Tracey Ullman stars in "Mrs. America," premiering Wednesday on FX on Hulu.

'Mrs. America' recalls the roots of the feminist movement

Such names as Gloria Steinem, Betty Friedan and Phyllis Schlafly have very particular places in U.S. social history.

Those women played various roles in regard to the Equal Rights Amendment, which the famously conservative Schlafly opposed while making a bid for a House of Representatives seat as the 1970s began. She had a major opponent in author and activist Friedan, one of the principal feminists of the era – and that battleground is dramatized in "Mrs. America," which debuts by streaming the first three of its nine episodes Wednesday, April 15, on FX on Hulu.

Also an executive producer of the project, Oscar winner Cate Blanchett stars as Schlafly, with Emmy recipient Tracey Ullman and Rose Byrne respectively playing Friedan and Steinem. With Emmy winner Margo Martindale ("The Americans") and Uzo Aduba ("Orange Is the New Black") as politicians Bella Abzug and Shirley Chisholm, the cast of "Mrs. America" also includes Sarah Paulson, Elizabeth Banks, Jeanne Tripplehorn, Melanie Lynskey, Ari Graynor and John Slattery ("Mad Men").

"Phyllis herself didn't initially have an issue with the Equal Rights Amendment," Blanchett maintains. "She thought it was a piece of fairly innocuous political business, and her primary focus was defense. That was her passion; that was her area of research and her focus. It wasn't really until – as described in our series – her friend Alice (played by Paulson) turned her on to what were called 'the dangers of the ERA' that meant that women could be drafted. I think it was through the concept of its impact it would have, from her perspective, on the military that she got involved."

As the piece's Friedan, Ullman reports that "it was really hard to get this role. I did really want to be a part of this. I started as a dramatic actress in theater and (since), of course, I have done lots of comedy shows – but I've always portrayed real people, real heart. I like the poignancy and reality and sadness of people, and I've been in America for 30 years. I know people like Betty Friedan. It struck me how incredible it was to write a book like (Friedan's) 'The Feminine Mystique' in 1963."

The makers of "Mrs. America" also include veteran studio executive Stacey Sher and "Captain Marvel" filmmaking partners Anna Boden and Ryan Fleck. The latter duo directed the limited series' first two episodes, and Boden reasons, "I don't think any of the actors in the cast did an impersonation. They did a lot of research, and they're all like the most studious actors I've ever worked with. They put us to shame ... in terms of how they tried to embody the characters and their complexities."

In Focus

"Gold Digger" (Acorn TV — series premiere, May 4)

Julia Ormond ("The Curious Case of Benjamin Button," "Howard's End") stars as an older woman who has spent her entire life of 60 years taking care of others. When she finally finds happiness, her family is troubled. Is the man (Ben Barnes, "Westworld") that's she's fallen in love with her happily-ever-after or does he have a hidden agenda since he's 25 years younger?

Michael B. Jordan

"JUST MERCY"

Movie history is filled with law dramas that have benefited from fine teamwork by the actors who play attorney and client, and here's another one. Michael B. Jordan portrays a Southern lawyer who makes a specialty of taking up the cases of wrongly convicted inmates on death row. One such prisoner is played by Jamie Foxx, and his claim of innocence in the death of a young woman goes unheard by local authorities, due in large part to the interracial overtones of the crime. Enter the Harvard graduate represented by Jordan, but his good intentions are met with skepticism by just about everyone ... including the convict himself, who's had enough disappointments and is resigned to his apparent fate. However, assisted by a paralegal (Brie Larson), the lawyer finally gets through to his intended client and their work to overturn the conviction begins. Obviously, director and co-writer Destin Daniel Cretton involves a lot of good actors i- also including Tim Blake Nelson as a questionable witness - but the real revelation is Foxx. He largely stifles his usual charisma, a requirement of his role here, and he's extremely effective in a different kind of performance for him. ★★★ (PG-13: AS, P) (Also on Blu-ray and On Demand)

"UNDERWATER"

The title leaves little doubt as to the setting of this thriller, casting Kristen Stewart as a member of a mining-outpost crew whose submerged base of operations is ravaged by an earthquake. With their escape pods gone and communication with the surface cut off, they have to deal with not only the

"Bakeaway Camp With Martha Stewart" (Food Network — series premiere, May 4)

Six contestants take on the outside elements to compete for a once-in-a-lifetime chance to be mentored by the ultimate camp director — the Emmy Award-winning television personality, acclaimed cookbook author and trusted life-style expert Martha Stewart. The last camper standing will win a kitchen filled with appliances worth $25,000. Carla Hall and Dan Langan are also featured. Jesse Palmer serves as host.

