The word "reunion" typically connotes a happy regathering. Then, there's the reunion that fuels "Yellowjackets."

Premiering Sunday, Nov. 14, the Showtime drama series focuses on four women 25 years after surviving a wilderness plane crash while members of a high school soccer team. The show flashes back frequently to that ordeal, helping to explain the respective issues that they still have now. Melanie Lynskey ("Two and a Half Men"), Juliette Lewis ("Natural Born Killers"), Christina Ricci ("Black Snake Moan") and Tawny Cypress ("Unforgettable") play the quartet in the present day.

"I honestly was so excited to read something that was so different," Lynskey reflects. "There was a genuine sort of edge to this, something very tense in the writing. And I really loved that it was so female-centered, and every single one of the women was so well-drawn and interesting. By the end of the pilot, I felt like I knew everybody, and they were all unique individuals. I'm very, very nervous of signing long-term show contracts, and I just was like, 'I can't wait to see where this goes. I can't wait to do this for as long as I can do it.'"

Since "Yellowjackets" visualizes the plane crash often, a younger foursome of actresses also portrays the central characters. Sophie Nelisse ("The Book Thief"), Lynskey's counterpart as the teenage Shauna, recalls that working on that part of the show's set was, "very claustrophobic. The plane was slightly tilted to the side, so I think it was really helpful for us to be in an environment like that. It made it very realistic. When we got there on the first day and saw how real it looked, I think we felt very scared, and it really helped us get into our characters' bodies and motions." Ella Purnell also is among the younger cast members.

"Yellowjackets" executive producer and (with Bart Nickerson) co-creator Ashley Lyle says, "We knew we didn't want to be a show about what happened, but about why it happened. We figured the best way to do that was to just play it all in the beginning, so that the question is more, 'How did they get from Point A to Point B?' Obviously, there are rifts in the group, but it's really a team.

"What was interesting to us about having it be a championship soccer team is that it's all about collaboration," adds Lyle. "Spoiler alert: It's not really a soccer show, but it's about how these girls were able to really work together, then to see how that might really start to fall apart and shatter over the course of a season. The circumstances bring out both the best and the worst in them."

'Yellowjackets' brings athletes' past trauma into the present on Showtime

“Movie: Once Upon a Time in the West”

Regarded by many critics as “spaghetti” Western director Sergio Leone’s masterpiece, this 1969 saga is notable for its casting of typical screen good guy Henry Fonda as a savage gunman. His presence means nothing good for a woman (Claudia Cardinale) whose inherited land stands in the way of the railroad he works for. Jason Robards, Charles Bronson, Gabriele Ferzetti, Jack Elam and Keenan Wynn co-star.

Hit-Monkey

“Hit-Monkey”

Based on the Marvel Comic, this adult animated series from creators/executive producers Josh Gordon and Will Speck (“Cavemen,” “The Power Inside”) follows a Japanese snow monkey with martial arts skills who seeks vengeance against the humans that killed his family. George Takei, Jason Sudeikis, Olivia Munn, Ally Maki, Nobu Nakanishi and Fred Tatasciore head the voice cast. (ORIGINAL)

The Curse of Von Dutch

“The Curse of Von Dutch”

Andrew Renzi (“Ready for War,” “They Fight”) produced and directed this three-part documentary series that chronicles the incredible but true story behind the rise and fall of the 2000s most iconic fashion trend, Von Dutch, a brand that Venice Beach surfers, gangsters, European garments and Hollywood movers and shakers all fought to control. (ORIGINAL)

“The Great”

The sophomore round of this historical comedy finds Catherine (Elle Fanning) finally ascended to the Russian throne and trying to liberate a people that apparently doesn’t want to be free. She’s also fighting battles with her court, her team and even her own mother (guest star Gillian Anderson) in an effort to bring the Enlightenment to Russia. Nicholas Hoult also stars. (ORIGINAL)

DISCOVER FLORIDA'S FIRST LIGHTHOUSE

all began...

