90 YEARS OF LAUGHTER + LOVE

NBC

Carol Burnett marks a big birthday with NBC special

For anyone who's ever thought Carol Burnett's birthday should be a national event, now it is.

One way in which the much-beloved comedy icon will spend her special day Wednesday, April 26, is "Carol Burnett: 90 Years of Laughter + Love," NBC's new all-star celebration of her. The show will be filled with tributes from many of her friends and peers, including Dame Julie Andrews and former "Carol Burnett Show" cohorts Vicki Lawrence and costumer Bob Mackie ... as well as Cher, Lily Tomlin, Ellen DeGeneres, Steve Carell, Amy Poehler, Aileen Quinn ("Annie") and Bill Hader (to whom Burnett learned she is related on PBS' "Finding Your Roots With Henry Louis Gates, Jr." recently).

Additional guests including Katy Perry, Bernadette Peters, Kristin Chenoweth, Billy Porter and Jane Lynch perform musical segments during the show, each commemorating a significant part of Burnett's career. Among those are Burnett's portrayal of Miss Hannigan in the 1982 film of "Annie," and her trademark singing of "I'm So Glad We Had This Time Together" (complete with ear-tug message to her grandmother) at the end of each episode of "The Carol Burnett Show."

"It was quite a night," six-time Primetime Emmy Award winner Burnett says of the March taping of the program. "I'm still kind of reeling from it. It's not a roast or a birthday party, it's really a variety show. A lot of my dear friends were there, and my 'chum' Julie Andrews was by my side the whole evening; she lives back East, and she flew out just for this. I was totally gobsmacked, I have to say!"

Burnett also has a Tony, a Grammy, a Mark Twain Prize for American Humor, a Presidential Medal of Freedom and a Screen Actors Guild Life Achievement Award among her many other accolades. Additionally, she has seven Golden Globe Awards, and that ceremony named an honor after her for contributions to television; appropriately, she was its first recipient.

The Burnett birthday event is, she reflects, "really a retrospective of everything I've ever done, practically, starting way back with my almost-first television appearance ... on 'Omnibus.' Then, (the special) covers 'The Garry Moore Show' when I was a regular on that, and movies that I've done, and TV appearances other than my own show. But, of course, 'The Carol Burnett Show' is in there, too."

Expect the late Harvey Korman, Tim Conway and Lyle Waggoner to be seen bountifully in "Carol Burnett Show" clips during the NBC special, but there will be no doubt who the evening's central talent is. And just as it's been for so many years, those physically near her – as well as those watching at home – will be so glad still to be in her orbit.

A book, a new home and a milestone for 'Delicious Miss Brown'

It's been an eventful past few months for Kardea Brown.

This past fall, she moved into her dream home on the South Carolina coast, where she recently completed filming the the eighth season of her Food Network series "Delicious Miss Brown" (which included its milestone 100th episode). Also that October, she released her first book, "The Way Home: A Celebration of Sea Islands Food and Family With Over 100 Recipes," which quickly made its way onto the New York Times bestseller list.

Brown had been considering writing a book for the past four years but like with many things these days, the idea really got legs during the pandemic. After she was approached by an editor at Harper Collins to do a book in 2020, she found herself spending the next nearly two years developing and testing recipes, many of which were her interpretations of family recipes.

The final product is dedicated to the place where her love of food took hold, the Sea Islands of South Carolina and Georgia, and those who taught her how to cook.

"I grew up in a family where my great-grandmother and my grandmother never wrote their recipes down," Brown explains. "And so I realized this is my opportunity to pay homage to my grandmother and my great-grandmother, and this is a place where some of their recipes and my interpretations of their recipes could live.

"And so that's why I knew that once this opportunity came – and it did – that this cookbook would be based on that, and it would also give people a glimpse into who I am. You know, everyone knows 'Delicious Miss Brown' but I wanted people to see who Kardea Brown was as well."

As for "Delicious Miss Brown," now in its eighth season on Sunday afternoons, she'll also be trying out a few ideas in her brand new kitchen.

"I'm kind of doing a lot of fusion food so I'm mixing some of my Low-country spin," she explains. "I have an entire episode dedicated to Greek and Middle Eastern cuisine. We're going to do an episode where I go horseback riding with a friend, and so we're going to do like a (Kentucky) Derby theme. We are going to celebrate some of the holidays like Mother's Day and Father's Day. and so there's going to be some brunch items on the menu.

"Of course, we're going to have lots of seafood," she continues. "But yeah, we're just switching up a little bit."

"Movie: White House Down"

After "Olympus Has Fallen," 1600 Pennsylvania Ave. came under attack from enemies again — on screen, that is — in this 2013 adventure from director Roland Emmerich ("Independence Day"). Apart from the plentiful pyrotechnics, he also gets lots of mileage from the enjoyable teamwork of Jamie Foxx and Channing Tatum as (respectively) the president and the policeman trying to save him. Maggie Gyllenhaal and James Woods also star.
