, visit their website at graywolfskiclub.com.

The Pagosa Nordic Club strives to enhance winter recreational opportunities by maintaining and grooming winter trails for cross-country and skate skiing and snowshoeing enjoyment for all ability levels.

Throughout the winter months, the club holds free moonrise/sunset ski socials at various groomed trails. You can find out more about this group at pagosanordic.com.

The Wolf Creek Trailblazers Snowmobile Club grooms forest service trails for use by snowmobilers, cross-country skiers and snowshoers. The purpose of the club is to have a great time riding snowmobiles while operating an active trail-grooming effort.

The Pagosa Trail Riders is an ATV club with members who love to ride the trails and roads of southwest Colorado. Along with promoting education of responsible ATV/OHV use, they work with the forest service, BLM and other user groups to maintain trails for everyone's outdoor pleasure. Visit their website at pagosatrailriders.com.

The Pagosa Area Trails Council is an all-volunteer organization dedicated to planning, building and maintaining trails and trail-related facilities around Pagosa Springs. They also work with the Southwest Youth Corps and other organizations to accomplish their tasks of trail maintenance and improvement of trail use and accessibility.

The Weminuche Audubon Society's programs provide opportunities for visitors and residents to explore our local environment through bird walks, nature and science presentations, and collaborations with other outdoor and nature-based organizations. They have ongoing monitoring projects, monthly meetings and field trips. Visit their website at weminucheaudubon.org.

Senior Living in Pagosa

“To support seniors in living healthy, vibrant and independent lives” is the purpose of the Pagosa Springs Senior Center.

The Senior Center has an array of activities and services for the young at heart, along with supportive services for those in need of more assistance. The center schedules various outings and games for fellowship and fun.

The center offers delicious lunches, including a fabulous salad bar, Monday through Friday. Weekly menus are printed in The Pagosa Springs SUN newspaper. Seniors interested in dining at the center can make reservations by calling (970) 264-2167. Home-delivered meals are available to qualifying home-bound individuals.

Flu shot clinics are offered in the fall as well as free screenings through the San Juan Basin Public Health Department twice a month, free blood pressure checks weekly, and a wellness clinic once a month.

The center also collaborates with Mountain Express to provide bus transportation for attending lunches, going to the post office, pharmacy, grocery store and other necessary errands. Arranging transportation can be completed by contacting Mountain Express at (970) 264-2250.

Additionally, the San Juan Basin Area Agency on Aging offers a wide range of supportive informational and referral services. Services include Medicare counseling, legal assistance and Alzheimer’s support programs, to name a few. Their telephone number is (970) 264-0502.

For more information about the Pagosa Springs Senior Center and the San Juan Basin Area Agency on Aging, visit their offices, located in the Ross Aragon Community Center at 451 Hot Springs Blvd. Call (970) 264-2167, or go online to www.psseniors.org. Staying active and engaged in Pagosa Springs is easy.

Relocating your animals

Moving to a new town with your pets can be an exciting adventure with many new discoveries. It can also be a bit stressful for you and your pets leaving behind the familiar. For peace of mind, plan ahead for your pet's safety during the move. There are many Internet sources of good information on how to safely move your pets, as well as great tips on how to help your dogs or cats acclimate to their new home.

Before you move, make sure that your pets are healthy and up to date on their vaccinations. If you are moving from out of state with dogs or cats, Colorado requires that you have a Certificate of Veterinarian Inspection (CVI) that is no more than 30 days old. If your cat or dog is three months or older, they must also have had a rabies vaccination within the preceding 12 months. For livestock and other animal requirements, visit the Colorado Department of Agriculture website (colorado.gov/ag).

Part of moving involves gathering all your important personal documents. Make sure you do the same for your pets. Have all of their health and vaccination records on hand so that when you choose a local veterinarian you can provide your new vet with your pets' medical histories.

