Just like magic: Original fantasy-adventure series 'Renegade Nell' premieres

One exceptional young woman drives polite society mad on her journey to fulfill an unexpected destiny in "Renegade Nell," an original historical adventure series premiering Friday, March 29, on Disney+. All eight episodes of the family-friendly fantasy series drop on the streamer on premiere day.

Nell Jackson, portrayed by "Derry Girls" star Louisa Harland, is a clever, brave woman who makes a name for herself as a highwaywoman in 18th-century England after she is framed for murder. Petty theft on the road keeps Nell afloat until she discovers she is destined for something beyond her wildest imagination. When powers enchant Nell, they make her even more of a force than she was on her own.

A magical spirit appears to Nell in the form of Billy Blind (Nick Mohammed, "Ted Lasso") to help her on her adventures — a sort of Tinker Bell-type fairy sidekick. Nell's abilities to evade capture and survive on her own get her into as much trouble as they keep her out of. With seemingly everyone after her for one reason or another, Nell thrives as an outlaw possessed by magical powers that make her stronger, faster and more capable than she ever was before.

Also starring in "Renegade Nell" are Frank Dillane ("Fear the Walking Dead") as Nell's difficult, fair-weather friend, Charles Devereux; Adrian Lester ("The Undeclared War") as the well-connected Earl of Poynton; Alice Kremelberg ("The Sinner") as power-hungry Sofia Wilmot; and Joely Richardson ("The Sandman") as oddball newspaper magnate Lady Eularia Moggerhanger.

Rounding out the cast are Pip Torrens ("The Crown") as Lord Blancheford, Jake Dunn ("Big Boys") as Thomas Blancheford, Enyi Okoronkwo ("The Lazarus Project") as Rasselas and Craig Parkinson ("Line of Duty") as Nell's father, Sam. Newcomers Bo Bragason and Florence Keen star as Nell's younger sisters, Roxy and George.

Sofia, a widow motivated by a need for power and independence, is the architect of a scheme to bring down Nell. Aiding Sofia in her plot is the Earl, an influential political figure with the connections she needs to get the job done. Unfortunately for the pair of strategists, Nell more than lives up to the talk going around town.

In an official trailer for the series, excited gossips speak of Nell, saying, "she's unnatural," and "she is formidable," before Nell herself warns a foe, "you don't want to mess with me." Nell literally has the fighting spirit, as Sofia points out in the trailer, saying, "she fights as though she's possessed." Something comes over the titular renegade in these battles; whether it's a firefight or hand-to-hand combat, a dark glow reaches her eyes and Nell cannot be bested.

Nell is joined on her adventure by her two sisters, as well as Rasselas. Inspired by the chance to chase his own freedom, Rasselas leaves his life as a stable boy behind to help Nell, Roxy and George on their journeys. The troupe, with Billy Blind in tow, earns quite a reputation all across the country while on the run. As Lady Eularia claims in the series trailer, "if you haven't heard of Nell Jackson, then you're the only person in England who hasn't."

Known for crafting satisfyingly complex adult dramas such as "Last Tango in Halifax" and "Gentleman Jack," "Renegade Nell" is a bit of a departure for series creator Sally Wainwright, who is also the BAFTA Award-winning series creator of small-town British crime drama "Happy Valley." In an appearance on "The Graham Norton Show" this February, Lester shared that the new series "is really good fun. It's very different for Sally Wainwright. She's put political intrigue, sprites, magic, lots of fighting, highway robbery and Regency England in a big pot, gave it a stir, and out came an amazing idea." In further praise, Lester said, "It is really good writing and I have a really good time being bad."

“Vanderpump Villa” - Season 1 (April 1)

Decadence and debauchery collide in this new, unscripted docu-drama, following Lisa Vanderpump's hand-selected staff as they work, live and play at an exclusive French estate: Chateau Rosabelle. It follows the elite staff as they try to provide luxurious, once-in-a-lifetime experiences for guests while dealing with the rivalries, romances and raucous misadventures that come from working and living together 24/7.

“American Horror Story: Delicate” - Part 2 (April 4)

Returning with Part 2, this installment of the horror anthology series from Ryan Murphy and Brad Falchuk is adapting its story from Danielle Valentine's book “Delicate Condition.” While the series is notoriously close-lipped about plotlines, the book's synopsis may provide viewers with a peak at what is to come. Emma Roberts, Cara Delevingne, Matt Czuchry, Michaela Jaé (MJ) Rodriguez, Kim Kardashian, Julie White, Debra Monk and Annabelle Dexter-Jones star.

