Legislators give school board update

Third grade retention law discussed

By DAWN HANKINS
dhankins@t-g.com

State Sen. Shane Reeves and State Rep. Pat Marsh were invited to give a legislative update Thursday evening to Bedford County school board. One topic of high interest was the third grade retention law, which the legislature passed into law last spring.

It has not gone over well since with parents and educators. It is being deemed as unmeasurable and potentially very costly to school systems.

Still, it's current state law.

A new session is about to open in Nashville, so school board members were anxious to hear what's about to change, or not change, about third grade retention this legislative session.

Before he got to third grade retention, Marsh explained that TISA or the Tennessee Investment in Student Achievement formula is a project that the state has worked on for over a year. He said likely, it was the biggest bill to be approved all year long

TISA will replace the 30-year-old Basic Education Program or BEP formula. There are a lot of educators and others in the state applauding that measure.

Marsh said the house education committee, educators, supervisors and students have all given their input to the legislature. Marsh added that the bottom line is that TISA was something that Gov. Bill Lee, recently re-elected for a second term, was passionate about getting passed. He added how the governor wants to "hopefully taking education to new heights in State of TN."

School board members learned that the state is going to put in an extra $1 billion dollars into education in 2022. Bedford County, he advised, is going to get $11 million.

A merrier Christmas for school employees?

Bonuses pending state approval

By DAWN HANKINS
dhankins@t-g.com

Following a formal announcement of local teachers in high ranking with the state, Director of Bedford County Schools Tammy Garrett asked the school board on Thursday evening to approve bonus pay for all school employees.

"All school employees," Garrett said, include those employed since Sept. 1, 2022, as full or part-time, excluding school tutors and after school program employees (S.A.C.P.) The full-time employees will earn a $1,000 bonus and all part-timers were approved for $500.

There are approximately 1,600 employees that will get what is being deemed, "A Christmas miracle" during a time of high inflation rates.

Since this bonus money will be coming from some of the last ESSER or federal pandemic funds, the state will have to approve this amendment before the bonus dollars can be released to employees.

Garrett advised board members the amendment is based on COVID-19 experiences, and all encompassed in school life within the last couple of years. She advised the bonus money was needed to say "thanks" and for "morale."

"Our employees have worked tirelessly, mitigating the learning loss of students, due to COVID," advised Garrett. We're still working on that everyday."

She added how educators are still involved in ongoing social and emotional learning, largely as a result of the pandemic. She advised how a lot of kids are still struggling, due to the associated isolation.

She continued that teachers are covering multiple classes, due to a lack of substitutes. As well, employees from supervisors to bus drivers have all dealt with bouts of COVID, flu and strep.

The superintendent simply surmised, "I think our folks could use a bonus."

The board unanimously approved. Bedford County Finance Director, Robert Daniel, advised that the bonus money

State ranks reward schools, teachers

Guests for the board meeting included State Sen. Shane Reeves and State Rep. Pat Marsh, who made an official proclamation and presentation to pre-K teacher, Rachel Porter—a recent state finalist for "Teacher of the Year."

Cascade Middle and Community Elementary were recognized for being "Level 5" schools. Cascade Middle, also a state Reward School for high achievement, also made it into the top 5% in the state in achievement/ growth.

As a result of the 2021-22 spring testing data, Bedford County was able to celebrate 30 teachers, spread over 11 local schools, who achieved the highest level, "Level 5 status," for individual year growth. TVAAS academic growth is measured over time, which means their students demonstrated slightly more significant academic growth.

The following "Level 5" teachers were recognized:

- Cascade Elementary—Michelle Henke and Kristi Terceira
- Eakin Elementary— Kari Tisma (now at Cascade Elementary)
- Cascade Middle— Keith Wilder, James Abbott, Meredith Spears, Blair Turner and Charles Dial

Partnership takes look at Path Forward

By ZOË WATKINS
zwatkins@t-g.com

The Shelbyville-Bedford Partnership hosted their annual Path Forward event last Monday to give updates on what the partnership has accomplished as well as any goals they have for the future.

CEO Shane Hooper said the Partnership has grown in partners to include the Tennessee Valley Authority, Middle Tennessee Industrial Development Association, the Tennessee Department of Transportation, Tennessee Department of Environment and Conservation, and Tennessee Department of Economic & Community Development.

Hooper also talked about the $1 million site development grant going to the Shelbyville Power, Water, & Sewer system for sewer upgrades at the 231 North Industrial Park. Another $6 million state industrial access road grant through TDOT will widen portions of Frank Martin Road.

MTSU's Patterson named Physician Assistant of the Year by state organization

MURFREESBORO, Tenn. — Marie Patterson, the director of MTSU's Physician Assistant Studies program, has been named the Physician Assistant of the Year by the Tennessee Academy of Physician Assistants.

Patterson has worked as both a clinician and an educator, and for many years staffed the student health center at MTSU, according to a TAPA announcement. She moved into academia in 2017 when she helped establish the PA Program at Lipscomb University in Nashville, Tennessee, and served as both an assistant professor and the admissions director.

In 2020, she was named the program director for the PA program at Middle Tennessee State University and launched that program, which started its first class in May of this year. Those who successfully complete the program earn a Master of Science in Physician Assistant Studies.

"I am deeply honored to receive this recognition from my peers," Patterson said. "I thoroughly enjoy all aspects of the PA profession including advocacy, education and clinical practice. I try to help whenever I am needed, and I strive to be a good example for the next generation of PAs."

Patterson, who has a doctorate in health science, has long been involved with TAPA, serving as the TAPA Board secretary from 2005-2009, and she is the current TAPA vice president. She was appointed by the governor to the Board of PAs in 2018 and is currently the board chair. She was one of TAPA's delegates to the AAAPA House of Delegates in 2019 and was recently elected to serve again in 2023 and 2024.

TAPA's announcement noted that Patterson has taken a particular interest in state compact licensure for PAs and represented the Board of PAs at the Compact Licensure Meeting with the Federation of State Medical Boards in 2019 and 2021.

She has been active with her church through mission work and participated in a medical mission trip to Kenya in 2001. She is also a regular fundraiser and team captain for the Special Kids race, all while raising eight children.

"Patterson has been a regular attendee of PA Day on the Hill and often goes out of her way to mentor students and attend their meetings with them. She has developed strong relationships with her state legislators which has been beneficial to TAPA's legislative efforts," the announcement stated.

Get a senior a great gift this year

Dear Heloise: I read your column about gifts and wanted to share some ideas I've discovered. I will be 90 in November. I live independently, but no longer drive. While the suggestions so far were good, I've found that I don't need many "things" anymore. I much prefer gift cards. The hair salon is a big one, but grocery and retail stores are also welcome.

Hints from Heloise

I thought of something different this year as well. I drink a high-protein food supplement once or twice a day. They can be expensive, so one of my grandsons has a case of my choice delivered to me once a month. This is a big plus. His brother has also set up a regular delivery of my over-the-counter vitamins and supplements I take. They are all recommended by my doctor. I've found that just an offer to go along to a grocery or retail store when someone else is going is appreciated, but seldom thought of. Just getting out of the house, even to the store, is a huge gift to seniors who can no longer drive! Gifts of yardwork are good, too. I hope this will create some new ideas for gift givers this year. I love your hints and solutions! -- Diane V., Pennsylvania trade. I felt it necessary to explain a better way to remove a broken light bulb from a lighting fixture. To easily and safely remove a broken light-bulb from a light fixture, use the end of a carrot or potato, cut to fit the lightbulb base. Make sure the power is off. I don't mean to scare anyone, but sometimes even with the power off, there is some current coming back into the light fixture. Push the potato into the broken light bulb and turn it "lefty loosey." This way, there will be no damage to the light fixture's base, or to you. When using a set of pliers, as suggested in one of your recent columns, you might damage the light fixture or get a slight tingle from stray current in the light fixture circuit. Glad to be of help in keeping everyone as safe as possible around electricity in their home. -- Laura Vergeront, Retired Union Electrician, Riverside, California

CLEAN WITH A FLASHLIGHT

Dear Heloise: I've been doing this since we moved into our new smaller home, and I wondered why I didn't do it before! We no longer have much carpeting, but now a waterproof floor and two small dogs. I vacuum, but realized that it was not enough after laying a powerful flashlight sideways on the floor! Oh, my! Now, I do this every time I vacuum and feel SO much better after, as do my lungs! Hope it helps others! -- Chris Ziegler, Reading, Pennsylvania

DRINKING WHILE DRIVING

Dear Heloise: Insert a straw in your coffee lid to drink while driving, which prevents spillage! -- Donna Nugent and Ronald Morgan, The Villages, Florida

Chabbi's opens in Wartrace

By ZOË WATKINS
zwatkins@t-g.com

The Garden is a newly renovated Wartrace building and the home of the bakery Chabbi's Sweets and Eats.