Losing a pet can be nerve-wracking. The Humane Society of Pagosa Springs (HSPS) operates the only animal shelter in the area, located at 465 Cloman Blvd. The shelter is open seven days a week. A call to the animal shelter at (970) 731-4771 should be one of your first steps in finding a lost pet. HSPS is also an administrator for the Lost/Found Pets Pagosa Springs Colorado Area Facebook page. This Facebook page is visited regularly by a lot of community members and has helped reunite many lost pets with the owners over the past several years.

The HSPS website (humanesociety.biz) hosts detailed information on what to do if you and your pet become separated. Check the website's "Lost and Found" page for a list of useful suggestions. The website also has information on adoptions, low-cost spay/neuter voucher programs and other community services.

To aid in finding a lost pet, make sure that your pet always wears a secure collar with a sturdy identification tag attached. The ID tag should contain your name and contact information, including information on rabies vaccination. If you are moving, make sure the tag has your current cell phone number. Secondly, have a microchip inserted in your pet. This aids identification if your pet's collar is lost or removed. The HSPS animal shelter scans every incoming pet for a microchip. Make sure you have registered your pet's chip with the manufacturer, and update your microchip contact information with your new address and relevant phone numbers right before you move. If your pet does not have a microchip or a collar ID tag, the HSPS shelter can provide both at a reasonable cost.

Pagosa Springs and Archuleta County do not require licensing for dogs or cats at this time. You are, however, required to have a current rabies vaccination for your pets. While the Town of Pagosa Springs does have a leash law, Archuleta County does not. You are required to have your dog under control at all times, whether by leash or verbal command. If you want to exercise and play with your dog in a safe, controlled environment, there is a fenced community-accessible dog park at the HSPS animal shelter.

If you are purchasing property in Pagosa Country, make sure you check for additional pet regulations or restrictions in the covenants of your property owners association. Keep in mind, too, that regardless of where you live, some homeowner insurance policies have certain dog breed exclusions, so check your insurance policy for pet restrictions.

Pets are important members of our community, and Pagosa Springs is one of the most animal-friendly places that you will find in all of Colorado.

Living with wildlife

If you have a camera and are inclined to trek through the extensive wilderness that composes the greater portion of Pagosa Country, be prepared for the chance to snap the shot of a lifetime.

In a region that ranges from 6,000 to 13,000 feet in elevation, the 1.8-million-acre San Juan National Forest not only hosts a complex diversity of climate zones, ecological niches and microenvironments, but also is home to a vast array of wildlife that call these diverse habitats home. As the country climbs in elevation from the south and east to the mountains north and west, that diversity becomes apparent as high-desert plateau gently transitions into alpine forest, then dramatically ascends beyond the tree line to alpine tundra. While many species of wildlife prefer to inhabit a specific ecological zone, others travel throughout Pagosa Country, seeking resources and habitat wherever they can find them.

Coyotes, foxes, cougars and black bears may roam the region at almost any elevation and are a common sight (and sometimes a nuisance) for residents. A special, but not uncommon, sight is the symbol of our country — the bald eagle — soaring majestically above meadows, lakes or rivers at all elevations. Snapping a photo of one of these birds perched atop a ponderosa pine is a rare treat.

In the lower reaches, short-horned lizards, eastern fence lizards, western rattlesnakes and ringtail cats share sandy sage flats, arid rocky slopes, deep canyons and sandstone mesas with jackrabbits, prairie dogs, elk and mule deer. Piñon jays, turkey vultures, red-tailed hawks and golden eagles commonly grace the sun-drenched skies above the high-desert plateau.

In the high country, observers may see bighorn sheep, snowshoe hares, ptarmigan or a rare Canada lynx. Although normally a denizen of high-country meadows, willow flats, forests and lakes north of Pagosa Springs, it is not unusual for the Shiras moose to be seen at most elevations. The largest member of the deer family, these solitary individuals occasionally wander the streets and outskirts of town.

While the encroachment of civilization on some of the region's wilderness has decreased the numbers of several species in the area, many other species are thriving and even increasing in numbers, including foxes and coyotes, mule deer, bears, magpies, crows and ravens, golden and bald eagles, wild turkeys and vultures. While mountain lions are normally solitary and secretive, reported sightings have become frequent, particularly between the hours of 10 p.m. and 4 a.m. Residents are cautioned not to feed local wildlife, especially as prey species can attract lions into residential areas. Food should never be left out to attract bears.

