Matthew Rhys stars in "Perry Mason," premiering Sunday on HBO.

Matthew Rhys is HBO's new, very different 'Perry Mason'

Any preconceived notion you might have of "Perry Mason" is about to be tossed out of court.

The most enduring image of novelist Erle Stanley Gardner's iconic character surely is the urbane defense attorney played by Raymond Burr in a 1957-66 television classic that remains a staple of nostalgia-driven networks. However, a younger, scrappier Mason fuels a limited HBO series debuting Sunday, June 21. Executive-produced by Robert Downey Jr. and his wife Susan, and set in the Depression era, it casts Matthew Rhys ("The Americans") in the title role while exploring Mason's roots as an unconventional detective as much as a nascent lawyer.

"That is why I jumped at the opportunity," the friendly Rhys confirms of helping to generate a new Mason. "When the initial call came, this strange thing went through my head: 'Perry Mason?' I realize more and more that I'd had a unique relationship to it without necessarily having a true grasp of what it was. I was aware of the (original) show, but in true recollection, I wasn't sure that I ever watched it ... though my grandparents did.

"You feel like you know this identity of a trial lawyer who got everybody to confess on the stand," adds Rhys, "but as soon as you heard that HBO was remaking 'Perry Mason,' you knew immediately, 'Well, OK. That's going to be a very different take.' And it is. It's the origin story of how he became a trial lawyer, and I thought, 'Oh, how interesting.' And then I read the first script, and that was that."

Such other familiar characters as Della Street (now played by Juliet Rylance) and Paul Drake (Chris Chalk) also are reinvented by the "Perry Mason" reboot. John Lithgow (as Mason's mentor in the law), Tatiana Maslany ("Orphan Black") and Robert Patrick ("Scorpion") are among the cast members as well. HBO-series veteran Tim Van Patten ("Game of Thrones," "The Sopranos") is the director and an executive producer of the show.

In preparing to play Mason, the Welsh-born Rhys – the real-life partner of his fellow "Americans" star Keri Russell – had a valuable resource in Tom Hanks while they made the recent movie "A Beautiful Day in the Neighborhood," since Hanks had done the similarly styled 2002 film "Road to Perdition."

"When you're engulfed in something on this kind of scale, it's hard not to believe the world you're in," Rhys reasons of the "Perry Mason" costumes and production design that are so evocative of the early 1930s. "You don't see anything but hundreds of supporting actors in the costumes and cars, and whole streets have been made to look the way they were then, so it only strengthens the make-believe."

In Focus

"John Candy: Behind Closed Doors" (Reelz — documentary premiere, July 26)

Canadian actor John Candy may not have been a typical leading man, but he had a sweetness and charm that made most moviegoers love him. One of the most popular comedy stars of the 1980s, Candy's versatility was truly impressive, allowing him to play characters who ranged from hilarious to touching and even dramatic. But success didn't come overnight for the actor, who died in 1994 at age 43. This documentary chronicles his improv days at Second City and his rise to fame on the sketch show "SCTV."

“Movie: A Beautiful Day in the Neighborhood”

Tom Hanks earned an Academy Award nomination as best supporting actor for his portrayal of beloved children’s TV host Fred Rogers in Marielle Heller’s poignant 2019 biographical drama inspired by an Esquire magazine article. Matthew Rhys stars as a cynical magazine journalist with profound daddy issues, who accepts an assignment to profile Rogers with the intent of exposing the latter as a fraud whose avuncular persona is just a gimmick.

“Brockmire”

All four seasons of this very funny IFC comedy about a famed baseball play-by-play man (Hank Azaria) who attempts to pick himself back up after a very embarrassing public meltdown comes to the streaming service. Amanda Peet and Tyrel Jackson Williams are also in the cast.

“Movie: Clemency”

The psychological toll of her job brings itself to bear on a prison warden (Alfre Woodard) who must face personal demons as she prepares to execute another inmate in this 2019 drama that won the U.S. Dramatic Grand Jury Prize that year at Sundance. Richard Schiff, Danielle Brooks, Aldis Hodge and Wendell Pierce are also in the solid cast for director Chinonye Chukwu (“AlaskaLand”).

“Movie: Once Were Brothers: Robbie Robertson and The Band”

This documentary from Daniel Roher (“Ghosts of Our Forests”) is a revealing, cautionary and at times humorous tale of the creation of The Band, one of the more influential groups of its time. It’s also a chronicle of the early life of its driving creative force and lead guitarist, Robertson. (ORIGINAL)

"SOUTH PARK: THE COMPLETE TWENTY-THIRD SEASON"

The Comedy Central misadventures of Stan, Kyle, Cartman, Kenny and the rest of their animated gang continue their home-video releases with the most recently televised round of Trey Parker and Matt Stone's topical and irreverent comedy. On the subject of subjects, they include immigration and censorship in the case of these 10 episodes, which saw the show hit its 300th story. Also included is a Halloween tale unlike any ever done by any other show — which only is to be expected — and the political climate in America also takes its shots. ★★★ (Not rated: AS, P, V) (Also on Blu-ray)

"JASPER MALL"

Once constant hubs of activity in their communities, shopping malls largely have faced hard times lately

— a situation only exacerbated by the coronavirus pandemic keeping people at home and impacting the economy drastically. This documentary from directors Bradford Thomason and Brett Whitford focuses on the title mall in Alabama, near Birmingham, where business is traced over the course of one year. Its operators desperately try to justify keeping it open, but the combination of standalone superstores and the boom in online shopping delivers a one-two punch that also has been felt at similar sites in numerous other localities. ★★★ (Not rated: P) (Also on Blu-ray)

