coverstory

BY JAY BOBBIN

A new version of "The Wonder Years" premieres Wednesday on ABC.

New characters live 'The Wonder Years' in ABC reboot

As a widely beloved, much-honored series gets a reboot, others live "The Wonder Years."

Though the original show's "Kevin Arnold" still is on board — since his portrayer, Fred Savage, is an executive producer now — Dean Williams is the central character, played by Elisha "EJ" Williams, in the new ABC version that premieres Wednesday, Sept. 22. The program still charts a youngster's coming of age in the late 1960s with his adult self as narrator (Don Cheadle's voice this time), but the formerly suburban setting has been changed to Montgomery, Ala.

"When you think of this time period in Black America, you don't really think of middle-class Black people," fellow executive producer Lee Daniels reasons. "You think 'impoverished'; you think of what the media portrayed us to be. This really sits with me and Saladin (K. Patterson, also an executive producer, who developed the new 'Wonder Years') because we are around the same age. This is our story, a story that hasn't been told to America."

As the 12-year-old whose eyes that time is reflected through, star Williams notes his mission is "giant, just trying to figure out how (people) maneuver, as well as just trying to learn what they learned in that time. Obviously, as history goes on, you're going to learn about what happened in those days. Now that I'm playing a character who lived in those times, it's more of an, 'OK, well, what is going on?' than an, 'OK, I remember our teacher telling us about it.'"

Dulé Hill (who also worked with Patterson on "Psych"), Saycon Sengbloh and Laura Kariuki play Dean's family (in the slots Dan Lauria, Alley Mills and Olivia d'Abo first had), while Milan Ray portrays Keisa, who is to Dean who the original iteration's Winnie (Danica McKellar) was to the long-admiring Kevin. Cheadle succeeds Daniel Stern as the comedy-drama's literal voice.

As suggested by his involvement in the new show, 1988-93 "Wonder Years" star Savage (often a TV director now) is comfortable with the changes to the initial concept, which earned the Primetime Emmy Award for outstanding comedy series for its first season.

"There's a lot of elements of this show that feel very comfortable and familiar, to me and to an audience as well," Savage says. "We're maintaining a similar tone, a similar blend of comedy and truth, the same idea of a narrator looking back on his youth with the wisdom of age ... but there are things that are incredibly unique about this show. The fact that it's a brand-new family and brand-new characters allows us to maintain some of the things we loved about the original, while also telling a wholly unique and new story."

Relax. We've got this.

“Dark Side of Football”

From Vice TV comes this documentary series about the transgressions, crimes and scandals seething beneath the surface of this country’s most popular sport, exploring the dynamic tension between America’s love of the game and its ability to corrupt and damage those in and around it. (ORIGINAL)

“Movie: La La Land”

Damien Chazelle earned an Academy Award as best director for his decidedly bittersweet 2016 musical valentine to the classic Hollywood musical, which received international critical acclaim. Ryan Gosling and Emma Stone star as jazz pianist Sebastian Wilder and aspiring actress Mia Dolan, who discover their romance is at odds with their artistic destinies. Stone won an Oscar as best actress. John Legend also stars.

“Movie: The Patsy”

A boatload of cameos from Hollywood A-listers of the day — including George Raft, Hedda Hopper, Ed Sullivan and Rhonda Fleming — are strewn throughout this 1964 comedy that stars Jerry Lewis (who also directed) as a no-talent bellhop who gets recruited to fill the shoes of a famous comedian who was killed in a plane crash. Phil Harris, Peter Lorre and John Carradine also star.

DISCOVER FLORIDA'S FIRST LIGHTHOUSE

In 1980, St. Johns County Commissioners debated demolishing the burned-out keepers' house as a public safety hazard. Members of the Junior Service League of St. Augustine founded the Lighthouse Museum of St. Augustine as a community service project, leading a grass-roots effort to save the burned-out keepers' house.

The result of the League's determination is today's St. Augustine Lighthouse & Maritime Museum, Inc., which secured federal 501(c)(3) status as a charitable non-profit Florida corporation.