In the spring and early summer, infrequent hikers and wildlife watchers will invariably stumble upon a newborn fawn or elk calf. Baby birds, rabbits, foxes and squirrels may appear quite approachable, yet mother is almost certainly nearby. As long as a potential predator lurks about, she'll not return to feed or coddle her young. Therefore, it is always best to back away and leave little ones as they're found. Survival in the wild is challenging enough without avoidable human interference.

In a bountiful area as rich and diverse as Pagosa Country, vigilant observers will enjoy an array of wildlife matched by few places on earth. The adventurous outdoors person traveling the canyons, mesas and forests early or late, moving in silence and employing a pair of good field glasses, is almost guaranteed to be rewarded with the sight of wildlife in their natural habitat — and the experience of a lifetime.

Please note that wildlife should not be harassed, captured, domesticated or fed. Intentional or inadvertent feeding is the major cause of most wildlife problems. Under Colorado law, intentionally feeding big game animals is illegal. The prohibition applies to deer, elk, pronghorn, mountain goats, bighorn sheep, mountain lions and bears.

For more information about the best hiking trails for wildlife watching in the San Juan National Forest and surrounding wilderness areas, visit the U.S. Forest Service website at www.fs.usda.gov/sanjuan/ or stop by the Pagosa Ranger Station at 180 Pagosa St.

For information about Colorado's wildlife and hunting and fishing licenses, go to Colorado Parks and Wildlife's website at cpw.state.co.us.

Home to Outdoor Enthusiasts

Pagosa Springs has the privilege of enjoying four distinct seasons, each one playing host to myriad activities. Participating in outdoor activities is like being a kid in a candy store, with appealing options no matter the season. Groups like the San Juan Outdoor Club and Gray Wolves offer activities all year long in a group setting. Face a challenging hike up Pagosa Peak or head out on a hut-to-hut excursion with like-minded enthusiasts and capitalize on the over 3 million acres of national forest and wilderness areas surrounding Pagosa.

When the days begin to warm up, resident activities exemplify the phrase “spring fever.” Walking around town or taking a quick trip up Reservoir Hill on your lunch hour gets everyone in the mood for summer. As the snow begins to melt and the river rises, kayak and rafting enthusiasts hit the river. The San Juan River boasts several developed water features downtown. There is also improved fishing access and ongoing habitat improvements along the river through town. Fish are plentiful in Pagosa waters, with species including catfish, bass, pike and a variety of trout. Hikes in the lower elevations, perhaps around the Piedra River Trail, are a great way to break in the season and relish the beauty of the first signs of spring. Usually by April cyclists abound, enjoying moderate rides together to get in shape for the season. Spring also brings out birding enthusiasts who tag and identify which species have returned to beautiful Pagosa Country.

Summer brings out the athlete in us all with warm days, cool nights and typically excellent weather conditions. Summer is perfect for just about every sport, especially hiking, mountain and road biking, and running. Summer also means motorcycle rides, offroading and camping in gorgeous locations. Pagosa Springs boasts a wonderful 27-hole golf course, two 18-hole disc golf courses located on Reservoir Hill and at Cloman Community Park and one nine-hole disc golf course in Aspen Springs. Boaters enjoy cruising on Navajo Lake, which spans the Colorado and New Mexico border. Horse enthusiasts head to the Western Heritage Event Center to compete in team roping and rodeo events.

Many of the activities of summer continue into the fall. Athletes get to enjoy the stunning hues of changing leaves as they add another layer of clothing in the evenings. The temperate weather mixed with the gorgeous colors is just another incentive to get out and enjoy the outdoors.

