Town of Coventry 2019 Failed Septic/Cesspool & Housing Rehabilitation Grant Funding Programs Notice For Low/Moderate Income Homeowners

The Town of Coventry continually applies for grant/loan funds which become available through the Community Development Block Grant Program to assist qualified homeowners with necessary home repairs through grant funding. Up to $10,000 can be awarded to income qualified households. Typically the awards are in the form of grants rather than loans. A forgivable lien, in the amount of the award, is placed on the property for 5 years.

Here are a few of the qualifications:

- The property must be owner occupied and current on your monthly mortgage payments for at least the last 12 months;
- Taxes and Homeowners Insurance must be current;
- There must be enough equity in the property to support the amount of the lien and the home must be in otherwise good repair;
- The entire household gross income must be within the program guidelines of low-to-moderate for example:
 - o A 3 person household must have a gross yearly income added to 2% of their asset value to equal less than $57,850.
- The following items qualify if the Program Inspector agrees they are at the end of their service years:
 - o Leaking or inadequate roofs;
 - o Failed septic system/cesspools and wells;
 - o Old furnaces not maintaining adequate heating;
 - o Old windows allowing for heated or cooled air to escape

Due to program administration requirements - minor; emergency; routine maintenance; mold related; electrical and hidden damage repairs do not qualify.

If you think you qualify, or for further details, contact Gail Hardink at 822-6246 or email ghardink@coventryri.org. (Confidentiality applies where required by law.)

Qualifying criteria is subject to change at any time.

Q. Whatever happened to Debbie Matenopoulos since she was on "The View" all those years ago? Did she stay in the news and entertainment industry? — R.B.

A. The juicy new tell-all book "Ladies Who Punch: The Explosive Inside Story of 'The View'" has brought a lot of attention past and present co-hosts of the hit talk show. It's hard to believe the all-female talk show debuted way back in 1997. It seems like just yesterday when the original panel of Barbara Walters, Meredith Vieira, Joy Behar, Star Jones and a 22-year-old Debbie Matenopoulos sat down at their shared table.

Matenopoulos was thrust into the spotlight, as this was her first on-air job. She did attend New York University's journalism school, so she wasn't completely green. However, finding herself on live television, sitting across from the legendary Walters, would test her mettle more than the most demanding professor ever would.

Matenopoulos has actually worked steadily in front of the camera since she was ousted from "The View" in 1999. She's been a correspondent and host for "E! Live From the Red Carpet" and "Fashion Police," and co-host of Hallmark's talk show "Home & Family" with Cameron Mathis (ex-Ryan, "All My Children"). She's even been invited back to "The View" several times. In her private life, she's married to photographer Jon Falcone, and they have one child.

Q. Is there going to be another season of "The Umbrella Academy" on Netflix? I finally caught up on it and finished the series, and now I want more! — S.T.

A. Yes, Netflix has given the green light to start filming a second season of 10 episodes. "The Umbrella Academy" stars Ellen Page ("Inception") and is based on the comic book series by singer Gerard Way. It's about a group of children who were born with special powers and adopted by a billionaire. They reunite years later to solve the mystery surrounding the death of their father. The show will begin filming again this summer in Toronto.

Q. I read about actress Marcia Cross having cancer. Is she OK now? Will she be doing anymore television soon? I loved her on both "Melrose Place" and "Desperate Housewives." — Y.M.

A. Marcia Cross received some good news about her health. After undergoing chemotherapy and radiation for anal cancer, she has been declared cancer-free. She started giving interviews lately, telling People magazine: "I want to help put a dent in the stigma around anal cancer. I've read a lot of cancer-survivor stories, and many people, women especially, were too embarrassed to say what kind of cancer they had. There is a lot of shame about it. I want that to stop." Cross credits her gynecologist for doing a rectal exam that saved her life. You can read more about the disease on the website anal-cancerfoundation.org.

As for her acting career, she's right back at work on a new project, filming the pilot episode of "Jane the Novela," a spinoff of "Jane the Virgin," for the CW network.

Donald Duck Knockoff

Donald Duck is a Disney character and there are strict laws about copying his likeness, so this wooden toy from the 1930s must be a knockoff. The duck could be a relative, but it certainly is not one sanctioned by The years. Some of the china was "liberated" by dinner guests, but much was sold at the railroad's gift shop. Most popular was the Centenary china first used in 1927 by the B & O Railroad for their 100th anniversary. It was so popular that they continued to use it for over 50 years, and later, even made copies that were sold at the gift shop. The original, and most expensive for today's collectors, are Centenary pieces with the rectangular "Scammell's Lamber-ton China Patent Applied For" mark on the back. It was used from 1927 until 1930-31, when the mark was changed to read "Design Patented."

Collectors like unique examples, even those that are mysteries. This wooden pull toy, a copy of Donald Duck, was possibly made in China in the 1930s. It sold at a Milestone auction in Wil-loughby, Ohio, for $4,200.

Walt Disney Company. The wooden pull toy has a place to attach a string. Pull it, and Donald's legs "walk," the wheels turn and the tiny chick bobs back and forth. Toy collectors like early examples of comic characters that are rare and by unknown makers. This is the only one the Ohio auctioneer had ever seen. It is thought it was made in China in the 1930s. The toy, perhaps an Easter gift, sold on the 57th bid for $4,200, well over the estimate.

Q. I have some blue-and-white dishes my grandmother said she took from the dining car on a B & O Railroad trip years ago. I know stolen paintings, ancient relics and other stolen items are confiscated and, if possible, returned to the original owners. Can I put my dishes in an auction?