Yankees look to Cole to lead them into October

As the New York Yankees gear up for the postseason and a likely Wild Card berth, thoughts turn to the pitching staff and who will lead them. Gerrit Cole, this is your time to step up.

In his first full season in pinstripes, the 31-year-old native of Newport Beach, Calif., has shown himself to be every bit the ace that the Bombers thought they were getting when they signed him to a massive nine-year, $324 million contract in December 2019. And if his stellar performance continues into October, he could make New York a very dangerous team in a short playoff series.

As of early September, Cole sported a 13-6 won-lost record with a 2.80 ERA (third in the AL), 200 strikeouts (second), 114 hits and only 32 walks in 148 innings, for a miniscule .99 WHIP (first), numbers that have gotten him on a short list of Cy Young contenders in 2021. He also set a Yankee record when he reached his 200th K in his 24th start of the season on Aug. 27, besting David Cone, who took 25 starts to reach the milestone in 1997.

And Cole has a history of coming up big in the postseason, pitching to an 8-4 record with a 2.68 ERA in 13 starts with the Pittsburgh Pirates, Houston Astros and New York Yankees, so the pressure of the big game clearly doesn't bother him. The Yankee faithful hope that continues.

Cole's Yankees can be seen twice this week on MLB Network: Monday, Sept. 20, at home against the Texas Rangers and on the road against the Boston Red Sox on Saturday, Sept. 25.

Getting ready for fall on Food Network and Cooking Channel

It's football season, a time when the sports fan's thoughts turn to tailgating.

Food Network's "The Kitchen" is right there with them, and in the episode airing Saturday, Sept. 25, Geoffrey Zakarian is setting the stage with his upstate-style roast beef sandwich while Alex Guarnachelli gets in the spirit of the season with her apple hot toddy. Elsewhere Katie Lee Biegel hearkens back to her college days waiting tables with her Cincinnati-style chili, Sunny Anderson makes her grilled corn with Cajun trinity butter and Jeff Mauro tops things off with his giant peanut butter dark chocolate sea salt buckeyes. A spread suitable for any parking lot.

Elsewhere on Food Network, the season premiere of "Girl Meets Farm" on Sunday, Sept. 19, finds host Molly Yeh getting the day going with her hammy hot dish breakfast, followed a Mommy-and-me lunch consisting of her savory tomato basil soup with parmesan and bunny pesto cristos on the side. And for dessert, it's her mini princess cakes.

Saturday on "Guy's Ranch Kitchen," Guy Fieri is in the mood for a clambake, so Rocco DiSpirito stops by with his Southampton clambake in a can and his clam chowder jalapeno poppers to get things rolling. Jonathan Waxman offers up his seafood al cartoccio and a grilled zucchini and eggplant casserole with a pistachio pesto. And on the sweet side is a juniper-infused blueberry cobbler courtesy of Aarti Sequeira.

If it is Southern fare you crave, chef Kardea Brown has what you seek in Sunday's episode of "Delicious Miss Brown," as she hits the road to Atlanta to make her mom a meal consisting of New Orleans-style barbecued shrimp and grilled rubbed chicken with an Alabama white sauce paired with a rainbow carrot and fennel salad with apricots and washed down an unwind sangria.

Speaking of hitting the road, Andrew Zimmern is really getting out and about in the Monday, Sept. 20, edition of "Bizarre Foods: Delicious Destinations" on Cooking Channel, "as he ventures to Santiago, Chile, to sample the iconic flavors and signature dishes of this culinary destination, such as Asado a la Parrilla, Pastel de Jaiba and Chacarero.

And on the Wednesday, Sept. 22, edition of Cooking's "Food Paradise," a delicious drink and a savory dish is the order of the day, which means comestibles such as a deep fried lobster mac and cheese, an oversized corned beef sandwich and a surf-and-turf po' boy are paired with libations like a liquid nitrogen margarita, a drink called a hurricane and all manner of craft beers.