Located on the corner of East Main Street, it's a cozy, green stucco building. Upon entering, guests are greeted with the warm smells of carrot cake, fudge, and muffins. Antique furniture makes sitting down in the atmosphere a unique place to enjoy a cup of coffee and chat with bakery owners Becky Lamastus and her husband Gary.

Becky met Shelia LeDere, who owns The Garden as well as the businesses The Old Petticoat and Seven on Main, a few years back.

Shelia's vision for The Garden is an outdoor venue and formal garden. They hope to turn the carriage house into a "shabby chic" shed with French doors, while the lawn will be decorated with tables and chairs and even chandeliers in the trees for guests to come relax and enjoy Wartrace.

It's just one of the many new businesses coming to the little depot town to fill the "need of the people," according to Shelia.

Chabbi's

Originally from Indiana and Louisiana, respectively, Becky and Gary have made their home in the Unionville area of Chapel Hill where she ran the online bakery Chabbi's Fudge and More.

The name "Chabbi" comes from a combination of the Lamastus' granddaughters Charlie and Abbi.

But where did Becky get her baking skills from? Well, Becky said she "just did it." Growing up, she did bake a lot with her grandmother and aunt.

As her saying goes, "I bake to make others happy."

She started out making small cakes, breads, and fudges. "And it just got bigger. People started asking me to make cakes."

Fudge is her best seller. But Becky said she also enjoys making pies and cinnamon rolls as well as peanut balls, which she custom makes with Oreos, cereal, and M&Ms.

Though an excellent baker, Becky says, "I don't do a whole lot of the cooking side. I can. But I choose to bake."

Before getting into baking, Becky was a part of the restaurant industry, working in management. So, the transition to this new bakery was pretty seamless.

"This is a whole new avenue. Normally, I have an idea of what to sell based on past sells." The Wartrace vendor fair events helped with that, where she sold baked goods at different festivals.

"Then it blew up into this," she said.

"We threw this thing together quickly and did it," Gary said.

But Becky and Gary are not done yet. In addition to working on their building, Becky said they plan to start selling heartier foods like burgers and sandwiches in addition to their biscuits and gravy.

And, of course, they love the Wartrace area for its small-town feel.

"Small businesses are important because it's about the people and it keeps the community going," she said.

"You've got to keep the small-town mentality," Gary added.

In the end, they are most looking forward to growing and working with the community.

Gary adds, "Plus, I like working with my wife... We always talked about doing something together." They've been married for almost 12 years.

Right now, Chabbi's is open from 8:30 a.m. to 4 p.m. Tuesday through Friday and 8 a.m. to 4 p.m. on Saturday.

Visit their Facebook page Chabbi's Sweets and Eats for more information or call (931) 434-3221.

Chabbi's is a cozy spot, perfect for an afternoon coffee break.

Submitted Photo
 Cascade FFA member and Middle Region President, Laurel Cox, was in attendance at the signing of the MOU between Tennessee's departments of Agriculture and Education that occurred on Wednesday, Nov. 9, at the Tennessee State Capitol. It's and signifies a partnership between the two departments that strengthens agriculture education within the state through the Tennessee FFA Association. This partnership has been years in the making and opens the door for massive improvements in the state's largest industry of agriculture and forestry. Tennessee FFA is already one of the largest state associations within the National FFA Organization, and this memorandum will only produce more growth for the state.

Departments of Ag & Education Team Up

New model advances state FFA Program

Laurel Cox of Cascade High FFA, along with Jarrett Tubbs, Hannah Maddle, Garren Hamby, Phillip Baker-TN FFA Foundation Chairman, Congressman John Rose, Eric Mayberry- TN Farm Bureau President, Faith Cook, Jay Caldwell, Gracey Plemmons, and T. Wayne Williams, were all a part of a historic moment in Nashville recently.

The State of Tennessee is implementing a new model for agricultural education that will advance opportunities for students and enhance support for teachers.

The Tennessee Department of Agriculture (TDA) and the Tennessee Department of Education (TDOE) are partnering with a Memorandum of Understanding (MOU) to boost Tennessee's agricultural education programs through the FFA student organization. Tennessee's FFA enrollment has more than doubled since 2020, making it one of the largest FFA organizations in the nation.

Changes set forth in the MOU include creating six new staff positions at TDA that are focused on FFA members and their learning activities outside of the classroom, including the Supervised Agricultural Experience (SAE) programs and FFA competitions and events. The model creates an FFA State Director position under the purview of TDA. TDOE will continue to focus on in-classroom curriculum development and teacher support, and a new FFA Deputy State Director will be added to their staff.

"Agriculture is the top industry in the state, and developing future leaders in agriculture, food, fiber, and natural resource systems is essential to our economic outlook," Agriculture Commissioner Charlie Hatcher, D.V.M. said. "TDA is pleased to be a part of this new structure of collaboration with educators to better prepare the next generation of agricultural and forestry professionals. Anytime we can enhance learning experiences for students, we are all in." Experience beyond the classroom will be extended into communities to help students develop competencies in ag careers. TDA will design and facilitate immersive SAE projects that align with principles of agricultural education standards designed by TDOE.

"Tennessee understands the importance of agricultural education, and thanks to our state partners at TDA, Tennessee can provide even more supports and growth opportunities for students across the state," Education Commissioner Penny Schwinn, Ph.D. said. "The department will continue supporting teachers and ensure that this instruction is aligned with core FFA skills—science, math, communications, leadership, management, and technology—to support the postsecondary success of our students."

TDOE will design and implement K-12 agricultural education course standards and resources for classroom and laboratory instruction with the application of skills demonstrated in SAE projects and programs.

"Tennessee FFA is growing faster than ever and the need for aspiring leaders and workers is strong," State FFA President Taylor Cantrell said. "This new partnership between the Departments of Agriculture and Education will help students ultimately meet the needs of industry and of our communities. FFA members now and in the future will benefit from this positive change."

The Tennessee General Assembly and Gov. Bill Lee established an Agricultural Education and Youth Participation Task Force in 2019 to address the national decline in the number of young adults entering the agriculture workforce. A five-member, volunteer Agricultural Education Council will be established to serve as the primary advisory group for the agricultural education program model in Tennessee.

EQUIPMENT SALE

This is a reminder that the popular fall Equipment Consignment Sale will be held this Saturday, November 26, at the Bedford County Ag Center. The sale will begin at 9:00 a.m.

Equipment can be dropped off on Wednesday, November 23, and Friday, November 25. For more information, contact Bob Morton, Tradition Auctions, at 931-842-1234.

WHAT'S THE MARKET?

Drs. Aaron Smith and Andrew Griffith, crop and livestock economists with UT Extension, shared these comments.

