Salome's Stars

LIBRA (September 23 to October 22) Putting off making a commitment early in the week could be a good move. Best to act when you know you're making an informed decision. Expect more facts to emerge by the week's end.

SCORPIO (October 23 to November 21) A recent act of kindness on your part could take on special meaning this week. Also, look for signs of upcoming changes in both your personal and professional relationships.

SAGITTARIUS (November 22 to December 21) Many of the tougher communication barriers between you and others in the workplace or at home could begin breaking down this week. Expect some surprises to emerge.

CAPRICORN (December 22 to January 19) Your "tough love" attitude toward someone you care for could be misunderstood. Try to be less judgmental and show more consideration in the way you relate to that person.

AQUARIUS (January 20 to February 18) An unexpected workplace challenge could be daunting. But take what you know (and you know more than you realize) and apply it to the problem, and you should see positive results.

PISCES (February 19 to March 20) Recent relationship changes for both single and paired Pisces continue to influence much of your week. Keep your focus on developing the positive aspects as you move along.

BORN THIS WEEK: You set your goals with assurance and influence others to follow suit. You would be an excellent philosopher and teacher.

HERE IS A PLEASANT LITTLE GAME that will give you a message every day. It's a numerical puzzle designed to spell out your fortune. Count the letters in your first name. If the number of letters is 6 or more, subtract 4. If the number is less than 6, add 3. The result is your key number. Start at the upper left-hand corner and check one of your key numbers, left to right. Then read the message the letters under the checked figures give you.

THE HISTORY CHANNEL

- On Sept. 16, 1620, the Mayflower sails from Plymouth, England, bound for the New World with 102 passengers. Although headed for Virginia, stormy weather and navigational errors forced the Mayflower off course. On Nov. 21, the Pilgrims reached Cape Cod at what is now Provincetown, Massachusetts.
- On Sept. 21, 1780, during the American Revolution, American Gen. Benedict Arnold meets with British Major John Andre to discuss handing over West Point to the British, in return for money and a position in the British army. The plot was foiled and Arnold became synonymous with the word "traitor."
- On Sept. 20, 1946, the inaugural Cannes Film Festival opens at the resort city of Cannes on the French Riviera. It was to make its debut in 1939, but the outbreak of World War II forced its cancellation.
- On Sept. 19, 1957, the United States detonates a 1.7 kiloton nuclear weapon in an underground tunnel at the Nevada Test Site, 65 miles north of Las Vegas. It was the first fully contained underground detonation and produced no radioactive fallout.
- On Sept. 18, 1973, future president Jimmy Carter files a report with the National Investigations Committee on Aerial Phenomena, claiming he had seen a UFO in October 1969. Carter and other witnesses described the object as "very bright [with] changing colors."
- On Sept. 22, 1985, the first "Farm Aid" concert is held in Champaign, Illinois, started with an offhand remark made by Bob Dylan. The Farm Aid organization has since raised more than $33 million to support small-farm owners.
- On Sept. 17, 1996, talk show host Oprah Winfrey launches a television book club and announces "The Deep End of the Ocean," by Jacquelyn Mitchard, as her first selection. Since then, Oprah's Book Club has catapulted dozens of little-known books onto best-seller lists.

Donna's Day Creative family fun
by Donna Erickson

Cooperative Activities for Kids and Families

I was in charge of taking meal tickets and handing out plates for an outdoor burger buffet lunch after a Family Fun Run event. Greeting all ages coming through the line, I was caught off guard when two girls looked like "one," from the waist up anyway.

Sharing one T-shirt, 8-year-old cousins Jane Humphreys and Elouise Clark serve up lunch cooperatively.