Winter is just as active as the other seasons. For the alpine skier, Wolf Creek Ski Area is just 24 miles away and is known for its radical powder days. The volunteer Nordic Club has developed and grooms an extensive system of trails for classic and skate skiing. Snowed-over hiking trails become excellent snowshoeing trails in the winter. If you feel the need for speed, the Wolf Creek Trailblazers snowmobile club is out and about enjoying the hundreds of miles in the backcountry. Consider ice skating or checking out the plethora of sledding hills in the area.

Pagosa has outdoor activities to enjoy all year long! It is no wonder that so many people choose to live in this stunning mountain town overflowing with natural wonders for individuals of all ages and abilities. Explore on your own or join up with one of the many organizations that will happily show you the ropes and introduce you to the wonders of Pagosa’s outdoors.

Getting here from there

Stevens Field Airport

Archuleta County's Stevens Field, located just 3 miles west of downtown Pagosa Springs, is one of the most scenic airports around.

In addition to beauty, the airport boasts a fully lit asphalt runway that is 100 feet wide and 8,100 feet long. That runway has aircraft weight capacities of 70,000 pounds for dual-wheel gear and 59,000 pounds for single-wheel gear. Flight safety at the high-altitude, general aviation airport is reinforced with a Precision Approach Path Indicator system.

The airport has seen a great deal of improvement over the years. In 2006, workers widened and resurfaced Runway 10/19 and built a new fixed-base operations building at midfield to provide fuel and services to local and visiting aircraft. In 2008, a new 3,000-foot parallel taxiway was constructed. In 2013, Archuleta County acquired additional snow removal equipment solely to be used at the airport. Alongside the other improvements, new hangars have appeared, an Automated Weather Observation System (AWOS) has been installed, and the airport identifier became KPSO.

In keeping with its commitment to Archuleta County and Stevens Field, the Federal Aviation Administration also completed and published a GPS instrument approach for pilot use during nighttime and low-visibility landings.

In 2015, nearly $6 million was spent to extend the parallel taxiway and complete other associated projects, further increasing the efficiency of aircraft movement and safety.

Those improvements have not only increased safety, but have also helped solidify the airport's status as an economic driver for the community. According to an Economic Impact Study completed by the airport's advisory committee, for every dollar Archuleta County invests in the airport, the county receives a return of $10.86.

The airport property also boasts a private, on-site maintenance shop in one of the hangars.

For more information on the airport, visit www.archuletacounty.org/45/Airport. For specific airport management questions or concerns, call the airport manager at (970) 731-3060.

The AWOS system is available on frequency 127.175, or by phone at (970) 731-0365.

And once you've landed, Pagosa Springs has car rental agencies and transportation companies to help you get around.

Fixed-Base Operator

For aviation services or to visit Avjet Corporation, the fixed-base operator, travel 3 miles west of town, then approximately 1 mile northwest on Piedra Road (CR 600). Turn right (northeast) on Cloman Boulevard and proceed to 61 Aviation Court.

The FBO offers a number of amenities, including restrooms, telephone, shower facilities, a flight planning room, pilot snooze room, Internet, vending machines, concierge and catering services, coffee, a lounge area, heated hangar and more. Avjet also provides fuel, Avgas and Jet-A rated fuel.

For more information about these and other airport services, call Avjet at (970) 731-2127.

La Plata County Airport

The Durango-La Plata County Airport offers daily service with American Airlines, United Airlines and Frontier. The airport offers a full range of services within the terminal to make your visit comfortable. The airport has short- and long-term parking, full rental car services and shuttle/taxis.

