Hot TV: 'Hot Wheels' competition comes to NBC

Unlock some memories and kick it into high gear with NBC's newest competition series, "Hot Wheels: Ultimate Challenge."

Premiering Tuesday, May 30, the unscripted show is equal parts "nostalgia and creativity" (per NBC) as each contestant overhauls one of their most beloved and memorable vehicles, ultimately transforming it from an average automobile into their dream car. Hosted by "Top Gear's" Rutledge Wood and featuring a panel of car-loving celebrity guests, "Hot Wheels: Ultimate Challenge" is inspired by childhood fun and a healthy dose of friendly competition.

NBC describes its new 10-episode competition as follows: "Each episode will invite two passionate car fans and Hot Wheels lovers into the Chrome Zone, where they will face off in each transforming an ordinary vehicle into an extraordinary Hot Wheels showstopper, inspired by personal stories and pop culture touchstones. Working alongside a team of automotive magicians known as 'The Car Pool,' the two Superfans will manufacture their designs in high-tech, decked-out garages." There is also a chance to raise the stakes via "the Inspirationator 5000, a larger-than-life vending machine that will rev up in each episode to present the Superfans with a twist in the road."

While Wood acts as host, he will surely not be the only familiar face seen during the wild ride. Among the celebrity judges making an appearance on "Hot Wheels: Ultimate Challenge" are "Community" and "The Soup's" Joel McHale; comedian and star of the recently finished sitcom "Black-ish," Anthony Anderson; WWE Superstar Ettore Ewen, better known by the moniker Big E; and "Brooklyn Nine-Nine" star and "America's Got Talent" host Terry Crews.

Perhaps unsurprisingly, two famous car lovers are also welcomed to the show's premiere season as guest judges: former "Tonight Show" host Jay Leno and star of the Fast and Furious saga, Sung Kang.

Leno, who also hosts the web series "Jay Leno's Garage," is the proud owner of roughly 180 cars and 160 motorcycles, valued at more than $52 million. Widely recognized as one of the most knowledgeable car fanatics in Hollywood, Leno will bring his insight and interest to "Hot Wheels: Ultimate Challenge" as he assesses the final products presented by the eager contestants.

As for Kang, who originated the role of Han Lue in the third Fast and Furious film, subtitled "Tokyo Drift" (2006), the actor has collected several custom cars over the years. These include a Nissan 240SX, a 1967 Mustang Fastback and the 1973 Datsun 240Z he restored himself and which he "affectionately refers to as 'Fugu Z,' according to the Rubber B website, which featured Kang in a promotional profile for the Swiss watch brand.

Corie Henson, executive vice-president of unscripted programming for NBCUniversal Television and Streaming, announced her excitement for the program in a statement, saying, "Everyone remembers their first car, the life experiences they had and the friends who came along for the ride. Hot Wheels is a legendary brand with broad appeal that has created a space for imaginations to run free. We are so thrilled to partner with Mattel to combine this nostalgia with fantastical, extreme car transformations."

“Drag Me to Dinner”

Hosted by NYC legend and comedian Murray Hill (“Somebody Somewhere”), each episode sees two teams of successful drag queens go head-to-head in the ultimate dinner party battle, as they compete “to throw the most fabulous, awe-inspiring, drag-tastical dinner parties of all time” and take home “The Glorious Golden Grater — because one team may be GREAT ... but the other is GRATER!” (per Hulu). Working off a weekly theme, the queens bring out their hosting best for an esteemed judging panel, which includes Neil Patrick Harris (“How I Met Your Mother”), Bianca Del Rio (Season 6 winner of “RuPaul’s Drag Race”) and Haneeah Wood (“Truth Be Told”).

“Movie: Mummies”

This animated family flick follows three ancient Egyptian mummies who live in an underground secret city, hidden in ancient Egypt — including a princess, a former charioteer and his younger brother, along with their pet baby crocodile — as they end up in present-day London and embark on a wild journey in search of an old ring belonging to the Royal Family, which was stolen by an ambitious archaeologist.

