LITERACY VOLUNTEERS OF KENT COUNTY CELEBRATING 40 YEARS OF FREE LITERACY TUTORING

Literacy Volunteers of Kent County
401-822-9103 • LVKC@coventrylibrary.org Join Us Today!

- 4 evening workshop sessions: Sep 5, 12, 19 & Oct 17
- One-on-one match with adult literacy student
- On-going assist for tutoring questions

If you can read this, help someone who can't

The Literacy Volunteers of Kent County (LVKC) program is poised to enter its 40th year of providing free, one-on-one literacy training to English language learners.

As a non-profit organization, LVKC educates Basic Literacy and ESL (English as second language) students using tutors on a volunteer basis and is funded entirely by community grants and donations. This fall, the program's bi-annual training workshop will once again prepare volunteers to serve in tutor-student pairs, which will target the needs and goals of each individual language learner.

The next 10-hour workshop will begin in September, held at the Coventry Public Library. Anyone at the age of 18 or older can become a tutor by attending the training workshop, which will teach them about the principles of adult education, setting goals for their students, and ways to improve reading, writing, and conversation skills. Workshop dates are September 5 (6-9 pm), 12 (6-9 pm), 19 (6-8 pm) and October 17 (6-8 pm).

Students are adults, or teenagers age 16 and over who are not currently enrolled in a traditional academic program. They qualify for the program if they read at or below a sixth grade reading level (Basic Literacy), or if they speak English as a second language. In addition to learning basic vocabulary, the alphabet and math skills, students are also introduced to American culture and encouraged to build their conversation skills with their tutors. Beyond just being teachers and students, the literacy pairs often form friendships that allow both participants to learn and grow beyond their own cultures.

After an assessment to determine their current literacy level, students are paired with tutors to make progress towards their goals. Being able to fluently read and communicate in English enables ESL learners to complete vital tasks such as scheduling medical appointments, filling out forms for their child's school, applying for jobs, or working to receive a GED. Recent achievements by students in the program include obtaining a driver's license, getting a library card, obtaining citizenship, and even applying for and receiving a teacher assistant's certificate.

Though the program is based in the Coventry Public Library, tutors arrange to meet with students all over Kent County and adhere to each individual's personal schedule.

Currently over 50 tutor-student pairs exist, but the waiting list always has plenty of prospective students seeking a literacy education.

Founded in 1980 following a sponsorship from the Coventry Public Library, the LVKC program has trained over 950 tutors and educated over 1300 students. As an entirely non-profit organization, LVKC is also searching for local businesses to sponsor the program for the upcoming 40th anniversary year. While the program is mainly supported by volunteers, funding is needed to purchase materials and to pay tutor trainers. Donations are always accepted in order to continue providing educational services free of charge.

Those interested in registering to become a tutor, or who wish to enroll in the program, can inquire by phone at 822-9103 or by email at lvkc@coventrylibrary.org.

Making the grade: Back-to-school shoppers have range of options at Warwick Mall, Garden City Center

By DANIEL KITTREDGE

As summer fades, the excitement is building for the start of a new school year. And if your family is preparing children to return to the classroom, the Warwick Mall and Cranston's Garden City Center have just what you're looking for – from seasonal fashions to lunch boxes.

Linda Campbell, marketing director at the Warwick Mall, said one item stands out for back-to-school shoppers.

"The big thing is backpacks," she said. "Everybody's searching for backpacks." Campbell said Justice, which provides a range of products for girls ages 4 to 15, offers backpacks and lunch bags. Journeys, meanwhile, is the largest distributor of JanSport backpacks, which come with a lifetime guarantee. PINK also offers backpacks. Janice Pascone, marketing director for Garden City Center, said L.L. Bean is a great destination for backpack shoppers. And while at the store, she said, shoppers should remember: "It's never too early to start shopping for fall and early winter jackets."

Pascone also said Whole Foods offers a range of "cute lunch boxes" for children. In terms of back-to-school fashions, Pascone said jeans and overalls are among the clothing favorites this year. "Ripped denim is still in, but colored denim is also making news in earthy greens, reds and oranges ... High-rise 'mom' jeans are also a cool choice," she said. Cargo pants and "joggers" are other hot items, she said – and "camo prints are big." Pascone pointed to graphic T-shirts and hoodies as among the popular items this year – particularly those featuring "colorful ombre stripes, graphic logos, color blocking, tie-dye and

Additionally, Pascone said, the "athleisure" trend in youth clothing is "still going strong."