“Anatomy of a Fall” (Available Now)

In this Oscar winner, Sandra (Sandra Huller), her husband Samuel (Samuel Theis) and their young son Daniel (Milo Machado-Graner) live a secluded life in a remote town in the French Alps. When Samuel is found dead in the snow below their chalet, the police question whether he was murdered or committed suicide. What follows is not just an investigation into the circumstances of Samuel's death but an unsettling psychological journey into the depths of Sandra and Samuel's conflicted relationship.

“Poor Things” (Available Now)

Based on the Novel of the same name, this four-time Oscar-winning film tells the incredible tale and fantastical evolution of Bella Baxter (Emma Stone), a young woman brought back to life by the brilliant and unorthodox scientist Dr. Godwin Baxter (Willem Dafoe). Under Baxter's protection, Bella is eager to learn. Hungry for the worldliness she is lacking, Bella runs off with Duncan Wedderburn (Mark Ruffalo), a slick and debauched lawyer, on a whirlwind adventure across the continents. Free from the prejudices of her times, Bella grows steadfast in her purpose to stand for equality and liberation.

Based on the novel by Amor Towles, the premiere episode of this brand-new series follows as the fictional Count Alexander Rostov (Ewan McGregor) is stripped of aristocratic privileges and sentenced to life imprisonment at the Metropol Hotel, where he must contend with allies and foes, eventually befriend Nina (Alexa Goodall), a nine-year-old girl who changes his life. "A Gentleman in Moscow" makes its debut Sunday, March 31, on Showtime, with an official trailer available at youtube.com/watch?v=5PpUtjZB5g

The island is hot and unforgiving, but the money is worth it. The dust has settled following the first game against the enigmatic Banker, leaving fans to wonder which contestants remain. With the stakes (and the temperature) rising higher than ever, host Joe Manganiello tasks those who remain with retrieving more hidden briefcases from around the island. "Deal or No Deal Island" continues with an all-new episode, airing Monday, April 1, on NBC. Missed an episode? Catch up, with Season 1 available to stream on nbc.com/deal-or-no-deal-island

Ante up: Celebrity chefs bet big in after-hours culinary poker challenge

Cooking requires focus, quick thinking and talent — and so does poker. Hosted by Eric Adjepong (“Alex Vs. America”), the all-new, high-stakes cooking competition, “Wildcard Kitchen,” serves up challenges like never before, with new episodes airing Tuesdays on Food Network.

“We’re serving up our first-ever after-hours culinary poker game in [an] all-new series,” Food Network announced in a recent news release.

“In each episode,” they say, “host Eric Adjepong takes over the test kitchen after hours with an exclusive invitation for three chefs to bring $5,000 to play across three hands of his underground culinary poker game.”

“The competitors, who all know each other well, have scores to settle and personal stakes to lose as they battle to create dishes based on the cards they are dealt and bet using their own instincts and cold, hard cash. The luck of the draw determines the dishes and cooking time, while wildcards deal unpredictable challenges into the mix that test the chefs like never before. From surf and turf with peanut butter to live crab with kimchi, anything can happen in ‘Wildcard Kitchen’ as mystery guest judges use blind taste tests to determine who walks away the high roller with bragging rights and cash from their fellow chefs.”

With a novel concept and a hot pot of cash, many Food Network favorites have jumped at the opportunity to participate in this series’ inaugural season, leading to a lineup of competitors including “Chopped” judges Maneet Chauhan, Brian Malarkey and Marc Murphy; Italian cuisine masters Gabriele Bertaccini (“Ciao House”), Rocco Dispirito (“Rocco’s Dinner Party”) and Antonia Lofaso (“Cutthroat Kitchen”); and best friends Stephanie Izard (“Guy’s Grocery Games: All-Star Invitational”), Joe Sasto (“The Great Food Truck Race”) and Justin Sutherland (“Fast Foodies”).

Judging their skills will be talented guest stars Anne Burrell (“Secrets of a Restaurant Chef”), Esther Choi (“Her Name Is Chef,” 2021) and Scott Conant (“Outchefs’d”), who ultimately have the final say in who “rolled with the dices” the best, and who should have folded when they had the chance.