“Movie: The Old Way”

When an outlaw and his gang seek out gunslinger-turned-family man Colton Briggs (Nicolas Cage, “Renfield,” 2023) seeking revenge, Colton must team up with an unexpected partner — his 12-year-old daughter (Ryan Kiera Armstrong, “American Horror Story”) — to fight them off and protect their family.

MAY 30 "I Think You Should Leave With Tim Robinson: Season 3"

Back for more off-the-wall and hilariously cringe-worthy content, this Emmy-winning sketch comedy series pokes fun at some of life's most bizarre and mundane situations. Usually featuring co-creator Tim Robinson ("Saturday Night Live") as the one who should leave, the series sees Robinson and his guest stars navigating hilariously socially awkward predicaments, from choking on hot dogs and hosting an intervention in a Garfield-themed house to uncomfortable job interviews and much more.

JUNE 2 "Manifest: Season 4, Part 2"

Struggling in the aftermath of the devastating volcanic fissure Angelina (Holly Taylor, "The Americans") released, the passengers face severe scrutiny in a world fueled by 828er hate. They are no longer free to solve their own Callings without constant supervision by the unscrupulous 828 Registry. Meanwhile, a mysterious accident delivers ominous warnings on a biblical scale that will further jeopardize the livelihood of all the passengers. Ben (Josh Dallas, "Once Upon a Time") and Saanvi (Parveen Kaur, "The Strain") attempt to collaborate with the Registry authorities, a mythological event reactivates Cal's (Ty Doran, "American Crime") sapphire-laden dragon scar.

JUNE 1 "Movie: A Beautiful Life"

A romantic, musical journey, this new Danish film stars Danish musician Christopher ("When I Get Old") in his first leading acting role as Elliott, a young fisherman with an extraordinary voice. When he is discovered by a successful, high-profile music manager, he soon finds himself falling for her daughter, Lilly (Inga Ibsdotter Lilleaas, "The Last King," 2016). As his new career and relationship with Lilly start to blossom, ghosts from his past threaten to tear it all down.

"LEGO Ninjago: Dragons Rising"

In this new computer-animated children's series, many legendary realms have suddenly combined into one, but their union is unstable. A Spinjitzu Ninja Master must train a new generation of heroes to help find Elemental Dragons who can save the planet before the forces of evil use the same dragon energy to destroy this new world.

Joanna Gaines hosts new Magnolia baking competition

Lovers of puff pastries, cupcakes and scones unite! This summer is set to be full of delicious treats, as the talented Joanna Gaines welcomes hopeful bakers to the “Silos Baking Competition,” premiering Sunday, May 28, on the Magnolia Network.

Filmed in front of a live studio audience at the Gaines’ Silos shopping complex in Waco, Texas, this new baking competition takes a different approach to the usual season-long competition format, instead welcoming a rotation of guest chefs during its duration. Each episode, Gaines welcomes five baking enthusiasts to the studio stage, offering them the opportunity to craft their best dishes for a panel of guest judges, including both Andrew Zimmern (“Family Dinner”) and Zoë François (“Zoë Bakes”). One winning dish will be chosen each episode, and in the finale, the five winners from previous episodes will return to compete, vying for the title of Baking Champion, the $100,000 grand prize and the chance to have their winning confection join the summer menu at Magnolia’s Silos Baking Company.

Owned by Gaines, the Silos Baking Company has been running since 2016, offering sweets and treats such as biscuits, muffins and cookies to visitors and shoppers at the Silos. Many of the recipes were developed by Gaines herself, including “the prize pig” — a savory bacon and cheddar biscuit. A designer first and foremost, many of the owner’s concoctions bear fun names like “the shiplap cupcake.”

While this will be the designer’s first competitive baking show, it is far from her first experience working on television. Joanna hosted “Fixer Upper” and its offshoots alongside her husband, Chip, who also makes the occasional appearance in this latest venture.