Corn was up; soybeans, wheat and cotton were down for the week. In Tennessee, holding corn in storage without futures market price protection is a risky endeavor. Low water levels on the Mississippi River have complicated marketing decisions this year for many Tennessee corn producers. Typically, corn prices improve after harvest lows and producers can capture improved cash prices of 60-85 cents above the harvest low, depending on how long corn is held in storage. Futures markets have been volatile and downside risk is prevalent for corn futures prices.

Price movements in the futures market are completely out of the producer's control. Geopolitical events or weather can move prices substantially. Tennessee has a corn deficit meaning more corn is used than produced.

New crop cash prices ranged from $6.04 to $6.98 at elevators and barge points. December 2022 corn futures closed at $6.67, up 9 cents since last Friday. For the week, December 2022 corn futures traded between $6.52 and $6.75. March 2023 corn futures closed at $6.70, up 7 cents since last Friday. December 2023 corn futures closed at $6.10, up 1 cent since last Friday.

For the week, January 2023 soybean futures traded between $14.06 and $14.64. March 2023 soybean futures closed at $14.33, down 20 cents since last Friday. Cash soybean prices at elevators and barge points ranged from $14.32 to $15.00. November 2023 soybean futures closed at $13.73, down 14 cents since last Friday.

December 2022 cotton futures closed at 85.16 cents, down 3.04 cents since last Friday. For the week, December 2022 cotton futures traded between 84.18 and 91.85 cents. March 2023 cotton futures closed at 83.78 cents, down 2.55 cents since last Friday. December 2023 cotton futures closed at 78.96 cents, down 0.6 cents since last Friday. (Cotton prices are important to our livestock industry since we feed cotton seed and other byproducts to our cattle.)

March 2023 wheat futures closed at $8.22, down 13 cents since last Friday. New crop wheat cash prices at elevators and barge points ranged from $7.82 to $8.38. July 2023 wheat futures closed at $8.35, down 17 cents since last Friday.

Fed cattle traded steady compared to last week on a live basis. Prices on a live basis were mainly $151 to $154 while dressed prices were mainly $241 to $242. The 5-area weighted average prices thru Thursday were $152.68 live, down $0.01 compared to last week and $241.79 dressed, up $0.49 from a week ago. A year ago, prices were $133.01 live and $209.59 dressed.

Based on Tennessee weekly auction average prices, steer prices were steady to $2 lower compared to last week while heifer prices were steady to $3 lower compared to a week ago. Slaughter cow prices were $2 to $3 higher compared to a week ago while bull prices were steady to $1 higher compared to the previous week.

It appears that cattle markets are confused. More correctly stated, participants in the cattle market are confused. It is not their fault as it seems there is a tremendous amount of confusion in agricultural markets.

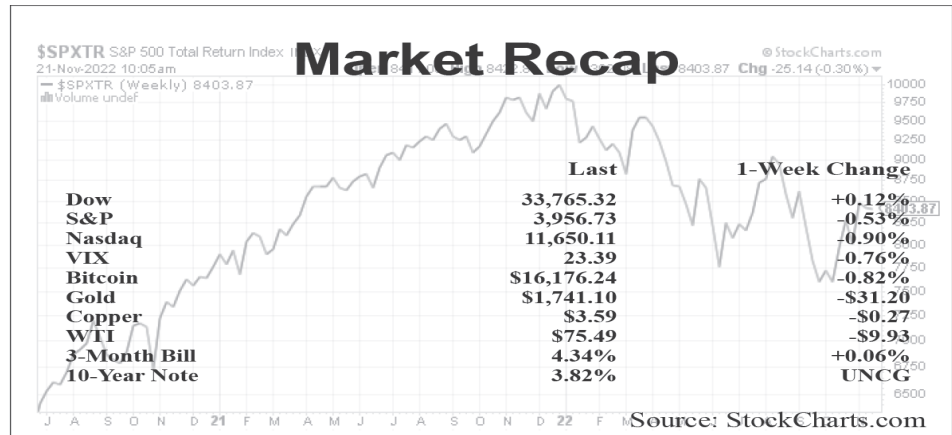

UPDATE ON THE KIDS

Hank was in his second tournament this weekend, and he won all three of his matches and won his weight division. I got to watch by Facetime his first two matches, and it's exciting! I can't wait to get there and watch in person!

Ford made the honor roll, as did Hank! It's such a good feeling to hear that they do well in school, and I know we make a lot of noise about sports, but the grades have to come first. Melody has this incentive program, and so far, the boys are ahead in the count!

Piper has been a little under the weather, but she is a lot better. She went to a craft store with her mother and saw a water color kit, and that child has been painting turkeys and other things for hours on end. She is learning a lot about colors and stuff.

They'll all be here this week, and we can't wait!

Officers pull suspect through window

By DAVID MELSON
dmelson@t-g.com

A suspect was charged with resisting arrest when police pulled her out the window of a Madison Street home Saturday afternoon.

Police investigating a domestic disturbance said Bonnie J. Brown, 36, of Rabbit Branch Road, refused orders to voluntarily leave the home when a computer check showed she was wanted for another offense.

Officers Darrian Lanier and Brandi Merlo pulled Brown from the home. Brown was also charged with disorderly conduct and failure to appear. No bond was set.

Drug charges

Two were charged when drugs were found in a vehicle stopped Friday on Warners Bridge Road, Shelbyville police said.

The vehicle was stopped due to passenger Shaun Earl Gibson, 44, of Methvin Drive, having a warrant out for his arrest.

Gibson and driver Milissa Evon Jackson, 57, of Fayetteville, denied ownership of drugs allegedly found by Officer Jeremiah Guinn and 17th Judicial Drug Task Force Agent Steven Daugherty in the vehicle.

One Xanax pill, five grams of marijuana and one gram each of cocaine and methamphetamine were confiscated, an SPD report said.

Both were charged with two counts of possession of a schedule 2 drug and one count each of schedule 4 and 6 drugs. Jackson was also charged with driving on a suspended license.

A man allegedly in possession of marijuana and driving may have sprayed cologne into his vehicle's interior as he was being stopped by Shelbyville police.

Officer Tracy Teal said in his report he saw "small liquid droplets floating in the air coming from the vehicle" after stopping Chanhnakon Sibounreuang Saysongkham, 25, of Lexington Cove Drive, near his home.

Teal said Saysongkham had just under 1 gram of marijuana and a half-smoked marijuana cigarette in his vehicle. He was cited for simple possession and failure to exercise due care while driving.

Thefts

A dump trailer owned by Curl Construction was stolen overnight last Thursday from a work site on McDale Lane, Shelbyville police said.

A Bedford County man who attempted to buy a 1949 Chevrolet truck from an Illinois firm was cheated out of his money, according to a Bedford County Sheriff's Office report.

The company accepted the buyer's money but didn't ship the truck as promised.

Police in Dolton, Illinois, had confirmed to the buyer before purchase that the company does exist.

Burglary attempt

A man allegedly tried to break into a home in the 1900 block of Old Nashville Dirt Road on Friday afternoon.

The resident said a man described as Black with light skin, in his mid-20s, approximately 6 feet tall and slim with shaggy hair wiggled a door latch at her home. He left in a white 2-door truck, a BCSO report said.

Prospective MTSU students review university promotional materials during the spring True Blue Preview campus tour.

Deadline for incoming MTSU freshmen, Dec. 1

Prospective students offered more incentives

MURFREESBORO, Tenn. — Middle Tennessee State University awards an array of guaranteed scholarships to qualifying first-time, incoming freshmen, including recently enhanced scholarships. But the deadline to take advantage is quickly approaching.

Prospective students must have a complete application on file with the MTSU Admissions Office by Thursday, Dec. 1, to be considered for an academic merit guaranteed scholarship, ranging from $3,500 to $8,000 per year for 4 years based on ACT scores and GPA, for the 2022-23 academic year.

MTSU President Sidney A. McPhee announced this fall the enhancement of the True Blue Scholarship, almost doubling the amount from a total of $8,000 to $14,000 over four years, while also announcing a new Centennial Scholarship that awards a total of $32,000 over 4 years.