"That's especially the case in the elementary grades, when comfort is key on the playground," she said. "Try leggings and sweatpants." In keeping with that trend, Pascone said slip-on sneakers "make the top grade" this year.

"Think bright neon colors and shining metallics," she said.

Pascone said Athleta, Garden City Center's newest store, is a prime location for comfortable back-to-school clothes, particularly for young girls.

Other stores to visit for back-to-school shopping needs include GAP, GAP Kids, Carters, Hanna Andersson, The Children's Place and Fat Face. At the Warwick Mall, Campbell said clothing shoppers can find great deals at H&M, with styles starting from $4.99, and Old Navy, with styles starting from $5.

The Paper Store, meanwhile, offers apparel and jewelry from Ivory Ella, a Westerly-based company that works with the non-profit organization Save the Elephants. "Those are hot items," she said.

Shoppers at The Paper Store can also find hydro flasks to help keep students hydrated during the school day. Target offers a wide range of items to fill back-to-school needs, especially for college students preparing for dorm life.

Beyond the various shopping opportunity, visitors to the Warwick Mall are welcomed to enjoy a trio of "Back to School" events being hosted in partnership with local radio stations.

The Coast 93.3 Back to School event, hosted by Jenn Dower and the Coast Street Team, will be held from 4-6 p.m. on Thursday, Aug. 22. Campbell said during the event, there will be a giveaway for two Vera Bradley tote bags from The Paper Store filled with school supplies and tickets to Six Flags New England.

It will be followed by Back to School with 92 PRO FM, being held from 12-2 p.m. on Saturday, Aug. 24. Barbi Jo will host the gathering, and visitors will have a chance to win tickets to see 5SOS and The Chainsmokers live, along with a $92 mall gift card.

The Cat Country 98.1 Back to School Supply event will be held the next day, Sunday, Aug. 25, from 1-3 p.m. Visitors who donate one or more school supply items at the Cat Country booth during those hours will receive a free piece of swag from the station and be entered to win either a mall gift card or tickets to see Old Dominion perform at the Dunkin' Donuts Center on Nov. 8.

Beyond the back-to-school bustle, Campbell also noted that Warwick Mall will welcome its newest store, Windsor, with a pair of grand opening parties next month. The first will be held from 12-4 p.m. on Saturday, Sept. 21, and the second takes place Saturday, Sept. 28, during the same hours. The events will feature music and prizes.

Windsor, which specializes in women's fashions, officially opens its doors on Thursday, Sept. 12. It will be located across from the Carousel Food Court in the space that previously housed Wet Seal.

Moments in time THE HISTORY CHANNEL

- On Aug. 30, 1776, Gen. George Washington rejects British Gen. William Howe's second letter of reconciliation. Howe had failed to use Washington's title of "general" when addressing the letter.
- On Sept. 1, 1864, renowned Confederate spy Rose O'Neal Greenhow drowns off the North Carolina coast when her craft capsizes while fleeing a Union gunboat. Greenhow was carrying Confederate dispatches and $2,000 in gold sewn into her underclothes. The weight of the gold pulled her under.
- On Aug. 28, 1917, 10 women suffragists are arrested as they picket the White House to demand that President Woodrow Wilson support a Constitutional amendment guaranteeing women the right to vote. After the jailed women went on a hunger strike and had to be force fed for months, Wilson finally agreed to a suffrage amendment.
- On Aug. 26, 1939, the first televised Major League baseball game is broadcast. Announcer Red Barber called the game between the Cincinnati Reds and the Brooklyn Dodgers at Ebbets Field in New York. The video coverage was somewhat crude. There were only two stationary camera angles.
- On Aug. 31, 1955, William Cobb of General Motors demonstrates his 15-inch-long "Sunmobile," the world's first solar-powered automobile, at an auto show in Chicago.
- On Aug. 27, 1967, Brian Epstein, manager of the Beatles, is found dead of an accidental drug overdose in his Sussex, England, home. In 1962, Epstein was hired in a deal that gave him 25 percent of the band's gross earnings for five years.
- On Aug. 29, 2004, Brazilian distance runner Vanderlei de Lima is attacked and dragged off the course by a spectator while running the marathon in the Summer Olympics. The spectator was a defrocked Irish priest dressed in orange and green. De Lima, who held a 30-second lead when he was attacked, finished in third place.