Betsy Ayala, head of content and food at Warner Bros. Discovery, said: “Wildcard Kitchen’ makes viewers feel like they are behind the scenes for an exclusive late-night poker game with their favorite chefs. The competition and good-natured trash talk is fierce, funny and unlike anything Food Network has offered.”

Fresh, fun and flavorful, “Wildcard Kitchen” airs Tuesdays on Food Network.

Robert De Niro in “Raging Bull”

BEST MARTIN SCORSESE MOVIES

“Mean Streets” (1973): With two of his favorite pictures by other directors represented Saturday, April 6, on Turner Classic Movies, Scorsese recalled his Little Italy boyhood to fuel this first of his many collaborations with actor Robert De Niro.

“Raging Bull” (1980): De Niro nabbed an Oscar for his remarkable transformation as boxer Jake LaMotta in Scorsese’s gritty biography, also boasting superb supporting work by Joe Pesci.

“The King of Comedy” (1983): De Niro is typically great as an obsessed fan, but the true revelation in Scorsese’s comedy-drama is Jerry Lewis, in a knowing and rather chilling performance as the talk-show host who’s the object of the obsession.

“The Age of Innocence” (1993): Edith Wharton’s novel gave Scorsese the means of diving atypically into a way-past period drama, beautifully executed despite its failure at the box office.

“Gangs of New York” (2002): Another period piece, but with much more energy, was Scorsese’s saga of the conflict between mid-19th-century gang leaders (Daniel Day-Lewis, Leonardo DiCaprio).

“The Aviator” (2004): Scorsese’s portrait of reclusive billionaire Howard Hughes (DiCaprio) also captures the era’s Hollywood in great detail. Cate Blanchett won an Oscar for her portrayal of Katharine Hepburn.

“The Departed” (2006): Director Scorsese earned a long-elusive Oscar for this Americanization of the Hong Kong drama “Infernal Affairs,” with a cop (DiCaprio) and a mobster (Matt Damon) infiltrating each other’s spaces. Jack Nicholson contributes superb supporting work as a veteran of the Boston underworld.

“Killers of the Flower Moon” (2023): Scorsese earned his latest Oscar nomination as a director for this fact-inspired drama, again teaming him with DiCaprio and De Niro, about the conflict over oil discovered on an Oklahoma reservation.

Jennifer Esposito reappears in “Blue Bloods”

Q: It was nice to see Jennifer Esposito back on “Blue Bloods” recently. What else has she been doing lately? – Richard Ellison, via e-mail

A: She has dedicated much of her time to becoming a filmmaker, which she achieved last year by writing, directing, producing and starring in the drama movie “Fresh Kills.” She played a woman who married into an underworld family, bringing danger to her and her daughters ... and she attained funding to make the movie through investments from fans. Shown at some film festivals (including Tribeca) last year, the film is slated to get a general release in May.

‘Blue Bloods’ alum Jennifer Esposito expands her horizons

Esposito was a cast regular in CBS’ “Blue Bloods” during its first three seasons, but her condition of celiac disease meant limitations on her availability for work. She then was written out of the series, but she returned as a guest star in a Season 13 episode as well as the one that aired in February. It's possible that she could return to the show yet again, since her character Jackie Curatola's former partner Danny Reagan (Donnie Wahlberg) let her know her presence was always welcome. She replied, “You know where to find me.”

Q: I was moved by the recent “NCIS” episode that paid tribute to David McCallum. When did the last episode in which he was an active character air? – Mel Collins, via e-mail

A: That would have been last season's finale, titled “Black Sky.” McCallum always was present in the opening credits, even though he was acting in the CBS show on a recurring basis; in Season 20, he performed in only four of the 22 episodes.

The plentiful archival clips culled from earlier stories made sure that he was present in the February episode — co-written by co-star Brian Dietzen, who plays Dr. Jimmy Palmer, Ducky's protegee — that bade farewell to his character, Dr. Donald “Ducky” Mallard, who had gone from being the unit's chief medical examiner to its historian.

What our customers say about us...

Two of my friends recommended Creeks to me and I'm so glad they did. The estimator was friendly, open and honest and gave several options and the installers were courteous, on time and cleaned up the working area. Plus, the system works great. No one likes to have to buy a new AC in the middle of summer, but their price was fair and the work was good. Highly recommend!