This fall, during daily campus tours, True Blue Tour events, MTSU recruiters' visits to schools and other outreach, McPhee and other representatives are encouraging prospective students to meet the application deadline to secure those guaranteed dollars to ease the burden of college tuition.

"I always encourage students and parents to apply immediately, because these are guaranteed dollars for qualifying students that can greatly assist them and their families with paying for their college education," said Deb Sells, vice president for Student Affairs and vice provost for Enrollment and Academic Services.

"But Dec. 1 is quickly approaching, so students will need to act quickly to request transcripts, finalize other details and go ahead and complete the process in order to meet the deadline," Sells added.

Prospective students can apply by going to <https://mtsu.edu/how-to-apply/index.php> and following the prompts.

Guaranteed scholarships for qualifying students include:

- Centennial Scholarship (34 to 36 ACT/3.5 or higher GPA) — $8,000 per year.
- National Merit/Achievement/Hispanic semifinalist — $6,000 per year.
- Trustee Scholarship (30 to 33 ACT/3.5 or higher GPA) — $5,000 per year.
- Presidential Scholarship (25 to 29 ACT/3.5 or higher GPA) — $4,500 per year.
- True Blue Scholarship (22 to 24 ACT/3.5 or higher GPA) — $3,500 per year.

Students who qualify must accept the scholarship by May 1, 2023, Sells said.

Students scoring 30 and above on the ACT and with a minimum 3.5 high school GPA can apply for MTSU's highest academic award, the Buchanan Fellowship, a competitive and selective full-tuition scholarship offered through the University Honors College. A separate application for this offering is also due Dec. 1. For more information, go to www.mtsu.edu/honors.

The deadline for transfer students to apply to potentially receive guaranteed scholarships is Feb. 15.

Burris delivers, leads Champs past 'Cats

By CHRIS SIERS
sports@t-g.com

For the last three years, Cascade (2-0) has relied on the consistency in scoring from seniors Jackson Davis and Lucas Clanton.

When the shots weren't falling for Cascade on Thursday night against Tullahoma (0-1), it was Saebyn Burris who delivered some timely offense to lead the Champs in the scoring column in the 59-52 win over the Wildcats.

"Last year, Saebyn didn't provide a ton of scoring. He's got to provide more for us on the offensive side of things. Tonight, he did. He was the leading scorer with 18 points, hit two three's, 4-for-4 from the free throw line—you can't ask much more from him. That's a heck of an effort," Champion coach Chris Lawson said.

Burris led six Champions in scoring with a game-high 18 points, including a pair of three-pointers on back-to-back possessions for Cascade in the second quarter.

After stretching its lead to 12 points with 3:10 left in the half after Clanton rattled home a corner three-pointer, Tullahoma closed the half on an 8-2 run to cut the Champs' lead to six points at the half.

Cascade eventually stretched its lead to 10 points at multiple points in the second half, but the pesky Wildcats simply wouldn't quit.

A three-pointer by Tullahoma's Xavier Farrell with 2:39 left in the game cut Cascade's lead to just four points.

Needing to run its half-court offense and milk time off the clock, Cascade executed a handful of possessions that not only drained key seconds off the clock, but rebuilt the lead to two scores in the closing minutes.

Jackson Davis flies to the rim and caps a fast break after a Wildcat turnover. He finished with 11 points.

"I thought we had one negative possession where we shot it a little too quick. We were up 10, we shot it a little quick and missed and they went down and hit a three to cut it to seven. We came down the next time and were able to move it, pass it and drive it and got a layup right at the rim. That's more of what we're looking for as far as execution at the end of the game," Lawson said.

Clanton and Davis both joined Burris in double figures, scoring 14 and 11 respectively.

Jayden Gulick added 11 for the winners as well.

"With those two in particular (Davis and Clanton), they started for us ever since I got here. I know, no matter what the situation is, they're going to continue to play. They're going to continue to push. You have to give Tullahoma credit, they never quit. Every time they made a shot or got something going, we had an answer," Lawson added.

While Cascade's depth came in handy in the second half, the defensive effort can't be overlooked.

One of the team's goals is to hold opposing teams to 55 points or less in each game.

Tullahoma spoils Lady Champs' home opener

By CHRIS SIERS
sports@t-g.com

A senior-laden Tullahoma squad with considerable size and length gave the Cascade Lady Champions (1-1) fits in their home opener as the Lady Wildcats (1-0) were able to score early and often in the 68-42 win over Cascade.

"Tullahoma is long. With them being long, we had to extend the floor a lot more. Some of the people who were getting open shots on Tuesday night didn't get an open shot at all. We were having to take it into them and get them in foul trouble because we knew we were going to have to make this a foul shot game," Lady Champion coach Janie Demonbreum said.

Tullahoma utilized an effective pressure defense that hindered Cascade's ability to work an open shot in the half-court.

Tullahoma burst out of the gates and built an 18-6 lead by the end of the first frame. That lead ballooned to 24 points by halftime.

“One of our team goals that we have in the locker room is trying to hold teams under 55 points. We did that tonight. For us, we didn’t shoot it great at times. We only scored 59. We need to score a few more than that, but at the end of the day, we scored enough to win,” Lawson said.

The win marked the first home victory of the season in a packed house at Cascade on Thursday night.

“The place was rocking.

I think playing Tullahoma added a little to it. I’m very happy that we won, but we needed this type of environment early on. It was a test. We passed this first test,” Lawson said.

Cascade returns home on Tuesday night and will host Eagleville in another non-district meeting at 7:30 p.m.

shots from the floor, the tactics switched to driving at Tullahoma in an attempt to draw the foul and get to the line.

The scheme worked with Cascade cashing in on 25-of-34 attempts at the charity stripe.

Kaegan Young was the driving force in drawing the Lady Wildcat fouls.

Young posted a game-high 18 points and connected on 12-of-15 free throw attempts.

“She has the composure. She knows how to control a ball game. She’s so young, we have to build her up. She had 18 tonight and nine on Tuesday—she’s stepping up big to us,” Demonbreum said.

In total, 10 Lady Wildcats scored, with three reaching double figures.

“That’s a 3A team. They’re tough. Their guards have the ability to make moves that not many can. They’re also a big senior group. I think they have five and I don’t have any,” Demonbreum said.

The Lady Champs were led by Young’s 18, with Sophie Ray posting seven more points as well.

Though the final score looked like a lop-sided affair, Demonbreum still saw plenty of positives to build around in the second outing of the season.

“When I’m looking at it, a positive for me is we played tough. We didn’t back down. We didn’t give up,” she said.

Experience helps young Eaglettes as season opens

By GARY JOHNSON
 Sports Writer

Shelbyville Central’s Golden Eaglettes are young but possess more experience than last year.

“We are doing things completely different than this team did before I took over and this year at this point and time we are much further ahead than we were last year,” Shelbyville Central coach Kyle Turnham said. “This team has bought into the changes we have made and that will help us in the long run. That speaks a lot about the character of the returning players.”

The Eaglettes only have one senior, Jadyn Lee, a role player who plays really hard on both ends of the court. She’ll be counted on to make open three-point shots. She has a great attitude and is a great young lady.

Shelbyville Central returns a talented junior class that combined for a lot of playing time last year.

Paige Blackburn, Lilly Brown and Samie Brown were the cornerstones of last season’s team.

Blackburn is noted as one of the top shooters in the state and will be called upon to provide the scoring punch the Eaglettes need.

“Paige is expanding her game to where she is not just a shooter but someone who can put the ball on the floor and score off the dribble,” Turnham said. “Her skill and talent is very valuable to our team.”

Lilly Brown is an undersized post player who battles extremely hard and plays bigger than she really is.

“Lilly is a great offensive rebounder and works hard to get into position to rebound. We are expanding her role to where she faces the basket more and where she will be able to use her athletic ability even more by putting the ball on the floor,” Turnham said.