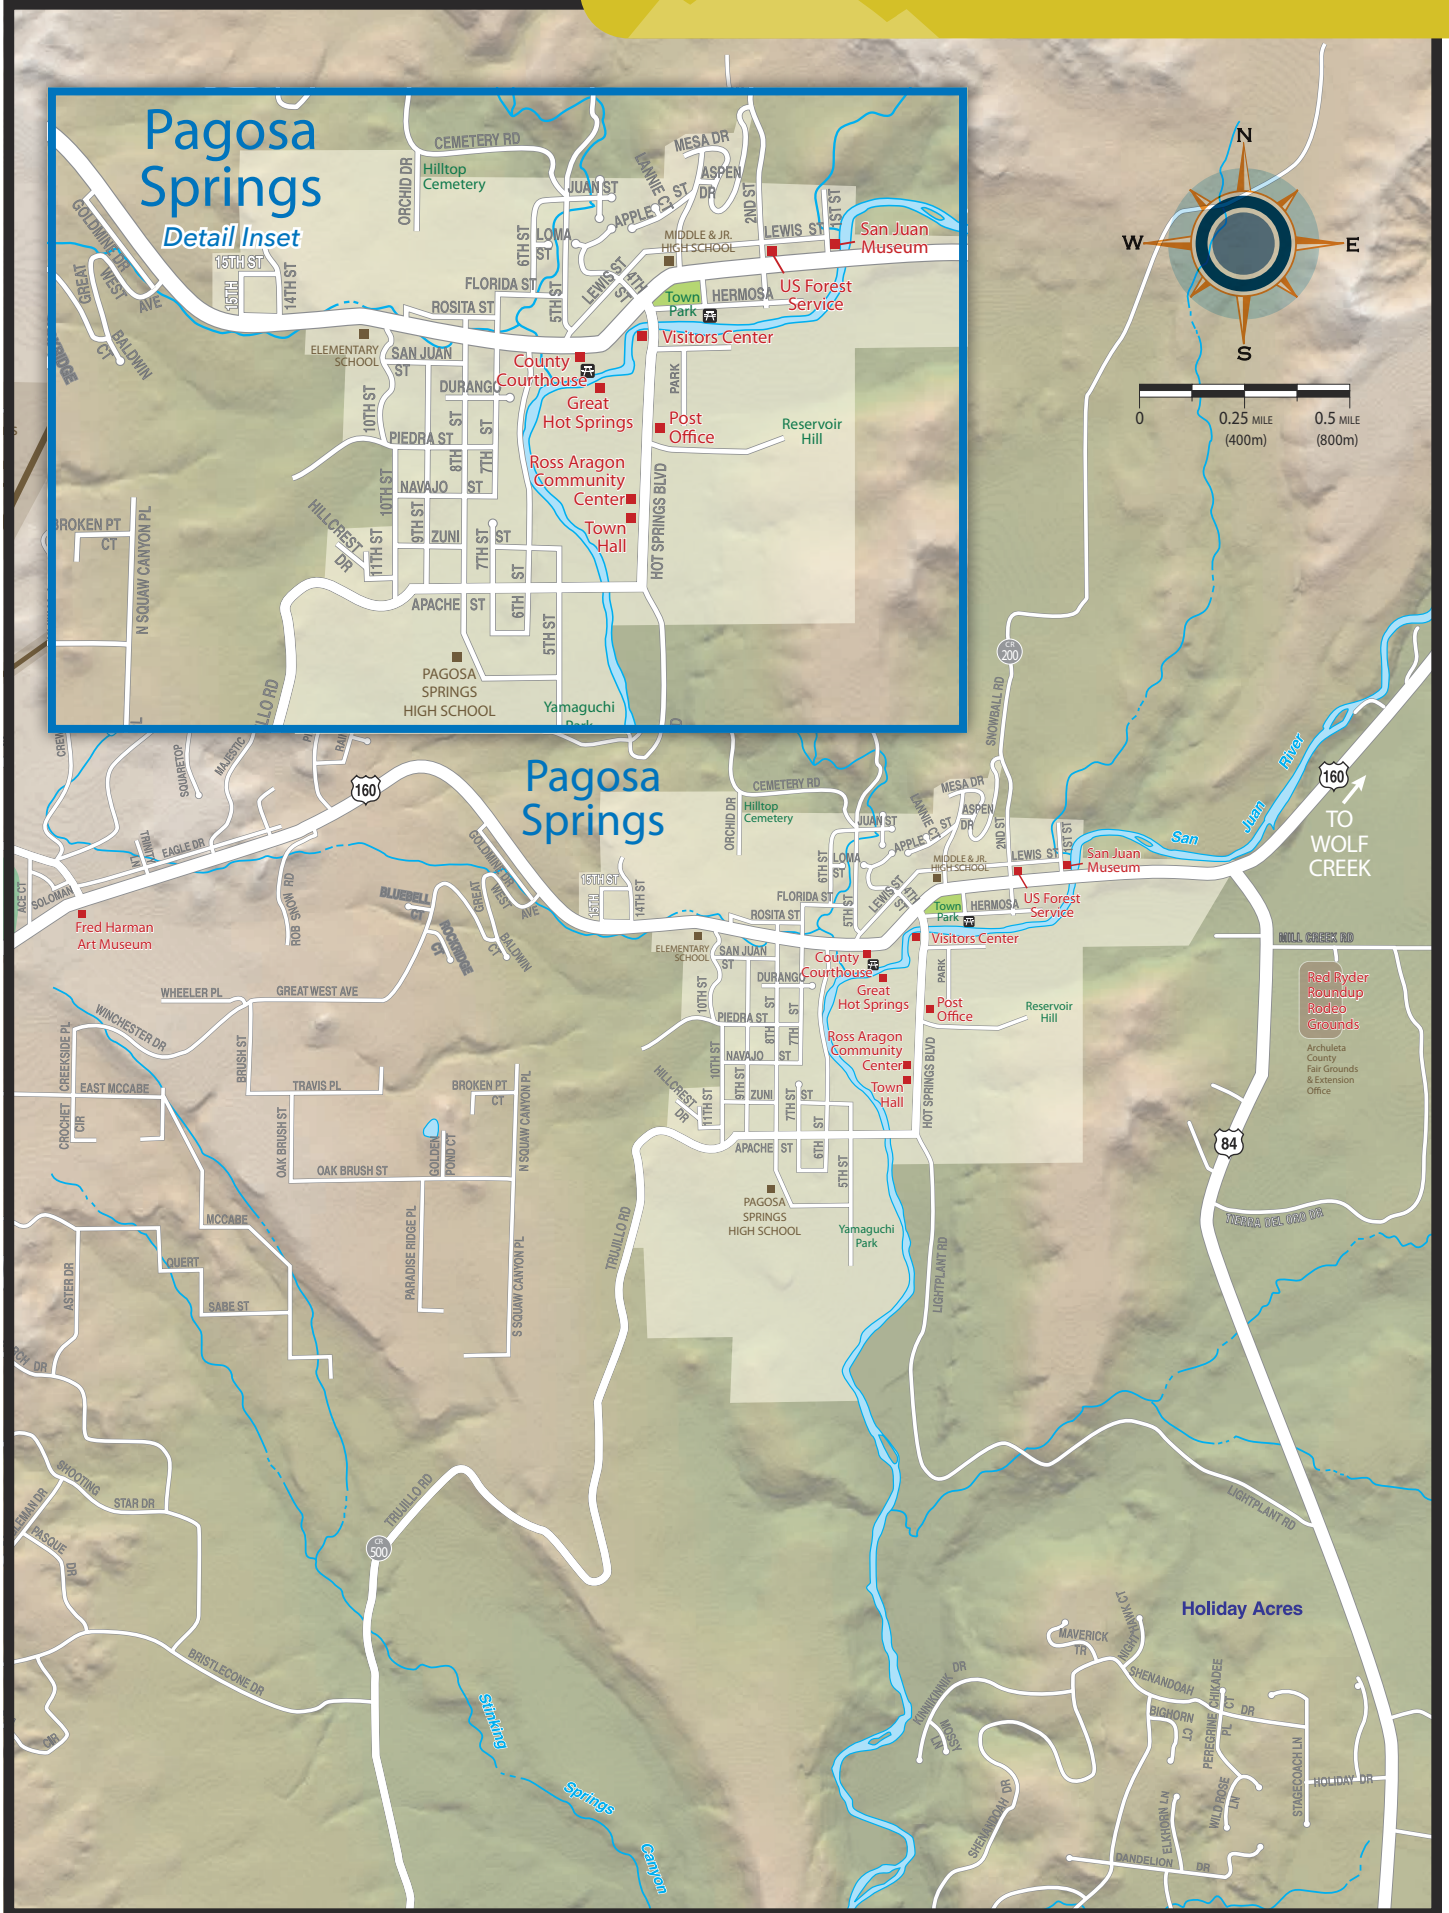

The airport is located 60 miles from Pagosa Springs at the intersection of Airport Road and County Road 309A, approximately 1 mile from County Road 309.