Aside from that, Gaines is also the co-founder of Magnolia (and its associated Magnolia Network and Magnolia Journal, of which she is also editor-in-chief), she is a New York Times bestselling author of multiple cookbooks, and, unsurprisingly, Joanna is quite the cook herself, previously having filmed an in-home special with the Food Network, “At Home With Joanna,” in which viewers watched as she made family favorites like zucchini bread, chili, chocolate cookies and more. She now hosts “Magnolia Table With Joanna Gaines,” much in the same vein, alongside this fledgling competition.

With last summer’s one-off episode of “Silos Baking Competition: Holiday Edition” tallying more than 1.8 million views on premiere night, countless accolades and thriving businesses already under her belt, and ample experience in the kitchen, Joanna Gaines is set to impress yet again with “Silos’ Baking Competition,” premiering Sunday, May 28, on the Magnolia Network.

BEST KATHARINE HEPBURN MOVIES

“Morning Glory” (1933): Turner Classic Movies’ “Star of the Month” on Thursdays starting June 1, Hepburn won the first of her four Oscars by playing an aspiring actress who knows how beneficial each of several suitors could be to her career.

“Little Women” (1933): One of the most filmed of all stories, Louisa May Alcott’s long-beloved tale of the March sisters certainly profited from having Hepburn in this rendering.

“Alice Adams” (1935): A would-be social butterfly, the title character in this drama marked a sizable step forward for Hepburn in terms of screen image.

“Bringing Up Baby” (1938): Legendary as one of the foremost examples of “screwball comedy,” director George Cukor’s comedy features a delightful Hepburn as an heiress whose daffy ways confound a straight-arrow paleontologist (Cary Grant). “Baby,” by the way, is the Hepburn character’s pet leopard ... and who doesn’t have one of those?

“The Philadelphia Story” (1940): The star power is enormous here, with Hepburn as a society woman about to remarry, concerning both her ex-husband (Cary Grant) and a journalist (James Stewart).

“Woman of the Year” (1942): Hepburn and Spencer Tracy made for one of the legendary screen duos, and in this great comedy marking their first teaming, they play married rivals working for the same newspaper. Consider the possibilities.

“Adam’s Rib” (1949): Once again, Hepburn and Tracy are pitted against each other in a great love match as lawyers handling the same case on different sides.

“The African Queen” (1951): Humphrey Bogart walked away with an Oscar, but Hepburn is just as essential to the famous saga of mismatched companions trying to negotiate World War I aboard a rickety boat.

June 2 "Deadloch"

This eight-part Australian dark comedy series, set in the sleepy seaside hamlet of Deadloch, Tasmania, kicks off when a local man turns up dead on the beach and the town is left reeling. Two detectives are thrown together to solve the case: fastidious local Senior Sgt. Dulcie Collins (Kate Box, "Rake") and Senior Investigator Eddie Redcliffe (Madeleine Sami, "Super City"), a rough blow-in from Darwin. As the town gets ready for its annual arts, food and culture event — the Winter Feastival — the duo, along with their overeager junior constable, Abby (Nina Oyama, "Utopia"), put their differences aside as they work together to find the killer.

"With Love: Season 2"

The new season of this rom-com series finds Lily focusing all of her energy on a journey of self-love after her whirlwind romance with Santiago (Rome Flynn, "How to Get Away With Murder") by growing her business and looking for more independence. But with the potential for love knocking at her door, she'll have to decide what's best for her future. Meanwhile, Jorge struggles in his relationship with Henry (Vincent Rodriguez III, "Crazy Ex-Girlfriend"), and meeting Henry's parents has him questioning whether they're truly compatible.