"TOKYO OLYMPIAD"

The debut of the Criterion Collection edition of this acclaimed 1965 documentary likely was planned to coincide with the latest Summer Olympic Games — now postponed until next year — but at any time, it stands on its own as an accomplished digest of the 1964 competition. Director Kon Ichikawa deployed more than 1000 cameras and used then-revolutionary techniques of presentation to transform the competitors' athletic skills into something almost poetic as seen on the screen over almost three hours. Still, the essence of the Olympics remains on view in its purest form, displaying the very human results of victory and defeat in a raw and real way. ★★★ (Not rated) (Also on Blu-ray)

"BURDEN"

An unlikely connection develops in writer-director Andrew Heckler's true drama, as ever-excellent Oscar winner Forest Whitaker plays a Southern clergyman who — at a time when community tensions already are near the breaking point — takes in a Ku Klux Klan member (Garrett Hedlund) in the mid-1990s. Though it's expectedly not an easy process, the reverend eventually has a profound impact on his guest, who makes drastic changes in his life as a direct result. Andrea Riseborough, Tom Wilkinson, Tess Harper and actor-musician Usher Raymond also are in the cast. ★★★ (R: AS, P, V)

"APOLLO 13: HOME SAFE"

Though the title of this documentary gives away how the story turned out, thank goodness it was that way ... as anyone who knows the events of the time, or director Ron Howard's acclaimed movie drama about them, already knows. Marking the 50th anniversary of an in-flight crisis that had the world on the edge of its collective seats, the recap recalls the efforts of Mission Control to bring the Apollo 13 spacecraft and its astronauts — including Jim Lovell and Fred Haise, both of whom comment here (Jack Swigert was the third crew member) — back to Earth safely after an onboard malfunction prompted the famous and still-chilling phrase, "Houston, we've got a problem." Legendary flight director Gene Kranz also is among the interviewees, and actual NASA footage is woven into the program. (Not rated)

Rossi seeks to repeat dominant performance at Road America

It was perhaps Alexander Rossi's most dominant performance of his career in last year's REV Group Grand Prix at Road America.

How dominant? Runner-up Will Power, who finished more than 28 seconds behind the 28-year-old Californian, said after the race that he "never actually saw" Rossi.

That's because Rossi was in command from the outset. Starting second behind polesitter Colton Herta, Rossi led every lap but one on the demanding 4,041-mile, 14-turn road course in Elkhart Lake, Wis. The only lap he didn't lead came on the last of his three pit stops but he soon was back in front when Graham Rahal made his last pit a lap later.

From there, he went unchallenged, sailing to victory ahead of Power, Josef Newgarden, Rahal and Scott Dixon, for his second win of the season and seventh of his career. It also came in a stretch where he finished first or second in five of seven races.

"It's was probably one of the best race cars I've ever had," he said after the race of his No. 27 NAPA Auto Parts Honda.

Though his hot racing got him within seven points of the IndyCar championship lead, he would ultimately fade to third place in the series standings behind Newgarden and Simon Pagenaud.

Rossi will return to defend his title in the 2020 version of the REV Group Grand Prix at Road America, which airs Sunday, June 21, on NBC.

Imbibe like a star with celebrity-created spirits

Celebrities who put their names on spirit brands generally fall into two categories – those who are merely doing an endorsement (and getting a nice passive revenue stream) and those who are invested in it.

It is those latter folks, those who have “skin in the game,” who love the liquor in question, have had a say in its design and care deeply about the craft of distilling. They really want to put their money into something they believe is a quality product.

And more and more of them are getting into the business, hoping to share their love of spirits with the buying public. Such as the following.

George Clooney, Casamigos Tequila: The Oscar-winning actor and producer and his pals restaurant mogul Rande Gerber and Discovery Land Company CEO Mike Meldman, came up with the idea for a tequila meant to be consumed “on the rocks, by the shot and at times straight from the bottle.” Four years after its founding, the brand was so successful that Diageo bought it for $1 billion in 2017.

Sam Heughan, The Sassenach: The “Outlander” actor’s love of whiskey dates back to his teens in his native Scotland and through his Great Glen Company recently created what he believes is “the perfect whiskey blend,” one that pleases his palate and he hopes that of others. He even thinks his character of Highlands warrior Jamie Fraser would approve. “Jamie makes it,” he quipped.

Marilyn Manson, Absinthe Mansinthe: A 2000 vacation in the South of France with Johnny Depp introduced the controversial rocker to absinthe and he fell in love and created this Swiss-made spirit. Though greeted by mixed reviews, the brand did win a gold medal at the San Francisco World Spirits Competition in 2008.

Dan Aykroyd, Crystal Head Vodka: Noting the lack of additive-free vodka on the market, the “Ghostbusters” actor partnered with artist John Alexander to conceive the idea for this spirit, a blend quadruple-distilled from Canadian sweet corn with a $55 per quart price tag and a unique skull-shaped bottle.

Bryan Cranston and Aaron Paul, Dos Equis Mezcal: The former “Breaking Bad” co-stars were in a New York sushi bar when they hatched the idea for this “perfect” artisanal mezcal, a unique blend of what they say is “the finest Espadin agave, hand-selected from the hillsides of a small village in Oaxaca, Mexico.” At over $60 a quart, it’s unquestionably top shelf.

Ryan Reynolds, Aviation Gin: The “Deadpool” actor acquired a stake in this Portland, Ore.-produced gin in 2018 after trying it and declaring it “best-tasting gin in the world.” What makes it distinctive? According to its website, it has a “much smoother, easier drinking flavor than typical London Dry gins.” You be the judge.