Sammie Brown does a great job on both ends of the court. She is also a tremendous rebounder.

“Sammie can knock down the three-point shot and she can put the ball on the floor as well. On defense, we usually play as Sammie plays. She is extremely tough and showed last year she can play through an injury,” Turnham said.

Look for sophomores Lanaya Young and Jaz Western to continue to gain experience and provide a lot of playing time for the Eaglettes.

“For us to be successful we really need to stay healthy. We are still trying to develop a strong bench but we are not very deep right now,” Turnham said. “I really like the direction we are going and look forward to this season.”

The district will be very competitive with Coffee County and Warren County projected to be top 10 teams in the state.

Viqueens take control in 2nd half of victory

T-G STAFF REPORT

GAINESBORO — What was a close first half turned into sheer dominance by the Community Viqueens in the second half on Thursday night at Jackson County.

After building a two-point lead at the half, the Viqueens went on a 29-15 tear in the second half and comfortably beat Jackson County, 57-41.

Community burst out of the gates and knocked down 16 points in the first quarter before the hosts rallied on a 15-12 second-quarter run to cut the Purple and Gold lead to two points at the half.

As part of a 17-point third quarter, the Viqueens rattled home three treys, with two coming from Anna Haskins.

Haley Mitchell added another six points as well.

Senior M.J. Simmons closed out the fourth quarter with eight of her game-high 20 points in the fourth quarter to secure the 16-point victory for Community.

Mitchell and Haskins also joined Simmons in double figures with 13 and 11 points, respectively.

Isabelle Beaty was the top scorer for Jackson County.

Community continues its road slate on Tuesday, traveling to Richland for a non-district tilt at 6 p.m.

Community 16 12 17 12 — 57

 Halftime score: Community 28, Jackson Co. 26.

S.C., Vanderbilt fined for fans on the field

BIRMINGHAM, Alabama (AP) — South Carolina and Vanderbilt were fined by the Southeastern Conference on Sunday, a day after schools’ fans rushed the field to celebrate football victories.

The SEC docked Vanderbilt $250,000 for the school’s third violation of the league’s access to competition area rules. The Commodores won their second straight league game and broke an eight-game series losing streak with a 31-24 win over Florida on Saturday.

The SEC said it was Vanderbilt’s third violation. The last one came in 2016, at a men’s basketball win over Kentucky in February 2016.

South Carolina was fined $100,000 after its fans filled the field following a 63-38 win over then-fifth-ranked Tennessee on Saturday night. The SEC said South Carolina was last fined in 2014, after its men’s basketball team topped Kentucky.

The collected fines go into the SEC Post-Graduate Scholarship Fund.

Vol QB Hooker done for year with torn ACL

KNOXVILLE (AP) — Tennessee quarterback Hendon Hooker will miss the rest of the season after injuring his left knee in the fourth quarter of the ninth-ranked Volunteers loss to South Carolina.

Tennessee announced Sunday that Hooker had a torn ACL and thanked the fifth-year senior transfer from Virginia Tech for being part of the Volunteers' resurgence.

"Forever a Tennessee legend and the ultimate teammate, we know Hendon will come back stronger than ever as he embarks on a promising NFL career," the school said.

Hooker has been one of the best quarterbacks in the country and a leading Heisman Trophy contender as the Volunteers (9-2) became a surprise entry into the College Football Playoff race.

He has thrown 27 touchdown passes and just two interceptions this season, directing the highest scoring team in the country at 46.5 points per game.

With the Vols trailing by 18 early in the fourth quarter Saturday, Hooker kept the ball on an option play and went down without being hit. He missed the rest of the game and now Tennessee will play out the season without him.

Tennessee is at Vanderbilt next Saturday. While unlikely to remain in the playoff race, the Vols could still land a New Year's Six bowl bid with another victory.

Hooker came to Tennessee in 2021 after three seasons at Virginia Tech and didn't win the starting job initially last season. He ended up throwing 31 touchdowns passes and helping the Vols to a 7-6 season under first-year coach Josh Heupel.

This season, Hooker and the Vols really took off. He finishes with 3,135 yards passing and another 430 yards and five touchdowns rushing.

Mark Stoops received an extension to coach at Kentucky through 2031.

Stoops gets raise, contract extended to 2031

LEXINGTON, Ky. (AP) — Kentucky coach Mark Stoops has signed an amended contract extension through June 2031 that in February will boost his base annual salary to $8.6 million plus incentives.

The 10th-year coach, who is earning $6.35 million this season, signed the new deal on Nov. 11, a day before the Wildcats fell 24-21 to Vanderbilt. It replaces the previous extension signed last December that ran through June 2028 and deletes the clause that automatically extended his contract by one year if Kentucky won seven games and by two years for 10 wins.

The deal increases Stoops' buyout from $1.75 million to $4.5 million if he leaves the program before June 30, with decreases of $500,000 before June 30 each subsequent year.

Athletic director Mitch Barnhart said in a news release dated Nov. 18 that was posted on the school's website that the agreement had been in the works for more than a month and added that continuity was "more and more important in today's landscape."

Stoops said in the release that he wanted to affirm his commitment and added, "I've loved it here and am excited for our future."

The revised contract includes bonuses for reaching College Football Playoff semifinal games ranging from $300,000 to $800,000 for winning the national championship.

Already Kentucky's longest-tenured coach, Stoops (65-58) surpassed Paul "Bear" Bryant as its career wins leader with his 61st in a victory over Florida in September. The Wildcats began 4-0 and reached No. 7 in the AP Top 25 but have since lost five of seven, including Saturday's 16-6 home defeat against top-ranked Georgia to finish 3-5 in Southeastern Conference play.

Kentucky closes the regular season on Saturday against rival Louisville before awaiting its school-record seventh consecutive bowl assignment.

Beltrán, Lackey lead 14 newcomers on Baseball Hall ballot

NEW YORK (AP) — Carlos Beltrán, John Lackey and Jered Weaver are among 14 newcomers on the Baseball Writers' Association of America's Hall of Fame ballot in what could turn into an evaluation of the Houston Astros' cheating scandal.

R.A. Dickey, Houston Street, Francisco Rodríguez, Bronson Arroyo and Matt Cain also are new to the ballot, joined by Jacoby Ellsbury, Jayson Werth, Mike Napoli, J.J.

Hardy, Jhonny Peralta and Andre Ethier, the Hall and the BBWAA said Monday.

Holdovers include Scott Rolen, Todd Helton and Billy Wagner. Rolen received 249 of 394 votes last year (63.2%), when David Ortiz was elected with 307 votes (77.9%), 11 more than the 75% needed. Helton was on 205 ballots (52%) and Wagner 201 (51%).

Voters denied several stars tainted by steroids and scandal.

Barry Bonds (260 votes, 66%), Roger Clemens (257, 65.2%) and Curt Schilling (231, 58.6%) were dropped after their 10th appearances on the ballot last year and are among eight players who will appear on the ballot of the Hall's contemporary baseball era committee, which meets Dec. 4 in San Diego ahead of baseball's winter meetings.

Other holdovers on the BBWAA ballot include Andruw Jones (163 votes last year, 41.1%), Gary Sheffield (160, 40.6%), Alex Rodriguez (135, 34.3%), Jeff Kent (129, 32.7%), Manny Ramirez (114, 28.9%), Omar Vizquel (94, 23.9%), Andy Pettitte (42, 10.7%), Jimmy Rollins (37, 9.4%), Bobby Abreu (34, 8.6%), Mark Buehrle (23, 5.8%) and Torii Hunter (21, 5.3%).

Kent, who received his highest percentage last year, will appear on the BBWAA ballot for the 10th and final time.

BBWAA members with 10 or more consecutive years of membership are eligible to vote. Ballots must be postmarked by Dec. 31 and results will be announced Jan. 24.