May 29 "Movie: Hot Pursuit"

Escorting the outgoing widow (Sofia Vergara, "Modern Family") of a drug boss on a journey across Texas, uptight and by-the-book cop (Reese Witherspoon, "Wild," 2014) must protect her charge from a slew of crooked cops and murderous gunman. Matthew Del Negro ("City on a Hill"), Michael Mosley ("Ozark"), Robert Kazinsky ("Pacific Rim," 2013), Richard T. Jones ("The Rookie") and Michael Ray Escamilla ("Snowfall") also star.

May 28 "Movie: She Said"

This biographical drama film tells the story of New York Times reporters Megan Twohey (Carey Mulligan, "Inside Llewyn Davis," 2013) and Jodi Kantor (Zoe Kazan, "Ruby Sparks," 2012) as they break one of the most important stories in a generation — one that helped ignite a movement and shattered decades of silence around the subject of sexual assault in Hollywood.

Q: It's very clever how there's an edition of "NBC Nightly News" for kids. How long has that been running? — Evelyn Morse, via e-mail

A: It began as a venture for NBC News' YouTube channel in the spring of 2020, and that fall, the network also started adding it to its on-air weekend lineup for young viewers. Weeknight anchor Lester Holt hosts the program, which uses the resources of the full news division; a recent edition had reports by Anne Thompson and Erin McLaughlin, also frequent contributors to the evening broadcasts.

Q: I know Steve McQueen and Robert Vaughn were both in "Bullitt" and "The Towering Inferno." Were they both in any other movies together? — Jack Shawn, Grove City, Ohio

A: Yes, and it was a classic that did much for both of their careers. They were two of "The Magnificent Seven" in the 1960 Western that adapted the Japanese film "Seven Samurai," about protectors hired by the residents of an oppressed village.

Q: Will "The $100,000 Pyramid" be back this summer? — Carol Anderson, Antioch, Calif.

A: It will. The seventh season of the ABC game-show revival premieres July 9, and host Michael Strahan tweeted several weeks ago that it has been taped fully already. That's not a surprise, particularly with games that are hosted by people who have other full-time jobs ... in Strahan's case, that being "Good Morning America," of course. A block of time over several weeks is carved out for production of an entire season of the contest (which really is only a couple of months for "Pyramid") to be accomplished. In fairness, though, the number of "Pyramid" games is twice the number of episodes, since two complete games are played over the course of any given hour of the program.

All the while, Kiff and Barry Buns work to navigate life at school, their parents and their eccentric neighbors.

Together with his friends Miles Morales, aka Spin (Jakari Fraser, "Blaze and the Monster Machines") and Gwen Stacy, aka Ghost-Spider (Lily Sanfelippo, "Turning Red," 2022), Spidey teams up with other Marvel heroes to take down evil villains and save the day.

"Movie: Spider-Man: Homecoming"

After being introduced to Tony Stark (Robert Downey Jr., "Iron Man," 2008) and the Avengers in "Captain America: Civil War" (2016), Peter Parker, a.k.a. Spider-Man (Tom Holland, "Uncharted," 2022) must return to a (somewhat) normal life. Now, navigating his newly-found, secret identity as a web-slinging superhero, Parker lives a double life – living with Aunt May (Marisa Tomei, "My Cousin Vinny," 1992), going to high school, seeing friends, doing homework, catching bad guys and, of course, spending time with M.J. (Zendaya, "Euphoria"). However, Parker finds his chance to prove he's more than a kid in a costume when a menace begins to circle the skies of New York City.

What our customers say about us...

Two of my friends recommended Creeks to me and I'm so glad they did. The estimator was friendly, open and honest and gave several options and the installers were courteous, on time and cleaned up the working area. Plus, the system works great. No one likes to have to buy a new AC in the middle of summer, but their price was fair and the work was good. Highly recommend! - Renay T.

The polite voice answering your call will reassure and work proficiently to accommodate answering your questions while placing your needs as their priority. I have called upon them on two separate occasions in two different homes (never the same unit) over the past 15 years and will continue to use them if I need HVAC repair or replacement. - DC Junior
