Betty Ann Wood:

“Summing up the life of any mother,
 A difficult task because not one is really like another.
 Each brings to the table their own set of skills,
 Their own way of training, their loving, their knowledgeable fields.
 My dear mother, Betty Ann Wood,
 Has loved her own children, such as none other could,
 We became what we are by her influence imbued,
 Acquiring different drops of inspiration, each express varying views.
 This mother of mine, an embodiment of great strength,
 Through her eighty-seven years, strives for a good example at length.
 Also loved by others who refer to her grandmother's name,
 Mother Betty, she is called, to great acclaim.
 There is much to proclaim of her, much to ascribe,
 Though as spacing has limits, I will stay with but this vibe:
 I'm so grateful to belong to her familial tribe.”

I would like to wish my mother and best friend, Ann Wooten, a Happy Mother's Day. She is the best mother anyone could ever dream of having. We are usually always together. If you see one, you see the other. Thank you, Mom, for everything you have done and still always do. Thank you for being the best nanny to Levi, Luke, Kelsey, and Kenzie. We love you more than anything.