"Natalie Wood: What Remains Behind" (HBO — documentary premiere, May 5)

Interviews, home movies, photographs and diaries offer insight into the remarkable life and career of actress Natalie Wood. Her daughter, Natasha Gregson Wagner, provides her unique perspective, as do others who knew her best. To this day, Wood's tragic death at age 43, remains an unsolved mystery.

natural conditions of the deep, but also lethal creatures that are on the attack. In terms of putting forth scares, the film tries to do for the ocean floor what "Alien" did for outer space, but it's only partially successful in achieving that. Stars also include Vincent Cassel, John Gallagher Jr. ("The Newsroom") and T.J. Miller ("Silicon Valley") — and from a Hollywood-history stance, this was one of the last movies to bear the 20th Century Fox imprint before new owner Disney decided to drop the "Fox." ★★★ (PG-13: AS, P, V) (Also on Blu-ray and On Demand)

"POLICE SQUAD!: THE COMPLETE SERIES"

While the terrifically satirical success of "Airplane!" led to the three "Naked Gun" police spoofs, there was a step in-between from the Zucker-Abrahams-Zucker creative team, and the short-lived (only six episodes) ABC series that introduced the riotously inept detective Frank Drebin — played from the start by Leslie Nielsen — now makes its Blu-ray debut. The hit-or-miss style of humor will be familiar to anyone who knows the movies this show inspired, though Alan North plays Drebin's partner instead of the films' George Kennedy, and "Mission:

Impossible" alum Peter Lupus appears as a version of the fellow cop who would be played by O.J. Simpson later. Guest stars portraying generally ill-fated characters include television staples Lorne Greene, Florence Henderson, William Shatner, William Conrad and Dick Clark. ★★★ (Not rated: AS, V)

"CRIMINAL MINDS: THE FINAL SEASON"

The FBI's Behavioral Analysis Unit closed up shop recently as this CBS crime drama wrapped its 15-year run, with the last stories largely focusing on the hunt for a longtime nemesis known as The Chameleon. However, there's still time for personal business to be taken care of by such characters as Rossi (Joe Mantegna), Prentiss (Paget Brewster), Reid (Matthew Gray Gubler) and Garcia (Kirsten Vangsness, who also co-wrote the concluding hour with executive producer Erica Messer). A.J. Cook was another of the founding cast members who stayed until the end, with Aisha Tyler, Adam Rodriguez and Daniel Henney as others who boarded as cast regulars over the course of the show's history. A "Complete Series" set also is available. ★★★ (Not rated: AS, P, V)

player profile

Brewers look to Hiura for big things in 2020

On a Milwaukee Brewers team that lost two big hitters during the offseason, Keston Hiura may be the key to 2020.

Indeed, in their 23-year-old second baseman, the Brew Crew has an emerging power bat who will be looked to to fill the offensive void left by the departures of Mike Moustakas and Yasmani Grandal. And if his rookie campaign of 2019 is any indication, he's up to the task.

In 314 at-bats last year, the Brewers' 2017 first-round draft choice batted .303 with 19 home runs, 49 RBIs, an on-base percentage of .368 and an OPS of .938. Parse those numbers out over a 550-at-bat season and you have a player with 33 home runs and 86 RBI. Pretty impressive production for a rookie – or anyone.

Of course, this being his second season, there are always worries of a sophomore slump and on this team that could be problematic. Really the only bonafide middle-of-the-order force on the Brewers is Christian Yelich – the offseason additions of Jedd Gyorko, Justin Smoak and Eric Sogard notwithstanding – so if Hiura falls into an early season slump from which he doesn't emerge, there will be little else in the lineup to discourage opposing pitchers from pitching around the 2018 National League MVP. And that whooshing noise you'll then hear is the air coming out of the Brewers' season.

But if he indeed improves on his impressive first year, then watch out NL Central.

Eat and travel vicariously with Food Network and Cooking Channel

In this time of social distancing, you've no doubt sacrificed.