COUCH THEATER DVD PREVIEWS
 BY AMY ANDERSON

Poms (PG-13) — Bringing new meaning to the word "squad," "Poms" follows Martha (Diane Keaton), a retired teacher with a terminal cancer who moves into an "active" retirement community filled with quirky personalities, a ton of amenities and a shocking lack of freedom. Turns out residents must participate in an extracurricular activity vetted by a mean-girls (now, mean-old-ladies) type committee. Martha opts to create a cheerleading squad and recruits five other free thinkers, including her adorably rebellious neighbor Sheryl (Jacki Weaver). They set out to prove — with warmth, humor and powerful bonds of friendship — that a sextet of 60- and 70-somethings still got it. Although "Poms" took some knocks for pandering to the AARP set, I thought it a cute movie showing a vibrant and fun ride through later life.

Pokemon: Detective Pikachu (PG) — In Ryme City in the Pokemon Universe, humans and Pokemon live together peaceably. Harry Goodman was a detective there until an apparent Mewtoo attack and/or car accident took his life. When his son Tim (Justice Smith) comes to collect his belongings, he meets Detective Pikachu (voiced by Ryan Reynolds), with exceptional detecting skills but partial amnesia, who used to be his dad's partner. Tim, unlike anyone else, is able to hear and communicate with Pikachu, and is persuaded to pair up to investigate Harry's death. I enjoyed the tack taken by director Rob Letterman ("Goosebumps"). It's weird but not off-putting. Reynolds and Smith are endearing, and it's funny and enjoyable for all age groups.

Tolkien (PG-13) — Many know J.R.R. Tolkien as one of the most creative minds of our time, breathing life into fanciful and fearsome creatures that have captured the imaginations of countless men, women and children since "The Hobbit" was published in 1937. But this biopic, with Nicholas Hoult in the title role, focuses on Tolkien's early life — in school, his courtship with wife Edith (Lily James) and his experiences in World War I that presumably shaped his later "Lord of the Rings" trilogy.

KOVELS® Antiques & Collecting
By Terry and Kim Kovel

Folding Fan

A quick look online for a collectible old fan will show electric fans made since the late 1800s. But some collectors want even older fans, the handheld folding fans that were being made by the 1700s. These fans were more than a fashion accessory — they were important indicators of the user's status and good taste. There was even a "language of love" using the fan that let a lady flirt, ask men to come by to chat, or even hit an irritating person.

Folding fans were made with sticks of bone, ivory, bamboo, wood, tortoiseshell, mother-of-pearl, lacquer, metal or more recently, plastic. They held a decorated cover of silk, paper, leather or canvas. Some had added jewels and artist-drawn oil or water-color paintings. A talented fan painter was as important as an artist who created portraits or landscapes.

Collectors in the 1950s searched for period fans and often mounted them in half-circle frames. Expensive fans of the past are hard to find in good condition. This painted paper fan with carved gilt sticks decorated with mother-of-pearl was offered for sale at a Neal auction.

Nine frolicking men and women are pictured on the pleated paper of this antique fan. It was offered for sale last year at a Neal auction.

Q. I found 10 unused World War I postcards. The title of one of the postcards is "Les Americains au Camp d'Auvours." I've spent hours online and can't find anything similar. Are they worth anything?

A. A military camp has been located at Champagne, France, since the 1870s. Allied troops used the camp as a rear base during World War I. A series of postcards was made picturing American troops at the camp and most sell online for under $5. To find out more, go to a postcard show or antiques show and talk to a postcard dealer.

Q. My mother has my grandparents' desk. It is kneehole style, with a curvy front, two drawers on each side and a drawer in the middle. The label on the back reads "Cherry and Maple/Atlas Furniture Co., Jamestown, New York." What is it worth?

A. Atlas Furniture Co. was formed in 1883 as the Swedish Furniture Co. by Swedish immigrants Lawrence Erickson and Gustave Holmberg in Jamestown. The name was changed to Atlas in 1871. Atlas advertised as "Manufacturers of Bedroom Furniture," making "better" grades of bedroom furniture, including dressers, chiffoniers and toilet tables from walnut, mahogany and other woods. Atlas closed in 1941. Your desk would sell for $50 to $100.