Any players elected will be inducted into the Hall at Cooperstown on July 23 along with anyone elected by the contemporary baseball era committee.

A nine-time All-Star, Beltrán had a .279 batting average, 435 home runs, 1,587 RBIs and 312 stolen bases for Kansas City, Houston, the New York Mets, San Francisco, St. Louis, the Yankees and Texas. He was hired as Mets manager on Nov. 1, 2019, then was fired on Jan. 16 without having managed a game, three days after he was the only Astros player mentioned by name in a report by Major League Baseball regarding the team's illicit use of electronics to steal signs during Houston's run to the 2017 World Series.

USC moves into top 5 for 1st time in 5 years

By RALPH D. RUSSO
AP College Football Writer

Southern California moved into the top five of The Associated Press college football poll Sunday for the first time in five years.

Georgia received 62 of the 63 first-place votes in the AP Top 25 presented by Regions Bank as the top four teams held their places after playing varying degrees of close games Saturday.

No. 2 Ohio State received the other first-place vote. Michigan was No. 3 again, followed by TCU.

The fifth-ranked Trojans edged up two spots after a thrilling victory against rival UCLA. The last time USC was ranked in the top five was September of 2017, when it started at No. 4 but spent most of the season ranked in the teens before finishing 12th.

Lincoln Riley's first season as USC coach has produced one of the best turnarounds in the country, with the Trojans going from four wins to 10, and the regular-season finale against No. 13 Notre Dame and a Pac-12 championship game still to go.

"If you would have told me at the end of last season I would be here now with this group of guys and being able to play for a championship, I would have called you a dead liar. Just being completely honest," USC fourth-year receiver Kyle Ford told reporters after the UCLA game. "I'm just so thankful for everyone on this team."

LSU stayed at No. 6. Clemson moved up two spots to No. 7. Alabama held at eighth and Tennessee dropped four spots to No. 9 after getting upset in a blowout at South Carolina.

In their 63-38 victory, the Gamecocks scored more points against a top-five team as an unranked team than any in the history of the AP poll.

Oregon rounded out the top 10 after the Ducks beat Utah in the Pac-12's other marquee game on Saturday night.

Poll points

Georgia set a school record with its 10th appearance at No. 1 this season. Last year the Bulldogs had nine No. 1s, the most in school history.

Georgia has been at No. 1 a total of 34 times, tying Michigan for 12th most in the history of the AP poll, which dates to 1936.

Southern California is a top-five team for the 283rd time in poll history. That's seventh most, 13 behind Nebraska.

The top five at being top five: Alabama (451), Oklahoma (430), Ohio State (418), Notre Dame (318) and Michigan (306).

In

Texas, again.

The 24th-ranked Longhorns, who started the season unranked, have moved into the Top 25 four times. They haven't managed to stay there for more than two weeks.

A blowout victory against Kansas pushed the Longhorns back into the rankings as they head toward a season finale against Baylor.

Out

Oklahoma State lost its rivalry game against Oklahoma to drop to 7-4 and out of the rankings again.

Conference call

Pac-12 — 6 (Nos. 5, 10, 12, 14, 17, 22).

SEC — 5 (Nos. 1, 6, 8, 9, 20).

ACC — 3 (Nos. 7, 16, 18).

American — 3 (Nos. 19, 21,

Big Ten — 3 (Nos. 2, 3, 11).

Big 12 — 3 (Nos. 4, 15, 24).

Sun Belt — 1 (No. 23).

Independent — 1 (No. 13).

Ranked vs. ranked

Rivalry weekend's highest stakes games:

— No. 19 Tulane at No. 21 Cincinnati, Friday. The winner hosts the AAC championship game.

— No. 10 Oregon at No. 22 Oregon State. First time since 2012 both are ranked.

— No. 3 Michigan at No. 2 Ohio State. The best combined ranking between the two were also 2-3 heading into the 2016, decided in overtime by a fourth-down spot.

— No. 13 Notre Dame at No. 5 USC. First time both have been ranked since 2017.

New Colts coach can't solve familiar problems

By MICHAEL MAROT
AP Sports Writer

INDIANAPOLIS — Jeff Saturday's hiring as interim coach re-energized the Indianapolis Colts — for a week.

On Sunday, the old problems resurfaced.

One week after winning in Saturday's road debut, the Colts produced the fast start they've talked about all season and a stifling three-quarter performance from the defense — only to see it unravel over the final 15 minutes when the offense couldn't convert scoring opportunities and the defense wore down again.

The result: The Philadelphia Eagles rallied for a 17-16 victory that ruined Saturday's home debut.

"If, if, if — you've got to make plays and when you have opportunities to finish games against really good teams," quarterback Matt Ryan said. "You've got to finish them, and unfortunately, we didn't do that."

Finishing was a problem for Indy (4-6-1) long before Saturday was hired.

The Colts lost their final two games last season to miss the playoffs and had to settle for a season-opening tie at Houston after a missed field goal in overtime.

When they couldn't slow down Derrick Henry and Tennessee in Week 7, Ryan was benched. When they couldn't hold a late lead against Washington in Week 8, offensive coordinator Marcus Brady was fired. And when the Colts got blown out at New England in Week 9, owner Jim Irsay fired Frank Reich and hired Saturday.

The new coach led his team to an impressive Week 10 win at Las Vegas.

Then came Sunday.

How close have the Colts been? They've lost their last two home games, to the Commanders and Eagles, by identical scores and under similar circumstances — unable to rally after giving up TDs in the final 90 seconds.

"When you're leading, you start thinking about, 'How did we let it slip away? What were the misfires? What were those plays that were critical that led to us losing the lead?'" said Jonathan Taylor, who rushed for 84 yards and a touchdown.

There was plenty of blame to be shared as Philadelphia (9-1) rebounded from its first loss of the season by overcoming a fourth-quarter, double-digit deficit for the first time since 2010.

Chase McLaughlin's missed field goal from 51 yards gave Eagles quarterback Jalen Hurts good field position. It took only five plays for Hurts to cut the deficit to 13-10, courtesy of a 22-yard scoring strike to Quez Watkins.

The Colts were in position to answer midway through the quarter after Parris Campbell's 31-yard catch set up first-and-goal from Philadelphia's 5-yard line. But a 14-yard sack on third down forced the Colts to settle for a 37-yard field goal and a 16-10 lead.

Hurts delivered again on the next Eagles series, drawing a 39-yard pass-interference penalty against Zaire Franklin on third-and-2. Nine plays later, with Indy's defenders spread out across the field, Hurts took the snap and sprinted untouched between the hash marks for the go-ahead 8-yard TD run.

"Too many mistakes, too many negative plays, missing kicks, you can't play a team that good and give them that many opportunities," Saturday said. "Ultimately, they made one more play than we did."

Heinicke wins starting job for Commanders

By KRISTIE RIEKEN
AP Sports Writer

HOUSTON — After Taylor Heinicke led the Washington Commanders to yet another win, coach Ron Rivera made the announcement that had become inevitable: Heinicke is no longer the backup to Carson Wentz.

Heinicke threw for 191 yards to improve to 4-1 as a starter, Kendall Fuller returned an interception for a touchdown, and the Commanders rolled to a 23-10 win over the hapless Houston Texans on Sunday.

Heinicke, thrust into the starting role when Wentz fractured a finger, had another solid performance to help the Commanders (6-5) build on Monday night's victory over previously unbeaten Philadelphia. Washington has won five of six and is above .500 for the first time since Week 1.

"We are going to go with Taylor, and we'll work Carson back in and see where Carson is in terms of when he's ready to be the backup," Rivera said. "Then, we'll go from there."

Asked why he made the decision, Rivera was succinct. "Winning," he said. "That's the truth. That's where we are."

Heinicke was out of football two years ago before Washington signed him as its quarantine quarterback.

"Being a starting quarterback in the NFL, it's every kid's dream," he said. "It means a lot to me. It's very special to me. I just want to keep this thing rolling."