Full of kidlike chatter and smiles, the cousins said they were so cold after running, they grabbed an adult-size long-sleeve T-shirt from one of the moms, stretched it over their heads and shimmied into it. Jane's right hand came through the right sleeve, while Elouise's left hand came through the other. Snug, warm and famished, they held a plate on each outstretched hand and tried to focus on serving each other burgers, buns, pickles, beans and fries. As they headed for a picnic table, they were giggling so hard, they soon became a crowd attraction trying to focus on walking in sync while balancing their heaping plates of food. Cooperation was the key. Engaging in simple family play, just for the fun of it, can happen anytime and almost anywhere. You might want to try the girls' cozy and challenging T-shirt idea in your home by slipping one over two young kids and encouraging them to walk around from room to room. For older kids, go outside and challenge them to do an activity together, like bouncing a ball or raking leaves. Looking for more cooperative fun? Make dinnertime pizza prep a game. Here's how: 1. Set bowls of pizza toppings side by side on your counter. The fun begins when the person responsible for assembling the pizza covers his eyes completely with a scarf or headband. The other person gives directions. (Kids like to play this role.) 2. Instruct the pizza maker to roll out the dough, then hand him the ingredients, beginning with the tomato sauce. 3. Ask him to brush on the sauce, then continue by arranging and sprinkling toppings one by one. Since this is a cooperative effort, the person giving the instructions should guide the pizza maker verbally as he works. Don't get the anchovies mixed up with the cheese! 4. Remove the eye covering before placing the pizza in the oven to see the creation. Enjoy doing this at a party, and let teams of chefs enjoy creating pizzas cooperatively. Remember, it's all about having fun and being silly.

Licensed Massage Therapist

The journey of this Licensed Massage Therapist seemed like a 5,000-mile journey. There are situations in life that lead us to where we are today. The first situation was being a six year old and having horrible knee pain out of nowhere, seeing an orthopedic doctor and being told it was just growing pains. Little did that six year old know, that pain would fuel her desire to help other people with chronic pain in a very hands-on way someday.

She was bullied in school, had very little self-confidence and her Grandma was her best friend. Her Grandma was diagnosed with Alzheimer's and from 16-18 years of age, she would take care of her on the weekends while other family members took shifts. Making it a seven-day a week, round the clock, labor of love. While switching shifts, she would often offer massages to the person coming out and the person going in. She would always hear from family and friends "You're really good at this. You should become a Massage Therapist". She would only smile and chuckle to herself, thinking, "I could never do that! It would be hard. I'm not smart enough". These would be the thoughts of a person who was lacking self-confidence. Friends and family would all say the same thing about becoming a Massage Therapist but it wasn't at the top of her list. Alzheimer's was! She had such a passion for Alzheimer's and Alzheimer's awareness that she could never see herself doing anything else. She worked in nursing homes in Alzheimer's units for twelve years and became a Hospice volunteer, loving every minute of it.

However, the pain she felt in her knees, when she was six years old, never stopped. It felt like she was being crushed by a boulder and stabbed at the same time. In 2012 she had the first of four knee surgeries. Recovery from the first surgery did not go smoothly. It was quite the opposite. Her knee decided to make an excessive amount of scar tissue and she could only bend it to 80 degrees of motion. She told her Physical Therapist that she couldn't bend it past a certain point and when she was at that point, unimaginable pain would happen. The Physical Therapist did a reevaluation and said, "We have a problem with your knee". Two months after the original date of surgery, she was back in the operating room, under anesthesia, having the scar tissue broken up by manipulation of the knee and leg.

In 2017 she had her second knee surgery and was feeling burned out from working with Alzheimer's and decided she needed a big change. She had always been interested in the human body and as a self-proclaimed "Medical Nerd" during recovery, she decided to take that step, push her self-confidence issues to the side and look into school for Massage Therapy. Though everything tried to come against her, she pushed forward, graduated, passed her licensing exam with flying colors, had her third, fourth and fifth knee surgeries and is now living a better quality of life, while helping other people feel better. TWIN RIVER OPPOSES THE SECRET NO-BID 20-YEAR BILLION DOLLAR LOTTERY DEAL FOR IGT

Central System Fee Comparison

Lottery Fee Comparison

Central System Fee Source: FY19 estimated, public reports
 Lottery Fee Source: LaFleur's 2018 and Annual Reports. Peer group includes Lotteries with traditional sales between $200M - $400M excluding RI [IA, OR, NH, ME, KS, ID, OK, DC]

Rhode Island is paying $10 million per year more than our neighbors in Massachusetts for the exact same central system. We are paying almost $7 million dollars a year more in lottery fees to IGT than our peer states. The bottom line is that Rhode Island taxpayers are over-paying IGT by $300 million dollars.