CURRENT PRICES
Caughley urn, soft paste, cobalt blue, leaves, square base, 1700s, 6 inches, pair, $75.
"Star Wars" bust, Boba Fett, head tilted, arm out shooting, multicolor, 15 inches, $140.
Birdbath, birds, round basin, column support, pierced base, 34 x 21 inches, $585.
Louis Vuitton suitcase, monogrammed, brass hardware, tan leather, France, 16 1/4 x 27 3/4 inches, $1,200.

TIP: A signature on a piece of jewelry adds 30% to the value. Look at the pin shank, pinback and catch for the signature.

Salome's Stars

ARIES (March 21 to April 19)
 Despite your Aries penchant for wanting to tackle a problem head-on, you might want to take a little more time to see how a current situation develops. It could surprise you.

TAURUS (April 20 to May 20)
 Taking on the role of peacemaker in a disruptive environment is a challenge. But you can do it. Just continue to have the same faith in yourself that so many others have in you.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 20)
 Although your work schedule keeps you busy, you should make time to start preparing for that important upcoming family event you'll want to celebrate in a special way.

CANCER (June 21 to July 22)
 Home is where the Moon Child wants to be early in the week. But by week's end, a chance to travel raises her or his excitement level, and that of the lucky person who gets to go along.

LEO (July 23 to August 22)
 Be careful not to be a copycat when dealing with someone who uses unfair or even unkind methods to reach a goal. As always, do the right thing the right way, and you'll win in the end.

VIRGO (August 23 to September 22)
 An offer could have many good things attached to it that are not apparent at first glance, including a chance to move into another career area. You might want to check out its possibilities.

LIBRA (September 23 to October 22)
 With responsibilities surging both in the workplace and in the home, it's important to prioritize how you deal with them. Be patient. Pressures will begin to ease starting early next week.

SCORPIO (October 23 to November 21)
 A positive reaction to a suggestion could indicate that you're on track for getting your message to the right people. Devote the weekend to catching up with the special people in your life.

SAGITTARIUS (November 22 to December 21)
 A new attitude from those in charge could make things difficult for you unless you can accept the changes without feeling as if you're being pressured into doing so.

CAPRICORN (December 22 to January 19)
 Family matters once again dominate much of the week. But don't neglect your workplace duties while you deal with them. An offer to help could come from a surprising source.

AQUARIUS (January 20 to February 18)
 A difficult workplace situation begins to ease, but there still are matters that need to be dealt with before it's fully resolved. There's also a more positive turn in domestic relationships.

PISCES (February 19 to March 20)
 Don't let yourself be rushed into making a decision about an intriguing financial arrangement. Asking questions and checking it out now could pay off in a big way later on.

BORN THIS WEEK: You might have a tendency to be more than a bit judgmental, but others understand it comes from a warm, loving heart.

THE HISTORY CHANNEL

• On Aug. 30, 1776, Gen. George Washington rejects British Gen. William Howe's second letter of reconciliation. Howe had failed to use Washington's title of "general" when addressing the letter.

• On Sept. 1, 1864, renowned Confederate spy Rose O'Neal Greenhow drowns off the North Carolina coast when her craft capsizes while fleeing a Union gunboat. Greenhow was carrying Confederate dispatches and $2,000 in gold sewn into her underclothes. The weight of the gold pulled her under.

• On Aug. 28, 1917, 10 women suffragists are arrested as they picket the White House to demand that President Woodrow Wilson support a Constitutional amendment guaranteeing women the right to vote. After the jailed women went on a hunger strike and had to be force fed for months, Wilson finally agreed to a suffrage amendment.

• On Aug. 26, 1939, the first televised Major League baseball game is broadcast. Announcer Red Barber called the game between the Cincinnati Reds and the Brooklyn Dodgers at Ebbets Field in New York. The video coverage was somewhat crude. There were only two stationary camera angles.

• On Aug. 31, 1955, William Cobb of General Motors demonstrates his 15-inch-long "Sunmobile," the world's first solar-powered automobile, at an auto show in Chicago.

• On Aug. 27, 1967, Brian Epstein, manager of the Beatles, is found dead of an accidental drug overdose in his Sussex, England, home. In 1962, Epstein was hired in a deal that gave him 25 percent of the band's gross earnings for five years.

• On Aug. 29, 2004, Brazilian distance runner Vanderlei de Lima is attacked and dragged off the course by a spectator while running the marathon in the Summer Olympics. The spectator was a defrocked Irish priest dressed in orange and green. De Lima, who held a 30-second lead when he was attacked, finished in third place.