Davis Mills threw two interceptions and Houston mustered a season-low 148 yards of offense as the Texans (1-8-1) lost their fifth straight and remained the NFL's only one-win team.

"There's not a whole lot that we're doing well," coach Lovie Smith said. "We're building. We're not quite there yet. We're not a good football team right now."

Washington led 20-0 at halftime behind Fuller's pick-6, a TD run by Curtis Samuel and a historically bad first half by Houston's offense.

The Texans were outgained 246-5 in the first half, their fewest net yards in a half franchise history. Their previous worst was 8 in the first half of a 40-0 loss to the Bills last season.

It was the fewest yards by a team in a half since the Raiders had minus-12 in a win over the Broncos in 2015. Mills had minus-1 yard passing in the first half as he was sacked three times before the break.

Smith became defensive when peppered with questions about whether he's considered benching Mills and scoffed at the notion that he'd make a decision like that immediately after a game.

"You say it starts with quarterback," he said. "But no, it starts up front. ... And today with that type of pressure, I don't know how many quarterbacks could have had success."

The Commanders scored only a field goal after halftime, but their dominant first half was plenty.

The crowd had so many Commanders fans that chants of "defense, defense" could be heard on a couple of possessions when Houston had the ball. About the only reactions from Texans fans were boos, except for the cheers that came when third baseman Alex Bregman of the World Series champion Houston Astros was shown on the big screens in the first half.

Montez Sweat and Jonathan Allen had two sacks apiece and combined for six quarterback hits to lead a Washington defense that hurried and harassed Mills all day.

"To see your DBs come out strong like that, you know it's going to be a good game," Allen said. "Especially with a younger quarterback, for him to throw a pick-6 on the second or third play of the game, we know it would affect him a little bit. Probably hold a little bit longer than he was naturally going to."

Houston rookie Dameron Pierce, who entered the game ranked fifth in the NFL with 772 yards rushing, had 10 carries for a season-low 8 yards.

The Commanders took an early lead when Fuller stepped in front of a pass intended for Brandin Cooks, grabbed the ball and returned it 37 yards to the end zone on Houston's second offensive play.

Washington made it 14-0 when Samuel scored on a 10-yard run early in the second quarter.

The Texans finally found some offense on their first drive of the third quarter when Cooks grabbed a 41-yard reception. Mills scrambled for 4 yards on fourth-and-3 from the 15 to keep that drive going.

Rookie John Ridgeway got an unnecessary roughness penalty for upending Pierce and throwing him to the ground on the next play to give Houston a first down at the 5. But the Texans settled for a field goal to make it 20-3 after Mills was sacked on third down.

Jets face questions on offense after anemic effort vs. Patriots

By BRENDAN MCGAIR
Associated Press

FOXBOROUGH, Mass. — Zach Wilson and the New York Jets had a chance to leave Gillette Stadium in first place in the AFC East.

Instead, they slid to the bottom of the division with another disappointing loss to the New England Patriots.

New York's inability to finish drives on offense proved costly on the scoreboard and the playoff picture as New England beat the Jets for the 14th straight time with a 10-3 victory Sunday. Rookie Marcus Jones' 84-yard punt return for a touchdown ruined a solid effort by New York's defense.

"The season isn't over with. There's still plenty of football left to play," said defensive lineman John Franklin-Myers, who had one of the Jets' six sacks of Mac Jones.

A win over New England would have moved New York into first place in the AFC East this late in the season for the first time since 2010. Instead, being swept the Patriots could make the push to end an 11-year postseason drought tougher.

"It was a frustrating day," said Wilson, who quickly replied, "No" when asked if he and the offense let the defense down.

New York managed just 103 yards and six first downs, and failed to find the end zone for the second time this season.

The defense did its part in containing Jones and the Patriots. But Wilson was just 9 of 22 for 77 yards and had 26 of New York's 59 yards on the ground. In the second half, the Jets had just 2 yards on seven possessions.

"We've got to do some digging, watch the film, and see what we can come up with," Wilson said.

When the Patriots won the first matchup of the season three weeks ago, the Jets were able to move the ball but were undone by three interceptions thrown by Wilson — who also had a career-best 355 yards. Sunday's rematch featured a stark departure as the Jets gained minus-8 yards over their first five possessions of the second half. The windy conditions were a factor, perhaps more for the Patriots as the normally reliable Nick Folk missed two field goals.

"There are times when you can't take shots down the field," Wilson said.

Despite the shortcomings on offense, the Jets had a chance to win.

They got the ball on the New England 20-yard line with 1:52 remaining — but the drive started on an all-too-familiar note as Wilson came up empty on first and second down. But New York received a fresh set of downs after the Patriots were flagged for defensive holding on third down.

The momentum of Michael Carter's 8-yard run on first down quickly faded as the Jets found themselves facing a third-and-1. And the final snap taken by the offense featured a completion that summed up the unit's struggles.

Wilson hit Carter near the sideline with a short pass and the Patriots dropped the running back for a 2-yard loss.

"We called a play for a guy in a boundary," Wilson said. "They gave us a coverage where I couldn't work it, so I just — the play that we called was, I was trying to get the ball to (Tyler Conklin). They pretty much double-teamed him."

Added coach Robert Saleh: "We wanted to finish the game with the ball. Obviously, in a perfect situation, it would have been with the ball and a chance to kick it for the win. But it didn't work out."

Instead of getting another crack in overtime, the Jets watched in horror as a gaffe on special teams unfolded at the worst possible time.

"This is unacceptable, no one wants to feel like this," rookie wide receiver Garrett Wilson said. "It is just not enough."

The Jets sacked Jones 12 times in two games this season, but the offense couldn't make nearly enough plays. New York made one trip into the red zone and went 3 of 14 on third down.

"I thought the defense was outstanding. I thought our D-line got after it," Saleh said. "There's a lot of things that we have to look at to see if we can find some efficiency in the offense."

WHEREAS, by Deed of Trust (the "Deed of Trust") dated March 2, 2016, of record at Trust Deed Book 851, page 866, Register's Office for Bedford County, Tennessee, JASON USELTON, did convey unto MARVIN McBEE, as Trustee, a certain tract of real estate hereinafter described, to be secured a certain indebtedness set out in said Deed of Trust; and WHEREAS, HERITAGE SOUTH COMMUNITY CREDIT UNION is the owner and holder of the note secured by said Deed of Trust hereinabove referred to; and WHEREAS, the said Marvin McBee, Trustee, is unable to act as Trustee under the Deed of Trust and I have been appointed Substitute Trustee by the owner and holder of the note by instrument of record at Trust Deed Book 1005, page 535, Register's Office for Bedford County,

Tennessee; and WHEREAS, the said real estate described in said Deed of Trust is as follows:

Lying and being in the Fourth (4th) Civil District of Bedford County, Tennessee, and being more particularly described as follows, to-wit:

Beginning at an iron pin on the west margin of the Fosterville-Bell Buckle Road, said iron pin being in the center of a joint driveway between the mobile home of Rebecca Marie H. Ensey and the property being conveyed herein, and said metal pin being the northeast corner of the property herein conveyed; thence in a westerly direction perpendicular to said road 220 feet to a metal pin; thence in a southerly direction parallel with said road 220 feet to a metal pin in the western margin of said road; thence in a northerly direction along the margin of said road 220 feet to the point of beginning containing approximately 1 acre, upon which is situated a mobile home occupied by Calvin Henry Hatchett, together with a small residential dwelling on the back side of this tract.

THERE IS ALSO HEREBY CONVEYED a 1984 Saab 14x80 mobile home, Serial Number ALWH2617805. Being the same property conveyed to Jason Uselton, unmarried, by Warranty Deed from Keith A. Reynolds and wife, Kellye L. Gilbert a/k/a Kellye L. Reynolds, dated March 2, 2016, of record at Deed Book 330, page 414, Register's Office of Bedford County, Tennessee.