A. Railroad dining cars and air-planes used to have special dishes made with their names and significant views or logos. And there have been "Railroad China" collectors for

Q. My six flat silver butter knives are stamped "Pat. Apld. For Puritan Silver Co." Are they sterling silver? Are they worth anything?

A. Puritan Silver Co. is a trade name used by Oneida Silver-smiths on silver-plated flatware. Silver-plated flatware doesn't sell well. Young people don't want to bother to keep it polished, and it doesn't have the meltdown value that sterling silver has. Silver-plated butter knives sell for about $1 each.

CURRENT PRICES

Cut-glass bowl, hobstars, flared fans, notched miters, strawberry diamonds, 3 5/8 x 9 inches, $20.

Oushak rug, repeating triangular shapes, blue ground, green and blue flower border, 2 feet 7 inches x 6 feet 3 inches, $100.

Dinner gong, brass, wrought iron, relief repousse portrait, Roland A Ronceveux, scrolled support, 32 x 31 inches, $475.

Carousel horse, prancer, horsehair tail, leather tack, beige, spots, Armit-age-Herschell, 46 3/4 x 13 3/4 inches, $1,560.

TIP: Old, authentic carousel figures almost always have glass eyes or realistic horse-shaped eyes. Reproductions have human-shaped eyes, either Asian or Caucasian.

HERE IS A PLEASANT LITTLE GAME that will give you a message every day. It's a numerical puzzle designed to spell out your fortune. Count the letters in your first name. If the number of letters is 6 or more, subtract 4. If the number is less than 6, add 3. The result is your key number. Start at the upper left-hand corner and check one of your key numbers, left to right. Then read the message the letters under the checked figures give you.

ARIES (March 21 to April 19) You're doing better on the flexibility issue, but you still need to loosen up a bit to show you can be less judgmental and more understanding about certain sensitive matters.

TAURUS (April 20 to May 20) Your personal aspect continues to dominate this week. But try to make time to deal with important career-linked matters as well. A change of plans might occur by the weekend.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 20) Excuses are not really needed for much of the confusion occurring this week. However, explanations from all parties could help in working things out to everyone's satisfaction.

CANCER (June 21 to July 22) That surprising (but pleasant) recent turn of events continues to develop positive aspects. But be prepared for a bit of a jolt on another issue that needs attention.

LEO (July 23 to August 22) Creating a fuss might bring you that attention you want. But are you prepared for all the explaining you'd have to do? Better to use more subtle ways to make your bid.

VIRGO (August 23 to September 22) With education continuing to be a strong factor this week, this could be the time to start learning some new skills that can later be applied to a bid for a potential career move.

Flying With Kids

I was one of the last to board a spring break flight from snowy Minnesota to sunny Florida. As I stepped from the jetway into the galley and turned right, I couldn't help but smile when I saw a cabin filled to the max with families. Children of all ages were dressed in bright spring clothes, some wearing Mickey Mouse ears, and others waving Harry Potter wands, eager to visit theme parks and beaches. This was not the typical business-as-usual flight of coffee-carrying commuters preoccupied with their cellphones and computers.

This could be a long trip, I thought, as kids became fidgety in the second hour of the three-hour flight. Then, like magic, I looked up and our own onboard "Mary Poppins" appeared. She interacted with preschoolers in row 18, then pivoted and engaged school-age kids in 22 with a word game she created. Before long she assisted a mom by carrying her restless son down the aisle announcing it was his first birthday. Spontaneously passengers and flight attendants joined in a rousing "Happy Birthday to Kyle."

"When kids get a little antsy, that's when I swing into action," said our Mary Poppins, aka Cindy Skrien, mom, educator and track coach. "There are so many things to challenge kids' minds and keep them entertained on a flight."

"New voices, faces, sounds, sights. Look at all the lights, buttons and latches that are fascinating and pure entertainment to a young child. Read numbers and letters for the seats and match them up. Guess how many rows there are, then count on the way to rear restrooms."

"And always remember to slide the

LIBRA (September 23 to October 22) You might do well to reconsider some of your current time priorities before you get so deeply involved in one project that you neglect meeting a deadline on another.

SCORPIO (October 23 to November 21) With an important decision looming, you need to be careful about the information you're getting. Half-truths are essentially useless. Get the full story before you act.

SAGITTARIUS (November 22 to December 21) Find out what everyone's role is expected to be before accepting that workplace proposal. Getting all the facts now could prevent serious problems later on.

CAPRICORN (December 22 to January 19) A flexible position on a workplace matter could be the best course to follow during the next several days. A personal issue also benefits from an open-minded approach.

AQUARIUS (January 20 to February 18) Involving too many people in your workplace problem can backfire. Remember: Allegiances can shift. Ask trusted colleagues for advice, but don't ask them to take sides.

PISCES (February 19 to March 20) Before submitting your suggestions, take more time to sharpen the points you want to make. The clearer the presentation, the more chance it has to get through when submitted.

BORN THIS WEEK: Your clear sense of who you are gives you confidence when you need to tackle difficult situations.

window shade up and watch the miles fly by. Discover fascinating sites on the ground. Even when it's dark outside."

Planning a summer trip by plane? Take tips and inspiration from Cindy, and consider these two pre-flight practical strategies to set the stage for keeping kids calm and engaged from takeoff to landing:

- When two adults fly with kids and it's time to preboard, don't all jump in line together. Instead, one adult should board with all the gear and get settled for the flight while the other adult remains in the waiting area to let out kids' wiggles, then board last.

Flying from Minnesota to Florida, traveler Cindy Skrien assists a mom she met onboard in entertaining her 1-year-old son.

- Always bring a wide assortment of healthy snacks and beverages. You'll never know if you'll be delayed in the plane prior to takeoff, or what the airline provides for in-flight food and drink.