For more information about flights and ancillary services, visit www.flydurango.com.

Trash & Recycling

The Archuleta County transfer stations were established to provide a convenient location to dispose of limited quantities of solid waste and recycling materials. The facilities' capabilities in handling materials are limited due to size and resources.

- Load size is limited to 2 cubic yards (average pickup bed) per day.
- Trailers 4 feet and smaller may use the Pagosa Transfer Station.
- Large, bulky items such as furniture and appliances must go to the landfill.
- Dumpsters must go to the landfill.
- Solid waste conveyed to any facility must be covered or secured in such a manner that the waste cannot be scattered. Fines will be assessed to all uncovered or unsecured loads.
- Cash or check only.
- Additional info: www.archuletacounty.org/254/Solid-Waste.

Pagosa Transfer Station location: 2140 County Road 500

Phone: (970) 264-3311

Hours: Tuesday-Saturday, 10 a.m.-5 p.m.

Archuleta County's recycling center location: 2140 CR 500

Hours: Tuesday-Saturday, 10 a.m.-5 p.m.

Main landfill location: 9179 CR 500

Phone: (970) 264-5605

Hours: Monday-Friday, 7 a.m.-3:30 p.m., Saturday, 10 a.m.-2 p.m.

Arboles Transfer Station location: 95 CR 973

Phone: (970) 883-2644

Hours: Friday and Saturday, 10 a.m.-5 p.m.

Multiple private trash and recycling businesses offer services throughout much of the county.

Voter & Vehicle Registration

Motor vehicles

In making your transition from another state to Colorado or from another Colorado county, we would like to help in making the registration of your vehicle as easy as possible.

Colorado law requires you to register your vehicles, trailers, motor homes, heavy equipment, etc. within 60 days of becoming a Colorado resident. Unfortunately, the law does not allow you to keep your out-of-state plates until they expire.

If you are currently a Colorado resident and are just moving here, you may call the Archuleta County Clerk's office and they will help you change your registration address so you will receive a renewal notice from Archuleta County when your plates expire. You can also utilize our online services to make any changes at www.mymdmv.colorado.gov.

Some of the most obvious reasons that, by law, constitute becoming a resident are: obtaining a Colorado driver's license, registering to vote, enrolling children into school or becoming employed. If you are retired and consider this your legal place of residence and intend to file your federal income tax with a Pagosa Springs address as your legal address, you need Colorado plates.

To obtain Colorado license plates, you will need:

1. A current registration or title from the state you are coming from.
2. Proof of Insurance.
3. A vehicle identification verification. This is done Monday through Friday 8 a.m.-11 a.m. It will cost $20 cash or check. Parking is located behind the courthouse. You can also go to the Sheriff's Office on Tuesday or Thursday, 8 a.m. to noon, located at 85 Harman Park Drive.
4. An acceptable form of ID.

Vehicle registration in Colorado is based on the year, weight and taxable value of the vehicle, when new. The taxable value is then depreciated according to the age of the vehicle. The office is located at 449 San Juan St., in the east side of the courthouse.

The nearest place to obtain a Colorado driver's license is Durango, approximately 60 miles west of Pagosa Springs. The DMV is located at 329 S. Camino del Rio. You may contact their office at (970) 247-4591.

Please visit www.archuletacounty.org for more information. For any questions you may have, call (970) 264-8350.

Voter registration

You may register to vote or change your address online by visiting govotecolorado.org or sos.state.co.us and following the directions for Election & Voting. Should you have questions, please call (970) 264-8331 or (970) 264-8350.