If that isn't bad enough, the proposed deal would give IGT 85% of the video slots at Twin River. Currently, the IGT machines return $52,000 less per machine than the competition. This cost Rhode Island taxpayers another $25 million dollars last year alone.

Is all of this worth keeping jobs that promise to pay $15.75 per hour?

OUR LEADERS NEED TO PUT RHODE ISLAND TAXPAYERS FIRST.

When companies compete for the state's business, all Rhode Islanders win.

Visit StopNoBidDeal.com and tell your legislators to vote NO on this sweetheart deal.

The Garden Bug
Tree-of-heaven

Ailanthus altissima, known as Chinese sumac or tree-of-heaven, is native to China. In the late 1700s, it was brought to the U.S. as an attractive, fast-growing ornamental tree. Since then it has spread throughout much of North America. Dense thickets of it trench fields and forests, displace native species, destroy habitats and crowd agricultural fields and roadsides. Complete eradication is extremely difficult, as it regrows vigorously even when most of the plant is thought to be removed, and it is tolerant of poor soil and drought.

- Mirrors make a room feel larger, because they reflect space, essentially doubling the visual area. But for maximum impact, experts say to hang your mirror on the wall adjacent to your window, not across from it.

- Lunchbox season is here, finally. If you have an issue with odors remaining in your plastic food containers, here's a fix from B.P. in Alabama: "Fill container with hot water, and add a teaspoon of baking soda. This should remove smells. Let sit overnight if necessary."

- Here's a way to remove stickers, especially ones that don't tear off. Rub labels with straight white vinegar or soak a paper napkin with vinegar and lay it over the label. Let it sit for 10 minutes, then remove. You should be able to rub the adhesive right off. Reapply if necessary.

- Whether you recycle because of global warming, landfill overload or environmental issues, the planet thanks you. But remember that recycling is only one part of going green. "Reduce" and "re-use" are just as important. Choose products with less packaging. Have small appliances fixed instead of automatically replacing them. And keep recycling.

- Clean your coffeemaker this way: Fill your coffeepot with equal parts water and vinegar. Add to machine and run as normal. Halfway through the cycle, turn the pot off and let the heated mixture sit for an hour or more. Complete the cycle, and run another pot or two of plain water through to rinse.

- If you kids have gone wild with new school supplies, here's a tip from A.M. in Indiana to erase crayon marks from painted walls: "Make a paste of equal parts baking soda and water, and apply to the area. Then let it dry and wipe away." This works best on a white or very light wall, as dark colors may lose some color. Also, wipe gently, as baking soda is a mild abrasive.

Strange BUT TRUE

By Samantha Weaver

- It was British politician John Sweeney who made the following sage observation: "How can a society that exists on instant mashed potatoes, packaged cake mixes, frozen dinners and instant cameras teach patience to its young?"
- Golfers beware: Don't chew on the tees. One golfer who was in the habit of gnawing while he played overdosed on pesticides after playing 36 holes in one day.
- The longest word in the English language that can be typed using only one hand is "stewardesses."
- It's been reported that the last words of 19-century American author, essayist, biographer and historian Washington Irving were, "Well, I must arrange my pillows for another night. When will this end?"
- Famed actor Gary Cooper was offered the role of Rhett Butler in the film adaptation of Margaret Mitchell's novel "Gone With the Wind," but he turned down the part. He said he believed the movie would be "the biggest flop in Hollywood history." The film went on to win 10 Academy Awards, including one for Best Actor, which was taken home by Clark Gable, who took the part that Cooper refused.
- If you know you have coronary issues, beware of extreme temperatures. Those who study such things say that you're more likely to have a heart attack on a particularly hot or a particularly cold day.
- Records show that in England in 1552, William Shakespeare's father had to pay a fine for littering.

Thought for the Day: "You will die. You will not live forever. Nor will any man nor any thing. Nothing is immortal. But only to us is it given to know that we must die. And that is a great gift: the gift of selfhood." — Ursula K. LeGuin