To understand the significance of Menorcan's at the St. Augustine Lighthouse, we must recognize their role in its history. Many lightkeepers were of Menorcan descent, including Juan Andreu, the first lighthouse keeper in the newly lit St. Augustine Lighthouse, Juan Carrera, Joseph Andreu, Maria Andreu, and Siladonio Pellicer. These individuals, whose ancestors traveled to New Smyrna to work as indentured servants, were instrumental in the rise of Menorcan culture in St. Augustine.

Perhaps the most notable of Menorcan Lighthouse Keepers was Maria de los Delores Menstre Andreu, a woman of many firsts. After her husband Juan's tragic passing, Maria became the first female lighthouse keeper and Hispanic-American woman to serve in the United States Coast Guard and command a federal shore installation, setting a precedent for Hispanic American women serving in the military. For over 150 years, Maria Andreu's trailblazing experience has inspired generations of women to serve their country.

Raiders' Carr steps up after coach steps down

In the wake of the Jon Gruden email controversy rose a leader the Las Vegas Raiders always knew they could count on. And now the rest of the league knows, too.

Indeed, after their head coach's resignation on Oct. 18 after the surfacing of offensive emails, many expected the Raiders – who were 4-2 at the time and tied for the lead in the AFC West – to fold like a cheap suit. But their veteran quarterback wasn't about to allow that.

"I'm still here as a leader," Derek Carr told the media after the Raiders' emphatic 34-24 victory over the Denver Broncos that following Sunday, one in which the 30-year-old Fresno State product clearly rose to the occasion by completing 18 of 27 passes for 341 yards and two touchdowns with no interceptions for a 134.4 quarterback rating. The vintage performance not only gave interim coach Rich Bisaccia his first victory but also earned Carr NFL Player of the Week honors for Week 6.

And that game has merely been a microcosm of his season so far. Through six games, Carr is among the best in the league in many key categories, including passing yards (1,946; second), yards per game (324.3; second), completions (149; eighth) and touchdowns (10; tied for 11th). But more importantly, he's kept the Raiders in the playoff hunt in the AFC at a time when things could have gone the other way. Truly, the sign of a leader.

Carr and the Raiders can be seen in action on Nov. 14 when they play host to the division rival Kansas City Chiefs in a game airing on NBC's Sunday Night Football.

'Well Done With Sebastian Maniscalco' brings comedy with food knowledge

Say one thing about Sebastian Maniscalco, he'll do anything for good television.

And so it was this past summer in the premiere episode of the discovery+ series "Well Done With Sebastian Maniscalco," viewers were treated to the sight of the stand-up comic getting seasick during a fishing trip off the coast of Southern California and later butchering the fileting of a whitefish.

A gamer the man certainly is.

"I knew I had a problem with nausea when I go on a boat but I wanted to get over that fear," the 48-year-old explains. "So I figured, oh, this is a bigger boat, maybe I'll have a better result. And within five minutes, I was on the floor. It was not a good scene for me. But you know, we did the episode and it turned out to be good TV for me. I mean, I have no problems showing my weaknesses on television."

Season 2 begins streaming Tuesday, Nov. 16 (the same date Season 1 joins the prime-time lineup on Food Network) and finds the Illinois-born, Los Angeles-based comedian once again doing a deep dive into the world of food while offering up his signature witticisms and wry social commentary.

The new round of six episodes will find Maniscalco returning to his old job of bartender to create a signature cocktail for fellow comic Whitney Cummings; explore why children are picky eaters with Nick and Vanessa Lachey, learn how noodles are used in different cuisines around the world with comic Bobby Lee; and examine canine food habits with "Dog Whisperer" Cesar Millan.

Doing this series has been a blast for Maniscalco, who is into food and wine (he hates the term "foodie") though he's the first to admit he has next to no chops in the kitchen. He enjoys spending time around cooks and cooking and filming these episodes in a way has brought him back to his childhood.

"For me, food has always been a connection to my family," he says. "That's kind of where it all happened growing up, at the kitchen table. We would sit down, discuss life, what happened during the day. And that's kind of continued throughout my life, not only with my family, but my friends. So I think if we could get a little sushi night at the house and have some laughs and get blasted on sake, I think it would be a nice little evening."