This conveyance is subject to any and all existing easements and restrictions of record.

WHEREAS, said Deed of Trust was made to secure the payment of a note therein set out and contained the power to sell in the case of default in the payment of said note and interest at maturity; and WHEREAS, the maker of said note has defaulted in the payment thereof, and the owner and holder of said note has declared the entire amount due and payable and has requested the undersigned to foreclose said Deed of Trust according to its terms in order to collect said note.

NOW, THEREFORE, I, the undersigned JOE M. LAMBERT, JR., Substitute Trustee, will, in accordance with the terms set out in the Deed of Trust above referred to, on Wednesday, December 7, 2022, at 10:00 A.M. CST, at the south door of the Bedford County Courthouse in Shelbyville, Tennessee, offer for sale and sell the above-described real estate at public auction to the highest and best bidder for cash in bar of equity of redemption and free from homestead and dower, all in accordance with the provisions of said Deed of Trust and the laws of Tennessee controlling such sales, subject, however, to all outstanding real estate taxes.

The right is reserved to adjourn the day of the sale to another day and time certain without further publication and in accordance with law upon announcement of said adjournment on the day and time and place of sale set forth above.

The failure of any high bidder to pay the purchase price and close the sale shall, at the option of the Substitute Trustee, be cause for rejection of the bid, and if the bid is rejected, the Substitute Trustee shall have the option of making the sale to the next highest bidder who is ready, willing, and able to comply with the terms thereof. The proceeds derived from the sale of the property will be applied as provided for in said Deed of Trust. Said Deed of Trust is made a part hereof as if copied verbatim herein.

This sale of the Property shall be subject to any and all unpaid taxes, assessments, rights-of-way, easements, protective covenants or restrictions, liens, and other superior matters of record which may affect said property; as well as any prior liens or encumbrances as well as priority created by a fixture filing; and/or any matter that an accurate survey of the premises might disclose. If the U. S. Department of Treasury/IRS, the State of Tennessee Department of Revenue, or the State of Tennessee Department of Labor and Workforce Development are listed as interested parties in the advertisement, then the Notice of this foreclosure is being given to them and the sale will be subject to the applicable governmental entities' right to redeem the property, as required by 26 U. S. C. § 7425 and T. C. A. § 67-1-1433. The sale will be conducted subject (1) to confirmation that the sale is not prohibited under the U. S. Bankruptcy Code and (2) to final confirmation and audit of the status of the loan with the holder of the Deed of Trust.

The address of the above-described property is believed to be 307 Fosterville Rd., Bell Buckle, TN 37020, but such address is not part of the legal description of the property sold herein, and in the event of any discrepancy, the legal description herein shall control. This property is further identified as being Map 033, Parcel 009.02, on the records of the Tax Assessor of Bedford County, Tennessee.

THIS LAW FIRM IS ATTEMPTING TO COLLECT A DEBT. ANY INFORMATION OBTAINED WILL BE USED FOR THAT PURPOSE.

Gay bar shooting suspect faces murder, hate crime charges

By THOMAS PEIPERT and JESSE BEDAYN Associated Press

COLORADO SPRINGS, Colo. — The man suspected of opening fire at a gay nightclub in Colorado Springs was being held on murder and hate crimes charges Monday, two days after the attack that killed five people and wounded many others.

Online court records showed that Anderson Lee Aldrich, 22, faced five murder charges and five charges of committing a bias-motivated crime causing bodily injury in Saturday night's attack at Club Q.

It was not immediately clear if the allegations were formal charges filed by prosecutors or preliminary charges filed by police. The hate crime charges would require proving that the gunman was motivated by the victims' actual or perceived sexual orientation or gender identity.

The attack was halted when a patron grabbed a handgun from Aldrich, hit him with it and pinned him down until police arrived minutes later.

Court documents laying out what led to Aldrich's arrest have been sealed at the request of prosecutors, who said releasing details could jeopardize the investigation. Information on a lawyer for Aldrich was not immediately available.

A law enforcement official said the suspect used an AR-15-style semiautomatic weapon, but a handgun and additional ammunition magazines also were recovered. The official could not discuss details of the investigation publicly and spoke to The Associated Press on condition of anonymity.

Of the 25 injured at Club Q, some were hurt trying to flee, and it was unclear how many were shot, a police spokesperson said.

Questions were quickly raised about why authorities didn't seek to take Aldrich's guns away from him in 2021, when he was arrested after his mother reported he threatened her with a homemade bomb and other weapons.

Though authorities at the time said no explosives were found, gun-control advocates have asked why police didn't use Colorado's "red flag" laws to seize the weapons his mother says he had. There's no public record prosecutors ever moved forward with felony kidnapping and menacing charges against Aldrich.

Mayor John Suthers said on NBC's "Today" show that the district attorney would file papers in court Monday to allow law enforcement to talk more about Aldrich's criminal history.

Suthers told the AP there was "reason to hope" all of the hospitalized victims would recover.

The shooting rekindled memories of the 2016 massacre at the Pulse gay nightclub in Orlando, Florida, that killed 49 people. Colorado has experienced several mass killings, including at Columbine High School in 1999, a movie theater in suburban Denver in 2012 and at a Boulder supermarket last year.

It was the sixth mass killing this month and came in a year when the nation was shaken by the deaths of 21 in a school shooting in Uvalde, Texas.

This weekend's violence pierced the cozy confines of an entertainment venue long cherished as a safe spot for the LGBTQ community in the conservative-leaning city.

A makeshift memorial that sprang up in the hours after the attack continued to grow Monday, as a steady stream of mourners brought flowers and left messages in support of the LGBTQ community. The shooting site remained cordoned off.

"It's a reminder that love and acceptance still have a long way to go," Colorado Springs resident Mary Nikkel said at the site. "This growing monument to people is saying that it matters what happened to you ... We're just not letting it go."

The club was one of two nightspots for the LGBTQ community in Colorado Springs, residents said. Authorities were called at 11:57 p.m. Saturday with multiple reports of a shooting, and the first officer arrived at midnight.

Joshua Thurman said he was in the club with about two dozen other people and was dancing when the shots began. He initially thought it was part of the music, until he heard another shot and said he saw the flash of a gun muzzle.

Thurman, 34, said he ran to a dressing room where he hid with others. They locked the door, turned off the lights and got on the floor as they heard the violence unfolding, including the gunman being subdued.

Calvary Baptist hosts God and Country event

Calvary Baptist Church in Shelbyville hosted a God and Country event Saturday, which featured a free lunch for veterans followed by a Quilts of Valor ceremony. According to Judy Leverette, who helped make many of the quilts, they made close to 40 quilts, many of which were given away at the ceremony. Over 300,000 quilts have been given away nationwide since Quilts of Valor began in 2003.

The event hosted a worship service. Congregants sing God Bless America.

This quilt is for veteran Ronnie Parsons, Senior Airman, who served from 1992 to 1995.

Jon Mucher received his quilt for serving in the Army from 1984 to 1992, rising to the rank of Sergeant.

Rick Stevenson received a quilt for serving in the Army from 2000 to 2020, rising to the rank of Lieutenant Colonel.

Bobby Freeman received a quilt for serving in the Army Signal Corps. between 1951 and 1953 as a Corporal.

John Ahsparis received a quilt for serving in the Airforce between 1967 and 1993, rising to Senior Master Sergeant.

Charles Blessing received his Quilt of Valor for serving in the Navy between 1964 and 1970 and then again in the Army between 1981 and 1998.

Patsy Porter holds two quilts for her sons Jared, who served in the Navy between 2008 and 2013, and Jason, who is a chaplain for the Navy and Marines.

The event featured patriotic songs such as Lee Greenwood's God Bless the USA.

The event was held in the sanctuary of Calvary Baptist Church in Shelbyville.

Many came to show their support of the veterans.