You may have canceled a spring vacation, stopped going out to eat and/or generally avoided crowds, all in the interest of the greater good. As a result, television has become an even bigger part of your life as well as a safe haven.

Toward that end, Cooking Channel and Food Network have a bevy of programming coming up this week for those who like to travel and eat. So tune in, hunker down and live vicariously through their on-air personalities as they search the country for new culinary frontiers.

Chief among them is Andrew Zimmern, who on his Sunday, April 12, edition of Cooking's "Bizarre Foods America," heads to Miami to check out a foodie scene heavily influenced by old world immigrants and new wave trendsetters, as he stops in at iconic establishments and hidden gems throughout the city. Shining cuisine in the city of sunshine.

Tuesday, April 14, on Cooking, the scene is Washington, D.C., on "Man V. Food" as host Casey Webb explores a political culinary institution, samples a Korean fried masterpiece and sets his sights on a challenge that consists of 3.5 pounds of burger and fries. Pass the antacid, please.

Zimmern is back on the road in the Wednesday, April 15, episode of "Delicious Destinations," this time in Hollywood, where he explores its legendary hot spots and culinary diversity, and samples dishes ranging from the classic steak and martinis and Thai steamed whole fish to Armenian flatbread topped with minced beef and Persian ice cream.

Over on Food Network on Thursday, April 16, it's "The Great Food Truck Race: Gold Coast," which brings host Tyler Florence to Las Vegas, where the four remaining food trucks in the competition are tasked with an in-suite dining challenge on the Strip.

Immediately following on "Vegas Chef Prizefight: Opening Night," the winner of the series' first season begins the job of a lifetime as head chef of a new $10 million restaurant on the Strip and its staff readies for the grand opening.

Friday, April 17, on "Diners, Drive-Ins and Dives," Guy Fieri hits the road to meet chefs who are putting their roots on their menus. Among the offerings are a blackened chicken pasta and a marrow butter burger in Logan, Utah; Israeli cuisine with a vegan spin in Portland, Ore.; and a Denver establishment that specializes in Detroit-style pizza and features a new take on fries.

Jamie Hector and Madison Lintz are also cast returnees. (ORIGINAL)

“Movie: Valiant”

From director Cruz Angeles (“The Mind of a Murderer”) comes this feature length documentary that follows the Vegas Golden Knights during their inaugural season of 2017-18, one that began with a mass shooting at a music festival on the Vegas Strip and ended eight months later with a Stanley Cup title. (ORIGINAL)

“Movie: Good Morning, Killer”

This 2016 thriller movie stars Catherine Bell (“JAG,” “Good Witch”) as an undercover FBI special agent on the trail of a serial kidnapper who suddenly changes his pattern as she develops a rapport with his latest victim. Titus Welliver (“Bosch”), Suleka Mathew (“Claws”) and Cole Hauser (“Yellowstone”) also star for director Maggie Greenwald (“Songcatcher”).

“Movie: Abduction”

Trying to build on his stardom as the lupine Jacob in the “Twilight” movies, Taylor Lautner starred in this 2011 melodrama from director John Singleton (“Boyz N the Hood”) about a young man who goes on the lam with a friend (Lily Collins) when he finds out that he was kidnapped as a youngster. Determined to uncover his true past, he’s pursued by forces both friendly and not-so-much. Sigourney Weaver, Alfred Molina and Maria Bello (“Prime Suspect”) also star.

What's Happening in the Ponte Vedra Beach Real Estate Market

REAL ESTATE GOOD NEWS...

- Inventory of available homes is at an all-time low. In our area, inventory is below four months (industry-wide, six months is considered a "balanced" market).
- Interest rates are still low -- last week, rates jumped up above 4%, but most mortgage people think they'll drift back down in the next 2-3 weeks.

REAL ESTATE NOT SO GOOD NEWS...

- Lenders are inundated with refinancing applications, so if you're going to finance your next purchase, keep that in mind. Your lender will probably need at least 45 days to pull all the loan documents together. And, depending on the price, your lender may need 60 days.
- Most economic forecasters predict a big round of layoffs on the horizon and the unemployment rate could jump to 20% fairly quickly. If people are unemployed, they probably won't be home shopping.

HOW WE WILL ADAPT...

- We are hyper focused on safety. We've started doing FaceTime or virtual showings for buyers who don't (or can't) travel.
- We are working to make sure any showings at our listings take necessary precautions.
